Murphy, active in co-operation with the strike leadership here over the past several weeks, was taken into custody by Provincial and city police shortly after 11 o'clock as he stepped from the Hotel Champlain toward a car in which he was to leave the city for Cornwall. The charge laid against him alleges he falsely declared facial sores of Ivena Reid, 15-year-old Bonner-Worth doffer, to have been aggravated by tear gas during the Tuesday morning disorder at the Bonner-Worth plant, while addressing the Market Square gathering.

Murphy will not be arraigned until Saturday morning. The charge reads: "That Harvey Murphy wilfully and knowingly published false news, or a tale, namely that Ivena Reid had been injured in the face by tear gas released by police of the City of Peterborough or by the Ontario Provincial Police, which was false; whereby injury or mischief was likely to be occasioned the public interest."

Exhibited On Platform.

During the course of the rally, the Reid girl, who lives at 468 Cambridge street, was exhibited on the platform by Murphy, her face swathed in bandages. Murphy told the assembly the condition of the skin of the girl's face was seriously aggravated by tear gas which enveloped her while she was standing outside the main entrance to the Bonner-Worth plant Tuesday morning.

Police claim Murphy stated to his audience: "They tell you tear gas will not burn. But I tell you we have evidence here that it does burn."

Provincial Constable David Silvester was present and carried out an inquiry after hearing the address. It is reported he was told by doctors the girl had been treated for a skin disorder for some time before the disturbance.

J. L. Cohen, strike legal adviser, said this afternoon he wil act for Murphy.

Speaking on behalf of the strike committee, Cohen announced this afternoon: "We are preparing a complete memorandum of the whole situation to present to the Ontario Government with the request that a public investigation be held into the conduct of the police Tuesday morning, and the violence used by po-

ASK CONFERENCE FOR RECOGNITION TEXTILE UNION

Recognition of the deputation as members of a union rather than mere individual employees of the company will be one of the first demands made on behalf of Peterborough strikers at the conference in Premier Hepburn's office Monday, J. L. Cohen, strike legal adviser, told a general meeting of strikers in the East City Community Hall yesterday afternoon. The meeting approved unanimously the recommendation of the strike committee that the Premier's invitation to the conference be accepted.

"We are getting tired of being pushed around," Cohen declared, announcing the intention to demand recognition of the union. "The time has come to call a spade a spade. The company has appeared to believe that recognition can be avoided by calling our union by some other name but that can not be done. If Brother English and others go down they will go as representing the union."

Principle

Inquiry later brought explanations from strike leaders that no demand for recognition of the United Textile Workers union here as sole bargaining agency was contemplated. The idea was one of principle, that the company must abandon its insistence on dealing with them as a collection of individual employees and deal with them as representatives of the Peterborough local of the U.T.W., they said. No issue was made of the question of union recognition at either of the two unsuccessful series of negotiation meetings earlier in the strike.

Cohen proclaimed the outlook on the Monday conference, to which have been invited also representatives of the Cornwall strikers, the heads of Canadian Cottons Limited and Dominion Woollens and Worsteds and Mayor George A. Macdonald of this city, are particularly promising by reason of an attitude he declared was demonstrated in the

Girl 8, Out Around With Paralysis

KITCHENER, Ont., Aug. 13 (C.P.). — Health authorities expressed concern to-day when they discovered that an eight-year-old Kitchener girl has been out and around for more than three weeks despite the fact that she is a victim of infantile paralysis.

To date, however, there has been no evidence that she has transmitted the dread disease to playmates.

The Health Department immediately issued a general warning that in the event of a child in the age group of one to 15 years developing symptoms of illness, a qualified medical practitioner should be called at once.

CRASH SURVIVORS GRAVE CONDITION

WELLAND, Ont., Aug. 13.—(CP).—Two of the three survivors of the motor car collision at Bismark yesterday were in grave condition at Welland hospital, hospital authorities reported to-day. The two, Mrs. Martha Logan, 72, and Mrs. Emily Legge, 68, both of Orangeville, were conscious only at intervals and attendants doubted they would recover.

Three others were instantly killed in the smash-up, the victims being Mrs. Alice Austin, Orangeville, Mrs. Nora Enfield, Toronto and Paolos Porpeglia, Buffalo.

One eye-witness of the accident was located to-ady. He is Alderman G. E. Nash, of Welland, who was driving about 50 yards behind the Buffalo car when the accident occurred.

How It Happened.

"The Buffalo car dropped of fthe edge of the pavement on to the shoulder of the road,' he said. "In trying to get back on the concrete I think Mrs. Porpeglia (the driver), must have pulled too hard for her car suddenly shot directly against a Canadian automobile coming in the opposite direction.

"There was a terrific crash and I ran first to the Canadian car where two white-haired ladie s in front were slumped down. The two other women in the back were partly conscious.

"Then I wenth to the Porpeglia auto; the man seemd the worst and I helped him out. He was semi-conscious and mumbling. He died in about five minutes."

Britain Orders Welsh Fusiliers To Shanghai Garrison

London Proposes to Double Troops to Protect Nationals as Battle Rages.

HONGKONG, Aug. 13 (AP).—The British Far Eastern army command today ordered a battalion of Welsh Fusiliers to Shanghai to reinforce the British garrison there guarding foreigners in the undeclared war between China and Japan.

The battalion, 950 strong, will double the number of British troops in Shanghai. The decision to dispatch reinforcements followed a conference of the highest ranking British army officials in the far east. They indicated the step was taken following a request from Shanghai for assistance.

The Fusiliers will sail Saturday on commercial vessels if any are available; otherwise warships will be pressed into service as transports Sunday for a fast passage.

UNEMPLOYED LEADER PLACED UNDER ARREST

Election 'In Short Time' Hepburn Announces

October 19 Hinted Stand Against C.I.O. To Be Main Plank

Renominated in Elgin — Will Retire if Defeated There Says Premier.

ST. THOMAS, Ont., Aug. 13. — (CP)—Exact date of a Provincial election remained a mystery today, but the people of Ontario had the word of Premier Mitchell Hepburn it would be held "in a short time." They also had the Premier's statement that his stand against the C.I.O. would be a foremost issue in the forthcoming battle.

Nominated for re-election in his own Elgin riding, the Premier was acclaimed by 2,000 Western Ontario Liberals in convention at Pinafore Park here last night. With only Hon. Peter Heenan, Minister of Mines, absent, the Ontario Cabinet supported the Liberal leader on the platform.

New Issues, said Mr. Hepburn, had arisen that made an early election desirable. One of these was "a lawless Lewis invation such as is now putting a hand in Ontario workmen's pay envelopes." He referred to John L. Lewis, chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, as "that international millionaire," part of whose "annual income of $36,000,000 comes from Canada."

Cuts At Rowe.

Referring to Hon. Earl Rowe, Conservative leader, Premier Hepburn said Ontario would "in a short time" be given the opportunity of going to the polls "to choose between one who had balanced the budget and one who had never had an idea." He did not amplify his election announcement.

(The Toronto Globe and Mail in its report of the address, however, said that although Mr. Hepburn did not name the actual date of the election, "it is learned on excellent authority" October 19 is the "latest and possibly the likeliest." The paper added that the Ontario Cabinet was said to be considering three dates).

Mr. Hepburn declared that personal defeat in his own riding, even though the Province as a whole returned a Liberal government, would bring about his retirement. He would, he said, retire to his Yarmouth Township farm should the people of Elgin repudiate him at the polls.

Fight Against Power Heads

Besides the C.I.O. issue, the Liberal Leader reiterated his stand against the "Montreal power barons" and defended Hydro contract cancellations. He also stood by the inquiries made by the Succession Duties Department, which he claimed had put $28,000,000 in two years into the Provincial Treasury.

Repeated challenges by Conservative Leader Rowe on these major issues had led him to review his previously-announced decision that his Government would not go to the country until after another session of the present Legislature, Mr. Hepburn said.

The people would therefore be given an early opportunity to speak on these matters.

Yesterday was also the Premier's 41st birthday and he and Mrs. Hepburn were honored by presentations on behalf of Mr. Hepburn's constitu-

CALL PROVINCIALS INTO BROCKVILLE

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 13 (C. P.). — Ontario Provincial Police under Inspector Cousans of Perth were concentrated here to-day, presumably in connection with the seven-weeks-old strike at the plant of the John B. Stetson (Canada), Limited. A force of several officers were gathered from different sections of Eastern Ontario.

Inspector Cousans and Sergeant Storey conferred with members of the Police Commission. No statement was immediately forthcoming.

Strikers are reported to have visited Prescott last night and distributed handbills. The women's hat division of the hat plant is being moved to a factory building in Prescott.

'Dead' For 15 Hours Plays Hostess

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Aug. 13—(CP Cable)—Mrs. Charlotte Jones, 90-year-old resident of this West Indian city, played hostess to crowds of awed Jamaicans to-day, apparently in the best of health after being "dead" for 15 hours.

Kingston medical authorities still were unable to advance an explanation of what happened to the negress pronounced dead Wednesday, but who rose from her coffin 15 hours later in good spirits and good health.

Watchers in the room in which the "corpse" had been placed, surrounded by ice in its coffin, fled screaming from the room about midnight when the aged lady sat upright in her coffin and began singing hymns.

35-Foot Snake Creeps Around Brantford

Brantford, Aug. 13 (CP).

"DAISY," a 35-foot python, escaped from the Conklin Shows at Agricultural Park and roamed about at large today for some time before she was recaptured and returned to captivity.

"Daisy's" absence was not immediately noticed. She found a comfortable grassy spot and stretched herself at ease until would-be captors arrived, when she coiled herself in readiness. Every one maintained a respectful distance and "Daisy" was content to let matters rest, but her keeper arrived and subdued her.

STRIKES SPREAD CLOSING 2 MORE QUEBEC PLANTS

MONTREAL, Aug. 14. — (CP) — Strike trouble spread through Quebec today as the major walkout, that of 10,000 workers from nine plants of Dominion Textile Company, remained deadlocked.

National Catholic Syndicates' most important demand for a collective labor agreement with employers drew 125 workers from Acton Vale Silk Mills in the eastern townships, adding to 65 in idleness at the Holetite Rubber Company in Drummondville and more than 1,200 steelworkers at Sorel.

At Sherbrooke a police squad was called today to restore order at the Paton Manufacturing plant here when members of rival unions clashed outside the gates.

About 40 picketers, members of the L'Union Ouvrier Textile, were unsuccessful in an attempt to prevent a group of National Catholic Syndicate Workers from entering the plant. A few nose bleeds were suffered before order was attained on arrival of police.

L'Union Ouvrier Textile withdrew 45 weavers from the plant yesterday, charging "favoritism" was shown to members of the National Catholic Syndicate.

No new peace developments were reported in the Dominion Textile walkout, now in its 13th day. Violence flared briefly once more, five office employees of the Montreal St. Henri plant being stoned by a group of strikers. Otherwise developments were confined to statements from G. Blair Gordon, company managing director, and Labor Minister Tremblay whose peace negotiations collapsed earlier in the week.

May Move Plant

Gordon said the company's plant at Drummondville, which employs 600 men and women, might be moved elsewhere because strikers controlled all movement through a roadside barricade leading to the mill. He named no contemplated site, though pointed out that most of the mill's tire cord production is marketed in Ontario.

From Quebec Tremblay released a statement in which he assured the idle workers they will receive "the justice the Government has promised them." The minister's statement—"to rectify the facts in the case"—said the strike had been turned into a "political affair," that he had shown no favor to the company and he would always be a defender of the workers.

At Acton Vale, the striking employees of the silk plant stoned a loaded van leaving the plant shortly after they began their walkout yes-

BATTLE RAGES NORTH SUBURB OF SHANGHAI

(By Morris J. Harris.)

SHANGHAI, Aug. 13 (AP).—An artillery duel between Chinese and Japanese batteries in the vicinity of Kiangwan, a few miles north of this city of 3,500,000 people, indicated today that major hostilities had broken out.

Huge clouds of smoke poured skyward from the thickly-populated villages in the northern suburbs as though countless fires had been started by the shelling.

It was not known whether all foreign residents of the area, caught by the rapid concentration of the Chinese troops, had been evacuated from the battle zone.

The Kiangwan area was cut off to all but military traffic, which was clogging the roads to the north. The sound of firing was loud in Shanghai.

The United States Asiatic fleet was ordered into action to protect Americans as Japanese marines clashed with the vanguard of an advancing Chinese army on the edge of the international settlement.

The Nanking Government moved in no uncertain terms to protect the capital from attack by the Japanese fleet anchored in the Lower Yangtze and Wangpoo Rivers. It closed the Yangtze to navigation below Chinkiang, 130 miles up river from Shanghai. Nanking is 40 miles farther up the river.

The great stream was blockaded 100 miles above the Woosung forts and mined. The huge modern guns of the fort in that area were stripped for action.

Fighting in Chapei Area

Hostilities broke out in mid-morning in the northeastern quarter of the settlement near Hongkew Park where the Japanese landing party, reinforced to some 7,000 Marines, has established its headquarters.

The firing quickly spread to the Chapei Chinese sector to the west, where some of the heaviest fighting of the 1932 Shanghai War between China and Japan occurred. The intermittten firing seemed to be heaviest in the two northern sectors.

Japanese sentries were heavily reinforced and the streets of the area were swarming with Japanese Marines with fixed bayonets.

The whole situation seemingly was growing more intense by the hour despite an apparent effort by both sides to exercise restraint and keep the undeclared war from developing into widespread hostilities in this great port.

The commander of the Japanese forces which were landed from the warships in the Whangpoo River charged the Chinese had precipitated the conflict by opening fire with a machine-gun on his Marines, who were constructing a barricade.

The Japanese returned the fire, silencing the long machine-gun that started the attack. Chinese snipers, however, took up positions on roof tops and behind shutters of neighboring houses and began to pepper the Japanese work detachments.

The Japanese commander ordered out patrols and a house-to-house search was started to drive out the Chinese blue shirts. Desultory fighting was continuing with the Chinese using rifles and machine-guns.

Within the Chapei sector the Japanese claimed they had clashed with the vanguard of the central government troops which have been pouring into the area since yesterday. Fighting was said to be heaviest in the vicinity of the Japanese cemetery which the marines were attempting to guard.

Blame Japs for Start

The Chinese Mayor of Greater Shanghai, O. K. Yui, charged Japanese marines had suddenly rushed the Chinese lines in Chapei in violation of the pledge given the consular body by the Japanese consul-general yesterday that the Japanese would

TORY CHIEFS FIRE OPENER DEFENDING RIGHT TO ORGANIZE

TORONTO, Aug. 13.— (CP) —The campaign committee of the Ontario Conservative party today issued a statement on the party's attitude toward Labor, following the speech of Premier Mitchell Hepburn at St. Thomas last night regarded as the opening gun in a provincial election campaign.

"The Liberal-Conservative party believes that Labor should receive a fair share of the fruits of industry and is entitled to organize in order to improve the lot of the worker in regard to wages, hours, security in old age and all other conditions of industrial life," said the statement. "The party's sympathetic attitude towards labor is evidenced by the social legislation on our statute books."

The statement declared the party stands for the right of employees to bargain collectively through their own representatives chosen without dictation, coercion or intimidation.

One of the principal points in Premier Hepburn's speech was a fresh denunciation of the invasion of the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Edmonton Ready For Soviet Plane

EDMONTON, Aug. 13 (CP)—Acting on instructions from the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C., received by telephone last night, Captain James Bell, airport manager here rushed preparations for the landing of the Soviet fliers at Edmonton, expected about midnight tonight.

Ten tons of gasoline awaited the Russian plane carrying the six Soviet airmen under command of Sigismund Levanevsky. Scheduled to arrive here from Fairbanks Alaska, the aviators plan to remain only long enough for refueling for flight to Seattle and Oakland, Calif.

Gravel Pit Yields Human Skeleton

A GRAVEL PIT was recently opened on the farm of Gus Belin, Lot 7, Con. 9 Otonabee, and recent heavy rains caused a cavein that exposed a human skeleton that was covered with two flat stones, showing that the body was interred centuries ago. While the bones were scattered by the cavein it was yet possible to estimate the size of the whole frame.

Most interesting was the discovery at the same time of seven shell beads carefully pierced but unstrung.

Some years ago David Boyle, curator of the Ontario Museum found a similar string of beads in a mound on Big Sugar Island.

HETT CUTS U. OF T. OFF CANCER 'CURE'

TORONTO, Aug. 13.—(CP)—Dr. J. E. Hett of Kitchener, whose name was struck off the roll of the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons because of his claim to discovery of a cancer specific, said today he had altered a will whereby his formula would go to the University of Toronto at his death.

In a letter to the college, he said he had changed his will because of his name's removal from the roll. He had appealed his disbarment to the Ontario court of appeal, which upheld the action of the college. Dr. Hett said he had refused to disclose his formula because the time was premature, and he still hopes for a competent and unprejudiced investigation of his formula.

At the time of his appeal, Chief Justice N. W. Rowell suggested an independent committee to investigate the properties of Dr. Hett's formula. The latter's communication today was in reply to a letter from the college which stated that if he was prepared to disclose the secret, as suggested by the chief justice, an application for his reinstatement would be favorably considered.

Washington, Aug 13 (AP).

THE swine division of the United States agriculture department is going to conduct a pig-tail survey to get a first hand answer to a perplexing question.

"It's really the only way," said John H. Zeller, government swine expert, today, "to determine whether more pig tails curl to the left than to the right."

The tail issue came to the front when Fred W. Jackson, New Jersey agriculture department man, announced to a waiting world that the trend in pig tails is to the left.

"That may or may not be," explained Zeller, "we were asked the same question two years ago and we found a 58-50 situation. However, we just counted a few."

The curl of a pig's tail, he explained, hasn't much to do with a pig's personality—just so it curls.

"But," he said, "if you run across a pig with a straight or drooping tail that's a danger signal. You've probably got a sick pig there."

The curl of the tail, experts think, is an inherited characteristic, not an acquired one. A pig is born a righty or a lefty and he dies or goes to market that way.

PERMITS LOST BY 22 DRIVERS BY REPORT IDEA

TORONTO, Aug. 13 (C.P.).—Driving permits of 22 motorists were suspended for various periods up to two years and 54 complaints recorded on drivers' operating cards in the first day's work on the Ontario Highways Department Motor Vehicles Branch after its request for citizens to report traffic violations to the Department.

Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Highways Minister, said individual operating records were kept for every licensed driver in Ontario. The records indicated 225,000 drivers had been convicted of traffic violations or had been the object of complains.

JAPS RUSH EXTRA MEN, SHIPS, PLANES TO SHANGHAI WAR

TOKYO, Aug. 13 (A.P.). — The Japanese government was understood to have ordered additional warships, troops and planes to the Shanghai war zone at the urgent request of the Japanese naval commander in China waters.

The action was understood to have followed a special Cabinet meeting at which emergency measure were decided on to deal with the situation at Shanghai, where fighting broke out this morning between Chinese and Japanese marines.

After the Cabinet meeting the Chief Secretary announced the Government had decided to take all measures necessary to protect Japanese lives and interests in Shanghai. There was no further amplification of the Cabinet's action.

The reported kidnapping of a Japanese gendarme and an interpreter by Chinese in Shanghai, following the slaying of a Japanese naval officer and seaman earlier in the week, made the Japanese indignant.

Call From Admiral.

The request for reinforcements was received from Vice-Admiral Kyoshi Hasegawa, commander-in-chief of the Japanese third fleet in Chinese waters, at almost the same moment first dispatches arrived telling of the outbreak of hostilities in the northern sector of Shanghai's International settlement.

The Japanese news agency reported that Premier Prince Fuminaro Konoye was considering reconvocation of parliament to seek further war funds.

The rapid-fire developments across the China sea caused the army and navy to decide to handle the Shanghai situation in summary fashion. Vice-Admiral Hiroyasu Fushimi, chief of the naval general staff, went to the Imperial palace to lay the matter before Emperor Hirohito.

The Emperor considered the situation so grave that he abandoned plans for a summer vacation and decided to remain in Tokyo where he could keep in close touch with the situation.

News of the more critical situation in China and the stiffening attitude of the Chinese Central Government caused stocks to tumble on the Toyko exchange. All issues dropped from one to three points.

False Statements At Strike Rally Warrant Alleges

Harvey Murphy Placed Under Arrest as He Prepared to Leave City.

Arrest of Harvey Murphy of Toronto, president of the Ontario Federation on Unemployment, for allegedly false statements made at the strike rally on the Market Square last night, demand by strikers for a Provincial investigation of the police violence on Tuesday, and announcement of a second writ for damages from police for false arrest and assault were strike developments of to-day.

Forced to Elect New President as Old One Tires of Finding Superstitions to Flout.

WHEELING, W. Va., Aug. 13. — Thirteen hoo-doo smashing members of the Anti-Superstition Society met in the wee hours before dawn to-day, spilled salt, walked under ladders, raised umbrellas and emerged to chorus:

It's the bunk."

Unsuccessful in finding a haunted house for the traditional Friday the 13th session, they gathered in the office of Grand Smasher Edward McKee, who started things off by breaking a mirror.

The omen-defying feats preceded the election of a new Grand Smasher, for McKee had grown weary of thinking up new superstitions to flout.

Although the charter group of 13 has increased to 26 since the first meeting in an abandoned house four years ago, only 13 attended today to select Karl Sailer, Ohio County Assessor, as their leader.

To Henry Fueg, a druggist, fell the important job of keeper of the black cat, the club's mascot and veteran of all meetings. Weird doings of the society will be recorded from now on by Court Reporter William Zimmerman, keeper of the black book.

Coastal Sea Monster Baffles Captors

Fortune Harbor, Nfld., Aug. 13. (CP Cable).

THIS little Notre Dame Bay fishing village has a sea-serpent all its own—and had the carcass to prove it.

After a two-day battle with guns, harpoons and lances, victorious fishermen brought the monster ashore today. It was thirty-five feet long and had a girth of twenty-five feet, and with a tail nine feet across, it had flippers but no fins. Nobody there has been able to identify it yet.

ELBO WAS FINE.

Britain Orders Welsh Fusiliers To Shanghai Garrison

London Proposes to Double Troops to Protect Nationals as Battle Rages.

HONGKONG, Aug. 13 (AP)—The British Far Eastern army command today ordered a battalion of Welsh Fusiliers to Shanghai to reinforce the British garrison there guarding foreigners in the undeclared war between China and Japan.

The battalion, 950 strong, will double the number of British troops in Shanghai. The decision to dispatch reinforcements followed a conference of the highest ranking British army officials in the far east. They indicated the step was taken following a request from Shanghai for assistance.

The Fusiliers will sail Saturday on commercial vessels if any are available; otherwise warships will be pressed into service as transports Sunday for a fast passage.

HEPBURN'S POLICY BLAMED BY CROLL UPON POOR ADVICE

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 13.—(CP).—David Croll, former Minister of Welfare, Municipal Affairs and Labor who left the Ontario Cabinet because of disagreement with Premier Hepburns policy on the Oshawa General Motors strike, has the unanimous endorsation of Windsor-Walkerville constituency Liberals as their candidate in the forthcoming Provincial elections.

"Warm-hearted, generous and courageous" were the words used by Mr. Croll to describe the Premier last night as he accepted the nomination at a convention here. He ascribed Mr. Hepburn's labor policy at the time of the strike and since to "poor advice." The general record of the Hepburn administration, Mr. Croll said, apart from labor policies, was praiseworthy.

He spoke while the Premier was opening the Liberal campaign at St. Thomas and defending his own stand on the issue which brought about the split with his former Labor Minister and with Arthur Roebuck, K.C., former Attorney-General. Mr. Croll proclaimed he still was a Liberal and questioned whether his former leader's policy represented true Liberalism.

Never Questioned 100 Years

Until the Oshawa strike last spring labor's right to unions of it's own choice and to picket peacefully had not been questioned in a British country for a generation, Mr. Croll said. These rights are 'fundamental and paramount", he said, and he had no alternative but to resign.

It was the Premier's right, the former minister added, to ask for his resignation. Though he disagreed with Mr. Hepburn on the labor question, he said "I want you to know I'm a liberal," adding: "I'm averse to the principle of shotgun liberalism because it is no good for the country or for the party; because it smacks of conservatism."

He advised workers to join unions "for your financial good." Either the government will legislate on wages or hours or the people will have to do it for themselves, he said, "and the only way they can do it is through unions." He said he was on the side of the strikers in the present Cornwall and Peterborough textile industry troubles.

The financial record of the Hepburn administration was commended by the former Labor Minister, particularly in regard to collection of succession duties. Conservative administrations had not done their duty in this respect, he said.

ROTARY CARNIVAL IS LARGE SUCCESS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 13. — Rotarians moved their booths into Charlie Davidson's rink on Tuesday night when overcast skies threatened their annual carnival which was originally scheduled for the parking lot on Front Street. The Service Club offered the citizens the greatest number of ways of spending money to help the crippled children that it has ever provided. Everything from oven-ware to table lamps and from ducks to dimes was being won by those who were lucky. Even a fish pond offered amusement to the children, while the duck pond offered sport for their parents. Despite the fact that A. D. Bennett, who was in charge of the ducks again this year, had moved the barricade a little farther away from the ducks in order to make the going a little tougher for patrons and a little slower for the fowl, the pond was cleared by ten o'clock.

Buying a two-bit ticket on one of six wooden horses offered amusement to those who had a true gambling instinct. This game, which was the contribution of C. B. Williams, attracted a large section of the crowd who wanted a run for their money. The evening was stated to have been a complete success, and although the actual figures have not yet been made available, it was understood that the event was one of the most satisfactory in recent years.

Woman Tied To Oyster Stake After Boat Capsizes

Friend Swims Ashore But Patrol Fails to Reveal Victim in Bay.

MILFORD, Conn., Aug. 13 (U.P.).—Police patrol boats searched the stormy waters off the Connecticut coast last night for a 35-year-old school teacher tied to an oyster stake in Long Island Sound, after her companion, Wallace Thorpe, swam five miles to shore to get help.

Thorpe, a State highway employee, staggered up to a yacht club dock here and told a half-delirious story of a futile effort to bring the school teacher, Mrs. Charlotte M. Lucas of Bridgeport, Conn., to shore when their boat capsized.

He said he bound her to a marker stake of an oyster bed, presumably with his shirt, which he ripped from his back, and then struck out for shore. Thorpe and his companion had been given up for dead after John A. Onkey, a Bridgeport druggist, reported seeing their boat capsize out in the Sound. Onkey watched the pair, through a telescope, struggling to hold on to the overturned craft, and said they appear to have disappeared beneath the waves.

For hours police patrol boats searched the waters, but found no trace of the missing pair or the capsized craft. Six hours later

CALVES FEATURE CATTLE MARKET HIGHER 25 CENTS

TORONTO, August 13 — (C.P.). — Price trends were mixed on the Toronto Livestock Market this week. Best grades of cattle held steady but poorer grades were lower. Calves were strong to 25 cents higher. Lambs were $1.50 lower and sheep unchanged. Hogs opened the week 50 cents higher, but lost about 10 cents of the advance.

The cattle suppl yof 11,800 head was the heaviest for the year to date. The offering included more than 6,000 Westerns, mostly stockers. Trade was slow due to the poor quality of the offerings and most sales were 25 to 50 cents lower.

Common grades of killers and common stockers were the biggest losers. Good weighty steers went at $9 to $9.50 with common downward to $7. A few good light steers brought $8 to $8.25 and top heifers $7.50, but the bulk of the sales were of common grades between $6 and $7.25. Common butcher cattle sold downward to $4.50, with some light thin cattle going as boners at $2.75 to $3.50.

Good cows were easier at $4.75 to $5, with canners mostly at $2.25. Heavy butcher bulls traded at $4.50 to $4.75 with a few at $5. Light bolognas made $3.25 to $3.50 with some heavy at $4. Fed calves were firm ranging from $8 for plain up to $11 for choice. Odd lots reached $11.50.

Milkers Go Slow.

Receipts of store cattle were heavy. The best grades of stockers sold about steady at $5.50 to $6, with a few heavier feeder steers at $6 to $6.25. Common to medium light stocker steers and heifers were lower at $3.50 to $5.00.

Trade in milkers and springers was slow, with the best going at $60 to $85.

WOMAN SAVES BOY AT FAMILY PICNIC

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 13. — A drowning fatality was averted at the head of Lake Mazinaw by the heroism of Mrs. Clifford Northey. A family picnic was being held in honor of Mrs. Charles Both of Denbigh to celebrate her seventy-ninth birthday. Her grandson, Mervin Kuehl of Killaloe had waded out and slipped off a ledge into the channel where the water is extremely deep. Mrs. Northey swam to his assistance and dived to the spot where Mervin was last seen. When she reached the youth, he dragged her under, and unable to reach the surface with him, she managed to reach the ledge by swimming under the water; Patricia Both, thirteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Both, aided her in getting the boy to shore.

Mrs. Northey is from Gogama, Ont., and is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Clark, at Northbrook. This is the second time during Mrs. Northey's visit that she has been instrumental in saving lives by her swimming ability.

CECIL STEPHEN'S BID IS ACCEPTED BY SCHOOL BOARD

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 13.—At a special meeting of the Board of Education held on Wednesday the application of Cecil Stephens was accepted and Mr. Stephens will commence his duties as a member of the Public school staff at the beginning of the fall term. Although there were seven other applicants for the position the one accepted was the only application which contained the required qualifications.

Miss K. O'Shaughnessy and Ella Darling, members of the High school teaching staff, who have been enrolled in summer course in Domestic Science and Manual Training were present at the meeting and reported to the boar don the equipment that would be necessary in order to inaugurate these courses as a part of the curriculum.

Although the estimated cost of the equipment for the two rooms is in the neighborhood of $4,500, a feeling of doubt was expressed by the members of the Board as to the possibility of having the two rooms completely equipped at the beginning of the fall term. F. C. Bonnycastle, chairman of the Property committee, indicated that the exact amount of equipment which would be purchased before the fall term had not been decided, the general feeling of the Board was that they would try to get through this coming term with the absolute minimum.

BORDEN LEAVES $665,163 ESTATE

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 (CP). — Sir Robert Borden, Canada's war-time Prime Minister, who died June 10, left an estate valued at $666,163, it was shown yesterday when application was made for probate.

The will, dated May 5, 1936, made Lady Borden chief beneficiary and listed bequests to ex-soldiers and benevolent organizations in Ottawa and Halifax. The Canadian archivist was given the right to select papers and documents for permanent record.

Lady Borden was willed the net income from the estate, subject to provision for Sir Robert's sister, Julia, in Grand Pre, N.S., and his brother, H. C. Borden of Halifax. Lady Borden also was given the use of the residence in Ottawa, furnishings and personal effects.

Upon the death of Lady Borden, the residence will be sold, with the proceeds going to Henry Borden of Toronto, a nephew. A life interest in one-half the residue of the estate will be paid to Sir Robert's sister and brother, the remainder to be divided equally among Eunice L. Borden, Toronto; Mabel A. Nicholls, Scotland; Henry Borden, Toronto, Robert L. Borden, Toronto, and Peter B. Nicholls, Scotland.

The will disposed of the following bequests: $1,000 to the Ottawa Branch of the Canadian Legion for the relief of destitute ex-servicemen; $500 to the Salvation Army, Ottawa; $250 to the Salvation Army, Halifax; and $250 to the Halifax Association for Improving Conditions of the Poor.

In addition, a trust fund of $1,500 was set up to be expended as follows:

1. The annual purchase of a wreath for the Armistice Day ceremony, Ottawa.

2. To provide for destitute ex-servicemen who wish to attend the annual Christmas dinner of the Canadian Legion, Ottawa Branch.

3. To provide for destitute members of the Ottawa Branch of the Red Chevron Club, so they may attend the annual dinner.

The estate was made up as follows: Real estate, $48,750; bonds, $39,007; stocks, $353,903; cash, $112,209, and insurance, $33,803.

Held For Extortion

Wilber Rothar (Above), caretaker of a Bronx, New York, apartment, who was jailed by department of justice agents on charge of extortion after he had allegedly attempted to collect $2,000 from George Palmer Putnam for "finding" his wife, Amelia Earhart, who disappeared a month ago on a flight across the Pacific. Rothard used a brown and white scarf which Miss Earhart lost several years ago at Roosevelt field as "proof" that he and other members of a fictitious crew of an equally ficticious Spanish gunrunning boat had found Miss Earhart on a lonely isle. Officers of the New York office of the department of justice claim that Rothar confessed to the hoax.

BLOND IS CHARGED MYSTERY DEATHS

CINCINNATI, Aug. 13.—(AP). — On warrants charging murder and grand larceny, a comely 31-year-old blond was held to-day, as police, investigating the deaths of four elderly men, said she admitted benefitting from the estate of one and had sought to collect money from two of the others.

Four mysterious illnesses—of two men and two women also were under scrutiny as city, county, and Federal authorities delved into the history of the woman, Mrs. Anna Filser Hahn.

Colorado Springs, Colo., police have been investigating the death there Aug. 1, of George Obendoerfer, 67, moderately wealthy Cincinnati cobbler, who, police say, was accompanied by the woman after she first had gone to the bank with him when he withdrew money for the trip.

Detective Walter Hart, who filed the murder and larceny warrants against Mr. Hahan said he was "not at liberty to divulge the basis for the action." Police Inspector I. B. Bruce of Colorado Springs, said that so far as he knew no murder charge had been filed there.

Bruce said he issued a grand larceny warrant after the recovery in a Denver pawnshop of two diamond rings he said were pawned by Mrs. Hahn and which, he added, were stolen from a hotel where Mrs. Hann had registered with Obendoefer.

Widow of Doctor.

Mrs. Hahn, widow of a Viennese physician, denied knowledge of the case and contended, Lieut. George W. Schattle said, that she met Obendoerfer "by chance" en route west.

The three other deaths under inquiry were those of Jacob Wagner, 78, Albert Palmer, 72, and Ernst Kohler, an elderly teamster who died several years ago. Wagner's body was disinterred a week ago and portions of the viscera are being subjected to tests for poison, Schattle reported.

He said Mrs. Hahn cared for Kohler in his last illness and that she claimed Kohler bequeathed her the $12,000 home in which she has resided with her telegrapher-husband.

George Heis, 63, a coal merchant, who said he had been unable to walk since becoming ill from eating food offered by Mrs. Hahn, filed another larceny warrant charging theft of $75 diamond ring and $140. Mrs. Hahn denied Heis' charge, insisting he gave her the ring during their short acquaintance.

WAR ENDS SIESTA SPANISH SOLDIERS

(Editors' Note: Back into the Spanish civil war front goes Alexander H. Uhl, chief of the Madrid Bureau of the Associated Press. He personally covered the events leading up to the rebellion, the outbreak of hostilities, and many weeks of warfare. Now he is under fire again).

MADRID, Aug. 13.—The old days of the Spanish civil war, when the traditional daily siesta was part of the day's routine, battle or no battle, are past and done.

When off duty in the trenches, the soldiers still take a siesta after the noon meal, but during fighting periods such as the recent Brunete drive, there is no hour of rest for anyone.

Government soldiers on duty in the trenches around Madrid make a "stand to" at dawn just as soldiers did in the Great War. From then on they are busy on their day-long guard duty, improving the trench system, cleaning dugouts, and going to school—there is a very strong effort to abolish illiteracy in the army.

For breakfast the soldier has the only typical Spanish breakfast of coffee and bread and by 1 p.m. he is ravenous for the 'rancho" which at the front is prepared in field kitchens. This generally consists of "cocido,' a kind of stew made of meat, spit peas, potatoes and other vegetables.

Sometimes Sausages.

At other times he gets beans with sausages. Again a stew of dried codfish and potatoes. In addition he has plenty of bread and a pint of wine daily. For supper he has the same kind of a meal plus whatever fruit may be available.

The heat doesn't worry your Spanish soldier much, although he keeps in the shade of the dugouts whenever possible since the difference in temperature between the shade and the sun is as much as 15 degrees.

Due to the lack of trees, the heat in the fields is stifling, temperatures as high as 122 degrees, Fahrenheit, being frequent.

The soldiers play much football behind the lines and behind most fronts regular cafes and rest rooms have been organized where card games are played.

Toronto Paralysis Censorship Eased

TORONTO, Aug 13. (CP).—The Toronto Medical Health Department's censorship on information about the extent of an infantile paralysis epidemic here was partially lifted yesterday.

While actual figures of cases will not be released, a daily memorandum in connection with the situation will be given out, Dr. Gordon Jackson, Medical Health Officer, said. Publication of the number of cases might create a wrong impression, he said.

"There is absolutely no reason why we cannot keep the public informed without quoting figures," Dr. Jackson told newspapermen. There have been times when the situation was worse and there was nothing to be alarmed about, he added.

"My whole idea in mentioning to the press that Toronto now had a few cases of infantile paralysis was because I merely wanted to warn parents what to do should any of their children get ill, he said.

Slayer Suicides

CARGO BOAT CUT IN TWO BY SHIP

VANCOUVER, Aug. 13—(CP). — The round-the-world tour of Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Dart, South Africa, was not interrupted when their passenger vessel collided with a cargo boat loaded with dynamite.

Late at night, off the coast of Norway, the S/s/s Polaris, on which Mr. and Mrs. Hart were passengers, suddenly shuddered and lurched as it struck another vessel.

"Such was the force of the collision the other boat was cut clean in two," Mr. Hart said. "We had struck a cargo boat loaded with dynamite, yet not one stick exploded."

Mr. and Mrs. Hart told the story when they passed through Vancouver, en route to Honolulu, Fiji Islands and the Antipodes before returning home in November.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LINDSAY, August 13. — Good work on the part of the police at Beaverton has resulted in the arrest of two youths, Leonard Somnor alias Bill Morris, and Thomas Kellar. They are charged with breaking and entering the C.N.R. station at Woodville, carrying off the safe, and also the theft of a car. Both the car and the safe have been recovered. Keller was only recently released from the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph. The car stolen at Orillia was located near Cannington, while the Cannington car was found at Beaverton. The safe was found a few miles northwest of Woodville where it had been abandoned after it had been opened. The back had been knocked off and the contents scattered to the wind. It contained a small amount of money. The accused have no fixed address.

The political pot is simmering merrily each day in this riding with the prospects of a municipal election in the offing. L. M. The Liberals have not as yet called a convention to select a candidate, and there are all sorts of rumors regarding who will be chosen. Leaders of the party declare that their ranks are solid and that a convention will be called in a short time. It is further declared that Wm. Newman, M.L.A., will receive the nomination if he decides to stand.

The season will open October 1, north of No. 7 Highway and September 15 to November 15 on the south side. There is one stipulation, namely, that hunting must be done on different sides of the highway at different periods.

It's Here Again, Friday The 13th The Last Hoodoo Day Until May, '38

Old Man Superstition pops into wary folks' lives again for a one-day stay to-day, Friday, the 13th. Just why, anyody should be nervous about this combination is not known, but it's here and there is nothing you can do about it.

If any one breaks a leg, loses money or a wife to-day, you can lay a 2-to-1 bet (and collect) that the victims will plunk an accusing thumb down on the day and date, "just because."

Those who steer clear of ladders, mirrors and other reportedly ill-omened objects, will point out there were 13 at the Last Supper, including Judas Iscariot who next day, traditionally a Friday, betrayed Jesus Christ.

But, say those who taboo the crossed-finger and wood-touching rituals, how about Columbus? Didn't he sail on a Friday and discover land on another Friday—October 12, 1492? True, it wasn't the 13th, but it was as close as anyone could come to it.

It is generally conceded Friday is an unlucky day no matter the date. The Encyclopaedia Britannica says that "according to Mahommedan tradition, Friday, which is the Moslem Sabbath, was the day on which Adam was created, entered Paradise and was expelled, and it was the day of his repentance, the day of his death and will be the Day of Resurrection."

It has all boiled down to that mysterious "13". If anyone can prove—by actual data in recording of events—that this numeral is jinxed a lot of arguments will be clinched.

One comforting thought is, that after to-day, Friday, the 13th won't appear until May 1938. Twice-yearly visits are down for January and October, 1939 and in September and December, 1940.

FRENCHMEN BUSY QUELLING KURDS

BEIRUT, Syria, Aug. 13—(AP)—French troops and airplanes moved into Northeastern Syria to-day to quell a revolt of wild Kurdish tribes and to end the back-country warfare between Mohammedans and Christians.

Motorized infantry, equipped with machine guns, swept into the village of Amouda and found 15 bodies under the ruins of looted and burned houses.

Amouda is a village populated mainly by Christians. It was attacked August 10 by united forces of Kurds and Moslems from the interior who pillaged 100 Christian-owned shops.

The French authorities reported the troops met "no serious resistance to-day," adding "the Kurd elements and seditious Moslems" were quickly put down.

Seize The Palace

The semi-official version of the fighting in Northeastern Syria was that violence began July 6 when 100 native occupied the Government palace in Upper Jezireh and took control of the towns of Hassetch and Kamechile, demanding reinstatement of local officials ousted by the government.

A policeman was killed and many persons injured in fighting July 7. Police reinforcements which left Aleppo were halted by an army of armed natives before they reached the scene and 50 of the policemen surrendered. They were later released.

The central government at Damascus appointed a committee of investigation but unrest and violence continued and 17 police posts were evacuated.

Irish Free State, once noted for its great number of pigs, is now buying porkers in other countries, and importing them.

ROSENEATH, Aug. 12—The regular meeting of the United Church W.M.S. was held on Tuesday afternoon at the Parsonage, with Mrs. L. W. Scott as hostess and as president, presiding. Further arrangements were made regarding the shower for the September bale. This shower was to have been held in August, but it was necessarily postponed.

BEER-BOTTLE BOMBING.

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 13 (AP).—Insurgent soldiers, close-held in their position along the Madrid front in the broiling summer heat, amused themselves today by throwing empty beer bottles at the enemy.

Sympathetic officers ordered chilled beer sent to the front lines. The grateful troops emptied the bottles as fast as they arrived, then hurled them like hand grenades into the Government trenches.

COP AIDS SPEEDER.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 12 — (AP)—Motorcycle Policeman Russell Aker will have a new namesake —because he helped a speeder.

The motorist, stopped by Aker, said he was a doctor hurrying on a serious confinement case. Aker let him speed on, leading the way.

The doctor told Aker's superiors the five minutes he gained by the policeman's aid saved both mother and baby. The parents are naming the child after Aker.

The Premier Takes a Hand

Premier Hepburn has decided to take a hand in the textile strike situation himself. He has called a conference in Toronto on Monday to which he has invited representatives of the Peterborough and Cornwall strikers and of the companies concerned and so far as this community, at least, is concerned there will be fervent hopes that the Premier's efforts may be crowned with success. We do not know what proposals, if any, Mr. Hepburn has to offer the conference but at least there is nothing to be lost and possibly much to be gained in having the whole situation thoroughly threshed out and it might well prove that the action taken by the head of the government will be responsible for bringing the long drawn out strike to an end.

There has already been nearly seven weeks of lost production for the company and lost wages for the workers; seven weeks filled with argument and recrimination, seven weeks during which the strike has split the community into opposing camps and even divided family groups. Every additional day the thing drags out the economic loss becomes greater and the crop of hatred and distrust and suspicion always developed in a struggle of this kind increases until the whole air seems poisoned. The sooner the controversy can be ended, the plants brought back into full production and the workers restored to the payrolls the better will it be, not only for the company and the workers but for everybody else in the city. There is reason to pray therefore that this latest attempt to bring the affair to an amicable ending launched by the Premier of the Province may have better success than other efforts aimed in the same direction. Mr. Hepburn's invitation says that he is most anxious to assist in the strike settlement and he will have the support of the public generally in what he has undertaken.

√ The Bucksaw Battle √

The Examiner's bucksaw contest which has converted what used to be a laborious chore into a major sport will be staged on Thursday and Friday of next week. Launched during the week of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition last year this novel and exciting competition at once established itself in popular favor to such an extent that similar contests followed in various sections of the province and we found that we had indeed started something.

This year's contest in which the world's champion Tom Walling proposes to defend his title against all—comers promises to be even more successful than last year's event. That of course might reasonably be expected for many of the competitors who entered a year ago lacked the skill and endurance demanded by such a contest and many others obviously were not in condition for a gruelling test of that nature. We have an idea that this time a more seasoned and better-conditioned field will line up, and that the general level of the performance will make last year's showing look amateurish in comparison.

It is undoubtedly the case that a number of those who are entering in search of the title, the beautiful trophy and other prizes have been getting in some very useful licks in the woodshed, these days, have been speeding up their stroke, improving their technique, and generally getting warmed up for a supreme effort when the gun goes off next Thursday.

Will the winner on this occasion turn out to be a veteran of the game or will the laurel wreath rest upon the brow of a youthful contestant, making his first bid for fame? It is said that sawing is an art and that it cannot be picked up without the seasoning given by experience. That may be true as a general thing but nevertheless the next bucksaw champion may turn out to be some ambitious youth who although a tyro at the game has the deftness and strength and endurance that are the stuff out of which champions in any sport are developed. At any rate there will be keen competition and The Examiner will be disappointed if the form shown by the majority of the entrants is not considered superior to last year's demonstration.

Tempering The Wind

The suggestion that automobile licenses should be sold at some other time than the beginning of the year has been raised from time to time in Ontario without accomplishing any practical results. There seems to be a rather general agreement that the change would be a good thing but that is as far as matters have gone. It is interesting therefore to see that there is agitation in a number of the states across the line for an extension of the date of automobile registration. The idea of course is to give poor old Dad, after his Christmas shearing, a chance to grow a bit of wool for the tax-gatherers. Those who favor the issuing of licenses in the spring point out that it would lessen the tendency of many automobile owners to put up their cars for a few months, the present licensing date coming, as it does, so soon after two very expensive periods of jollification, Christmas and New Year's.

There seems a logical basis for this proposed change. Not only would gas and oil men benefit—and the government in its gasoline tax collection—by reason of uninterrupted motoring but the average family would gain from a merrier Christmas-time financial reprieve. By and large the extension of the period for taking out car licenses is indicated as the proper remedy for an ill that seizes almost all of us at the most inopportune season of the year.

We Wish Them Luck

An organization in Montreal that has been carrying on a campaign to eliminate unnecessary noises reports that the public is co-operating enthusiastically. All we can say is that if the effort is ever to get any real results plenty of co-operation will be necessary. What is aimed at in Montreal is to curb the noise-making propensities of automobile horns, radios tuned too high, early morning milk wagons and the shouting of children late at night, all four prolific sources of sound that crashes in upon the slumber of citizens who retire early in the hope of getting a rest. To get rid of these nuisance noises would be a boon to a large number of people but the difficulty seems to be to do the trick. Co-operation from the public, which the Montreal committee claims to be obtaining seems to be the only way to accomplish the thing. Certainly it is idle to pass an anti-noise bylaw and then sit back and expect the town will immediately become as quiet as a church yard.

If our memory has not entirely failed us Peterborough passed a specimen of that kind of legislation a few years ago and the bylaw is on the statute books, red seal and all. It prohibits a whole lot of noises that are still impinging themselves on our eardrums night after night and if it were enforced would remove some of the chief causes of nocturnal disturbance. Unfortunately it is like a great many more regulations of the same nature; it has been passed, filed away and forgotten; at least there is no record of anybody having ever been charged under it. The noise goes on and the bylay gathers dust in the archives. That is why we feel that if Montreal has really succeeded in getting the public generally to work for the elimination of unnecessary noises the metropolis is on the way to get somewhere; certainly the results should be better than have been obtained by waiting for the law to do the work.

Christmas Comes Early

Our friends to the south do some funny things when the game of politics is being played. A bill has just been passed by the House of Representatives which would give every veteran of the Spanish-American war a pension of $60 a month. Fifty-five years after the civil war, every veteran of that conflict became eligible for a pension and now the House, 38 years after the struggle with Spain has approved service pensions for those who participated. If the bill becomes law the man who served in that long-ago conflict will get the $60 pension whether he is a millionaire, whether he left the service physically fit or whether he is in good condition today. The fact that his service may only have been a matter of a few weeks does not matter. He can line up now and collect his $15 a week.

That is not the only ridiculous proposal the United States House has had presented for its august approval recently. While the Spanish war pension bill was on its way through an amendment was offered that would have authorized the payment of $60 a month to every veteran of the Great War who has reached the age of 65, with no reference whatever to disability or need. At the present time it is stated there are 12,929 veterans of 65 or more and the number will increase progressively, growing to an estimated 2,213,841 in 1962. So that the jolt this hot-weather proposal would have given Uncle Sam's treasury can be appreciated. The amendment failed to get through but it will bob up again and if the veterans organization turn on the heat as they have on other similar occasions, the proposal will eventually be adopted

When The Leaves Fall

The rebels of General Franco and the Loyalists of the Spanish Government are headed toward a destiny in the Autumn. When the leaves turn from green to scarlet, the ground, already shrouded deeply with the blood of thousands, will reverberate with a modern Armageddon. And from this battle, perhaps, there will arise the real conquerors of Spain.

Spain's civil war has raged for more than a year. It has embroiled foreign nations in a mercenary and brutal manner. Italian and German troops, fighting side by side with Moors from Africa, a brigade from Ireland and the decimated Spanish troops of General Franco, face the Loyalist troops who have in their ranks an International Brigade from the United States, England and France, with Russian and British aviators soaring overhead to add strength to the assult.

Thus the battle has been taken out of Spain's hands by other nations. Germany and Italy, of course, have no more business on Spanish territory that the Americans who are fighting against Fascism, but the sympathy of the vast proportion of the working classes of the world is all for the Loyalists, and that is why you will find poets, writers, artisans, doctors and lawyers in the ranks of the Federal Government, eager to lay down their lives against the foes of their beliefs.

It is truly a problem that cannot be answered on paper, nor in fruitless harangue, nor in a thousand oratorical gestures. The war will go on and on until the whole country is virtually devastated, until the last soldier is dead. It is not a pleasant vision to behold, for in the end, what will they have? Nothing but a momentary and fleeting breathing spell, and then still another war.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A reasonable explanation of modern painting, it is said, is that the painter's eyesight is weak. It comes to us that maybe a radio soprano cannot hear.

Col Geo. Drew writes from Europe that to most of the people of Italy Muasolini is almost as great a hero as he himself thinks he is. We had no idea he was that popular.

It is said that George S. Henry may not run for the Legislature at the coming election and up to now there are no signs of a provincial-wide petition to have him change his mind.

Mr. Hepburn will begin harvesting his 50,000 bushels of field and Spanish onion next week. After that he will probably start in to see what kind of a political crop he has been raising.

A London policeman has offered to get drunk in the interest of scientific research. Most folk will think however that tenders should have been called for.

SILENCES

Away in shadowed depths of summer woods,
Where through the noon of day no sound is heard,
A hush that throbs amongst the flagrant flowers
Soft wings the air, and mutes each singing bird.
And o'er the sleeping purple-breasted moor
A heat-haze quivers far across, and tells
How bees drop down, with honey sweetness cloyed,
And breezes shake the heather's soundless bells.
And in the secret places of my soul,
Where no man enters, thoughts go dreaming by;
I stretch beyond this world of time and space,
And find in silence there—that God is nigh.

IN New York recently revenue agents had a new experience. There was of course nothing new about sending six Harlem negroes to jail for bootlegging but what was new was the evidence on which the prisoners were convicted. Exhibited for the jury was a unique liquor sold wholesale at $7 for a five-gallon tin and retail at a nickel a drink. The stuff, according to newspaper reports was colored with orange peel and had an aromatic bouquet like tobacco steeped in water. One reporter said that it created in the drinker a sense of self-centred power while the images of external things buckled and broke. The brand is known as King Kong whiskey.

The greatest of these was Paris 1900, attended by thirty-nine millions. Paris hotels within recent weeks have been more nearly full of guests than since 1929. The best rooms were taken but rooms of sorts have still been available for late comers, with the Government rigidly keeping prices reasonable.

German Flyers Win.

WOUND up in Zurich a short time ago was a ten-day international aviation meet which offered a fine chance to the nations of the world to show how they were getting along with human and mechanical preparations for the 'War in the Air.' Military planes and pilots held the stage and Germany, at least, took full advantage of the occasion, competing in all events which she thought she could win. She won the meet hands down, taking first place in the speed, climb and diving and solo Alpine circuit races using the new Messerschmidt pursuit planes with which she has decided to replace her Heinkels.

American railway managers opposing the 70-car limit say that the roads affected by this restriction would be set back to the tune of $96,000,000 a year. The railway brotherhood on the other hand claim that the considerations of employee safety make it necessary to restrict trains to a 70-car minimum. The contention of the managements is that the proposed law is a bald-faced work-making scheme and that talk of increased danger on long trains is twaddle. They argue that while train lengths have increased in recent years employee casualties have decreased. In 1923 when freight train averaged 40 cars in length, crew casualties numbered 36,238 while in 1935 with the average train length up to 46 cars casualties were down to 5,996.

Governor Murphy of Michigan a short time ago vetoed a new labor statute just one hour before the law would have become effective. The measure passed by the Michigan Legislature last June included a ban on mass picketing which obstructed or otherwise interfered with entrance to a striking plant, picketing which obstructed public highways and picketing by people not directly involved in the strike. At the time Governor Murphy pronounced the legislation a long step toward industrial peace but there have been so many protests since from industrial workers who saw a chance that they might lose their right to picket altogether that the executive decided finally not to sign the bill. Now he is endeavoring to get the Legislature to pass a modified version.

Recently his peace preservation corps, every man a Chinese slarted using their Japanese weapons against the Japanese garrison at Yin's capital and the result is that General Yin has vanished and the Japanese commander has appointed as his successor Chi Tseng-mous whom one correspondent describes as an even more abject stool pigeon for Japan than was Mr. Yin.

OBJECTS TO NOISES

Editor Examiner:

Sir: Some days ago you published an article in your paper congratulating the Motor Cycle Club on the result of their meeting in the Exhibition Park and at the same time stated that the Club had among its other rules a provision that it would endeavour to prevent accidents and also to do away with the noise, as far as possible, caused by the operation of the motor cycles. This latter was very good news to me as I am living in a locality of a place on Hunter Street which place they seem to use as a rendezvous and from which they start off on their trips

The noise from these machines is very annoying and apparently no effort has been made to minimize it in any way. The members of the Club do not only use this place as a starting point but some of them appear to travel up and down Aylmer Street for no reason that I can understand.

I would, therefore, suggest that the provision in the Club's rules that noise if possible was to be avoided be a little better observed by the members. I understand that this can be accomplished by the rider keeping the cut off closed.

I do not wish to appear to interfere in any way with the enjoyment of the members of the Club at the same time the members should take all precautions not to interfere with the enjoyment of the people living in the neighborhood especially on Sunday which appears to be the day when most noises occur.

SUNDAY AND RADIO

Editor Examiner:

Sir: Our flag is a symbolic piece of cloth calling us to loyalty to our King and Country and Sunday is a symbolic piece of time wisely planned by the Divine Creator calling us from the busy activities of material things, so that our thoughts in one day of the week might be more directed to higher things.

In this day of progress and advancement the Radio has been placed in almost every home and has been the means of entertaining and linking up homes with world news. But what a factor of helpfulness to Sunday observance it would be, if those responsible would prepare a program in keeping with our Sabbath. True we have some sacred selections of song and address. But why not a greater percentage and have our Sundays free from commercial advertising, and also free from that strange jingle of jazz, that so often greets our ears when the Radio is turned on. The average individual would think that six days in the week would be sufficient for these things. I am convinced that I am voicing the thought of many of your readers on the question.

Editor Examiner:

Sir: I am glad to know that Mr. J. H. Burnham read the report of my sermon with such interest. In replying to his letter in yesterdays paper I would point out that it is not possible for a minister to discuss all the various aspects of christian truth in a brief address. I had a subject and tried to deal with it. If Mr. Burnham did not find that his favourite themes were discussed, then he should come along some other time, and he may be rewarded. I can assure him that I believe that Jesus Christ is the Saviour of the individual, and of the world. He has been my Saviour since childhood and is more precious to me today than He has ever been.

As regards my views upon the inspiration of the Bible I cannot find a more adequate statement of my faith than in 'The Basis of Union' of the United Church of Canada, "Article of Revelation."

We believe that God has revealed Himself in nature, in history, and in the heart of man; that He has been graciously pleased to make clearer revelation of Himself to men of God who spoke as they were moved by the Holy Spirit, and that in the fulness of time He has perfectly revealed Himself in Jesus Christ, the word made flesh, who is the brightness of the Father's glory and the express image if His person. We receive the Holy scriptures of the old and new Testaments given by inspiration of God, as containing the only infallible rule of faith and life, a faithful record of God's gracious revelations, and as the sure witness to Christ."

I am yours sincerely,

E. W. YOUNG.

Threshing Fire Dangers

Every Year Sees Heavy Losses Caused For Many Farmers.

(From the Chatham News.)

THE culmination of the harvest usually brings a number of unfortunate losses through threshing fires. These conflagrations usually occur so suddenly and unexpectedly, that considerable mystery surrounds their origin. At any rate there is no "mystery" concerning the loss, which is always considerable, and comes at a time when the victim can least afford to stand it.

In the old days of the steam engines, it was the popular thing to blame these fires on sparks from the smoke pipe. Since more modern motive power has been adopted, this time-worn explanation no longer explains the mystery satisfactorily.

Now it is a common thing to blame the fires on the threshing machine itself. "Balls of fire" are said to issue from the blowers to start the blaze in the stack. Just how these balls of fire are supposed to be formed, however constitutes another mystery in itself. It is a most peculiar thing that these balls of fire were not noticed in other years, before the adoption of gasoline engines for power. Some people claim that small stones going through the knives of the cylinders of the machine cause sparks which sets fire to the straw issuing from the blowers. And yet in certain instances where fires have occurred, the whole interior of the threshing machine has been examined, and no trace of burned straw or fire of any sort has been found in any part of it; thus discounting the "small stone" idea considerably.

Spontaneous combustion is another favorite explanation—and there may be something in this theory in certain instances, but on the other hand if spontaneous combustion is the cause, why does it not account for more fires, since all threshings are conducted under practically the same set of conditions?

Fires at threshings are more likely caused by the careless handling of matches and cigarette stubs by smokers engaged on the job. Men have been seen driving the grain in from the fields, with cigarettes in their mouths. They may think they are exercising every possible care in smoking; but it is easy to drop a lighted cigarette stub in the wrong place, or to flick away a match before the flame has burned out.

It has been intimated to The News that some farmers have hesitated to enforce strict rules against smoking near threshings, for fear the hired help engaged on the job would become offended and quit. However it would be better for farmer to fire his help than to fire his barn.

Threshing is quite general in Kent at the present time. This warning against smoking and the use of matches near the barn or the straw stack is offered in the hope that it will be accepted in the spirit intended — a spirit which considers only the interests of the farmers and the general prosperity of the district.

The Governor-General's Discovery

Finds Blueberry Pie Is About World's Best.

(From the Ottawa Journal.)

THOSE days have been uncomfortably warm, it is true, and the nights oppressive, but life has its compensations.

It is the open season for blueberry pie, for example, and that is something to help one forget the weather. Apple pie has its devotees, there are those who like any kind of pie so long as it's pumpkin, strawberry pie in its fleeting season is not to be despised. But blueberry pie, made of ripe, fresh blueberries, coming from the oven bubbling with luscious juice, its crust just nicely browned, is a pie that can be defended against all comers. Lord Tweedsmuir discovered blueberry pie the other day away out at Eldorado, in the Northwest Territories, and like all sound citizens went into ecstasies. "This is," he said, "the best pie in the world" and blueberry pie alone, he said, would have made worth while his years in Canada.

Think of the comfort of ice, of modern refrigeration, as agencies for the amelioration of heat-distress. Of iced watermelon, and iced tea, and ice cream, and all the cold drinks and cold dishes now at our service. Of the new science by which buildings are cooled in Summer as easily as they are heated in Winter.

A glance at the photograph albums does much to recondite one to the heat. Men and women today can go swimming in next to nothing, dressed for the Summer streets carry but a fraction of the weight in clothes that their grandparents found necessary if they weren't to be talked about. Men nowadays find soft collars a help, and daring souls even leave off their vests.

All of these things help. And for the tough case, the chap who still feels the heat, we suggest a drive along Bayview road where the celebrated girls' woodpile is seen in all its vastness and glory. Thank goodness, he will say, that I don't have to cut that wood, and he will feel better at once. At least we did.

DIVIDED CHINA.

(Montreal Gazette)

ACCORDING to C. Y. Chang, writing in the China Weekly Review, there are four hundred thousand bandits in Honan Province who, in their forays, capture towns and villages and take away all sorts of people, rich and poor, generally for ransom. This condition largely explains China's vulnerability to attack from outside. The people are divided and the Government, or rather Governments, have little or no control over the roving bands. Until the Chinese set their big house in order, they will remain subject to encroachment by enterprising and designing neighbors.

THE RAINY SEASON.

(Port Rowan News)

TWO weeks ago the farmers were asking for rain. Now they are grumbling because of the too lavish supply of it. This is a hard district to supply with rain. Some of the land is light sand that requires frequent showers and some is clay that requires a moderate supply of rain. If the county council of Norfolk had to make the arrangements for the rotation of showers the members of it would find themselves confronted with an impossible job. So the times for the coming of rain and the quantities also, have been left in the hands of Him who made the earth. A lot of chances for quarrels have been withheld from men by this simple plan. What man would leave the direction of showers to his neighbors? If he did he would be likely to find his own fields dry while his neighbor's field were well watered.

WORTHY OF HIRE.

(London Sunday Dispatch)

NO money could possibly recompense a man for the worry and fatigue of high office, where responsibility definitely takes a toll from health and life. But to perform the duties of high office, which include the many social duties, a man must have adequate means and freedom from financial worry. From the law officers a great professional skill and experience is demanded. If a man capable of filling a law office is to be attracted to it from the large sums he might command in private practice, the remuneration must be such that he does not penalise his family to gratify his political ambition. Whatever money is paid to ministers of state, they sacrifice much for which no money can compensate.

NEIGHBORS

(Port Arthur News Chronicle)

A tourist said Port Arthur had the finest Chamber of Commerce in the United States. His wife reminded him he was in Canada and he was content to include the two without distinction.

It is evidence of the difficulty people have in realising that, crossing a border line they are moving from one country and one flag to another. With it is tribute to the community of interest, the similarities of conduct, the good will of people who live side by side as neighbors, thinking only of one another as friends, nothing but confidence and good will.

THE RIGHT TO WORK.

(Niagara Falls Review)

YESTERDAY the Montreal police had to plunge into the midst of a mob to rescue a clerk who had been attacked and crippled by a crowd of strikers and the irony of it is the clerk was on his way inside the office for the purpose of preparing the pay-sheets for the very men who attacked him. Must we repeat the lesson learned in the United States that, while there is a right to strike, there is also a right to work and the authorities must see to it that workers who seek to preserve the latter right are given protection?

PRISONER TAKES 3 DAYS IN JAIL

On pleading guilty to an assault charge in Magistrate's Court this morning, Cyril Huard was given the opportunity of taking suspended sentence, but he spurned it in preference to a term of imprisonment. He will spend three days in the County Gaol.

Joseph Lindsay, the informant who claimed he was "jarred" when knocked down by Huard after a dispute was in a very forgiving mood. He said the prisoner had been boarding at his home, but he wished to get rid of him and had told him to leave, when an altercation arose. He was willing that the whole matter be dropped.

Declaring he could not drop the matter, Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., offered to place Huard on suspended sentence, but the defendant definitely refused to give a bond, and said he preferred to go to gaol.

"If you don't want suspended sentence I can't make you take it. You can have ten days' imprisonment. But remember, you can still choose suspended sentence if you wish to," the Cadi announced.

Still firm in his resolve to go to prison, Huard said he did not want to give a bond of good behavior.

"Have you ever been to gaol before," the Magistrate queried as he tried to figure the reason behind the unusual choice.

On learning that Huard had not been to gaol previously, the occupant of the Bench decided, "Oh well, I'll make it three days."

lice." The memorandum will be forwarded directly to Premier Hepburn, he said.

Earlier this week, Hon. Harry Nixon, in the absence of Premier Hepburn, stated an investigation into the conduct of the police here would be held if any complaint were made.

Second Damage Writ.

Filing of a writ seeking $20,000 damages from Ohief Newhall on behalf of Organizer Alex Welch for alleged malicious arrest, at Osgoode Hall to-day had just been reported when Cohen announced he had been instructed by George E. Whipp to take action against the police for $10,000 damages as a result of Tuesday's incidents. False arrest and assault will be alleged. Cohen stated the writ will be filed immediately in the Supreme Court.

Whipp claims to have been an innocent spectator at the corner of Park and McDonnel streets Tuesday afternoon. He charges that the police unjustly seized him, turned his arm and twisted his nose, and then without cause, took him into custody.

Cohen and strike leaders sent the following telegram to Premier Hepburn last night, accepting his invitation to the Monday conference:

"Your invitation to attend conference with Dominion Woollens in your offices Monday morning considered at full meeting strikers this afternoon and invitation accepted. Our committee together with our counsel J. L. Cohen will be pleased to attend at the time stated."

Cohen stated he and five strike committee representatives would go to the meeting. The identity of the five representatives was to be determined at a strike committee meeting this afternoon.

All was orderly at the Bonner-Wostb and Auburn plants as they opened at 7 o'clock today. A picket line of about fifty girls paraded before the Bonner-Worth mill and again were allowed the liberty of the roadway but barred from the sidewalk. More than twenty police stood watchfully as workers made their way to the plant in small groups unmolested, but heartily jeered.

The scene was equally tranquil at the Auburn plant. Only seven police were on hand. Plant officials announced today they would not in future divulge the numbers of workers entering the plants as "the figures would only be disputed by the strikers." As far as could be learned, the numbers at work today varied little from those of the past two days.

Strikers said today they had been invited to send a representative to the Johnson Motor Company today on the promise of a contribution of $1 from each worker there.

G. N. Gordon, K.C., reported today that a meeting of the Citizens and Textile Employees' Relief Committee was held in his office Thursday afternoon under the chairmanship of F. T. Tuggey. In addition to Mr. Gordon and Mr. Tuggey, Tom McMurray and Homer Borland were present. Mr. Gordon said to-day

Mr. Gordon said today that all that all accounts which had not been paid were directed to be paid and also it was agreed that a statement be printed in The Examiner of all monies received and all monies paid out. There are vouchers for all sums and it is proposed to have the accounts audited, he said.

He said it was the wish of the four present that the committee should not disband and that if any monies are paid in they be used for relief of families of employees in need.

Hostess Gown is Of Crinkled Crepe

By LISBETH

THE HOSTESS gown or robe, certainly appears in many guises. It may be a simple cotton coat, in stripes or floral design with a zipper down the front; or it may be in silk or satin or combinations of these luxury fabrics and lace, expensive and glamorous.

The one pictured, worn by Iva Stewart, screen player, is of pink crinkled crepe with a complicated effect in the material on each shoulder and short sleeves, and sophisticated touches of maroon colored velvet in the belt which is fastened with a jeweled clasp, and in the small ascot scarf.

Mention of the jeweled belt reminds me that beads, both large and small, in clusters will be a favorite fashion of the autumn. They are used to stress draped necklines. Necklaces have been definitely out of the picture until last spring when pearl beads and gold ones were used to set off black dresses. Many women will be glad of the chance to again wear the beads which they have been hiding away for the past few seasons.

The more elaborate of the hostess gowns, worn for entertaining, are in chiffon this season. A trailing gown of turquoise chiffon, for instance, with ruffles of the same material edging the gown from neckline to hem and around the hemline, is decidedly attractive when seen hovering over a coffee table. This particular model was belted with ribbon velvet.

Quints Separated, Doctor Reveals

CALLANDER, Ont., Aug. 13. — (CP) — Outbursts of quarrelling led to the Dionne quintuplets being separated from each other as much as possible this week, Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe disclosed to-day as he prepared to put the Quints back into circulation.

The physician was to decide whether their slight colds and irritability had been subdued enough for them to appear before the thousands of tourists who have clamored since Monday for a sight of them.

A change in the Quintuplets was evident early in the week as the colds made their appearance, Dr. Dafoe said. Usually the five sisters get along famously together. They give each other toys with a smile and play happily together. But Monday they began to quarrel.

There were practically buckets of tears shed over incidents that would have been laughed off a few days before. Marie quarrelled with Cecile and it was not long before Annette, Yvonne and Emilie were into it. So from Monday the children were separated as much as possible to preclude the possibility of hair pulling in the Dafoe nursery.

Fear Children Realizing.

Dr. Dafoe spoke to-day of his fear the children know they are being watched when they are in the playground. He would not say, however, that he believed this had caused their irritability.

The children are separated from the public by glass and heavy screening but the hum of voices is audible and there usually are excited sounds from tourists who do not obey the guards' instructions to be silent.

Dr. Dafoe believes some change may have to be made next year in the arrangements for showing the children to the public. The problem of exhibiting them without their knowing it is a difficult one, but he expects to solve it. The alternative is to exclude the public entirely and Dr. Dafoe refused to comment on the possibility of this happening.

The physician appealed to-day to tourists for understanding of the problem he faces. He stressed that he is responsible for the health of the children and that if one died the blame would fall on him.

Hundreds of visitors have besieged his home all week and he gave an interview to-day behind the protection of a door sign that announced he was not at home. "We have come so far it won't hurt to let us take a little look," is the tourist's usual appeal.

"They don't seem to realize that the health of the youngsters must be considered above everything else," Dr. Dafoe said. "I have to shoulder the responsibility for the physical welfare of those children and as long as that is the case I am going to see they are protected. I am sorry to disappoint the tourists who have come so far but I want them to realize the consequences should we not take every precaution with our charges."

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"Never say it is nobody's business but my own what I do with my life." It is not true. Your life is put into your hand as a trust for many others besides yourself. If you use it well, it will make many others happy, if you abuse it, it will harm many others besides yourself." —J. M. Pullman.

Dear Friends: Isn't it a common thing to hear people say their life is their own to do what they like with, irrespective of whatever they may choose to do. But none of our lives belong to us alone, for what we do affects everyone around us, and what they do affects us.

How long could any of us last if it were not for those around us? How long could they last without us? And what we do makes those we live with, or work with, or meet with, day after day, happy or unhappy.

None of us can afford to throw off all responsibilities, and say "my life is my own," for if we all did that, if we all tried to do as we pleased without thought of others, what a mess life and the world would be in.

Just as the hands and feet or any organ of the body for that matter, cannot do as they please without relation to the rest of the body, neither can we do anything without relation to the rest of humanity. You can live as you like, you can be good or bad or indifferent, but your life affects everyone you come in contact with, whether you like it or not.

If your lungs go on strike, you cannot breathe properly. If your heart acts up, it slows down your hands and feet. If a common cold affects your throat, your whole body suffers discomfort to a greater or less degree.

And if one of your family does not do their part, it affects every member of the family, if there is a slacker at work it causes all to be blamed and some to do more than they should.

If you decide to live immorally, you not only lower yourself, but all your family, and those friends you knew feel ashamed to recognize you. If you drink to excess, you not only pull yourself down, you torture those you profess to love, or those who love you, and not only that, you encourage someone else to do as you are doing.

If you profess Christianity, then have no charity in you, squeezing every penny from those who owe you, and giving as little as you can in return, you really are an emissary of the devil for you turn people against the Christian life. "You cannot serve God and Mammon."

And, if you are kind, courteous and understanding, you encourage those you contact, your are an inspiration to many, you heal oppressed hearts, renew faith, help another to hold their sanity. No, unless all of us live our own lives, it cannot be done.

Even a tiny infant cannot live it's own life, for someone must wash and feed it, someone must make it comfortable else its cries will make everyone within hearing distance uncomfortable.

How many of us could supply our own needs even for a day without the help of others? The baker, the farmer, the butcher, milkman and hundreds of others all contribute their share to make us comfortable. The men who work at the gas works may be totally unknown to us, but if he is not on the job, we get no gas to cook with.

The spinners of wool, those who raise sheep, those who milk cows and feed chickens, the garbage collectors, each and everyone is necessary to our comfort in living. I could multiply this a thousand-fold, so how can any single one of us expect to live their own life and not consider others. Those who have tried it are in institutions of one kind or another. And if you are still determined to live your own life, just consider how you would like it if everyone did the same thing without thinking of you. — Your Friend,

ROBERTA.

Mr. Archibald Allen, M.A., who as an exchange teacher from Stanford University, Palo Alto, California, has spent the past year studying in the Universities of Berlin and Cologne, Germany, left on Monday for his home in the States, after visiting his uncle and aunts, ex-Warden W. T. and Miss Margaret Wood, and Mrs. A. B. Lefroy.

Mr. Allen is the son of the late Rev. Alexander and Mrs. Allen, of Oakland, California, and while abroad visited Italy, France, and England. From his experience while studying in Germany, he is inclined to the belief that the present military regime in that country is responsible for a lowering of the high standard in education which formerly gave it practically a world-wide renown. In spite, however, of the military activity and expenditures in Europe, Mr. Allen is inclined to the belief that there will be no war.

Mrs. W. Wilkinson visited at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. Raines, and also her sister, Miss Nellie Duncan, Boswell avenue, Peterborough, on Monday.

Gold is Used to Decorate Black Dress

Claudette Colbert.

Gold highlights replace white on Hollywood's latest version of the smart black costume for daytime, worn by Claudette Colbert. The dress is short, with an original collar effect extending outward at the shoulders. The gold braid, combined with black crepe, stresses the regal note prevalent in this season's fashions. Black hat and shoes accompany the dress, and a huge black fox muff replaces the usual scarf worn by smart women.

Junior Entertainment At Gardens

Winners of the Children's Amateur Contest at the Brock Street Summer Gardens, on Thursday evening were as follows: 1st, Shirley Garner and Kenneth Simmons, in a cute song and dance number, "It's No Fun"; 2nd, Jack Flagler, singing "Little Old Lady," in a deep bass voice that shows remarkable promise; 3rd, Theresa Crowe, in a clever song and dance bit, "One, Two, Button Your Shoe."

Assisting in the contest were Shirley Fitzsimmons and Jean Millar, two frequent small prize-winners of the city, who made a sporting gesture and refused to enter for cash prizes, thus giving the other juniors a fine chance.

Special mention was accorded to Leonard Cooper and Jim Cross, both boy sopranos, and others taking part in the contest: Yvonne and Mildred Fuller of Detroit, and Lillian Harris, in song and dance numbers, and Hilda Noble, a small dancer.

Runners-up to the prize-winners of the evening were Jean DeCarlo and Sylvia Duignan, clever small dancers in gorgeous outfits; George and Margaret Young, who did some very skilful, close harmonizing with a guitar, and two little "different" dancers, Marie and Catherine Kieran, doing an Irish jig in costume.

The opinion was expressed by the judges that several of the children who are fine little dancers spoiled their chances by attempting to sing also, as clever feet are not always accompanied by a good voice.

Instead of selecting the six best of the children at last night's program, scouts from the Exhibition Board decided to take the entire list. The children will present their turns before the grandstand on the opening afternoon, Wednesday of next week, and the top numbers will be chosen for the evening's performances.

The bride looked charming in a navy embroidered net dress with white trimmings, white hat, white shoes and other accessories to match.

The young couple were unattended. Several relatives and friends accompanied the bridal pair to the parsonage.

After the ceremony, the happy couple left on a motor trip to Montreal and Quebec City, returning by Watertown, Rochester and Niagara Falls.

Stephens—Wheadon

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 12. — A wedding of interest to many was conducted at the Guild of All Aarts, Scarboro, last Wednesday afternoon when Maisie, youngest daughter of W. Wheadon and the late Mrs. Wheadon of Toronto, became the bride of Wesley Stephens of Campbellford. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was attired in a French gown of white marquisette, with a green motif and her veil of bridal net fell from a draped turban. She wore a corsage of Talisman roses and lily of the valley.

The wedding music was played by Weldon Kilburn and during the signing of the register Miss Evelyn Davidson sang "O Promise Me." The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Russell O'Brien of Whitby in a rose arbor with masses of summer flowers forming a natural background. On their return from a trip up the Saugenay, Mr. and Mrs. Stephens will reside in Campbellford.

Dobson—Weeks

MILLBROOK, August 13. — A lovely midsummer wedding of local interest took place at St. John's church, Norway, on Saturday afternoon, when Vera Beatrice, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Weeks, of Fenelon Falls, and formerly of Millbrook, became the bride of Murray J. Dobson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dobson, of Toronto, the Rev. Canon W. L. Baynes-Reed officiating.

The wedding music was played by Miss Enid Dobson, sister of the groom, during the signing of the register, Miss Beasie Sinclair sang "Now sleeps the Crimson Petal," and "Because." The chancel was banked with ferns, palms and tall standards of gladioli for the ceremony.

The bride, who entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, was becomingly gowned in ivory satin, simply cut on Empire lines, with short train, and fitted jacket, her finger-length veil was of double net, held in place with a tiny wreath of orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of Talismon roses and lily of the valley.

The attendants were the bride's two sisters, Mrs. Carroll Waldron, and Miss Lena Weeks, powder blue, and each carried old-fashioned nosegays of Johanna Hill roses and scabiosa.

The groom was supported by his cousin, Mr. Harold Miller, of Fort Francis, and the ushers were Messrs Carroll Waldron and Ronald —ones, both of Toronto.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Gray Gables, attended by about forty guests. The bride's older sister, Mrs. Carroll Waldron, received the guests assisted by the groom's mother, who wore navy sheer with matching hat and corsage of Briaroliffe roses. Immediately after the reception the bridal couple left on a motor trip through northern Ontario and Quebec. For travelling the bride donned a grey wool sheer suit, with hat and accessories of dubonnet wine. Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Dobson will reside in Toronto.

INTERESTING WOMEN

MRS. JOSEPH MILLS.

If the ghost of Sir John A. Macdonald should ever choose to frequent once more the places where he dwelt while clothed in earthly flesh, it might pause while jogging along Wellington Street in Kingston, where the Father of Confederation often strode in life, and look around a corner for that little girl of long ago who often came tripping lightly along that old street, to slip her hand in the hand of the kindly Sir John and look up at his long nose as they walked along together . . .

The little girl was Emma Claringpold, who was later to become Mrs. Joseph Mills, and to come to Peterborough to live for long, useful years, assisting in many activities among women and growing old gracefully into the bargain . . .

Mrs. Mills was born in South Fredericksburg, near Kingston, the child of Henry Parker Claringbold and Susannah Amesh, who came out from England in 1857, in a sailing-vessel that took eight weeks to cross the Atlantic. When very young, her parents moved to Kingston, where they lived within three blocks of the residence of the late Sir John A. Macdonald. She was one of a family of ten children.

In 1883, Miss Claringbold married Joseph Mills, whose parents, both of Irish blood, had come from the Old Land to settle in Kingston. The wedding took place at St. George's Cathedral, Kingston, and then Mr. Mills brought his young bride to Peterborough. They lived first on Weller Street, and after six years, moved to the residence which Mrs. Mills still occupies, on the corner of Park Street and Hunter West. Three children were born: Daisy (now Mrs. B. D. Hall); Major A. Bruce Mills of Peterborough; Samuel of the Bank of Montreal staff in Montreal. There are four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Sam Mills served overseas in the Great War, and Colonel Mills, who was in command of the 57th Peterborough Rangers Regiment, went directly to France with the First Canadian Contingent. He passed away at his home here, in 1926.

It was the wish of Colonel Mills that his widow should never cease to interest herself in the welfare and the activities of the returned men, and this true she has kept faithfully. There is no woman in the city who has done more for the ex-soldiers and their dependents than has Mrs. Mills, and her name is revered amongst them.

She organized the Women's Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion in 1917; she is a charter member of the 57th Regiment Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, which has as its main activity an interest in military matters, and she is a Life Member of the Canadian Red Cross Society. Mrs. Mills is also honorary president of the Local Council of Women (the first to hold that position), she is honorary president of the Women's Conservative Association of the city, and is chairman of the Mothers' Allowance Board. She takes unceasing part in relief activities, has been a member for many years of the Well Babies' Clinic, and assists in its work at all times, and was one of the original members of the Church Women's Association of St. John's, of which church she has been a member since coming to Peterborough from Kingston.

As a woman who for the past fifty-four years has taken an active and constant interest in the doings of women, from the days when they did not even possess a vote to these modern times when they have a finger in every pie, the palm for long service in local feminine endeavors should go to Mrs. Mills. It is doubtful if any woman in the city can surpass the length of this record of well-doing which embraces so many different angles and includes the welfare of the child in the cradle; the mother bereft of her life partner and keeping the home together with the aid of a Mothers' Allowance; the dependents of the ex-soldiers, to say nothing of Red Cross, I.O.D.E., and Local Council work and the efforts of the women's political association in which Mrs. Mills is a valued member.

They will be lighter in weight and shorter, to keep step with the shorter skirts. Water-proof gabardine will replace velvet, laces will replace zippers, and heels will be covered with fabric, instead of rubber. . . .

Need More Ships

Japanese Fleet Admiral Hirovatu Fushimi (ABOVE), is said to have informed Emperor Hirohito that it may be necessary to send additional warships to the Yangtse river area. This was interpreted by observers as a move to "impress" the "futility" of resistance.

not open hostilities. Yui declared the Chinese troops were putting up a determined resistance.

The Japanese were reported to be holding back awaiting the arrival of reinforcements which Tokyo is understood to have ordered sent from the island Empire. The Chinese, on the other hand, were said to want to force the issue before the Japanese garrison is strengthened.

Japanese sources reported that General Chiang Kai-Shek, Chinese Premier and army commander, had ordered his crack 87th and 88th divisions to take up positions in the historic Woosung forts at the mouth of the Whangpoo river.

Foreign residents of the great oriental city of 3,500,000 persons were barricaded within the international settlement where British, United States and other troops patrolled the borders.

Northern Shanghai was virtually a no-man's land with Japanese and Chinese facing each other across empty streets. The civilian populace had disappeared and all stores were closed and barred.

OCTOBER 19 HINTED, C. I. O. MAIN ISSUE

ents. Mr. Heenan was on a Northern Ontario tour, but brief addresses were given by Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health; Hon. Harry Nixon, Provincial Secretary; Hon. Paul Leduc, Minister of Mines; Hon T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways; Hon. Dr. L. J. Simpson, Minister of Education; and Hon. Duncan Marshall, Minister of Agriculture.

No Opposition to Bounty

In opening, Premier Hepburn referred to a statement attributed to his recently-nominated Conservative opponent, Norman Martin, Elgin dairyfarmer, that the government had favored Algoma Steel in putting a bounty on beneficiated iron ore.

The Premier challenged Mr. Rowe to say he would rescind that piece of legislation. Not a single Conservative had voted against the iron ore bounty, he said.

Of Mr. Rowe, the speaker said he had been a member of the Bennett government, "the worst administration in Canada since Confederation." Mr. Rowe had said Mr. Hepburn had not the "intestinal fortitude" to find out what Ontario thought of him.

The Premier took credit for reducing interest rates, balancing the budget, reducing Hydro rates and taking over the entire cost of provincial highways. New timber policies had jumped revenue and practically eliminated unemployment in Northern Ontario; the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario was now paying its way; Niagara parks commission debt had been reduced by $1,-000,000.

Reviewing work of the succession duties branch, he claimed there were 44 other estate cases in which $50,-000,000 was owing in addition to the $28,000,000 collected in the past two years. Collections had made this department the greatest revenue producer in the government.

Thinks Rowe's Hands Tied.

Conservatives, he charged, were not in a position to carry on the inquiries. Estates, he said, were stalling for time in the hope the Conservatives would be elected as "Mr. Rowe's hands are tied before he starts."

Referring to John L. Lewis as "Mr. Rowe's friend," Mr. Hepburn charged that the C.I.O. leader was involved in "the Herrin, Ill., massacre" some years ago, when miners wanting to join a union of their own choice were lined up and shot by members of the Lewis Mine Workers' Union.

Homer Martin, president of the United Automobile Workers of America, C.I.O. affiliate, he also charged, had suggested to airplane workers it might be a good idea to put out faulty machines to coerce their employers.

"If Mr. Rowe thinks that represents the intelligence of the workman he's mistaken," said Mr. Hepburn. "They don't want to follow a man who condones massacre or suggests making a faulty airplane so men and women lose their lives."

Station Static To The Officer

CALGARY, August 13—(CP). —"Where are you going, sonny?" asked a railway policeman of a small boy with an ice cream cone who wandered through the barrier at the Calgary station recently.

"I'm going 35 miles," the juvenile answered proudly.

"Have you got your ticket?"

'No. I'm not going 'till to-night.'

"What time does your train go?"

The small boy was silent. Then taking a mouthful of ice cream he answered serenly.

"I'm going by bus."

COMPANY MUST DEAL WITH UNION

Premier's telegram of invitation. The telegram was addressed to Michael English, Strike Chairman.

"This invitation recognizes us as a strike body," he said, commenting that invitations to negotiation in the past have been otherwise addressed. "In accepting this invitation we can go down unhampered as free agents on behalf of ourselves and our fellow workers. I advise that we accept it."

Scorn Proposal

The speaker scorned the proposal from the Premier on which strikers were asked to go back to work Tuesday. "I don't know how that idea originated in the Prime Minister's mind. I am sure he must have been misguided by malicious advisers." The Premier would have the strikers return to work without gaining their demands to await a slow grinding of the minimum wage machine, he said. Cornwall strikers turned thumbs down on the same proposal, resolving not to return to work until all their demands are granted and all granted demands resolved into an agreement, he declared.

Harvey Murphy, president of the Ontario Federation on Unemployment, declared "never was the strike in a better position than at this moment". He assailed the police use of tear gas as cowardly, asserting it has the power to blind. He charged the plant managements have been going to mothers and fathers in efforts to get them to scare their boys and girls into returning to work during the past several days.

Bitterly he attacked Chief of Police Newhall. "The Chief of Police would like to be a Napoleon in this town," he said. "Brother Millard criticized the chief when he spoke at the Market Square last night and the chief was heard to say Brother Millard will not speak here again. I think Brother Millard will speak here again. Your city has at least one distinction. It has the only chief in Ontario who likes to pull people by their noses."

Attacks Mayor.

He assailed Mayor Macdonald, declaring him to be "the tool of low wage-paying companies". "I often wonder how the people of Peterborough could elect him mayor."

Murphy cited as an indication of renewed support from outside unions the receipt of $200 from the Amalgamated Clothing Workers union in Toronto after the word of Tuesday's trouble was broadcast.

Harold Millard, U.A.W.A. organizer from Oshawa, repudiated G. N. Gordon and Fred Tuggey on behalf of the strike organization. "Mr. Gordon and Mr. Tuggey announced that they are through with us," he said. "I would have been better for us if they had been through long ago."

Attacking Newhall as an "autocratic police dictator", Alex Welch declared, "They thought that by having the big bad wolf locked up they could get the people back to work."

"No!" the gathering chorused.

"No matter how many Provincials they send out here or Mayor Macdonald brings down here they can't beat us back to work," he shouted.

A crowd of five hundred persons which included about 200 strikers gathered for an evening rally on the Market Square. Speeches which had been delivered at the Community Hall rally were repeated for the benefit of the larger assembly by the strike leaders. Mike English acted as chairman.

Threatens Suit

Claiming she lost her job because of the asserted influence exerted against her by her former friend, screen star Joan Crawford, Dorothy Rogers (ABOVE), former RKO studio stenographer, announced through her attorney, she would sue Miss Crawford for $50,-000 damages.

Japan Competing In Whaling Trade

MELBOURNE, Victoria, Aug. 13. —(CP).—Japan to-day was regarded as one of the strongest competitors in the Australian whaling trade.

Two years ago the Japanese entered the industry with one factory ship, the Tonan Maru. Last year it was joined by the Nisshin Maru, largest vessel of its kind afloat. This year at least six Japanese factory ships are expected to be searching Australian waters.

Most European countries and South Africa are also represented in the industry.

WOMAN IS TIED OYSTER STAKE

Thorpe swam to the edge of the dock pulled himself up on the pier and gasped his story.

He was taken to Milford Hospital, while boats put to sea again searching for Mrs. Lucas. Thorpe said he bound her to the stake about a half-mile off shore, after they swam four and a half miles.

The woman asked him to bind her to the stake as she was too exhausted to struggle further, he said.

Thorpe and Mrs. Lucas, who has been estranged from her husband for five years, put out from the Housatonic Yacht Club pier last night in spite of warnings that the sea was too rough for their tiny boat.

Thorpe's story was confusing. He first said he had towed Mrs. Lucas toward shore until she broke his hold on her and sank. Later he described tying her to the oyster stake. Police searched as far as Charles Island, but found no trace of the woman.

$20,000 DAMAGES MAY BE SOUGHT FOR ALEX WELCH

A writ seeking $20,000 damages from Police Chief Newhall for malicious arrest will be issued to-day on behalf of United TextileWorkers Organizer Alex Welch, strike legal adviser J. L. Cohen announced to a general meeting of the strike membership in the East City Community Hall yesterday afternoon. A thunderous shout of approval was raised by the 200 strikers present as the announcement was made.

Just a few minutes previously Welch had been released from jail in his third day of confinement following arrest at the strike disorder scene outside the Bonner-Worth plant Tuesday morning. Strikers delayed their meeting to await his arrival from the jail, snatching him from the car which bore him to the scene and bearing him triumphantly on their shoulders to the hall entrance.

To Determine Rights.

"It is up to us once and for all to determine what are the rights of our citizens and what are the rights of a picket-beating police chief if any," Cohen declared as he announced the writ. "I don't know whether the chief has $20,000 but he'll have a lot of fun looking for it."

Cohen reported to the meeting he had been working energetically in Toronto to obtain Welch's release. He said the "hocus-pocus" was still going on yesterday morning at 10 o'clock and he communicated with Premier Hepburn and the Attorney-General's department.

"I told them we appreciated the $5,000 price on Brother Welch's head, but that we didn't appreciate the strike-breaking attempt to keep him in jail."

The legal adviser told the meeting he had obtained the organizer's release on a bail bond without the restrictions against appearance in picket lines which were attached to the bail bonds of the pickets released earlier, on representation that that is Welch's business.

"If at last we have been able to teach the authorities it is the business of Brother Welch to be on the picket line, you tell me who is winning this strike!" he declared.

Last To Be Freed On Bail

Gordon Dundas, striking employee of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited seen in the above picture with J. L. Cohen, Labor legal adviser, was the last of fifteen arrested in connection with disturbances at Bonner-Worth Mill to be released on bail. He followed Alex Welch to freedom on Thursday afternoon after bail had been posted in the sum of $1,000 to ensure his appearance in magistrate's court next Tuesday. (Examiner Staff Photo.)

COUNTY GAOL FARE CALLED 'TERRIBLE' BY ALEX WELCH

Gaol fare was "terrible", Alex Welch, United Textile Workers organizer declared with a wry smile at his recollection of fifty or more hours at the county gaol under remand on two charges in connection with disturbances at the Bonner-Worth plant of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited.

Speaking with an Examiner reporter from his cell in the police station lock-up just prior to his release on bail of $5,000 yesterday afternoon, Welch acknowledged the county gaoler and his staff "treated me with every consideration". He did not wish to suggest they were to blame for the menu provided by gaol regulations, but said his breakfast that morning had consisted of a bowl of porridge sprinkled with brown sugar, a piece of bread and some tea.

Asked how he spent his time in the county gaol, Welch said he had done some reading. He was permitted to see outside newspapers but when he asked to see The Examiner was refused it, on the grounds that gaol regulations bar the local paper from the inmates, he said.

Among outside newspapers he was permitted to see, he said, was a Toronto labor newspaper.

Welch was brought from the county gaol along with Gordon Dundas, a striker who was also released on bail of $1,000 to appear next Tuesday morning on a charge in connection with the clash between police and strikers.

The pair, last to be released from custody out of a total of fifteen arrested in connection with the trouble here on Tuesday morning, were apparently unaware of the reason why they had been brought from the county gaol to the police station.

"Why have we been brought down here", Welch queried a reporter whom he spotted in the corridor near his cell. Told arrangements were under way for their immediate release on bail, both Welch and Dundas expressed apparent relief.

On their brief appearance in court where Thomas McMurray posted bail on behalf of the two men, they were met by J. L. Cohen, labor legal adviser with a cordial greeting, and on their release were driven off in a waiting automobile, which contained among others, Alex Townsley, secretary of the Central Strike Committee.

Earlier in the courtroom, Mr. Cohen was introduced to Mr. McMurray. The pair met for the first time and the legal adviser noting the bondsman's working attire remarked, "You look just as you should for the president of the local Trades and Labor Council".

No Arrest Was Made In Strike Picture

AN ERROR was made in Thursday night's Examiner in the caption and reading matter placed on one of the strike pictures appearing on page thirteen. It was intimated that the youth surrounded by police was a striker and under arrest this was incorrect as it was the picture of a young man employed in another industry in the city who was unfortunately caught at the trouble scene as he passed through on his way home from work. The young man The Examiner believes did not become involved in any way in the trouble and this error is regretted.

FIVE ALBANIS HEAD VAUDEVILLE BILL AT THE EXHIBITION

The Five Albanis who recently returned from a two months' tour of the Orient, including the famous Japanese Exposition, will headline a vaudeville program at the Peterborough Exhibition next week.

While in the far east this troupe, according to the management of the Fair, astounded hundreds of thousands of Orientals with their fantastic stunts on high ladders, rings, trapezes and cycle. Their concluding feat is of such character that too reveal it would be like reviewing a mystery picture and disclosing the murdered, — but the Exhibition vouches for the facts in connection with the finishing act of the Albani Five.

Insuperable and frightening performances aloft on aerial motorcycle flanked by an imposing set of rigging paraphernalia, including bars and trapezes, the whole resting on a flimsy lattice track high in mid-air, might furnish a brief description of what the sensational Albani Five accomplish in space.

The cycle and trapeze pageantry of the Five Albanis is a direct defiance of the laws of Nature and is fraught with danger and visible and invisible obstacles at every turn of the way.

These gladiators of the ether, including four lovely girls, defy terra firm to stop them by ascending more than 75 feet for their weird aerial circus. The attraction has been imported from Europe by George A. Hamid of New York, foremost developers of foremost circus and daredevil acts.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 13.—(CP).—F. X. Chauvin, president of the Windsor St. Jean Baptiste Society and member of the Sandwich, Windsor and Amherstburg Railway Board, will nominate David Croll, M.L.A. Windsor-Walkerville, as Liberal candidate at a nomination meeting of that riding to-night. Chauvin sponsored Mr. Crolls nomination in 1934.

For World's Bucksaw Champion

THE PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER TROPHY

This beautiful silver cup will be defended by Tom Walling, present world's champion, winner of the title in Peterborough in 1936. Walling is working out in a Haliburton bush and has written that he is ready for the contest that will be staged on Simcoe Street Thursday and Friday mornings, Peterborough Exhibition week.

BUCKSAW TITLE WILL BE DEFENDED BY TOM WALLING

Can Tom Walling, world champion of the bucksaw, retain his title in the Examiner's second annual tourney here next Thursday and Friday?

Every man of the crowd who saw the wiry old wood-cutter turn back a score of younger adversaries last year will be wondering whether the old woodsman can fit the crown securely on his head for another year against the younger men who are expected to line up against him.

Can old Tom repeat, or will age impose too heavy a handicap on him in The Examiner's bucksaw derby?

The rewards are attractive enough to bring out the best sawmen in the country—the championship title and the handsome trophy and fifty dollars that go to the winner, with first selection of the supplementary prizes donated by merchants.

For the runner-up 25 and second selection of the additional prizes, and for the third man to finish $10 and third choice from the merchants' contributions to the success of the big competition.

Time has aded another year to Tom Walling's shoulders, but the old gentleman has been working steadily in the Haliburton bush country, and in his own words he is ready to take on all the comparative youngsters who will start out on his trail next Thursday morning.

Interest in the bucksaw championship is bound to be keener than ever, partly as a result of the fact that the title holder is called upon to defend his crown, and also because of the element of doubt arising out of the memory of the accomplishments of Walter Orde last year on sawing platforms at district fairs.

Tom Walling was the sensation of the 1936 world's championship bucksaw contest held in Peterborough, and although youth has learned some of the short cuts in sawing which he acquired from long experience in the woods, the champion will probably be the favorite again next week when he swings his saw into action on the four-foot, squared maple log that will test his ageing muscles. The smoothness with which he cut through hardwood last year is remembered by the big crowd who saw him romp off with the title, and it may be that he will duplicate that achievement in the second staging of the big contest.

Walling against all comers. Can lean Tom repeat? This will be the paramount question that will be up for decision in the public arena that will be erected in Simcoe street between Water and George streets for next Thursday morning's battle of the bucksaws.

GALWAY COUPLE HAVE BIG ENTRY AT FLOWER SHOW

Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer of Kinmount, representing the Galway and Somerville Horticultural Society, seemed this morning the embodiment of that branch of aesthetics which pays tribute to and promotes a love of flowers when they arrived from Kinmount, at the extreme northwest corner of this county, with bloom for the Peterborough Horticultural Society's flower show in the Canadian Legion Hall.

"That's worth mentioning," Fred Dummitt, chairman of the show committee, remarked to The Examiner when it was realized that the Spencers had been nearly two hours on the road motoring with flowers from their northern garden and up with a bouquet of wild flowers they had gathered in a Galway wood.

John A. Smith, president of the society, said the judging would be completed in time for the opening of the doors to the public at 7 o'clock this evening, and it may be mentioned that an admission charge of ten cents is merely a nominal offering toward the expense of the show.

W. C. Wilks, secretary, remarked that he was rather disappointed with the number of entries from the district. Up to ten o'clock this morning they were comparatively few, although others might arrive by noon.

Herb. Cardwell of Wallace Point displayed his breadth of interests by bringing in a car-load of gladioli for a bank of these bloom in conjunction with the spikes from the gardens of George Clarke and W. C. Wilks of the Alfred-Chamberlen section of the city.

"The heavy rains of the last week played hob with flowers," Mr. Wilks said. "We may not get large ends of sweet peas, but we will have a beautiful show for this evening and Saturday."

Mr. Wilks, Al Spencely and George Benton are combining in a display of cacti. Members of the Horticultural Society worked last night preparing the Legion Hall for the flowers that were arriving even then.

VICTIM OF A MATCH.

OTTAWA, Aug. 13 (CP).—Nine-year-old Ronald Alexander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Alexander, died in Hospital last night from burns suffered July 3 when a match with which he was playing ignited and set fire to his clothing.

TERMS IN JAIL VAGRANCY COUNT

Convicted on a charge of vagrancy H. A. Woodruff of Indian River was this morning sentenced to 2 months imprisonment. His companion Edward C. Bamhour of the same address, found guilty on a similar count was ordered to serve one month in the county gaol.

Police Sergeant William Wigg testified he saw the accused run from a laneway on Louis street at 3.30 a.m. on August 7 last. He questioned them and not receiving a satisfactory account of their movements took them in charge.

Earlier in the night the officer said, a branch of E. F. Mason groceterias on Charlotte street had been burglarized. He found a screwdriver in a club bag carried by Bamhour which, he testifed fitted marks made by some instrument on the door of the Mason premises. Neither of the accused had money in their possession when arrested.

Woodruff who took an intelligent interest in the proceedings and conducted his own defence, argued that when apprehended by the officer he and his companion had given satisfactory answers to three questions asked of them. He said the officer had asked their names and address and what they had been doing in the laneway that early hour of the morning.

He said the reason they had gone down the laneway was to sleep off the effects of some liquor they had been drinking. He denied they were there for any unlawful purpose.

According to the officer's testimony neither of the accused showed signs of alcoholic drink when taken into custody.

POST OFFICE SNAKES.

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 13 (C.P.).—Herpetologists need go no further than the Windsor Post Office in seeking snakes. For the second time in the last six months a serpent has been discovered in the building.

Authorities called in two Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers to capture the six-foot black snake after Clerk George Somerton said it dropped in front of him from somewhere near the ceiling "and snapped at me on the way down." The Mounties were unsuccessful in finding the reptile.

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, August 14

A day of rather conflicting developments, with some anxieties or adverse conditions to be sagaciously composed, is read from the prevailing astral intervention. Employment seems to be the seat of this concern or affliction, but this may be offset by the very encouraging conditions surrounding new contracts, agreements or understandings. Speculation also thrives under this same planetary vibration. Safeguard the harmonies of private life.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter some adverse conditions in business or employment, but these are balanced by excellent prospects in relation to new undertakings, agreements and contracts. Also speculative measures should flourish and all clevery manipulated new ventures.

A child born on this day may be versatile, shrewd and clever in seeing the advantages in new or speculative situations, although it may not be so sagacious in employment.

While Finsler's Comet Past Worrying About We Still Have Friday The 13th

In the cosmic wake of Finsler's comet comes Friday the 13th, almost a conjunction of extraordinary phenomena in time and space which some people regard as being fraught with fearsome influence. This morning men who are susceptible to hunches, portents and the shadow of the universal jinx of the calendar's juxtaposition of Friday the Thirteenth took, perhaps the rabbit's foot out of the moth balls, and with an ingratiating rub set forth with challenging angle of chin for whatever the day might bring forth, hoping that at the worst no malign occult power would interfere with the weekly walking of the "ghost" with its sheaf of envelopes.

"Central," called The Examiner a night or so ago for help in answering numerous telephone calls about the comet and where it could be seen.

"When beggars die there are no comets seen," the Bell voice quoted. "If that's the case a lot of us needn't worry about passing out this week."

The name of the streaming visitor in the sky area of Ursa Major, otherwise the "Big Dipper" escaped the reporter's memory at the time, and anyway the stars were overcast with haze, so there was no use organizing a search party.

Since then the name comes back from the depths of the psyche, but like smart repartee that misses the exact moment, it was too late to spring on "Central" with an effect of great knowledge. And it is also recalled now that the name of the Swiss who discovered this vagrant in the heavens, that Finsler's comet has a glowing tail estimated at one million miles in length, and that it was approaching the earth at the rate of 28 miles a second, when it was 50,000,000 miles from the Bell telephone office on Hunter Street. And the data also conveyed the information that the comet's brightness would begin to fade last Sunday or Monday night.

However, if the comet to-day was past worrying about, there was still Friday the Thirteenth to reckon with, so just as a bit of counsel, whatever it may be worth, look out for traffic police, don't angle park on the main street, and otherwise walk circumspectly, and don't tilt your head vainly looking for the Finsler luminary because there are trees and posts to bump your nose against, sidewalks to fall off, and all kinds of hazards that may be pepped into action on Friday the Thirteenth.

The Five Albanis "Ex" Feature

Albert E. Taylor, Toronto contractor, recently bailed on a charge of stealing a blue print, was arraigned before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., this morning on a charge of assault. He was represented on his brief appearance by A. L. Elliott.

The charge of assault to which Taylor entered a plea of not guilty was laid on the information of D. V. Ketcheson of this city, for whom it was stated Taylor had been building a house at Albertus and Weller Streets in North Monaghan Township.

Hearing of the charge was enlarged until August 20 next and Taylor was given bail in the sum of $200.

It was learned that counter charges are being laid by Taylor against Ketcheson. Informations have been sworn by Ketcheson charging him with committing injury, damage or spoil to property under construction by Taylor at Albertus and Weller Streets; and with forcing open a door at the same property and breaking two locks.

In addition it was stated on reliable authority, Taylor is suing Ketcheson in Supreme Court of Ontario for $2,000 damages alleged to be owing as part payment on the construction of a dwelling house, and an additional $1,500 damages.

The Rambling REPORTERS

LASSOED CATFISH

Fishing for mudcats at Crawford's Grove recently M. Mowry and Jack Amyotte of this city lassoed one of the critters. Vouching for the truth of his assertion Mr. Mowry said the catfish was accidentially lassoed when his own line and that of his angling companion became snarled under water. Both fishermen felt a simultaneous tug at their lines and on hauling in found the fish neatly noosed in the tangled lines. Never a hook was used.

ENTERTAINING THE COMPANY.

Jerry is a grey cat belonging to Mr. and Mrs. James Fowler of the Mount Pleasant Road. He has two tiny knobs of ears, because frostbite took the rest of them. When company arrives, Jerry is always to the fore. He want to be invited to do his special tricks. So, when the invitation is forthcoming, Jerry, with a large introductory "meow," gets himself settled firmly back on his mistress' lap and starts in to chew a hard crust of bread, holding it like a squirrel, in his two front paws. Presently, when the going gets pretty rough (for it is always a very hard crust), Jerry reaches for a handy cup of milk, holds it against his chest in the same way, and dips his head in for a drink. Then he is able to negotiate the rest of the crust and wait for the plaudits that always follow this especial stunt.—C.L.M.

TICKETS ARE IN DEMAND

Strips of Exhibition tickets are still on sale throughout the city. At McDermid and Jury's drug store more than 150 have been disposed of; Bond's drug store almost a similar number; and Bert McLeod at Park and Albert streets sold one hundred, and took another fifty some of whic which are still available. These figures indicate the demand for the advance sale tickets at four for one dollar. One ticket will admit the holder at the gate or to the grandstand; if you wish to have the comfort of one of the new theatre seats in the reserved section another ticket is required.

ARE IN MONTREAL.

Two Peterborough men, V. S. Milburn, secretary of the Ontario Cheese Patrons' Association, and H. B. Cowan, secretary of the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture, are in Montreal to-day attending a conference arranged by the Chamber of Agriculture with Col. Hon. M. F. Bruxner, Deputy-Premier of New South Wales, Australia. Col. Bruxner is visiting Canada on his way home from the Imperial Conference in an effort to arrange with the Canadian Chamber of Agriculture to send producer representatives to an Empire Producers' Conference which it is proposed to hold in Australia next March. The Conference will be attended by representatives of farm organizations from Ontario and Quebec. The Quebec Government is tendering a luncheon in honor of Hon. Mr. Bruxner to those who attend the conference. Mr Cowan has arranged for Col Bruxner to meet the representatives of Western Canada farm organizations in Calgary on August 26.

GINGER SEEKS QUIET.

VANCOUVER, Aug. 13 (C.P.).—Mildly amazed at the crowd which thronged the pier to greet her arrival from Victoria, Ginger Rogers, red-headed film star, left here last night for Lake Louise, Alta.

"I came to Canada to be alone," Miss Rogers said. "I didn't think they bothered anyone up here."

A crowd of 5,000, who missed the actress when she was whisked off the boat by the freight elevator, thronged the station, shouting:

"We want Ginger."

Mayor Has Probed Deportation Item

Commenting on reports in the Toronto press with reference to a move that was launched in efforts to have certain employees of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds, Limited, here deported back to the United States, Mayor George Macdonald told The Examiner he had regretted very much seeing publication of the item.

"I immediately communicated with the proper authorities and found that there was nothing bearing out this report," stated the Mayor. "I found, as I had expected, that these men entered Canada legally to carry on highly respected and important duties and that they are carrying on these duties to the benefit of their company and this city. I know that these men are of good character and they are the type of citizens we are glad to have in the city."

Westclox Girls Defeat Keene To Qualify For Loop Finals

Village Lasses Eliminated in Two Straight of Section Playoffs.

Westclox Girls defeated Keene, 9 to 4, before a big crowd last night at the Bowl to qualify for the Girls' Softball League finals. Keene lasses were eliminated in two straight tilts in the sectional playoffs, and the Clockmakers and Cobourg now clash for the loop title, first game being here tonight. The series is best three in five, second game being Monday in Cobourg. Last night's fray here was a classy, exciting battle all the way.

Marg. Snowden twirled seven-hit ball for the winners as she fanned two and walked two. Her support was good most of the route. Jean Munroe started for Keene, but was hammered out in the second, despite six strikeouts and one walk issued. Westclox had climbed on her for nine hits which resulted, along with miscues, in eight runs to start off the struggle. She gave way to Bea McDowell, and the latter held Westclox down well during the remainder of the joust, allowing but six hits and a walk as she fanned two. The Keene pitchers had poor backing in fielding.

I. Pavy had a double and two singles for Ab Delahaye's crew, and D. Merrett collected three singles. T. Mills had a triple and single, and H. Nelson two singles for the Fletcher gang. Nice fielding was shown by A. Sturgeon, M. Miller and D. Cocks. The teams

DE LAVAL SECURES THIRD POSITION

De Laval nosed out Hawks, 6-4, last night in a Southend Softball League sudden-death game to settle third place in the final standing. Frank Shine pitched great ball for the winners; when arriving late he took over the chore from Abbott and allowed but five hits as he fanned six and walked one. Abbott pitched one inning and gave one hit, but a walk and an error helped give the other side two runs. Elliott for the losers was nicked for 13 hits but kept them scattered. McKay's error in the sixth with two on and the score tied spoiled his fine effort. He fanned five and issued but one walk. McDougall had two hits to top the Hawks. Jamieson clouted a long triple. Gatfield got four hits in five, one a double, for the winners, and Shine and Griffin had extra-bit blows. Shine and Wright anone in the field for De Laval, with Hallihan, Jamieson, Busby and Wooda going well for Hawks. The teams:

APPARENTLY Premier Hepburn is not a bit superstitious. He picked on Friday the 13th to announce that there will be an election sometime in the fall. And speaking about Friday, we are expecting a big crowd out tonight, and speaking of 'we's' we are adopting a new system of scoring, and we will have new prizes but the time of starting will be the same and the same old fee of 25 cents will prevail.

THE HEAVY downpour of rain that came on about 9.15 p.m. put the bowling out of business. Just how many of the boys played a 'legal' will not be known until there is a checkup. Tomorrow night (Saturday) is the last for (1) accepting Central Ontario rink entries, (2) accepting entries for Globe doubles, (3) playing the 64th round of the club singles.

WE DON'T KNOW how true it is, but the rumor is prevalent that our club will have one or two entries in the Examiner's buckaw contest.

SCOTIA MARKSMAN TOPS QUALIFIERS

CONNAUGHT RIFLE RANGES, SOUTH MARCH, Ont., Aug. 13—(CP). — Canada's best marksmen went to the shooting mounds today still talking over the feat of Lieut. C. F. Kennedy of Hilden, N.S., in winning the qualifying stage of the Governor-General's event, blue ribband of the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association's annual meeting.

The 23-year-old Nova Scotia carpenter set a hot pace for the 150 qualifiers for Saturday's final by posting a possible 105 over 200, 500 and 600 yards. It was the fourth time the score was reached here, and the second time in the British Empire since the size of the bull's eye was reduced last year.

Major J. W. Houlden of Sherbrooke, Que., was second with 104.

To-day, Cadets had their innings over the range. All shooting was suspended as a team of eight Canadian and eight English Cadets battle for the Michael Faraday Trophy, at 300 and 500 yards, seven shots at each range. Canada won the trophy last year.

Only two major matches were on the program for competitors, the City of Ottawa and the King's Medal. The City of Ottawa was fired over 200 and 900 yards, 10 shots at each.

Number 62.

Very few golfers know what they do with their hands. This covers the position of hands on the club and the movements performed by the hands during the swing.

It is rather difficult for any player to know definitely what movements his hands go through in making the swing, but every player should know whether or not his hands remain in their original position on the club. They should know that, but they don't. Not one player in a thousand keeps track of his grip on the club from start to finish in the swing. This is hard to believe because the hands are always in mind and so much fuss is always being made about them.

Here is an example: The average player allows his grip to change in the very first move he makes in taking the club back from the ball. Obviously this results in loss of control over the club and the wrong direction in the flight of the ball. The swing becomes a regular struggle for control which cannot be regained after the hands have changed their position.

How can this fault be overcome? Simply by giving proper attention to the hands at the start of the backswing. After you have taken your grip avoid any movement in your fingers and keep your hands pressed together.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

LACROSSE schedule for the Auburns at home winds up tonight with Belleville Flying Rovers meeting the locals at nine under the arcs at the George St. arena. Auburns should win it, but it ought to be another lively squabble. The Quinte crew expect to bring Joe Gould along this time, and the colorful Joseph is worth seeing any time. The Belleville-Trenton combination is trying to wangle a playoff berth without being forced to meet the classy Auburns smack off the bat in the playoffs. But it looks like they'll have to collide, Auburns have dropped only one group tilt all season and hope to resume their winning ways—after losing the last start in Oshawa—here this twilight. Another good crowd of fans is expected.

* * * * * * *

KINGSTON PONIES play the Petes tomorrow in Riverside Park, the final home C.O.B.L. game for the locals. It will be the last appearance here this season of the Ponies, except maybe in playoffs, and just possibly—but perish the thought!—The Petes' last showing here this year. However the locals hope to hang onto the third-place playoff berth and they also hope to knock off the Kingstons just once during scheduled performances. To date, they have lost seven to Joe Daley's dudes and this cannot go on forever, surely to the dickens!

* * * * * * *

YE OLDE bitter rivalrie of ye Ponies and ye Petes will be much in evidence again tomorrow here. They just don't get along, nohow. Last tilt in this town betwixt the enemies saw Daley chased from the dugout by an angry umps, who had police assistance. And since the Ponies seem to want Napanee in playoffs with 'em instead of the Petes, that also means they'll be playing for keeps and not pulling any punches, either. Paczkowski is likely to start on the mound for the visitors, with either Kitchen or Jakaffby twirling for the locals. The latter did a three-hit job on Kingston a week or so back, and may get the call again. The customers ought to go for this number in big numbers. Napanee plays in Oshawa tomorrow.

OLDTIME ball players and fans here—of some 30 years or more ago—may recall Fred (Yebbie) Flaherty. He was a good pitcher for Peterborough in the old Midland League, the latter loop being much like the present Central League. Flaherty is living in Fort William and is at present a visitor here, dropping in to The Examiner the other day. He went from here to Western Ontario but ended his hurling days soon after injuring his arm in an exhibition game 'gainst Toronto Leafs. He played for a time for Art Johnston's team and some of his old teammates are still around.

BILL FRY, manager of the Belleville Rugby Club and a representative of the O.R.F.U. in Central Ontario—Lou Brooks of Peterborough is the other one—wrote a letter Wednesday to the Belleville Intelligencer seems to resent remarks that the R.C.A.F. may combine with the Quinte crew to form a football club in the intermediate grouping up this way, and indicates that he will have some real rugby news soon. We hope so. Here is his letter:

* * * * * * *

"DEAR SIR—You and Art Cole in your paper sound a cry referring to your constant moan of amalgamation with R.C.A.F. What this league desires is that R.C.A.F. place a team in this group and with Signals at Kingston round out a six-team group. You leave the impression that there is a dearth of material here, which is not so. But till practises start no one knows what is what. Give the local boys a push and they will give all a pleasant surprise. As R.C.A.F. have been asked by myself to enter a team, I personally hope they decide to do so. It means a bigger gate to Belleville. And under the 'A' and 'B' playoff setup, it is just as good to go on in the 'B' playdowns. Of course, if R.C.A.F. doesn't enter a team, any player from there desiring to play with Belleville will be welcome. But there are some surprises in store for all and sundry."

WESTCLOX GALS won the sectional playoffs from Keene here last e'en by a 9-4 count, to eliminate the Keenesters from further competition. All credit to Ivan Fletcher and the femmes from Keene for a gallant showing despite the loss of their ace hurler of 1936. They'll be back again and better than ever. Ab Delahaye and his Westclox squad rate a bouquet too for a good showing through the season. They now meet Cobourg in three-out-of-five loop finals, the winner to go into P.W.S.U. playdowns. First of the finals is here tonight, next being in Cobourg Monday and third at the Bowl next Tuesday. Fourth if necessary will be Thursday and fifth maybe next Friday. Cobourg writer criticizes the way fans fail to contribute at games here, pointing out that in one Keene-Cobourg tilt at the Bowl, each club's share came to $1.50. Lot of the fans must wear one-way pockets, eh?

AT CENTRAL last night, Westclox men softballers won an 8-3 tilt from Motorists. It was their second in three starts in the series to settle a team for O.A.S.A. playdowns, said series being four in seven. Chuck Butcher was going along nicely till he hit a wild streak and couldn't find the plate with a search warrant. Strickland finished up in fair style, but meantime Parsons was flinging six-hit ball for the Armour Hill men and was getting good hitting support, including a timely triple of his own. Both sides fielded well. These teams clash in the fourth playoff number Saturday at Central, the O.A.S.A. deadline date having been extended 10 days. Tonight at Central, Westclox and Omemee meet in a round-robin series tussle.

TIDY SUM REALIZED AT HASTINGS DANCE

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 13.—The street dance and softball tournament featuring the Maple Leafs hockey team held here Wednesday afternoon and evening proved to be a real financial success, as well as drawing a huge crowd for both events. The attendance at the dance is estimated at 1,500. Total receipts for the day amounted to $500, and the committee expect to clear better than half that amount which will be used to put further improvements on the community park, where the sports were held. Music for the event was furnished by Moncrief's Haymakers of Lakefield.

The Leafs lent a helping hand to those who were attending the booths and games. "Chuck" Conacher proved himself an able salesman as well as a puckist, in the booth with the wheel as he would go out among the crowd and invite them to play. "Dit" Clapper was a hard worker in the bingo booth, spending the entire evening behind the counter. "Hap" Watson, a former pro hockey and ball player, who accompanied the Leafs, gave the crowd a good many laughs as he put on a show of his own at the park while the feature game was in progress, at times drawing the attention of everyone present. Frank Gilbert, a CKTB milseman from St. Catharines and a summer resident in the village, gave a play by play description of the Leafs' game over the loud speaker system.

Much credit must be given Reeve Fairman, who acted as chairman of all committees, for the success of the affair, as he untiringly gave a great amount of his time in getting matters arranged for the dance and booths and also to the committees in general, not forgetting "Dit" Clapper who was chairman of sports.

James Cavanagh of Hastings won the old fiddlers' contest. Dorothy Rolston of Toronto won the tap dancing contest, and Arthur Wheeler of Roseneath the step-dancing prize. Gates prizes were won by Richard Walsh, Jr., of Hastings, and Garfield Innis of Norwood.

HASTINGS GAME CALLED IN 5TH

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 13.—The Hastings Juniors defeated Havelock Wreckers, 10 to 8, in a Junior Kawartha Softball League game last night (Thursday). The game was called in the last of the fifth due to darkness.

Hastings opened their scoring in the last of the third innings when five runs crossed the plate on four singles, Stickles' triple and three errors. They added three more in the fourth on three hits and an error, and the winning runs were scored in the last of the fifth on two hits, a walk and an error.

Havelock scored two in the first on two hits and a walk, and another in the third on two hits. They scored five more in the fourth on a single, Pollock's double, Hoffman's homer, two walks, and two errors, to wind up their scoring.

McKee, pitching for Hastings, allowed seven Havelock hits, while striking out four and walking three.

Allows Ten Hits

The Havelock hurler, Kennedy, gave up ten hits. He struck out two and walked one.

The highlight of the hitters was Bedford's long homer to left in the fourth inning, while a McKee to Petticrew to Brinklow double-play in the first featured the fielding.

George Earnshaw, Perfectly Satisfied To End His Baseball Days on Sandlots

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13 (AP).—Big George Earnshaw, who used to breeze them past the batters without much trouble, pitching for Connie Mack's American League pennant-winning Athletics seven years ago, is pitching for a Philadelphia sandlot team this year, but just the same he's "happy."

"I'm perfectly satisfied," the "big moose" said. "When I quit the Cardinals at the end of last season there were two things in the back of my mind. First, I wanted to be home with my family. Second, I wanted to be my own boss. Pitching semi-pro ball satisfies both ambitions."

Earnshaw, a former Warthmore College star before he gained prominence with the A's, has won 13 games and lost two on the sandlots to date.

"They seemed to think I was a strikeout artist," he went on. "Well, I guess I still am, fanning an average of 10 to 12 batters a game. That should prove I'm in shape, if my record is not sufficient."

As for the money angle, Earnshaw thinks "I make out better this way, counting my insurance earnings."

Sonny Morse Of Chatham Dominates Junior Golf Situation For Ontario

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 13—(CP). — Sonny Morse, young Chatham golfer, dominated Ontario Junior golfers to-day as a result of his second successive victory in the Canadian Intermediate championship.

Morse had to battle the elements yesterday along with a field of 64 aze-limit golfers over the London Hunt and Country Club course to retain his title and the C. Ross Somerville Trophy. His 36-hole total of 151 bettered by there shots the card turned in by John Rowswell, Toronto bank clerk.

Neither of the leaders approached par golf—140 for the 36 holes—as torrents of rain damaged greens after nearly a week of sloppy weather. A drenchig downpour during the afternoon chased all but competitors to cover.

Trailing the leaders were Harry Magill, Hamilton, with 156; Lawrence Bissell, London Thames Valley, 158; Shin Neal, Windsor, 159; Clare Chinnery, Toronto Glen Mawr, 160; and James Bostwich, Hamilton, and Stan Morse, Chatham, each with 161.

The tournament was inaugurated in 1932 by Sandy Somerville of London after he won the United States amateur title. It is open to players from recognized clubs between the ages of 16 and 21.

Somerville presented the trophy to Morse after the match.

REGINA DEFEATED BY ENGLISH TEAM

REGINA, Aug. 13 (CP)—Undefeated in Western Canada, the touring Marylebone Cricket Club moved on to Calgary today, following their victory here yesterday over a Regina eleven, 202 runs to 50. The Englishmen play in Calgary today and tomorrow.

Playing on a sun-baked pitch, completely bare of grass in the outfield, the visitors left no doubt of their superiority yesterday. K. A. Bellar, Navy and Sussex star, compiled a hard-hit total of 45 runs. Other high scorers among the English eleven were J. C. Masterman, unbeaten with 36, and N. G. Wykes, 31.

R. M. McIntosh was the only Canadian player to reach double figures. He scored 19 before being bowled by A. P. Singleton, the Oxford University captain.

Most of the bowling honors went to the M.C.C. spin bowler, J. W. Brocklebank, who took five wickets for 22 runs. Singleton bagged four for 10, while consistent effort on the part of Dick Foster, local hurler, gave the Reginan an analysis of five for 88. Capt. D. H. O. Woodhams scattered the balls four times for 65 runs.

When Walking you are Courteous—
Try Courtesy
When Driving

AS WE walk about on street, highway and bypath we are all most courteous to each other as we pass, overtake, stop, cross and otherwise mingle with our fellow-pedestrians. None of us would think of being otherwise—we are just naturally courteous at heart.

But, too often, this native courtesy leaves us when we get behind the wheel of a motor vehicle.

Do not let your attitude of courtesy leave you when you drive but, rather, "Try Courtesy" every inch of the way.

When you meet a fellow-motorist pull well over to your right. When you overtake him sound your horn—a short note will do! Keep to the right on curves, "blind spots" and, of course, on hills. Drive at the speed of the traffic you are in—don't "hold up the parade." Never put the "other fellow" on "the spot". He may get excited and you may both be hurt.

Dip or dim your lights when you meet at night—neither of you can see where to steer when you are "blinded".

Do not "crowd" pedestrians, we all walk at times and we all dislike being startled.

Hand-signal your intention to slow down, stop or turn and otherwise act to your fellow-man awheel in the same considerate manner as when he is afoot—"Try Courtesy" every inch of the way.

Westclox Wins Playoff Over Motorists, 8-3

Get Second Win in Three Starts of Four Out of Seven Series.

Westclox copped an 8-3 win over Motorists last night at Central before a good crowd of fans in the third game of the four-in-seven series to declare an O.A.S.A. playdown team. It was the second series win for the Westclox crew. Lasting a few minutes over an hour, it was a snappy display of softball with good pitching, some timely hitting and neat fielding on both sides. The Baptie bunch hit better in the clutches to gain the nod.

Tom Parsons pitched six-hit ball for the Clockmen while fanning one and issuing three walks. His support was good. Chuck Butcher started for the Barret boys and went along fine till the fourth when he hit a wild streak. He lasted till the seventh but again had trouble with his control and gave way to Strickland, who finished with two hits and a walk. Chuck had allowed seven hits and seven free tickets to first. Motorists backed their hurlers well.

Leads Hitters

W. Calladine had a double and single for the winners and P. Calladine hit two singles. Parsons' triple in the fourth sent in three runs. None of the Motorists got more than one safety, but Crary hit a homer, Board got a triple and Butcher clouted a double. A fast double-play, W. Calladine to Stanger to Ellis, was a defensive feature. Next game in this series is Saturday night at Central at seven o'clock. The teams:

Fractures Ankle

JIMMY "RIP" COLLINS

Chicago Cubs, leaders of the National league, were dealt a severe blow when they lost the services of their star first baseman, "Rip" Collins. He will be out of the game for at least a month due to a fractured left ankle which he sustained in the first innings of a game with Pittsburgh Pirates. Loss of Collins, a powerful hitter and clever fielder, will take a lot of punch out of the Cubs attack as they head into the home stretch.

Rovers Will Hustle Auburns All the Way

The final home scheduled lacrosse match of the C.O.L.A. season here is booked for to-night (Friday) at the Georgs Street Arena between the Flying Rovers of Belleville and the Auburns of Peterborough. They clash at nine o'clock under the lights. Auburns have suffered but one loss in 13 starts this summer, while the Quinte-Trenton combine is down in third place with seven wins in 13 starts. The locals expect to cop another victory this evening, but it may turn out to be a good battle. If Belleville brings a full team—as they should since they are trying to improve their standing before the playoffs—the Rovers will have Auburns all the way.

Coach Chute will probably still be out of action for the Auburns, with an injured shoulder, and Magee is not expected to be back in town for the game. But the rest of the local should be on deck for this windup number in the schedule. Plenty of rousing action is promised followers of the gutted-stick sport as both squads square around for the group playoffs, which will be starting in about a week. A good-sized crowd of rooters is expected out for this tussle.

SENIOR RUGBY MINUS TIGERS

HAMILTON, Aug. 13.—The familiar yellow and black of Hamilton Tigers will be missing from the senior O.R.F.U. this season and in their stead will appear the red and black of the Panthers, a new organization, it was announced yesterday by the Tiger Football Club.

The Tiger Cubs which, with the Bengals' Big Four team, performed under the patronage of Hamilton Amateur Athletic Association, have been dropped and the Panthers, to be governed by a separate committee headed by Gordon Mellon, will replace them in the O.R.F.U.

There are several details yet to be attended to, officials said, but it is certain the new club will not only stand upon its own feet, but will also make an exceptionally strong bid to provide powerful opposition to Balmy Beach and the Barnia Imperials.

While still a unit of the H.A.A.A., the Panthers will be governed by their own committee and manager and the team will be exempt from drafts, something different from the methods under which the Cubs operated.

Previously any outstanding players might be drafted by the Big Four team, at any time during the season, but free rein is being given the new entry, and any strength they might develop from a playing standpoint will remain with them until the conclusion of the season, at least.

Meanwhile, appointment of a coach is being left in the hands of Gordon Mellon, who has already named Gordon Price and Dr. K. C. Cooke to his committee. Two others will be appointed at once.

The colors of the new team will be red and black, it is understood, and the Panthers will open the season against Balmy Beach in Toronto October 16.

Outsider Shirley Hanover Takes Hambletonian Stake

Sheppard's Farm Filly Nearly Breaks Record in First Mile.

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 13.—(AP)—Records show that Henry Thomas won the Hambletonian with Shirley Hanover, but the popular 47-year-old trainer of the Hanover, Pa., Shoe Farms says it was five-year-old Patricia Sheppard who was largely responsible for the record-smashing triumph.

While Thomas was driving Shirley to a straight-heat victory in the fastest time ever registered by a winner in trotting's blue ribbon event, he carried in his hip pocket a four-leaf clover and letter sent him by the little daughter of Lawrence B. Sheppard, part owner of the Pennsylvania breeding farms.

"Don't let anybody tell you it was I who won," declared Thomas. "Just look at that good luck charm I carried. I couldn't miss with that in my pocket."

Lawrence Sheppard, manager of the farm in which his father, H. D. Sheppard, and C. N. Myers also hold an interest, gave much of the credit to Thomas, however.

"He brought Shirley up to the race in the best of condition and then did a fine job of driving her," said Sheppard.

In trotting the first mile in 2:01¼ and the second in 2:01¾ Shirley not only turned in the fastest time ever registered by a winner in 12-year history of the rich stake but carried on in the way of her famous mother — Hanover's Bertha. The latter won the 1930 Hambletonian and later in the same year set her mark of 1:59½.

Worth $20,000.

The victory, achieved before a crowd of 35,000 after the race had been postponed from Wednesday, with worth $19,916.92 with an additional $600 going to the three partners as nominator of the winner.

Shirley Hanover was given little chance in the auction pools, where Paul Bowser's Desota of Boston was favored. She commanded no better than 10 to 1 respect to win the first heat.

Once past the turn in each heat, Thomas said he was confident of victory. She trailed E. Roland Harriman's Farr of Goshen to the three-quarter pole in the first mile and then went on to win by a half-length from the Harriman filly. Third place went to W. N. Reynold's Schnappa of Winston-Salem, N.C.

Earl's Spencerian, owned by Earl F. Shropshire of St. Petersburg, Fla., contested the issue to the three-quarter mark in the final mile but faded back as Shirley went on to win by four lengths. Desota came up to finish second and share second and third money with Farr, which was fourth in the last dash.

Pirates Get 8th Decision in 14 Starts Against Chicago By 16-6 Victory.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13 (C.P.). — It's lucky for the National League that Pittsburgh Pirates and Boston Bees know something about vaudeville.

From that extinct brand of entertainment, the Bucs and Bees borrowed the "stooge" idea, and, giving it a little different twist, have put the Indian sign on Chicago's National League leading Cubs and the second-place New York Giants, respectively.

For picking on these two outfits as their favorite stooges, the Bucs and Bees ought to be voted a World Series cut by whatever team wins the pennant—provided, of course, it's neither the Cubs nor Giants.

A stooge, ofr the benefit of those who can't remeber as far back as vaudeville, was the foil or butt for a comedian's jokes. Neither the Pirates nor Bees have any great reputations as comedians. But they're certainly having a great joke at the expense of the Cubs and the Giants so far this year.

The Pirates fall apart at the merest mention of the Giants, and barely manage to hold their own against such rank outsiders as the Bees, Dodgers and Phillies. But whenever they tangle with the Cubs, they usually wind up in the driver's seat. Yesterday, they came through with their eighth decision in 14 starts against the Cubs this year by knocking the ears off four flingers for a 16-6 victory.

The Bees, on the other hand, collapse at the sight of almost every other outfit in the league, until they meet the Giants. Then they're the boss. They followed this formula yesterday with a 6-4 victory by virtue of Tony Cuccinello's big bat, and stretched their season margin over the Giants to seven wins in 12 starts.

Cubs Not So Secure.

As a resut, while the Yankees are coasting along on an 11½-game lead in the American League, the Cubs' edge isn't nearly so secure at 6½ games in the rival circuit, and the Giants are limping in second place by only 2½ games over the come-backing Cardinals.

There's no such one-club jinx where the Yanks are concernsel in their American League runaway. They made it three out of four in their current series with the Red Sox yesterday by splitting a twin bill, winning the nightcap 5-3 as Joe Dimaggio walloped his 34th homer, after dropping the opener 16-10 as seven pitchers took a terrific beating. The series victory upheld the Yanks' reputation of having lost only one series against a second-place club in the last two seasons.

The Phillies came within half a game of climbing out of the National League cellar with a twin win over the Dodgers, 3-2 and 8-2, behind some effective pitching by Hugh Mulcahy and Claude Passeau. The Cardinals and Reds were idle.

Tigers Split With Sox.

Detroit Tigers managed only a split with the White Sox, winning the opener 11-8 on Charley Gehringer's big hit, and dropping the nightcap 6-4 in 10 innigs as Jimmy Dykes' pinch-hit the winning runs across. The Senators squeesed out a 5-4 decision over the Athletics, Willis Hudlin blanked the Browns 7-0 for a Cleveland victory.

TORONTO SPLITS WITH JR. GIANTS ROYALS HANG ON

The British Bulldog could take lessons in tenacity from Montreal Royals. They've been second to Newark Bears in the International Baseball League most of the season and they're still hanging on.

Undismayed by the Bears' imposing 25-game lead, they blew down the league leaders in both games of a double-header yesterday to "cut" the lead by two games. The scores were 8-2 and 2-1.

Harry Smythe limited the Bruins to five hits in the opener for his 13th victory of the season, while his mates pounded young Atley Donald for 15 safeties. The Royals scored five times in the sixth inning to clinch the game.

Marvin Duke followed Smythe's pace in the nightcap, yielding only three hits, one of which was Bob Seeds' 16th home run of the season. Jack Fallon, Duke's opponent on the hill, was hit seven times including a homer by Sammy Bell, the Royals' second sacker.

Leafs Split Pair

More good pitching bobbed up at Jersey City where the Giants closed their home stand by dividing a double bill with Toronto Maple Leafs, winning the opener 1-0 behind Rollie Stiles, and dropping the second 4-3.

Stiles limited the Leafs to four hits and batted in the winning run with a single in the third inning. Woody Davis and Johnny Wilson checked the Giants in the nightcap while the Leafs ganged Johnny Meket for eight safeties.

Buffalo Bisons benefited by Truett Sewell's seven-hit pitching and halted Baltimore Orioles 9-2. The Birds scored both their runs on Woody Abernathy's two-run homer in the the seventh, which snapped Sewell's record of 24 scoreless innings.

Kingston Ponies play the Petes here on Saturday at three o'clock in Riverside Park. It will be the last scheduled home game of the locals this season, and the final appearance here of the Ponies — unless they come to Peterborough during the playoffs. A huge crowd of fans is expected to see this struggle as the Petes battle for a win to keep in the race for a third-place playoff berth. They haven't beaten Kingston yet this summer.

Russ Kitchen or Joe Jakafoy will draw the local hurling assignment while Tony Paczkowski is expected to do the flinging for the visitors. It should be a typical slam-bang Kingston-Petes scrap with plenty of bitter feeling shown between these old rivals. A win for the Petes will improve their chances considerably, while a loss will give Napanee a better chance of catching them.

BOWMANVILLE SET LAKESHORE FINALS

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 13.—Bowmanville Royals entered the final series of the Lakeshort Intermediate League here last night when they handed Cobourg Ponies an 8-2 drubbing in the third game of their playoff series.

George Piper hurled seven-hit ball for the homsters and was seldom in trouble as his team-mates gave him sound support. Included in Bowmanville's thirteen hits was a home run by Bagnell with one aboard, a triple by Williams, who also had two singles off Archie Campbell, and a double by Piper.

A SPINNING CHALLENGE.

PRINCETON, W.Va., Aug. 13. — (AP).—An "invader" from New York challenged 15 weavers of homespun from the mountains of Virginia and West Virginia today in a contest to determine "the best surviving spinning wheel operator in the United States."

Well-worn but treasured spinning wheels, last used before the U.S. Civil War, were ranged on the Mercer County Court-house steps, where the "bee" was scheduled as part of the centennial celebration.

Minnie H. Reeves was the New Yorker.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Ambitious to become a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job. They see more and more of one another and begin to fall in love. During the absence of Francine Long, Tony's head buyer who dislikes Mary, the latter successfully designs some gowns for an important client, Liane Weston, a leading actress.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

Mary Barrett thought that June 27 was the longest day she had ever lived. She didn't know that it was to be one of the most important days in her life.

On her calendar pad there was a small note:

Five p.m.

A 3 o'clock. Sadie, one of the sewing room slaveys, poked her head into Mary's studio.

"Miss Barrett, two of the things are ready," she said.

Had it been an unveiling, Mary could not have been more thrilled than she was when she looked at the breath-taking negligee. The turquoise beauty of it with flashes of silver circling down like the wings of a sea bird.

She turned from that to the sable and saffron gown. The touch of the soft chiffon, the incredibly rich fur made her fingertips tingle.

"Where's the black one?" she asked. Her gown.

"Mrs. Long is finishing it," she was told.

"Let me know when it is ready." She went back to her studio office and closed the door back of her. She wanted to savor the moment that was coming—the moment that was hers and yet not hers.

The credit was to be Francine Long's. For all that, since that day nearly two weeks ago when Liane Weston had approved the designs, Mary had literally slaved over them. It was Mary who was at the shop early and late, working over muslins, running to the home of the convalescent Francine for her approval and assistance.

If Francine was jealous of the younger girl, or if she thought that Mary had done a notable thing, she gave no sign of either. Francine was a machine operating for the shop and for that Mary was glad.

Francine did not come back to the shop until two days before the costumes were to be completed and in the meantime, Mary had worked out all the muslin patterns and made duplicates for herself to keep and study her own work later.

Then Tony, embarrassed, kindly, and a little worried, had said, "Mary, do you mind keeping very much in the background for this one time? You know Liane is temperamental and perhaps it would be better all around if she thought that...well, a more recognized designer had done them."

"That's all right." Mary had answered generously. "All I care about is getting the job done right."

And now it was done.

Promptly at 5 o'clock, Liane stepped out of her foreign car. Mary saw her and fled to the workroom where she could see without being seen.

Her eyes danced as she peered through the velvet curtains separating the workroom from the salon. Liane, in the saffron gown, paraded there. Liane's clear voice easily penetrated the curtains.

"It's enchanting, Tony!" she pronounced while her famous hands caressed the lines that dissolved her hips. "I don't want the slightest change in it. Now for the negligee."

While Liane walked slowly before them in the turquoise and silver lovelines, Mary's eyes were on Tony. Her own heart leaped painfully with the happiness and triumph that filled it when she saw his face.

"How about the black dress?"

Francine Long walked with the actress out of Mary's hearing and into a dressing room.

She waved aside the maid who attempted to help the actress into the black gown. "Let me help you," she offered and lifted the gown over the ashen head.

Pulling it on, Francine said, "Miss Weston, I'm terribly happy that you are so pleased. I'm so happy that I can forget my own disappointment. You know I didn't design them; they were turned over to a little artist in the shop."

"Didn't you?" Liane asked, struggling into the clinging frock. It mattered little to her who had done them so long as they were so perfect.

"I'm mad about this one," she added from within the folds of crepe.

Francine fastened the last of the hooks and stood off. Liane Weston didn't look into the mirror at first. She was staring instead at the expression of shocked surprise on Francine's face. She didn't see the gleam in Francine's narrowed eyes. Then she turned and looked in the mirror. Saw the angular lines the gown gave her figure, the cruel, stark brutality of it. Then she opened her mouth and shrieked!

Mary heard the tumult that followed. Liane's voice, angry, in a tirade; Tony's placating. The dreadful thought struck her: Something went wrong with the black gown!

She waited for the nightmare to come upon her. It did.

Because it sickened her deep in her heart, she tried not to hear what was said in that back room a few minutes later. There was Tony, furious, out of control with himself, shouting that he had been a fool to trust an untried girl. There was more...and more. There was Francine, calm, expressionless save for that steely, smiling light in her eyes. There were fitters, cutters, seamstresses explaining that they'd followed the patterns. Mary had made the patterns.

She sat there long after the others had left for the night, perplexed, forlorn, with her hopes crumbled about her and the discarded black gown thrown contemptuously on a cutting table.

"You still here?" It was her friend, the model, Louise. "Cheer up, kid. Don't mind the boss. You can't blame him for putting on a good show in front of Weston. She's been his best girl for years. It'll all blow over by tomorrow. They can whip up another little number. So don't worry about it."

Don't worry about it. Don't worry about anything. Everything is just lovely. You've only lost everything! You poor fool. You dared to think you were an artist, that Tony Castle was falling in love with you. She's been his best girl for years. He doesn't care about you or your talent. Ask him what he thinks of your talent. A nice fluke, wasn't it? A FLUKE? How could it have been? After the patterns were made, the muslins had been cut and Francine herself...

FRANCINE!

Mary's unhappy reverie came to an abrupt end.

She snatched the discarded gown from the table and half stumbled to her studio where the box containing her duplicate patterns was stored. She took the patterns out and pinned them to the gown. The evidence of what Francine had done was before her eyes. She had deliberately distorted them! Deliberately ruined the gown, not knowing that Mary had duplicate patterns.

For one wild moment, Mary felt triumphant. She could take them to ony, prove to him...

Then she remembered: Tony wanted none of her. He belonged to Liane Weston.

Oh, she could lock him out of her heart and out of her thoughts but someday...someday she would prove to him that she was an artist. She'd made him acknowledge that.

Her leaden eyes fell on a book of sketches. The word PARIS caught her eye. She stared at it for a moment and picked up a pencil. She had $200 in the savings bank and $1,500 in bonds that her grandmother had left her. She had a passport. The morning paper lay at her hand. Slowly she picked it up, turned the sheets to the shipping page. Her finger traced a column.

Gradually life came back to her numbed senses. Losing Tony had given her back an impossible dream.

"I sure am, Custer. Are you?"

"Of course. I hope I win the bunch of carrots."

"I hope I win the bag of nuts," chattered Johnnie Bushytail, one of the squirrel boys.

"And I hope I win that lovely bone," barked Jackie Bow Wow.

"Maybe our cousin Fluffy will win it," barked Peetie.

"Oh, Fluffy is too young to be an Animal Scout," said Jackie. "He doesn't know how to make a fire by rubbing two sticks together or twirling a pointed stick in a hole of another with a bow string so the punk begins to blaze."

"Well, Fluffy was clever enough to pretend to be a fuzzy cushion and fool the Wolf," said Baby Bunty who was eating a lollypop. "And maybe he'll win a prize at Unkie Wig's Jamboree."

"What's this about a Jamboree?" barked Fluffy the visiting little poodle dog, cousin of Jackie and Peetie.

"Unkie Wig is going to have a Jamboree here at his camp as the Boy Scouts had a little while ago at Washington, wherever that is," said Bunty, the orphan rabbit.

"Washington was another sort of camp," explained Buster, a rabbit boy. "In it there were all sorts of contests like tying fancy knots in ropes, making fire with sticks, making camp beds, finding yourself when you get lost in the woods and all like that."

"How can you find yourself if you get lost?" asked the orphan rabbit.

"The best way," said Buster who had been lost more than once, "is to stay lost, right where you are and somebody will find you. But here comes Daddy. He'll tell us about the Jamboree."

Uncle Wiggily, his pink nose twinkling like a carrot on a Christmas tree, hopped to where the animal children were talking near his camping tent.

"Yes, my dears," he said. "I arranged this Jamboree, as nearly like a Boy Scout one as I could for you animal children. As all Boy Scouts are taught to be kind to animals and to help them, I think they will not mind if we have a Jamboree, even if it seems silly to them. So this is what we are going to do."

Uncle Wiggily told how at the Animal Scout Jamboree each one must do something to show what he knew about woodland lore—how to make fire without matches—how to take shelter in the woods if it began to rain and all sorts of useful things like that.

"And there are to be prizes, too," said Uncle Wiggily. "The Boy Scouts get prizes of badges and ribbons and new names, such as 'Eagles.' We can't do that. So, since you animal children are so often hungry, I thought I would offer prizes of things that little rabbits, squirrels, puppy dogs and others like to eat. Now are you all ready for my Jamboree?"

"Hurray!" cried Baby Bunty. "I'm going to win a prize!"

"What prize can you win—you're so little?" asked Buster.

"I can win a prize for saying 'Unkie Wig' and no one can say it as well as I can!" laughed Bunty as she turned a somersault into a pepper-sault and sneezed three times.

"Here is where we shall have our Jamboree!" he called. "The first test will be for tying knots in ropes." The animal boys made ready for this. And while they were doing it something happened.

You shall hear about it in the next story which will be about Uncle Wiggily's hard knot. And I hope the stripes on the awnings don't start running the other way when they're racing with the auto.

Roseneath Branch Members Gather At Rice Lake Picnic

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, Aug. 13. — The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon in the form of a picnic at Minnetonka Park, Rice Lake. A short business session was held, with Mrs. B. Thackeray, president, presiding. On motion Mrs. C. Grigg and Mrs. C. Sandercock were appointed to attend the fruit and vegetable course to be held in Cobourg in the autumn. It was also decided on motion to sponsor a dance in the Orange Hall on Labor Day, September 6, and arrangements were started for this event. Following a discussion regarding sending a delegate to the area convention at Belleville on September 29 and 30, it was decided to hire a conveyance suitable for carrying all members desirous of attending.

Correspondence consisted of letters of acceptance from Fenella and Baltimore branches to attend the local meeting in September. Mrs. Earl Thackeray, convenor of the sports committee had charge of the following program of sports: In a book contest Mrs. A. Halstead's group won first place. The prize given for the youngest child present was won by Gerald Adams. Mrs. Robert Mounsey won the prize given for the oldest lady present.

Mrs. S. Thackeray's group won the prize in a relay basket race. Miss Dorcas Atkinson won the prize in a pop drinking contest. Girls' sack race, Gene Brown. Boys' sack race Lloyd Sherwin. Candy scramble, 6 years and under, Aureen Brown. Clothes peg race, Mrs. Warren Atkinson. Pie eating contest, Mrs. L. Turner and Mrs. S. Thackeray. Parcel contest, Mrs. E. Braithwaite and Mrs. S. Thackeray.

Following the singing of the National Anthem, over sixty men, women and children sat down to a sumptuous supper.

Presentation Made.

Following the lesson period in the United Sunday School on Sunday morning Miss K. Barrie was presented with a morocco-bound Bible, with her name in gold lettering on the cover. Superintendent Andrew Brown made the presentation on behalf of the school and Mrs. A. Nill read an address conveying the regret of the school at her departure and wishing her success in her future work. Miss Barrie made a gracious reply. Miss Barrie has held the position of principal of the Roseneath School for nine years, and at the beginning of the fall term will assume the duties of teacher at Leamington.

On Monday evening she was again honored at a weiner roast held in the Agricultural Grounds, sponsored by the Young People's Society of which she was president for the past two years. During the evening festivities she was presented with a morocco-bound hymnary, with her name engraved in gold lettering on the cover. Miss Hildred Taylor made the presentation, and conveyed the feeling of the society's regret regarding Miss Barrie's departure. Miss Barrie, in replying, spoke of the joy it had given her to serve in the work. A short program was presided over by Mrs. Ednel Blodgett, vice-president, and included community singing, songs by Oral Genge with guitar accompaniment played by Bill Stanworth, song by Audrey Scott, vocal duet by Miss Jessie Smith and Bill Stanworth, Miss Smith playing guitar accompaniment. Games and contests were enjoyed and later all gathered around the bonfire and enjoyed the weiners and other refreshments. There were upwards of sixty present.

Pretty Mother

Among the leaders in the recent contest for the title of "America's most beautiful mother" was Mrs. Alice Hutchinson (ABOVE), of Mattapan, Mass., mother of a three-months-old son. Impressed by her pulchritude, a major film studio is giving Mrs. Hutchinson a screen test.

MARRY-FOR-$1,000 GIRL VANISHES

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 13.—(CP)—With still no word of Aileen Belinski, the "love-for-sale" girl who vanished from Stratford 10 days ago, her mother, Mrs. A. Belinski of Windsor, to-day offered a reward for information as to the whereabouts of the missing girl. Mrs. Belinski did not state the amount of the reward she intended to give, explaining that would depend on the circumstances.

Using the name "Aileen Belle," Miss Belinski last May offered to wed any man, aged 30 to 45, who would pay her $1,000 in cash the day wedding bells pealed. The 20-year old girl explained at the time she wanted the money to pay off a mortgage and a judgment which stood against a house her mother owns in Stratford.

Though she received many offers from far and near, Aileen did not go through with the marriage.

At the time of her disappearance she was returning from a motor trip she and her mother had taken to Niagara Falls. In Stratford they stopped off at the home of Aileen's sister, Mrs. A. Ellis.

Aileen was invited to go for an automobile ride Aug. 2 but declined, saying she prefered to take Mrs. Ellis' two children to a movie. She and the two children started out for the show but before they reached the theatre, Aileen told them to go in alone because she wanted to see a different movie. She walked away and this was the last time any of her relatives saw her.

At the time of her disappearance she had with her about $400 belonging to her mother, which was to be applied in payment of certain debts.

FAMOUS KENNELS NEARLY DEFUNCT

WINNIPEG, Aug. 12—(CP). — Scattered over the North American continent are 150 specimens of the remarkable strain of Great Dane dogs bred by the Trappist Fathers of the St. Norbert Monastery, near Winnipeg. The entire stock, save one pair, were sold this spring.

For the death of the expert, Brother Albert, who for many years watched over their welfare from puppyhood leaves no one to carry on the work.

Brother Albert has lain for two years beneath a plain white cross in the monastery cemetery and his beloved dogs have found new gods.

Only Bob von Klausenburg and his consort Princess von der Klausenburg remain, with their litter of four puppies. The Trappist brothers have quit the commercial breeding of dogs and Winnipeggers will find a puppy for sale only occasionally.

The two dogs are being kept as watchdogs for the monastery grounds. But since the death of his master Bob has become morose and will not, as formerly, submit to visitors attempts at friendship. Once every dog in the kennel could be petted by strangers, but now only the younger Princess retains her frolicsome spirit.

BAN CURLY HAIR

CHENGTU, China—(CP).—Curly hair has been outlawed here, officials objecting to permanent waves as ultra-modern and a waste of money. Permanent wave machines were confiscated.

RUSSIAN FLIERS MISSING HOURS ARCTIC WASTES

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 14. — (AP)— Six Russian airmen, who sought to blaze a new trans-Polar route from Moscow to North America were missin gto-day in the Arctic bleakness.

Hampered by head winds and veiled in silence, the big four-motored transport plane of Pilot Sigismund Levaneffsky literally had vanished.

At 4 a.m. E.D.T. the plane was 10 hours overdue here on a 4,000 mile flight from Moscow, and an increasing number of observers expressed doubt it still was in the air.

Levaneffsky was flying to Oakland, Calif., via Fairbanks, and Edmonton, Alta., along what the airmen hoped might be the future route of regular passenger planes.

In pioneering the course, which called for a first refuelling stop here, the huge plane carried a small freight cargo in addition to its six occupants, twice the number of two previous successful trans-Polar flights.

Official information was lacking on the plane's fuel supply and consumption, but sources here reported the gasoline probably would be exhausted at 3 a.m. (E.D.T.) to-day, a few minutes short of 40 hours after the take-of.

Alaskan Aces Ready.

There was no indication Russian officials had asked a search be started for the fliers, but Alaskan aviators, veterans of many a mercy flight, stood ready.

Whether the plane was down on water, land or the ice cap at the top of the world were matters of pure conjecture, as was the fate of the giant monoplane if it had been forced down by storm or lack of fuel.

While U. S. Army signal corps listeners waited anxiously for radio messages, an authoritative source close to Russian flight headquarters at Seattle expressed belief the airmen may have been forced down in an Arctic storm.

Declining to be quoted, this source held the opinion the fliers never reached Alaska but came down somewhere in the vast, desolate Arctic.

"It is an unpleasant situation."

The last word received here from the fliers came at 11 a.m. (E.D.T.) yesterday when the Point Schmidt, North Siberia, wireless station heard

NORTH'S AVIATORS RANK WITH BEST

ABOARD VICE-REGAL TRAIN, en route to Burns Lake, B.C., Aug. 13—(CP).—The Governor-Generals secretary to-day scanned records of northland flying along the Great Mackenzie waterway, and found them among the worlds finest.

A. S. Redfern, squadron commander in the Royal Flying Corps during the Great War noted that in more than eight years' operation in the northwest out of Edmonton, not one of the more than 15,000 passengers carried received even a slight injury.

Mr. Redfern was flown 2,000 miles from the Arctic Red River to Edmonton last week in weather that made much waiting necessary. He flew with Archie McMullen of Mackenzie Air Service and described him as the finest pilot he had ever met.

"I have taught hundreds of men to fly," he said, "but I have never seen anyone like McMullen. He positively refused to leave the water when he considered the weather unsafe.

"He flew the plane beautifully and made a remarkable landing when smoke and low clouds blotted out lateral visibility. I should think he is one of the best pilots in the world."

4 WELL DRILLERS ARE ELECTROCUTED

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Aug. 14. — (CP).—Four workmen were electrocuted today at suburban Martinon, 10 miles from Saint John, when well-drilling equipment they were carrying came in contact with high voltage lines of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission.

Hiram Perry of nearby Acamac, Guy McCullum of Saint John and Clyde Kennedy of Beaver Harbor, N.B., died instantly as contact with the high voltage sent the current through their bodies.

George Perry, burned terribly when he attempted to rescue his father, died shortly afterwards while doctors, rushed from Saint John on a telephone call from a witness to the accident, fought on the spot to save his life.

Noted French Aces Coming To Canada

Paris, Aug. 14 (CP-Havas).

FOUR French aviation leaders sailed Friday for Canada where they will take part in air shows at Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Quebec and Sherbrooke, Que., from Aug. 22 to Sept. 18.

This will be the first time French fliers have participated officially in Canadian aviation exhibitions.

Marcel Doret, long distance flier, accompanied by Mme. Doret; Rene Drouillet, well-known French pilot; the airplane builder De Woitine and Director Ganneau of Air Propaganda, left on the liner Paris via New York. They will be joined at Montreal by Lieutenant Michel Detroyat.

POWER SHORTAGE BEHIND ELECTION IS ROWE'S CHARGE

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—With two statements, Hon. Earl Rowe and the Conservative Party let fly with both barrels of its campaign gun yesterday in reply to the fire from Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn at his St. Thomas rally.

Combined, these statements outline an eight-point policy of the Conservative Party on the labor issue and give a general criticism of Mr. Hepburn and his administration.

Specifically, Hon. Mr. Rowe declares that the real reason for an election is to conceal a Hydro power shortage, "which is growing more obvious every day." He will, he states, announce the Conservative election platform as soon as the date of the polling is announced.

While the statement on the labor situation was issued by the Conservative Campaign Committee, it is prefixed with "Hon. Earl Rowe states our party's stand on labor." The other statement, issued later in the day from Mr. Rowe's quarters at the Albany Club, reads:

"This election will be fought on the record of the Hepburn Government, and proposals, if any, as to future policy which Mr. Hepburn may have to offer.

"I wish, however, to warn Mr. Hepburn that he cannot escape responsibility for his deplorable mismanagement of the Liquor Control administration; his dangerous record on the school question; bedevilment of the Civil Service; disgraceful and ungrateful treatment of returned soldiers; ruthless betrayal of municipalities, and the humiliating record of un-British, undignified and unethical practice in government administration.

Sees Nothing Constructive

"It is my intention immediately an election date is definitely announced, not only to disclose the Hepburn administrative record before the bar of public opinion, but to present also to the electorate of this Province a sound and constructive Liberal-Conservative program relating to all the major responsibilities of government.

"I have read the three-point platform of Mr. Hepburn as announced at St. Thomas last night. Nothing of a constructive nature is even hinted.

"In one point, he sets himself up as the bulwark of law and order for the working man who he refuses to trust. In another, he declares his own policy of dishonesty

FIREMAN WAHOO.

BERKELEY, Calif, Aug. 14. — (AP)—

"Oh, gimme a truck, a big red truck,
"And gimme a fire-ax, too—
"And I'll go wahoo, wahoo—
"W-a-a-hoo!

To aid the poor, many of whom have to go into debt for four or five years to give their dead a satisfactory burial, Dublin, Irish Free State, proposes to establish a municipal cemetery.

UNEMPLOYED LEADER IS OUT ON $1,500 BAIL

Harvey Murphy, president of the Ontario Federation of Unemployment who was taken into custody on charges of spreading false news by local police Friday morning, was released on $1,500 bail late in the afternoon. The bail was supplied by Emmett P. Sheehy, local lawyer.

Arraigned before Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., this morning, Murphy was remanded for preliminary hearing to Tuesday, August 24. Bail was renewed by Fred Dainson.

Laid under a special section of the Criminal Code, the charge is one on which the accused has no election. It will go for hearing to the Supreme Court.

Alleged to have declared falsely to a public meeting on the Market Square Thursday evening that injuries to the face of Ivena Reid, 15-year-old Bonner-Worth worker, were caused by tear gas released by police Tuesday morning, Murphy was to be arraigned before the magistrate in Police Court today. He is to be represented by J. L. Cohen, strike legal adviser.

Mrs. Berkley Reid, mother of the girl, and neighbors scouted claims of police that she had suffered from a skin condition on the face for some time previous to the strike disorder Tuesday at which tear gas was released, in conversation with reporters last night. Prior to Tuesday, she had no marks on her face except a cigarette burn above one eye and a small spot near her nose, the mother claimed.

Not Under Treatment

Contradicting police reports that the girl had been under medical treatment for some time previous, the mother stated she did not see a doctor until Thursday this week. At that time she was taken to the Clinic and was treated by Dr. Agnes Moffat and Dr. J. H. Eastwood.

Queried, Dr. Moffat reported she saw the girl for the first time Thursday. She gave the opinion, however, that the sores on the girl's face were definitely not caused by tear gas.

Mrs. Reid reported an opinion by Dr. Herbert H. Young that the tear gas had caused burns on the face.

FIREMEN START BIG SAWDUST FIRE

The city fire department whose purpose it is to put out fires, actually started one today.

Shortly before noon Fire Chief George Gimblett cast flaming brands into there bits of oil and gasoline, specially prepared in the sawdust pile on the east bank of the Otonabee River just below the Quaker Oats Company's dam.

The fire, which will probably smoulder for some days, was started with the object of ridding the city of the sawdust pile which has for a long time menaced the safety of children. Arthur Laws was drowned in recent months when he slipped from the sawdust pile into the swirling current while fishing with a small companion.

It took four relief workers a couple of weeks to dig the three pits into which 380-gallons of waste oil and gasoline was dumped to create a hot fire. Deepest of the three holes was 34½ feet. Connecting passages and tunnels were also dug to provide a strong draft.

When the Chief cast flaming brands into each of the three pits in turn, spectators heard a muffled roar on each occasion and saw spectacular tongues of flame and smoke pour from the holes.

LAUGHS, BREAKS JAW.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 14. — (AP).—Don't laugh now, but William Crute, 27, laughed so hard at a joke that he had to go to Grace Hospital to have his jaw re-set. He broke it.

Grain Stooks Thoroughly Soaked By Heavy Rains

Heavy rains during the past week have thoroughly soaked farmlands in Central Ontario and hopes for a bountiful grain crop have been smashed in some sections. In the district surrounding Peterborough grain is lying in the fields thoroughly soaked and in many places it is feared the sheaves will never dry out unless opened. The above picture was taken on the farm of Herbert Lang on the Chemong road about three miles out of the city. Sheaves can be seen floating around in the water and this is August supposedly a dry month.

Lure of the Arctic Fills Stout Nascopie

Scientists, Mounties, Traders, Writers, College Men Take Romantic Voyage.

CHURCHILL, Man., Aug. 14 (C.P.).—Disregarding Friday the 13th superstitions, Captain T. F. Smellie last night pointed his ship, the R.M.S. Nascopie, out into Hudson Bay, amid salutes from other vessels in this Northland port, to begin an extended cruise of the Arctic archipelago.

The stout little ship nosed out into the North with all accommodations filled. Members of the Eastern Arctic Patrol under Major D. L. McKeand, Royal Canadian Mounted Police under Superintendent G. F. Fletcher, Hudson's Bay Company officials, and many distinguished scientists were included in the passenger list.

Favored by fair weather and an unusual absence of ice, the Nascopie was well ahead of schedule when she arrived at Churchill on her voyage from Montreal after stopping at Labrador, Hudson Strait, and Eastern Hudson Bay ports.

Dr. George F. Crile, noted surgeon from Cleveland, Ohio, heads one of the travelling scientific parties bound for the Northland to study the effect of sub-Arctic conditions on human and animal life. He hopes to make metabolism tests of Eskimos at Chesterfield Inlet, 300 miles north of Churchill, and will return here about September 1.

From As Far South As Georgia.

The increasing interest in the Arctic taken by people of the United States shows in the passenger list which lists college men and news writers from as far south as Georgia.

Many of those going into the north will remain there for a year and others for several years. Nurse G. Keary of Niagara Falls, Ont., will stay for four years at Pangnirtung, 1,000 miles north-east of Churchill.

The Nascopie's voyage this year will be about 700 miles longer

Farmer Bags Owl 5-Foot Wings

WELLAND, Ont., Aug. 14 (CP).—When Milton Mansfield's wagon pulled into its accustomed berth at the Welland market this morning, a large great-horned owl was fastened to the conveyance.

"I captured the bird last night in a rat trap," the Ridgeville farmer explained proudly. "It took 15 of my chickens, and kept the rest in fear."

A hired man killed the owl with a stick after it had been caught. It had a wing spread of five feet. In devouring the fowl, the marauder broke off the heads, then ate everything but the wings.

125,000 Acres Grain Are Hailed Out

Calgary, Aug. 14 (CP).

A HAIL STORM last night caused heavy damage to more than 125,000 acres of grainlands in the district between Three Hills and Craigmyle, 60 to 85 miles northeast of here. Estimates indicated a 50-mile strip, four miles wide, had received 100 per cent damage.

The hail stones some of them as big as golf balls, broke many windows.

HUNTSVILLE MEN STRIKE. GET OFFER 3 OF 10 CENT PLEA

HUNTSVILLE, Ont., Aug. 14. — (CP).— Industrial workers in this Muskoka district town were out on strike to-day for the first time in history. Whistle of the Anglo-Canadian Leather Company blew in vain yesterday afternoon as 300 strikers marched four abreast away from the plant to the municipal buildings where they set forth their demands.

Primary demands of the strikers was a basic increase of 10 cents an hour in pay and a decrease in working hours from 56 to 44 hours a week. C. W. Conway, general manager of the company, said the men were offered an increase of three cents an hour for those receiving less than 25 cents an hour and a raise of 2½ cents for the others.

The company issued a statement saying wage increases were made earlier in the year on realization cost of living was rising. The statement said all employees would be obliged to sign a slip on receiving their pay Monday, signifying they were acquainted with the companys offer and were willing to accept.

Failure to sign the slip will mean dismissal, the workers were warned.

SWAYING ON BEND SUSPECTED CAUSE SUDBURY WRECK

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 14.—(CP).—Cause of the July 31 derailment on the Canadian National Railways line near Foleyet in which seven transients were killed remained undetermined to-day. The seven died when the middle section of a freight left the rails, cascading them with heavy timbers.

A coroners jury which last night probed the tragedy, could only say it was from "cause or causes unknown," but added that it was "beyond the control of any particular person. The verdict also stated the transients were riding the lumber cars "without authority."

Trainmen advanced two possible causes. Conductor Alex Stewart of Capreol said he believed the loaded timber cars swayed in rounding a bend just before the accident occurred, causing the derailment. John Guigon, Capreol brakeman, also suggested this reason, but said also a broken rail may have been to blame.

5,000 Chased Off.

Highlight of the inquiry was testimony of four transients who survived the crack-up. Incidentally, Conductor Stewart declared that rail-riding had become an "awful problem." He had heard that about 5,000 transients had been removed from trains in Northern Ontario since spring. It would take an "enormous" force to poli ce the trains, he said.

The wreck cured Patrick O'Brien of Vancouver from riding freight trains, he told the jury. He believed the derailment was caused by swaying of the timer as the cars appeared to be safely loaded. He had been warned off the train by railwaymen at several points along the line, OBrien admitted.

Like O'Brien, Stanley Fisher, 19, Swift Current, Sask., told of dozing when he was suderly shot into the air from the lumber car, timbers flying in all directions around him. Both he and O'Brien were hurt.

Wilfred Rioux, St. Rita, Que., could not estimate how many transients were on the train, and Joseph Pichette, heading from Winnipeg for his Montreal home on the freight, could only recall being spilled from the cars.

Find Wrecked Plane In Northern Lake

Geraldton, Ont., Aug. 14 (CP).

A MYSTERIOUS two-seater airplane was noticed under water in the Devilfish Lake, 312 miles northeast of Fort Arthur, according to two prospectors who were paddling on the lake Tuesday. Pilot Tweed of the Ontario Forestry Patrol was said to have verifed the report and that his investigation showed no marks on the body of the plane. The engine had been removed and the instrument panel stripped.

SMALLER QUEBEC TEXTILES SCHEME TO RE-OPEN MILLS

MONTREAL, Aug. 14.—(CP)— With both sides determined, Quebec's province-wide textile strike today entered its 13th day.

There was no change in Dominion Textile's Company's announced plan to attempt re-opening of its Drummondville plant "probably Tuesday," and officials of the National Catholic Fecderation of Textile Workers, which called the walkout in nine company plants August 2, prepared to study a suggestion advanced by the federal government for solution of the dispute. Details of the plan were not disclosed by union officers, who said a meeting would take place here tonight.

On the heels of the announcement moves would be made to resume operations at Drummonville, one of the trouble-centres o fthe textile walkout, Joseph Simard, head of most of the six Sorel steel plants closed by 1,300 strikers, said plans would be drawn up today for a try to re-open some of the mills in the small industrial town 50 miles away.

Textile and steel officials were hopeful operations could be resumed, but union officials failed to reveal their reaction. Both steel and textile workers have voted not to return to their jobs unless the companies agree to negotiate for a collective labor contract.

Main development in yesterday's quiet activities in strike-torn Quebec was failure of Union Ouvriere Textile to call a walkout at the Paton Manufacturing Company in Sherbrooke.

Pickets Too Few.

A small picket line could do nothing against more numerous loyal employees and a squad of policemen and most of the company's 600 workers were able to get into the mill.

The strike move was made on Thursday when the Union Ouvriere withdrew 45 weavers from the plant in protest against "favoritism" to National Catholic Syndicates. Difficulties were smoothed, however, with an "amicable settlement."

No trouble was reported at any of

FIND TRACES OF POISON.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 14 (AP). — City Chemist O. P. Behrer reported to Prosecutor Dudley M. Outcalt to-day the discovery of "positive traces of metallic poison" in the body of George Gsellman, 67, latest of several acquaintances of Mrs. Anna Hahn 31, whose sudden deaths are under police scrutiny.

Outcalt termed the report a "major development" in the baffling case.

Believe Fliers Confused—All Available British, U.S. Volunteers Called Out.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 14 (CP).—Six foreigners and 500 Chinese were killed today when Chinese bombing planes, apparently confused in escaping Japanese pursuit craft, bombed the crowded international and French concession o fShanghai.

United States Marines called out every available man to strengthen their guard of 1,000 men as 16 Chinese bombers roared over the city to attack Japanese positions.

British called their volunteer corps to patrol duty along with the American Marine and Volunteer guard.

Dr. Frank Rawlinson, one of the outstanding American missionaries in China, and H. S. Honisberg, wealthy American motorcar dealer, were the only victims identfied. An English woman and a French policeman were killed as well as two other unidentifed foreigners.

Dr. Rawlinson, 66, with his wife and 15-year-old daughter Jean was motoring down Avenue Edward VII, one of the city's busiest streets, when the bombs fell. He stopped the car and stepped out, to be struck in the chest by a bomb fragment. He died at once.

Mrs. Rawlinson, although suffering from shellshock, drove the car to the foreign mortuary, turned over the body of her husband and then collapsed. Jean was not hurt.

Two hundred Chinese were estimated to have been killed in the refugee-crowded international zone while in the French concession 300 native deaths were counted.

16 Planes in Raid

Sixteen Chinese planes carried out the bombing operations. They concentrated on Japanese warships and troop concentrations. The bombs falling in the international zones apprently had missed their mark.

Japanese planes took to the air to fight them. The Havas correspondent report one Japanese plane, catapulted from the deck of the Japanese flagship Idzuma, shot down a Chinese bomber.

The Chinese bombers flew in groups of there and four. Considerable damage was inflicted in waterfront areas.

Havas News Agency reported the petroleum tanks of the Asiatic Petroleum Company, Far Eastern subsidiary of Royal Dutch Shell, caught fire, sending vast sheets of flame and smoke into the sky in a district to the east of Shanghai proper.

C. J. Head, a British subject employed by the Hongkew Wharf Company, was wounded when Chinese planes bombed the waterfront area. A warehouse belonging to Jardine, Matheson and Co., a British concern, was destroyed.

All merchant ships were cleared out of the harbor, leaving only the Japanese fleet and foreign warships standing by.

All Hongkew was deserted except for Japanese sentinels entrenched with machine guns behind sandbag barricades.

The scene in the French concession, crowded with homeless refugees was one of horror. Shattered bodies lay across the pavement. Several motorcars were in flames.

One French policeman was among the killed.

At nightfall the aerial operations ceased, but in the city's environs heavy cannonading continued. It was believed Japanese warships down the Whangpoo River were shelling Chinese positions in Glangwan and Chapei areas.

As the battle progressed, the Japanese naval attache disclaimed responsibility for the future safety of Shanghai University, operated by the Baptist Foreign Mission Society.

A reliable neutral source, the attache said, had reported the institution was harboring Chinese snipers and that therefore, the university "automatically is short of the status of a peaceful educational institution."

Refugees Shut Off

Japanese troops closed Soochow Creek bridges within the international section, thereby shuting off hundreds of thousands of terrified refugees.

The refugees were to the north of the creek and prevented from coming into so-called safer areas. The business section of Shanghai was closed tightly, and crowds disappeared quickly from the famous Bund.

Japanese said Chinese also were bombing warships off Woosung, 19 miles up the Whangpoo, and the intervening area as well as Shanghai.

The Japanese ship Okinawamaru was bombed and an adjacent ship struck with two Japanese sailors killed.

Japanese sent 500 bluejackets to

Ennismore Mother Gives Birth To Her 19th Child In 19 Years

Seventeen of the Family Are Living, Last Arrival Seven-pound Girl.

Mr. and Mrs. James Crough, Ennismore Township couple, were married on June 11, 1918, a shade over 19 years ago, and their 19th baby has been born at St. Joseph's Hospital—a healthy seven-pound girl. Seventeen of the 19 children are living. The only twins in the family died at birth 14 years ago.

The family now consists of nine sons and eight daughters, and all are husky and healthy. The oldest is 18-year-old Timothy, employed with a neighboring farmer.

Mrs. Crough was previously Bernadette Crowley. She is 37 years of age. Her husband is 45. It is believed that they have the largest family in Canada for the length of time they have been married.

Mr. Crough operates a 140-acre farm on the north shore of Lake Chemong, where the children take a daily dip.

The family consumes 45 bags of potatoes during the winter, and a 100-pound bag of flour lasts just nine days, as the family eats twelve loaves of bread a day and a peck of potatoes at each meal.

Nine of the 19 children were born in the hospital. The newest arrival was brought into the world by Dr. Robert Young.

Bear Meets Anglers, Very Impolite

Marmora, Aug 14.
(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWO ANGLERS at Thomson Lake on Wednesday evening parted from each other for awhile without any adieus and without any premeditation. Possibly they lingered a little long over fish steaks at the cookery but anyway, dusk had well fallen as they descended the path which led to the sleeping quarters below. Midway between the two buildings they were startled by a bear who was almost in their path. The host, who is an American, with increased speed made for the cabin while his guest who is a former baseball outfielder nimbly struck uphill to the cookery until the signal came "all clear." The bear is said to have been of large build.

New York, Aug. 14 (AP).

PERRINS Observatory of Ohio Wesleyan and Ohio State University reports that Finsler's comet, which passed close to the Big Dipper this week, was clocked at 400,000 miles an hour. That is a speed of a little more than 6,666 miles a minute.

Dr. Ernest Cherrington, Jr., of the Perkins Observatory, kept a camera on the comet for two hours the night of Aug. 10.

"During the two hours in which the photograph was taken," the observatory reports, "the comet moved among the stars a distance of 1½ times the apparent diameter of the full moon.

"It's actual motion through space during this short interval must have amounted to at least 500,000 miles—400,000 miles per hour.

The comet's tail, when photographed by Dr. Cherrington appeared to be four or five million miles long. This was twice the usual predictions of the tail length.

The Perkins Observatory statement says the comet should still be visible tonight, and best observable soon after dark.

"It will be found under the handle of the Big Dipper," the observatory predicts.

Two Freighter Loads Of Grain Will "Clean" Churchill

Northerners Peeved As Big Interests Ship This Year Via St. Lawrence.

CHURCHILL, Man., Aug 14 (CP). —Anxiety over the possibility this will be the shortest season Churchill has had since the port began operations in 1931 is evident here. The wheat movement may be all over in a week unless something is done about it.

The French freighter Jean arrived in ballast Aug. 8, loaded 320,000 bushels of wheat and sailed for European ports. The British freighter Wentworth, bringing coal, glass and general freight, now is loading 284,000 bushels of wheat which will leave only 10,500 bushels of 1936 wheat in the 2,500,000-bushel elevator.

Present plans made no provision for shipping any of this season's crop through Churchill because, it is claimed, the Canadian export will be so small it would not be worthwhile. Disappointment is evident both at Churchill and the Pas.

"The big interests in the grain trade want to keep their own elevators at the head of the lakes and other points busy," one grain man here declared. "They wil ship by the St. Lawrence regardless of which is the cheaper route."

Not a few blame the east as being prejudicial against Hudson Bay route. Employees of the Hudson Bay Railway are fearful the road will be closed down entirely this winter and they will be out of jobs.

Had the port been given a normal run of wheat, this would have been a banner year. With the exploration activity in the north, Churchill is a convenient port of transhipment.

After a ten-month trial London will not have streamlined buses, the lists being reported to show that the vehicles differ from others only in appearance and without any special advantage.

the plane's signal letters. Four hours earlier the U.S. Army signal corps intercepted a message the plane was driving into strong headwinds.

One Motor Failing

MOSCOW, Aug. 14—(AP)—Soviet Aviator Sigismund Levaneffsky radioed that one of his transpolar plane's four engines was failing just before Russian radio stations lost contact early today with the plane bearing six airmen to Fairbanks.

The last radio signals from the plane winging across the polar wastes were heard at 1 a.m. (6 p.m. E.D.T. Friday) but quickly faded.

Levaneffsky previously had reported he was flying at an altitude of 14,900 feet and that he intended to continue using only three motors because the plane had been considerably lightened by having consumed a great part of its gasoline supply.

The original amount of gasoline carried was not disclosed. Levaneffsky's message said a damaged oil line was causing the motor to fail, but gave no hint that the fliers expected it to interrupt their 4,000 mile flight to Fairbanks, Alaska, thence to Oakland, Calif., by way of Edmonton, Alta.

(The plane was 12 hours overdue at 6 a.m. E.D.T., and increasing anxiety was felt at Fairbanks where numerous observers believed the plane might already be down.

(Its cruising range was unknown, but a refueling had been planned at Fairbanks instead of attempting a non-stop flight such as two previous Soviet planes accomplished).

Moderate Temperature.

Weather reports from the Soviet weather observation station near the North Pole said the sky was overcast with narrow clearings through the murk. Visibility was between 10 and 12 miles. The temperature was 31 degrees Fahrenheit.

Soviet officials were not alarmed at the silence that enveloped the fliers, recalling that Valeri Chekaloff and two companions who flew non-stop to a pasture in Southern California were unreported for 20 hours after crossing the North Pole.

Soviet stations continued to search the ether for some signal from the fliers, and the chief of Russia's civil aviation kept in constant touch by telephone with North American authorities.

Before the flight, Levaneffsky had said "the flight of a land plane over water, of course, will not be pleasant. If one of the motors of the heavy plane gives trouble, it will be very unpleasant because we would be unable to alight at sea for the plane would sink.

"In order to fly with three motors it would be necessary to pump out some fuel. We trust our plane motors," he added.

EVERY BRITISH, U.S. MAN CALLED OUT

the north-eastern borders of the foreign section of Shanghai as the battle continued, and engaged Chinese troops in a machine gun duel. Japanese said they lost three men.

Japanese appeared to be landing every available man from the 21 warships along the river front, and the bluejackets poured by the hundreds north toward their barracks, loaded with full equipment and arms.

One truckload of armed Japanese sought to cross southward over Soochow Creek at the main bridge which fronts the British Consulate. As they reached the southern shore, Chinese attacked and drove them back.

The city was in furor.

This writer, watching from his office window, saw Japanese anti-aircraft guns aboard a warship go into action when a Chinese plane appeared over the Whangpoo.

Chinese Flier Escapes.

Japanese shrapnel burst over a wide area.

The Chinese flew low, wheeling and turning and evading the explosive, to disappear into the clouds, unhit.

Close by the Japanese warcraft, the Idzumo, lies the American naval tanker, Pecos, two French destroyers, and two British. Other Japanese ships were further downstream.

Unconfirmed reports said Chinese bombers had killed an undetermined number of Japanese aboard the Idzumo when a bomb struck the wharf, showering the ship with flame and shrapnel.

The aerial bombing fired large oil storage tanks on the Pootung side of the Whangpoo, opposite the Shanghai area, and a stiff wind fanned the flames over a wide area.

As a result of the aerial attacks, the entire populace of Shanghai north from Woosung Creek was evacuating southward.

British were considering evacuating all women and children to Hong-Kong, but Americans had not yet reached a decision.

Much of the Chinese section of Chapei was black-charred or smouldering. A 10-block area of stores and homes had been fired by artillery duel. Japanese officers admitted they touched off some localities to facilitate fixing the range for their guns.

The rain caught thousands of Chinese who sought refuge in the city as hostilities spread. They slept in the open, in arks and along the waterfront, on rough pallets or on the ground.

China has an estimated 30,000 men, among them the German-trained units with modern arms, and an unknown number of fast warplanes to oppose the Japanese.

General Yang-hu, commander of the Shanghai-Woosung Chinese defences, urged Chinese residents to remain calm, to obey the government and aid in providing adequate protection for foreigners.

Japanese Troops Rush To Protect Northern China

Rushing to "protect" Northern China from the Chinese, the trainload of Japanese troops shown in the upper photograph are only a small part of the reinforcements that have poured into the Tientsin area since the start of the present crisis there. Both Tientsin and Peiping, ancient capital of China, are now completely under Japanese domination, while, the banner of the Rising Sun crawls slowly southward until it has now reached Nankow Pass, the "Thermopylae of North China." With open war expected to break out daily between the two nations, Japan is taking steps to be well prepared as shown in the lower photograph. The women of Nippon are taking training lessons at Tokio in first aid, wearing gas masks and special gas resisting gowns.

than that of the previous year. After leaving Arctic Bay on the north end of Baffin Land, 1,000 miles north-north-east of Churchill, the Nascopie will endeavour to reach the end of the Boothia Peninsula 240 miles to the south-west.

Hudson's Bay Inspector Gibson will establish a company post there to trade with the Eskimos. He expects to remain in the district throughout the winter. It was in this region in 1846 that the Sir John Franklin expedition was lost.

FEWER DRINKERS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (A.P.). — Rounding out 35 years of service as a club car porter on the Twentieth Century Limited, Matthew A. Pierson said he noted a big improvement in the drinking habits of the travelling public. In his early days of portering, Pierson said, probably 90 per cent. of the passengers used alcoholic beverages, whereas only about 10 per cent. indulge at the present time.

What And Why Of Shanghai War

An estimated 7,000 Japanese bluejackets and "thousands" of Chinese regular army troops are skirmishing in Chinese areas north of the Shanghai International zone. A Chinese and Japanese artillery duel set fire to parts of the area. A Japanese warship bombarded and set fire to a Chinese wharf north of the main city.

The skirmishes started yesterday after a "peace" conference failed. Japanese said Chinese violated terms of the 1932 Shanghai truce by sending troops into Shanghai. Chinese blamed Japanese "aggression," citing the concentration of 21 Japanese warships at Shanghai wharves and the landing of many bluejackets.

Chinese and Japanese have been at swords points in Shanghai since July, when fighting broke out in Northern Hopeh province. The tension increased when the Japanese army drove out the Chinese soldiers and took control of the province and the cities of Peiping and Tientsin.

It reached a climax at Shanghai when a Chinese peace preservation corps member and a Japanese naval officer and seaman were killed in an encounter Monday at a West Shanghai Chinese airport. Soon the Japanese warships arrived and landed reinforcements. Then yesterday the Chinese regulars started pouring into the city from the north. It was not known who fired the first shot to-day.

Shanghai is a city of nearly 3,500,000 including 60,000 foreigners.

LEVINE MISSING FOR COURT CALL

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (CP). — Charles A. Levine, who once made a Transatlantic flight in a plane piloted by Clarence Chamberlain, failed to appear in Federal Court yesterday for pleading on an indictment charging him with transportation of 2,000 pounds of powdered tungsten and for conspiracy to smuggle 5,000 pounds of the powder from Canada.

When his name was called, J. J. Weiss, his counsel, said Levine was motoring to Mexico, and he understood Levine had an "unlimited letter of credit" from the Mexican Government to purchase airplanes for Mexico.

Federal Judge Murray Hulbert told Assistant United States Attorney Richard J. Burke to have Federal authorities along the Mexican border notified to be on the lookout for Levine if he should attempt to cross "going out."

John H. Clugh, a Pullman car porter, who allegedly aided in smuggling of tungsten powder into the United States by way of Toronto and Buffalo, was held under $500 bail pending trial. Bench warrants were issued for Meyer Brenner and Harry Feinberg, both of Toronto, who also were named as defendants.

SWIMMING GOVERNOR.

VALLETTA, Malta, Aug. 14 (CP-Havas).—Sir Harry Luke, 52-year-old Lieutenant Governor of Malta, swam five miles Friday from the adjacent island of Gozo to Malta in four hours and 48 minutes. Sir Harry showed no signs of fatigue after his swim.

Several roads leading to the League of Nations offices in Geneva have been painted a brilliant red, and on these various surfaces are being tested for wear and non-skid surfacing.

"The one point is an American red herring devised by his capitalistic friends and himself to conceal a record of administration he knows cannot stand the light of public opinion.

"The other point is a clumsy effort to hide the real reason for an election, namely, to conceal a power shortage which is growing more obvious every day.

"As for succession duties, this is not, nor cannot be made a party issue. Any legitimate action in this respect which the present Government has taken has been based on procedure previously initiated by a Conservative Administration. No one knows this better than Mr. Hepburn himself, and I invite his public denial of this statement. Let me make it abundantly clear that all obligations to the public treasury of this Province will be collected and without political ballyhoo."

Announcing the probable attempt to re-open the Drummondville, Managing-Director G. He said "70 per cent." of the 10,000 employees had sought to remain at work the day the walkout was called.

SABBATH MESSAGE
By
REV. E. R. JAMES

WEEDS.

Jesus said: Some seed fell among thorns and the thorns sprung up and choked them.—St. Matthew 13, 7.

"Simple yet forceful language," exclaims the farmer, the gardener. "The thorns, the weeds sprung up and choked them." You toil on your farm or your little garden and in spite of every care the weeds spring up. "They are always there" you say.

What are weeds? Read what the writer in the most famous dictionary, "The Oxford English," has to say: "A herbaceous plant, not valued for use or beauty, growing wild and rank and regarded as cumbering the ground or hindering the growth of superior vegetation." "Hindering the growth of superior vegetation" is the conclusion of a master scholar. But the greatest of all gardeners, Whose own garden never had any weeds, simply says: "The thorns, the weeds sprung up and choked them." Every plain man in that audience could understand the choking of the good seed.

What have weeds to teach us?

1. Weeds are natural to the soil. They are found in every farm or garden. They do not need to be sown. They are in the soil. The good seed is planted in the soil. But the soil will produce weeds of itself. The soil will not produce the useful fruit unless the seed is put into the soil. The good seed comes from outside.

As we think of the weeds being natural to the soil we remember how natural it is for us to produce in our own characters bitterness, hatred, malice and other evil weeds which choke the good seed. How shocked you are when your little son, barely able to talk, shows signs of bad temper and selfishness. It is in him. That is the horror. If you neglect his training you will discover how these weeds choke and spoil his character.

2. Weeds grow quickly. A couple of days of rain and your garden is overgrown with weeds. You marvel at their growth. Even so is it in the garden of your soul. The weeds are there. The bad habits will grow rapidly. A little neglect on your part and, lo, that habit is taking root. It takes many years to form good and wholesome habits. But a few months of neglect will produce degradation that is surprising. The weeds have choked all those good habits.

3. The weeds are very hungry. They are always hungry. There are certain salts in the soil which are necessary for the life of the plant. The roots feed on them. The long roots of the weeds consume so much of the salts that little or nothing is left for the good seed. Therefore it withers, it is choked.

How are you to keep out the weeds? Evil desires and habits are natural to us. They cry for satisfaction. They are very hungry and they cry loudly. The Lord Jesus offers to enter your heart and fill it with Himself. Fill your thoughts and imagination with the picture of that lovely Character the Holy Spirit will produce in you; what you may become through Him. Think upon His purity, His gentleness, His patience when the temptation arises. It may be you are not tempered. Ask the Lord to give you a vision of His patience and self-control. Quietly, consciously fill your imagination with His patience and determination to endure and, lo, the desire to fly into a passion passes away. Ask the Lord for the opposite characteristic of your besetting sin. Are you mean and covetous? Pray for His generosity, Who gave Himself for you. Are you bitter tongued and malicious? Fill your mind and imagination with His love and slowly you will find yourself saying charitable things.

Above all, do not try in your own strength to pull out the weeds by their roots. You will never succeed. Let His Spirit enter and help you to cast out the weeds.

"I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me."

Rev. Edward R. James.

A National Message

We have seen where the secret place is. We now see that there in an especial manner, is "the Shadow of the Almighty."

But it is not sufficient that we should dwell in the land which constitutes the field in which the treasure of the Kingdom nation is hidden. The face of the field lies open and is trodden by the steps of all comers. The ploughmen and the reapers do their work in the field unconscious of the treasure hidden there; neither are the immunities promised theirs because they pass over the field to carry on their work therein. There must be a personal relationship with Him Whose shadow broods over the treasure in the field. What is this personal relationship?

"I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress; my God, in Him will I trust."

This is your action of faith and will. It is for you and for me to recognize and acknowledge that He broods over the secret place. It is for us to go to Him with reverence and worship, and to make Him indeed our refuge, our fortress, our trust. It is for us to establish our personal relationship with Him in the place He has provided for His people. Having done this, then, there will follow for us the blessings and immunities which follow in this wonderful and beautiful 91st Psalm:

"Because thou hast made the Lord which is my refuge, even the Most High, thy habitation, there shall no evil befall thee, neither shall any plague come nigh thy dwelling. For He shall give His angels charge over thee, to keep thee in all thy ways."

It will be seen that these are the blessings of the Kingdom. The Psalm is a poetical version of the Covenant God established with Israel, old and new. The blessings cover the natural and physical. The Covenants deal with true citizenship of His Kingdom nation. For the blessings of Grace we go to Calvary, and there we enter that newness of life which makes us "Sons and Daughters of the Lord Almighty."

Missionary Rally In Arctic

CHURCHILL, Man., Aug. 14—(CP)—Missionaries to the Eskimos and the Indians from the shores of Hudson Bay and the great archipelago extending into the Arctic are returning to Churchill this week at the behest of Mgr. Arsene Turquetil, Roman Catholic Bishop of Hudson Bay. They will participate next week in the celebrations of the 25th anniversary of the first mission established in these parts.

Priests, mostly with luxuriant black beards who have spent years among the natives, have reached here to receive the warm greetings and hearty handshake of the bishop; but possibly none was received with keener interest than Father E. Bazin from Igloolik Island on the Northern end of Melville Peninsula in the Fury and Hecla Straits.

"Eight years ago I placed him on the R.M.S. Nascopie to go to the Eskimos around Igloolik," the bishop said, "and he did not get back till this week. He lived among the Eskimos and his diet was the same as the natives, exclusively meat, all those years."

Often "Very High."

The Bishop explained the meat was often "very high" for Eskimos faced with starvation are glad to get meat that would be considered entirely unfit for human consumption by people farther south.

Like many of the missionaries, he was born in France. He made friends with the 200 Eskimos living at Igloolik, and has lived their life ever since. He made himself a house by piling stones in the form of a cone about 12 feet in diameter much after the architecture of an igloo, except instead of bringing it to a point he covered the top with whalebones over which he stretched skins.

Igloolik is 400 miles from Fonds Inlet on the east and about the same distance from Repulse Bay on the south, to one of which he tramped each year for church supplies. To get to Churchill he walked 400 miles to Repulse Bay, took a boat 250 miles south from there to Chesterfield, and another boat 400 miles south from Chesterfield to Churchill. He is going back to his mission as soon as the festivities are over.

Miss Mary O'Leary, who attended summer school at Guelph, returned to her home on Saturday.

Mrs. L. J. Milaney of Ottawa spent the past week the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. David Garvey.

Messrs. Fabian and Fergus Milaney and their sister-in-law, Mrs. L. J. Milaney spent a couple of days in Toronto and Niagara Falls last week.

Moslem Marriage Problem

Dressed in Moslem robes, Sheik Abdulla Ali, 34-year-old leader of the Moslem community at South Shields, Eng., is shown with the brother and sister of the English girl he married six months ago, who are now his adopted children, if the law doesn't take them from him. It seems that the Shiek's marriage was preformed according to Moslem rites only; but British law insists that a ceremony be performed in a register office. The Sheik refuses to go through with a second marriage, pleading that such a ceremony is contrary to his religious beliefs. So the law threatens to take Norman, 13, and Norah, 16, unless he changes his mind.

God Gives Laws to a Nation

"BRASS TACKS" ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The International Uniform Lesson on the above topic for August 15 is Exodus 19:-20:21, especially 20:1-17, the Golden Text being Matthew 22:37, 39, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind. . . . Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself.")

THAT A PEOPLE emerging from centuries of slavery and underprivilege should, within two months of its emancipation, formulate in 10 brief statements, a law which has become the inspiration and essence of the best jurisprudence of all civilized nations for the subsequent 34 centuries is proof positive of the clear divine guidance of Israel's great law giver, Moses, in the formulation of the decalogue. It is proof that "God spoke all these words."

"All's Law, Yet All's Love"

It is interesting to note that despite the awe inspiring setting attending the promulgation of the law, in the quaking mountain, bathed in lightning and smoke, nevertheless, these Ten Commandments are prefaced not upon motives of fear, but rather upon the motive of love: "I am Jehovah thy God, who brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me, etc." To God belongs first place in our devotion because of his love of us rather than our fear of him. "We love him because he first loved us." So, even at Mt. Sinai, "All's law, yet all's love."

"The Great Command"

When our Lord was challenged to state which was "the great commandments in the law," he replied by summing up all the commandments dealing with our duties to God, saying, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind." In appreciation of God's deliverance of us we are to put him first in our affections, worship and service. The manner of our worship must befit the object of our worship. "Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven image. This spiritual God demands a spiritual worship and not the carnalities of idolatory, whether it be the crude types of paganism or the more 'cultural' type of our materialism. All profanity, perjury or blasphemy of idle and insincere use of God's name are forbidden; "Thou shalt not take the name of Jehovah thy God in vain." And for the preservation and cultivation of this spiritual religion God instituted the sabbath, saying, "Remember the sabbath day to keep it holy."

"Love Thy Neighbor"

Right attitudes towards humanity are the fruits of right attitudes towards deity. Ethics and religion stand united as fruit and root. He who loves God will love his neighbor. And our closest neighbors are our parents: "Honor thy father and thy mother." We are to respect our neighbor's life; "Thou shalt not kill." Home and virtue are to be respected: "Thou shall not commit adultery"; likewise property: "Thou shalt not steal"; and reputation: "Thou shalt not bear false witness." Not only overt acts of wrong doing but inner motives of the heart, detrimental to our neighbor, are included: "Thou shalt not covet." All things herein forbidden may be abstained from only as we cultivate love for God and our neighbor: "Love is the fulfilling of the law."

Cheerfulness Can Be Ever Evident

"There is no greater every-day virtue than cheerfulness."—Anon.

Hold thought steadfastly to the enduring, the good, and the true, and you will bring these into your experience proportionably to their occupancy of your thought."—Mary Baker Eddy.

CATHEDRAL MUSINGS

In the various sacred writings we often come across such terms as "going up into a mountain," the "holy mountain," "the mountain of the Lord," and others similar. Many think that these phrases mean an actual physical elevation of the earth's surface, whereas they are mystical terms signifying a state of spiritual consciousness and attunement with the Divine, an ascension within one's self. The Mount of the Beatitudes and the Mount of Transfiguration are wonderful and perfect examples of the ultimate in these things in respect of the Divine influx under such conditions. It is obvious also that the "holy mountain" of Isiah is descriptive of a transcendent state utterly opposed and contrary to any earthly condition. The Scriptures are full of such symbolical and mystical terms, such as, for instance, the sea giving up its dead, the great deep, etc., etc., which are perfectly intelligible to those who have glimpsed reality, even if only from far off, but remain a mystery to those who know only the letter. Then there are other terms which have survived in certain societies, such as the "cubic stone," the "two pillars," the "arch" and the "keystone" all conveying definite inner truths to the mystic. So that we see to confine oneself to a literal reading of any of the world's scriptures means a definite loss in our apprehension of the spiritual truths concealed behind the words. This is true even if one had access to the original texts, and even if also the words had always retained their exact shades of meaning. Inasmuch as Absolute God transcends all human comprehension and is for ever the Unknowable, so do the ultimate spiritual truths transcend human language and cannot be fully expressed in words; they are sensed, felt and experienced, but are forever impossible to reduce into a formula. All man's poor attempts to do so fall far short of the glorious reality. Man as man can never know God, only by God in man can the starry realm be approached. Only when the mystical union of God and man is accomplished does man become immortal and then he is no longer man. Hence the importance of knowing one's self. To scale the heights within one's own being, brings one from nature to supernature and it is the latter that we find our true being; and then higher and deeper still do we ascend the holy mountain till even the inner self is passed and we stand in the Light. But as Boehme points out, the disciple must be as nothing, for as long as one atom of self still lifts its head, so will the vision of God be withheld. For as God transcends all nature but is also immanent in nature, so also does He in man transcend all that man is conscious of in himself as man, therefore must man cease all his self willing and striving before he seeks to ascend the holy mountain of the Lord.

Portrait Of An Old-Fashioned Woman

BY H. I. PHILLIPS

From The Sun (New York)

She thinks men know something about running the country.

She believes children should get some of their training at home.

She thinks four cocktails before dinner plenty.

It is her idea that pyjamas are not quite the proper thing to wear to the grocery store.

She is distressed by the remark that her little girl has talents which might make her another Shirley Temple.

She can't tell one whisky from another.

She feels better on the street with stockings on.

It is her notion that finger nails shouldn't look like talons.

It doesn't depress her to discover that she has eyebrows.

She can't outswear a taxi driver.

She knows how to bake a cake without corresponding with a Washington bureau on home economics.

She feels a little guilty when she arrives at the theatre in the middle of the show and makes everybody stand up to let her pass.

Reno is just a town in another world.

She wakes up with a start when she dreams of being carried down a ladder in a chemise and scanties.

She doesn't like her pictures in the papers.

She won't sign testimonials to bonded whiskies, feather beds or cures for alcoholism.

She loves her home, even in the hot months.

Any idea that she might ever shoot her husband sends her into a cold sweat.

She won't wear a hat that makes her look ridiculous, even if it is stylish.

She was never Miss America.

She has no scrapbook full of pictures showing her about to jump off diving boards in the garb of a bubble dancer, and if she had she would hide it.

She can't swim anywhere in a hurry.

She thinks big families are wonderful.

God Feeds a People

Scripture—Exodus 16:1-17:7.

By the Rev. Alvin E. Bell And Alfred J. Buescher

A month and a half after God delivered the children of Israel from the Egyptians at the Red sea and guided them into the wilderness they murmured against Moses and against God because they were hungry.

God provided them bread from heaven, which they called "manna", sending it with the dew for them to gather every morning except on the sabbath. Thus he fed them for 40 years on this "bread from heaven."

Jesus fed the multitude in the wilderness and then referred to the manna God sent the Israelites, and said he was the true bread from heaven given for the life of the world.

God also provided water for his people by commanding Moses to smite a rock from which came water for the people. This also represents Jesus "the Rock of ages cleft for me."

The Fight Is On

Mixed in with its usual round of fall fairs, harvest homes and fowl suppers this autumn Ontario is in for a round of what promises to be unusually vigorous political campaigning. At last Premier Hepburn has officially announced a provincial election. The date has not been given out but it is generally assumed that Old Man Ontario, his wife and their grownup family will go out and mark their ballots on or about the 19th of October, long enough after Thanksgiving for the turkey to have been digested.

In his own riding the other day the Premier intimated that the main issue would be the C. I. O. question. It may or it may not be.

The electors have a way of deciding for themselves what the important issues really are and Mr Hepburn might quite easily find that on this occasion the battle will be fought on other lines than those he has chosen to lay down. There is plenty of political ammunition wrapped up in other questions that may explode with disturbing force before the campaign has more than nicely got under way.

The C. I. O. issue, kept to the fore, by the Premier, as he fired the first gun in the 1937 campaign, sees the two old parties, or at least the leaders of the two old parties, sharply divided. Mr. Hepburn wants "no truck or trade" with C. I. O.—in other words with the John L. Lewis Committee for Industrial Organization. He does not want that organization recognized in this province and if there was anyway to do it he would see that every C. I. O. organizer was escorted to the border and told to get out and stay out. The official Conservative attitude, on the other hand, as voiced by Mr. Rowe and set forth again Friday by the campaign committee of the party is that the Ontario Conservative party stands for "the right of employees to bargain collectively, through their own representatives chosen without dictation coercion or intimidation." In short Mr. Rowe says that workers may ally themselves with the C. I. O. if that is their wish although he has qualified that statement by saying that the laws of Ontario must be respected.

It will be an unusual campaign. Some of the issues that will bob up cut squarely across party lines and in some cases at least will split even families into groups. One thing is certain at the beginning and that is that if the party workers think they can follow the old time technique and sit around the committee rooms marking the names on the voters' lists with mysterious marks showing how they will vote, they will be simply wasting time. Old party allegiances mean very little in the tangled confusion into which the political game has got itself in this province.

Doubtful Allies

The Examiner is convinced that a word of warning to the leaders of the local textile strike is necessary and while we realize that the motive of those who offer advice at a time when industrial warfare is being waged usually results in the motives behind the advice being misunderstood, we feel that we will have to take that chance. The warning is simply this that the strikers should be constantly on their guard to see that their cause is not injured or prejudiced by the language and conduct of some of the self-termed friends from outside who always rush into a situation such as exists here at present. By that we do not mean, of course, officials of their own union. It is their right and privilege to participate in strike activities so long as they remain within the law.

The class we refer to is something else again; the class of radicals and cranks of all kind who see in the local labor struggle a chance to unload their own particular propaganda of class hatred to advantage. They have no particular interest in the welfare of local workers nor do they care a tinker's cuss whether the strikers in Peterborough get better pay or not. Their only concern in the whole affair is that it gives them an opportunity to instil their poison and venom into the community bloodstream at a time when it is most likely to take effect. The eyes of ardent Communists shine when they read of scenes of violence such as Peterborough has witnessed this week. They know that the conditions are ripe for them to get in their deadliest blows and they are quick to offer their assistance. We are convinced that our citizens who are on strike at the present time should scrutinize all such offers closely to make sure their struggle for better conditions is not being used by extremists to further their own dubious purposes.

Shadows On Dragon Throne

Japan and China are still in a state of at least technical peace, neither of them claiming belligerent rights vis-a-vis the exterior, non-combatant world. Yet into the former capital of China, where emperors so long ruled during the age of China's magnificence, marched a brigade of Japanese troops, paraded in full war equipment to take formal possession. Thus what was once Peking, what is now Peiping, becomes a Japanese metropolis. The rest of the world is left to make what it pleases of it.

There was a satiric touch—one can suspect the Japanese of being humorous—in the leaflets showered from airplanes on the Chinese populace as the troops tramped past the palaces. One item read:

"Both the Chinese people and North China always will be Northern Chinese."

If an invading foe, in the course of an undeclared war, occupied our former capital, it would doubtless quiet our apprehensions to be assured that we should remain Canadians. The inhabitants of Peiping are at least certain of one thing—that Peiping will remain at 40 north latitude. Not even Japan can change that!

But Japan can change a great deal else, and whether Peiping and Northern China will ever be restored to Chinese rule is doubtful in the extreme. The Japanese know how to use sentiment for practical purposes, and one bit of practical sentiment, at least from the Japanese viewpoint, would be to plunk Emperor Kang Teh, who now "reigns" in Manchukuo, on the "Dragon Throne" of his ancestors in Peiping. He might even be permitted to proceed to the Temple of Heaven, now in Japanese occupation, to make obeisance to the shade of that supreme xenophobiac, the great Dowager Empress, who wants to drive all foreigners out of China.

Somehow it seems a long time since that first Winter of President Harding's Administration, when Japan, sitting at a table in the Pan-American Union at Washington, agreed to restore Shantung to China, and ever afterward respect the administrative and territorial integrity of her great neighbor. One has a vague recollection that some one appropriated on that occasion the gold fountain pen with which Dr. Wellington Koo, the principal Chinese delegate, signed the pact.

The Inquiry Goes Ahead

The announcement from Queen's Park that in spite of the refusal of textile strikers to accept Premier Hepburn's offer the Ontario Labor and Industries Board proposes to proceed at once with its inquiry into the textile situation will be well received by the public. It is the purpose of the Board to study all phases of the industry. They will visit Peterborough and hold public sessions at which representatives of the company and all workers who want to be heard will be examined, the books of the company will be closely scrutinized and every last scrap of information likely to be of assistance to the Board in determining what an adequate and reasonable minimum wage for male textile workers will be sought. Then armed with all this data the Board will be in a position to say with the necessary assurance what should be the least reward a textile worker shall be paid for his labor.

There have been other investigations it is true into the textile business but they were not particularly concerned with the question of wages. This probe on the other hand will be motivated by consideration for that phase of the situation alone and its findings will therefore be of vital importance in regard to the matters now under dispute between the company and its employees. The primary object in announcing the inquiry at the present time was of course to get the workers back on the payrolls while the investigation was being conducted, the final award to be made retroactive to the date upon which they returned to work but that opportunity was rejected. Nevertheless the inquiry should serve a most useful purpose and it cannot be started too soon.

Moronic Parents

A proud papa by the name of Lucius Benefield of Atlanta, Georgia, has been shown in recent press pictures with his daughter Patricia, six month old, who at this tender age, has cultivated the manly art of smoking a pipe. The baby, it seems, is even more of a prodigy than the six-year-old boy, reported in the news of a few days ago, who has become a cigar addict but who realizes that smoking is injurious and sagely lectures his elders upon its evils.

These have been cited as instances of juvenile precocity. In truth, however, they reflect a lack of fundamental common sense on the part of parents who are deficient both in a sense of decency and in practical consideration for the welfare of their own children.

Parents who stuff a cigar or a pipe into the mouth of a little child are not much better than smart alecks or morons and something should be done to impress upon them a realization of their own foolishness. In fact there are many folk who feel that no great injustice would be done to people of that type if they were to be tossed into jail for a few days.

Dangerous Gasoline

A few days ago a young housewife in Oshawa, the mother of two young children, died from terrific burns received when she tried to rekindle a fire by throwing gasoline into the stove.

That is the kind of accident that never should happen.

The danger of using such inflammable and explosive stuff as gasoline to light a fire should be so generally known that no sane person would think about trying anything so perilous. Yet it is the simple truth that a great many women who might not be careless enough to use gasoline to kindle a fire will employ it for other purposes under conditions that render it almost as great a menace to life. Newspapers have repeatedly pointed out that in certain circumstances and given the necessary mixture of air and gasoline fumes, the careless use of gasoline for cleansing or other household purposes can cause a terrific explosion. The risk is in fact so great that the safest and surest way is not to employ such dangerous stuff at all around a house. There are cleaning establishments to do the work but if their services are not called in, the housewife should at least make sure that gasoline is used only in the open air.

Employing either gasoline or kerosene to pep up a dying fire is about the surest way of meeting with a painful death that comes to mind at the moment. The strangest feature is that although the danger has been tragically and repeatedly emphasized through the obituary columns of the newspapers women—and sometimes men—continue to take the risk.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The Preston shoe factory strike is settled and that will give everybody a chance to get on their feet again.

Man is funny. He cheerfully pays for other education but he feels abused when he has to pay a note he endorsed.

"Enemies of the state" are forbidden to drive cars in Germany. That is different from here where many of the drivers behave like enemies of the state.

The battle of the picket lines seems to have been transferred to the courts where the warfare will be less noisy but possibly more costly.

Premier Hepburn celebrated his 41st birthday the other day by being nominated for the Legislature. He is probably looking for many happy returns on election day.

Dallas Texas high school will introduce a course of training in automobile driving next term. One of the things that should be taught is that the pedestrian is not necessarily always wrong.

It is predicted that the United States may become a socialist country before long. It will be some time however before co-operative ball teams will battle in the world series.

Thieves locked a Winnipeg grocer in his refrigerator and robbed the till. They got away with a sum that under the circumstances might be described as a cool $123.

A beekeeper may enter the contest in East Elgin as a C. C. F. opponent for Premier Hepburn and Norman R. Martin, his Conservative rival. He at least has the advantage of knowing what it is to get stung.

Labor disorders are spreading. Even the mayor of usually quiet Prescott finds it necessary to warn against disorders and to add that the police "will shoot if necessary" Let us hope they will never consider it necessary.

To the suggestion that the radio may one day completely supplant the newspaper we can only reply that there is little likelihood of that happening until you can fold the radio and take a crack at a housefly.

A northern Ontario lumber mill owner says that he will let his mill rot before he will meet a strike committee. With a disposition like that he would not be much of an asset to negotiation proceedings anyway.

Four bandits beat up an 80-year-old man near Cookville Alta, and robbed him. So far there have been no demands made that the quartette should be given medals for the conspicuous bravery they displayed.

The Globe and Mail quite aptly remarks that before tear gas becomes a standard part of police equipment it would be well to have the assurance of science that it does no more than temporarily disable its victims and is not likely to leave any lasting after-effects.

METEOR

The fragment of a star, I hung in space
Until as bathed in silver upward rolled
Your lovely Earth, she drew me from my place;
I rushed to meet her through the breathless cold
Of emptiness; her warm caress of air
Enkindled me; I blazed across her night,
A globe of splendor with a trailing flare
Of burning gold, portentous to the sight
Of dazzled millions—till my fire was drowned
In marl. With crash and roar I struck the field,
Driving my smoldering metal under ground
To lie forgot, my secret unrevealed,
Again a ragged shard without a name;
But, for one glorious moment, I was Flame!

LATEST official figures of Royal Air Force strength in aircraft and personnel indicate that the expansion program launched in 1935 and greatly augmented in 1936 is making swift headway. In the official phrase it has proceeded "according to schedule." New Service stations and armament training camps already opened total 22. Strength of the Metropolitan Air Force—home defence units, army co-operation squadrons, and the coastal command—is now 123 squadrons, an increase of 137 per cent. over the pre-expansion strength, equipped with 1,542 first-line aircraft. This is approximately two hundred airplanes fewer than the first-line total of Metropolitan Air Force strength envisaged for the end of the expansion program. Behind the ultimate total of 1,750, and the 900 or so aircraft forming the first line of overseas squadrons and the Fleet Air Arm will be full war reserves of aircraft, armament, equipment and supplies, sufficient to justify the claim that the Royal Air Force shall be second to none in strength for defence and counter-attack.

Kansas has a new industry-making alcohol from corn, says the National Geographical Magazine. Atchison's streets smell of alcohol. "We can make alcohol from wheat, potatoes, artichokes, from many grains and vegetables," says a chemist. "In fact, we are examining all kinds of farm crops to see which one may yield ethyl alcohol economically. "When America's oil supply begins to decline, fuel alcohol made from surplus farm crops and other sources may keep our motors running. The new industry was born only recently. The first day it made 10,000 gallons of alcohol, its normal capacity, and trucks hauled the new fuel away to dealers in Nebraska and the Dakotas. Known as Agrol, the new fuel being made under the guidance of the Chemical Foundation of New York is, when used in cars, a mixture of cheap gasoline and ten per cent. of ethyl alcohol. Similar fuel is widely used in the British Isles; motor cars in Europe and Brazil have long burned alcohol.

Girls in South Africa seem to be thrilled by such presents. I have sold about 300 pairs in South Africa."

Mohandas Karamchand Gandhi is preparing for his next tour of India on behalf of his various campaigns—particularly the Untouchables—grouped by Indians under one word, Harijan (God's creatures). When Gandhi is leaving a town the date is announced before hand. Crowds throng the station to receive his blessing. A few minutes before the train is due to leave Gandhi appears at the window of his third class compartment, gives his blessing and tells them that all contributions will be thankfully received. Immediately there is a shower of notes and coins of all denominations. The same thing happens at every station on the journey, no matter how small.

Naval guns and anti-submarine weapons are to be made ready for use by merchant ships in the event of an emergency and the merchant navy men will be taught convoy work, protection against mines and anti-gas measures.

Correspondents Discuss Various Topics.

REPLY TO THE GLOBE AND MAIL.

Editor Examiner:

Sir: The new Educational policy of the Ontario Department of Education has now all the weight of the endorsation of The Globe and Mail. It is bidden by it to go forth and conquer. Its fundamental principle is said to be that it will equip the pupil to think for himself and will avoid giving the young any bias "whatsoever" (except against redism.) So, we begin with a contradiction don't we? We are to educate the young so that they will have a bias against redism—with which I agree. But if the object of education is to train the youth especially the very young not only to think clearly but to act properly why banish Christianity? Is religion no longer to be taken seriously? Is a future life no longer to be regarded as a reality? Religion cannot be left to other agencies because at least 200,000 children of this province do not come in contact with those other agencies and will grow up entirely ignorant of Christianity and thus lose not only the teaching of a future life but the whole theory of a personal God and that moral system which hitherto the department has regarded as an essential. Hereafter we are to find that like the young trained to be athletic who are to choose their athletic calling afterwards the new policy will train to think clearly and accurately but without a single word as to which is the best line of life to take up. The present therefore marks a crisis in our educational affairs of the most momentous kind. It is practically saying to the youth of our province, "It doesn't matter what you think, only think." Modernism has been creeping slowly over the land and has invaded our churches but this is the first time it has been introduced into our system of education. Will the people endorse it? If as Dr. McArthur says, in the future the policy will be to cultivate "a passion for truth," it follows that Christianity's exclusion means that it is not regarded as "true," doesn't it?

ASKS FOR SUPPORT

Editor Examiner:

Sir: May I once again take space in your valued paper to express my views on the strike situation in our fair city.

So much has been printed and so many rumours are abroad that it is difficult for the average person to maintain a balanced view of the situation and determine without prejudice his or her conduct.

Although not a very active member of the Citizens' Committee, I was one of those who worked very hard on Monday night to persuade members of the Strike Committee to call their people back to work the next morning, for two reasons, (1) to prevent bloodshed when the Company opened the plants on Tuesday morning, and (2) that the promise of action by the Government who could force the Company to raise wages by the Minimum Wage Law, was a distinct win on the part of the Strikers.

However, I see now that action on so short a notice was a virtual impossibility. A mass meeting of strikers could not possibly be summoned, and the Strike Committee had no authority to call their folk back to work without first placing the matter before the whole body. Then, of course, many of them have been working for years on promises, and could not see the necessity of another investigation into the Textile Industry when two had been already held since 1934. Then too, there was no assurance that the Minimum Wage would be any higher than they are getting now.

The Strike Committee on Monday night asked for a stay of 24 hours in opening the plants to give time for the consideration of the Government's offer, but was refused, although Mr. Hepburn agreed it was a legitimate request. It was impossible to hold a Mass Meeting on Tuesday afternoon as most of the leaders had been arrested. In the opinion of many these arrests were entirely unjustifiable.

At the meeting on Wednesday afternoon, it was unanimously decided to remain on Strike until a signed agreement with the Company is reached. Many people disagree with this decision, but a calm consideration of the facts will convince most that it was the only thing to do.

Some few people have suggested that as the workers have jobs to go to, and refuse to work, no assistance should be given them. But I take in opposite view. Although I disagree on the matter of policy, I MUST give all the help I can, all the influence I can, to prevent distress among the Strikers as well as their dependents, and to support them in their stand.

A Citizens' Committee must still function. Every worker in this city, be he labourer, mechanic, office employee, clerk, merchant or professional man, owes it to himself and his fellow man to give—to give till it hurts. It isn't charity, its humanity.

And so I would suggest, Mr. Editor, that everyone in the city make weekly visits to the several stores who are receiving subscriptions for the Strikers, and deposit there 25c, 50c, $1.00 or more. And too, it must be remembered that even when they return to work with a signed agreement, relief will be required for at least two weeks since no pay will be forthcoming in that period. The Citizens' support will hasten the victory.

Thank you, Mr. Editor.

Sincerely,
HOMER BORLAND.

Where Flowers Are Cheap

Blooms Are Plentiful At Old Covent Garden.

(From the St. Thomas Times-Journal.)

THE British Isles have always been noted for their gardens and even in the crowded working-class areas it is astonishing what some workingmen do in the way of making the most of the little bits of ground they have, or on their roofs or in windowboxes. The love of flowers has grown to an enormous extent in recent years and notwithstanding the home cultivation, the British people now spend $75,000,000 a year on bought flowers. Covent Garden, just off the busy Strand, an internationally famous market which overseas visitors pass within a few yards of without being aware of the fact, is the centre of the trade, and at the present time beautiful carnations are bought there at one cent each wholesale and roses at half that price—12 cents and six cents a dozen!

On a single day recently $60,000 carnations were sold in Covent Garden market. Many of these flowers are from English professional gardens, but an immense quantity is brought from the Scilly Islands, 25 miles off Land's End, Cornwall. During the daffodil season 1,500,000 stems are cut every day and sent to Covent Garden. From three to four special trains are run from Penzance to London daily with cut flowers, besides special cars attached to express trains, and the specials make the trip in only 45 minutes less than the Cornish Riviera Limited. The flower specials are composed of refrigerator cars and the timing is such that the flowers are just breaking into bud when the trains reach London. Special steamers also bring flowers from the Channel Islands, three or four shiploads being used every week at certain seasons.

Much of the home boom is due to the National Government which placed a tariff on imported flowers. An immense quantity came from the south of France and Holland, but since the duty was imposed imports have dropped from 4,000 tons a year to 400. One result has been that a tremendous impetus has been given to flower growing for profit, and it is now claimed that the British are growing better bulbs than the Hollanders. One flower that used to be imported in the season from France is the anemone. Now they are produced in Britain all the year round and sell at ten cents a posey.

He's Given Up Keeping Bees

(From the New York Times.)

ONE of the saddest little stories of the year comes to us from Budapest. It concerns Anton Kertesz, an estimable and well-to-do farmer of Nyiregyhaza, Hungary.

Anton recently went in for bee-keeping. He had always believed firmly in the old maxim about the busy bee and the shining hour, but found to his surprise that the tenants in two of his hives were quite lazy and inactive. That is, they seemed inactive. On the advice of an expert he collected a couple of score of these insect loafers in two milk jugs to take them to the Budapest Apicultural Institute where they psychoanalyze delinquent bees for character defects. Anton tied paper firmly over the mouths of both milk jugs. That is, he thought he did.

Two women shared Anton's compartment on the train. Anton placed the jugs under the seat. The bees soon discovered that Anton had been mistaken about tying the paper firmly over the milk jugs. They promptly swarmed up his trouser legs. That is, the bees did, not the milk jugs.

With true Hungarian politeness Anton writhed in silence as long as he could. Then he shouted "Get out! Get out!" This remark was addressed directly to the ladies and only in a sense to the bees. Already alarmed by his contortions, they promptly fled. That is, the ladies did, not the bees.

Relieved of their presence Anton tore off his trousers and shook them out of the window to rid them of the invaders. At that moment, unfortunately, a freight train chugged by in the opposite direction and whisked them from Anton's grasp. He hesitated to ring for another pair of trousers and being rid of the bees, did nothing.

Meanwhile, warned by the two frightened women, the guard looked into the compartment, observed Anton's agitated and trouserless condition and hastily withdrew without doing anything either.

That is, he did not appear to do anything. At Budapest two husky young men entered the compartment and smilingly informed Anton that they were tailors and had come to measure him for trousers. Anton was at first touched by this act of kindness, but became suspicious when they started to do so. In spite of his stout resistance the two tailors pinioned him to a stretcher and carried him to an ambulance.

At the asylum Anton explained again and again about the lazy bees, the milk jugs and the vanished trousers. In fact, he became so passionate about it that the doctors pronounced him quite normally insane and ordered him into a strait-jacket. It was three days before he got out.

Anton has given up bee-keeping.

CHEESE FACTORIES

(The Farmers' Advocate)

THE cheese factories alone remain in the control of producers. When milk is marketed through any other channel the producer hands his raw material over to some one else to do with as he will. Dairymen in many districts often regret the passing of the cheese factory, for without it as a weapon they have practically no bargaining power.

The compulsory boarding of cheese and its alleged advantage to the industry may give rise to developments that should be carefully watched. There is nothing at present to prevent large interests from purchasing sufficient shares to control a few or a great many cheese factories. These interests would not then be obliged to board the cheese, for it would be their property as soon as it came out of the hoops. A move such as this would circumvent the compulsory boarding regulations and lessen to a large degree the good influence of the compulsory boarding practice.

DOGS IN SUMMER.

(Oakland Tribune)

HOW about the pet dog in summer? Are you kind to him when you clip his hair?

The American Kennel Club says you are unintentionally cruel; that the dog's coat of hair diffuses the rays of the sun and keeps them from reaching directly into his body. To clip him robs him of protections against the sun and against flies and other pests which delight in tormenting him.

So does it say that dogs perspire principally through the pores of their tongues. Swift passage of air over the tongue cools him off. The tight muzzle which prevents him from opening his mouth freely may cause him great discomfort.

If the Kennel Club is right, and it should be, some well-meant practices have added to the trying times which dogs have in hot weather.

Simcoe Boy Scouts Plant 70,000 Trees

Boy Scouts in Simcoe planted 70,00 0trees at their camp this summer. J. F. Clarke, lecturer for the horticultural branch of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, told the members of the district horticultural group who attended the zone meeting at the Canadian Legion Hall, Friday night.

Mr. Clarke urged the Horticultural Society to make special efforts to arouse the interest of children in flowers, and to enlist their active support for horticultural projects.

The meeting approved the proposal to adopt the trillium as the provincial floral emblem for Ontario. Mr. Clarke said that more people than ever in Ontario were becoming flower lovers, and horticultural societies were doing a great deal in promoting this splendid enterprise.

RUPTURE

NOW is your opportunity to investigate the merits of the Armstrong Patented Appliance. Over fifteen hundred testimonials similar to the following:—

J. H. Armstrong, Specialist, London, Ont. R.R. No. 6, Picton, Ont. December 17, 1936.

Dear Sir:

For some time past it has been my intention to write you in appreciation of what your appliance has done for me.

Ruptured in early childhood, cause unknown, the hernia eventually descended into the scrotum and at times caused me considerable inconvenience, pain and anxiety—in later years greatly interfering with my work. Upon reaching manhood I wore trusses for several years but they failed to hold my rupture. Your patented appliance being highly recommended, I had you adjust one. It held securely, fitted perfectly and was very comfortable to wear. IT CAUSED A COMPELTE CURE OF THAT LONG-STANDING RUPTURE IN LESS THAN SEVEN MONTHS. I have not worn it or any other support for over 10 years now, and there is not any sign of rupture whatever. As I was ruptured for over twenty-five years, one can readily appreciate what a cure has meant to me. I am now over 45 years of age and actively engaged in my life-work, farming.

I DO STRONGLY RECOMMEND YOUR PATENTED APPLIANCE TO ANYONE WHO IS RUPTURED. I know of others who have worn it with entire satisfaction. You may use this letter if you wish to. Yours faithfully, (Sgd.) ERASTUS JESSUP.

No pressure on hips or spine—no leg straps—no buckling tight around body—no salves, liniments, shocks from batteries or catch-penny methods of advertising. Known as the hot weather appliance.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 14 (C.P.)—Purchases of 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat by Canadian millers believed to cover export and domestic flour sales led to wheat futures on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange closing with gains of 1¼ to ⅛ cents.

Wheat steadily climbed from opening low points more than a cent below yesterday's close until gains of 2½ cents were showing and recovery effected through lightness of offerings. Volume of trade was not large.

New York reports indicated a good export business had been worked overnight in Canadian wheat, but the trade was not reflected in the pit yesterday, brokers said. Sales of wheat for shipment overseas were reported small and no estimate of the amount was available.

Buying, believed by exporters, pushed barley futures higher and eastern purchases in oats resulted in prices traded at higher levels all day. Coarse grain trading was generally light.

Buenos Aires at noon was ¼ to ⅝ cent higher.

After the church service the cortege proceeded to St. Paul's Cemetery, Norwood, where interment was made in the family plot, the graveside services being conducted by Rev. J. J. McCarthy parish priest of Norwood.

The pallbearers were Michael English, Jas. Sweeney, Robert Hickson, Joseph Valey, Richard Heffernan, and Jeremiah Doherty.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mrs. Mary Wires, Mrs. Ralph Emery, Mr. Herbert Wires, Mr. Coulson and Mrs. Bert Wright of Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Doherty of Campbellford, Mrs. S. O'Connor of Amherst Island, Mr. John and Mrs. Doherty and Miss Kathleen Doherty of Hastings.

BOOM IN GOLDS CHEERS MARKET

TORONTO, Aug. 14 (CP)—Stock market circles were cheered this week by a sizeable upward flurry in gold shares, the first of any importance since the week ended March 19 in which the yellow metal stocks advanced six points in the Toronto Exchange index. The rise in the last week was 7.52, and it was recorded on a sharp expansion of volume. Other mines and the industrials advanced also.

While the price advance in the mines was hitting on all cylinders, volume gained momentum through the week and reached 889,000 shares Friday, the heaviest turnover since June 23. Trade in the golds accounted for the big end of the business.

Renewal of interest in the golds was first noticeable on the New York market and the Canadian listings soon fell into line. Advances were conservative among the leaders—about $2 for Dome and McIntyre and $1.12 for Lake Shore—but these stocks were absorbed in the best volume since early spring.

Some of the larger gains were 80 cents for Buffalo-Ankerite, 55 to 60 cents for Macassa and Pickle Crow and 20 to 30 cents for Hollinger, Pioneer, Read-Authier, Central Patricia, Siscoe, Teck Hughes, Little Long Lac and Sylvanite.

The junior issues attracted a liberal share of the buying and a long list of stocks quoted under the $2 mark were swept higher in the bidding. Gains of 10 to 20 cents were posted for MacLeod-Cockshutt, Hard Rock, East Malartic, Canadian Malartic, Stadacona, Moneta, Kerr-Addison, Kirkland Lake, Sullivan, Towagamac, Lapa Cadillac, Pamour, Bladen and Francoeur.

With exception of minor losses for Sherritt and Chromium, the base metals are up on the week. They were chiefly responsible for the boost of 3.74 for the miscellaneous mines in the index.

WHEAT GOES UP OVER FIVE CENTS

WINNIPEG, Aug. 14.— (CP). — Wheat prices to-day stood as much as 5¾ cents a bushel higher than a week ago after a comparatively dull trading period that saw bullish news predominating.

Heavy drought losses suffered by the Canadian crop and reports of purchasing for 1938 seed requirements contributed to advance along with greatly reduced carry-over figures issued by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Wheat climbed to higher ground despite the continued lack of aggressive overseas buying and at the close of trading on the Winnipeg grain exchange yesterday the October future was 5¼ cents higher for the week at $1.30⅞; December 5½-5¾ cents higher at $1.27½-⅝ and May 4¾-4⅞ cents higher at $1.28¼ a bushel.

Coarse grains showed strength during the week, partly in sympathy with wheat and partly on demand for the various grains. Oats gained 3⅜-3 cents, barley ⅝-¾ cents, flax 3¾-4⅛ cents and rye 6 1-3 cents a bushel.

Rumors persisted the Saskatchewan government was in the market for both feed and seed wheat and the Saskatchewan pool announced it was holding wheat in elevators for seed purposes. The Canadian Wheat Board announced it was completing arrangements for retaining as much thatcher—a drought-resistant wheat—as possible for seed purposes. Storage of the thatcher wheat in elevators at Moose Jaw, Sask., is being planned.

Ethiopian coffee has appeared in markets of Italy, and 11,000,000 pounds will be placed on sale there this year.

FINANCIAL PROBE EXPERTS PICKED BE NAMED TO-DAY

OTTAWA, Aug. 14 (C.P.)—Personnel of the Royal Commission on Dominion-Provincial financial relations has been decided on and will be announced during the week-end by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

The Commission, clothed with powers to probe deeply into Canada's Governmental, economic and financial machinery, is expected to begin at an early date what will prove a long inquiry. The investigations may have an important bearing on future events in Canada.

Last night Mr. King said he might be in a position to disclose the names of the Commissioners late to-day. The Government's decision to launch the inquiry was made during the last session of Parliament and in the intervening time economic, financial and legal experts have been making preparations.

Canada's delegation to the Assembly of the League of Nations which meets in Geneva September 13 will consist of Senator Raoul Dandurand, Hon. J. L. Ilsley, Minister of National Revenue, and Hon. Vincent Massey, High Commissioner in London, Mr. King stated. Senator Dandurand, Minister without portfolio and Government Leader in the Senate, is already in Europe.

Mr. King also disclosed decisions had been reached on the sites for the proposed new Supreme Court Building and the National War Memorial will be on Connaught Place at the head of a widened Elgin Street if the Ottawa City Council approves of certain measures within its control.

Announcement of an early general election in Ontario has led Mr. King to abandon the idea of addressing three political picnics in that province. In this he is following a rule he has consistently adhered to since he became leader of the federal party of remaining strictly aloof from provincial politics.

The royal commission Mr. King is about to name will have the task of reviewing allocation of taxation powers and sources of revenue between the Dominion and Provincial governments set out in the British North America Act.

From time to time adjustments have been made in the financial relations thus established, usually by way of increasing the annual subsidies paid to the provinces by the Dominion. In recent years the Dominion has loaned some of the provinces large sums of money to meet their share of unemployment and farm relief costs and in some cases to meet debt and other charges.

The commission will be expected to report on whether the existing sources of revenue of the different governmental units of Canada are appropriate to their responsibilities under modern conditions and if not how they should be enlarged or otherwise altered.

One of its special tasks will be a review of the financial position of the Prairie Provinces which have required special assistance from the Dominion.

Decoration Day To Be Held Sunday

The placing of "Crosses of Sacrifice" along with Legion poppies on the graves of their departed comrades will be an innovation in the ceremony as Canadian Legion members go on their annual memorial march to St. Peter's Cemetery Sunday afternoon. It is expected Alderman Robert Cotton and Rev. Father (Captain) Kelly will address the returned men. The parade will commence at the Legion Hall at 2 p.m. In turn the Cenotaph, the civic war memorial and Captain Brown's monument will be decorated before the parade moves on to the cemetery. The column will be headed by the Salvation Army Band.

FINSLER'S COMET COULD BE SEEN

Finsler's comet was observed here in the path predicted for it, but a dim object, Andrew Jack, 274 William street said today.

"About a week ago it was seen in line between the Pointers and the Pole Star. The sky was clouded till Wednesday night when the comet was below Mizar. On Thursday it was below the end star of the Dipper's handle. On Friday it was lower and further west. Later than midnight Friday, a long and faint tail was observed using astronomical binoculars.

"Peltier's comet, in view a year ago, was brighter when first seen although smaller," Mr. Jack said.

Brantford Champ Entered Contest

Brantford champ ... ...

Jack Wood, of St. George, near Brantford, and home of the Hon. Harry Nixon, Provincial Secretary, has filed his official entry for the World's Championship Bucksaw Contest here next Thursday and Friday.

Last November two Peterborough bucksaw artists went to Brantford and cleaned up the big tourney that was held in that city, returning with the two main cash prizes.

Wood is looking for revenge for that humiliation and isn't journeying just for his health. He will be in Peterborough next Thursday morning for the preliminary round at 8.30 o'clock.

China's largest man-made waterway since the Grand Canal was built, has been completed between Hungtze Lake and the sea, the project being 99 miles long, costing $3,500,000, and requiring two and one-half years to construct.

PLENTY NOTICE BEFORE VOTING SAYS HEPBURN

RIDGETOWN, Ont., Aug. 14 (CP).—Forces opposing the Liberal Government in Ontario will be given "lots of time" before an election is held and the electorate will have "plenty of time to consider carefully the issues of the day."

Premier Hepburn gave assurance on these points at the East Kent Liberal - Progressive nomination meeting in Rondeau Park last night at which Douglas M. Campbell was nominated for re-election. At St. Thomas Thursday night the Premier announced an election "in a short time," but the exact date remains a matter of conjecture.

Declaring he stood by his administrative record, the Premier launched another attack on John L. Lewis and his Committee for Industrial Organization. He charged that the United States C.I.O. leader was trying to get "his greedy hands" on the pay envelopes of Ontario.

Hon. Earl Rowe, Conservative leader, was challenged by Mr. Hepburn to rescind any of the legislation the Liberal government had enacted. He took credit for savings resulting from the contract-cancelling Hydro legislation, reduction of interest rates and municipal income tax.

The Premier pledged himself to continue his drive on what he termed succession duties frauds. Already the government had collected $28,000,000, he said, and another $50,000,000 remained to be collected. This department now produced more revenue than did the gasoline tax.

In a brief address A. St. Clair Gordon of Wallaceburg, Liberal member of the Legislature, announced that he intended to allow his name to stand before the convention in that riding.

Comb Sea In Vain For Floating Plane

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Aug. 14 (C.P. Cable). — Officers and crew aboard two vessels said here yesterday a search for the wreckage of an airplane, reported nine miles off Cape Francis on the north-east tip of Avalon Peninsula, proved fruitless.

Report of the wreckage came yesterday from the crew of the fishing schooner Nina Matilda. The Nina's men said they distinctly saw the propellor and pontoons of the airplane.

The Government vessel Sagona cruised around the spot where the wreckage was believed floating, but without success. The coastal vessel Arras arrived in St. John's to-day and also reported no sign of the plane.

Conviction grew here that high seas, which had prevented the fishing schooner from making a more thorough search, would have swamped a plane in the time it took the two vessels to carry out their search.

Great Britain's might on the high seas is still unchallenged by world powers who are steadily increasing the size of their navies, according to the latest available figures. Britain has, including present tonnage and that under construction, 300,000 tons of fighting craft more than its closest rival, the United States. With exceptions in only three classes England has more ships than any other nation. In the Above table are included some craft which are considered "over age." Fascist countries such as Italy and Germany are at the bottom of the list in regard to fighting ships. One notable fact is that Italy has no aircraft carriers at present or under construction.

NO MORE REFUGEES.

LONDON, Aug. 12—(AP).—Great Britain, as well as France, may close her ports to added Spanish war refugees.

Informed sources said they "did not anticipate that Great Britain would receive further refugees."

The Board of Trade notified British shipowners of a French decision to halt further Spanish refugee immigration. The French told the Foreign Office that 45,000 Spaniards were already across the border and no more could be accommodated.

Nearly 3,000 anglers entrain regularly every Sunday morning at Sheffield, England, for their favorite fishing spots.

CLOSE SPANISH CONSUL.

GIBRALTAR, Aug. 14—(AP).—British authorities today ordered Consular offices of the Spanish insurgent regime here closed down. The order was understood to have been issued on the grounds the Consulate for several months has been issuing unauthorized passports.

McCamus And McNeil Families Hold Re-union At Orono Park

Over Hundred Members of Pioneer Clans Take Part in Program.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

JANETVILLE Aug. 14.—The annual McCamus and McNeil re-union was held on Saturady afternoon at the Orono Park, when over one hundred members of the clan were present from Toronto, Peterborough, Millbrook, Dunaford, Valentia, Port Perry, Springville, New York, Sunderland, Ida, Keene, Sunderland and Janetville.

During the afternoon sports, including softball and swimming were enjoyed by the younger folk, while the day passed all too swiftly for those who preferred reminiscing.

A delightful picnic supper, catered by Mr. and Mrs. Watson of Orono, was served from long tables arranged in the shade of the beautiful trees.

Following this repast a splendid program was enjoyed which included community singing, an interesting address on "Pioneers of Cavan," by Wilfred Brown; reading, "The Quints," Velma Staples; violin selection, Alan Brown; reading, "Robin's Prayer," Margaret McNeil; address, 'My Visit in Ireland," describing Cavan and Bailleboro of the ould jand by W. Bonus.

7—WORLD'S BIGGEST AND BEST GRANDSTAND ATTRACTIONS—7

THE FIVE ALBANIS
The Five Albanis, aerial motorcyclists, who will introduce insuperable feats atop a flimsy track high in midair, an imposing feature of the grandstand show at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. The Albanis, intrepid vaillants of the ether, presented their cycle pageantry at the Japanese Exposition recently, scoring a sensational success in the Orient. They are now enroute from Asia to fill their North American engagements.

SILVER THE WONDER HORSE
Silver the Wonder Horse has that quality called "Horse Scents" in abundance. Silver is a Satanic steed of the "prop" variety that causes its beautiful lady trainer plenty of worry and hardship before it's all over. Silver assumes every conceivable kind of pose and character and is one of the funniest acts in the entertainment world.

CLIFTON & JULES
A team of brilliant buffoons bouncing hither and yon. Clifton & Jules feature the grandstand show at the Peterborough Exhibition. These professional lunatics are paid to demolish themselves (all in fun, of course) in one of the real comedy acrobatic sensations of 1937. The clothes they wear are positively guaranteed not to win them this year's Beau Brummel award.

ARISTOCRATIC GOATS
A rarity in circus performances is the work done by the famous Aristocratic Goats, who present half a dozen pure white charges whose horns and hoofs are tinted with a rich gold. They construct pyramids, roll on barrels, walk the tight wire and execute pretty statuary number, an especial delight for the younger generation. In a second act, Pat and Mildred Chrisman indulge in breathtaking cracks of the big whips, in addition to a sterling variety of trick roping.

BRENGK'S GOLDEN HORSE
Brengk's Golden Horse, featuring Bella Donna, in a spectacular and pictorially beautiful posing novelty in which femininity and equine are painted in a rich gold. When multiple lighting effects play on the pageantry of poses and tableaux, the result is striking, almost fascinating. The statues produced seem almost like actual sculpture.

GOLDA HONEY
Golda Honey, golden-haired gladiatrix, is a tightwire artist of world renown. This mistress of grace and daring is a member of the celebrated Honey Family of Australian acrobats and tumblers. She twirls and dances on a silver thread, mounts a ladder and balances herself thereon, leaps through a set of small hoops and prances on the thin cord as if she were merely engaging in chores on the ground.

HONEY FAMILY
The Honeys specialize in tumbling and the vast repertoire of acrobatics that goes with it. Working with a springboard and high pedestal, they perform graceful leaps and twists through space singly, in pairs and in groups, and are particularly adept at midair exchanges which have the shoulders of their teammates as their destination. A feature of their act is a triple aerial somersault, ending in a chair supported by a high pole.

W. I. Ladies Hear Talk On Foot Health

Mrs. Margaret Harris of Hall's Bridge was hostess this week to members of the Women's Institute, when twenty members were present, with one visitor. The meeting opened with the Ode and the Lord's Prayer.

D. C. Grant of the R. Neill Store was the guest speaker, giving an interesting talk on Foot Health, which was much enjoyed by the ladies.

Discussion took place with regard to a bathing beach at Buckhorn, and plans were made for the trip to Apsley in September by truck. It was decided to put up two quilt for sale.

Miss Margaret Reil, for Health and Child Welfare activities, was in charge of the meeting, and introduced the speaker.

To Make Your Tea On the March

The playing fields of Eton may have been the genesis of Wellington's victory at Waterloo, but the tea-tables of England are responsible for many more triumphs of one sort or another.

Quite the newest ingenious wrinkle this one for camping, that has sprung from the tea-table, was printed recently in a cyclists' magazine. It obviates the carrying of a portable stove yet permits the traveller to have an invigorating cup of tea anywhere.

The magazine hint read:

"You can get a cup of tea when miles from anywhere if you take with you a small kettle, a lump of common salt six inches square, and a small bottle of petroleum. Place the salt in a hole in the ground and pour the petroleum on it, then put the kettle of water on top. It will boil the water, and the salt can be used over and over again."

Women M.P.'s Are Colorful

LONDON, Aug. 13 (CP).—"Why, how funny—those men were told to vote and they all walked out."

This was an American woman's comment on the proceedings when an amendment was challenged and members of the House of Commons filed into the voting lobbies. Like Casper of Southey's poem "What they fought each other for" she could not well make out, "but when the cheering resounded she knew it was "a famous victory."

The person she most wanted to see was Lloyd George. He was absent, but Megan, his daughter, was pointed out on the floor—a slight figure in black, with bolero slashed to show white beneath.

Mrs. H. B. Tate, Conservative member for Somerset-Frome, praised by A. P. Herbert, author of the Divorce Bill, in an interview for "loyal and indefatigable team-work," was the only other woman members present of the 14 elected. She was in black with touches of pink in a vestee. Her hair was prettily waved.

Mediaeval Touch

From behind the peers' gallery, looking across, the faces of women in the ladies' gallery (which holds only about 25 in the front row) seemed like those of saints in their niches, or like cloistered nuns, peering through arched openings.

It was the only mediaeval touch. After the glories of historic St. Stephens nearby, the setting of the Mother of Parliaments seemed rather tame. It held a sprinkling of casual, informal, easy-going, practical people in business suits, speaking simply and plainly with no attempt at rhetoric.

Long green-leather benches nicely padded, held at first perhaps 60, out of 600 members. When a spectacular debate is on the members' galleries are filled.

The chamber, so simple in panelling and treatment, was flooded on the dull morning with indirect light. Two imposing tables, backed together with the huge shining mace lying at the foot—three men in wigs, braided to a queue, on a dais above; and overtopping them the Speaker's canopied chair, in which a pale face could be seen with a large full wig.

And across the tables in the most conversational manner a member of the cabinet talked to a leading light opposite and tried to show him that his criticisms of a Milk Bill were quite unfounded.

Missed Boy Pages

One thing that struck a Canadian observer was the fact that there were no pages, as in Ottawa; no snapping of fingers and alert boy figures darting here and there. Messages are passed from hand to hand. There is no scrap paper on the floor. The treasury bench appeared to be no softer nor more distinguished in any way than the others.

When Mr. Herbert rose to address the House, the sprinkling of members present were interested, but not too much so. His bill had come back from the Lords with one important change: not likely there would be any fireworks. All were anxious for a holiday, lolling with negligent ease, knees crossed and legs spread out comfortably, alert enough if a chance came to get a rise out of the other side.

Mr. Herbert, Independent member for Oxford University, was not worried either; a tall figure, spectacled, with a good mop of hair. A whimsical mouth, showing the humor that made "Holy Deadlock", a current best-seller, such a success. He has a wife and young son and daughter.

COAT IS SHORT, SWAGGER

New Fur Suggests Tubular Silhouette With Saddle Shoulder, Petal Collar

Short swagger mink coat with tubular effect, saddle shoulder line, petal collar.

By LIBETH.

ISN'T LIFE just one thing after another? If you are not on vacation right now, you are probably dashing about in the heat trying on winter coats, for the August sales are upon us.

There are short furs and long furs, trimly fitted coats, boxy lines and short, bunchy models. The coat pictured was taken at the Thistledown race track in Cleveland, where there was a parade of models just as if it was dear old Paris. This model shows the new short, swagger mink coat, which gives the effect almost of a tubular silhouette. Notice the new saddle shoulder line and the petal collar.

Some of the new coats are entirely collarless, some with small collars — much smaller than in previous years. This is a youthful trend and I am wondering how the older woman will react. For them the larger collar is definitely more flattering.

Gibson Style Copied

The Gibson girl of the Gay Nineties is influencing the fashioning of furs this season, according to some designers. Black is the most important color in fur coats, in Russian caracula and Persian lamb. A full-length coat of black caracul trimmed in Persian lamb, being a model which illustrates the trend.

For the college wardrobe, brown caracul in boxy swaggers are the latest. Cord fastenings at the turnover collar are youthful and chic.

An interesting model for the college girl I saw was in white lamb. It was flared, with the effect of a yoke, and is suitable both for daytime or evening wear—killing two birds with one stone, as it were.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

And loathsome canker lives in sweetest bud.

Dear Friends:

The other day, a friend was showing me the calluses on her hands, and it came to me how very fortunate we all would be if we could acquire, early in life, calluses on our feelings.

We get them on our hands and feet, else they would blister badly, so nature thickens the skin to protect us from pain. But never does nature do that with our feelings, and many a time we go around with deep blisters which only the oil of kindness and understanding can soothe and heal.

Why cannot we be trained so that we are not so easily hurt? Why does little words have the power to sting and burn, and we with no power to thicken the skin of these feelings in any way.

Yet there should be a way. Education has made great strides in many way, but it hasn't got around yet to show us the way to live more happily, to forget the past, to adjust ourselves to each other, to let words slip off like water off a duck's back.

It's a funny thing, when human beings are the only ones to be able to use words to each other, that so many of these words are used to wound and sting. One would think that pleasant words have more beauty, but it looks as if the impatient ones, and the angry ones and the careless belittling ones are used more often.

And sometimes the lack of words are worse than all that could be spoken. The keeping back of a word of praise, or the words of encouragement, or the words of understanding sympathy, that is a bad thing.

But oh how much sorrow we could avoid, how many heartaches we could escape, if only some way could be found to thicken the skin of our feelings, so that barbed words could not pierce it.

Shakespeare tells us:

"But words are words; I never yet did hear
That the bruis'd heart was wounded through the ear."

And God our Father shows us the importance of words, for He tells us, "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was God." And later we are told, "Heaven and earth will pass away, but My Word will never pass away."

And so, as we are passing through life, let each and everyone of us try to use words that will please, remembering so that it will strengthen our will to use them, all the hurts our feelings have suffered because of certain words.

Let us do our utmost, to have the calluses of common sense so much around us inwardly that many bitter words do not get a chance to lodge and fester within us. How can we have peace of mind, how can we advance when we let these words hurt our feelings hold us back from the best.

Let us try, as I said before, to have an open mind, but open at both ends; one to let the good in, and the other to let the bad out. Then there would be no chance for the bad to linger, for the good would take up most of the room.

Indifference also, makes a good callous, for it is a hard thing to penetrate. I knew a man who had a nagging wife who used to have him dithering at times. Words were no good, so he used this indifference, and she got tired beating herself against it. He found it such a good friend that he used it on many occasions. And now I shall try it myself, for words have been bothering.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

Hon. George S. Henry Bringing Herd Of Prize Holstein Cattle To Peterborough Exhibition

Directors Make Final Plans For Peterborough's Big Show.

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition next week from Wednesday until Saturday night is the final community enterprise of the summer.

Directors concluded nearly a year's preparations Friday night at a meeting in A. D. Runions' office, reviewing the last details of arrangements, and reporting everything ready with the exception of whippet races for Friday afternoon which have not yet been definitely engaged, but may be included in the program for the second last day.

A central section of the grandstand is being reserved for the first time with the equipment of theatre chairs from the Grand Opera House, a gift to the Exhibition from the management of the theatre. Tickets for reserved seats are now on sale at Bond's Drug Store.

Wednesday is Children's Day, and the entire grandstand is being placed at the disposal of the young folks without any reservation of seats. It is also Junior Farmers' Day with a dinner in the evening for the boys and girls from the district who take part in this established feature. Gordon S. Matthews of Canada Packers Limited will be host to the junior farmers, and the Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario's Minister of Agriculture will be the chief speaker.

In addition to the complete vaudeville program for Wednesday afternoon will be a group of local amateurs who have been selected from the contests at the Brock Street Summer Gardens.

Formal Opening Thursday

Hon. Mr. Marshall is remaining in Peterborough for Thursday and will formally open the Exhibition that afternoon. He will be the guest of the city council at a civic dinner at noon Thursday.

Two horse races will be included in the afternoon programs on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and the seven acts of vaudeville brought to Peterborough from New York will comprise the feature of both the afternoon and evening performances.

Four automobiles will be given away free, one on each night of the Exhibition. Tickets for this nightly drawing have been distributed through the medium of merchants of the city and district.

Hon. G. S. Henry's Exhibit

G. A. Brethen of Norwood who is in charge of the registration of the pure bred livestock reported Friday night to one of the largest meetings of directors in years that all the entries had been certified by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. Pedigrees have been approved with the result that there will be no repetition of the several disappointments caused last year by this governmental requirement.

A new exhibitor at Peterborough will be the Hon. George S. Henry, former Premier of Ontario, and John M. Fraser of Streetsville whose herds of Holstein cattle stood at the head of their classes at the Canadian National Exhibition in recent years. Obviously they will furnish strong competition against the local breeders.

Mr. Brethen reported that there are 101 entries in the Holstein class, and he expects the quality of cattle on the whole to be exceptionally high, thereby enhancing the reputation of Peterborough's Exhibition and its prize winners.

Exhibitors of Jersey and Ayrshire cattle will be much the same as in recent years. In the beef classes the R. E. Birdsall & Son herd of Herefords will compete with the entries by R. E. Thurston and O'Neill Brothers. Shorthorns will again be a strong class, and in the Polled Angus class Arnold McKinnon of Millsburg is a new exhibitors with Edwards Brothers and Bertram Blackburn.

Among the Shorthorns to be shown by local breeders will be some of the offspring of "Mystic Prince", C.N.E. grand champion that was owned for a time by George Whittington & Son of South Monaghan.

Conklin's Shows Coming

Dominating the midway will be Conklin's Shows who are bringing to Peterborough the outstanding novelties in popular amusements in this country. Conklin Brothers have been given full charge of the midway at the Toronto Exhibition this year, and their games and rides and other features are going directly from Peterborough to Toronto.

Tom Brown, president, and his associates are confident that their plans for the Exhibition should be rewarded with a record breaking attendance next week. Their program is exceedingly well balanced and complete and they feel their efforts warrant the heartiest support of the people of the city and county and district. They are hoping for a big crowd Thursday afternoon when the Hon. Duncan Marshall is here. The Minister of Agriculture has expressed a wish to see the Exhibition Peterborough has built up, and for that purpose he is arriving here Wednesday and remaining until Thursday night.

The Rambling REPORTERS

THE JARRING NOTE.

He was a large and heavy man, but he was well-groomed and there was something fascinating about the manner in which he ate his food. Instead of downing it in wolf-like fashion or looking at it as if he didn't like the sight of it at all, he proceeded with care to make a careful and fastidious meal. He may have been a trifle old-fashioned, because Emily Post, the arbiter of what's what, says we should use our knife and fork impartially for eating, instead of favoring the latter all the time. But still, it was a nice exhibition of just how to go about the somewhat vulgar art of stoking up the human furnace. He used his serviette constantly, didn't slop his coffee about in the saucer, and crooked his little finger carefully as he lifted the cup.... And then, when he got up to leave the table, he gave a loud and terrible gulp.....C.L.M.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK

It is utter folly to envy him who prospers in his way. But it is wisdom far above rubies to draw near to God and wait for Him—to hope for the glorious reward of a trusting obedient soul. Dissatisfaction with our condition is often due to the false ideas we have of the happiness of others.

STRIKE LEADERS HAVE REPUDIATED ALDERMAN GORDON

Thorough repudiation of G. N. Gordon, K.C., as a friend of the Peterborough textile strike cause, and denial that any action of the alderman has ever had the official approval of the strike governing body is contained in a statement handed out by Strike Chairman Mike English to-day.

The statement follows:

"In view of the persistence of Mr. G. N. Gordon of this city presuming time after time to issue statements to the public, to send telegrams and otherwise to communicate with the public authorities ostensibly as being in some way identified with, or as advising or assisting in the strike proceedings of the employees of the Dominion Woollens, the strike committee, regretting the necessity which Mr. Gordon's conduct has made necessary of making our position clear with the public with respect to Mr. Gordon has instructed the chairman of the strike committee to state on its behalf that Mr. Gordon except for a request to act on a citizens' committee to raise funds for relief purposes has acted entirely on his own initiative and that at no time has Mr. Gordon in any way been instructed or authorized by or on behalf of the strike body to make any statement or any representation.

"While the committee welcomes and appreciates any sincere assistance rendered to it by citizens of Peterborough, we are regretfully obliged to state that in this instance Mr. Gordon seems to have assumed the right to act and be regarded as guiding or conducting the strike and its affairs, and what is more, to attempt to dictate to and arbitrarily to impose his will upon the strike body. Upon this being unsuccessful, Mr. Gordon turns now and attempts to discredit the strike and its leaders and to make it appear that the violence on Tuesday morning was attributable to the picketers instead of, as was actually the case, due to the brutal, provocative and premeditated acts of a police force armed and determined to intimidate the striking body.

"Throughout the strike, the strike committee and its leaders have been influenced by one purpose only: to peacefully exercise their rights to picket the company's plants, and peacefully to communicate to all others the facts and circumstances concerning the strike. The events on Tuesday morning arose solely out of the forceful and violent determination of the police to prevent picketers from exercising these rights.

"So recently as the 22nd of July, Mr. Gordon in a telegram addressed to Mr. Alex. Welch, organizer for United Textile Workers, urging him among other statements as follows: 'Do not trust Dawson, Barrett and Dominion Woollen officials,' and 'Insist on a written agreement executed by company officials.' That policy has been and is still the policy of the strike committee, but Mr. Gordon's recent utterances would seem to suggest that for personal reasons he has changed from the position which he then on his own initiative urged in the telegram to the strikers through Mr. Welch. That change of heart is Mr. Gordon's own privilege, but we would prefer that it be quite clear that no statement or act of Mr. Gordon's has either the sanction or approval of the Bonner-Worth and Auburn strikers.

"Michael E. English."

BUCKSAW CONTEST HELD TO DECIDE WORLD CHAMPION

Fame and fifty dollars are only two of the awards for the 1937 winner of the Worlds Bucksaw Championship to be decided in Peterborough next Thursday and Friday morning.

Last year it was old Tom Walling on whom the camera men focussed their lenses to flash his exploit on a thousand theatre screens.

Will the finals next Friday produce a new champion? Sportsmen are asking that question, pondering the chances of Walling to repeat his victory of 1936.

In preparing for the contest the Examiner has spared no expense in an effort to put every contestant on an equal basis with all the others. The round hardwood logs of last year, selected carefully as they were, are out in this year's tourney.

The Examiner has arranged with Harold Scott of the Scott Fuel and Lumber Company for a supply of hand-picked four foot maple logs six inches square. That detail guarantees seasoned sticks of uniform size, measured to the last degree of exactness to make sure that none of the sawers will be handicapped to the slightest extent.

Three cuts in each stick, and as an aid to the contestants the sticks will be marked to indicate lengths of approximately twelve inches. Sawhorses will be supplied, and will be twenty-two inches wide, overall measurement.

These are general rules eliminating any possibility of doubt about the equality of the contest. The men will face the judges on even terms in all the material aspects of the tourney. The rest is up to themselves.

The fact that this title of World's Bucksaw Champion is being decided again in Peterborough should attract the most efficient bucksaw artists of Ontario, certainly of this district. At this stage there is no assurance that the honor may not leave this part of the country. Expectations of competition next week from outside this area are increasing as the days of the big event approach, and there is the possibility that the Examiner Cup and the title may be wrested from this section if the men who believe they are capable of making a showing in the battle fail to enter.

Probably Tom Walling may be able to duplicate his sensational performance of last year, and retain the title. It may pass into other and abler hands, but at any rate the men of sawing ability from this district should be the first to sign the entry blanks signifying that they are determined to see that the championship which was first won in Peterborough remains here.

Amateur Performers For The Exhibition

Huge Muskie Takes Fisherman's Line But Both Found Several Hours Later

From Chemong Lake comes one of the best fish stories of the year—and it's perfectly true. An angler named Bowers from Oshawa, is the hero and it transpires that he was out fishing the other morning when a huge muskie took hold and in a short time made a successful dash for liberty, carrying off part of the line with him as a souvenir. Much disgusted, Mister Bowers made a trip into town, purchased a new plug and at night chug-chugged out to the same spot where he had his bad luck in the morning. And, believe it or not, he found his missing line. And strange as it may seem the muskie was still on it, held prisoner when the line had become tangled in the weeds. He was a nice fish, too, for he tipped the scales at 18 pounds when brought to shore and weighed.

Chemong Lake supplies another fish story this week with J. K. Hughes the No. 1 man in this yarn. It seems that the genial J. K. had been bringing back a lunge from the other side of the lake and before he got near the Chemong side, he ran the snubbing rope of his boat down the muskie's mouth. When he arrived inshore he informed all and sundry that he had been going along with the rope dangling over the side and this lunge had grabbed it. Whether he convinced all his audience that he had discovered a new fishing technique is doubtful, but anyway that is the story and J. K. is stuck with it.

CLOSE ENOUGH.

However several of the orchestra boys from Rye's Pavilion spotted the swimmers and pulled them ashore in time.

Brilliant Buffoons At The "Ex"

CLIFTON AND JULES, COMEDY ACROBATS

The vaudeville performance at the Peterborough Exhibition includes these two aces of crazy antics, a pair of professional lunatics who have made countless thousands laugh. Clowning is their specialty, and as Peterborough was off the circus route this year the Exhibition is filling the gap, especially for the younger generation who are in for a lot of fun and laughter when Clifton and Jules are doing their stuff.

Sparks from the Preacher's Anvil

The fist of lawlessness hammers at our doors, breaking into the most sacred sanctuaries, threatening all that is precious. It is the tragedy of the universe and its source is man's spiritual revolution against his Creator God. Sins of the social disorder come from sin—THE SIN of Lawlessness. The generations of man are "children of disobedience," hence their story is that of the refusal of the benevolent rule of God (His kingdom) and all the cruel social disorder that follows this sin.

The Word of God states that the times in which we live will be days of EVER-INCREASING LAWLESSNESS. (Matt. 24, 12.) They are described as days of scoffers, despisers of dominion, deniers of the despot Lord; anti-Christs. This age will not end in a kingdom of social justice and order; but in the very opposite. To corroborate this there is ample evidence about us. In the organized church there is apostasy—religious leaders denying the Word of God, our Lord Jesus, His Calvary work. The fact of salvation by Grace and His Second Advent. Moral lawlessness always follows spiritual lawlessness, and the apostate religious leaders must bear the blame for the morals of our time, e.g., new behaviourism, liberty, freedom, self-expression, sex looseness in dress, speech and action. From these domestic lawlessness is sure. Marriage lightly entered at "Gretna Greens" is as lightly thrown off at "Divorce Reno." Lax parental authority and insubordination of children come next, with social lawlessness, of crime and violence like a flood wrecking all in its way, following quickly along. These are the beginning of the terrible days of the end times. The dictatorial revolt in European countries; the international lawlessness of Italy, Germany, Japan; the weakness of the League of Nations; the "scrap-paper treaties," are other evidences of these lawless times. "The mystery of lawlessness doth already work" and the Bible says it will end in the iniquitous reign of the "Super-lawless one" (II. Thess., 2nd chapter), who will be absolute in a godless, ecclesiastical, political, industrial and commercial regime. God hates this and will destroy it. THE KING, now rejected, will be revealed from heaven; He will rule with a rod of iron. (See the Second Psalm.) Only then will there be order and equity. Only then will the sin of society be put down and the law of Love be in force. But for the individual there is a hope of present deliverance from the carnal heart that keeps him at war with God. Centuries ag the King Son of Heaven came to redeem us from all lawlessness. To do this He was obedient unto death. On Calvary He bore the penalty of the broken law, being numbered with the lawless. Now lawlessness can be forgiven. Rejection of the Saviour continues disobedience and brings wrath and judgment. (Tit. 3, 36; II. Thess. 1, 8-9.) Cease Spiritual Lawlessness by accepting Jesus as your Saviour to-day, for hope is that man. Romans 6, 7.

Herb. Cardwell Wins Ribbons For Best Gladioli Display At Horticultural Show

Special Winners Are Announced at Society's Annual Show.

Herb. Cardwell of Wallace Point captured the Ontario Horticultural Association's ribbon for the most artistic display of gladioli at the Peterborough Horticultural Society's flower show which opened Friday afternoon in the Canadian Legion Hall and is open to the public again this afternoon and evening.

Points were awarded in this decorative class for the most attractive arrangements of gladioli, especially in the harmonizing of color and other effects of beauty. George H. Clarke, 49 Alfred Street, won second prize, and third went to W. C. Wilks, 584 Chamberlain Street.

Mr. Cardwell also carried off the Dr. A. J. Madill challenge cup for the largest number of first prizes scored by exhibitors.

For the most artistic display of flowers other than gladioli, the first award was won by Mrs. Fred Dummitt, 51 Alfred Street, with W. G. P. Benton second, John Matthews of Lakefield third and Mrs. George Clarke fourth.

Mrs. Dummitt's striking arrangement and selection of flowers was one of the finest in the show, employing a comprehensive range of bloom in a most attractive setting.

The T. Eaton Company special prize, a cut glass rose bowl with silver deposit, for the highest score of points in the annuals and perennials classes, was won by Mrs. W. C. Wilks, Chamberlain Street, who ran up a score of twenty-five points.

For the second successive year the Wilks garden produced the finest gladiolus spike, and was awarded the G. H. Clarke Cup. The lovely "Tip Top" variety of gladiolus repeated for Mr. Wilks, a rather unusual coincident that this variety should have won two years in a row for the same exhibitor.

400 Entries In Show.

It was estimated that more than 400 entries comprise this week's show with gladioli vying with the annuals and perennials for prominence.

Sweet peas were specially mentioned by directors for the reason that local florists were reported recently to have exhausted their supplies, being forced to turn to the amateurs for bloom. This section was well represented with many beautiful specimens that were also notably fragrant.

For Sunday, August 15

Sunday's horoscope holds testimony of important decisions and undertakings which may have a very important bearing on stabilizing the fortunes and the general status, putting them on a dependable and progressive basis. This may involve much hard work, enterprising and responsibility, as well as decisive actions and sound judgment. There are matters pending that are worth working for.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confronted by a year in which very definite decisions and drastic actions must be taken in putting the fortune and the future on a stable basis. Hard work, sustained application and high initiative as well as responsibility may be called for. Friendly advice is of importance in such conclusions.

A child born on this day may be practical, creative and enterprising, as well as deep, studious and determined, characteristics which may prove needful in making adjustments in its work and career.

For Monday, August 16

Monday's astrological forecast is for a day of splendid opportunity, with promotion, preferment and the solid support of employers, superiors and influential personages assured. However, there are some subtle treacherous and sinister situations to be alert to, with deception or confusion that may entail some sort of loss. Sign papers cautiously and all concerning writings should bring benefits, probably publicity. In private affairs, look for a romantic prospect.

Those whose birthday it is are on the eve of a year of excellent opportunities for advancement, promotion, preferment and tokens of approbation from employers or those in power and prestige. These substantially assist to progress and prosperity, despite certain treacheries, intrigues, subtleties or fraud. This confusion may account for a loss. But all concerning papers, writings and such should thrive, with precaution and vigilance. A romantic adventure in private life a possible.

A child born on this day may be versatile, brilliant intellectually creative and imaginative, but these traits if misdirected, may develop in undesirable phases — exaggeration, prevarication and silliness.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

PUCK FANS, who sit in the balcony at the Brock, all know Al Spencely. He is the big genial gent who takes tickets there at all O.H.A. tussles. Has two husky sons playing football for the Orfuns. But this item is not about his sons, but about Al himself. At an Old Boys' Reunion in Ottawa 'way back 30 years ago, Al won a one-mile bicycle race, and this appeared in the Ottawa Citizen: "The one-mile bicycle race, the final in the one last week, was witnessed, too. Al Spencely of Peterborough proved a winner, with Marshall second and Ramsay third. The men did the mile in fair time and were together till the last quarter, when Spencely put on a spurt that the others could not follow. Spencely rode a clever, fast race from beginning to end and deserved the ovation tendered him as he crossed the finishing line ahead of Marshall."

* * * * *

IN THE same paper appeared this letter, signed by one Billy Jones: "Sporting Editor, Citizen—I, the undersigned will accept Mr. Spencely's challenge to a bicycle race any time during the Carnival week, if the committee will put up a suitable prize. I would be delighted to arrange with Mr. Spencely, or any other cyclist, for races during the Reunion and think that the sports' committee should set aside a small appropriation to encourage cycling in this city. Hoping to hear from Mr. Spencely through the columns of the Citizen, I remain, etc." We don't know if this race ever came off or not. So Al can sit back and brag to his boys of the days when he was in the sporting limelight.

THE 1937 world's champion bucksaw contest this year will be held next Thursday and Friday mornings, at 8.30 D.S.T., and is open to anyone. This contest was started last year by The Examiner and proved a big success, a flock of imitation contests following in various centres. The old-fashioned bucksaw—not the Swede Saw—will be used, supplied by the contestants. Takes place on Simcoe St., between George and Water, on a high platform. Each guy saws three cuts to a large log, six inches square and four feet long—racing against time. Two fastest will challenge Tom Walling, present champ, and the three will compete simultaneously. Prizes include a big silver cup, $50 in cash, $25 to runner-up, $10 and other good prizes donated by merchants. Other dope may be had by inquiring at this office.

IN ANSWER to our remarks recently on the Cobourg gals' softball manager and his plaints 'gainst the local loop, Ernie Foote of Cobourg writes: "You're all right, Cec., except for the part about being given the privilege of naming a local gent to the umpiring staff. We certainly didn't get that offer. If you will remember, Keene claimed they had no one to act from there and agreed to Batley and Bennett; therefore this club had to agree or else stay out." Also he says he isn't kicking about the umps because the club didn't do so well in the second half, and points out several incidents to bear him out. Okay, Ernie, we just thought we'd check you up on your lengthy complaint, much of which was unreasonable. And Prexy Ev. Thomas assures us that he twice offered to let Cobourg use a home umps for tilts in Cobourg. Come to think of it, it's a fine state of affairs when we go about championing umpires, what? That'll never, never do.

A JIBE or two also from Oshawa: "It's too bad that a real good lacrosse team—which the Auburns are without a doubt—should find it so hard to take their first defeat that they must run home to their own sports writer and give him a lot of alibis. They are making hints too about the Oshawa certificates—but since every member of the 222 team is a homebrew and, unlike Peterborough, not gathered in from Toronto, Campbellford, Millbrook, Norwood, etc., the Oshawa club has no worries. When playoff time arrives, the certificates will be ready. When did Peterborough sign up Cadd and Loucks, who was a resident of Lindsay in June?" Come, come, George, don't ask embarrassing questions! And it must be nice to have one team in Oshawa—certainly not intermediate or senior ball, or rugby or hockey—where imports don't stud the lineup liberally.

RESULTS of last night's softball struggles should be listed elsewhere in this sheet. Westclox and Motorists meet at Central this eve at seven in the fourth game of their four-in-seven series to declare an O.A.S.A. team, the Clockmakers having won two so far. Winner will go into the Ontario intermediate playdowns against Belleville in about two weeks time. We hope to goodness the Quinte team is the Percival Stores and that they again bring along Umpire St. Denis. If so, someone had better ask the provincial cops to stick around till then! Westclox gals have a playoff in Cobourg on Monday, and these teams clash here again on Tuesday.

* * * * *

AUBURNS won another lacrosse match last night, defeating the Flying Rovers of Belleville by a 20-6 score here before a slim crowd. It was the locals' last home game of the O.O.L.A. schedule but they have a couple of tilts to play away from home next week, one against Belleville and one in Norwood. So the playoffs won't commence for at least another week, and meantime there will be no lacrosse here this coming week. The affair last p.m. was plenty one-sided. It rated to be a fairly soft touch for the Auburns anyway, but then the Quinte crew came along shorthanded—having only one sub. So they didn't have a chance. Joe Gould would have been with the team, but he got a cracked rib from Kelly Degray in the last clash with Oshawa.

* * * * *

NOTHING much to report on the fray—the story is in the scoring summary. Whitton, Dundas and Crowe looked good, and the rest were effective, too. The game developed into a sort of practise session with a lot of laughs thrown in toward the end. Slim Burdes provided a lot of color as he picked up his dogs and laid 'em down. Tompkins went good for the losers. If we missed some of the highlights of the tussle, don't blame us—we had six girls parked in the press box with us! Yeah, reporting sometimes has its bright side, too.

UP AND DOWN Sports' Rialto: Napanee's game in Oshawa today was a morning melee, starting at 11 bells....A town the size of Oshawa should leave the writer on their paper no room to call Peterborough "a village"....Rest of the postponed C.O.B.L. games will be run off next week; they should have been completed by today as a loop ruling states....Orfuns will have another chalk talk next Thursday p.m. and then commence outdoor drills....Local sports should be kept from clashing with the Peterborough Exhibition next week, if possible....There'll be hoss races at the Ex. again....Saw Chuck Conacher in a local eating house yesterday, and he was drinking milk! The big bomber of Toronto Leafs travels about for a coal company....Both Westclox softball teams, gals' and men's, won their games last e'en....At Central Monday, Motorists meet Omemee; while Tuesday sees another Westclox-Motorists' clash for the O.A.S.A. series....Young Petes play Belleville here next Tuesday—instead of Wednesday....Lowrie is lost to Trenton Fliers for hockey next winter ....And so we come to another weekend—or is it weak end?

PACKERS GAIN SOCCER TROPHY

The Packers will have possession of the Injured Players soccer trophy for the coming year by reason of a 1-1 victory over C.C.F. in final of series played at King Edward Park on Friday night. The game was witnessed by a fair crowd of spectators.

C.P.C. won the toss and kicked downhill with the advantage of a strong wind behind them. They carried the play to the C.C.F. goal and Tarkington saved a lobbed shot from Shea. Continuous pressure by C.P.C. brought out the best qualities of the C.C.F. defence. Castle in particular doing yeoman service. Jones, C.P.C. drove a hard fast ground shot which was labelled but Castle saved on goal-line. 15 minutes had gone by when C.P.C. opened the score Shea scoring with a short range cross shot, after G. Downer had hit the crossbar. Then C.C.F. had their turn. Beggs driving two nice shots at Rishea who saved nicely. Clever football by C.C.F. at this point was worthy of at least a goal and they were rewarded.

After clever combination by the left wing, Meyette, Smeltzer and Thorne, the latter's pass to Dyer was taken in his stride and from outside the penalty area, he scored a beautiful goal shooting a fast rising shot into the lefthand corner of the net after 25 minutes, to tie the score. Ace Downer and Todd were defending stubbornly with Rishea (his first game incidentally) making some clever clearances. Both inside lefts, G. Downer, C.P.C., Thorne, C.C.F., were making nice openings for the rest of their forwards. Jones, C.P.C. also very conspicuous, especially his headwork, and Lawrence C.C.F. was spoon feeding his wing man, Henwood with accurate passes. With the ball in midfield the half ended with the score reading 1-1.

After the interval pressure was exerted by C.P.C. where a hard drive by G. Downer was saved by Tarkington. Cleared by Adams, Dyer and A. Downer raced for the ball and after a neck and neck race Dyer was frustrated on the goaline of C.P.C.

A free kick awarded to C.P.C. was taken by N. Downer who drove a terrific grounder at Tarkington who made a brilliant save. Hesitation by the C.C.F. defence caused its downfall after 16 minutes, G. Downer scoring with a fast shot to put them one up. They went further ahead 4 minutes later G. Downer scoring again with a close in shot from a scrimmage, B. Wilson, Jones and N. Downer were breaking up attacks before they got started.

Discarding the short passing game at this period C.C.F. started swinging the ball about and were successful in keeping the Packers defence running about. They were worried, the Packers' defence and kept kicking the ball out repeatedly. McDonald and Henwood were conniving cleverly to carry the play to the Packers goal, with Lawrence putting his passes along the bottom to his wing, the real pass Ace Downer who was the savior of his side time and time again, cleared up the field N. Downer seized the ball and made a good run before passing to G. Downer who then transferred to Harris who scored the 4th goal from close in. Shortly after the whistle sounded with darkness descending rapidly, the score was Packers 4, C.C.F. 1.

Summing up it was a good game, hard fought with some good football thrown in. C.C.F. were the better team in the first half with C.P.C. having the edge in the second. Best for Packers were Rishea, A. Downer, Jones, N. Downer, B. Wilson, G. Downer and Buchan. For C.C.F., Tarkington, Castle, Lawrence, McDonald, Dyer, Thorne. The referee G. Blowers, handled the game very well and the linesmen, W. Jones and D. Buchan carried out their duties efficiently.

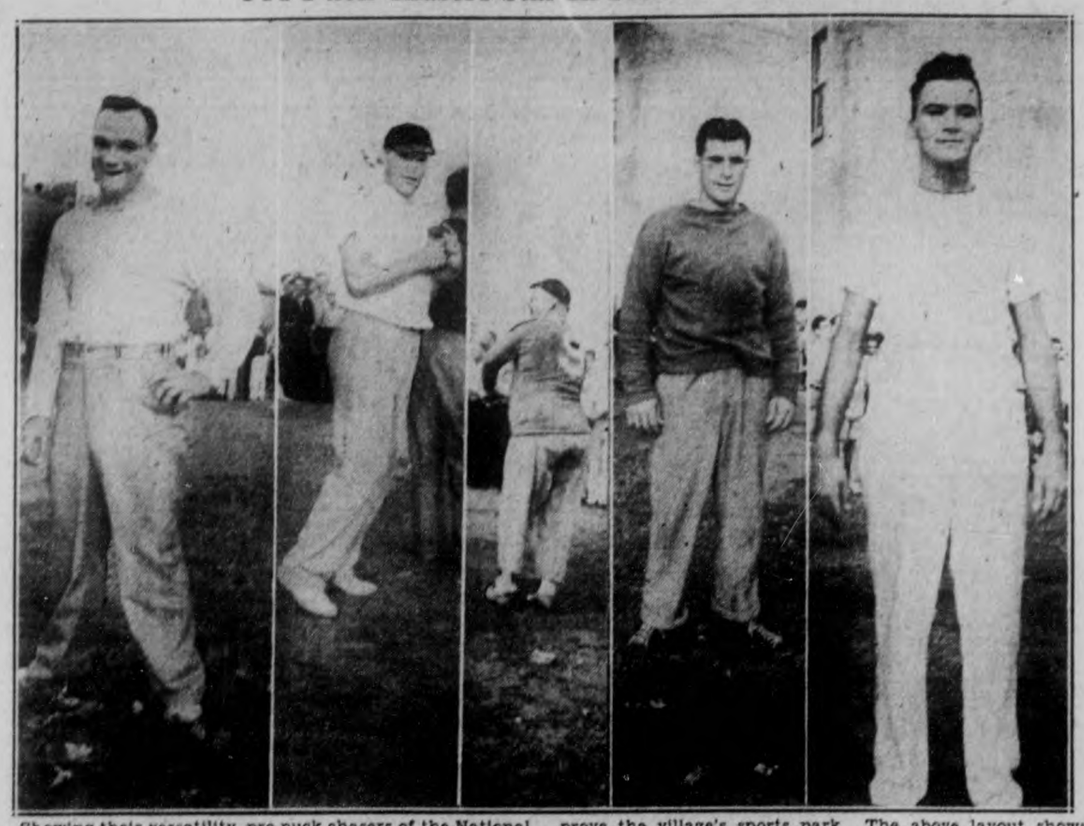
Lineups:

Packers: Rishea, A. Downer, Todd, N. Downer, Jones, Wilson, Shea, A. Downer, Buchan, G. Downer, Harris.

C.C.F.: Tarkington, Castle, Adams, Lawrence, Beggs, Meyette, Henwood, McDonald, Dyer, Thorne, Smelt; subs, Clapman and Jobe.

Referee, G. Blowers; linesmen, W. Jones and D. Buchan.

Pro Puck Chasers Star In Softball Contest



Showing their versatility, pro puck chasers of the National Hockey League were successful in turning back the threat of Norwood-Keene-Hastings Combines in an exhibition softball contest. The game which was won by the 'Money Gang' 8-2 was held in connection with the Hastings field day and dance this week for the purpose of obtaining money to improve the village's sports park. The above layout shows (1) Chuck Conacher of Toronto Maple Leafs, (2) 'Dit' Clapper, Hastings home boy and member of Boston Bruins, (3) Hap Wilson, former professional hockey and baseball player, (4) Busher Jackson of Toronto Leafs (5) Gordon Drillon also of the Leafs.

OSHAWA DEFEATS NORWOOD OUTFIT FOR 10-6 VICTORY

NORWOOD, August 14.—Oshawa took a hard fought Central Ontario Lacrosse League game from Norwood 10 to 6 in the Norwood arena last night (Friday).

A free-for-all broke out in the fourth period when Baker of Norwood and Le Roy of Oshawa exchanged punches. Before Referee Bud Fisher could separate them the players of both teams were all involved. It resulted in major penalties to Baker and Daniels.

Oshawa took a 5 to 1 lead in the first period, made it 7 to 1 in the second and it stood 9 to 2 in favor of Oshawa when the fourth period started.

Two minutes later Hunter took Smith's pass to score Norwood's second goal and he scored his third goal of the game 2 minutes before the period ended to reduce Oshawa's lead to 9 to 3.

Saunders scored his fourth goal after 1 minute in the fourth period to give Oshawa a 7 goal lead. Rothwell came back 1 minute later to sink Norwood's fourth while Baker took G. Puffer's pass at the 6 minute mark to score another and reduce Oshawas lead to 5. Richardson took Edmunds' pass 2 minutes later to score Norwood's last and the game ended with Norwood pressing hard.

Saunders, DeGray, Cook and LeRoy were the Oshawa standouts, while Tuntef, Baker and W. Rogers were Norwood's stars.

Westclox Girls Defeat Cobourg 8-0 In First Game of Circuit Playoffs

Westclox girls won the first game of their three-in-five playoff finals from Cobourg here last night by an 8-0 score before a big crowd of fans. It was a snappy fixture, lasting slightly more than a hour, and saw some good softball dished up. Second game of this series will be Monday in Cobourg, and third game is slated for here next Tuesday.

The homesters got off to an early start with two runs in the first inning on three hits and an error. They added two in the third on a miscue and D. Merrett's homer. Four more counted in the sixth on three hits, one a double and two boots. Barb Blade pitched shutout ball to scatter eight hits as she fanned two and walked one, getting good support in the pinches from her teammates. R. Slater was nicked for nine hits while fanning three and walking none. Her support was shaky in the clutches.

I. Pavy of Westclox had a double and single, while B. Blade and M. Selkirk each hit two singles, and D. Merrett got a four-bagger. E. Toyne and A. Gibson had two singles each for the losers. Fielding plays by D. Merrett and M. Allison along with a double-play, B. Blade and G. Mortimer, were defensive features for the winners. R. Thompson and A. Gibson went good in the field for Cobourg. The teams:

PHILADELPHIA ROOKIES HOLD SLUGGING YANKS

NEW YORK, Aug. 14—(UP).—Two of Connie Mack's freshmen hurlers held the slugging New York Yankees to three hits yesterday and the Philadelphia Athletics shaded the American League leaders 4 to 3.

Ross started the game and allowed all the Yank hits and runs in the seven innings he pitched before being lifted for a pinch-hitter.

Going into the eighth on the short end of a 3 to 1 count, the A's loaded the sacks when Lefty Gomez lost control and walked three men. Jack Rothrock, batting for Ross, drove a single to centre for two runs to tie the score. Moses' single to left centre drove Newsome home from second with the winner.

Red Sox Blanked 3-0

The loss didn't impair the Yanks' 11½ game lead, however, as the Boston Red Sox were blanked 3 to 0 by the Washington Senators. Pete Appleton held the Cronin sluggers to six hits, while the Senators reached Marcum, Ostermueller and Walberg for nine. It was Washington's fifth straight win.

The Chicago White Sox dropped into fourth place, as they were defeated 7 to 3 by Cleveland Indians. Mel Harder held the Sox to five hits for his seventh victory of the year and the Tribe's fourth straight. Julius Solters paced the Indians' ten-hit attack with a double and three singles in four trips to the plate.

One-Run Victory

The Detroit Tigers scored seven runs in the first four innings, then fought off two St. Louis Brown rallies to emerge 7 to 6 winners. The Tigers walloped Hildebrand and Trotter for twelve hits, including homers by Greenberg and Gehringer. Wade and Gill combined to hold the Browns to eight.

Caldwell Bests Newark Bats To Give Toronto 3-2 Victory

Win Boosts Leafs Back Into Fifth Place Over Orioles.

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—(CP)—Earl Caldwell, the well-built Toronto righthander who couldn't do St. Louis Browns much good early in the season, is having a big hand in keeping the Toronto Leafs in the battle for an International League playoff berth.

Caldwell has won nine and lost five for the Leafs so far this season with most of his victories coming over first division clubs. Earl boasts today of being one of the few hurlers who holds the edge over Newark's league-leading Bears.

He hung up his second victory against no defeats over the Bruins last night when he outlasted two Newark pitchers to win 3-2 in 12 innings. The win boosted the Leafs back into fifth place over Baltimore Orioles who took a 16-4 walloping from Rochester Red Wings. They were still 2½ games behind the fourth place Bisons who eked out a 4-3 victory over Jersey City.

17-Hit Attack.

The Orioles got an inkling of what was in store for them when Red Wings unleashed a 17-hit attack on three pitchers. Estil Crabtree and Lou Scoffic paced Rochester bombardment with nine hits between them. Crabree had a perfect night with five for five, while Scoffic got four for five. Meanwhile, Nub Kleinke limited the Orioles to seven hits and breezed through to his 17th win of the season against five defeats.

Butch Meyers was the man of the hour up in Buffalo. The Bison third-sacker rammed a homer over the left field barrier with two out in the ninth inning to give the Bisons their victory. It was a tough break for Glen Gabler, the Jersey flinger, for the three previous Buffalo runs were all the result of a pair of errors by shortstop Otto Bluege.

The Syracuse-Montreal encounter was rained out but there was bad news for the Royals. It was announced that Gus Dugas, their hard-hitting converted first-baseman was out for the season. Dugas is in Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, being treated for a lung injury.

Lou Fette, Bees—Stopped Dodgers 5-2 with six hits, fanning eight.

Hank Greenberg, Tigers —Hit homer, double and single and drove in three runs to whip Browns 7-6.

Pete Appleton, Senators—Fanned four, walked one and allowed four hits to blank Red Sox 3-0.

Charley Root and Ken O'Dea, Cubs — Former's four-hit relief pitching for 7 1-3 innings handcuffed Reds as O'Dea led attack in 22-6 victory with four singles, driving in four runs.

Belleville Rovers Lose To Auburn Lacrossers

Locals Wind Up Home Schedule With 20-6 Victory Over Weakened Rivals.

Auburns completed their home schedule in the O.L.A. with a 20-6 win over Belleville Rovers here last night before some 400 fans. It was the 13th victory in 14 starts for the local lacrossers during their group schedule. The visitors last night were minus several regulars and had but one substitute player, and consequently Auburns had an easy time of it. They were even in the first frame at 1-1, but Auburns had a 5-2 lead to end the second stanza and were in front 13-2 going into the fourth. Play was clean and fairly fast most of the way.

Whitton, Dundas and Crowe were all prominent in the scoring, but the rest of the homesters also showed up well against rather weak opposition. Goalie R. Creighton had two assists and played out part of the last quarter. Tompkins, Burdes and Day looked best for the losers, but the whole team tried hard and made it a good game till their condition gave out.

Stars Slowly

In the first period, play was ragged with many missed passes and muffed scoring chances. Huson scored first for Belleville but Whitton got it back shortly on Dundas' pass. Day drew a penalty for tripping. Dundas started the second with a neat goal on Whitton's pass and then Crowe got two, one aided by E. Creighton. King tallied from Whitton and Tompkins got a goal for the Rovers. Battersby and G. Creighton drew penalties during this heat, both for tripping. Auburns showed considerable edge during this session.

The locals ran wild to sink eight goals without a return during the third period. Whitton and Dundas combined for the first three, Ira getting two. Then Whitton tallied alone, followed by E. Creighton from Crowe. The latter had a solo effort and then Cadd counted on E. Creighton's pass. Miller bulged the hemp to end the scoring orgy. There were no penalties. King started the fourth with a goal on Red Creighton's long pass. Tompkins got it back and he scored right after Loucks had fooled the visiting goalie. Burdes added another but Whitton scored twice on passes from Red Creighton and Loucks. Crowe counted two more, one on E. Creighton's pass and one from Pammett. G. Creighton got one from King and Tompkins finished it up with a nice marker on Day's pass. E. Creighton drew the only penalty.

The teams:

Belleville: Goal, Fox; defence, Burdes and Huson; centre, Lalonde; rover, Day; wings, Tompkins and Tache; alternates, Battersby.

Auburns: Goal, R. Creighton; defence, Miller and Sloan; centre, Anderson; wings, Crowe and E. Creighton; rover, Pammett; alternates, King, Whitton, Loucks, G. Creighton and Cadd.

HARNESS HORSES SET TWO RECORDS

GOSHEN, N.Y., Aug. 14—(AP). — Two world records were broken and the most important purchase in harness horse circles of the season was concluded in the semi-final day of Grand Circuit racing at Good Time Park yesterday.

In the final heat of the Goshen pace, put over from yesterday, Dominion Grattan, owned by Paul Bowser the Boston wrestling promoter, and driven by Tom Berry, paced the mile in 2.00. That established a new fourth-heat record, wiping out the mark of 2.02 made by Margaret Dillon in 1920.

A short time later Calumet Evelyn and Rosalind established a new record for a three-heat split race as Calumet Evelyn defeated the 1936 Hambletonian winner in the first division of the Progressive trot. Rosalind took the first heat in 2.01, and Calumet Evelyn the next two in 2.00¼ and 2.00¼. The previous record was made by Tara and Hollyrood Phyllis in 1935.

Breeder Buys Him Back

Mr. Watt driven by the veteran reinsman, Doc Parshall, won the Hollyrood Purse in three straight heats. Immediately afterward his owner, H. Stacey Smith of Short Hills, N.J., sold the colt to Lawrence B. Sheppard of the Hanover (Pa.) Farms, where Mr. Watt was bred, for $20,000.

ERRORS, COSTLY FOR CINCINNATI IN 22-6 SETBACK

NEW YORK, Aug. 14.—The Chicago Cubs buried the Cincinnati Reds, 22 to 6, to hold their 6½-game National League lead. The Reds folded up completely in the face of a twenty-one-hit attack and committed eight errors in the field. There wasn't a home run in the game. After the Reds had knocked Parmelee from the Chicago mound with a four-run burst in the second, Charlie Root came to the rescue and held them to a pair of tallies the rest of the way. The Cubs matched the Reds' four runs in the second, then put on a nine-run splurge in the third to clinch victory. Demaree got four hits in four trips, and Catcher Ken O'Dea got four out of five. Only extra base wallops by the Cubs were triples by Hack and Demaree.

Hubbell's 16th Win.

Carl Hubbell chalked up his sixteenth victory and broke a three-game New York Giant losing streak by blanking the Philadelphia Phillies, 5 to 0. Carl allowed only six hits, and the Giants collected nine off LaMaster, Jorgens and Kelleher, including four-baggers by Danning and Leslie.

Rookie Lou Fette won his fourteenth game of the year for the Boston Bees, stopping the Brooklyn Dodgers with six hits for a 5-to-2 triumph. The score was tied 2-to-2 from the third until the eighth inning and had settled down to a duel between Fette and Waite Hoyt. But Johnson reached first on Cookie Lavagetto's error and came home on Moore's three-bagger. Moore tallied on Lavagetto's wild throw, then Vince DiMaggio climaxed the rally with a home run.

St. Louis Cardinals took a 4-to-1 decision over the Pittsburg Pirates. Bob Weiland going the route for the Red Birds, scattering ten hits, the same number given up by Pirate hurlers Weaver and Brown. Stan. Bordagaray paced the Card attack with three hits in four attempts.

Inside Sportin' Dope

BY A. WISE CRACKER

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, this been kinda off week in sporting circles barring the mushball playoffs which is being staged every night on both sides of the river and providing evening entertainment for all them what don't get the same at the strike rallies on ye old market square. Our senior lads was to have crashed with the Naps in the furniture town last Wed. and the issue of whether or not they is going to get in the Central playoffs mighta been settled then if a rainstorm hadn't of blowed up and the gang was spared the trip for the time being.

A Brake At Last

Here last Sat. the Petes got 1 of the few brakes that has come their way for a long spell when they win 4 to 3 over Mister Gerow's lads with the winning run coming home in the 9th on a play that should oughta been a double killing. That was a lucky finish although the home talent woulda been unlucky to win, especially in view of the fact that our Mister Jackafby cashed in with a super de luxe brand of heaving that allowed the Naps just 3 hits and not a earned run although they managed to cash in on a couple of Petes' misplays to get three unearned counters. It was the 2nd 3-hitter the lad from Hamilton had thrown in the week and not a run earned off his delivery which is about all a heaver can do to bring home the bacon. Saturday's game was a mighty interesting battle and while it was a tough argument for the Gerowmen to lose they couldn't naturally expect the Petes to be unlucky every time out.

The league schedule was to have ended this week but they is quite a flock of postponed games left over that will have to be played next week if necessary. Meanwhile I hope the Petes take a fall out of the Daleymen in the Sat. fixture both because I can always look at the Ponies getting licked without registering a single look of pain and because that oughta about put them in the playoffs.

And Now the Playoffs

And what will they do if and when they get in asks you. Well brother, your guess is as good as mine. Personally I think if they get some more of the recent brand of pitching that Mister Jackafby has been dishing out and Mister Kitchen come through with his best brand the Petes has a good chance in a short serious, especially if they kin find a way to smash through the service of this here new Mister Hony Parkykarcas of the Ponies' hurling brigade.

The Yanks Is In

Well, old timer, the Yanks is about in the American League loop. They got too much of the old socko for the rests of the utfit and everytime they ran foul of the club which happens to be in 2nd place at the time they just naturally home-run them outs the park, the Boston Gold Sox being the latest to get sunk without a trace. The Sox had been doing a nice job until they ran into the Ruppert machine but I in 4 was the best they could do in the recent serious. They can't stop the Yanks unless they steal their bats so I half of the Wisecracker predictions is in the bag. The other, which called the Giants to oppose the McCarthyites in a subway serious aint looking so hot right now but I aint going to throw in the towels yet a while. The Giants is trailing the Cubs but the latter has cracked wide open before and mebbe will again. Anyway I'm still touting the Terrymen to cop.

Sportfully Yours,
A. WISE CRACKER.

JOCKEY SET DOWN

DUBLIN—(CP)—The riding license of Joseph Canty, leading Irish jockey, was suspended at The Curragh for his riding on Ca-Ca-Ce in a race here.

AMUSEMENTS - THEATRES - DANCING

NUMBER 63

In analyzing the play of experts some sports writers have designated an area within 120 yards of the hole as the scoring zone. These writers would have you believe that the main difference between experts is to be found in the way they play shots of 125 yards or less.

According to this, practically all of the tournament pros are on an equal, that is, one has no advantage over another until the scoring zone is reached. It is true that most of the birdies and eagles are made by exceptionally good approach shots or the holing of long shots. In other words it is misleading to say that scoring depends entirely on any one part of the course. If this were true, we would have all kinds of champions.

Paul Runyan is good enough to beat any player around the greens but his lack of power and length through the fairway is a big handicap. Jimmy Thomson has more than enough length but lacks the necessary consistency in finishing a hole. If these two players could combine their good points they would be almost unbeatable. Then scoring would be done from tee to green.

NEARLY DUPLICATED FEAT

BATH, England—(CP)—Gordon Richards, leading jockey, rode five out of six winners at the second day of the Bath meeting a year ago. On the same day last month he rode three winners.

IN MEMORIAM

BEAVIS.—In ever loving memory of Vernon Beavis, who passed away four years ago Sunday, August 15.
Upright and just in all his ways,
Loving and kind to the end of his days.
Sincere he was in heart and mind,
What a beautiful memory he left behind.
His charming ways and smiling face
Are a pleasure to recall.
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
—Ever remembered and sadly missed by a Friend.

FLEETWOOD. — In loving memory of our father, William Fleetwood, who passed away August 14, 1935.
Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
His weary trials and troubles are past;
In silence he suffered, in patience he bore
Till God called him Home, to suffer no more.

JAPAN PREPARES NEXT OLYMPICS ON LARGE SCALE

TOKYO, Aug. 14 (CP) —Awarded both summer and winter Olymyic Games of 1940, Japan is mobilizing her resources to ensure their success. The sum of about $13,000,000 will be spent on the summer games alone and special facilities, such as free transportation for contestants and half rates for spectators, will be allowed.

Of this huge expenditure, the Japanese government will spend approximately $4,375,000 on the stadium and other facilities, about $5,500,000 for railway and traffic improvements and $2,300,000 for radio and advertising.

All proposals for a new site in place of the Meiji Shrine grounds have been discarded, and plans have been approved for remodelling the existing stadium to seat 100,000 spectators. A nine-lane swimming pool with stands for 60,000 spectators will be built. There will also be two modern sporting halls for indoor contests, each accommodating 10,000 persons, as well as buildings for cycling and shooting.

Kerner Klingen-Berger, technical adviser of the 1936 Games at Berlin, has been engaged to act in a similar capacity at the Tokyo Games.

Baseball Recognized.

Baseball will be recognized as a regular Olympic event for the first time at Tokyo, provided a minimum of five nations enlist, under a ruling of the 34th annual session of the International Olympic Committee held recently in Warsaw.

The German government has presented the Japanese committee with a model of the Berlin stadium to assist Japanese engineers in drawing plans for the enlarged Meiji Shrine facilities.

Work on a rowing course 2,500 metres (approximately 1½ miles long, 80 metres (about 90 yards) wide and three metres (about 12 feet) deep has started at Toda Mura, in Saitama Prefecture, about 12 miles from the centre of Tokyo. The completed course will run east and west and will not be subject to tidal changes. Four boats will be able to participate in each event.

Other facilities will include a yacht course at Yokohama; a field for equestrian events; a rifle range for clay target shooting; a cycling course; and a long canoe course.

Present plans provide for the building of an Olympic village at Kinuta, along the Tama River, about 10 kilometres (6¼ miles) from the stadium. The grounds will cover 800 acres. Wooden cottages will be built to house the athletes and staffs, while special provisions will be made in the village to deal with baggage, customs, newspaper reporters, photographers, banking transactions, recreation and other requirements.

Board and lodging will cost participants the equivalent of $1 a day, while free transportation will be provided to and from the village. Similar facilities will be available near the boat-race and yacht courses.

The Games probably will open the first Saturday in August and last 16 days. This date, however, may be changed according to later developments. The month of August, according to Japanese Olympic officials, is preferable for events at Tokyo since there is less rain than in September, although the temperature is slightly higher.

GAS BLAST BURNS HALIBURTON MAN

LINDSAY, Aug. 14 (Special). — Rushed to the Red Cross Outpost Hospital at Haliburton, suffering from terrible burns about the face and upper part of the body, John McKinnon of that village is in a serious condition.

Employed on the construction on the new road east of the village, McKinnon was filling a tank with gasoline by the light of a lantern. The gasoline suddenly exploded, enveloping McKinnon in flames. He ran to a nearby pool of water and jumped in, rolling around until the flames were extinguished.

The injured man managed to walk to the home of Frank Billings, who removed him to the hospital.

BITTEN BY A CHIMP.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 14 — (AP) — Jane Withers, child film star, was scratched on the back and legs and bitten on a finger by a chimpanzee with which she was romping for a movie Friday. Dr. Behle R. Burns said the injuries were slight.

MAKING "JACK."

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 14 (A.P.) — All work and no play makes "Jack." That is the idea of John A. Freeman, 90, who hasn't taken a vacation from his farm implement business for 77 years.

"Not for me," says Freeman—"it's hard work and being on the job every day that counts."

ROOKIE BLUNDERS.

RICHMOND, V., Aug. 14 (AP).—Frank Moran, secretary to State Police Superintendent H. B Nicholas, told this one today:

A rookie state patrolman, feeling the influence of his badge and gun, stopped a tourist car which was several inches out of the right highway lane.

"Where are you from?" he demanded.

"Cincinnati," replied the tourist.

The new officer smiled triumphantly.

"Well, buddy, suppose you explain why you've got Ohio tags on your car."

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By
MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST

Ambitious to become a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job. They see more and more of one another and begin to fall in love. During the absence of Francine Long, Tony's head buyer who dislikes Mary, the latter successfully designs some gowns for an important client, Liane Weston, a leading actress. Something goes wrong during the final fitting, the actress goes into a tantrum and Tony publicly berates himself for letting Mary, still inexperienced, design the gowns. Mary feels certain Miss Long purposely altered one of the dresses.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 8.

Exactly 24 hours following the nightmare at the studio, Tony Castle brought his roadster to a grinding stop before the brownstone house on Fifty-fifth street. He ran up the long flight of steps carrying a white box from one end of which protruded long floral stems.

On his face there was a look of boyish contrition, of speculative sheepishness as he rang the bell under the neat card reading, Barrett. He pressed it again and again.

A door on the landing opened and Johnson, the superintendent, stood there. "Good evenin', sir," he said. "If yer lookin' for Miss Barrett, she ain't here."

"Know when she'll be back?"

"She didn't say as she knew. She jes' paid her rent, says I should rent the apartment and goes off with her trunks."

A curious sensation attacked Tony in the region of his bosom. "Where has she gone?"

"She didn't leave no forradin' address, but she told the missus she'd send one. Is there anything I could do?"

Tony rocked uncertainly. "She didn't leave any . . ." He recovered himself and presented the florist's box to the man. "Yes, you can give these to 'the missus' with my compliments."

When, two months later, Mary's letter arrived with a French postmark and instructions for Mrs. Johnson to send along her mail, there was no Mrs. Johnson to receive it. The Johnsons had moved on, and with them went the chance that Mary would ever see the note which Tony Castle wrote her that night from the very bottom of his heart.

The tall, bronzed young man in white flannels was making his fifth turn about deck. He wasn't idling; he was looking for the girl in brown linen.

There were girls in white, pink and yellow linen and he knew most of them. That was the year when every debutante in New York was on her way to Europe for "the little season."

He didn't stop for them. He did have to stop to greet a dowager who had the place next to his grandmother's at Newport. He did have to stop to promise an Austrian countess that he would pay her a visit at her schloss in the Tyrol. He escaped from her only to fall into the clutches of Tommy Wister who had been at Yale with him. Meet Tommy at the Yale club, Ciro's, at Auteuil or any other civilized place and he had nothing important to say but there was no stopping him. He was hard to stop at that moment, while the tall, bronzed young man tried to get away, searched the group playing deck tennis.

Ping.

A small celluloid ball struck him below the ear. And then, while Tommy launched on a story of urging his sporting club to get up something or other, SHE was at his feet, recovering her lost ball, "sorry," without looking at him. The girl in the brown linen!

He tried to unloosen Tommy's grip. "Listen, Tommy, I'll see you at the bar later and you can tell me about the giraffes."

"It wasn't giraffes," Tommy wailed dolefully after the departing figure. "Who ever heard of giraffes boxing? It was kangaroos!"

"Twenty-one all," the girl said and threw down her racquet. She had picked up her yellow sweater and disappeared by the time the bronzed young man got to the table tennis group. He looked at his watch—12.50. No good looking for her before lunch.

The hands of that watch were together at 4.20 when he rounded the deck and saw her again. Saw her rising from a deck chair. She was gone before he got there. He leaned over the chair and read the card. If he knew her name . . .

He read: Rev. August Schweizer.

He shook his head dubiously. She might be a reverend but he doubted the August.

The bronzed young man, now in mess jacket stood a little to the right of the orchestra platform in the white-and-gold salon. He hummed the tune of the popular song as he watched the dancers:

"Oh give me something to remember you by . . . when you are far away from me . . ."

He broke off when he saw the girl in the cinnamon lace gown with her crown of coppery curls.

He didn't wait for her to circle the room in the arms of her partner—probably the Rev. August Schweizer, he thought—but strode easily through the dancers and tapped the partner on the shoulder. "May I cut, please?"

She gave him the briefest look and fitted into his arms smoothly. They danced beautifully, silently, for a few minutes.

"I'm Andy MacTavish of Scotland Yard," he said.

"So that's why you've been tracking me down?"

"So you noticed?"

She didn't say anything.

"But, my dear, such an unpleasant alias! August Schweizer!"

"I only use that occasionally. I have a number of others just as intriguing. You must try them sometime."

"Now that you're on to me . . . by the way, how did you know that I've been tracking you down?"

"I'm psychic," she answered.

Over a tiny table in the bar, with whiskies and sodas between them she stopped him when he was going to speak. She closed her eyes theatrically. "No, don't tell me who you are. Let me see if my control is working . . . . . Yes. . . . I hear the Indian calling me." He watched her with an amused grin breaking the corners of his mouth. She began again:

"I see you on a polo field . . . in a plane that dips with icicles. . . . At the wheel of a motor car. . . . Ah, it's coming . . . you're . . . you're Mark Sutherland!"

He laughed. "Right! Are you as good with cards or do you use a crystal ball?"

"I read the newspapers, Mr. Sutherland."

"Bright girl! She can read. What else do you do?"

"Work," she answered shortly.

He sighed.

"That's the trouble with women these days. Too much work. Takes 'em out of circulation. Where do you play? Why haven't I seen you around?"

"Probably because I'm not a debutante. I'm a serious-minded working girl. I'm a dress designer and I'm on my way to Paris to pick up some ideas."

She thought a small lie would do no harm. After all, it was a half truth. And there was no point in telling a young millionaire that she was a jobless working girl.

"I think I could give you a few," he said.

That had been their second night out. They'd got along famously after that. With one exception. Mark said he was sorry but he had to make passes when the moon was like that. "We'll get along better if you don't," she assured him.

"I'm a patient man. I can wait."

She laughed then. "I'm afraid it'll be a long wait. We dock tomorrow."

"You're going to Paris and I'm going to Paris. And you're dining with me Saturday. Where shall I pick you up at 8?"

"The Ritz," she said mockingly.

"The Ritz it is," he answered.

THE TUTTS — By Crawford Young

RAINS RUINING BOUNTIFUL CROPS

TORONTO, Aug. 14.—Rain, tumbling down out of sodden skies during the past week and soaking farmlands over a large section of the Province, has blasted the hopes for a bountiful grain crop held by farmers earlier in the season.

Reports from numerous Ontario points indicate that an over-abundance of rainfall is liable to cause a serious loss of grain, while farmers in the Chatham district have encountered an outbreak of foot rot among their herds of cattle, result of wet ground.

Farmers in the vicinity of Woodstock report grain crop conditions in Oxford County to be the worst in many years. In the London district, seevral cases were reported of grain sprouting in stooked wheat on the field. The hot damp weather, it was said, is also having a bad effect on the potatoes, and it is feared that a continuance of such weather may result in blight.

In the St. Thomas district there were also reports of grain sprouting while lying in the fields. Many sheaves have fallen over, sprouted and grown fast into the ground.

Rain fell upon Kingston in heavy sheets yesterday afternoon, coming down in such quantities that windshield wipers were of little use and street lights were turned on to enable drivers to see approaching traffic.

Some apple growers in the Ingercoll district are preparing to give their orchards an extra spraying to counteract the effect of the wet spell. An attack of apple spot is feared. Usually the orchards receive five sprayings, but owing to the almost continuous wet weather for nearly a week, it has been deemed advisable to give an extra spraying.

One grower last night stated that there is a plentiful yield of early apples. The later varieties, it was estimated, will not be more than 60 per cent. of an average crop, with the indications that the Spys will probably not be 50 per cent. of the average.

PLAYFUL TECHNICIAN.

CHICAGO, Aug. 14—(AP).—When radio sets in several hundred police squad cards blurted out, "One, two, three, four. Sit down, stand up," officers perked up their ears.

But there was really excitement when the voice from the loud speaker said:

"I should like to cut myself a piece of throat. If I ever get you by the neck something serious is going to happen."

Calls to the central police station elicited thet nformation that Policeman Harry Gleason, radio technician, had been testing the equipment. He had forgotten to pull the disconnecting switch.

UNCLE WIGGILY'S HARD KNOT

"Look out!" barked Jackie Bow Wow.

"It's going to blaze up!" barked Fluffy the cousin poodle.

"Well, that's what I've been twirling this stick for—to make a blaze," barked Peetie. "I guess we win the prize for this contest," he went on as he carefully fed some more dry punk and tinder to a little smoking fire he had kindled on a piece of wood. Soon the flames blazed up and a camp fire was made over which dinner could be cooked.

"Very good indeed," said Uncle Wiggily, who was a sort of Scout rabbit at his Jamboree. "You doggie boys will win the prize for making fire without matches."

This was what Jackie, Peetie and Fluffy had done by using a bow string to twirl a pointed stick in a notch in a board. The twirling stick became so hot, by moving fast, that it started a fire.

"You did almost as well as real Boy Scouts could do," said Uncle Wiggily. "You win the juicy bone," he told the doggies.

There were other contests at the animal Jamboree, such as races for rabbits, nut cracking for squirrels, gobbling for turkeys and swimming for gold fish Animal Scouts.

There was also a marshmallow candy roasting contest and Baby Bunty won this after she had helped pull Jangle up after she sat down in a box of stick marshmallows.

"Now for the next contest," called Uncle Wiggily.

"What it is—an eating contest?" asked Nurse Jane, who, with Mrs. Longears, was helping at the Jamboree.

"We shall serve lunch in a little while," said Uncle Wiggily. "But before we do that I want to run off the knot contest."

"You mean tying knots in ropes as sailors do," asked Nurse Jane.

"Something like that," said Uncle

Wiggily. "Come, all those who wish to take part!" he called. "We shall see who are the best knotters at this Jamboree."

For this contest Uncle Wiggily had gnawed out long pieces of wild honeysuckle vine, which is somewhat like a cord.

"Now we shall see who can tie the best knots," said the rabbit. "I'll take a paw in this myself," he added. "I used to be a very good knotter."

So Uncle Wiggily gave examples of how to tie square knots and running bowline knots and half hitches and clove hitches and all manner of knots in the wild honeysuckle vine ropes. The Animal Scouts did the same and so many wonderful knots were tied that Mrs. Longears, who had the prizes didn't know to whom to award them.

"I think we should have one last contest," said the rabbit lady, "Whoever can tie the hardest knot wins."

"Yes! Yes!" shouted the Animal Scout boys.

They quickly began tying knots. Some made timber hitches, others diamond knots and there were Turk's heads and Flemish eyes. Uncle Wiggily was trying to make a Carrick bend knot when, all of a sudden he cried: "Help! Help! Help!"

"Whatever is the matter?" asked Nurse Jane.

"Oh, dear me!" said Uncle Wiggily. "By mistake I've tied such a hard knot around my paws I can't get loose! Help! Help!"

Nurse Jane had to get a potato knife to cut Mr. Longears out of the hard knot he had tied about himself. So he won the prize and everybody was happy. The Jamboree was a great success.

And now, if the refrigerator will give the radio some ice cubes to go skating on, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's spring board.

LOPERA CHANGES HANDS TWICE, DAY

MADRID, Aug. 14—(AP). — The olive-clad slopes of the castled city of Lopera in Jaen province, was reported a no-man's-land to-day after bitter fighting in which government and insurgent troops alternately prevailed.

It changed hands twice yesterday, but the insurgent victory were reported to have found their positions untenable and to be moving out of the southern city.

A government surprise attack drove out the insurgents early in the day. Later, faced by an overpowering advance by insurgent reinforcements, the Milicianos withdrew.

Government artillery went into action along the front between Lopera and Porcuna, and the insurgents were reported evacuating both these cities.

The insurgent positions from Arjona to Arjonilla likewise were described as precarious in view of new government activity. If their troops are able to take Porcuna, about 39 square miles of additional territory will fall into government hands.

It was reported that the insurgents claim "complete success" against the government's counter offensive in the Cucalon mountains, but that the strength of the government attack in the south was acknowledged.

SPANISH TANKER TORPEDOED, 12 DIE

TUNIS, Tunisia, Aug. 14—(AP).—The 28 survivors of the crew of the Spanish government tanker Campeador reached the safety of this French possession to-day, asserting their ship had been torpedoed and 12 shipmates killed by an Italian warship.

Capt. Felix Gary, master of the tanker, reported to French officials his ship was sunk in the Mediterranean at 8 p.m. Wednesday by the Italian destroyer Saetta off Kellbia, 50 miles north-east of here.

Five of his men, he said, were killed when the first of three torpedoes struck the engine room. The others were lost in the two following blasts.

The attack, he said, was observed by a second Italian destroyer which he was unable to identify and which took no part in the action.

(In Rome, however, the newspaper Il Messagero stated the Campeador had been sunk by the Spanish insurgent torpedo boat Velasco.)

The Campeador, loaded with 9,500 tons of benzine, was steaming for Spain from the east. French sources variously described its ports of departure as Contanza, Rumania, on the Black Sea, and "a Russian port."

Mrs. David Lunn offered prayer, and the devotional leaflet, "In the Footsteps of Jesus," was read by Miss Ethel Hatherly.

NOTED AVIATOR PLANS TO SEEK SOVIET FLIERS

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 16 (A.P.). — Jimmy Mattern, noted aviator, prepared to leave at dawn today in his speedy twin-motored monoplane to search the Arctic wastes for six missing Russian fliers.

Mattern arrived only last night after a record-breaking non-stop flight from Oakland, Calif., to join in the search for Sigismund Levaneffsky, Soviet ace pilot, and his five companions.

The flier said he would traverse the 148th Meridian in quest of a clue to the fate of the Russians, who disappeared on Friday on a 4,009-mile flight from Moscow to Fairbanks.

The first day's flight will take Mattern over the ice floes of the Arctic, where the four-motored Russian plane may have been forced down. He said he would return to Fairbanks to-night without attempting to land en route and will be ready to continue his search as long as hope remains.

Clear Weather.

"Hank" Jones, Mattern's mechanic, will accompany him in his rescue mission. Clear weather was reported over most of the route the mercy plane will fly to-day.

Meantime, attempts will be made to co-ordinate the search by establishing contact with Russian rescue planes flying from Moscow.

Joe Crosson, Alaska's veteran pilot of mercy flights, who has directed the search for the last three days, said to-day if the Russian plane landed in Alaska a systematic search should find it. However, he added:

Rescued Mattern in 1933.

In 1933 Levanessky flew into the wastes of Siberia to rescue Mattern, who crashed on an attempted world flight and nearly died before aid reached him.

Crosson, veteran of many an Alaska rescue flight, and S. E. Robbins, and Murray Stewart, Alaska Airways pilots, soared northward from here Saturday in a fanwise hunt which netted nothing.

Soviet planes and two icebreakers were en route to emergency bases near the Pole in an attempt to rescue the six fliers before the bitter Arctic winter, already setting in, closes down.

Levanefisky's huge plane crossed the Pole early Friday but soon afterward reported trouble in one of its four motor. Faint radio signals Friday and Saturday indicated the plane was in trouble. In Moscow, the Soviet Flight Committee expressed belief the ship was down on an ice floe

Only One Weak Message.

One weak, incomplete message, "No bearings. Having trouble with wave band"—picked up early Saturday by the U. S. Army Signal Corps at Anchorage at 10.44 a.m., E.D.T., gave hope the airmen were down safely.

This was more than seven hours after the 40-hour period airmen deemed the plane capable of flight.

In Washington the Soviet Embassy reported Russian radio stations were unsuccessful in efforts to contact Levaneffsky, who was en route to Oakland, Calif., via Fairbanks and Edmonton, Alta., on a course he hoped would some day be a commercial airline.

Hunting for lost aviators is an old story for Crosson, who flew the bodies of Will Rigers and Wiley Post back to California after their Arctic Crash near Point Barrow in 1935.

Basis of Probe.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King said the central purpose of the commission is "to provide for a re-examination of the economic and financial basis of Confederation and of the distribution of legislative powers in the light of the economic and social developments of the last 60 years."

While the terms of reference of the commission place special emphasis on financial problems, they are of the widest possible nature. The prominence of financial aspects is due to the experience of recent years when some of the provinces have found it difficult or impossible to meet their responsibilities with the revenues available to them.

In any new alignments of constitutional powers as between the Dominion and the provinces it has been considered essential to include measures which would place the several governmental units in a more independent financial position.

Among other tasks laid before the commission are: To examine the allocation of revenue sources and governmental burdens to the Do-

COMPLAINT SYSTEM HAS ITS AFFECT ON HIGHWAY TOLL

TORONTO.—The number of fatal automobile accidents in Ontario took an encouraging drop during the week-end in the wake of the Department of Highways campaign for safer driving and adoption of the motorists' complaint system. Toll of sudden week-end deaths to-day stood at ten.

Of six week-end deaths resulting from traffic mishaps, three were of persons who died from injuries received previously. The death of Mrs. Martha Logan, 74, Orangeville, brought the toll of a Welland district collision to four.

At London, Robert Comrie died of injuries received when his automobile collided with a bus. While at Hamilton, Mrs. Margaret McWhirter, 82, died of injuries received two weeks before when struck by a truck.

Two Dead In Windsor.

Week-end crashes took two lives at the border. In Windsor Alcide Grant(53, was run over by a car and injured fatally, while at Leamington nine were injured, Thomas Burke, 11, Chicago, fatally when two cars crashed head-on at Dead Man's Corner.

At Sault Ste. Marie John Wright, 65, suffered almost instant death when struck by a car driven by Edward Yadursaih. Yadursaih is held on a charge of driving without a license.

Last week Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highway, announced the licenses of scores of Ontario motorists were suspended on complaint of fellow car drivers in a campaign aimed at the dangerous driver. All motorists were invited, through newspaper advertising, to

Attempt To Rid City Of Sawdust Pile

A determined, though apparently unsuccessful attempt was made by authorities to rid the city of the sawdust pile on the east bank of the Otonabee River below the Quaker Oats power dam on Saturday, when after careful preparation 350 gallons of oil and gasoline was poured into holes in the pile and set on fire. The pile long a source of danger to children and the scene of one fatality, is still smouldering. Picture at Upper Left gives an idea of the flames and smoke that gushed from the holes when a blazing brand was tossed in, while pictures at Lower Left and on the Right were taken during preparations. Fire Chief Gimblett supervised the firing of the pile. (Examiner Staff Photo.)

ALDERVILLE CHILD IS SERIOUSLY HURT SHOOTINGACCIDENT

ROSENEATH, Aug. 16. — (CP).— Charged with occasioning bodily injury to four-year-old Arnold Hager of Roseneath, John Gordon, 56, Toronto, appeared in court at Cobourg today and was remanded to Aug. 26 on 2,000 bail. He was arrested Sunday following the shooting of Arnold Hager when a rifle held by Gordon discharged through the boy's back. The accused told police it was accidental.

Although in critical condition, the boy is expected to recover. He is in Cobourg Hospital.

ROSENEATH, Aug. 16.—A playful prank turned out to be a near tragedy over the week-end and as a result the five-year-old son of Stanley Hagar, Alderville, lies near death's door in Cobourg General Hospital this morning, following a shooting accident on Sunday. George Beaver, a middle-aged resident of the village and the second victim of the accident, was allowed to return home last night with a slightly injured leg.

The child was sitting on the lap of George Beaver at the time of the accident when John Gordon, a visitors at the home of the child's father over the week-end, jokingly remarked that if Beaver would hold the child, he would shoot him, whereupon he pulled the trigger of a .22 rifle which he had in his hand at the time, not knowing the weapon was loaded. The bullet entered the lower part of the youngster's stomach and passing through the body, left a flesh wound in the leg of George Beaver. Both were treated by Doctor George Beal of Roseneath and later rushed to Cobourg hospital, where a critical operation was performed in an effort to save the child's life. Mr. Beaver was allowed to return home after receiving treatment for his leg.

John Gordon, who was a friend of the victim's father during the Great War was a frequent visitor at the Hagar home during his fishing and hunting trips in the district and was accumstomed to handling firearms around the house. He was arrested later on in the day and lodged in the county jail at Cobourg, where he face charges for the negligent use of firearms this morning, Monday).

LEWIS' MILLIONS SHOULD AID ROWE HEPBURN ASSERTS

OAKVILLE, Ont. Aug. 16—(CP). Premier Mitchell Hepburn here on Saturday, in this third speech of the Ontario general election campaign, said Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader has another millionaire friend, one whom you will all know about."

"I understand Mr. John L. Lewis (head of the Committee for Industrial Organization), the would-be Labor dictator, has an income of $36,000,000 a year," said the Premier. "Mr. Rowe complains about his campaign funds but might not Mr. Lewis like to see this government defeated, and might he not contribute some of his millions, taken from the pay enevelopes of the workers, to support Mr. Rowe?"

Mr. Hepburn urged his audience at a picnic given by Thomas Blakelock, M.L.A. for Halton, not to be led astray "by this silly talk of me being dominated by millionaires." The Premier said Mr. Rowe had plenty of millionaire friends and then came his reference to Mr. Lewis.

The Premier asked a renewal of his mandate so he might press towards the collection of succession duties rightfully due the province. The treasury has some 44 cases under review and "the taxpayers have been defrauded of some $50,000,000."

Mr. Hepburn said he had been criticized for sending police into municipalities in which there were strikes.

"I have never sent police to any municipality except at the request of the municipality, and then the only instructions given were to maintain law and order in that municipality," he said. "I believe in the rights of working men to organize and to strike if they wish. But I also believe in the rights of a working man to work when he want sto."

"Mr. Rowe gave no asistance to the Province during the labor crisis and when that crisis was sweeping the Province he stood back and criticized those who were tring to make this a safe place in which to live and work. I believe Mr. Rowe is going to have to trim his sails a little.

Treatment of Veterans.

"But now he talks about inhumane treatment of returned soldiers by this Government. So far as returned soldiers are concerned we have done more than any other Government to help them. Do you know that 25 per cent. of the persons employed by the Government are returned soldiers Compare that with the Bennett Government which let out 10,000 veterans. Any returned soldier who is qualified for any position is given preference by this Government.

"Now look at the financial record of your Government in the past three years. That record stands out like a beacon on the North American Continent. For the first time in a century the budget has been balanced.

Britain and U. S. Removing All Women and Children From War Zone.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 16 (AP).—The fiercest land fighting of the battle for Shanghai roared tonight along the whole front around Shanghai and north of the Yangtze River.

Starshells from both Chinese and Japanese lines kept the sky almost continuously alight.

Most bitterly contested sector was along the Shanghai-Woosung Railway, running north from the city. There the Chinese forces apparently was throwing a desperate attack against Japanese lines, trying to reach the fortress-like headquarters of the Japanese naval forces on the northern border of Japanese-held Hongkew.

Massed fleet of 43 Chinese planes rained bombs on the Japanese sections and the waterfront of Shanghai today in a determined effort to destroy the headquarters of the Japanese garrison and the first and third Japanese fleets.

British and United States authorities ordered the immediate evacuation of all women and children as the battle became general along the 15-mile front encircling this metropolis of 3,500,000 people. British and United States Marines and Bluejackets were sent ashore to cover the evacuation.

The Augusta, flagship of Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander-in-chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, was in the centre of the rain of shells and bombs from the land and sea engagements. Both Chinese and Japanese planes were operating directly above the cruiser.

Yarnell ordered two American destroyers based on Chefoo to proceed to Shanghai under forced draught. It was believed they were to be sent as convoys for commercial vessels evacuating the American residents.

Launch Counter-Attack.

Shortly after the Japanese attacked at dawn with all their forces on land, sea and in the air, the Chinese air fleet launched a counter-attack.

A Japanese attack squadron rose to give combat and out of the west 13 Chinese planes suddenly joined in. After a brisk battle high above the city the Chinese planes withdrew.

They circled wide and then, changing direction, returned to blast at the Japanese inhabited Hongkew district of the International Settlement and the warships lining the Whangpoo River. Japanese reported that a number of Japanese citizens and several foreigners were killed and many injured when a Chinese bomb struck East Broadway in the vicinity of Hongkew Creek.

A squadron of seven light Chinese bombers registered direct hits on the Japanese Consular Police Station, seriously injuring two Japanese officials.

Japanese ships all along the water front opened fire with anti-aircraft guns, the spent shells falling within the International Settlement. Police reported that two Russians were

TOURIST INFLUX SETS NEW RECORD

FORT ERIE, Ont., Aug. 16 (C.P.). —"We have never experienced anything like this before," Dugald H. McIntyre, director of Ontario Tourist Bureau here, said to-day in regard to record movement of tourists now under way at this border port.

"One noteworthy feature is the number of parties crossing here on recommendation of friends who preceded them," he said.

In steel centres in Ohio and Pennsylvania many firms are giving employees fortnight vacations, and large groups of them are crossing to fish in Northern Ontario. Interest in bass and pickerel fishing is especially strong. Early predictions made at this bureau tourist traffic would exceed last year by 25 per cent are being shattered. Movements to date this month is really nearer 50 per cent greater than last year."

"If Provincial Government continues its present re-stocking of Northern streams there is no reason why next year's movement of fishermen will not exceed present record-breaking influx."

16 Provincial Constables Are Recalled From City

All But Seven of 23 Officers Brought Into City Have Gone Home.

All but seven of the 23 special Provincial Police sent here a week ago today to protect workers returning to the re-opened Auburn and Bonner-Worth mills were recalled to Toronto Saturday. No threat of disorder was present at either plant at the opening whistles this morning.

It is understood removal of the police was urged by Mayor George Macdonald several days ago in the belief that need for any heavy police reinforcement had past. He had suggested that the khaki-clad officers be recalled in small groups as rapidly as the situation permitted.

The scenes at the Auburn and the Bonner-Worth this morning were in contrast to those of last Tuesday. Relatively small pickets were in evidence, groups of less than fifty, and they offered no show of resistance as the workers moved into the plants. A few Provincial and city police watched at each plant.

Managers said they had received many applications for jobs at the two plants during the past two weeks, the volume of applications being noticeably increased in the

15-Month-Old Boy Is Suffering From Infantile Paralysis In City

Dr. G. Murray Fraser, Medical Officer of Health, to-day confirmed the report there is an infantile paralysis case in the city.

First case of its kind during the present year, the patient is a 15-months-old boy whose parents reside on McDonnel Street. Last year there were seven outbreaks of the dread disease in the city and one death resulted from that cause.

The case was diagnosed and reported to the local health authorities by Dr. Herbert N. Young on Saturday night, and since that time Dr. Fraser said, all regulations under the Public Health Act have been strictly complied with.

Serum has been administered to the victim of the disease and the family has been placed under quarantine.

While he stresses there is no need of alarm, Dr. Fraser warns of the importance of early diagnosis, and urges that at first signs of illness of any member of the family a physician should be consulted.

What was usually considered as a mild digestive upset in a child might easily be the onset of infantile paralysis. Early signs are; Neck stiffness, headache, lower back pain, prostration, and vomiting, he said.

Little Chinese Woman Is Head Of Country's Airforce

Stands To-day With Her Husband in the Path of Japan's Advance.

She is Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of the head of the Chinese Government and Army and, in her own right, Commander-in-Chief of the Air Forces.

More than anyone she has been responsible for building up the Chinese Air Corps until to-day it numbers 550 planes with 15 flying bases scattered throughout the country.

Squadrons of Japanese planes opened a campaign yesterday to destroy all bases of this air force within 250 miles of war-torn Shanghai.

Madame Chiang declared yesterday Saturday's air bombing tragedy in Shanghai was due to bombs loosed accidentally from Chinese army planes damaged by Japanese anti-aircraft fire.

Observers have credited the rapid growth of Chinese military aviation in the past eight years to the executive ability and far-sighted labors of Madame Chiang.

She travelled thousands of miles by plane around the country.

ELECTION EVE TO BRING AID TO THE STRIKERS

"Politicians of the old type are always thoughtful of the workers on the eve of an election," A. A. Heaps, C.C.F. member of the House of Commons from Winnipeg, told Peterborough textile strikers at a meeting in the East City Community Hall Saturday evening. He predicted that Premier Hepburn will not allow the worker to come off second best in the strike conference to be held in his office at Queen's Park to-day.

Two hundred strikers had assembled to hear the veteran C.C.F.-Labor campaigner. His talk was a general greatment of the trade union movement, but he took the opportunity to make a few comments pertinent to the local strike situation.

Scores Proposal.

He condemned Premier Hepburn's proposal of last week that workers return to their machines pending action by the Industry and Labor Board in instituting a minimum wage scale. "If he had wanted to know the facts of the conditions in Peterborough he could have had them in half an hour by looking them up in previous reports," he said. "We want action, not investigations."

"I protest very strongly against strong-arm methods being used to break up your strike here,' he continued, commenting on the news from Peterborough he had been reading. He termed importation of Provincial police to the city "methods of war employed to defeat the working class." The cause of the workers will not be beaten by such methods, he declared.

Defies Force."

"No penitentiary was ever built whose walls were thick enough to imprison men's ideas and ideals," he said. In the Winnipeg strike of 1919 he, along with J. S. Woodsworth, M.P., and others had been arrested for participation, but they had gone on to hold important public offices while those who opposed the strike had "sunk into oblivion."

The speaker criticized appointment of E. J. Young to chairmanship of the Industry and Labor Board, stating: "He is a farmer, not familiar with conditions in industry, and he has always been opposed to labor, an exponent of lower wages and living conditions."

"I believe all workers have the right to organize into whatever

H. E. STEPHENSON ADVERTISING DEAN ABOUT TO RETIRE

Through the retirement this month of H. E. Stephenson, Director of A. McKim Limited, the profession of advertising in Canada loses the man who probably had the best claim to be regarded as its dean.

Born on a farm in Ontario County, Mr. Stephenson gravitated as a youth to Brockville, where he secured his first employment as clerk in a dry goods store. That he had a flair for advertising was soon indicated by his originality and efficiency in arranging store and window displays.

Answering an advertisement for a youth with a knowledge of shorthand, he received a note from the late Ansom McKim, inviting him to come to Montreal for an interview. He recalls with interest the fact that as he stepped out of the old Bonaventure station, the newsboys were shouting extras announcing the death of Sir John A. MacDonald.

H. E. STEPHENSON

That evening he was given the position that marked the commencement of his career in advertising—a career that began with the same agency from which he is now retiring.

He joined McKim's in June, 1891, just two years after its establishment, when it boasted a staff of six only, and when it was still the sole advertising agency in Canada. As stenographer to Mr. McKim, he learned the business from the man who was not only its Canadian pioneer, but its most dynamic director for over a quarter of a century.

While still a mere stripling, Mr. Stephenson achieved his first triumph when he planned, sold and successfully directed a $40,000 mail order campaign for a Canadian client with ambitions to invade the United States field. For those days, that was big business.

This experience brought him into close touch with such giants in the United States publisher representative field as Frank Richardson, S. C. Beckwith and others, who soon learned to respect him for his wide and intimate knowledge of markets and circulations. Thus in the need of those early days began that close study of localized markets, and the efficiency of daily newspapers in cultivating them, that always played so important a part with Mr. Stephenson in the planning of advertising campaigns.

The foundation for his intimate acquaintance with the press of Canada was strengthened in 1892, when he assisted the late Mr. E. B. Biggar in bringing out the first edition of McKim's Directory of Canadian Publications. He succeeded to the editorship in 1899, and was responsible for introducing many improvements in that publication that are still retained as standard features.

For a few years in the middle 90's, Mr. Stephenson took what he chooses to call a "post-graduate course" in advertising. For a time he associated himself with an old-established advertising agency in Boston. Leaving it, he went to London, England, where he assisted British manufacturers in the preparation of merchandising plans and advertising suitable for Canada. Returning to Canada, he spent some time in advertising work in Toronto. Enriched by these experiences in other fields, he returned to McKim's in 1899. When the latter was turned into a limited company, he bought into the business, becoming a shareholder and eventually a director.

In the course of his long and varied career, Mr. Stephenson has seen press advertising develop from the prosaic thing it was born to the potent force in selling it is today. And through every stage of that development he has worked with it, and on it, step by step. He planned and produced campaigns of advertising when its sole function was still thought to be to sell products, and when "copy" was merely filling space with bare details. He was among the first to produce it when its potentialities for selling services and ideas came to be appreciated, and when thevogue began for persuasive, emotional and educative type of copy.

In the advertising of proprietaries and cosmetics in particular he is recognized as one of the highest authorities in Canada. And for a knowledge of the French Canadian market, with all its shades of viewpoint, background and influences that effect sales, he is said to be without an equal among Canadian advertising men.

Mr. Stephenson is retaining his financial interest in A. McKim Limited. Meanwhile he will devote his well-earned leisure to certain hobbies that are dear to his heart. The news of his retirement will naturally be received wit hregert by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances among the national advertisers, the publishers and the agency executive in Canada. But they will all have the satisfaction of knowing that from the side lines his interest in advertising will continue as strong as ever.

Shanghai Is The Centre Of China's Great Evils

International Settlement Must Be Blown Up Presbyterian Minister Declares.

LAKE COUCHICHING, Ont., August 16—(CP). — The greatest trouble spot of China, the international settlement of Shanghai, must be blown up, Dr. Peter Y. F. Shih, Presbyterian Minister of Nanking, told the Canadian Institute on Economics and Politics here Saturday.

"The Chinese will not, cannot stop until Shanghai is out of the way," he said in his address on the "Outlook for China," given "through the eyes of a Chinese gentleman." As Dr. Shih was speaking news reports from Shanghai told of concerted attacks by warships and airplanes on the Chinese city.

Shanghai was the centre of China's opium and gambling evils, because when the Chinese Central Government at Nanking attempted to oust the evils the offenders fled to Shanghai, where Chinese officials were not permitted to follow, the speaker declared.

The invasion of China was a Japanese effort to become "boss" of the Orient, he maintained. By conquering North China, Japan could better control Russia. But in the long run Japan will suffer for the invasion, he believed.

Drive Beyond All Bounds.

"China has reached her limited patience by her sufferings in the last few years and driven on by the dynamic force of the students behind the Central Government at Nanking, she is prepared to commit 'national suicide' if the occasion demands," Dr. Shih said.

Prof. J. F. Parkinson of the University of Toronto believed Great Britain for the last six years had been attempting to establish herself as leader of a sterling-bloc Empire whose monetary system was established equal with her own.

Components of the Empire would be the British Empire, the Argentine, and a group of Scandinavian countries, the economist believed. Result of the economic Empire would be reduction in tariffs, he said.

Prof. Parkinson believed the return to prosperity depended on free international trade which he explained as the return of the free exchange system where gold moved internationally and trade moved without tariff. This tended to make countries produce what they best could at the best price, he said.

New Bridge Opened Meyersburg Highway

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 16.—The old red bridge on Highway No. 30 near Meyersburg is doomed to disappear shortly. The new steel and concrete structure which has recently been completed was officially opened to traffic on Saturday morning. Neither speeches, bands, nor cutting of ribbons marked official opening but perhaps something more significant lies in the knowledge that the little red bridge is one of the last landmarks to disappear in order that modern machines might move on at fifty miles an hour without hesitating for the turn at the bridge where one could look up the stream and at the willows which bordered its banks in quiet harmony.

4 JAPS BROUGHT DOWN.

NANKING, Aug. 16. — (AP).—Chinese officials said to-day four Japanese bombing plans were brought down by Chinese craft in a Japanese air attack on this capital Saturday.

The Chinese army command, which yesterday asserted no serious damage was done in another Japanese air raid yesterday, admitted to-day several Chinese military airplanes were destroyed when an airdrome was hit.

Man Dies Suddenly In Jail At Sarnia

SARNIA, Aug. 16—Edwin Lee died in the Lambton County Jail, Sunday, apparently from a heart seizure. Lee, serving a three-months' term for intoxication, was jailed July 2 and had been in apparent good health. Yesterday Governor Elwood Mott took some newspapers up to him and he appeared in good spirits. Shortly afterward he collapsed and died. A post-morteam examination was ordered and inquest will likely be called. His window and four children survive him. Hewas a native of Petrolia.

Japanese Advance Meets Opposition

PEIPING, Aug. 16 (AP).—Chinese soldiers, clinging to positions behind rocks and shallow, hastily-dug trenches on the barren slopes overlooking Nankow, slowed down a Japanese advance toward Inner Mongolia today.

Chinese reports said 1,500 soldiers —500 Chinese and 1,000 Japanese— were killed already in the fight for Nankow Pass, entrance to Chahar Province and Inner Mongolia.

In that district, nominally Chinese, there have been recurrent pro-Japanese movements. The region adjoins Outer Mongolia, independent state which has a military assistance pact with Japan's rival, Soviet Russia.

FLOAT SALVATION LOAN.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 16 (C.P.-Havas) —The Chinese Finance Ministry today annouced the issue of a "National Salvation Loan" of 500,000,000 Chinese dollars (about $168,000,000 in Canadian funds).

The loan is to be issued at par and will bear no interest. It will be redeemable in 20 years with payments beginning three years after the cessation of Sino-Japanese hostilities, the Ministry announced.

Jewels and other precious objects will be accepted, as well as cash, in payment for the bonds.

Tax Collections Are Much Improved

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 16. — Conditions in Campbellford are at least fifty per cent better than they were last year, that is if tax arrears are any criterion. J. C. Birmingham, tax collector told the Examiner on Saturday that in round figures a total of $47,000, on the 1937 taxes had been collected up to the end of July, with July collections amounting to $29,000. The total arrears are in the neighborhood of $18,000, or about half what they were last year at the same time, while collections for the year 1936 were only 68,000. The total of $47,000 collected for the first seven months of 1937 indicate that the town is fast returning to normalcy.

QUICK MR. QUICK

EDMONTON — (CP). — Half an hour before a huge passenger plane bearing visiting American air officials was due to arrive, air officials were confronted with the problem of finding landing steps large enough to reach the plane door. A hurried taxi ride, and a few approximate dimensions were all that carpenter Austin Quick needed to fill the order.

Annual Excursion St. James' S. S.

A joyous crowd of three hundred grown-ups and children enjoyed the annual excursion of St. James' Sunday School on Saturday afternoon. Leaving the George Street wharf at one-thirty p.m., the trip was made in the steamer Stoney Lake down the Otonabee River to Rice Lake and Wallace Point amid perfect weather conditions. During an enjoyable cruise around the lake, a treasure hunt was held on board and a hunt for the "mystery man" who turned out to be J. Sanderson. The King's Own Bible Class provided a booth containing ice cream, soft drinks and candy, which was a most popular spot.

The company disembarked at Wallace Point for a program of races, followed by supper, when they were joined by the Rev. F. W. and Mrs. Craik, who were unable to be present earlier. The various events were capably looked after by the superintendent, E. Frost and a committee in charge composed of Mrs. R. Kitchen, Mrs. E. Lee, and Messrs. Some New Autumn Coats Slightly Resembles Frocks

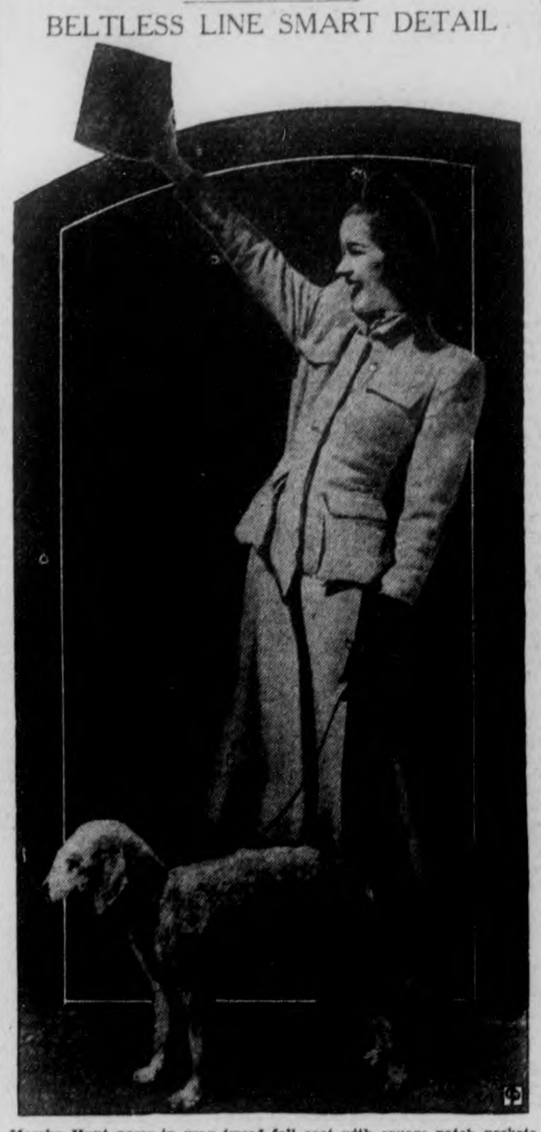
BELTLESS LINE SMART DETAIL



Marsha Hunt poses in gray tweed fall coat with square patch pockets and beltless line.

By Central Press

Coats for early fall are trim and well tailored, with several new features. Some of them slightly resemble dresses.

This latter statement is true of the gray tweed coat chosen by Marsha Hunt, moving picture player. It has interesting square patch pockets and a chic beltless line. The collar is small, and the sleeves slightly squared at the shoulders.

A black felt beret is worn well back on Miss Hunt's head, and she has chosen black suede shoes with cut-out motif and black gloves and bag to serve as her accessories.

Marsha's prize Bedlington terrier fits smartly into the color scheme of her costume.

One prophet says it is to be a big season for suedes. It is also to be a big season for tweeds. A rhum brown suede topcoat is very classy with broad shoulders, wide turned over collar and sash belt. Then a swagger suit caught my eye, consisting of coat and skirt in pine green suede, the coat having pleats in the back.

Straight Coats Smart

Straight coats are very smart for autumn. One model from London, a thick black soft woolen material, was single breasted, with shoulder width emphasized by wide turnover collar and very wide revers. Stitching and fabric incrustations are favorite decoratitions for this type of coat.

Shower Is Given Miss H. Thompson

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LILY LAKE, Aug. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. Orville Young opened their home to members and friends of the Sunday School and Christian Endeavor Society, on Thursday evening, for a shower and presentation to Miss Helen Thompson, whose marriage to Ernest Hughey takes place shortly.

Mrs. Clarence Hancock read an appropriate address, while the presentation of a handsome chest of silver, a service for eight in Strathcona pattern, was made by Jack Ferguson. This was the gift of the Sunday School and C. E. Society. Numerous other gifts were presented to the bride-to-be, also, Miss Thompson and Mr. Hughey each made a suitable reply, thanking their many friends for the gifts and inviting all to visit them in their new home.

About seventy-five were present and enjoyed an evening of cards and dancing, music for the latter being provided by Reynolds orchestra. Callers were Everett Tully and Dick Bate.

At midnight lunch was served by the ladies, following which dancing resumed.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

Oh, our manhood's prime vigor! no spirit feels waste.
Not a muscle is stopped in its playing, nor sinew unbraced.
Oh, the wild joys of living! the leaping from rock to rock—
The strong rending of boughs from the fir-tree—the cool silver shock
Of the plunge in a pool's living water—the hunt of the bear,
And the sultriness showing the lion is couched in his lair.
And the meal—the rich dates—yellowed over with gold dust divine,
And the locust's—flesh steeped in the pitcher; the full draught of wine,
And the sleep in the drier river-channel where bulrushes tell
That the water was wont to go warbling so softly and well.
How good is man's life, the mere living! how fit to employ
All the heart and the soul and the senses, forever in joy!
—Robert Browning.

Dear Friends:

There! Doesn't that speak of living as it could be lived? But how often to many of us life is not a bit like that. God help us if we have not lived fully in our youth, for then we never know what heights it can go to.

The years have a tendency to make us ask why? Why are we here what is it all about, why isn't there more happiness, why is life so cruel? And the wisest of us cannot tell why we are here, now why the millions who have gone before lived, or why those millions who must come after shall live.

Sometimes we catch a glimmer of the glory that is life, but mostly we are concerned about the means of living at all, the food and clothes and shelter for our bodies. The means to keep ourselves warm, to pay our way, to smooth the path for others, and have them smooth it for us.

Sometimes we go along, thankful for even a little peace, glad there is no turmoil for awhile, doing our daily duties whether it be on a farm with all its labors, or in the home trying to make all the different natures agreeable to one another, or factory office or store, striving to earn enough to live decently and with a little comfort.

Our thoughts are so taken up with this trying to get the money to live that we have scant time to wonder what life is all about, and maybe it is just as well, for once you do begin to think about it the bigger a puzzle it seems.

As one lady asked me in a letter, "Why is it, Roberta, when one does their utmost to live a sober, industrious life, minding their own business, looking after their family, helping others as much as they can, why does things go wrong and black sorrow come to stay with us?

And I only wish I could tell her. I feel far more capable of making others happy when I am happy myself, so why should depression come down on me like a cloud? I wish I could see a reason for it, but the only one I can see is that we have not learned to live right, and that means all of us.

There is no doubt we all have a bearing on the lives around us, but they also have a bearing on our lives. We can make others happy or unhappy, and they have the same faculty. But the trouble is none of us can simply pull away from the rest and live our own lives, it cannot be done.

Men have tried it as monks, women have tried is as nuns, hermits have lived alone, but the latter were considered queer. How a nun or monk feels about life I wouldn't know. All I do know is that the life would not appeal to me. What we all need to learn is the new commandment our Lord gave us when He said "Children, love one another."

He knew, that blameless as His life was, He was blamed, that friends could betray, that one could be lonely in a crowd, that His own family were antagonistic towards Him, everything and anything that can come to us, He had in His short life. Many of the joys we have were denied Him, because of His birth.

He could not know the joy of courting the woman He loved, nor the happiness in marriage, nor His own children about His knee, because of His Divinity, yet He told us to "be of good cheer. I have overcome the world" and maybe He will show us too, how we can overcome the world. More later.

Your Friend, ROBERTA.

MONDAY, AUGUST 16, 1937

This Is a Big Week

To the good folk of the whole district served by The Examiner we would say today that this is quite a week in Peterborough and couple with that statement a hearty invitation to visit this city between now and Saturday. Come three or four times if you can but at all events do not fail to drop in sometime during the week.

This is fair week in Peterborough. The Industrial Exhibition holds the boards for the greater part of the week and it will provide a wealth of fun, entertainment and education for the thousands of patrons from far and near who will file through the turnstiles. The local exhibition, always strong in agricultural features, promises to surpass itself on this occasion with an entry list crammed with excellent livestock and other exhibits. At the same time the fun and amusement side of the affair will be as lively as ever and the statement of the directors that there will not be a dull moment happens to be the sober truth and not a mere advertising blurb.

Then too the fair is not the only attraction in Peterborough this week for the Examiner's championship bucksaw contest will be staged on Thursday and Friday mornings and the spectacle of three or four score husky men ripping through hardwood logs at top speed while excited crowds watch and cheer their progress will provide a somewhat unusual thrill for Peterborough visitors of the week. The contest last year proved one of the colorful events of 1936 and there is every reason to expect that when the pistol cracks on Thursday morning to send the first three saws winging through the squared logs the excitement and interest of twelve months ago will be more than duplicated.

On top of the fair and the bucksaw contest there is still another reason why Peterborough should be flooded with visitors this week. The merchants of the city are making this a big shopping week, with special prices and bargain offers that in themselves are enough to cause every road radiating out of here to be filled with city-bound cars. Peterborough shops will be filled with attractive goods with prices marked to make this one of the big buying weeks of the year and our suggestion is that you combine business and pleasure by coming to town, seeing what the stores have to offer, thrilling to the excitement of the bucksaw contest and enjoying the fun and color of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition.

He Is Out Of Date

The owner of a lumber mill in Northern Ontario let loose a statement the other day that impressed most folk as being about the limit in stubborn arrogance. He declared emphatically that he would rather let his mill rot on its foundations than meet a strike committee of his employees.

That kind of an employer hamstrings the cause of industry just about as effectively as the striker who tries to attain his objective by illegal and violent methods does the interest of labor. The country might well pray that it be spared from both kinds of extremists because there will never be any permanent sense of industrial peace as long as we have employers who think they have the right to bulldoze and drive their employees into submission or workers who have an idea that because they go on strike they are privileged to ignore the law of the land and resort to violence to attain their end.

The right to bargaining collectively should not be under dispute in this day and age and the employer who thinks that because he himself does not like that method he can ignore it completely is as old-fashioned as the fogies who protest because woman want to wear trousers occasionally. It is the privilege of workers to band themselves together to protect their own interests and so long as they adhere to legal methods and do nothing to violate the law the condition will be accepted by every wise employer. The other type like this man up north who would let his mill rot may find that that is exactly what is going to happen to the plants of folk who try to avoid the inevitable.

The Flight Of Scholars

The Society for the Protection of Science and Learning has issued a report on the present status of scholars in exile and on the efforts which the society has made to help them find new places and continue their work.

This report reflects a condition reminiscent of the dark ages and indicates that enlightenment is gradually passing from certain countries of Europe that have in the past been foremost in the advancement of the arts and sciences.

Of course, the most notable example of primitive tendencies is to be found in Germany, where 1,600 teachers have lost their posts since 1933. Included among them are many men of distinction who were driven out by reason of their political views or their religious faith. They will contribute to the intellectual progress of more enlightened lands.

Fascist Italy and Communist Russia have turned many scholars loose, while Austria through its persecution of Jews, has driven scientists from the country. The turmoil in Spain "has led to the flight abroad of many university teachers, research workers and students, who were in danger from one or the other, or both main parties in the war."

With the exodus of learned men there must be necessarily a corresponding deterioration in idealism, which leads eventually to the rule of the fang and the claw, not a pleasant prospect, especially when contemplated by the generation that fought a war to make the world a safe and a pleasant place in which to live.

Teaching Drivers

Five hundred students at the Dallas Technical High School are to be given a driver training course next term which serves to call attention to the fact that similar courses have been given during the past year at ten different high schools in the United States with very satisfactory results. Many motorists, The Examiner believes will be inclined to scoff at the idea. Nearly everybody can drive a car they will argue. That is just it—nearly everybody does and the result is seen in the mounting accident record.

The high school course is taught with actual automobiles being used in demonstrations and road instruction. Pupils are instructed in the rules of the highway and the technique of driving including correct clutching, braking and the proper shifting of gears. As the students are at the right age to form new habits, most of them are rapidly transformed into expert drivers, keen, alert and with a proper appreciation of their responsibility as operators of a ponderous and powerful machine.

In short they afford a sharp contrast to the run-of-mine kind of driver that is produced under the system of tests that would-be motorists are given under the Ontario regulations. Recently the Nickel Belt Motor League took a stand in favor of stricter examination of drivers before licenses are issued pointing out that the only test required now is to be able to drive around the block. That may be a little exaggerated but the fact remains that too many folk who are unfit for obvious reasons to be entrusted with the responsibility of operating so dangerous a machine as a modern high-powered automobile seem to sift through the system.

Get Out The Flags

The fact that this is Exhibition week suggests the thought that it is up to the downtown section in particular to let the world know that there is something unusual going on here. It is a carnival week and we should therefore put on our gayest garb, our holiday clothes.

In other words this is an occasion for getting out the flags and bunting and doing a little decorating of the business section.

There will be thousands of visitors in town, tourists from the lake resorts as well as folk from all over Central Ontario and the city owes it to itself to put on a holiday front for the benefit of these strangers within our gates as well as for the purpose of putting our own people into the holiday mood that should be associated with such a week. Peterborough should in short put on its best bib and tucker for the next few days and let everybody feel that this is a gladsome occasion. It is the most effective and the most convenient way of selling the idea to visitors that this is a wide-awake and progressive community. The Coronation flags must still be around somewhere; get them out this week and set up the right atmosphere for two such important events as the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition and The Examiner's bucksaw contest.

Chase Him Off The Road

There was a driver in Toronto police court the other day faced with a traffic charge and his counsel urged on his behalf that to be caught driving without a license was not a very serious offence. That is perhaps true in some cases, for the possession of a driver's permit does not necessarily mean that a man is a good driver, any more than the absence of one is evidence that he is a bad driver. However in this particular case there was considerable significance in the fact that the accused was not in possession of a license.

We say that because a Toronto paper has taken the trouble to prepare the man's record for publication and it is such an extraordinary revelation of a continuous exhibition of bad driving that we republish it as follows:

Aug. 30, 1935—Involved in motor accident resulting in personal injury.

Sept. 3, 1935—Convicted at Brampton on charge of reckless driving. Fined $15 and costs.

January 20, 1936—Convicted at Toronto on charge of operating a motorcycle while intoxicated. Committed to jail for seven days.

January 27, 1936—As a result of conviction on January 20, license suspended for a period not exceeding six months and until proof of financial responsibility is filed.

April 12, 1936—Convicted at Toronto on a charge of speeding. Fined $6 or five days.

June 12, 1936—Convicted at Toronto on charge of speeding. Fined $6 or five days.

Aug. 25th, 1936—Convicted at Toronto on charge of speeding and fined $20 or ten days.

Oct. 6, 1936—Convicted at Toronto on charge of speeding. Fined $5 or five days.

Dec. 29, 1936—Involved in motor vehicle accident resulting in property damage.

January 7, 1937—Involved in motor vehicle accident resulting in property damage.

January 28, 1937—Involved in motor accident resulting in property damage and personal injury. Subsequent to accident of January 28, accused was convicted of operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended. Fined $200 or 30 days.

Aug. 10, 1937—Brought up for sentence on two charges of driving without a license. Discharged because summons was left at the home of accused's mother which he swore was not his abode.

We have been looking over that list of offences and we must confess that we have been unable to find the slightest reason why this particular driver should ever be given the legal right to sit at the wheel of a car again. Surely a motorist so irresponsible, so indifferent to his own safety and that of others that he should be involved in at least four accidents and be convicted of seven or eight serious infractions of the traffic regulations within a period of two years should be chased off the highway for good. The mystery of the whole affair is what kind of a test this reckless individual had to pass before he was issued a permit in the first place.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Italy staged her annual war games the other day. Last year the event was held in Ethiopia, as you may remember.

What should a man wear? asks a contemporary and all we can answer, brother, is let your conscience be your guide.

With the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition and the Examiner's bucksaw contest both on the cards this is a great week for Peterborough.

The election is really on. Here Is Hon. Harry Nixon out with a prediction that the Hon. Earl Rowe will not even be in the next House.

One of the first promises of the 1937 campaign is that of Premier Hepburn to jail C. I. O. leaders if they cause trouble in Ontario.

Alberta banks have been notified that they must comply with the Aberhart legislation or close their doors. Whom the gods would destroy etc.

A Nairn Centre man is recovering his hearing after getting hit by a car. Just when the driver will get his hearing depends, of course upon the authorities.

The proposed $200,000 airport for Calgary is now regarded as a doubtful proposition. In other words the plans are still up in the air.

Hamilton proposes to tax carnival shows $100 a day. The folk in the concessions will have to work overtime to even things up.

Women delegates from all over the world are meeting at Budapest to discuss peace and it is to be hoped that the argument will not be heated enough to get to the hair-pulling stage.

A good citizen is an Ontario farmer who worries about storms on the Atlantic coast or a Toronto man who worries about the corn-borer in western Ontario.

Hands off Alberta is the warning the Social Credit party is giving the Ottawa government. At the same time however there is no apparent intention of refusing Federal assistance.

A parachute jumper in New Jersey crashed into a house and tore his trousers. That seems harsh treatment for a fellow who was perhaps merely dropping in for tea.

Quebec had nearly six inches of rain in 12 hours. Some of that precipitation spread around the prairie provinces would mean millions of dollars to western farmers.

It is said that buyers in Colorado are offering $400 a ton for dead grasshoppers which are sold to anglers for bait. Just how much a dozen that figures out at we will leave to the business office staff to estimate.

A thirty-five foot python escaped from a carnival show at Brantford and was eventually captured. He might have been seized sooner but the citizens mistook the reptile for a section of fire hose.

TO AN OLD MAID

How oft I've seen you pass my crowded house,
As slender as a willow-wand and tall
And full of grace, commanding all of those Who greet you to a fine respect of all
Your lovely self. I've noticed how my sons
Show you a gallantry to me denied,
And how my growing daughters often leave
Their friends, that they may linger by your side
And hear you tell of some bright shining thing
That holds them breathless with their eyes aglow,
Making the dull and commonplace take wing,
Breathing new life into that which they know.
And I, their "Martha-mother," do take heart
To glean new truths and learn "the better part."

Canada's Radium.

THE Port Hope Guide, which should be an authority, as the radium refinery of the Eldorado Gold Mines Company is located in that town, gives some very interesting information regarding this remarkable mineral. The total amount of mined radium in the world is estimated at not quite 600 grams. Of this supply about 225 grams are believed to exist in the United States, with 125 grams in private hands. The demand for radium, particularly for medical purposes, has influenced the company to enlarge its plant. The single Canadian producer has now refined more radium than the entire American output. When the plant is enlarged it will have a capacity of 126 grams a year, or about three times the present annual output. The new refinery will make it possible to supply some of the demands for radium in the United States, as well as the British Empire, which until the present time has absorbed almost all the Canadian output. Canada has vast resources of pitchblende ore in the Great Bear Lake region in the far north, and as these continue to be developed the radium supply will become ample it is hoped for medical purposes. Already the manufacture of radium in Canada has changed the situation and broken the monopoly of the Belgian Congo, which charged such exorbitant prices for its product.

In Philadelphia recently, a pilot named George Townson took off from an airport in a plane that resembled an ordinary biplane. He circled the field, landed normally and a few minutes later took off again. When he was in mid-air watchers on the ground saw the upper wing begin to revolve like the vanes of a gyro. This time the pilot landed in a steep, space-saving drop, characteristic of a gyro and come to earth gently. The new machine is called by its inventor a Vertaplane and it can make a gyro takeoff as well as gyro landing. Gerard Post Herrick who invented the new aircraft contends because it will fly as an airplane and land as a windmill plane it combines the advantages of both types of machine.

A Real Golf Fan.

HE is a real golf fan if he plays two 18-hole rounds in one day and there are many who do that. But J. H. Perkin of Bognor Regis, England, thought he could play eight 18-hole rounds in one day with an average score of under 100. So sure was he of it that he bet a friend, A. Astbury, $250 to $5 that he would play the eight games and another $250 to $5 that he would "break 100," or in other words that his aggregate would be below 800 shots. He lost both bets, for his arms gave out during the last 18 and his companion was staggering from exhaustion. The distance they had to cover was well over 30 miles.

A Rumor Corrected.

WHEN Edward VIII went to Balmoral Castle for the first and last time as King he invited the Duchess of Windsor, then Mrs. Simpson to visit him. Edward himself drove 50 miles to Aberdeen station to meet her and the Herman Rogers. In his withdrawn book Coronation Commentary the author Geoffrey Dennis repeated criticisms that Edward had cancelled an engagement to open Aberdeen's Royal Infirmary to meet Mrs. Simpson. Lord Prevost Watt of Aberdeen has come out with a flat denial of this charge. "Months before the opening date" he said "I was in communication with the King through the Scottish office and the reply I received was to the effect that owing to Court mourning the King had decided that he would not perform any such ceremony as the opening of the Royal Infirmary. At the same time he was much interested in the infirmary that he had deputed the Duke of York to act for him and carry out the ceremony. The fact that Mrs. Simpson arrived in Aberdeen on the same day as the Duke and Duchess of York was a mere coincidence."

Seventy thousand Irish loyalists living in England are worried. They believed they would be able to obtain passports from the British passport office but found after De Valera had obtained a majority for his new constitution that no passports could be issued to them. They felt that this was an attempt to force them into full Irish Free State citizenship and were less keen than ever for citizenship.

On Paying the Aldermen

Montreal City Fathers And How They Earn the Money.

(From the Montreal Star.)

THE members of the National Association of Local Government Officers of Great Britain, at present touring Canada, have been surprised to find that city councils in Canada are paid for their work. In the Old Country aldermen and city councillors do not receive any remuneration, though Labour members are, in some instances, made a small allowance for "time off." The president of the Association, Mr. W. W. Armitage, of Sheffield, told the press representatives who interviewed him at Ottawa on Wednesday that he and his associates had thought that municipal elections in Canada were "of the people, by the people, and for the people." The idea of paying aldermen for their work evidently does not conform with his conception of such elections.

But our distinguished visitors must make allowances for differences of viewpoint. We are a young country. We have not yet reached that ideal state when we regard it as a privilege to be allowed to work for nothing in the interests of our fellow-citizens,—especially when we know very well that they would not work for nothing for our special benefit. We have some hazy idea that the labourer is worthy of his hire. Even if our aldermen do not always come up to what we—hoping against hope—still persist in thinking they ought to be—models of unapproachable civic virtue and impeccable civic integrity—still, they do give up a lot of their time to meetings at the city hall, to interviews with their constituents, to speeches in which they explain to their puzzled voters just why the ward has not got a new park, a new public bath, a new highway and a new market, and just what they intend to do about it.

Yes, indeed, our aldermen work valiantly, even during the hot weather. They have been known to sacrifice themselves upon the altar of stern duty to the extent of travelling in state to neighbouring American cities in the drenching heat of the summer months to find out why it is that our administration of parks and playgrounds cost more and gives us less than theirs do. And they have most heroically, while away on such duties, allowed themselves to be entertained at banquets and have suffered various other elaborate entertainments and diversions with well assumed complacency. Surely all this is worthy of consideration in the form of a modest honorarium each monthly payday? Yes, indeed, our aldermen earn their pay, and we cannot accept the quiet hint from the Old Country that they ought to sit—or stand—and serve the city for nothing but the citizens' grateful thanks.

Those Unnecessary Noises

Nocturnal Sounds Drive Citizen to Desperation.

(From the Ottawa Journal.)

A READER of The Journal wants to know if something can't be done to make Ottawa less noisy, especially at night. He says he likes the city in the summer. Half the houses in his block are vacant while their families enjoy the abundant life of holiday resorts. Most of the children are away. It is a street where motor traffic is comparatively light. The whole set-up would seem to indicate the prevalence of peace and quietness.

But, says our correspondent, things do not work out that way. ? When he has watered his lawn and has settled down on the verandah with a good book, seeking such coolness as the dying day brings, he finds his attention distracted by somebody making a speech in a loud voice. It is the radio next door, telling the world through the open windows.

Our reader says he is prepared to be reasonable about the radio. He is not a devotee, but neither is he a radio-hater—he can take it or leave it alone. But when he wants to listen to the radio he wants to listen to his own radio, to programs of his own choice. He dislikes having another person's selections thrust upon him, as 'twere.

Nor is this all. The young people in the block, our correspondent goes on, obviously are enjoying the fine evenings. Young men drive up in their cars and toot their horns merrily, without much regard for the time o'night. Parties assemble on verandahs and chatter gaily, sing the latest songs with gusto and abandon, send out for soft drinks—or something—and put on a party.

Our friend insists that he isn't an old fogey who goes to bed at nine o'clock and thinks the streets should be rolled up at that hour and put away for the morning. He likes to have fun, to see others having fun, but he does find it difficult to retain his kindly feelings for the human race when there booms through his bedroom windows at midnight a chorus of young voices proclaiming that Happy Days Are Here Again.

We are, of course, sympathetic, but we do not feel equal to instituting a campaign against open windows. Besides, we are just trying to get accustomed to the operations of an electric riveter in the office neighborhood, and that is using up as much of our energy as we can afford to give to the subject of noise. But we should like our friend to know that we feel for him in the matter, especially as we aren't invited to these parties either.

World Becomes More Tolerant

Orange Lodge Holds Dance In Catholic Church Hall.

(From the St. Thomas Times-Journal.)

IN Lucan, on Thursday, the Royal Black Knights and their female friends danced on a floor belonging to St. Patrick's Roman Catholic church, and the floor apparently entered heartily into the spirit of the occasion for reports today indicated an enjoyable dance with no broken bones. It comes about this way: The Knights, needing a dance floor for their Derry Day celebration, asked for the loan of one belonging to St. Patrick's church. The request was immediately and graciously granted, and the parish priest, Rev. Father MacKeay, helped the Orangemen put up the floor!

This pleasing incident is another indication that this old world is becoming more tolerant. No doubt many readers can remember the bitterness that used to exist between Roman Catholics and Orangemen. In those bitter days there was little disposition to ask or grant favors between these two divisions, which naturally seemed to be antagonistic to each other. There were few Orange dances on Roman Catholic floors and vice versa. But much of the bitterness of the bad old days is passing away with the march of time.

This, of course, doesn't mean that men are not as strong for principles as they once were. It means, merely, that bitterness and hatred are no longer considered necessary adjuncts of one's beliefs. Men have come to realize that those who differ from them are not fanatics. They have reached the point where they can give those who differ from them credit for sincerity and for possessing the courage of their convictions. They have learned in the school of experience, that bitterness doesn't pay, that it is, in fact, a decided hindrance. Few converts are made by abuse, by suspicion or by ridicule.

Since men of various religious and political views have to live together in a community it is very desirable that bitterness should be avoided. This doesn't mean that men should not have strong convictions and defend them in every honorable way. But this doesn't require that one's views should be tinged with bitterness or with contempt for the views of others.

SAULT SAWDUST

(Sault Ste. Marie Star)

THIS year's contest at the market square convinced the town that it had something which would appeal to the masses, and Champion Aarri Pantilo, fortified with an extra $5 has authorized the announcement that he is investing his prize in a new bucksaw.

Have the readers of this paper, (who wade through it so carefully that they are able to point out every mistake in it) ever stopped to consider what Mr. Pantilo's remarkable performance portends?

Here was a man who sawed a 7 x8 rock maple railroad tie, three cuts in a minute and 42 seconds. He made the first cut in 26 seconds. Let us do a little figuring on what this means.

A man cutting a 7x8 solid stick in 39 seconds is sawing at the rate of one cut of a solid square foot in less than one minute, or a solid cord of the same square timber in less than 32 minutes.

Or, to give you some grasp of the situation, 19 cords of solid beams in 10 hours.

Or, as a standard cord of farmers' cordwood, loosely piled, only 75 per cent. as much wood in it as a cord of beams such as was used on Friday, the Algoma champion was cutting on his first cut at the rate of 27 standard farmer-piled cords in 10 hours!

Put it this way: He could make one cut in each of 38 cords of 12 foot sticks in 10 hours if a logging crew could keep him supplied with 12-foot sticks.

To the Editor

MR. BURNHAM REPLIES

Editor Examiner:

Sir: In thanking the Rev. E. W. Young, D.D., for his courtesy in replying to the question of the inspiration of the Bible which I addressed to him he will see that while his reply is apparently satisfactory and to the casual reader will appear fully satisfactory yet there remains the fatal flaw in the use of the word "containing." It was by reason of the modernist idea that while the Bible "contains" (and not is) the rule of faith and of life as cited in the Basis of Union of the United Church that the higher critics proceeded to point out the inaccuracies of the Bible textually, historically, morally and otherwise, leaving the Bible not as the "all scripture is given by inspiration of God" as formed but merely "containing" it and therefore open to such criticism and to such explanations and limitations or claims as the critics see fit to allow to it. The vast array of devastating "criticism" directed at the Bible by modernists many of whom are ministers of the United Church like celebrated Rev. Dr. Jackson left the Bible as an impossible rule of anything and leaves it open to such emendations and constructions (criticisms) as these ministers see fit to give it. A book that is believed to "contain" the Christian verities is not the same as a book that is in its entirety given by inspiration of God and therefore to be relied upon as God's word and not simply a book somewhere "containing" God's word which critics may identify when and where they see fit. If Dr. Young believes that the Bible "contains" the only rule of faith and of life will he be good enough to say that the whole Bible is given by inspiration of God and therefore is not open to criticism or limitation or does he believe only that it merely "contains" as does "nature, history and the heart of man" the word of God and no more. This is the crux of the whole question and it is upon this rock that the churches have split and by reason of which critics have left the painful impression in the public mind that the Bible cannot truly be called the word of God, and that the critics are the only guides to its interpretation. Indeed so surely is this the warning of the Basis of Union referred to that the Rev. George C. Pigeon, D.D., at that time moderator of the United Church declared in a dedication sermon in Toronto that their ministers should be regarded by the people as the sole "interpretators" of the truth and that the people should find out and receive the truth from them—a claim so extraordinary that as was pointed out at the time no other church ever made it before.

However the splendid letter of Rev. Dr. Young in which he frankly avows his faith in the Old Belief has produced a profound impression and has raised the hope of a great many anxious believers that he will do something to stem the tide of higher criticism which is creating such havoc.

EVERYTHING NOISY

(Kansas City Star)

DO you know that ants and spiders sing? That termites whistle? that flies scream? And that weevils clatter and bang while boring wheat grains?

They do, declare Jennie B. Harris naturalist, in June Good Housekeeping. We don't hear them because human ears are not attuned to these sounds, but if radio perfects its intricate apparatus, we may yet tune in on an ant orchestra, or listen to the rush of sap in the trees.

"Magnified powerfully, practically nothing is soundless." Miss Harris says. "Not even the air, nor a blade of grass growing. Our ears naturally embrace about eleven octaves. Music embraces seven. The cry of a bat is said to be an octave higher than the chirp of a sparrow. And music is shrillier still. The microphone is picking up sounds never heard before, opening up to human ears a world of research as suddenly fathomable as the world the microscope opened up to the human eyes."

PREMIER ACTS AS MEDIATOR

herty, Abraham Sauve, Omer Belanger and Percy Laurin. The Peterborough delegation was headed by Union Organizer Alex Welch and Michael English, both arrested and subsequently released on bail in last week's voting in Peterborough. With them are Joseph Vinnette, Clifford Willis, Norman Haig, Edith Frizzle and Lucy Ronco.

Called By Premier

The conference was called by Premier Hepburn to attempt to settle disputes in three mills at Cornwall and two at Peterborough. Also in attendance were members of the Ontario Labor and Industry Board, the Mayors of Peterborough and Cornwall and P. N. Draper, President of Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. Hon. Peter Heenan, Provincial Minister of Lands and Forests, assisted in the negotiations.

F. B. Brownridge, Liberal M.L.A. for Stormont, accompanied the Cornwall delegation which represents 1,700 employees in the Canadian Cottons' Cornwall mills. Five hundred workers are involved in the Peterborough strike.

To pave the way for a general meeting, the Premier first held preliminary conferences with the Cornwall delegation. Discussions with the Peterborough representatives followed and finally Mr. Hepburn talked with the company officials.

When Laverty left the first meeting, he said the strikers had merely presented their minimum demands, a 50-hour work week and wages increases graded up to 20 per cent. The Premier received the delegation's demands without comment, Laverty said.

"BEAN CROP DECREASED."

"Indications are that the Western Ontario white bean crop will be seriously decreased by the ravages of insects and weather, according to statements of a Chatham observer. Trouble with the seed corn maggot earlier in the season and continued rainfall which prevented normal cultivation, and in some cases caused scalding of plants, may cut the crop to half a normal yield, it was said. Good growing weather until September 15th is required to ensure that much of a crop, the same source said. There is a prospect of increased prices offsetting the smaller yield, it is believed because the United States bean crop has suffered very much as the local crop, and supplies both here and to the south are said to be very short.

last several days. Applications were from both local and outside persons.

While the applications have been noted in accordance with normal routine, no persons have yet been accepted for work other than those who were working in the plants at the time of the strike outbreaks, it was reported.

A committee of four, two representing the Auburn and two the Bonner-Worth, was chosen by the strike negotiation committee from its own number to attend the conference under Premier Hepburn's chairmanship in Toronto today, at a meeting Saturday afternoon. Headed by Mike English, strike chairman, the committee consisted of Clifford Willis and Joseph Vinette of the Auburn and Lucy Ronco and Norman Haigh of the Bonner-Worth.

The strike representation left for Toronto in two automobiles early in the morning. They were to meet their legal adviser, J. L. Cohen, in Toronto.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

Influence by cross-currents of outside market trends, wheat fluctuated irregularly in early trading. Prices dipped a cent in opening trades in sympathy with weakness at Liverpool but came back to levels around the previous close when Chicago showed firmness.

Trading generally was thin and local.

Liverpool closed 1⅝d to 2¼d lower. Lower North American markets near the close provided bearishness.

unions they choose," he said. "It is their birthright and nobody in Canada can take it away from them.' He also defended the right of employees to demand collective bargaining. Employers who refuse to grant those rights are thinking in terms of fifty and one hundred years ago, he said, charging responsibility for holding their rights to the workes themselves.

Workers' Right.

While the right to organize into the unions of their choice and to bargain collectively is refused workers in this Province, it is the privilege of all employers," Mr. Heaps said. He pointed to the Manufacturers' Association as one of the strongest unions in Canada. "They make their requests in the same way you do. Yours fall on deaf ears but when they make their requests governments usually turn a very favorable ear," he said. "If they have the right to bargain collectively the workers should have the same right." He asked what would happen if the Provincial government told the Manufacturers' Association it could not meet them because it did not believe in collective bargaining.

The speaker deplored methods employed by American industrialists to defeat labor, using the violent deaths in Chicago for example and claiming that as a result some industrial leaders will shortly face criminal charges. "Have you ever heard your Premier say a word against any of the foreign industrialists who would probably bring some of their despicable methods into this Province?" he asked. Yet the Premier persistently blames labor's organizers as "foreign agitators,' he said. "The Premier sees through different glasses now than he did a few years ago. He used to be considered somewhat of a radical then, but in recent days his radicalism has pretty well vanished."

Low Wages.

He said the textile industry, protected by high tariffs, has fared well at the hands of the governments of the past with the result that textiles have been more expensive in this country than in almost every other country in the world. Yet employees were the poorest paid workers in the Dominion. "If an industry cannot give its employees proper wages and living conditions it has no right to protection," he claimed. He promised that when Parliament re-opens the textile industry will again come under review. "Some of us feel that it is receiving too much and giving away entirely too little in return."

Strike Chairman

Mike English presided.

Organizer Alex Welch and Tom McMurray addressed a small gathering of strikers and citizens in Nicholls Oval Sunday afternoon. Again the police methods used to open a way for workers into the Bonner-Worsh plant were scored. Welch declared authorities will get nowhere if they hope to break the strikers' spirit by tactics of badgering leaders. He had reference to arrest of himself and others Tuesday morning and the arrest of Harvey Murphy Friday.

FIVE MEN ARE NAMED TO BOARD

minion and Provincial governments and the suitability of the present arrangement to present and probable future conditions.

To look into the character and amount of taxes collected from the people and determine whether present taxation is equitable and efficient;

To study public debts and expenditures in general and the ability of governmental units to discharge their responsibilities in the present framework;

To decide whether the present division of responsibility is equitable or conducive to efficiency;

Dominion Subsidies.

To investigate Dominion subsidies and grants to provinces;

To express "what in their opinion, subject to the retention of the distribution of legislative powers essential to a proper carrying out of the Federal system in harmony with national needs and the promotion of national unity, will best effect a balanced relationship between the financial powers and the obligations and functions of each governing body."

Economic and social developments since 1926 have forced both Dominion and Provincial Governments to assume burdens not contemplated when the constitution divided up the sovereign powers of the newly-created Dominion. This is one of the fundamental reasons assigned by Mr. King for the re-examination.

Discharge of these responsibilities, the order-in-council appointing the commission stated, involved expenditures so great as to demand the most efficient administration and also the widest possible division of powers.

Statements have been made that Provincial Governments lacked sufficient revenue sources to enable them to meet their responsibilities, including the cost of unemployment relief, social services and debt payments. If this were true new revenue sources should be allotted to them or their burdens should be reduced. The commission is to report on this question.

The problem of municipal finance is also referred to in the order-in-council as an essential part of the problem of Provincial finance.

Economic and social change past, present and future will concern the commissioners. One of the reasons given for the inquiry is concern lest the set-up devised at Confederation might not be adequate to meet the "economic and social changes and the shifts in economic power which are in progress without subjecting Canada's governmental structure to undue strain [illegible]."

Phenomenon Of Nature—Farm Land Caves In

FARMER ROBERTSON LOOKS AT THE DESTRUCTION

Hundreds of square feet of soil are sinking into the bowels of the earth near Buhl, Idaho, forming a new canyon. Today more than five acres of what formally was rich farm land lies between 125 to 200 feet below its former level. The land does not break away and crumble, but sinks. This phenomenon of nature, which some authorities say is due to a great fissure beneath much of southern Idaho, may doom a considerable area. H. A. Robertson, leasor of farm land which has been sinking, is seen viewing the destruction. The land on which he is standing also will crumble, geologists say.

We've Done Our Full Duty Ennismore Father Declares

James Crough Thinks Government Ought to Step in and Help Him.

In a little unpainted farmhouse, on the shores of Lake Chemong in Ennismore township, 10 miles northwest of here, James Joseph Crough, 45, and 16 children; nine boys and seven girls, are anxiously awaiting the return from St. Joseph's Hospital, of the newest addition to the family, aged four days, and her mother, 37.

For the latest of the Crough clan, as yet unnamed, and 19th of her line, has not yet been seen by any member of the family. Crough and his wife were both born in the township in which they live. Canadians of Irish extraction, and devout Roman Catholics, and were married in St. Martin's Church, Ennismore, on June 11, 1918. They have had an addition to the family every year since. Twins were born to them in 1923, but died at birth. All the others are very much alive. The youngest, save the new arrival, of the 19 children in 19 years, was born just one year ago Saturday.

But the littlest lady is the end of the story, according to both her parents. Crough explained that religious conviction accounted for his large family, and summed up the situation by saying: "We've done our full duty."

Moreover Crough feels that something ought to be done for him and his by the provincial government. "I should never be able to make a go of it if it weren't for my two big boys," he said. "I have the grandest sons that any man ever had, and every cent they earn comes home. The third is all right, too, but he's younger," he added.

"But I think that the government ought to step in and help us. I've been trying to finance the purchase of this farm, which I have been renting 14 years, and have taken the matter up with the government. Nothing has been done about it. It seems to me that the government should help people like us, for we are trying to do our duty and to live decently. We need help if this family is all to be educated properly.

"Due Some Consideration"

"I admire the quintuplets, Crough continued. "I am glad that so much has been done for them. We never had five children at one time but we've had 19 altogether, and I think that we are due for some consideration."

A glance at the Crough home showed that the need was genuine, for though the farm comprises 180 acres, 95 of which are under crop, and has half a dozen cows, three horses, and the usual implements, it is very evident that 18 mouths—19 now—are a lot to feed. But they are a sunny lot, and even 16-year-old Carmel, mother pro tem to her brothers and sisters and helpmate to her father, can manage a smile when she gets time for one amid the many cares of household and family. All are friendly, even Towser, the dog, when they get over their first shyness with a stranger.

The family of James Crough and the former Bernadette Mary Crowley includes: Timothy Joseph, 18; Vincent, 17; Carmel, 16; Urbain, 15; Patricia, 14; Helen, 13; Peter, 12; Theresa, 11; Fergus, 10; Doreen, 9; Jack, 7; Michael, 6; Emmett, 5; Paul, 4; Coletta, 3; Shirley, 2, and the new baby girl.

Crough frankly admitted he could not recall the dates of the various children's births.

The three eldest boys and one of the girls are away from home when visited; Timothy, Vincent and Urbain, at work on farms in opposite corners of the township, and Patricia visiting an aunt, not far from her own home.

Patricia, Helen, Peter, Theresa, Fergus, Doreen, Jack and Michael all attend school, in a little schoolhouse about a mile and a half away. The others are either too young, or have not yet qualified for higher education.

There were eight children in Crough's family, and 14 in his wife's, both houses being members of the colony of Irish-Catholic farmers, which includes practically the entire population of Ennismore township.

It is reached by a floating bridge, across the lake, crossed in perfect safety, at low speed by trucks and automobiles, as well as by farm vehicles, although when the wind blows, waves lopping over the 'deck' may cause some fear in the hearts of the uninitiated.

Shy at the outset, like his children, Crough—who pronounces his name "Croak" — soon became affable, discoursed at length on farm problems and those of his domesticity, and summoned his bright-eyed youngsters to have their pictures taken. And Carmel was everywhere, carrying the babies, chasing would-be absconders from the gathering, supplying names and ages, and keeping one eye on the kitchen, where the evening meal was being prepared.

killed and two wounded when one shell fell in front of the Savoy Hotel on Broadway, just behind the Japanese Consulate.

Foreign businesses in the danger zone were urgently constructing air defences. In the French concession reinforcements were rushed to the barricades where machine gun nests have been constructed behind the sandbag ramparts.

Bombed Airdromes

The Japanese dawn attack spread all through the rich Yangtze Valley, the heart of China's commercial wealth. Japanese announced officially that their planes had bombed two airdromes outside the capital at Nanking this morning, destroying 10 machines on the ground and shooting down another 10 in aerial combat. The Ming Palace airdrome was reported in flames. All the Japanese planes were said to have returned safely with two observers killed by Chinese anti-aircraft fire. Independent reports from Nanking cast doubt on the Japanese claims. Damage was undoubtedly inflicted but it was believed to be considerably less than asserted by the Japanese.

The Japanese also claimed to have raided the Chinese air bases at Hangchow, Soochow and Kwangteh and to have bombed the Shanghai-Nanking Railway, severing the vital line of communication over which Chinese troops have been pouring in.

The Japanese embassy in Nanking was ordered closed by the Tokyo foreign office and Japanese diplomatic and consular officials arranged to leave Sunday.

The Chinese were consolidating their position all along the 15-mile front with which they have pinched in Shanghai. Additional fortifications on the right bank of the Hangpoo River were designed to threaten the Japanese warships from the rear.

Shanghai is a seaport two rivers removed from the Yangtze on a double bend of the murky Whanpoo. Nesting in one of the bends is the ancient Chinese city and all around it sprawls the French concession. The International Settlement lies to the north of the French quarter on both sides of Soochow Creek. The Whangpoo bends where the creek flows into it and along this bend the Hongkew district—heavily Japanese inhabited—of the International Settlement extends out like an index finger.

Where Fleet Is Anchored

It is along this finger of the International Settlement that the Japanese fleet is anchored.

Many Americans were already fleeing the city where they have hundreds of millions of dollars invested. One group of 200 was caught in the cross fire of the Japanese flag cruiser Idzumo as they were boarding a Dollar line tender for the trip down the Whanpoo to Woosung where they were to board the liner President Taft. No one was injured, however.

Helplessly, dazedly, the Americans huddled low in the vessel while sprinters from the Idzumo's shells rained around them and the thousands still on the docks. No one in the tender was injured.

Shanghai faced an acute food shortage for the city was becoming increasingly isolated and with the taking over of all available means of transport by the Chinese army little food was finding its way.

LEWIS' MILLIONS SHOULD AID ROWE HEPBURN ASSERTS

"consider well" the outcome of a vote which would place the Conservative Party in power.

The "same old gang" of Tories were seeking re-election, he said, and their success would mean:

1. Lawless agitators of the C.I.O. would be given free entry to Ontario to cause labor disputes, riots and possible sabotage in Ontario industry, now well on the road to recovery in a prosperity that was fundamentally sound.

2. Hydro rates would be increased beyond the high rates in existence before the Hepburn Government took office, and the great public system would be again under the domination of Montreal money barons.

3. Wealthy men would be again free to defraud the public treasury of just taxation.

To Mr. Rowe's charge that he was trying to cover up a power shortage, the Premier declared that there were thousands of horse power held in reserve in contracts sufficient to overcome any power shortage.

$900,000 Saved

"Here in Halton County alone a total of $900,000 has been saved the taxpayers because of the Government's administration in such affairs as highways, old age pensions and mothers' allowances. At the same time we have actually been reducing the debt.

"But Mr. Rowe talks so glibly about increasing the debt.

"Why shouldn't he?"

"He has never supported a Government that reduced the debt. He supported Mr. Ferguson, Mr. Henry and Mr. Bennett when those Leaders were taking this country into debt. I supported the Robb budget, the Dunning Budget and now this Government has balanced its Budget and is reducing the debt.

"And I say I can repeat that if I go back to power. It is up to the people to choose.

Liquor Control Board

"Another thing Mr. Rowe features in his attack on this Administration, is the Liquor Control Board. You will notice that he says nothing about toll-gates, but I will say something to you, I will just present the figures for the last year of the Tory Administration and the first year of our administration, and you can use your judgment.

"In our first year of office we reduced the cost of administration of liquor by $542,000, compared with the last year of Mr. Henry's Government. In that same year we increased revenue by $2,500,000 compared with Mr. Henry's last year. The toll-gate operators were not there and are not there now, that is why we showed an improvement.

'And he talks about children's saloons. Does any one know of a children's saloon? He says there is liquor sold in hot-dog stands, in Chinese restaurants and in taxi stands. What utter rubbish. Now, in the head office of the Liquor Board we have pictures of every place in the Province that sells liquor. Any time he chooses, Mr. Rowe can go down there and see those pictures and perhaps then he will stop talking rubbish and tell the truth.

Great War Veterans Honor Memories Of Comrades Who Lie In St. Peter's Cemetery

Graves of Fallen Are Decorated in Annual Service of Canadian Legion.

Members of the Peterborough branch of the Canadian Legion in their Decoration Day service at St. Peter's Cemetery on Sunday afternoon renewed their memories of deceased comrades of the Great War, those who fell in action, and those survivors of the battlefields of France and Flanders who even up to the last twelve months have been falling one by one out of the ranks of the veterans.

Led by the band of the Salvation Army the men of the Legion wearing medals and berets placed a wreath on the city's memorial and on the monument to Captain Brown in Confederation Square after a brief service at their own Cenotaph. William Gracie carried the Union Jack and Ed. G. Hardie was marshal of the parade. Flowers were placed on the graves of one-time soldiers at the cemetery by detachments of the Legion.

Max R. Sloan, president of the Legion, was chairman at the simple service of remembrance, and the speakers were Alderman James Dutton, representing Mayor Macdonald, and Rev. P. J. Kelly, rector of St. Peter's Cathedral, and an overseas chaplain. With them on the platform were Mrs. W. Hughes, Mrs. Joseph Mills, and Mrs. Houghton of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion.

Alderman Dutton said Mayor Macdonald had been through a strenuous week, and felt he needed the afternoon's rest.

"His Worship asked me to represent him. I regret that he could not be here because I know the returned men have no warmer friend than Mayor Macdonald," Ald. Dutton said. "To me it is a great privilege to have the opportunity of taking part in this memorial service to pay again our tributes of honor, respect and affection to the men who went forth counting not the cost, even to giving their lives. And we are reminded of our responsibility in connection with the veterans. As your president, Mr. Sloan, has said, a few more of your members have died during the last year. That will happen all the time. In addition to the 63,000 Canadians who laid down their lives in France and Flanders there are those of you who came back who have had to lay down the burden and are resting in hallowed places like this.

This occasion is another challenge to you and to me to dedicate our lives to the service of our fellow-citizens in whatever direction opportunity leads us."

World In Turmoil.

Rev. Father Kelly said he regretted that Mayor Macdonad was not present, but he knew the reason of his absence. The speaker expressed the hope that when all the circumstances were understood with greater clarity the actions of Mayor Macdonald would receive general approval.

In his address Father Kelly used three phrases reating to the menace of war: "Greater turmoil than ever," "a sword hanging over us," and "the flames of war around us." He declared that the Canadian people did not seek war, were doing all they could to preserve peace in the world, but if war broke out Canada would be swiftly involved in it.

"I recall an incident of twenty-three years ago when I addressed a battalion. I quoted the words: "Unless the grain of wheat dieth it bringeth forth no fruit"; and if it died it yielded much fruit. Four years later I could have said that the harvest our men had won was large and it promised to be permanent, but after twenty years have passed we find that the harvest has been misused. There is more turmoil in the world to-day than ever before."

Asserting that he did not like to see the little fellow trampled on, Father Kelly referred in general terms to the course pursued by some powerful nations in making war on weaker countries and taking possession of them. The most recent incident was in the Orient where Japan, after biting off Manchuria, was now trying to take another part of China. In another sense and nearer home outsiders stirred up a people until they were at each other's throats. "In the midst of all the trouble that seems to threaten us I think that instead of recalling our deceased comrades to our memory, we have need of calling their attention to us."

Father Kelly asserted his belief in the survival of men's spirits. The bodies of the soldiers were buried in the fields of France and Flanders, in the little church cemeteries of England, even as in the Little Lake and St. Peter's Cemeteries, but their spirits did not die.

"I believe the spirits of those boys are here in actuality, among us and watching over us."

Lesson of History.

Father Kelly pointed out that He who said there would be no fruit from the grain of wheat falling on the ground unless it died, also ordered Peter to put up his sword, affirming that he who lived by the sword would also perish thereby. History afforded abundant proof of the truth of that warning. Nations and other groups of people resorted to violence to crush and destroy their fellow men. Greece and Rome once were conquerors, but their civilizations have long been only a memory, and Asia Minor for all its ancient greatness is but a desert to-day.

Referring to the rumbles of war at present, Father Kelly remarked that some people said the Canadian people could not become involved in it.

"The flames are all around us. Are we to be a comfortable oasis?

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, August 17

A very active but doubtful day is forecast from the predominant lunar and mutual aspects of the major planets. The energies will be pitched to high points of initiative, but there are adverse conditions and some pitfalls to be adjusted before there can be successful issues. There may be obstacles due to illness or sorrow. Change is imminent, involving unexpected journeys. But be careful as to financial losses or speculation.

Those whose birthday it is should be prepared for a fairly lively and progressive year, with the energies stirred to high initiative, although this spirit of enterprise may find some stubborn obstacles requiring postponements or temporary setbacks. It is probable that illness or domestic anxiety may occasion this delay.

A child born on this day should be energetic, enterprising and industrious, but restless, unsettled and prone to procrastinate or waste its energies in too much attention to details. Its physical well being may be a factor requiring early attention.

SQUIRE OPPOSES RED TILE ROOFS RETAINS THATCH

"The number of new houses being built was one of the sharpest impressions I got of the Old Country," Richard (Dick) Ford, home from a two months' visit, told The Examiner this morning.

"But I found one memorable exception. It was a little village in Yorkshire, a very delightful place, thatched roofs and houses of old architectural forms. It seems that the squire who owns the entire village frowned on any of the new houses with their red tiled roofs and other modern features. He just wouldn't have that was all. The houses in his village are all in good condition, and are well kept, there is nothing run down about it, and there isn't going to be anything modern either. Just an old English village.

"I think the most peaceful place in the world is any of those English villages. The people are happy and contented, the men have their glass of beer in the 'pub,' the countryside is beautiful beyond words."

Mr. Ford visited relatives in Hampshire and spent weeks in Dorset, another week in London, days in Birmingham, and generally had a delightful visit to his old home.

ROSENEATH.

Decoration Service Merrill's Cemetery

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, Aug. 16.—Decoration and memorial services were held in Merrill's church and cemetery on Sunday morning, August 15.

Rev. G. C. R. McQuade of Oshawa was the speaker for the occasion. Mr. McQuade's subject was "The Continuity of Life."

Special music was rendered by the choir of Roseneath United church. A full choir number "Looking this way," was sung with Mrs. Isaac Bruce and Miss Lavigne McMillan taking solo parts, and a quartette part sung by Messrs. Lewis and Burton Roberts, Alvin Kelly and Melville Macklin. These gentlemen also sang a second number, a quartette, "Have Thine Own Way."

Merrill's church was one of the first Methodist churches erected in the district, some years ago, but owing to changing times and conditions was closed. However, it is kept in good repair, and is opened when required for funeral services and once a year for a memorial service.

The well kept cemetery with a perennial flower bed, presents an attractive and restful appearance.

It is true we don't want war, but I think we would be into it in no time after it started. There is no humbug where the spirits of our dead are. They see everything in the clear light o feternal intelligence. They know the truth now. Think of some dead chum you knew very well, who was through it all with you, and ask them to help us and take care of us.

British Citizens.

"St. Paul was in many difficulties from his own people. They chased him through Syria into Asia Minor. They watched for him in Macedonia and drove him out of Ephesus. They wanted to put him to death. St. Paul was only a little man, but his friends wanted to have him in their power for their own purpose. In his difficulty he proclaimed, 'I am a Roman citizen,' and by appealing to Rome as one of the citizens of that Empire he got justice."

Father Kelly suggested that St. Paul's invocation of his rights as a citizen should be an example when difficulties arise before our people. "I am a citizen of the British Empire. Think of the justice that becomes mingled with such difficulties."

Wet Nurses, Mostly Holstein Cows Arrive As Advance Guard To "Ex"

Wet nurses, mostly Holstein cows, for the unweaned bluebloods in the beef cattle classes to be shown at the Peterborough Exhibition this week were among the first arrivals at the east end of the park this morning.

A herd of Jerseys from St. Thomas occupied stalls in one of the barns, but the supply cattle were unplaced under a tree near the north-east gate.

"You hear about dual-purpose Shorthorns," a cattle man told The Examiner, "because some breeders want to develop the milking strain in that beef class. You wonder how the beef classes develop even as they do when apparently it takes two cows to provide milk for one calf. If you notice this week some of the calves are a year old and nearly as big as the milking cows that have been brought along to feed them."

C.C.F. Leader Says Police Cost $400 a Day

DR. LORNA COTTON-THOMAS, provincial vice-president of the Cooperative Commonwealth Federation told the press this morning she had learned from a reliable Toronto source that the estimated cost of keeping provincial police in Peterborough on strike duty was $400 per day. The figure, she emphasized was an estimate of the cost when the squad was here at its full strength. It would be decreased proportionately, she said, now that the majority of the men have been withdrawn. Mayor George A. Macdonald was out of the city on official business today and could not be obtained for any comment or statement relative to the cost of bringing in the provincial police, or as to what proportion of the cost would be borne by the city.

SIXTEEN NOVICES DEDICATE LIVES WITH FINAL VOWS

The religious ceremonies of Reception and Profession were held in the Chapel at Mount St. Joseph on Monday, August 16. The chapel was filled with the friends and relatives of the young ladies who took part in these ceremonies. The altar was tastefully decorated with gladioli and roses.

The devotional singing of the Sisters' choir during the Mass and at the conclusion of the ceremony added much to the solemnity of the occasion.

Bishop O'Connor officiated and was assisted by Rev. V. Corkery and Rev. C. Carroll.

The sermon was preached by Rev. William McLaughlin, C.S.S.R., Toronto, director of the retreat. Taking for his text, "He that loses his life for Me shall find it in the world to come," he said that those words might be the inspiration for the morning's ceremony, because these young ladies had truly given up all for Christ's sake. He went on to explain the real meaning of the vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience, so little understood by the world, and made mention of the grand work done by religious communities in the church, congratulating the Sisters of St. Joseph for their part in it. He had special words of praise and felicitation for the young ladies, who were giving themselves so generously to work for God and the Catholic Church.

Present in the Sanctuary were Right Rev. Monsignor McColl, V.G., of Lindsay; Very Rev. Dean F. J. O'Sullivan; Rev. J. J. O'Brien; Rev. J. V. McFadden, Downeyville; Rev. J. V. McAuley, Campbellford; Rev. J. Garvey, Lakefeild; Rev. V. J. Gillogly, Enniamore; Rev. Leo Cleary, Victoria Road; and Rev. Fathers E. Welsh, E. Grant, C. McCarney, G. Wolfe, and K. Maiane.

Among the visiting clergy were Rev. T. McLaughlin, C.S.B., Toronto; Rev. D. A. McDonald, Peterborough; Rev. G. T. Martin and Rev. Father LaSage, both of Kingston.

At the conclusion of the Mass, 16 novices pronounced their final vows: Sister M. Julienne, Fort William; Sister M. Carolyn Bracebridge; Sister M. Carmel Teresa, Almonte; Sister Mary Garnier, Lindsay; Sister M. Margaret Helen, Blind River; Sister M. Noreen, St. Andrew's West; Sister M. St. Christopher, South River, Ont.; Sister M. Their charming little attendants were: Marilyn Doleman, Isabelle Hunt, Shirley Odette.

ALD. GORDON PLACED BLAME STRIKE LEADERS

Alderman G. N. Gordon told The Examiner to-day that Alex. Welch, Jacob Cohen and Michael English were the ones responsible for the suppression of the information given in a telegram that Premier Hepburn would invoke the Minimum Wage for men immediately upon the necessary investigation being made under the statute. When it was found that Welch, Cohen and English were refusing to give textile workers information and were doin everything in their power to prolong the strike, having in mind their own interests first and the workers' interest last, Mr. Gordon said he decided that he could not continue further in the effort of raising funds for relief of the needy families. Efforts to raise the funds were not supported actively by these three men, and as Mr. Gordon stated he has never heard of either Mr. Cohen or Alex Welch, the C.I.O. organizer, contributing anything for the relief of the employees.

The telegram Alderman Gordon sent on July 22 from Port Arthur was the result of the company's request that everybody go into work and then negotiate afterwards, and Mr. Gordon said he did not trust Mr. Dawson. Mr. Barrett and the Dominion Woollen officials to do the fair thing by the textile workers and they should have a written agreement. Nearly a month has passed since then with fruitless efforts to get a settlement and when the Prime Minister pledged his government and gave his word that if the textile workers would go into work, he would have a minimum wage for men imposed before any other trades or crafts were considered. Mr. Gordon said he felt that offer should have been accepted.

For the benefit of Messrs. Welch Cohen and English, Mr. Gordon stated that over twenty persons have telephoned him or have seen him since their so-called repudiation of his assistance and have thanked him for what he has done, and in addition to that many business men have told him he was taking the right course in his efforts to keep the C.I.O. from getting a foothold in Peterborough. As a citizen of Peterborough, Mr. Gordon stated, it is in the interests of the relationship between the employers and those employed to prevent labor organizations that advocate violence and lawlessness from getting a foothold in this city but he is in favor of unions, either national or international. Mr. Gordon stated that he was opposed to the conduct of affairs which are so provocative of nature that they are likely to cause breaches of the peace.

When Crown Attorney McElderry is attacked on the platform by Michael English as chairman, because Mr. McElderry as Crown Attorney was doing the duty imposed upon him representing the Crown, Mr. Gordon said he could understand why public sympathy is rapidly leaving those who are conducting and in charge of the policy and negotiations in this strike.

Dr. Herbert Young Examined Reid Girl

Wishing to clarify his position in regard to the case of Ivena Reid, 14-year-old doffer at Bonner-Worth Mill who claims that a skin condition was aggravated by tear gas released by police in connection with strike disturbances, Dr. Herbert N. Young made the following statement to The Examiner:

"I saw the girl on Monday of last week, the day prior to the reported disturbance at Bonner-Worth Mill. At that time I gave her some ointment for a skin condition affecting her face. I next saw the girl on Friday, when her condition was much worse. While I was not prepared to give an opinion I did tell her that tear gas might have aggravated her condition. I did not say that tear gas had caused burns. In fact I do not know of my own knowledge that she did come in contact with tear gas."

Museum On Wheels Arrives In City For Exhibition

World Wonder Car Travelled 456,000 Miles, Fuel Consumption 2 1-2 Gallons a Mile.

A museum on wheels, known as the World Wonder Car, arrived in Peterborough at two o'clock this morning from Buffalo, hours behind the schedule which was discarded in the crowded traffic of No. 7 Highway.

A striking novelty in itself, this car has travelled 456,000 miles, on a fuel consumption of 2½ gallons of gasoline to the mile, all over the United States, and parts of Mexico and New Mexico.

Louis Engel, attorney of Washington, D.C., is in charge of the exhibit which crossed the Canadian border for the first time Sunday to put in a week at the Peterborough Exhibition on the way to the C.N.E. at Toronto next week. Mr. Engel is attached to the promotional department of the United States Marine Corps.

"In the United States this car is used exclusively as an attractive means of enlisting recruits for the navy," the Examiner was informed. "It has been on a tour since 1933 without any interruption, and flies the Marine Corps flag in the United States.

The slogan of our exhibit is "1001 Curious Things from All Over the World," and it includes part of the Lincoln relics to the value of $125,000, shrunken heads from Jivarro, South America, some of the first patented models made by Thomas Edison, an octopus, and many other interesting objects. Our main objective in Canada is the big Fair in Toronto, but we are going to be here all week."

The Wonder Car is insured for $225,000, the largest risk ever issued for an automobile. The chauffeur told The Examiner he had never encountered such a stream of traffic as the double line of cars on No. 7 Highway Sunday, the last stretch of which was from Lindsay to Peter-

Where They Get 'Em.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 16.—Jack Huddlestone of Lakefield fought a battle royal with a giant muskie on Lake Katchewanooka early Sunday morning and came out victorious only after a twenty minute struggle. One of the largest muskies caught in this district in some years, it tipped the balance around 21½-pounds and measured 43-inches from stem to stern. Mr. Huddlestone was casting off third island when he got his strike. Although he was alone in a canoe, he was able to control his craft and play the fish until it was "played" out. Lacking a stick he stunned the fish with his paddle before hauling it aboard. It had only one hook in the lower lip. Tackle used consisted of a silk line and plung.

Mack's Collegiate Collection Breaks Yanks Murderers' Row For Three Straight Victories

Double Loss Cut Chicago's Lead in National League Race.

NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (C.P.).—Did you ever see a worm turning?

They're doing it all over the place these days. Washington's wallowing Senators are breezing along on an eight-game winning streak. Pittsburgh's pathetic Pirates are turning back towards third place in the National League. And Cincinnati's collapsible Reds have just made the high-and mighty Chicago Cubs holler "Uncle."

We Give You the "A's."

But for the championship of the Society of Turning Worms, and for the classiest job of upsetting the applecart, we give you Connie Mack's Collegiate collection of Athletics.

They're either a brave band of youngsters, or they've been fooling everyone—including themselves—for a long time. Every other outfit in the league falls apart at mere mention of the Yankees and their big war clubs.

Connie Mack's crew, staggering along in the league cellar, looked them in the eye over the week-end, didn't think much of the view, and proceed to take three straight over Murderers' Row.

Young Edgar Smith, who had been trying all season for this first straight victory, completed the sweep of the series with a seven-hitter yesterday and climaxed a feat that hasn't been duplicated since May, 1934. Not since then, when the Cleveland Indians accomplished it, has any club swept a three-game series from the Yankees.

The breaks made it easy for the A's to go down in the books as the greatest little surprisers of the season.

But Yanks Keep Lead.

The Yankees maintained their 10-game lead in the pennant chase, since the second-place Detroit Tigers kicked away a six-run lead and lost 9-7 to St. Louis Browns.

In the National League the jinx-loaded Chicago Cubs were walloped thoroughly by the Reds and lost a double-header, 13-6 and 9-8.

As a result, their league lead was cut to four games because the second-place Giants turned back a late rally by the Phillies to register a 5-3 decision for their third straight win.

Washington belted over the Red Sox twice, 9-3 and 8-3, to climb into fifth place and drop the Bostons into fourth. The White Sox advanced to third and shoved the Indians down to sixth by trouncing Cleveland 6-3 and 3-2 in a bargain bill.

Pirates Get Twin Win.

Paul Waner found St. Louis pitching easy meat and the Pirates picked up a twin win, 8-4 and 4-0, to make it three straight over the Cards. Brooklyn and Boston Bees battled through two acts of comedy of errors, and split, the Dodgers winning the opener 7-5 and Danny MacFayden tossing a three-hitter for a 9-1 Boston win in the nightcap.

NEW ZEALAND II SCORES 164 RUNS

LONDON, Aug. 16.—(CP Cable)—New Zealand ran up 164 runs for six wickets before lunchtime today in the third test cricket match of the season with England.

In contrast to the opening day Saturday, when drizzling rain kept actual play to less than an hour, today was bright and cloudless and 8,000 persons were in the stands at the Oval.

The first test of the season was a draw and England won the second.

M. P. Donnelly was the stalwart of the New Zealand innings, running up 56 before he was caught by L. Hutton off R.W.V. Robins. He batted an hour and three quarters and had six fours.

Only two runs were added to the Saturday score when the first wicket fell at 22, H. G. Vivian sending a catch to Ames off E. R. Grover's bowling without scoring. He had 13 Saturday. A. W. Badlee, seven not out at the start today, reached 18 when Austin Mathews took out his middle and leg stumps. W. M. Wallace was run out after scoring eight and G. L. Weir was good for only three runs when caught in the slips off Grover, and four wickets were down for 47 runs.

Donelly came to the wickets and stopped the rout with D.A.R. Moloney holding his own at the other end. The New Zealanders reached the 100 run mark in two hours when Moloney, after scoring 23, was defeated by a slow delivery from Wally Hammond, and five were down. Donnelly finally succumbed to Robins, sending a catch to Hutton after his 56 had brought the total to 145.

TRANSPORT TRADE

BANFF, Alta.—(CP)—Visitors at the recent Indian sports meet near Banff were slightly puzzled by the spectacle of a cavalcade of white town boys mounted on Indian paint ponies and scores of Stoney Indian youths astride the more modern bicycle until it was learned the lads, envying each others' mode of transportation had swapped for the afternoon.

Dizzing Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

AH, YES, about that ball game here Saturday. Well, the Petes won it, 3-2, but they had to play 10 innings. Another nifty battle with the Ponies of Kingston, and a goodly gathering of cash customers yodelled in delight at the doings. A dandy joust all the way—about the best seen here this summer. It was the first win in eight starts against the Ponies for ye men of Manager Collins, and just about puts the Petes in the playoffs. As Napanee lost a close one in Oshawa that day, the Gibbards must now win their three remaining tilts—one against Peterborough—to gain even a third-place tie with the locals, so their chances are slimmer than the sliced bacon the grocer gives out. Especially as the Petes have really been playing ball the last two weeks.

* * * * * *

JOE JAKAFBY again pitched a nice game, bearing down all the way against a tough outfit. He earned the victory and seems to have found himself now. Joe got good backing, despite a couple of miscues. Ken Long had 19 putouts on first, Doug Mowry caught an okay game, Len Hollingsworth pulled a circus catch to rob Joyce of an extra-base blow in the eighth—snatching it on the dead run with his bare hand. It might have meant the game. Clark and Kingdon looked good around second. Yeah, the whole squad worked fine. In spite of the fact that Burton was absent and Starr didn't arrive till the sixth, being at work.

* * * * * *

ON THE offensive, the locals played easily their best game of the year. They ran bases like big leaguers. The batters stood deep in the batting box and forced Arnell to throw from away back. Consequently, five stolen bases were chalked up against him and none against Mowry. Hollingsworth scored from second on a grounder to Joyce, as an indication of the heads-up ball the boys were playing. Of course, Joyce fell asleep twice and really lost the game for his buddies. Kearns shone, too, with three hits in five and two runs driven in as well as the winning run scored by himself. That was after he hit safely in the 10th and then stole. Starr came in as a pinch-hitter then and singled to score the big counter. A real money blow.

* * * * * *

YEAH, there were a lot of highlights in this tilt. We enjoyed Whatley's act at the plate, calling his own balls and strikes for the umps—who was a brother of Umpire Pat Corrigan, by the way. And that throw from Kearns to Clark to Mowry to nip Elliott at the plate in the fourth. The tying run for Kingston in the seventh was a gift from the umps as Arnell was struck out but handed a walk to force in the marker. The crowd booed Corrigan later when he tried to make an announcement. The fans certainly liked this scrap and they were talking about it plenty around town late Saturday night. The win put a lot of heart in the Petes and they figure now they have a fair chance of doing something in the loop playoffs.

* * * * * *

TONY PACZKOWSKI pitched nice ball, too. He really worked and deserved a better fate. And the rest of the Ponies also toiled hard for a win but they couldn't expect to get the breaks every game against the locals. Buck and Goodfellow got two hits each for 'em and McQuaide and Joyce hit doubles. Goodfellow had a fine catch in short right and all around they made it a real battle as usual. Those Ponies are never licked till the last out. After the game, Joe Daley had just two kicks. One on Joyce for dumb baseball twice, and one against himself for failing to order Starr walked in the tenth. But he grinned and said: "Oh, well, we'll be seeing you in the playoffs."

FIRST of the O.B.A.A. junior playdowns is here Wednesday eve at 5.30 o'clock—so folks can get away early to the Exhibition—between Belleville Kiwanis and the local Rotarians. Twig Woodley's gang have been playing all summer in the Hastings County intermediate loop and should be tough to take, while Herb Ralph's squad has breezed merrily through the Lakeshore Junior League. Lefty Weeks or Joe Kelleher will pitch for Belleville and probably Gee Clark for the locals. Admish is two bits and fans can't go wrong on taking in this tusse. Return fixture will be on the Quinte diamond Friday in this two-out-of-three serial ENTRIES are coming in okay for the big bucksaw contest which will be held Thursday and Friday mornings on Simcoe St. between George and Water. Plenty of good prizes and some classy sawmen from around here and from distant parts tearing through the logs on raised platforms. It ought to be a much better show than last year (and that wasn't bad, either) as the blade-wielders know more about these contests now. There was some friction last year, too, over the types of saw used—but this will be eliminated in the present contest. Hurry up with those entries, you huskies, as the big event is almost upon us.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB MARTIN

THE WEEK'S ACTIVITIES

Monday, Aug. 16.—Men's schedule.

Tuesday, Aug. 17.—Ladies' games; men's schedule.

Wednesday, Aug. 18.—Novice competition, men.

Thursday, Aug. 19.—Ladies' games; men's skip and vice's and leads and seconds.

Friday, Aug. 20.—Mixed tournament, 1 draw from the board, 7.30, 25 cents fee.

THE ATTENTION of our bowlers is drawn to Wednesday evening, Aug. 18. The date has bee nset aside for the starting of our men's novice competition. This play was originated a few years ago by R. M. Glover, manager of the old "Peterborough Examiner". It was carried on by the late Mr. P. J. Giffen of the present Examiner, who also donated a cup—and now the competition is being further fostered by H. L. Garner and A. R. Kennery, present directors of The Examiner. This event is of such great importance to our club that the committee decided to give up a whole night to the running of this contest. R. Hendry will be in charge and a good crowd is expected to be on hand. The draw is made, and it will be a straight elimination tournament.

THE OTHER DAY we picked up a new book on lawn bowling. There are some very helpful hints in it and also some tricky rules. We intend to print one of these each day and see how many of our bowlers can answer them: "What authority is delegated to skips to mutually agree to waive penalties or permit a bowler to change his bowls?"

IT HAS JUST leaked out that Harry Beatty and H. G. Walker are representing our club in the Examiner's Bucksaw contest—no doubt they will be "heavy" favorites.

PETES PRACTISE

The Petes will practise tonight and tomorrow night at six in Riverside Park, and all players are urged to be on hand.

Westclox Adds To Advantage In City Softball Playoffs

Clockmakers Get 7-4 Victory Over Motorists in Saturday Game.

Westclox men softballers handed Motorists a 7-4 setback at Central Saturday evening before a fair crowd of fans. It was their fourth meeting in the four-in-seven series to declare at O.A.S.A. palydown team, and the Clockmakers have now won three and lost one. These teams meet again Tuesday here and a win for the Westclox will send them into the O.A.S.A. intermediate playdowns, but a win for Motorists will force at least one more local playoff tussle.

Sturgeon and Shine both hurled nice ball, the former fanned four and walking five while Shine struck out three and issue three free tickets. The latter was in on a triple play when he caught the ball, touched out a runner coming in from 3rd and threw to second to nip another. The winners had a double-play to their credit. Both sides slipped several times defensively, with the losers' miscues being more costly. The teams:

GOLF-FACTS NOT THEORIES

By Alex Morrison

Number 65

During a recent conversation with Bobby Jones I asked for his opinion about the games of Ralph Guldhal and Sam Snead. Bob told me that he liked young Snead's game better than Guldhal's. He explained that as he saw the open champion's game it lacked the variations that Snead enjoyed, particularly in the use of iron clubs.

Guldahl does pound the ball rather hard with lofted clubs. He often uses a No. 5 iron for as much as 180 yards. This may not be forcing the club to him but it is a sample of the way he uses most of his clubs. He takes a pretty full swing with every club.

On the other hand Snead graduates his swings from the long powerful swing used with his wood clubs down to the short easy strokes around the green. He has what Bob Jones calls "caressing shots." These shots were an outstanding part of the former champion's game and he would be the first to recognize them in another player's game.

Of the two players, according to Jones, Snead has a better all round game. Of course, the new star has yet to come through a reversal. If he can do this successfully then his game must be sound.

St. Catharines And Merritton In Niagara District Playoffs

Saints Trample Five Colborne Pitchers in Gaining 15-7 Victory.

TORONTO, August 16 — (C.P.)—Leaders in gaining early playoff positions, St. Catharines and Merritton will meet in Niagara District Senior Baseball League finals after eliminating Port Colborne and Niagara Falls respectively.

The Saints trampled five Port Colborne pitchers to win 15-7 in a third and deciding semi-final Saturday, while Merriton's Valleys squeezed out a 5-4 victory over the Cataracts. Dates for the finals have not been set.

After taking an early lead, then being topped, Port Colborne slumped in the fourth inning as St. Catharines tallied five times. Chick Hudson pulled a two-run boner afield, then Ding Haynes smacked one of Merle Noyes' fast ones for a double, driving in two runs.

Comy relieved Noyes but the strain of three straight games against St. Kitts told and he was replaced in the seventh by Thompson. Seven Saints crossed the plate in that inning and Noyes went back to the mound. He was followed by Pop Herrick, who finished the game.

Merritton didn't have such an easy time entering the home stretch. The Valleys scored twice to tie the game, 4 to 4, in the ninth then pushed over the winning run in the 10th. Allan walked, to third on Wedsworth's single and a sacrifice by Adam and was sent home on a line drive by Smith.

Stratford took a one-game lead on Strathroy in the best-of-three series to meet London in the Senior Intercounty Association Final. The Nationals spotted Strathroy two runs on Tom Hanlon's error then tightened up to win 5-4. Bob Carrick helped the Nats' cause when his southpaw pitching fooled 11 batters and he held down the free tickets to a pair.

Belleville Kiwanis Here On Wednesday

Belleville Kiwanis play the local Rotarians here Wednesday evening at 5.30 o'clock in Riverside Park. It will be first of the O.B.A.A. junior playdowns, second game being in Belleville Friday and third, if necessary, probably on a neutral diamond. Admission for the tilt here day after tomorrow is 26 cents, and a big crowd is expected. It should be a classy contest between two smart teams—and fans can get away early to attend the local Exhibition at night. Both squads will be at full strength for this important struggle and will be hot after the first victory in the series.

Manager Twig Woodley—former Belleville umpire—has two good hurlers in Lefty Weeks and Joe Kelleher, and his team has been playing all season in the Hastings County Intermediate League. It should be a powerful outfit by now. Manager Herb Ralph of the Rotarians has a nice crew too, which cleaned up the Lakeshore Junior League. Herb figures on starting Gee Clark on Wednesday on the mound with Gerard catching. He also has Armour, Condon and Todd as reserve flingers if Clark has trouble. It ought to be the best junior baseball game seen here this year.

• Petes Beat Kingston In Tenth Inning, 3-2 In Thrilling Contest

First Win of Season Over Ponies Virtually Clinches Play-off Berth.

Starr's single in the 10th inning broke up a grand ball game here Saturday and gave the Petes a 3-2 win over Kingston before a big crowd of fans. The victory practically clinched a playoff berth for the Petes, as Napanee must now win its three remaining games to gain a tie with the locals. The win Saturday was the Petes' first one over the Ponies this season.

Kingston took a 1-0 lead in the fourth on four hits, but the homesters scored two in the fifth on one hit, two stolen bases and a couple of mental lapses on the part of the Ponies in the field. Kingston tied it up in the seventh on three hits, but Peterborough won out in the overtime stanza on a hit, stolen base and a single by Starr, as a pinch-hitter. It was the best ball game seen here this year.

Joe Jakafby and Tony Paczkowski hooked up in a neat hurling duel and both pitched a fine game. Tony allowed by eight hits to 10 and fanned seven to four but had a wild pitch and a hit batsman chalked up against him. Both sides backed their heavers up in great style, some of the defensive work bordering on the spectacular. The locals had two errors in the field, but neither figured in the scoring.

KEARNS GETS THREE

Chuck Kearns led the hitters with three in five times, as he drove in two runs and scored one himself. Whatley came through with two safeties. For Kingston, Goodfellow and Buck led with two safe blows each, and Joyce and McQuaide hit doubles. A neat grab of a fly back of first by Goodfellow and a running bare-handed catch deep in right by Hollingsworth were fielding features.

Buck hit for Kingston in the first and Kearns for the Petes but both were thrown out stealing. Compeau was safe on Calladine's error in the second but was forced out, and Whatley died on third in the locals' half after singling, stealing and moving ahead on a wild pitch. The Ponies went down in order in the third and the Petes did no scoring in their part, though Jakafby was hit by a pitched ball and Kearns got his second safe hit of the game.

With one out in the fourth Elliott singled, McQuaide hit a hard double to centre and moved to third as Elliott was thrown out trying to score, Kearns to Clark to Mowry. Compeau's hit scored McQuaide. Scrutton scratched a hit by Joyce went out. The Petes were sent back one-two-three in their half.

Petes Score Two

Goodfellow's hit in the fifth was wasted for the Ponies, but the Collins' crew got two more runs in their end of the frame. Kingdon led off with a single and stole second. Hollingsworth rolled to first but Joyce made the play to third and both runners were safe. Hollingsworth stole and both scored when Kearns grounded to first, Joyce holding the ball too long after stepping on his sack. Neither side did anything in the sixth though Whatley got a hit. Kingston scored in the seventh when Joyce doubled, took 3rd on Buck's hit after holding second for Goodfellow's scratch hit, and walked in when Elliott drew four balls. Kingdon walked, stole and took third on an out for Peterborough but got no further.

Scrutton was safe on Clark's miscue in the eighth for the visitors and Calladine go a hit for the homesters but neither reached second. The two teams were retired in order in the ninth. Arnell opened the 10th with a single but was forced out and the Ponies' chance was over. In the Petes' half, Jakafby filed out but Kearns singled. He stole second and scored when Starr, hitting for Mowry, hit a hard one that Goodfellow failed to hold.

ROOKIE HELPS FALLS' CAUSE

OTTAWA, Aug. 16— (CP)—Although Smith's Falls Beavers' chances of making the playoffs in the Canadian-American Baseball League this season are rather slim, they will no doubt find a regular berth in their next year's line-up for Wally Lanfranconia, 19-year-old pitcher from Barry, Vt.

Wally turned in a two-hit exhibition Saturday in his second professional start for the "Smithies" to trounce Rome Colonels, 7-0. Louis Capuana and St. Denis on the Roman mound were pasted for 11 safeties, Al. Smith leading the Beavers with four hits in five times up.

Yesterday, however, Beavers dropped a 5-3 decision to Gloversville Glovers when Bob Harrison of Glovers bested Resingo in a tight pitchers' duel.

Oswego Nats were paced to a 5-0 victory over Brockville Pirates by Charlie Golinske's seven-hit twirling, while Perth-Cornwall Bisons charged from behind in the ninth inning to down Ogdensburg 7-6.

Johnson Wins Another Dash

Toronto Ball Team Beats Lindsay 11-2

LINDSAY, Aug. 16 — Toronto Rotakins of the Ki-Y League handed an 11 to 2 defeat to Lindsay Warders in an exhibition softball game here on Saturday night. Features of the game was the smart pitching of Nichols for the winners, who held the locals down to three scattered hits.

Construction Team Falls To All Stars

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 16.—Local softball enthusiasts saw their first game of the season when W. J. Sarginson's "All-Stars" took a 13-11 victory from the self-styled "Ditch Diggers" engaged by G. M. Gest Construction Co. here. Although the local batters, most of whom were playing their first game of the season, got off to a good start the "Diggers" were running close behind when the game was called at the first half of the fourth inning when it grew too dark to play.

DELORO REGAINS CIRCUIT MARGIN WITH 4-1 VICTORY

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Aug. 16.—Deloro regained leadership in the Peterborough and District Football League and strengthened chances of winning the championship by virtue of a 4-1 win over C.G.E. on the Deloro grounds on Saturday afternoon. The visitors were without the services of their regular goalie, Chamberlain, but McCracken, who filled that position, played a fine game and was not responsible for his team's defeat. Keen interest now centres upon Deloro's last league fixture which will be played in Peterborough next week with Packers as opponents.

Homesters Start Well.

The homesters kicked off and soon each team gave its supporters the expectation of a score, but Brown hit the crossbar and in a retaliatory rush, McMaster placed the ball past O'Neill to be ruled offside. Maintaining the attack for the while, the C.G.E. again came within an ace of scoring as Keith headed the ball towards the corner of the net and Clark sent in a fine shot to find O'Neill awake at the switch. On a succeeding rush following a rearrangement of the C.G.E. forward line, McMaster shot wide and McPhate's rocket shot was well handled by O'Neill. As play returned to the other end, Brown shot high when in a favorable position for a score. Mitchell at the other end had the same misfortune and McPhate's fine shot struck the upright.

Play, hitherto of a scrappy nature, changed to end to end rushes which created more openings. The Deloro captain placed a shot just over the crossbar. Two minutes before half time a remarkable goal was scored by Brown. Receiving a pass from Brooks he sent in a stinging shot which hit the near upright to glance into the other corner of the goal. Orange time was called with the score, Deloro 1, C.G.E. 0.

Adds to Lead

For the second half, Ben McMaster elected to play outside right and signalized his change of position by taking a good aim at goal, to have the ball strike the upright. Other of the forwards took long shots for goal without success. Eventually a corner kick for the Electrics materialized, Ross receiving the ball and outwitting the Deloro goalie. The tie was quickly broken. A melee in front of the visitors' goal resulted in W. Hart forcing the ball into the nets. Shortly afterwards Brown connected with a corner kick and got his second goal of the game. The visitors, undaunted by the wider goal margin, tried hard for more goals. Mitchell tested O'Neill, who saved well, while on a subsequent rush, Ross shot wide and during the same bombardment Mitchell was only a trifle too high with a fine effort. A pleasing diversion was occasionally provided as Jimy Sproul and Benny McMaster engaged in a good-will tour now and again for possession of the ball.

With play carried into the C.G.E. territory Brown was unlucky in shooting wide. The C.G.E. captain almost scored twice in quick succession as his forwards again attacked. A high shot which looked as though it would graze the crossbar on the right was deflected by O'Neill with naught materializing from the corner, while another fast drive by "Benny" struck the upright. Deloro again broke away and J. Hart centered to Brooks, whose hot shot McCracken failed to halt. C.G.E. pressed but various good movements were checked at the crucial moment. A well refereed and clean game ended with the score reading Deloro 4, C.G.E. 1. The teams:

C.G.E.—Goal, McCracken; backs, Mackenzie and Whatman; halfbacks, Stewart, Earle and Burgess; forwards, Keith, Ross, McMaster, Mitchell and Clark; subs, McPhate and Goodhue.

Deloro — Goal, O'Neill; backs, Townson and Cousins; half-backs, Gray, Smith and Sproul; forwards, W. Hart, Bradley, Brooks, Brown and J. Hart; sub, Richardson.

Referee—Wilfred Jones, Peterborough.

Mel Ott, Giants—His single with bases loaded drove in three runs and beat Phillies 5-3.

Cy Blanton and Russ Bauers, Pirates—Blanton pitched Cards to 8-4 defeat in opener and hit four-for-four; Bauers hurled six-hit shutout in nightcap.

Oshawa Scores 4-3 Win Over Napanee

OSHAWA, Aug. 16. — Staging a ninth-inning rally that netted them three runs, Oshawa General Motors finished their home schedule in the C.O.B.L. senior race on Saturday when they handed Napanee Gibbards a 4 to 3 defeat. The game was one of the most interesting played here this season with Johnny Turner allowing but four widely scattered hits during the nine innings, but one was a homer by Hanford, which accounted for two runs. Tommy Pointer went the route for the losers, hurling superlative ball in the first eight frames, but Oshawa ganged him for three hits in the last inning, while the Napanee team fell to pieces defensively to practically give Oshawa the win. The result left the locals still a half-game ahead in the league standing with one game remaining at Kingston, which will concude the regular schedule and definitely decide first place in the standing.

Paul is fighting desperately to remain in the majors, despite a bad shoulder, while Dizzy has a lame big toe, an aching arm and hasn't won a game since July 4. In 1934 the two together won 49 games while losing 18. They are shown here, on the bench at St. Louis' Sportsman's Park.

SPORTS PROGRAM FEATURES MEETING

(Examiner Correspondence.)

ROSENEATH, Aug. 16. — Mrs. George Hoover was hostess on Wednesday afternoon when the regular meeting of St. James' Anglican Women's Auxiliary was held in her home at McCrackens Landing on the south shore of Rice Lake.

A short business session presided over by the president, Mrs. Ernest Timlin, was held. Routine reports were read and adopted; the quilt blocks distributed by Miss Eunice Webb; Mrs. Frank Brown reported receipts of $1.55 from sales from suit case, and Mrs. Edgar Braithwaite offered to assume charge of it for August. The collection was added to the Little Helpers' fund.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to the Little Helpers' group, for this was the day of their annual picnic.

Good Sports Program.

Mrs. Earl Braithwaite, Little Helpers' secretary, presided over a program of sports, which included entertainment for adults also.

The boot and shoe race was won by Ila McCracken. Throwing a ball in a pail contest was won by Helen Braithwaite. There was also a candy scramble and a candy hunt, and other juvenile entertainment and games.

For the adults, there was a clothes pin contest, won by Mrs. L. Sherwin; a parcel contest, won by Mrs. R. McCracken and Miss Alma Thackeray, and a shoe-kicking contest, won by Mrs. Earl Thackeray.

The fish-pond proved most attractive, as all articles were sold. To wind the picnic up properly, there was the picnic supper, enjoyed alike by children and adults. There were sixty people present. The September meeting will be held at the home of Miss Jessie Johnson, with Mrs. F. Brown and Mrs. Edgar Braithwaite as program committee.

Nine new vessels were launched on the River Clyde in Scotland in June.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Ambitious to become a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job. They see more and more of one another and begin to fall in love. During the absence of Francine Long, Tony's head buyer who dislikes Mary, the latter successfully designs some gowns for an important client, Liane Weston, a leading actress. Something goes wrong during the final fitting, the actress goes into a tantrum and Tony publicly berates himself for letting Mary, still inexperienced design the gowns. Mary feels certain Miss Long purposely altered one of the dresses. Leaving Tony's shop without word, Mary decides to go abroad. En route to Paris she meets Mark Sutherland, wealthy playboy. (NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 9.

The name of Miss Mary Barrett, lately of New York, did not appear on the register at the Ritz in Paris. Nor was there any other name that stood for hers. But she knew where it was, and accordingly appeared there at a quarter to 8 on the Saturday night, two days after she arrived in Paris. Hoping that a gentleman would not be so ungentlemanly as to arrive a quarter of an hour previous to the time of his engagement.

For while she hadn't said she would be stopping at the Ritz when she made her date with Mark Sutherland, she had implied as much.

For a reason that she didn't trouble to define, she hadn't told him that she was going to a modest pension on the Rue Richepanse off the Boulevard de la Madeleine. It was there that Catherine Mayhew, who had gone to art school with her, now lived while she studied at the Sorbonne.

Kate had welcomed her with open arms, found a most amazing room for her and still more amazingly at a low cost and installed her in what was to be her most modest home in the most beautiful city in the world. Kate had been able to give her little encouragement about getting a berth, but on this Saturday night, with the beauty of Paris already singing in her dream-filled head, Mary Barrett had no mind to worry.

Kate had introduced her to another American girl who had come to Paris to find work in one of the great dressmaking houses and after 10 months of futile search, given up. This girl—one Ellin Trent—had told Mary all there was to tell. American and Franco trade laws being what they were . . . the unemployment situation . . . the overcrowding. But Mary listened and heeded not. Albeit much of what she heard took the bright bloom off her immediate hope.

But had you seen her that summer night, stepping gracefully from her fiacre before the entrance to the Ritz in the Place Vendome, you would have seen nothing in her lovely face to tell you she wasn't lighthearted; or anything in her cinnamon lace gown and arresting coat of coral silk to tell you that she had made every stitch herself.

This was a night that she had set apart. She had plenty of money to live in her frugal pension though there might be lean days; she had an ache in her heart and a philosophy that told her she must do gay things to forget it. This was the night that she meant to do it. She believed in her star. And she believed that it was her star that gave her a young handsome millionaire to help her forget.

She saw Mark in his top hat and walked — not too quickly — toward the desk as though she had stopped there for a message. She reminded herself, with a touch of quick panic, that she had to play the role of a successful designer with Mark Sutherland.

"Good evening Mrs. Schweizer."

"Good evening, Mr. MacTavish. How is Scotland Yard? And all the little Scotland Yards?"

"Ravishing," he answered. "You, I mean."

"Famishing is really the word," she corrected.

"Then you shall have food. And later the last act of a revue and then into the dawn with a spot of champagne. Right?"

"Perfect."

It was perfect. They had cocktails sitting at a tiny table on the promenade of the Cafe de la Paix, watching the early night fall. Then they dined at the Cafe de Paris, eating exotic foods that Mary had never tasted before.

At 11 they went on to the last act of a revue that shocked Mary beyond words, but if she had had them, she wouldn't have used them. A woman of the world wouldn't have protested and Mary Barrett was determined that she was going to be a woman of the world.

She looked it, she thought, catching sight of herself and her escort in one of the mirrored walls, and she was well pleased.

She was pleased with Mark. Mark was gay, charming, flattering. But try as she would to respond, there was something lacking within herself. She could rise to his banter, fit herself into his dancing embrace, murmur applause at all he had to show her, but it was a different person within her than the girl she had been so short a month before.

Mary didn't want to talk about herself for she felt that was treading on dangerous ground, but Mark's curiosity was unquenchable. She told him more than she meant to but nothing of Tony Castle. She couldn't bring herself to mention his name.

Efforts to put away the memory of his dark laughing face, the quick play of emotions on it brought quick tears to her eyes. Waxening her first morning in Paris, she had seen the bright sunlight streaming through thick lace curtains, playing graciously on the faded red silk of the heavy old-fashioned furniture of her room and felt a quick lift of anticipation. But instantly, the memory of him and why she was there had swept away her momentary pleasure and she had turned her face to the pillow wishing for sleep, for forgetfulness.

A hundred times that day she had had to remind herself that she was actually in Paris, the city of her dreams. And when she did, it was only to remember that it was the width of a world away from New Yory. That for her, there was never to be another day to equal the springtime of her life. Those days that began with seeing Tony, answering his jovial wave.

Tony was there before her that night. Above Paris and New York the same stars gleamed brightly. The muted strings of the orchestra played strains that were being heard at the same moment in New York. The sparkling wines, so expertly selected, gave her no lift. The music fell on ears that hurt from the sweetness of the melodies. And through it all she was thinking: Perhaps Tony has been here. But I shall never be here with him.

It was not a very thorough way of putting him out of her thoughts.

It was dawn when Mark brought her back to the Ritz and left her gallantly at the lift.

She smiled her good nights, murmured little things about it's all being "divine," smiled at the operator and rode to the top floor. Then she rode down again and hailed a cab to take her to her pension.

She had told Mark that she was very busy and begged him not to try to see her too often. She would ring him at his hotel, she promised.

And so she did—to keep him from telephoning her and so discovering that she did not stay at the Ritz.

She was not entirely wrong when she said she would be busy. Her days began as soon as the dressmaking shops were open. And ended only when they were closed. It took but little time for her to cover them all, and to learn the discouraging truth that there was no place for her. Hope dwindled and with it some of her determination, but no one would have known it.

It was nearly three weeks later on a night when she was to meet Mark at the Westminster, that she came back to her modest pension to find him waiting for her in the parlor.

He grinned at her impishly. "Thought I'd save you taxi fare."

"How did you find me out?" she asked later when they were dining on chicken with tarragon in the Rue Saint-Roch.

"The first night I left you at the Ritz. Stopped outside to chat with a friend and saw you go off, heard you give your address."

"Think it was cheap?"

"No, I thought it was brave.'

"I havent much bravery left, Mark. I'm a little bit scared right now."

"Then suppose you take those pretty curls down your back and tell Uncle Mark about it? I might surprise you. I might have news for you."

SCORE LOW PAY GIVEN TEACHERS

TORONTO, Aug. 16—(CP)—Denunciation of low salaries paid to rural school teachers throughout Canada was made at Friday's session of the Canadian Teachers' Federation convention and the matter was referred to the Resolutions committee with a suggestion that a vigorous policy of salary improvement be endorsed.

J. N. Thomas of Cobble Hill, B.C., stated that the problem of the rural teacher in British Columbia was comparable to that of teachers in other provinces, and that the problem in fact was nation-wide.

"Conditions among rural teachers and pupils are undemocratic and unsound," he said. "Teachers are poorly paid and they are denied equal opportunity."

Joseph Connell, Sault Ste. Marie, said "In Ontario many of our salaries are a crying shame." Teachers receiving $400 a year were still being met with the criticism, "We used to get half that amount," forgetting that living costs and conditions have changed.

While education was the concern of the teachers, he said, the Federation was primarily interested in the welfare of the teachers and he was in favor of submitting the question to the Resolutions committee. Put to the vote, the proposal was passed.

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S SPRING BOARD

"Come on, now, everybody pull!"

"Pull hard!"

"There it comes!"

Uncle Wiggily, who was hopping through the woods near his camp looking for an adventure, heard the voices of some of his rabbit boys shouting; also the voices of Jackie and Peetie Bow Wow and some other animal boys who were visiting.

"I wonder what they are doing now?" though Mr. Longears. For nearly every minute of the day, the animal boys in camp were doing something.

Hopping softly amid the trees so he would make no noise, Uncle Wiggily reached a place where he could look through the bushes. He saw Buster, Custer and some other rabbit boys, with Jackie and Peetie and Toodle and Noodle Flat Tail, the beavers, pulling and hauling on a long board under a pile of brush.

"They must be going to build a play house," said Uncle Wiggily to himself. But a moment later Buster and Custer, who were pulling hard at the board, flopped over backward as their paws slipped off it.

"You don't want to do that when we get this spring board fixed near the edge of the lake," barked Jackie.

"If you do you'll get water up your nose!" laughed Peetie.

"Oh, so that's what they are making—a spring board to dive into the water from," thought Mr. Longears. "Well, that ought to be fun. I'll watch them."

Keeping out of sight, Uncle Wiggily watched the animal boys fix the spring board in place.

The end of the board on shore was held in place by heavy stones. The end of the board out over Blue Lake near where Uncle Wiggily had his camping tent, bobbed up and down, like a steel spring. That's why it was called a spring board.

"Now for a good dive!" barked Jackie as he ran out to the end of the board, teetered up and down and then gave a sudden spring into the air, the board helping him.

"Splash!" Into the water dived Jackie and when he popped up he began swimming.

"Here I come!" barked brother Peetie. He, too, took a dive.

Then, as Uncle Wiggily watched the beaver boys with their broad, flat tails, went in off the end of the spring board. So did the rabbit boys and some of their visiting chums.

"That looks to be a lot of fun," said Uncle Wiggily. "I think I shall take a dive off that spring board when the boys are through."

But the animal boys were in no hurry. They were having too much fun. Of course the dogs and beavers were better swimmers than the rabbits, but Buster and his brothers did very well.

At last the animal boys, having had enough of spring board diving, ran away.

"Now is my chance," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll take a dive though I am not a very good swimmer. Here I go!"

He took off most of his clothes and then, after a little shiver, he hopped out on the end of the spring board, bobbed up and down and into the water he dived.

"Whoopee! That was fun!" he cried as he popped up out of the water and spanned to shore to try the spring board again. "Whoopee!" cried Uncle Wiggily. And then, all of a sudden he was surprised to hear the same word again:

"Whoopee! Whoopee!"

"I wonder if that was an echo or if some one is coming?" thought Mr. Longears. "I had better be careful." He was, but something happened.

NEARLY SEVENTY ATTEND W. I. MEET AT TRENT RIVER

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 16. — The August meeting of the Women's Institute was held on Thursday afternoon in the United Church dining hall. Westwood and Belmont branches were guests and assisted with the program. There was an attendance of upwards of 70. Mrs. Earl Greenly had charge of the opening exercises and business for the local branch. Mrs. Harry Mann substituted as secretary owing to the absence of Miss Doris Scott. Roll-call, a current event of the year. The members received an invitation to attend the 25th anniversary of Seymour West Branch on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chas. Macoun, the invitation was accepted. The members discussed plans for a home cooking sale to be held in the Whitehall Gardens Pavilion on Wednesday, August 18. All tickets for the hooked mat are to be handed in before that date when the draw will be made. A number of members expressed appreciation of cards received during their illness.

The Program.

Vocal solo, "I shall not pass again this way," was most efficiently rendered by Mrs. (Rev.) J. E. Glover of Claremont, with piano accompaniment played by her daughter, Miss Helen Glover. A paper on Historical Research (Early History of Trent River) was given by Miss Bessie G. French. Mrs. William Smith of Belmont took charge of the visitors' program as follows: Leading, Mrs. Kennedy, "The Women's Institute," as composed by Mrs. David Wellman of Bonarlaw. Vocal trio, Audrey, Marcellana and Betty McMullen, with Miss Mary Anderson at the piano; the number received a hearty encore. A paper on "The Flag" was given by Mrs. J. Seabrook. Mrs. E. Birdsall, president of Westwood Branch, took charge of the balance of the program, and called upon the C.G.I.T. girls of Claremont, and their leader, Mrs Glover, to give a number, they sang "Follow the Gleam," with Mrs. Glover at the piano; they responded to a hearty encore at the end of their second number and gave their yell, which was greatly appreciated. Mrs. Birdsall then introduced the secretary of the Westwood Branch, Miss Helen Bray, through whose efforts their branch organized a girls' club. Miss Mary Barrie of Westwood assisted Miss Helen Bray to put on a demonstration, "The well-equipped clothes closet," showing furnishings in miniature form; this proved most interesting. Mrs. William Smith had charge of community singing, with Miss B. French accompanying. The hymn, "God be with you till we meet again" was sung with each branch singing a verse. The National Anthem brought the afternoon program to a close, after which the local branch served iced tea, sandwiches, cakes, salads and jellies. A silver collection was taken up, which met with generous response. This will be appropriated for the benefit of sick in the community.

Metcalfe, presided over the business and devotional part of the program and she gave a talk on the study book. The scripture was read in three parts by Mrs. A. German, Mrs. Willis Preston and Mrs. F. Warner. Mrs. H. M. Orr gave a splendid paper on temperance and Mrs. W. Tate sang most beatifully "Trusting Jesus" as she played her own accompaniment. The meeting which was in charge of the White group, under the leadership of Mrs. H. Orr, was brought to a close by the service of refreshments.

Find Marmora Mouse, Tail In Trap Being Swallowed By Snake

Marmora, Aug. 16.
(Examiner Correspondence.)

It IS bad enough in the rodent realm of thought to be caught in one trap but to have both extremites seized by a pair of these tortuous devices might be judged the limit. A country mouse who entered the pantry of Mrs. John Gifford of Marmora Township a day or so ago had these frightful experiences with a third and more terrible one to follow.

This is what Mrs. Gifford beheld as she had occasion to visit her pantry. The mouse was in the aforementioned predicament with a large spotted adder trying to draw the rodent's head and body through the trap. Mrs. Gifford immediately went for a neighbor, Mr. John Murphy.

In the meanwhile the adder had coiled itself around both traps and still had the mouse's head in its mouth in its endeavor to finish its meal.

Mr. Murphy ended the reptile's career. It was found to measure forty-three inches in length.

One-Hand Shotgunner Pops Off Skunk Inflicts Carcass On Groundhog

Marmora, Aug. 16.
(Examiner Correspondence.)

ABOUT 2 a.m. on Wednesday, Albert Burridge who resides on Madoc street was awakened by a commotion in his chicken run which stands about one hundred and fifty feet distant from the rear of his house. So with lantern in one hand and gun in the other, he approached the run where ten spring chickens were enclosed, to discover that one had been eaten and another was being devoured by a large skunk which had forced its way through the wire netting.

Mr. Burridge who is an expert deer hunter, holding the lantern in his left hand, fired two shots with the sole use of his right hand, striking the marauder both times, the second shot proving fatal. After daybreak, his young son buried the animal in an occupied ground hog's hole.

What effect it had on the ground hog is not yet known.

Aberhart Stands By His New Bank Legislation

ALBERTA PLANS TO GO AHEAD WITH BANK LAW

EDMONTON, Aug. 17—(CP). — The Social Credit Government of Premier William Aberhart went ahead to-day with plans for enforcing its bankers' licensing legislation, refusing to facilitate a reference to the Supreme Court of Canada on validity of the Alberta laws.

"We are compelled the mandate of our people to proceed with the enforcement of our legislation," Mr. Aberhart told Prime Minister Mackenzie King in a telegram despatched last night, following a lengthy cabinet meeting here.

The Federal Prime Minister wired Mr. Aberhart last Wednesday asking the Alberta Government to refrain from enforcing the three banking bills passed at a recent special session of the Legislature, until their validity had been passed on by the court. He asked if the provincial administration would facilitate hearing of such a reference.

Aberhart's Reply

In Ottawa, the Dominion Cabinet prepared to deal this afternoon with Premier Aberhart's reply which stated: "No sound reason could be offered to justify delay in implementing the clearly expressed will of the people."

Mr. Aberhart asserted in his telegram the legislation was designed to "compel financial tyranny to reveal itself as such if it dares to oppose" as well as to obtain results "demanded continually by the overwhelming majority of our people here."

He challenged the banks to take to the courts the bills which (1) require all bank mangers and bank employees in Alberta to take out license, (2) close Alberta courts to any bank employee who does not take out a license and (3) amend the Judicature Act to prohibit a constitutional test of any Alberta statute in Alberta courts without permission from the provincial government.

The banks would be granted a fiat when licensing was completed and local directorates formed, Mr. Aberhart said, on the following conditions, "if the banks contend that they have the right to monetize the credit of Alberta at their sole discretion and that their rights are supreme over the people's property and civil rights."

Further they must "refrain from endeavouring to mask their opposition as heretofore by obstruction through obscure nominee appellants." The government was willing to grant fiats to individuals or institutions which "genuinely and

Women Make Better Lookouts Than Men

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 17.

CONNECTICUT forest areas are safer from fire hazards when guarded by women than by men in the opinion of Charles H. Lathrop, assistant state forest fire warden.

"Women make better lookouts than men," he declared last night in a lecture on the state's woodlands.

They are more conscientious, he said, and "more contented" with the 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. hours of duty.

Eleven of Connecticut's 19 fire lookout towers are "manned" by women.

CANADIAN FLIER WILL SEARCH FOR MISSING RUSSIANS

TORONTO, August 17 — (CP). — Herbert Hollick-Kenyon, noted Canadian flier, said to-day he had accepted an offer of an airplane from Sir Hubert Wilkins, famed Polar explorer, now in Washington, D.C., and would begin a search in the Arctic for the six Russian airmen missing on a trans-Polar flight from Moscow.

Kenyon, formerly of Winnipeg, was chief pilot for the Lincoln Ellsworth Antarctic Expedition in 1934. He now is operations manager of a Toronto air transportation company. He said he would leave for the Arctic as soon as the plane, a twin-engined Bellanca, arrives from the United States.

Among Hollick-Kenyon's flying achievements was his participation in the successful search for Col. C. D. MacAlpine, lost with a party in the Arctic for several weeks in 1928.

The Russian fliers have been unreported since last Friday after their plane, on the third Soviet flight over the North Pole this year, had crossed the Pole and was heading for Fairbanks, Alaska. At Fairbanks, Canadian, Russian and United States airmen are ready to hop off on a search of the Arctic wastes for the lost fliers. Unfavorable weather prevented a take-off to-day.

Thermometer Hits 97 Degree Mark

August steamed the summers heat records up to 97 degrees this afternoon, equal to the hottest day of the year, according to the official report from A. O. Philips, weather observer in Peterborough for the Dominion government.

Humidity was also high, although there is no recording of this unpleasant confederate in discomfort of the high temperature and the sun's searing.

Light clouds overcast the sky for a while this afternoon, and probabilities promised a cooler night. Apparently the Exhibition Board will not have to worry about its old hoodoo of shivery evenings this week.

EDEN RETURNS TO HIS DESK.

LONDON—Foreign Secretary Eden broke his vacation because of the gravity of hostilities in Shanghai today and returned to London.

Authoritative quarters said a "special council" of ministers was to be held but expressed belief no decision would be taken altering Great Britain's fundamental policy.

Government Will Consider Whether Action Be Taken at Cabinet Session.

OTTAWA, Aug. 17. — (CP)—A Cabinet session will be held this afternoon to consider Premier Aberhart's refusal to co-operate in sending three Alberta statutes to the Supreme Court to test their constitutionality.

Disallowance of the three laws now becomes a possibility and this drastic power of Federal veto over provincial enactments likely will be considered at the meeting to-day. It has not been exercised since 1924.

"We are compelled by the mandate of our people to proceed with the enforcement of our legislation," the Alberta Premier advised Prime Minister Mackenzie King last night. He referred to three acts passed at a special session of the legislature two days ago, the first to compel bankers to take out licenses and subscribe to provincial control of banking policy, the second to close the courts of Alberta to unlicensed bankers and the third to prevent anyone from testing the constitutionality of Alberta statutes in an Alberta court without the permission of the Government.

Ministers of the Government have made no public comment on the question of disallowance but Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe is on record as of the opinion that this power has lapsed with the years. He so expressed himself during a House of Commons debate last session.

Exercised in 1924.

Power provided in the British North America Act to enable the Dominion Government to disallow Acts of Provincial Legislatures has not been exercised since 1924 when an Act of the Alberta Legislature, imposing a tax on mineral lands, was rejected with no reason given.

While there have been petitions and requests in recent years for disallowance of Provincial Acts, the present Government has not acted nor, so far as known, entertained any idea of interfering with Provincial legislation.

Speaking in the House of Commons last March Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe made the following observation on this Federal prerogative: "For many years the power of disallowance has not been resorted to by the Government of Canada. The same power of disallowance existed in connection with Federal legislation in the hands of His Majesty the King, represented of course by the Imperial Government. That power has not been exercised for many years. In fact, at the Imperial Conference of 1926, and later in 1930, it was formally declared that this power no longer constitutionally exists, and that the Imperial Parliament has no constitutional right to disallow laws of the Parliament of a Dominion.

"I would not say the same condition would aply to Provincial legislation, but it has often been stated by the courts that within the sphere of their own jurisdiction the Provincial Legislatures are Sovereign

Canadian Airman Joined In Search

Accompanied by engineer Jerry Buckan, the young Mackenzie Air Line pilot took off from Edmonton Saturday and reached Aklavik the following night. Randall planned to wing along the Arctic coast to Herschel Island and Point Barrow.

His Fairchild monoplane is equipped with both voice radio and wireless key, and the pilot will have his signals relayed to Edmonton from Aklavik by Royal Canadian Corps of signals stations via Fort Norman and Simpson.

With effective wireless range limited to 500 miles and a cruising radius of 700 miles, Randall and Jimmy Mattern, noted United States filer, will comb the area north and west of Aklavik, at the mouth of the Mackenzie River, 1,750 miles northwest of Edmonton.

Two Men Arrested For Illegal Sale

Sunday afternoon the police apprehended Charles Lamb, a local taxi driver, as he was leaving East Ward residence with four other men. Two bottles of wine were found in the car. The police seized the car, and a court case will follow.

Infantile Paralysis Control Is Believed Near At Hand

Science Has Made Important Advances During the Past Few Months.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (AP).—Dr. Sidney David Kramer, director of the Infantile Paralysis Commission of the Long Island College of Medicine, said today science is prepared, for the first time in history, with what it hopes will be a method of protection against the disease.

"Although there is still much experiment to be done before we can say definitely that an effective method of control has been found, there is no doubt but that science has made important advances along this line during the past few months," said Dr. Kramer, formerly associated with poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis) research at Harvard University.

"Tests with nose sprays on the Rhesus monkey, only member of the animal kingdom that reacts to infantile paralysis in the same way as human beings, have given hopeful results. We know that the poliomyelitis virus enters through a tiny door in the nose where are exposed the hairline endings of nerves that lead to the brain. Therefore, we have been seeking a method of blockading this little door in the nose against the infantile paralysis germ.

A report from the U.S. Public Health Service recently said the current number of infantile paralysis cases in the United States is higher than at any time during the last five years.

AN INTERESTING FIND

Charles E. Jones of Rochester, N.Y., a recent visitor to this district examines with keen interest some bones believed to be human remains which he discovered in a gravel pit on the property of Gus Bolin, Lot 7, Concession 9, Otonabee Township. Heavy rains caused a cave-in at the pit that exposed the bones. Found in the neighborhood of Serpent Mound reputed Indian burial mounds, the bones are possibly the remains of some Redskin, who may have lived many, many moons before the invasion of the first white settlers. Negro 37 Years Blind Now Able To See

It's a Beautiful World He Exclaims on Leaving a Prayer Meeting.

ANNISTON, Ala., Aug. 17 (AP). —"It's a beautiful world." That's the way Major Barron re-acted today to the sight which he said came to him suddenly yesterday to end 37 years of blindness.

The confused but happy negro said he went to a brief prayer meeting and when he left the room, "a beautiful white world" unfolded before him.

"Everything is still white," he said today. "I can't tell one color from another but it sure is beautiful."

Barron, long familiar as a beggar and as a seeker of odd jobs, expressed confidence that he soon would "learn how to see" like other persons. He had been blind since birth.

No Attention Paid To Drowning Man

ORILLIA, Ont., Aug. 17 (CP).— Alex Cole, 22, was drowned off the Mississaugs street wharf last night while companions and onlookers stood almost within reach. Immediately after Cole dived into the water he shouted for help.

Harmon Huffman, 16, and Harry Lane, 16, swimming with the victim thought he was joking and persons on the dock and in nearby yachts paid no attention. Police recovered the body half an hour after the fatality.

Cole leaves a widow and young daughter.

SEATS FROM THE KING

LONDON—(CP).—The King and Queen are among many contributors to a fund for providing seats in public parks. One contributor specifies his seat be for "prior use of disabled soldiers."

Bucksaw Frame Be Only One Recognized

INQUIRIES have been made by those desiring to enter the Examiner Bucksaw Contest regarding the type of saw to be used. In order that there may be no misunderstanding the situation is simply this: The word Bucksaw applies to and denotes the old-fashioned bucksaw frame with which the whole country is familiar. That sort of frame will have to be used and a Swede frame will not be recognized. Then regarding the blade in the saw: The Examiner leaves that in the hands of the contestants. The blade of the contestant's own preference is quite all right.

Stetson Company Opens Its Plant

BROCKVILLE, Ont., Aug. 17. — (CP).—Plant of the John B. Stetson Company (Canada), Limited, closed for seven weeks by a strike of 220 employees opened today. The management announced a "number of strikers returned to their jobs.

Strike leaders claimed shortly after the plant opened their ranks were not broken. Notices from the firm to all employees yesterday notified them the plant would open this morning, and men failing to report for duty would lose their jobs.

Provincial and town police were on duty at the plant at opening time to-day. They reported there were no disturbances.

"Oral' is the popular word of Japan conductorettes, whether for collecting fares, urging the driver on or answering passengers' questions, and it is intended to mean "All right."

Smoke Strike On Road Construction Completely Ties Up Crusher Plant

LINDSAY, Ont., Aug. 17—(CP). —There's a smoke strike on in Cobconk to-day. Twenty-eight men, employees of the Rayner Construction Company of Toronto, are sitting on the job at the camp 6's stone crushing plant on the outskirts of the village.

The strike was agreed upon by the men as a protest against the foreman. A 'no smoking on the job' sign was hung up Saturday. This proved the last straw in differences between the men an dtheir foreman. To-day the men returned to the plant and are sitting around it. Twenty-five are smoking. The other three didn't smoke.

Provincial police from Lindsay and Pension Falls were called to the scene but could find no scene of violence. When the man in charge of affairs was asked if he wished the men removed, he said they were a trustworthy, peaceful lot, and they should be left alone. So to-day they are sitting on the job, the mill is shut down, 25 are contentedly smoking away and three are just looking on.

The strike was quite successful as men returned to work to-day with their pipes.

THREE SISTERS ARE DROWNED AT THESSALON

THESSALON, Ont., Aug. 17 (CP). —Three girls aged 11 to 16, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Laing, were drowned in the Thessalon River here late yesterday. The bodies were recovered early today after almost all the residents of this Algoma district town had joined in a search for the victims.

It was believed the youngest girl, 11-year-old Gertrude Laing, had got into difficulties while the three were swimming, and that her sisters: Beulah 14, and Ruby 16, had drowned in an attempt to rescue her. A bruise on the forehead of Gertrude indicated she had struck a rock or some other obstruction in the river.

The girls left their home in the afternoon. Several hours later, when they had not returned, a search got under way. A little heap of clothes lying on the river bank was found late in the evening, and dragging operations began. The bodies were found in seven feet of water early this morning.

When the girls failed to return during the afternoon it was thought they had become lost in the dense bush that surrounds this Northern Ontario town 60 miles east of Sault Ste. Marie. Recollection by some of the searches that they had seen the missing trio near the river, carrying bathing suits, led the scattered hunt to the river bank.

Within a short time the girls' clothes were found on the bank. Dragging operations were carried out from 10.30 p.m. until 1.30 a.m. before the bodies were recovered. The tragedy was the worst Thessalon has experienced in years.

QUEBEC COLONISTS DRIVE 150 MILES

QUEBEC, Aug. 17 (CP).—Alphonse St. Louis, weary 48-year-old Quebec colonist who said he couldn't keep his family on a settlement just north of Shawinigan because "nothing grew," will visit the Provincial Government offices today to see "Mr. Duplessis" about it.

Haggard and worn after a week's trip by horse and cart from the little home he had built at Lac Bellemare, 15 miles from Shawinigan, St. Louis arrived here last night.

With him he brought his family—his wife; a young married daughter, Mrs. Euclide Ayotte, and her baby; and the three St. Louis children: Marie-ange, 14, Marie, 10, and Albert, 7.

The French-Canadian's two hungry dogs straggled under the cart.

Week Making Trip.

The St. Louis' started the 150-mile trip to Quebec last Tuesday. They had hardly any food for themselves and none for the horse and the dogs. Along the road, St. Louis and his wife begged food for the party at farmhouses.

"We slept under the stars," St. Louis said.

Their tiresome journey ended here at Bellevue Convent. Nuns granted them permission to drive their cart into the convent grounds and fed the family, the horse and the dogs.

Police found out about them and offered shelter at headquarters. They promised to help St. Louis see the Premier and H. L. Auger, Quebec's Land and Forests Minister.

St. Louis said he might even bring his folks with him to show the Premier "how serious our trouble is."

"We couldn't live on our lot up there any longer," he said. Nothing will grow on that land. I wish they would send us to Abitibi or Temiskaming."

Lawlessness Of Lewis Will Not Be Tolerated Rowe Says

Conservative Leader Flays Hepburn For Oakville Address on Saturday.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—"Lewis lawlessness will not be tolerated in the Province of Ontario when the Conservative Party is selected for government by the electors this fall," Hon. Earl Rowe, Conservative Leader, said yesterday.

"Ontario will also no longer tolerate Hepburn dictatorship," the Conservative Leader continued. "While I consider membership in any labor union within the rights of the individual's free association, I repeat again I am 100 per cent. against such labor lawlessness as practiced in some parts of the United States recently. There has been for some time a consistent effort by certain powerful interests to grossly misrepresent the stand of the Conservative Party in regard to the rights of labor. However, the most unfair, unwarranted and despicable depths were reached by Mr. Hepburn at Oakville on Saturday when he endeavored publicly to create the impression that C.I.O. funds would support the Conservative Party.

"Such an utterance is only typical of Mr. Hepburn, who so often makes statements without any foundation of truth, reason or decency. By such tactics, Mr. Hepburn falls below the standard of sportsmanship for which I have to date given him credit.

"The function of any Government is to govern.

"It is the undoubted right of workingmen, as other men, to band together in whatever union they may desire to further their lawful rights.

"A distinction must be drawn between any particular labor association and the methods employed by that respective association in another country."

Amateur Diver Finds Woman's Ring In Lake

Laconia, N.H., Aug. 17.

MRS. JOHN McINTYRE wore her diamond ring today because 17-year-old Frank Picard Jr., made a diving helmet from a ten-gallon tin can.

Stephen Sleeper, alternated with Frank in the search, and pumping air through a tire valve soldered to the top of the can, the diver descended ten feet, and groped along the bottom of Lake Winnipesaukee for the ring, found after a two-hour search.

FINANCIAL PAGES MAKE BRITISHERS SMILE JOYFULLY

LONDON, Aug. 17 (CP Cable).— Front-page news from China and Spain may be gloomy, but British financial pages are cheerier today than for a long time. Exports and imports are increasing, wages are increasing, domestic trade is increasing. Overseas trade figures for July show continued improvement. Exports of British goods totalled £47,569,834 ($236,897,773), the highest monthly figure for seven years and an increase of £7,483, 912 over July 1936.

Imports totalled £85,505,039, an increase of £16,769,680 over July 1936. Re-exports amounted to £6,803,436, an increase of £1,761,715.

For the first seven months of the year's imports totalled £568,338,366 an increase of £97,203,979 over the corresponding period of 1936. Exports were £298,899,876, an increase of £50,-933,474. Re-exports for the seven months amounted to £47,345,049, an increase of £9,903,694.

More than 100,000 railwaymen had paycuts restored as of yesterday. The increase was one-quarter of a five per cent paycut enforced during the financial crisis of 1931. The other three-quarters of the cut had previously been restored.

Best Since 1930

This year will be the best for wage increases since 1930, the Ministry of Labor Gazette announced this morning. In the first seven months of this year wage increases of £413,600 a week have been granted 3,206,000 workers, compared with £467,000 a week granted through the whole of last year, with £192,000 through the whole of 1935 and £91,000 in 1934.

The News Chronicle says that in part increased export figures are due to rising prices, but welcomes them as a sign that foreign countries are able to pay more. A large part of the gain in exports is with foreign countries rather than with the Empire.

"This is the best possible answer to those who would try to cut off our trade with all but the Dominions and colonies," the News-Chronicle comments. "A policy of penalizing foreign trade is a policy of deliberate self-impoverishment."

One large feature of the increased exports was the expansion of coal exports which in July increased £1,-062,000 or 37 per cent. Shipments to Italy were £312,900 against nil, owing to sanctions, in July last year, while coal exports to France rose by about £200,000.

MURPHY IS HANGED.

LONDON, Aug. 17.—(CP-Havas). —Frederick George Murphy, 53-year-old Irishman, was hanged today at Pentonville prison for having strangled Rosina Field in the basement of a furniture store at Islington on May 12, Coronation Day.

Tentative Agreement Reached, But Remains to be Drafted For Strikers.

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—(CP)—Hope for early settlement of the textile workers strike in Peterborough and Cornwall was bright today as counsel for the strikers and employers prepared a draft agreements which is expected to satisfy both sides.

The tentative agreement, reached at yesterday's conference when Premier Mitchell Hepburn acted as mediator, is being put into formal language and then submitted for Mr. Hepburn's consideration. If it has the endorsation of the employers the proposal will be made to the two delegations representing the strikers.

Arthur Laverty, president of the United Textile Workers, said the pact would have to be submitted to mass meetings of the strikers before any agreement could be signed. He expressed hope the workers he represented would return to their jobs Monday at the latest.

What the suggested agreement covers was not disclosed. Premier Hepburn merely stating "satisfactory progress" was made and announcing the parley would resume today. He spent eight hours yesterday conferring with strikers' and company representatives.

Arthur Laverty, representing the 1,700 Canadian Cottons Limited strikers of Cornwall, was hopeful the wage and union dispute would be ironed out satisfactorily. The Peterborough Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited strike delegation was headed by Alex Welch, C. I. O. organizer and Michael English, strike chairman.

The men sought wage increases ranging up to 25 per cent as well as recognition of the United Textile Workers of America Union. About 500 remained on strike in the two Peterborough plants after 250 of their fellow workers returned last week.

R. G. Tolmie, general manager of Canadian Cottons, and H. Barrett, managing director of Dominion Woollens, participated in the initial negotiations with R. G. Kellock, K.C., as solicitor. Premier Hepburn was advised by the Industry and Labor Board which is investigating textile industry wage schedules and by Hon. Peter Heenan, minister of lands and forests, F. B. Brownridge, M.L.A., Stormont, was in touch with the conference throughout the eight-hour session.

J. L. Cohen, U.T.W.A. counsel, represented the strikers at the parley as spokesman, while P. M. Draper, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, also sat in on the talks.

JUDGE CHEVRIER TO HEAD INQUIRY

TORONTO, Aug. 17 (CP). — A three-man Royal Commission to conduct an inquiry into the highway transport situation in Ontario will be appointed by Premier Hepburn within a few days, it was understood in Queen's Park today. Mr. Justice E. R. E. Chevrier of the Supreme Court of Canada was mentioned as the probable chairman of the commission.

The problem of control and regulation of passenger and freight transport on Provincial highways will be studied by the commission, it was understood. It was reported the appointment would be announced as soon as Mr. Justice Chevrier accepted the commission chairmanship.

The Ontario Municipal Board now controls highway transport. Public commercial vehicle licenses have been granted only by order of the board. However, it was said Hon. T. B. McQuesten, Minister of Highways, for some time has felt the transport business has been insufficiently regulated and that the safety of highway travel has been endangered by lack of control of public commercial vehicles.

Aged Coe Hill Man Missing from Home

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 17. — (CP).—Missing from Coe Hill since Sunday, Alfred "Tom" Danford, 84, is sought by a posse to-day. Police were assisted by mill hands, the officials closing their plants so the men could participate. The search was abandoned by police to-day, but the lumbermen are carrying on. Residents of that district believe the man has been picked up by a passing motorist whom he knew and is visiting with relatives in other parts of the county.

Tenders Removing Women, Children, From Battle Area

Bursting Shells Shake French Settlement—Entire Areas Around City Are on Fire.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 17 (AP).—Heavy explosions shook the heart of the French concession today as bursting shells from Chinese and Japanese artillery batteries spewed their fragments over the international areas.

Uncounted numbers of foreigners and Chinese were feared added to the thousands already killed and wounded in the five-day battle for this oriental metropolis of 3,500,000 persons. More than 2,000 British and American women and children played hide and seek with death today, to flee down the Whangpoo River under the blazing guns of the Japanese fleet. But other thousands were trapped in the international settlement.

Japanese warships were spraying the western portions of the settlement with shell fragments. Authorities of the French concession reported the jagged hunks of metal were taking a similar toll there.

More than 100,000 troops were locked in battle on land and sea around this most modern of commercial cities and in the storm clouds above it.

Full Power of Attack

The full power of the Chinese attack broke against the Japanese positions in the Hongkew district of the international settlement and the Japanese warships along the Whangpoo river front.

A mounting panic gripped the crowds along the famous bund that follows the winding course of the Whangpoo. Fathers watched their wives and children aboard tenders disappear into the shellsmoke haze hanging low on the river, mumbled a frantic prayer for their safety and then fled.

The drawn and whitened faces of the women peered from portholes as the launches cast off from the custom's jetty for the perilous 10 mile journey down the Whangpoo to the liners waiting on the Yangtze estuary.

All had been forced below and only marines remained on the upper decks of the tenders, guarding the human cargo.

Entire areas around the city were blazing from fires started by the bursting shells that continually fell in the Chinese and Japanese lines.

The wind was fanning the flames of burning buildings along an eight-mile front, including the entire Japanese area from Chapei to the northwest eastward to the Whanpoo.

One Chinese raiding plane was shot down in a foray against Japanese headquarters in Hongkew.

Four shells struck the settlement Wardroad Jail containing several thousand prisoners. An unknown number of them were killed. A portion of the wall was blown out and shells crashed into two cell blocks.

Police of the settlement were

Caledonia Off On Another Lap

BOTWOOD, Nfld., Aug. 17 (CP).—The trans-atlantic flying boat Caledonia of Imperial Airways took off from Botwood Harbor early this morning, roaring away to the westward on another lap of her trans-ocean hop, the second westward flight she has made this summer.

The giant plane left the water at 5 a.m., EDT, and headed toward Montreal her next port of call before proceeding toward Port Washington, N.Y.

ELEVEN DEATHS REPORTED DUE TO PARALYSIS

TORONTO, Aug. 17.—The number of infantile paralysis cases in Central and Western Ontario rose to sixty-four last night, with fifteen new cases reported during the week-end. At least eleven death have resulted.

Toronto and district appeared most seriously stricken. The Toronto Health Department reported eight new cases, but no deaths, raising the total under treatment to fifty. Eight deaths have resulted in this area since the outbreak began some weeks ago.

Five cases were being treated at Hamilton, where two deaths attributed to the disease have been reported. Three cases were under treatment in Stamford Township, in the Niagara Falls area, where one death has occurred. Two cases were listed in London.

In Kitchener, a school wading pool was closed today after the third case of paralysis was discovered. A 15-month-old baby was being treated in Peterborough. It was the first case in that district this year.

At Grimsby, a child under five years of age is quarantined for the dread disease. But, according to Dr. James H. MacMillan, M.O.H., there was no local spread of the ailment. The child, he stated, had been away with other members of the family on a trip and had just arrived home on Sunday night. On being called, Dr. MacMillan immediately ordered quarantine. This was the first case in at least twelve years in Grimsby.

Six new cases of the disease have been reported in Ottawa in the past four days, bringing the total up to twenty-seven. Dr. T. A. Lomer, M.O.H. informed civic authorities in the capital yesterday.

Dundas had a new case of poliomyelitis today, the second in the town since Sunday, the latest victim of the dread disease being John Pollard, aged 16 years. He is at his home, and tonight it was reported that his condition was not serious.

With four cases in the past two weeks, a suspected case is under observation in Brampton. Emphasizing the necessity for continued precautions on the part of Brampton parents, Dr. W. W. Bartlett, M. O. H., stated the belief that all immediate danger of a serious epidemic of the disease had passed. He pointed out, however, that cases might be expected to develop until the frosts arrived in the fall.

CAMPBELLFORD.

Club May Sponsor Second Carnival

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 17.—With a complete list of invoices not received Secretary E. C. Dolman told members of the Rotary Club that he was unable to give the actual profits of the Carnival held in Tuesday, August 10. His report indicated that considerable merchandise was still held by the club and President Charlie Davidson that another Carnival be held to coincide with the date of the Campbellford Fair, however no decision was reached in the matter. The final subject of discussion in the absence of a speaker was the holding of a dinner at at nearby summer resort early in September which met with the approval of the members.

BUCKSAW CONTEST OPENS THURSDAY ON SIMCOE STREET

Discussion in Peterborough barber shops, open forums of public opinion, is concentrating these days on the World's Championship Bucksaw Contest, major sports event of Exhibition week.

From all reports a big crowd will be out Thursday morning for the preliminary formalities at the elevated arena on Simcoe street, the construction of which is once more in the hands of T. A. Brown.

The city council has given permission to close off Simcoe street between George and Water streets while the big contest is in progress, and fans and contestants are reminded that the start is scheduled for 8.30 a.m., daylight saving time.

Interest In Walling.

Barber shop arguments are chiefly concerned with the prospects of Tom Walling, winner of the World's Championship title in Peterborough last year, retaining his crown, and stepping out of the ring with the big silver cup donated by the Examiner and the first prize money of $50, and first selection from the supplementary prizes contributed by merchants.

You can get an argument any day because Walling is an exception to the general run of champions. The crowd usually lines up on the side of the challenger, but in the World's Bucksaw Battle a lot of sentiment is supporting the elderly Haliburton woodsman for his gameness under the handicap of his age when most men are willing to step down and leave the physical tension and nerve straining of such severe contests to younger men.

Walling has been wintering in the northern county where wood cutting is a common occupation, and according to his recent letter to the Examiner he is ready to start in where he left off last year after trouncing the squad of bucksaw artists who probably underestimated the Walling skill in slicing a four foot maple log into foot lengths faster than any other man in the world.

Asks No Favors.

"Lean Tom" isn't asking any concessions from youth, and he is coming down from Halsburton for Thursday morning's opening events with just one objective, to saw himself off the $50, the Examiner Silver Cup, the title of Bucksaw Champion of the World, and the glory that goes with it.

Definite assurance has come from Brantford that Jack Wood of St. George, Ontario, will be here Thursday morning, an outsider who may dethrone Tom Walling and grab the major end of the prizes.

Everyone who witnessed last year's battle on Simcoe street will be back again, wondering whether Walling is as smooth and fast as he was last August, all of them, perhaps, rooting for Old Tom when he faces the pick of this week's crop of experts of the old fashioned bucksaw.

Rumored As Possible Cabinet Timber

HAROLD J. KIRBY

COLIN A. CAMPBELL

ERIC W. CROSS, K.C.

If and when re-elected at the possible fall election, Premier Mitchell Hepburn will include the ABOVE men in his cabinet, according to rumors at Queen's Park, Toronto. Harold J. Kirby, M.P.P., Toronto-Eglington, and chief whip of the liberal party in Ontario, will likely seek re-election in his present riding though no cabinet post has been mentioned for him. Colin A. Campbell, M.P., Frontenac-Addington, prominent mining engineer and consultant, is mentioned as possible minister of mines, should the Hepburn government be returned. Mr. Campbell is reported as ready to resign his federal seat and run for election in a carefully picked eastern Ontario constituency. Eric W. Cross, K.C., chairman of Ontario municipal board, will have to resign his present position before seeking election. Premier Hepburn has refused to discuss the rumors.

QUEBEC STRIKES TERMED MENACE BY HON. DUPLESSIS

MONTREAL, Aug. 17.—(CP)—Labelled by Premier Maurice Duplessis as "absolutely unjustified and a real menace to the development of industry in the province," Quebec's textile strike which idled 10,000 men August 4 was no nearer solution today.

Neither was the strike, called two days later, in six steel plants at Sorel employing 1,300 more workers. Yesterday operators of Manseau shipyards, one of the strikebound Sorel plants, invited their employees to return to work today. The men met and decided to ignore the invitation but they are to meet again for further discussion of the strike situation.

After the steelmen reached their decision with officials of the National Catholic Syndicate of Steel Workers who called the walkout exhorting them to hold out for their demands for better pay, Provincial Police Chief Leon Lambert, in charge of about 100 officers maintaining peace in the little industrial town, issued a warning stern measures would be taken against any instigators of disturbance or violence. Police will remain at Sorel as long as necessary, he said.

Premier Duplessis charged the textile industry dispute was "unjustified and a real menace" in an address at an election anniversary rally yesterday at Knowlton.

Leaders of the strikes in the nine Dominion Textile Company plants in different parts of the province did not show good faith in ordering their men out barely three weeks before an act creating the Fair Wage Board becomes effective, he said.

He asserted the strike leaders were more interested in the union salaries than in the welfare of the workers, warning his government would not be run by the international union, the National Syndicates "or anybody else," and would not be intimated either by labor leaders or financiers.

TRIBUTE TO ROGERS.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 17 (AP).—Civic leaders and friends of the late Will Rogers prepared to honor his memory today with dedication of a two-mile section of U.S. Highway 66.

The road, extending from Chicago to the Pacific ocean, has been re-christened the Will Rogers highway. It passes through Claremore, Okla., his former home.

Mutiny Reported In Nanking Forces

TOKYO, Aug. 17 (AP).—The foreign office spokesman said today the Japanese consul general at war-torn Shanghai, Suemasa Okamoto, forwarded reports a mutiny had broken out at Nanking among the personal troops of General Chiang Kai-Shek, the Chinese premier and army commander.

The spokesman said Okamoto reported the mutiny at the Chinese capital purely as a rumor which he was unable to confirm.

The newspaper Asahi reported, however, the rumor came from "a certain foreign power" and other sources stated information from British circles indicated there was a disturbance among the general's personal troops.

Asahi declared it was believed the Nanking revoltees were composed of those elements of the central army which had been against war with Japan from the beginning of the North China hostilities.

GROOM CENT SHORT ON HIS LICENSE

WAYNE, Ind., Aug. 17 (A.P.). — A prospective bridegroom gave Miss Thelma Smith, deputy clerk, a bag full of pennies and asked for a $2 marriage license. "You have only 199 pennies here," said Miss Smith after a laborious count. "And this isn't bargain day."

The youth, red-faced, fished unsuccessfully in his pockets. Turning to his wife-to-be, he whispered, "Do you have one?"

She did.

Lost Watch Gets Him Prison Term

DETROIT, Aug. 17 (CP).—A trip to Peche Island, Canadian islet in the Detroit River in search of his lost watch, cost Jacob Klopwich, Windsor, 10 months in jail. He pleaded guilty in Federal court here yesterday to entering the United States illegally and was sent to Milan, Mich., prison farm.

Klopwich told immigration officials he lost the watch while swimming near the island. Rather than walk from his Windsor home to a point where he could get a ferry to the islet, he took a bus to suburban Detroit opposite the island and rented a rowboat.

Ethiopia's road improvement program will be completed next June.

Cuba's "Hot Seat" Being Inspected

Back to the nineteenth century goes Cuba for its adaptation of the U.S. electric chair. The island republic's "hot seat" is called the garrotte. It is seen here in Morro Castle prison, Havana, when it underwent inspection by Col. Fulgencio Batiste, dictator. The garrotte, is an iron stool on which the condemned man sits. The neck of the victim is fastened in the iron hand and the executioner then goes to work by tightening the band around the neck, until the spine breaks. An added feature of the grim instrument is an iron spike that is driven through the backbone.

SEYMOUR W. I. 25TH ANNIVERSARY IS CELEBRATED

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TRENT RIVER, Aug. 17. — Macland, the farm residence of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Macoun was the scene of an attractive and unique event on Thursday afternoon, when the Seymour West Women's Institute celebrated the 25th anniversary of their inauguration. Ideal weather favored the occasion, when upwards of 160 were in attendance, including guests from Hastings, Warkworth, Codrington, Trent River branches. Seating accommodation was made on the spacious lawn, while the numbers on the program were given on the verandah. Mrs. James Waters, the newly elected president, was in the chair, while Miss Vera Clark acted as secretary. After the opening Ode the company sang "O Canada," with Mrs. Cecil McCulloch pianist. Mrs. Howard Clark gave the address of welcome and called upon Mrs. Harper, one of Warkworth's oldest Institute members, to say a few words. Violin solo, "In a Garden," by Earl Nelson, with Albert Hazel at the piano. Vocal solo, Faye Kelly. Greetings were heard from the following branches: Seymour East—Trent River, by Mrs. Earl Greenly; Hastings by Mrs. Brown; Warkworth by Mrs. Nelson; Codrington by Mrs. Moran. Mrs. Charles Macoun, the genial hostess, read greetings from the secretary of the W.I. of Paris, Ont., also an invitation from the branch for a representative to be sent to the unveiling of the memorial cairn to the founder of the W.I., Mrs. Adelaid Hunter Hoodless, on October 2.

History of Branch.

Mrs. Charles Macoun gave the history of the Seymour West branch. The first regular meeting was held 25 years ago at the home of Mrs. Macoun. In concluding Mrs. Macoun said she hoped the older ones would throw the torch to the younger generation. When the first director of the Federal Board was appointed for the area, Mrs. Macoun was appointed as member of the first Provincial Board, as one who gave the greatest service and from that board was first elected members of the Dominion Board.

Mrs. Fred Denyes, district representative of Smithfield, brought greetings from East Northumberland district. She complimented the branch for their splendid help to East Northumberland. The speaker referred to the first W.I. being founded by Mrs. Hoodless 40 years ago at Stoney Creek, Wentworth County. The programs since then have been broadened, the "tiny acorn had grown into a sturdy oak." Little did Mrs. Hoodless think her vision would spread so far. Mrs. Denyes spoke of the great progress of the W.I., and asked for co-operation to Miss McDermot, the newly-elected provincial president succeeding the late Mrs. Putman. In closing the speaker read the Litany of the W.I. as composed by Roselle Montgomery. Piano solo, "The Sanctuary of the Heart," by Miss Eileen Russell of Toronto, niece of Mrs. Charles Macoun. After the singing of the National Anthem the anniversary tea was served.

A long table was arranged on the verandah, with lace cover, a beautiful three-storey iced birthday cake set on a reflector formed the centerpiece. Twenty-five silver candles adorned the cake, with four large candles in silver holders surrounding the centerpiece. The cake was made by Mrs. Robert McCulloch. To Mrs. George Longmuir fell the honor of cutting the cake with a silver cake knife tied with silver ribbon. Lovely cut flowers decorated the tablet. A handsome silver service was placed at each end of the table. Tea was poured by Mrs. John Locke and Mrs. H. Stevenson. The waitresses were; Misses Irene Curle, Beatrice Rutherford, Helen Hendy, Margaret McCulloch, Ilene Hoard, Ileen Russell (Toronto), Mrs. David Durran, Mrs. Howard Clark, Mrs. Ray McCulloch, Mrs. Robert McCulloch, Mrs. Cecil McCulloch, Mrs. Will Macoun, Mrs. Arthur Rutherford, Mrs. Thomas Dunham.

Tea, sandwiches, and many delicious cakes were served.

The following members of the Trent River Women's Institute attended the 25th anniversary of the Seymour West Branch at Macland Farm on Friday afternoon: Mrs. James Longmuir, Mrs. William Preston, Mrs. Ann Greenly, Mrs Earl Greenly, Mrs. J. McNeely, Mrs. W. C. Inkster, Mrs. H. Mann, Mrs. T. Brown, Mrs. W. Lewis, Mrs. Geo. Brownell, Mrs. Ward Glenn, Mrs. F. Buttan, Miss B. O. "....I don't see any need of Beverage Rooms"

Overheard at a golf club

1st Member: I enjoy a drink as much as any man, and I certainly would never vote for prohibition. But I still don't see the need for beverage rooms.

2nd Member: Never use them yourself, eh?

1st Member: Well, no. I sometimes have a glass of beer with lunch; but I'd willingly give that up to abolish all the abuses beverage rooms give rise to.

2nd Member: What abuses?

1st Member: Well this business of people drinking too much and—what is it the drys say?—"reeling home"?

2nd Member: Of course, there are always a few people who abuse any privilege. But you saw plenty more in the days of prohibition, didn't you? As a matter of fact, you'll find that lots of people who used to overdo it regularly in blind pigs, drink pretty moderately in the present day beverage room . . .

1st Member: Maybe you're right there: But I still think they're sort of unnecessary. Why wouldn't just sale by the case do?

2nd Member: Perhaps beverage rooms are unnecessary to you. You can afford to buy anything you want and drink it in comfortable surroundings. But what about the working man? Why have a law only for the rich!

1st Member: How do you mean?

2nd Member: A man engaged in hard manual labour may need a glass of beer after the day's work more than anyone else. Are you going to force him to buy a whole case at a time? Or lug it home with him, before he can have even one glass. Is it sporting, is it democratic to keep all the privileges that appeal to you, while you take away from those less fortunately placed the chance of drinking a wholesome, mildly-stimulating beverage in legal surroundings?

1st Member: It is a bit different put that way—I guess you're right.

NO SECESSION FROM DOMINION ABERHART SAYS

CALGARY, Aug. 17.—(CP).—The Alberta Cabinet was scheduled to meet in Edmonton Monday to consider Prime Minister Mackenzie King's request for a Supreme Court of Canada reference on the province's new bankers' licensing legislation.

"We are prepared to meet the money interests but we did not expect to have to meet the Federal Government as well," said Premier Aberhart yesterday in addressing the Calgary Prophetic Bible Institute.

"In a telegram to Mr. Aberhart last week Mr. King urged Alberta refrain from enforcement of the banking legislation until the Supreme Court could rule on its validity. Adopted at the recent Legislative session, the Banking Act would give control of bankers in the province to the government through its Social Credit Board).

"I was dumbfounded to think that such a request should come from the Prime Minister of Canada," Mr. Aberhart said. "I did not expect the Federal Government to take up the cause of the money interests."

The Premier said his Government had no intention of interfering with the general business of banking nor would dictatorial methods be used by his administration.

"We are not going to deal with the bank's monopoly of issuing currency. The province is given control of its property and civil rights. We intend to hold these."

Mr. Aberhart said a phrase used by Mr. King in the Federal election campaign was 'hands off Alberta.'

"It would seem to me more in keeping with good statesmanship if the Prime Minister of Canada or the Governor-in-Council would put into action 'hands off Alberta' and supported our government," the Premier said.

Mr. Aberhart declared: "We have no intention whatever of separating ourselves from our great Dominion."

When some one cried that the child was in the water Edward Reeves, who was at the cottage, rushed down to the dock, plunged in and brought the little girl to safety. The child and her mother had been visiting at the cottage of James Davis, the child's grandfather, at Snug Harbor.

Story Of An Indian "Helen Of Troy" Is Unearthed In Bones Of Old Fort

NIOBRARA, Neb., Aug. 17 (AP).—Dust from a pile of bleached Indian bones swirled out of a long, deep trench to-day to disclose the story of an Indian, "Helen of Troy," who won the hearts of her ancient Ponca captors.

Dr. Earl H. Bell, University of Nebraska archeologist, and his crew of student diggers, uncovered the prehistoric drama in the ruins of a night Ponca fort, high on a hilltop overlooking the junction of the Niobrara and Missouri rivers in Northeastern Nebraska.

There, in a fort which was complete with battlements, moat and cache pits, they found the remains of an ancient love story which precipitated a war between Ponca and Omaha Sioux Indians.

Uncovering 14 skuls, the digers found evidence of a great plains engagement which they likened to the Trojan war, and pieced together the fragments of tribal legends to round out the story.

Their perennial enemies of the Ponca were a tribe of Omaha Indians, who lived farther south. The Ponca retaliated after one encounter with a foray in which they stole many Omaha horses and women.

One of the women was the great plains Helen, a comely Omaha woman who was dragged away to spend her life with a big Ponca. Legends say she was a chieftain's daughter, and that the Omaha schemed to recapture her. But when her former tribesmen stormed the Ponca fort, she was within the encircling barricade, fighting side by side with her captor.

The Ponca routed their enmies. Fourteen skulls tell the story of that battle.

And the Helen who brought a war to the plains, say the legends lived the rest of her life among the Ponca, helping with the gardens and the domestic work—worshipping her conqueror.

Big Men For a Big Job

The Royal Commission appointed by the Dominion Government to study the economic and financial relations between the Dominion and the provinces cannot fail to impress most folk as a very capable and well-balanced body that has the qualities and undoubtedly the desire to do good service to the country in solving the problems entrusted to it. In selecting as chairman Hon. Newton Wesley Rowell, Chief justice of the Supreme Court of Ontario it will be felt by Canadians generally that Premier MacKenzie King has made a most admirable choice. Few public men in this country have won such a firm place in the respect and admiration of their fellow Canadians as has the Chief Justice and the general verdict will undoubtedly be that he possesses judgment and ability and knowledge of the nation's problems that should make him a most successful chairman of a very responsible body. Other members of the commission also inspire confidence in the ability of the commission to make useful and vitally important findings. They include Judge Rinfret of Quebec, a distinguished jurist who has been a judge of the Supreme court of Canada since 1924, John W. Dafoe of Winnipeg, long regarded as one of the outstanding editors of the Dominion, Henry Forbes Angus professor of economic and political science at the University of British Columbia and Robert Alexander McKay, professor of government and political science at Dalhousie University.

That would seem to be a body of men well equipped for the responsible task to which they have been assigned, namely to decide first whether the present, division of revenue sources as between the Dominion and the provinces is adequate and suitable to modern conditions and secondly whether the present division of obligations, notably the burden arising out of unemployment relief and social services divided as satisfactorily as it should be. Obviously these investigations are leading up to the broader task of eventually revamping the British North America Act.

It is true that the shores of political life are littered with the wrecks of previous Royal Commissions and government inquiries that have started out bravely and either got nowhere or had their findings meet with a similar fate.

That however will not deter the members of the present commission from making a very real effort to complete their task in a manner that will make it of very real service to the whole country.

Aiding Peterborough's Fair

No matter what banner they march under politicians can find common ground in endorsing and assisting the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition as an annual show that believes that agriculture is well worth encouraging. Thus we have Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario's Liberal Minister of Agriculture coming here to open the Peterborough Industrial and also to address the junior farmers at a banquet that has come to be an outstanding feature of Exhibition week and we have Hon. George S. Henry, former Conservative premier sending his prize herd of cattle to Peterborough to add to the quality of the livestock exhibits.

Whether it is the promise of Mr. Marshall's eloquence or the class of Mr. Henry's Holsteins or both, it is a fact that the advance sale of Exhibition tickets is about the heaviest on record and another that the accommodation provided for livestock entries threatens to be swamped. There were herds on the grounds on Monday, two days before the opening of the Exhibition, an augury of a record showing at least a number of sections of the livestock end of the annual event.

The story told by the advance sale of tickets is repeated in the reports from all Central Ontario of a keener interest in the Peterborough Industrial and in the promise of increased attendance from outlying points as well as from the immediate countryside and the city itself. If the weather conditions afford an opportunity it would not be surprising to find by the end of the week that the attendance records have been completely shattered. If they are they will have merely kept pace with the steadily increasing merit of the Exhibition itself and its all-round development.

Germany's Empty Granaries

From the utterances of the official spokesmen of the Nazi Government, the outside world gains the impression that Germany is going forward in an acceptable fashion on all fronts With important reservations, it is true that remarkable progress has been made by a nation which only eighteen years ago had been stripped of every last vestige of power and greatness. Germany is again a strong nation, unified, highly militarized and with a national leadership which, regardless of what else may be said about it, is effective.

There are, however, other aspects of the picture that are not so bright. It is significant that one of the important newspapers of Germany is threatened with supression simply because it has revealed true conditions concerning the national food supply. The conditions provide real cause for anxiety.

One of the theories of the present government of Germany is that the nation can be made self-sufficient so that in time of emergency it may not be dependent upon outside sources for any of the necessities of life. In consequence of the pursuit of this policy, the German people are short 68,000,000 bushels of breadstuffs, 33,000,000 bushels of wheat and 35,000,000 bushels of rye.

Meanwhile, the three great granaries from which Europe has drawn in the past—the United States, Canada and the Argentine — are either bursting with grain or else depleted of stock purely of their own choice to avoid surpluses. The existence of this condition again demonstrates the impracticability of self-sufficiency. Prosperous conditions obtain only when there is freedom of trade between nations, when we take the products of Europe and Europe buys for its table the products of our great prairies.

The test of statesmanship comes when nations undertake to establish the terms of trade so that benefits will be mutual and national interests will be safeguarded. When it is impossible to meet this test, the alternative is self-sufficiency, which is usually attended by the results now being experienced in Germany.

A Successful Season

The Rotary Camp at Clear Lake closed for the season on Monday after a most successful summer in which scores of boys were given an ideal outing under conditions that enabled the maximum of enjoyment to be attained under supervision that ensured the minimum of danger. The establishment of this camp has, with the exception, of course, of the crippled children's work, been about the finest thing that Rotary has accomplished. It has made possible a summer holiday for a large number of youngsters who otherwise would have had to obtain their recreation on the city streets, has given them the benefit of the bodybuilding and character-moulding of a supervised camp program and has, by the influence of the example of proper leadership, done a great deal to ensure that a large majority of the boys who have attended will grow up into useful citizens of the best type.

The camp layout and equipment, about the best of its kind in the province, has meant the investment of a large amount of money but the unanimous verdict of all those who have seen the camp and are familiar with the routine carried on there is that the dividends earned have made the investment decidedly worth while. The Rotarians in general, the members of the camp committee in particular and the public whose generous support has made this and other projects possible are all entitled to share in the satisfaction of knowing that their combined efforts have made the summer months a gladsome time for large numbers of boys who would have no chance for a holiday of this kind had there not been such an institution as the Rotary Camp available.

Teaching French

One of the many interesting announcements made recently by Ontario's Deputy-Minister of Education was that telling of the intention of the department to have French taught in a different manner in the secondary schools of the province. Those who are familiar with the way in which as a general rule the language has been handled in the schools of Ontario will have no difficulty in agreeing that if French is to be of any real use to Collegiate pupils the proposed change is long overdue. The trouble has been that the bulk of the instruction given has been of the copybook exercise brand and that it has not been given by teachers who can speak French fluently and correctly themselves. The result is that pupils learn Franch grammar to some extent, pick up a vocabulary of French words, learn how to read the language more or less easily but flounder helplessly when called upon to carry on a conversation.

The Montreal Star editorially indicts the present system in Ontario and while the frankness of the language used will make some of our educationists squirm, candor compels us to state that the Montreal paper has not missed the centre of the target by much of a margin. Says The Star.

> The French taught in the average secondary school in Ontario has always consisted of a laborious building up of grammar by means of sentences concerning the pen of the gardener's aunt and similar attention-compelling topics plus plodding translations of milk-and-water "romans" that would not interest a six-year-old child of average intelligence,—the whole usually taught by someone to whom French is no more a living language than is Greek, and whose pronounciation is a thing to shudder at. And since the majority of the youth of Ontario does not get beyond high school standing in education; and since French as a "pass" subject in the earlier years, even in the provincial universities, is still a dull "chore" to be got through as a matter of routine, it is no great wonder that "Ontario French"—as the English-speaking youth of that Province learns it—is of little cultural or practical use to its possessor."

It has not been developed just what it is proposed to do to correct this situation but the deputy-minister has promised there is to be a change. It is unfortunate if the new policy will necessitate a number of changes in staff personnel throughout the province but it is obvious that if Ontario pupils are to be taught a working and speaking knowledge of French it will have to come from other sources in many cases than those hitherto available.

An Unique Industry

In addressing a service club here Monday R. A. Elliott chief engineer and works manager of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company told the story—all too little known —of how this unique industry situated at our door and unique on this continent has been making its contribution toward many fields of industrial endeavor. It is a romantic story, this business of extracting arsenic and cobalt and silver from the cobalt ore shipped from the north, in order that they may be employed in making such widely different articles as insecticides and plate glass, ceramics and steillite. And the thought that must have struck more than one listener who heard Mr. Elliott describe these things was that the executive heads and the chemists and the research workers of this Canadian firm have been doing a very fine piece of work. All these developments, the varied uses to which the products can be put, the processes by which they are turned out did not just happen; they had to be worked out in painstaking detail by research workers who have taken a legitimate pride in the work at hand and have stuck to their tasks until they have succeeded triumphantly. The Deloro plant in short is a demonstration of Canadian efficiency, vision, brains and perserverence and it is well that from time to time such addresses as that given by Mr. Elliott here affords an opportunity for that fact to become more generally appreciated.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A Chinese doctor says that Shanghai must be blown to bits and it is just possible that may eventually happen.

Newfoundland's sea monster has turned out to be a species of shark. That is unfortunate for a shark has definite limitations from a publicity viewpoint.

Wa are wondering how John L. Lewis is going to find time to act as the bogeyman in the Ontario election and still keep his C. I. O. machine running.

Premier Hepburn says he wants the people to let him know what they think of him. And as our English friends say "That's asking for it."

Mayor Mencke of Niagara Falls expressed a fear that women's shorts are getting shorter. He has the satisfaction of knowing however that the process cannot be continued much longer.

The C. C. F. has decided that the time is not ripe to defeat Premier Hepburn in his own riding and will not enter a candidate. We have an idea the premier will be sorry to hear the announcement.

A solemn warning should be issued to the politicians that when the thermometer shoves up above the 90 mark speeches are out It is too hot to read them, let alone listen to them.

In Germany they are cutting several inches off the tails of shirts to save material. Here in Canada our young men on vacation do better that that. They don't wear any shirts.

The Examiner has received several letters on the strike situation that have not been published because the name of the writer was not given. No newspaper can be expected to publish communications the source of which is unknown.

We somehow find it impossible to detect any traces of tears in Premier Mackenzie King's eyes as he announces that he is cancelling his Ontario speeches because an election has been called in this province.

Although Mr. Croll has been nominated as Liberal candidate in Windsor-Walkerville he is not likely to receive endorsation from Premier Hepburn. In the view of many folk that might possibly prove to the advantage of the former Minister of Public Welfare.

HARBOR

Built of friendship is this home,
A beacon on the shore
That men who drift from salt and foam
May find a friendly door;
A friendly door that opens wide
On all a home should be—
Companionship, a fireside,
And refuge from the sea.

Forget ye not these walls are more
Than simple walls may seem,
They are a shrine to one who saw
Fulfilment of a dream,
A man of God whose head and heart
Gave service as a friend
To seamen, that a happy port
Wait at journey's end.

And all who pass this way shall know
His work is just begun,
For men may come and men may go
But great ideals live on,
And surely immortality
In life as well endures
When green and lasting memory
Is framed in friendly doors.

DELEGATES to the recent Belfast conference of the British Medical Association were informed by Sir Milson Rees, the throat specialist who has been larynologist to Covent Garden for forty years that singing is not a natural gift of man. Sir Milson surprised his delegates by declaring that the vocal cords were not constructed by nature for singing purposes. "Singing is an acquired accomplishment "he said" into the service of which have been pressed certain organs not intended for it. The same conclusion is suggested by the multitude of troubles that afflict even the best singers. If these be true there is no such thing as a natural singing voice. I have never heard of a leading opera singer or even a chorus singer at Covent Garden who had not been taught how to sing. Sir Milson prophesies, however, that the best voices are yet to be heard, since the art of singing as taught is only 250 years old.

Crippled for 20 years after suffering shell shock in the Great War Albert Edward Kolbe, aged 43 has just been cured at Melbourne through hypnosis. Kolbe was blown up in France in 1917 and the use of his limbs was affected. His right leg projected at right angles so that he walked with something like a goose step and he was unable to move without a stick. Now after half an hour's talk the Melbourne specialist has cured him, after deciding that Kolbe's trouble was purely psychological.

An Important Discovery.

SCORES of mothers, whose lives are imperilled in childbirth, will live because of the discovery of a new drug, details of which have just been released. The drug, a synthetic chemical derived from dyestuffs, was described as "the greatest discovery in medicine for 20 years" at the British Pharmaceutical Conference meeting at Liverpool. It kills germs which have entered the bloodstream and has already cut down the death-rate from puerperal fever—the disease that claims so many mothers—in several British hospitals by as much as 75 per cent. The name of the new drug is Para-Aminobenzen-esulphonamide. It has been used successfully in the treatment of erysipelas, meningitis, pneumonia, and blood poisoning. Its full possibilities in combating puerperal fever are not yet known.

The corn is certainly growing tall in the mid-western states. In Clinton County Iowa, Sheriff C. S. Peterson has been warning motorists to proceed with extreme caution because the corn has grown so high that visibility at intersections is zero. Meawhile at New York a woman was showing reporters a cornstalk 6:1-2 feet high growing on the terrace of her penthouse seventeen storeys above Fifth Avenue.

London's latest and greatest centre of entertainment is at Earl's Court, a wonderful building that reflects the greatest credit upon the architect, Mr. C. Howard Crane. The building, which cost £1,500,000, is now practically completed, and it is safe to say that it will, with its facilities for staging exhibitions and indoor sporting contests, be a favourite rendezvous. The exhibition is a majestic three-sided building, 900ft long on one side, and 700ft long on each of the other two sides. Not one column obstructs the arena which has been built to hold the largest indoor audience in the world—anything between 20,000 and 30,000 people. Many wonderful mechanical contrivances are contained in this new palace of entertainment. The centre of the arena at one moment is just a plain floor, but by the operation of a lever within a few minutes it can become the largest indoor swimming pool in Great Britain. Another pull on the lever and the pool disappears, a stage or platform rising in its place from the floor.

Thinks of Everything.

THE Nazi party in Germany apparently thinks of everything. Having asked the German mother to bear more children it now provides a hotel where she may deposit nerve-trying offspring for a day, a night or a month. All she has to do is to pack them in to a taxi and say "To the Kinderstube." Whenever she is ready to retrieve her brood she finds the number of their room on a blackboard in the lobby.

Almost worth its weight in gold a Busenji dog whose breed has been traced back to the time of the ancient Eyptians who thought they were holy dogs and worshipped them has been imported in England by a barrister who was a resident magistrate in East Africa until recently. The strange canine is the first of his kind to set foot in England although two others of the same breed have since been imported. One of the most important characteristics of the type is that they never bark. The possibility of breeding from them in England as a commercial proposition is being considered, as the fact that the animals are so quiet would make them admirable pets for flat dwellers.

INTERESTING FIGURES

Editor Examiner:

Sir: A feature story on the drought situation in the West, which appeared last week in a Toronto journal, simply lists the year-by-year bushelage of Canadian wheat production in its final paragraph and concludes:

In 1932 Canada produced a 443,061,000 bushel crop. Statistics for the past five years show an almost continued decline:

1932	443,061,000 bushels.
1933	281,892,000.
1934	275,849,000.
1935	281,935,000.
1936	229,218,000.
1937	190,000,000 (estimate)

Undoubtedly that is both an interesting and significant table; but, in this reader's opinion, leaves the average urban reader very much "at sea," with a tale half-told. To me, "production" is only one side of the wheat picture. The other side, "marketing," showing the money value of that year-by-year bushelage furnishes a most revealing study and, I think, deserves the attention of urban Canadians:

1932	$154,760,000.
1934	$163,972,000.
1935	$192,400,000.
1936	$178,000,000.
1937	$211,000,000. (estimate)

In 1932, therefore, the crop was worth $56,240,000 less than this year's yield, although the farmers supplied an additional 253,061,000 bushels of the breadgrain!

THE CHOICE TO BE MADE

Editor Examiner:

Sir: The Examiner in Saturdays issue re "The Fight Is On" gives food for thought in deciding as to what course to follow in making a decision or choice of a Leader. Premier Hepburn's attitude towards the C. I. O. will have a damaging effect in his return as a Leader of the Liberal Party. It is hard to understand why Mr. Hepburn couldn't of made a similar statement to that of Mr. Rowe who claims that the Ontario Conservative party stands for the right of employees to bargain collectively through their own representatives without dictation, coercion or intimidation. He further states that the workers may ally themselves with the C. I. O. if that is their wish but the laws of Ontario must be respected. Before the fight is in full swing the Liberal Party of Peterborough in assembling their machine will have to dig up a new mainspring or locate the old one who went on a sit down strike or has fallen fast asleep through over exertion in his last undertaking. The general consensus of opinion is that the former is the real cause of his sudden disappearing trick. G. N. is not as big a man as he looks.

ALEX MURRAY.

MR. GORDON AND THE C. I. O.

Editor Examiner:

Sir: Citizens were shocked to read in your valuable journal that at the dictation of an outside foreign organizer the good intentions of an alderman who was doing his best in the city's interests were to be turned against him by the publication of a telegram. If our citizens are to be at the mercy of treatment like that few will care to be peace-makers and much will be done to promote an unfriendly feeling to the strikers and their foreign leaders.

Open Letter To A Boor On Wheels

Pedestrian Pays Respects To Ill-Mannered Drivers.

Some day, my ill-mannered friend, you are going to go too far. Some day when you swerve around a street corner, you are going to clip the buttons off the wrong pedestrian's vest, and he is going to catch up with you, haul you off your comfy upholstery and deal you the smacking-down you deserve. You're a veritable Titan of self-assurance, aren't you, when you're behind an eight-cylinder engine? But how do you look on your feet? Are you the same dashing, imposing, self-assertive personage for whom the rest of the world must make room? Would you dare shove another pedestrian aside, would you jostle a six-footer? You would not, for you're just a grubby little inferiority complex who's been sublimated by a shot of gasoline.

And what's the reason for this break-neck rush of yours anyway? You're in an automobile. You'll arrive at your destination 10, 15 or 20 times quicker than the pedestrian you're crowding back on to the curb. The best he can do is five or six miles an hour. You are going 25 or 30, perhaps 40 miles an hour. Is your business ten times more urgent than his? My, my, what an important fellow you are! What vast designs, what momentous projects must occupy your waking hours to justify such impatience.

The automobile, it seems, is the devil's gift to the Little Man. Put him in control of a motor car and he's cock o' the cross-walks. But if you suddenly yanked that ton or two of iron and steel out from under him, you'd find him just a measly nonentity with the mental setup of a public school bully. You may say I'm in a bad frame of mind. You're right! And I'll get over it when fellows like you begin to use a little care, caution, courtesy and commonsense when you're driving on the streets and highways of this province.

Saskatchewan Tries Sales Tax

Folks Set Out To Try And Beat New Levy.

(From the Winnipeg Free Press.)

A WEEK ago the two per cent. sales tax came into effect in Saskatchewan and the Regina merchants are reported to have found the people accepting the situation, for the most part, and paying up without complaint because they recognized that the Government needed the money, which is earmarked for education. Purchases up to 14 cents are exempt and the tax is one cent on purchases up to 74 cents, two cents up to 1.24. The banks secured an extra supply of onecent pieces to facilitate the payment of the tax. On a $5 purchase, it is 40 cents.

There are, of course all, sorts of attempts to escape the tax. The merchants find that purchases are both decreased and increased for this purpose. The sale of 10-cent packages of cigarettes, which are not taxable, has greatly increased, but those who prefer a 35-cent brand often buy two packages and pay only one cent tax, the rate up to 74 cents.

The tax on bottled beer is absorbed by the proprietors of the beer parlors. But in the restaurants there were, at first at least, amusing attempts to avoid the tax on meals. Lunches were bought on the instalment plan. Some customers wanted to know why they should be taxed on a meal including eggs, bacon and bread, which are exempt when purchased at a store. The first tax paid at a Regina flower store was by a man who was celebrating his wedding anniversary.

Instalment buying is affected to some extent since the full tax must be made with the first instalment. For instance, the tax on a $150 electric refrigerator is $3, to be added to the first instalment of say, $15. The purchaser of a $1,200 motor car pays a $24 tax.

The exemptions include bread, flour, fresh meats, dairy products, fuel, farm implements, binder twine, grain and mill feeds.

SPORTS EXERCISE

(Le Droit (Ottawa)

PHYSICAL education is the order of the day, but the universal spread of sport has not solved the problem. Sports are still practised only by a tiny minority. The greater part of the younger people think they have carried out their physical duties when they have read, in the sporting papers, of the exploits of a few specialists—and written in what language. Making athletes for exhibition seems to be the ultimate idea, and sport has become a commercial enterprise, a pay-wicket, a gathering of loafers who pay, and of organizers who collect the money. A sports ground laid out in each village and in each of the large cities would be much more useful than the big stadiums. The remark of General Petain at a football match is well known "Forty thousand people watching twenty-two young men playing. I would prefer the contrary."

STRIKE VIOLENCE

(Niagara Falls Review)

SUPERVISORS of a Brockville plant, which is closed by a strike, were attacked yesterday, blackjacks and lead pipes being used on men and women as they sat at a meal. If anyone connected with the strike was responsible, he has a low opinion of Canadian public opinion. Such an occurence will do much to alienate the sympathies of the people.

There was a strike in this vicinity some years ago and a dynamiting in connection with that strike, causing death and injury to many, did much to prevent the strike being successful. Let us hope those responsible for the attack on the Brockville people, men and women, will be arrested and placed where they belong, so that the lesson may not be lost on anyone in Canada who favors violence in connection with a labor dispute.

MOTORING MANNERS

(Niagara Falls Review)

A PECULIAR change seems to come over some people when they get behind wheels of automobiles. Otherwise courteous people seem to become road-hogs, unwilling to give a jot to anyone else. Mrs. Emily Post noted authority on etiquette, in the latest edition of her book soon to be published, devotes a chapter to "Manners for Motorists," her observations closely paralleling the "try courtesy," campaign put on by provincial department of highways.

She considers, for instance, that a "long time in jail" is the proper punishment for a motorist who pulls out of a solid line of cars to "jockey" his way forward. The average man has good manners and the highways would be much safer and more pleasant if the good manners could be carried into behavior on the roads.

PURCHASING POWER

(London Express)

IF looking ahead is what distinguishes civilized people from savages, this country is not very civilized. Looking ahead, in Britain, you can plainly see that unless purchasing power rises with productive power we shall sooner or later start piling up unsaleable goods. What will happen then? Slack days in the factories, unemployment, wage cuts, from the politicians another dose of what is called Economy — and no doubt a search for another "National Savior" to put the job across. If you do not want to return to the dreary days of 1931, join in the movement for higher wages.

Base Metals Meet Losses At Toronto

TORONTO, Aug. 17—(CP).—The Toronto market made a half-hearted attempt to rally this afternoon after registering moderate losses in the early session and at the close practically all groups were down for the day. Base metals showed the widest recessions. More than two points in the index, while losses were mainly narrow in the golds and industrials. Aggregate turnover showed a considerable drop from that of Monday.

Market Closings Notably Stronger

NEW YORK, Aug. 17 (A.P.). — Stocks enjoyed a moderate revival in to-day's market after an early sinking spell blamed partly on the war at Shanghai.

Early active selling shook down leading steels and motors 1 to 2 or more points, but buying reinforcements soon stemmed the tide of offerings. Dealings turned extremely quiet in the afternoon. Transfers were at the rate of about 750,000 shares. Near the final hour extreme losses were pared or cancelled in many instances.

Crucible Steel and Zenith Radio ran up on cheering earnings statements. Assorted specialities were higher.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 17 — (CP). — Last-minute hedging pressure pared gains in wheat futures on Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day after short-covering resulted from unexpected Liverpool strength to send prices four cents higher. Closing values were 3¼ cents higher, October $1.29; December $1.26⅛, and May $1.27⅛h.

Prime market factor was action of Liverpool which quickly earned losses on receipt of Broomhall's preliminary estimates of Australia's next crop, based on conditions. The estimate was for 140,000,000 bushels compared with 148,500,000 last year and a five-year average of 163,000,000.

Liverpool closed 2⅜ to 2¾d higher. Japan was reported to have chartered ocean space from the Pacific Northwest United States.

United States markets moved higher, but gains at Chicago were less than at Winnipeg. Buenos Aires at noon was 1 cent up.

Horse Laughs For Exhibition Week

SILVER THE WONDER HORSE

Even if he is only of the "prop" variety, being improvised by human beings "Silver" is funnier than any genuine equine could ever hope to be. Under the whip of his pretty trainer he will attempt to "throw" audiences into the well-known aisles at the Peterborough Exhibition this week. Before doing that Silver promises to "throw" the attractive tutor-in-vaudiville-parlance, and cause her plenty of hardship before the performance is over. This is one of the merriest acts in the entertainment world, and should rock the cement grandstand with laughter.

Tavern Sign Smart But Must Be Removed

Newark, N.J., Aug. 17.

"GET Lit at the Lighthouse" is no kind of a sign to hang outside a saloon, State Alcoholic Beverage Control Commissioner D. Frederick Burnett ruled.

Ordering an Asbury Park woman to remove the sign, Burnett wrote her:

"To be sure, it is a smart, catchy phrase and does no harm if your customers disobey it. If, however, I allowed you to get away with it, then shortly we would be flooded with signs such as 'Get Soused at Sousa's,' 'Stewed at Stuart's,' or 'Pie-eyed at the Pianolo.'"

Sleeves Stressed In Fall Coats

Following are a few style notes on coat sleeves to guide you in your choice of a new model: Some coats have fur on their sleeves; some, in fact, have almost the entire sleeve of fur, sometimes dyed to match the color of the coat fabric.

Persian lamb is as popular as it was last season. Sleeves may be easy form shoulder to wrist, where a neat Persian band finishes them. Blue fox swirled around the sleeves is another styling noticed.

Another outstanding fashion is a sleeve of sheared beaver, with cloth on the section of the sleeve inside. Persian is also used for the entire sleeve, with a fabric cuff.

One very boxy coat had beaver sleeves, another silver fox that ran down in panels from the neckline; and a third used bands of mink to stress the bell shape. Sleeves, you may gather from the foregoing, are important in coats—almost more so than in dresses this year.

In novelty coats there are those with fur sleeves, circular cut skirts, capelet coats, untrimmed coats with separate furs.

War Nurse Ready For More Service

GUELPH, Ont., Aug. 17—(CP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Deterl, white-haired former war nurse, would go through her experiences in France over again "if I had the chance," she said during a visit here to the re-union of Ontario war veterans.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

This is a gift that I have, simple, simple; a foolish extravagant spirit, full of forms, objects, ideas, apprehensions, motions, revolutions: these are begot in the ventricle of memory, nourished in the womb of pia mater; and delivered upon the mellowing of occasion. But the gift is good in those in whom it is acute, and I am thankful for it.—Shakespeare.

Dear Friends:

All of us have a gift, whether we recognize it or whether we acknowledge it. Some of us do not recognize it until late in life for our gift and our desires do not run together, but the sooner we acknowledge it, the sooner we will benefit from it.

If a great writer belittled his or her gift, so that they would not use it just because they could not be a soulptor or a painter, how much good they would deprive us of, and themselves also, for until their brain was emptied of one lot of ideas, there would be no room for the next lot to come in.

The musician who has the gift, can sit down to a piano or organ and draw music from it that stirs the soul of us, while we who only have the love of music can do nothing but draw discord from it. And each and everyone of us think the other fellow's gift is better than ours. What we can do easily we do not value, and think, "now if I could do as well as so-and-so, how much happier I would be."

But try using your own gift and see the happiness that floods your whole being. Try doing your very uttermost with it, improving and improving all the time. Maybe your gift is only in the seed stage right now, and you think, oh, if I only had the opportunity what a lot I could do with this seed, but why not try making opportunity?

Do you think that everything comes easy to everyone? That the musician doesn't have to learn scales, or the writer how to put words together so that they make sense? Sometimes ideas will come so fast that one has hardly time to put them on paper, and sometimes it is a hard laborious task, when they come haltingly, grudgingly.

But we only hear the finished work, and never see the labor that goes into it, so we think it easy. A dancer must practise and keep on day after day, but we only see the graceful movements and never a bit of the pain. An actress must know how to stand and walk, must learn a pleasing vocabulary using every inflection of the voice to show pleasure or pain, joy or sorrow.

We demand that perfection when we go to be amused. We demand the same perfection when we buy a dress, or a cake or pie. We want the best from those around us, but how often we want to repay with just shoddy second-best things when we use our gift.

I told you before that if you don't use a thing you lose it, so before the years slip by and leave you with nothing but regrets, why not look inward, discover your gift, and even if it looks tiny now, nourish it until it becomes big and strong.

Even a genius must work long hours trying this and discarding that before they can perfect the gift God gave them. And He will hold us accountable if we let our talents lie idle, just because we did not get the same kind as someone else received, just because we will not study to do all we can with it.

Even if it can only be a hobby, and never be your life-work, it is far nicer to get all the good from it you possibly can, and who knows it may be the means while in the hobby stage, of you learning how to use it for a full-time job. But don't let it rust away unused whatever you do.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

For Good Posture Hold Head High

Posture is one of the most important features of a beautiful back. The shoulders should not bunch forward, and the small of the back should not curve too deeply. On the other hand, shoulders forced back, and backs held stiffly straight, give an awkward and rigid appearance to the body, and make the posture strained and ungainly. The back and shoulders should be flexible, not tense.

If you hold your head and chest high, the shoulders and back will naturally fall into their correct positions. An excellent way to develop good posture is to practice walking with a book balanced on the head. The reason why the ancient Greeks had such graceful posture was because they habitually carried urns and trays on their heads.

Best Way To Serve Peaches Is In Their Raw State

But Some Women Have to Cook to be Happy So Mary Moore Aids Them.

(By MARY MOORE)

EMPHATICALLY and irrevocably I wish to declare that the most appetizing way and the healthiest way and the most esthetic way to eat a peach is fresh—out of hand or sliced and with cream. To work with them making them into pies, compotes, creams, and so on is a mistaken idea of improving on them.

But some women have to cook to be happy—(I'm one of them) and consider it their bounden duty to cook peaches (even when we have to eat them canned all winter)—so I might as well give in and give you some new and exquisite receipes that I know will be surefire with you.

From an old Italian gentleman who is the chef in a New York restaurant and with whom I boldly scraped up an acquaintance one summer—I acquired.

Stuffed Peaches

One not-too-ripe peach for each person to be served, (we'll have to settle on six people so other proportions will come out right), 4 small lady fingers or 1-3 cup good cake crumbs, ½ cup almonds, 1 strip of candied peel (about 1 teaspoon) 4 drops almond flavoring, ¼ cup white wine (or water if wine is not approved). Carefully peel the peaches after they have been dipped in boiling water to loosen the skin, and remove the stones and a little of the pulp. Grind the almonds finely—or chop them extremely fine—and to them add the peach pulp, cake or lady finger crumbs, the finely chopped peel (this could be replaced with grated lemon rind if none is on hand), and flavoring and form this into a ball a little larger than the peach pits. Fill the peaches with the mixture, then put the two halves of each peach together, so that they look whole (you may have to fasten them with two toothpicks) put them on glass baking dish well buttered, pour the wine over, sprinkle freely with sugar (about ½ to 2-3 cup) and bake for 10 minutes at 400 deg. Fahr. or until the sugar forms a nice crust. These can be served hot or cold—but are choice if well chilled, and served with either heavy cream or unsweetened whipped cream.

Peach Compote with Peach Sauce

In summer serve this chilled—in winter warm.

Two cups milk, ½ cup farina, ¾ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, whites 2 eggs, 6 peaches, 3 tablespoons water, 6 tablespoons sugar. Scald the milk and sift in the farina gradually while stirring. When mixture thickens add the sugar and salt and cook over double boiler for 20 minutes, stirring twice. Cool somewhat and fold in whites of eggs beaten stiff. Spread out on shallow pan to ¾ inch depth to set (in winter stand in warm place). Remove skin from peaches, put in saucepan and add the water and sugar and simmer gently covered for 5 minutes. Cut the farina in 3½ inch squares, put a peach (whole) on each square and pour over all.

Peach Sauce

Dilute ½ tablespoon cornstarch with a tablespoon cold water. Add this to the syrup remaining in the saucepan from simmering the peaches, bring to boiling point and let boil 2 minutes, stirring. Beat the 2 remaining egg whites until very foamy then pour the thickened syrup over them slowly while stirring—add 2 teaspoons lemon juice, a shake of salt.

Open Face Peach Pie

Using Danish Pastry for Crust: (One crust) 1¼ cups flour, ¾ teaspoon salt, 3 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons good shortening, yolk of 1 egg, ice water. Mix and sift the flour and salt and cut in the butter and shortening with a knife, add the beaten yolk and only enough water to make the paste hold together. Chill thoroughly. Roll quickly, place on pie plate and bake at 500 deg. Fahr.—edges should be rather highly fluted. When crust is cold, fill with layer of sliced peaches, sprinkle with sugar (using ⅛ cup in all) adding another layer of peaches and sugar until pie is full. Cover with whipped cream sweetened and flavored with almond flavoring. Serve immediately. This will not keep.

This is plenty on peaches this week—later we'll put in peach canning methods—but I do want you to try them all.

Fresh Corn, Cream Style

Expected guests did not arrive because of a storm and we had a dozen cobs of corn leftover. To use them in a way they deserved I slit the kernels the entire length of each row with the sharp carving knife—and when each kernel was slit pressed out the pulp with the back of the knife. To this cream style corn I added ½ cup cream and ¼ cup butter and plenty of pepper and some salt and heated it in top of double boiler over the beans that were cooking in the bottom. It was a pronounced success. A little finely chopped red or sweet green pepper would have been added if I had had any. They might have spoiled it though—I know they are good in the middle of winter with canned bantam corn.

Baked Stuffed Cucumbers

Wipe and pare cucumbers, and cut in either two-inch pieces crosswise and remove seeds or cut in halves lengthwise and remove seeds. Prepare stuffing by mixing 4 tablespoons dry fine crumbs with 4 tablespoons either cooked ham or other ground flavorful meat—either cooked ham or other ground flavorful meat—either cooked or raw—and 2 tablespoons cheese—moisten with either chili sauce or catsup and season with salt and pepper and cayenne. Pack into cavities in cucumbers, pour around meat stock or water to depth of ¼ inch in shallow glass or enamel baking pan and bake until filling is browned—it may be dotted with butter if desired.

This makes a nice item for an otherwise vegetable plate—it uses up meat leftovers from a previous meal in a way that is surprisingly good.

When planning your meals these days when there is so much fresh produce you do not know which to eliminate—do not open canned goods nor use such vegetables as potatoes and onions any more than necessary—for they are all things that will keep — get the greatest benefit from the perishable foods while they are in season.

Fresh Tomatoes stuffed with creamy cottage cheese in which you have some chopped brazil nuts or celery; or tomatoes stuffed with ground veal seasoned with salt and Worcestershire sauce and baked; or large tomatoes peeled, scooped out and stuffed with Waldorf salad—walnut, apples and celery moistened with mayonnaise—all these are good ways to serve tomatoes when you find the monotony of them sliced is reducing the consumption.

Mrs. MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Please will you help me again?

I have always used the open kettle method in my canning, and never had anything spoil. This year I purchased a cold pack canner. I followed directions carefully and now the jars are only three-quarters full, and the water in the canner a deep red. I canned red raspberries. They are sealed tight and do not leak, but will you tell me if they will keep? The canner has a cover and I did just what it said in leaflet coming with it. My jars were all tested before I started canning.

Some time ago I was in the States and had a marvelous Sauer Brauten dinner in a German restaurant. They served Honey Dew Melon pickles. Never have I tasted the like. Whatever spices they used I do not know, but the taste of them will never be forgotten. I wonder if you know any German recipe you could give readers of the page—Thanking you, (Mrs.) E.M.H.

ANSWER: Thank you for your letter.

It is most distressing to have the juice from the jars come out into the water when you are canning by the boiling water method. However, it does not mean that all the jars contributed to this bright red color. If the seal on the jars is tight and they do not leak when inverted for some time, it is fairly safe to assume the seal is perfect. However, next time you use the canner I think it is a good compromise to fill the canner only to within two inches of tops of jars with water. Thus the water does not reach the seam between tops of jars and covers, but the boiling temperature of the water comes close enough to the actual top surface of the contents of jar to make them sterile.

In any event do not despair of success with your canner if this first batch is not completely satisfactory. Do your best to use it up quickly.

I have the regular recipe for Pickled Honey Dew Melon, but do not know a recipe that is strictly German. The Germans use whole caraway commonly—you might try adding a small amount of these tied in a muslin bag—how would it be to separate your mixture into two parts and flavor one-half with the caraway?

Pickled Honey Dew Melon.

Peel thinly, washed Honey Dew melons and after removing seeds and stringy portion, cut it into ¾-inch cubes. Let stand overnight covered with water to which 1 tablespoon salt has been added for each quart water. In morning drain. To each pound of rind add 1 thinly sliced large lemon (rejecting seeds only and slicing extremely thinly), 1 tablespoon whole cloves, and half a stick of cinnamon broken in pieces, 1 pound sugar and 2 cups vinegar (best quality cider). Boil all together until fruit is transparent and whole consistency is slightly thick. Seal in sterile jars. Try using 1 tablespoon caraway seeds tied in muslin bag for half the batch. Another possible addition is ½ teaspoon powdered vanilla. If either of these suggestions is successful I would like to know.

Do write again when we can help.

QUESTION: Can you tell me please where I can get tarragon roots or seeds?

You mentioned it in your interesting article of last week and I have been trying for years to find anyone who even knows its name. All the seed houses here profess complete ignorance, and as I have a good asparagus bed and consider tarragon butter the only possible sauce to serve with it I was delighted to see it and its virtues mentioned by you.

If you can help me to obtain and grow some I shall be deeply indebted and remain your always interested reader.—E.M.S.

ANSWER: This week being almost the height of the season for receiving mail for information regarding canning, I am almost swamped with work. Would you mind writing to the following firm yourself: Lexington Botanic Garden Incorporated, Lexington, Massachusetts, U.S.A. These people specialize in "Old-fashioned, Sweet and Foreign Herbs"—and I have discovered that it (tarragon) is native to Southern Europe. If you can find it in your heart to let me know what success you have I will be grateful too—for I want to grow some just to taste the tarragon butter on asparagus that you recommend so highly!

Thank you for your letter—and wishing you luck in finding tarragon seed.

Tested Favorite Recipes

(By MARY MOORE.)

The recipe we have for you today is notable for its flavor, economy, and the fact it will do two meals nicely.

Stuffed Beef Heart En Casserole.

One large beef heart, 1 cup dried bread crumbs (or rolled crackers), 1 tablespoon melted butter, 1 slice onion finely chopped, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 tablespoons chopped tomatoes, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Mix all these ingredients and stuff them into the cavity of the heart which has been cleaned, and trimmed free of arteries and tough sinews. (Some cooks like to soak a heart 1 hour before cooking). Place stuffed heart in a covered casserole or Dutch oven. Mix together 1 cup stewed or chopped fresh tomatoes, 1 slice onion, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon paprika, ½ cup celery chopped fine, 1 tablespoon butter. Pour these ingredients over the heart and put on cover and bake at 326 deg. Fahr. for three hours, basting three times. More water may need to be added as tomatoes cook away. When served pour over pan gravy. Heart prepared in this way is delicious sliced cold and served with chili sauce.

While admiring an arch erected for an Orange celebration in Belfast, Northern Ireland, Mrs. Mary Walker was killed instantly when the structure collapsed and fell on her.

working strenuously to maintain communications between the various areas. Headquarters reported the outlying stations had been unable to report all morning.

Two important police stations along the Yangtzepoo Road on the north bank of the Whangpoo behind the Japanese warships were isolated. Twelve British officers were in one and an undetermined number in the other. They were caught under the cross-fire of the Chinese and Japanese forces, and fears were expressed they might all be slain.

Nearby, Chinese troops were fighting hand to hand with the Japanese Kiahi Brigade.

Repeatedly Charged

The Chinese repeatedly charged the Japanese until the latter fixed bayonets and counter-charged. They stopped the Chinese advance only at the cost of tremendous losses including their commander. Chinese losses also were heavy.

An estimated 16,000 Japanese Marines and Bluejackets, backed by some 30 cruisers, destroyers and gunboats, were fighting to stave off an overwhelmingly superior force of Chinese estimated at 70,000 to 100,000 regulars.

Fighting was heaviest in Hongkew and in the Pootung flats where Chinese batteries were able to blast at the Japanese position on the west bank from the rear.

Bands of Chinese refugees roamed the streets, looting rice shops. They were dispersed by police but quickly reformed. Due to the acute shortage of food, the settlement authorities organized an emergency food and fuel committee to insure transportation of foodstuffs from the surrounding countryside. Infuriated Chinese in French concession mobbed and killed and unidentified person they said was a Korean who threw a bomb that killed three Chinese.

French and British reinforcements were sent in "French zone" to augment the International guard. Four hundred French troops were thrown around the concession waterworks half a mile from the concession. Their lines were extended to take in French Catholic weather observatory and radio station.

In the first tender were 337 American women and children. As the boat backed away from the Customs jetty, the Chinese bombers flew from the west over the international settlement along Soochow Creek and out over the river where the Japanese warships lay.

A terrific blast of fire from the cruisers' guns greeted the Chinese warcraft. The tender paused momentarily and then, with its cargo of human lives aboard, headed down the river for Woosung, and the liner President Jefferson, which would take the Americans to Manila.

Two British tenders with 350 women and children aboard, swung into line close behind. Two other British tenders were loading at the jetty and as they swung out into the stream, two more Chinese pursuit planes joined in the attack against the Japanese fleet. The British tenders headed down river alongside the firing Japanese warships.

Are Claiming Victory.

Chinese claimed the victory was slowly becoming theirs; that their planes had achieved superiority in the air; that they had captured the Japanese Hongkew headquarters and driven a wedge into the park. These claims Japanese denied.

With large units of the Japanese army known to be en route to Shanghai from the homeland, it was thought almost certain the battle would increase in extent and ferocity.

Additional British troops were arriving to swell the guard of the international settlement. The Second Battalion of Welch Fusiliers arrived today from Hongkong aboard the liner Maron.

American Marines were under orders to leave Manila today for Shanghai aboard the liner President Hoover, which was then expected to evacuate some 1,000 refugees to Manila.

Two American destroyers were steaming on a forced run down the coast from Cheefoo.

Shanghai, for those who remained, was a place where hard money was the prime necessity. Prices skyrocketed. Food stocks were running low and the gasoline shortage was acute.

Heavy barricades were thrown up about the British evacuation station against the crush of dense crowds swarming up and down the Bund. A party of bluejackets from the British warship Danae barricaded the area leading to the pontoons.

Because of the heavy shelling, the British refugee barges broke out a white ensign giving them the status of warships.

Strikers Threaten Weaving Foreman

QUEBEC, Aug. 17—(CP)—About 200 strikers of the Dominion Textile Company's St. Gregoire plant, six miles from here, paraded today to the home of Joseph Chamberlain, weaving foreman at the mill, and gave him 24 hours to leave town.

Today's march followed one during the week-end when strikers gathered around the foreman's home after reports circulated he intended leading a group of nonstrikers back to the mill.

ALBERTA PLANS TO GO AHEAD

openly sought redres from injustices.

"We respectfully submit that we are compelled by the mandate of our people to proceed with the enforcement of our legislation and with due deference we suggest that the responsibility of questioning its validity should be assumed by those desiring to render it abortive,' the telegram concluded.

Lengthy Session.

The communication to Prime Minister King was completed following a cabinet meeting lasting 4½ hours, which G. L. MacLachlan, chairman of the Social Credit Board, and G. F. Powell and L. D. Byrne, emissaries of Major C. H. Douglas, Australian Social Credit authority, also attended.

Aberhart's Reply

The text of the Premier's reply follows:

1. The Alberta Government is convinced that its three acts are wholly within the legislative jurisdiction of the province. We all concur in your statement: "Credit is a public matter not of interest to bankers alone, but of direct concern to every citizen."

2. Our legislation is designed to (A) secure the results demanded continuously by the overwhelming majority of our people here.

(B) Compel financial tyranny to reveal itself as such if it dares to oppose. Our legislation deprives no one of anything if they co-operate with Albertans and merely takes from those who won't co-operate the rights which they themselves seek to usurp or assist other to usurp.

3. The suffering and hardship of our people compels prompt and determined action to achieve the results demanded by them. No sound reason could be offered to justify not implementing the clearly expressed will of the people. This necessitates their control of the policy of all connected with Alberta's credit and retention of them of their undoubtful property and civil rights within provincial borders.

4. We submit our legislation does not transgress the rights and privileges of other provinces to look after the welfare of their people nor does it interfere with the present business of banking.

5. This government unanimously and whole-heartedly uphold Confederation and would deeply regret the results if tendon among a debt-ridden and poverty stricken people were increased by faintest suspicion that Federal Government would side with plutocratic bankers alien to province against democratic Albertans earnestly seeking their economic freedom.

6. Widespread inuendoes that Dominion financial credit will be impaired if you do not take action constitute threats to the people of Canada, who know that bankers alone possess the power to effect it.

7. All members of cabinet convinced faulty financial system causes many difficulties in Federal as well as Provincial administration so most anxious that Federal Government leaves systems defence to those imposing it, since the issue is universally recognized as financial tyrany versus democracy.

8. We foresee and are completely ready to meet promptly and efficiently any retaliatory measures bankers may possibly endeavor to impose on our people.

9. Nevertheless if the banks contend that they have the right to monetize the credit of Alberta at their sole discretion and that their rights are supreme over the people's property and civil rights and if they wish to contest our legislation to assert publicly these claims and further if they will refarin from endeavouring to mask their opposition as heretofore by obstruction through obscure nominee appellants we wil grant them flat when formation of local direcorates and the required licensing are complete.

10. Now and at all times rest assured that it is the policy of our government to grant fiats to ahy individual or institution genuinely and openly seeking redress for any injustices.

11. We respectfully submit that we are compelled by the mandate of our people to proceed with the enforcement of our legislation and with due deference we suggest that the responsibility of questioning its validity should be assumed by those desiring to render it abortive."

NEW IMPROVED PALMOLIVE HAS NEW MILDNESS, NEW LOVELY PERFUME, NEW HARDNESS—LASTS LONGER

"DONALD AND I USE Palmolive EVERY DAY..."

SAYS Lucie M. Dampsey prominent child psychologist

"Palmolive is the perfect beauty treatment," Mrs. Dampsy adds. "The blending of Palm and Olive Oils makes the lather wonderfully cleansing and refreshing."

And so, like millions of women everywhere, Mrs. Dampsy agrees with Dr. Dafoe. Like the guardians of the lovely Dionne Quins, she has selected Palmolive exclusively for use in her home.

Mothers! Choose Palmolive Now

Why should your children use any soap less gentle, less soothing than the soap chosen for the Dionnes? Why not decide now, that only Palmolive, made with Olive Oil, will ever touch your children's tender skin!

And you too, who want to keep your complexion smooth and lovely through the years! Why not give your skin the beauty care that only Palmolive's careful blend of Olive and Palm Oils can give. Why not use safe, pure, gentle Palmolive for your own face and bath!

DR. DAFOE SAYS:

"At the time of the birth of the Dionne Quintuplets, and for sometime afterward, they were bathed in Olive Oil... When the time arrived for soap and water baths, we selected Palmolive Soap exclusively for daily use in bathing these famous babies."

7—WORLD'S BIGGEST AND BEST GRANDSTAND ATTRACTIONS—7

THE FIVE ALBANIS
The Five Albanis, aerial motorcyclists, who will introduce insuperable feats atop a flimsy track high in midair, an imposing feature of the grandstand show at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. The Albanis, intrepid vaillants of the ether, presented their cycle pageantry at the Japanese Exposition recently, scoring a sensational success in the Orient. They are now enroute from Asia to fill their North American engagements.

SILVER THE WONDER HORSE
Silver the Wonder Horse has that quality called "Horse Scents" in abundance. Silver is a Satanic steed of the "prop" variety that causes its beautiful lady trainer plenty of worry and hardship before it's all over. Silver assumes every conceivable kind of pose and character and is one of the funniest acts in the entertainment world.

CLIFTON & JULES
A team of brilliant buffoons bouncing hither and yon, Clifton & Jules feature the grandstand show at the Peterborough Exhibition. These professional lunatics are paid to demolish themselves (all in fun, of course) in one of the real comedy acrobatic sensations of 1937. The clothes they wear are positively guaranteed not to win them this year's Beau Brummel award.

ARISTOCRATIC GOATS
A rarity in circus performances is the work done by the famous Aristocratic Goats, who present half a dozen pure white chargers whose horns and hoofs are tinted with a rich gold. They construct pyramids, roll on barrels, walk the tight wire and execute pretty statuary number, an especial delight for the younger generation. In a second act, Pat and Mildred Chrisman indulge in breathtaking cracks of the big whips, in addition to a sterling variety of trick roping.

BRENGK'S GOLDEN HORSE
Brengk's Golden Horse, featuring Bella Donna, in a spectacular and pictorially beautiful posing novelty in which femininity and equine are painted in a rich gold. When multiple lighting effects play on the pageantry of poses and tableaux, the result is striking, almost fascinating. The statues produced seem almost like actual sculpture.

GOLDA HONEY
Golda Honey, golden-haired gladiatress, is a tightwire artist of world renown. This mistress of grace and daring is a member of the celebrated Honey Family of Australian acrobats and tumblers. She twirls and dances on a silver thread, mounts a ladder and balances herself thereon, leaps through a set of small hoops and prances on the thin cord as if she were merely engaging in chores on the ground.

HONEY FAMILY
The Honeys specialize in tumbling and the vast repertoire of acrobatics that goes with it. Working with a springboard and high pedestal, they perform graceful leaps and twists through space singly, in pairs and in groups, and are particularly adept at midair exchanges which have the shoulders of their teammates as their destination. A feature of their act is a triple aerial somersault, ending in a chair supported by a high pole.

Oldest Masonic Master Is Dead

KINGSTON.—Word was received here today of the death at Ann Arbor, Mich., of William G. Smeaton, oldest Masonic Past Master. Born in Kingston, 101 years ago, he was a tailor for many years. He joined the Masonic Order here in 1858, and was Worshipful Master of the local Lodge in 1861, 1862 and 1864.

A Professional Listener

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—In a letter to the Chamber of Commerce here, a woman asked for space to set up offices as a "professional listener." She said she merely listened—for a price—to whatever anyone wished to confide because "confessions are good for peace of mind as well as for the soul."

ADVANCE SALE TICKETS HEAVY FOR EXHIBTION

If the advance sale of tickets for the Peterborough Exhibition which opens with Children's Day on Wednesday is a criterion of public interest, the directors believe they are on the way to new attendance records this week.

Four thousand strips of these tickets have been sold already, turning $4,000 into the treasury before the gates open. One thousand extras were run off the press and distributed Saturday, and were quickly taken up by the public.

Arrangements for broadcasting the numbers drawn from the churn in front of the grandstand each evening for the four automobiles that are to be given away were completed Monday afternoon.

Simultaneous announcements will be made at the grandstand and in the eastern section of the grounds, thereby giving everyone holding tickets an opportunity to win a car.

Of special interest for children on Wednesday is the news that 2,400 prizes will be given to the first 2,400 children going on to the grandstand. No seats are reserved for the Children's Day afternoon.

Exhibits Arriving

The Exhibition scene was shuttling its 1937 pattern this morning, familiar in many of its features, but introducing new and interesting spreads. The Conklin Brothers Midway Shows had not arrived from Brantford at 10.30 a.m., but that was regarded as only a temporary missing detail.

Hon. George S. Henry's herd of Holstein cattle were morning arrivals through the eastern gate, and others had already been placed in their stalls. A. D. Runions was busy with preparation for Junior Farmers' activities on Wednesday, and a group of small boys trailed across the western area of the Park behind the "Aristocratic Goats" that will be seen in the grand-stand performance every afternoon and evening.

R. M. Glover reported that applications for concessions are larger than ever.

Use of Strip Tickets

For the information of those who have bought strip tickets directors stated to-day that one ticket provides for personal admission to the park; another ticket admits your automobile; one ticket will give you a seat on the grand-stand, and another ticket provides you with a reserved seat.

First Program Wednesday

In addition to the vaudeville program which will be presented for the first time Wednesday afternoon, supplementary entertainment will be provided by Lenore Gordon, local dancer and singer, and by a group of amateur artists from the city and district who were recent winners in contests at the Brock Street Summer Gardens.

ORDE HAS ENTERED BUCKSAW CONTEST

Among the adversaries of Tom Walling in the World's Bucksaw Championship contest here Thursday morning is Walter Orde who was defeated last year by the title holder, but later won from the title holder at Millbrook Fair.

It may have been that Walling was resting on his Peterborough performance, but there will no longer be any doubt about that point after this week's tourney.

Neither of them may be the winner if the men who are sending in their entries have anything to say about it. It is like most other contests, difficult to determine before hand where the champion will spring from.

Contestants are urged to forward their entries to the Examiner as soon as possible. They really should be in by Wednesday to enable the managers to arrange the draw for the two mornings. And they are to report at the Examiner office Thursday morning at 8.30 o'clock.

DROP PREDICTED IN MEAT PRICES

CLEVELAND, Aug. 16.—Members of the Ohio Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers' Association, meeting here to-day for their thirty-eight annual convention, predicted a decrease in the prices of meat before the first of next year.

"The difficulty was that last year's corn crop was small and there wasn't enough feed for cattle and hogs," said President Fred Stitsinger.

"This year we have a bumper crop. It 's bound to lower prices. How much. I don't know. But I look for cheaper beef and pork by the first of the year."

10,455 GET PENSIONS

FREDERICTON—(CP).—Old age pension payments in New Brunswick during the year ending June 30 amounted to $1,578,407. A total of 10,455 persons received an average payment of $13.88 per month.

Main Street Topics

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up By Examiner Reporters.

PRESENTS PIPE.

In addition to the many other splendid prizes offered in The Examiner's championship bucksaw contest, the United Cigar Store has presented a very handsome pipe to be added in the list of awards.

WARDEN'S OUTING.

The warden of Northumberland and Durham counties is running a steamer excursion from Cobourg and Oshawa to Port Dalhousie and Niagara Falls on Wednesday of next week, acording to announcement in the local ticket offices.

BLANKETS IN DEMAND.

Canadian Department Stores management reports a brisk trade has been done with American tourists in trapper point wool blankets this summer. The demand for linens has also been brisk, the visitors seeking advantages of the Empire preferences.

PRAYING MANTIS.

An unusually large specimen of the praying mantis was caught by John Duncan outside the Barrie Building yesterday. The curious insect measured almost three inches in length. Those who first viewed it believed a species new to this district had been encountered, but the praying mantis is not rare here.

COUNTY CROP REPORT.

Fall wheat in Peterborough county is yielding well and wheat is generally a good sample. Yields of 35-40 bushels are not uncommon with the majority running above 30 bushels. Oat threshing is not general as yet but yields are not as high as anticipated and late grain will undoubtedly yield very low.

MANY TOURIST CAMPERS.

The tourist movement in and out of the Riverside camping grounds continues in heavy volume. At no time in the past several weeks have there been less than a half dozen encampments. The visitors report they find the proximity of the business district of the city to the waterside camping site a valuable advantage.

ONTARIO FORTUNATE.

"You are very fortunate in the way your strike situation has been handled in Ontario," an American lawyer from Columbus, Ohio, touring this district, told a reporter today. "While your Prime Minister made it plain at the outset that law and order would be enforced at all times, our politicians attemped to straddle the fence for fear of alienating the workers' vote. You people know the mess we're in."

NOW WATCH STOP LIGHTS.

West end residents are at last becoming accustomed to the presence of stop lights at the intersection of Park and Charlotte street. For many days after the installation, motorists who had been for years in the habit of cruising through the intersection without pausing found difficulty in remembering to look for the green and red signals, but few mistakes are now made. Complaints concerning the timing of the lights have been heard. The green light for traffic moving up and down Charlotte street, an arterial highway, should operate for a longer period than the green lights for the lesser volume of Park street traffic, it has been suggested.

A STRANGE VISITOR.

A stranger dropped into The Examiner office this morning—or rather was carried in—and the staff has so far been unable to identify him. He was a queer looking green insect about three inches long, with a green body, shaped not unlike a pea-pod, a long thin neck and long green antennae which he handled like a boxer. His means of transportation consisted of four very thin legs. The insect was found on a piece of wool sacking at the plant of G. Whitaker and Sons and was evidently from out of town.

YOUNG LEMON TREES.

Two young lemon trees were exhibited at a recent horticultural show here by Mrs. Benjamin Kerr, 89 Princess street. The exhibitor said she had raised the trees from seeds and expressed the firm conviction that lemons could be raised commercially in Canada and establish another important industry for the Dominion. A keen horticulturist, Mrs. Kerr told The Examiner, "I am only an amateur gardener, but I would like to see lemons developed commercially to make it possible for people to buy them by the peck instead of three or so at a time. Lemons are one of the most valuable of fruits."

PUMPAGE NORMAL.

Consumption of water at the filtration was no more than normal Monday, Bert Hunt informed The Examiner. Pumpage was around 24-hour period.
twenty-four-hour perod.

NEWS WENT FAR.

The word of Peterborough's strike disorders last Tuesday spread far. Stories of the near-riot in the morning were carried on the front page of the New York Sun that day and in prominent space inside in the New York Times.

RECORD ADVANCE SALE.

Sale of advance tickets for the Exhibition has totalled $4,000, as compared with $1,300 last year. The last of the 4,000 strips were snapped up today by telephone and otherwise at Dewart's Store, corner of Elm and Park Streets.

NOMINATION MEETINGS.

Liberals of West Hastings are holding a convention to nominate a Provincial candidate at Marmora Thursday, August 19. This riding has been represented in the government by Hon. Dr. J. A. Faulkner, Minister of Health. Premier Hepburn is expected to attend. At Warkworth next Monday Northumberland Conservatives will name their candidate for the riding now held by H. N. Carr of Campbellford.

OLD GOOSE PRODUCER

FAIRLIGHT, Sask. — (CP). — On the farm of R. E. Wallace, near here, 145 miles southeast of Regina, a 23-year-old goose hatched 11 goslings last spring and now is setting on six more eggs.

$52,000 Fortune Of Recluse May Be Taken By Crown

Many Legal Points Involved Believed to be Reason For Action.

SARNIA, Aug. 17.—Because of the many legal points involved it, is believed here the Ontario Government may confiscate the $52,000 estate left by John A. Cummings, Alvinston recluse, who died in September last year.

After Cumming's death money and bonds were found in boxes and other odd places around his home.

One of the beneficiaries is said to be a half-brother who predeceased Mr. Cummings and there is question whether the Adoption Act would permit his descendants to inherit the bequest. Most of the surviving relatives live in Minnesota.

The will disposing of the estate was drawn up thirty-six years ago.

SAW MILL STRIKE BELIEVED ENDED

TORONTO, Aug. 17 (C.P.).—Premier Mitchell Hepburn announced to-day he believed he had achieved a satisfactory settlemen of the saw-mill workers' strike at the Pineland Timber Company, in Foleyet, 180 miles north of Sudbury.

In discussions with the mill management, Mr. Hepburn said the question of wages was solved and some time to-day a representative of the Government will go north by plane to make a final agreement with the men.

"It is essential that the mill shoud resume operations at once," said the Premier, "otherwise its chief market will be lost."

It is understood the Premier arranged wit hthe organizer of the Lumberman's Union to fly north as the Government's representative to effect the settlement.

CITIZENS ASKED TO BOOST THE 'EX'

Tom Brown, president of the Peterborough Exhibition, expressed the hope this afternoon that citizens of the city and district would make themselves boosters of the "Ex" for the rest of the week.

"The directors have done everything possible to make the Exhibition a success from the standpoint of exhibitors and of visitors who come to be entertained and also to see the live stock, grain, fruit, vegetables, and all the other classes included in the prize list," Mr. Brown said. "We believe that we have done our part, but we need the co-operation of the citizens of the city and country. The public will see for themselves where some of the money has gone in necessary improvements.

"I hope we will not see this year any grown-up men trying to crawl over the fence. That is a boy's trick, and no one likes boys better than I do; but as president I am warning the adults that if I have my way any of them who are caught sneaking over the fence will be taken to the lockup."

City Will Not Be Asked To Pay Cost Of Provincial Police On Strike Duty

"The provincial police who were here last week during the strike disturbances will not be any charge to the city," Mayor George A. Macdonald stated to The Examiner today.

The Mayor said that as a result of his visit to Queen's Park yesterday he was assured that the cost of maintaining the police here would be borne entirely by the province.

While in conference with Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn and officials of the government, representatives of the strike body, and company officials, the Mayor met Mayor Horowitz of Cornwall.

Mayor Macdonald reported the Mayor of Cornwall as saying that last year during the Courtald's Limited strike at Cornwall there was considerable trouble and it was found necessary to bring into that city eighty provincial police. At the present time 1,700 workers at Canadian Cottons, Limited, are on strike and there has been no trouble.

Speaking of the progress of the conference to settle the strike, the Mayor spoke highly of the work of Premier Hepburn. "The Premier was engaged in continual conferences regarding the strike here and in Cornwall from eleven o'clock in the morning to seven o'clock in the evening, taking out only one-half hour for luncheon about two o'clock in the afternoon.

Definite progress, the Mayor stated, was made in the settlement of the strike, and many points were agreed upon. Jacob Cohen, solicitor for the strikers, represented them in most of their interviews with the premier and company officials.

King Cabinet Not Expected To Veto Alberta's Bank Acts

I do not think that in a Federation such as this the power of disallowance could be expressed by the Central Government. I believe the Provincial Legislatures would feel that they are still supreme and sovereign within the sphere of their jurisdiction."

Fathers of Confederation included in the British North America Act a clause which requires that all Provincial legislation must be submitted to the Governor-in-Council at Ottawa for review and which empowered the Governor-in-Council to disallow any such legislation within a year after it received assent.

Many Provincial Acts were disallowed in the earlier years of Confederation but in the present century use of this power has gradually diminished. In many instances disallowance was because of violations of constitutional rights. More recently this has been left to the courts and disallowance resorted to mainly when Provincial Acts were deemed "inequitable, unsound in principle, or destructive of private or contractural rights.'

Sir John Thompson, while Minister of Justice, whfen satisfied certain Provincial statute was constitutional refused to consider the justice or injustice of the measure. On another occasion Sir John although describing a certain Provincial statute as "pernicious," refused to interfere because no Dominion interest was at stake.

Varying viewpoints were expressed by succeeding Justice Ministers. Sir Oliver Mowat said it was not his business to view Provincial legislation gecause of its injustice. David Mills declared the remedy lay with the Legislature and the people of the Province concerned.

Sir Allen Aylesworth, while Minister of Justice (1906-1911) prepared a memorandum on disallowance which has been much referred to ever since. He said the British North America Act did not intend that disallowance should be used to annual Provincial legislation even when the Federal Government considered such legislation "unjust, oppressive, or in conflict with recognized legal principles," so long as the legislation was within the power of the Legislature to enact it.

It was not right, Sir Allen declared, to relegate to the Minister of Justice a question which he believed could be settled beter at the Provincial polls.

WATCH THE OFFICERS

Strike pickets are on slightly more friendly terms with police at the Bonner-Worth now that all the trouble seems to have blown over, but they still seize upon every opportunity to cause the officers of the law a bit of embarrassment.

Three police officers, city and provincial, sat stolidly watching the activities of the pickets after the workers had gone into the plant as usual at the Bonner-Worth this morning. Pickets attempted unsuccessfully to disturb the placidity of the three with hearty "raspberries" and jeering calls, but gave that up in favor of a strategy which they calculated would at least bring the cops to their feet. They sang God Save the King.

The three officers remained unmoved by the sudden demonstration of patriotism.—C.P.K.

MILLBROOK.

INSTITUTE MEETS AT THE BALL HOME

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, August 17. — Mrs. Melville Ball was hostess for the August meeting of the local branch of the Women's Institute, the gathering being at her home on Saturday evening, with the president, Mrs. R. J. McKnight, in the chair.

In the unavoidable absence of the secretary, Mrs. J. W. Hilton, Mrs. G. O Fallis filled that office, and the treasurer, Mrs. Ball, reported six new members on the roll. In reporting for the Sunshine Committee, Mrs. T. G. Harkness told of visits to sick members and of progress being made toward recovery.

A discussion regarding lending the W.I. dishes to outside organizations led to the recalling of a motion placed on the books last spring that this will not be done in future. Since the usual picnic is omitted this month, there was considerable discussion regarding the hiring of a bus to take such members as could go to the C.N.E. at Toronto for a day, Mrs. Fallis being appointed to look after details, and report at the next meeting.

It was decided to have a booth at the Rural School Fair on September 13. Mrs. Ball being appointed to purchase supplies similar in quantity and materials to those sold last year, Mrs. H. J. Armstrong and Mrs. D. Olan being among the members who volunteered to help in the booth on Fair Day.

For the September meeting the convenor of the standing committee on health, Mrs. J. L. Byam, will be asked to take the program, and arrange the place of meeting. The roll-call will be answered with each bringing a new member, and announcing the name. A pleasant social hour was enjoyed at the close, and the hostess thanked for the kindness, before dismissal.

Cars Are Stranded In Shanghai Streets

Shanghai, Aug. 17.

THE foreign banks, which yesterday closed in view of peril hanging over downtown Shanghai, announced they would reopen today in temporary quarters in the western sections of the international settlement and the French concession.

The city has gone suddenly on a cash basis. Prices have skyrocketed. The gasoline shortage has become acute, with hundreds of motor cars stranded in the streets.

RIOT CASES ARE ALL ADJOURNED FOR ONE WEEK

When the twelve men and three women arrested last Tuesday morning in connection with strike disturbances at Bonner-Worth Mill appeared before the Magistrate this morning, on charges ranging from assault and disorderly conduct to obstruction, each of them obtained further remands or adjournments.

In all cases where bail had been previously granted, bail bonds were renewed in the same amounts. Preliminary hearings are set for Tuesday morning next.

Alex Welch, United Textile Workers organizer, obtained renewed bail in the sum of $5,000. His bondsman was T. J. McMurray, president of the local Trades and Labor Council.

Michael English, chairman of the Central Strike Committee, was represented by Hon. G. N. Gordon, K.C., and was bailed by him in the sum of $1,000.

Mr. Gordon also went bail for Joseph Vinette in the same amount and asked an adjournment for Mrs. Edith Prizzelle.

After the four above named accused had been dealt with by Magistrate O. A. Langley, K.C., as the first on the list, they returned to Toronto to resume negotiations with Premier Mitchell F. Hepburn at Queen's Park.

Magistrate Epps of Oshawa heard the remaining eleven cases and granted remands or adjournments until Tuesday next in each case. Emmett F. Bheeny represented some of the accused and went bail for James Dorrington, Clifford Hutchinson, and Edwin Sanders.

The court was crowded and the brief formalities in connection with the remands and adjournments was followed with close interest.

PARIS, Ont., Aug. 17 (C.P.). — Assaulted in his isolated home by two intruders early to-day, elderly Robert West was in serious condition. The motive for the assault is believed by police to have been robbery.

Shortly after the attack was reported Chief Tom Bean and Constable Ken Fraser arrested two men in connection with the incident. They gave their names as George Smith, Montreal, and A. Jullian, Ottawa.

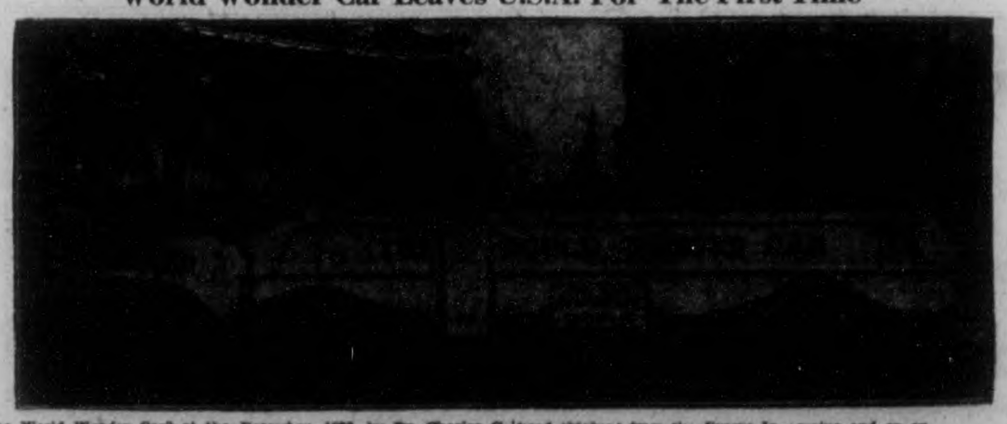
World Wonder Car Leaves U.S.A. For The First Time



"The World Wonder Car" at the Peterborough Exhibition this week is essentially a medium of visualized education of interest to adults, and especially to children, because many of its "1,001 curious things from all parts of the world" will be new to them.

Louis Engel of Washington, D.C., who is in charge of this travelling museum which was christened in December, 1933, by Dr. Charles G. Abbott of the Smithsonian Institute, told The Examiner today that approximately 16,000,000 school children in the United States and part of Mexico have seen its exhibits. In some of the larger cities the Wonder Car has been parked in school yards and the children are assigned by classes to see such interesting curios as the shrunken head obtained from the Jivarro Indians of South America, trophy of some headhunter, Chinese brick tea brought from the Gobi desert by Roy Chapeman Andrews, stamps and coins from all over the world, authentic Lincoln relics, the smallest book ever printed in the United States and loaned by the Federal Government, dressed fleas from Mexico, a sea exhibit, collection of grains and so on.

The World Wonder Car crossed the international boundary for the first time Sunday on the way to the Canadian National Exhibition, and Mr. Engel told The Examiner that Paddy Conklin of the Conklin Midway Shows urged him to bring the big 14-ton car to the Peterborough Exhibition, instead of filling in the week around Toronto.

REV. LEVI HALFYARD.

CHURCHILL, Aug. 17. — The sudden death after only a few days' illness of Rev. Levi Halfyard, B.A., new minister at Churchill United Church, came as a shock to his many friends.

The late Mr. Halfyard was rushed to the Stevenson Memorial Hospital, Alliston, at an early hour on Sunday when an operation was performed but he passed away Wednesday. He had just been inducted Friday evening into his new pastorate at Churchill.

Born at Newfoundland, October 2, 1886, he received his early education in Newfoundland and later graduated in Arts from Victoria College, Toronto, and then in Theology from Victoria University. Since his ordination he has held the following charges: South River, Little Current, Lambton, Shelburne and Tottenham.

Surviving him are his wife, formerly Audrey V. Miller of Pontypool; four children: Marion, Robert, Bruce and Audrey Louise; two brothers and two sisters, John and Hedley, and Mrs. Bessie Hutchins of United States, and Miss Clara Halfyard of Hamilton.

A private funeral service was held at the manse, followed by a largely attended service at Churchill United Church with the Rev. Dr. Peter Bryce, Moderator of the United Church, and Rev. W. R. Auld, Midland, in charge. Thirty brother ministers acted as honorary pall-bearers and walked from the manse to the church. Active pall-bearers were members of the Masonic Lodge of Tottenham, of which Mr. Halfyard was a member. The Masons also conducted a service at the manse. Four ministers, all from Newfoundland, took part in the service. Rev. Scott Milley, cousin of deceased, read the Scripture; Rev. C. W. Follett of Richmond Hill, preached the sermon; Rev. W. B. Bugden of Cookstown, led in prayer; Rev. W. S. Butt sang 'Crossing the Bar.' The Tottenham choir led the singing of the hymns. Interment was made in the Queensville Cemetery.

MRS. HARRY CHAMBERLAIN.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

WARSAW, Aug. 17.—The funeral service of the late Maud Calder, wife of Harry Chamberlain, was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Clements on Saturday afternoon, Aug. 14th, and was very largely attended. Rev. J. W. Wilkinson conducted the services there and at the grave.

The hymns sung were by request, "Asleep in Jesus," and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus." The Scriptures read were from St. Mark's gospel, chapter five, a few verses beginning with verse 36, and from Job, chapter 33 were four, 'The spirit of God hath made me and the breath of the Almighty hath given me life."

Mr. Wilkinson spoke of life and the great thing in life service; of Mrs. Calder's mother love and of Mrs. Clements' kindness to another woman in time of trouble. He stressed service in life and of this great gift of mother love.

After the service at the house burial took place in St. Mark's cemetery. The bearers were Clarence Watts, Gordon Calder, Earl Tighe and Mr. Allan Tighe, Webster, of Lakefield, had charge of the funeral.

The late Mrs. Chamberlain was an only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Calder. Until her marriage she had spent her life in Warsaw. Since then she lived always within a few miles She leaves three sons, the oldest of whom is about eleven, and an infant daughter born on August 4th. Another boy died in infancy a few years ago.

Mrs Chamberlain was taken to Nicholls Hospital where the baby was a week old and died early on Friday morning, Aug. 13th. The infant is at the hospital.

Besides her husband and four children, Mrs. Chamberlain had no very near relatives. She was an only child.

He returned to his home after treatment. Wilson was found beaten on Hospital Street. His car was subsequently recovered.

OUTLAWS FINISH LEAGUE SCHEDULE WITH 11 TO 4 WIN

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HASTINGS, Aug. 17.—The Outlaws completed their schedule in the local Softball League with an 11 to 4 victory over the Tanners last night (Monday). The win leaves the Outlaws half a game behind the Tanners, who hold first place.

The Outlaws scored 4 in the first inning on 2 singles, "Dit" Clapper's double, a walk and an error. They scored another one in the third on 2 hits and a walk. Three more Outlaws crossed the plate in the seventh on 3 hits and 2 errors, and their final runs came in the eighth on 2 errors, a single and McKee's double.

The Tanners' first run was scored on errors in the third inning. They scored 2 more in the fourth on a hit, a walk and an error, and they scored the final run of the game on an error and Turner's double.

McKee, pitching for the Outlaws, allowed the Tanners just 7 hits while striking out 9 and walking 2 in a smart pitching performance.

Hahn, for the Tanners, was clouted for 11 hits. He struck out 3 and walked 3.

Puffer's work at shortstop for the Outlaws was the highlight of the game, while "Mose" Scriver, striking out with the bases loaded in the first took his turn at being the goat.

The teams:

Outlaws: Radford cf, Lemoire 3b, I. Bonda c, McKee p, Clepper 1b, McCoy lf, Scriver rf, Puffer ss, G. Bonda 2b

Cardinals' Scouts On Manhunt For a Second Ducky Medwick

MORRISTOWN, N.J., Aug. 17—(AP).—St. Louis Cardinals have come back to New Jersey in search of another Ducky Medwick—the boy from Carteret who made good, and how!

Dispatching a posse of seven seasoned scouts, the Cards let it be known that a manhunt is on and it won't end until every potential Ducky Medwick in this state has run the gamut of criticism for throwing arm to batting eye. The Cards are adopting the plan inaugurated in baseball by Dan Howley of Toronto Maple Leafs—a training school.

The original Ducky, a pitcher demoralized from way back, was "discovered" a little more than seven years ago, when, with a "few" brisk words, he brought his light out from under the bushel and paraded it before the cynical eyes of Charley (Pop) Klechner, the Cards veteran scout.

"Pop," on a tip, hied himself down to Carteret High School's baseball field. He was looking for a promising young outfielder by the name of Medwick, Sedgewick or Hedwick. He didn't find him.

Instead he caught an eyeful of a bouncy third baseman who looked like he might have something.

"Say, Bud," said Pop, "do you know a boy by the name of Sedgewick, Medwick or Hedwick?"

"Yeah," says the third baseman, my name is Medwick. I don't know the other two, though."

"H-mmmm," mused Pop. "The boy I'm looking for is an outfielder."

"Well," Medwick replied with a show of subtle modestry," I play the outfield. I also play the infield. I pitch. I'm a cracker-jack catcher, and, boy, can I hit!"

Pop later said he had no alternative. He forget about Sedgewick and Hedwick and got Medwick's signature on the bottom of an agreement that he would try mowing a little hay on one of the Cardinals' farms.

He was 17 then. At the end of three years he moved up to the Cardinal lineup—still under 21—and in 1934 he won a permanent berth, much to the embarrassment of several heretofore good pitchers.

Kelchner is back in Jersey and with him is a crew of the Cards' crack scouts. They are setting up the machinery for a try-out camp at Lindgerwood Memorial Field for August 23 to 28.

They expect a thousand boys to pass through the mill. They hope some of them will show prospects, but they don't really expect to pull another Ducky-Wucky Medwick out if the bag. How could they?

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

THERE is a junior ball game here tomorrow night at Riverside commencing at 5.30 o'clock. It's between Belleville Kiwanis and the local Rotarians and is the first of the best-in-three O.B.A.A. playdown series. Our old pal, ex-Umpire Woodley, is skipper of the Kiwanians but they are probably a good outfit, regardless. They should be, after playing in an intermediate circuit all summer. Ralph's Rotarians are classy, too, and these squads ought to dish up a hotcha number as they tangle in the big money serial. A southpaw will likely fling for 'em and Gee Clark is billed to push 'em up for the young Petes. The joust rates a bugish bunch of cash customers. Second game is in Belleville on Friday.

* * * * * * *

JAVA JOE, the coffee slugger, is seriously thinking of entering the bucksaw contest. The one here next Thursday and Friday mornings. He said yesterday, "I used to buck a rabid saw during my addle esaence and I may enter this contrition and submerge among the survivals. But I require cool weather as this humility makes me expire excessively. I go good in the pang of autumn but vicious versa in the humility of summer." When we had that untangled in our mind, we asked if he were in shape for such a gruelling contest. And he snorted: "My physic requires little exercise for hard work but you wouldn't apprehend the subject of hard toil." We admitted we didn't "apprehend" a lot of the things he told us.

HAMMERING hooves will beat a tattoo through the medley that makes up the Peterborough Exhibition this week. Harness horse races will be held three days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Two races each afternoon in several heats—what, more heat?—for $200 in prizes each time. The classy local track and the big prizes always attract some of the best trotters and pacers in the business here for the fall fair. A flock of 'em will arrive tomorrow from various parts of the Province to bed down and await the starter's call Thursday. Stan Lowe is again chairman of the race committee and has lined up competent officials for the meet.

* * * * * * *

WE LIKE these hoss races. The begrimed drivers perched on the bikes behind galloping thoroughbreds as they fling themselves in a bunch down the stretch provide a thrill in any language. The clang of the bell, the roars of the fans, the bawling out of troublesome broncs, the running comment from the starter—it all adds up to a lot of fun and oldtime Ex. color.

* * * * * * *

THE PETES have another workout at six tonight in Riverside Park, and all players should attend. Napanee sent word that the Petes' game there tomorrow would be at three o'clock, but the local club will refuse to play their postponed game in Napanee until the Naps-Ponies' postponed fray of some six weeks is played first. We don't blame 'em a bit—the locals can now do a bit of jockeying for a change. The previous tie game between Napanee and Kingston will be played at the last, if it is necessary. Meantime, Oshawa and Kingston have a postponed game which is likely to be run off tomorrow. There was some talk of Napanee and Kingston cleaning up their postponed tilt last e'en, but this was not done. Prexy Max Swanston of the C.O.B.L. informed Secretary Jim Dorris of the Petes last week that Kingston would have to play their postponed game with Napanee before the Petes would be called upon to meet the Gibbards again.

* * * * * * *

THE box score of the puste in Oshawa on Saturday shows Foley, Jubenville and Rowden having two hits each for the GM-men and Weir and Handford hitting two apiece for the losing Gerowmen. A couple of costly errors by Card in the ninth gave the Motor Citizens the close win after Pointer and Turner had hurled nice ball throughout. Lefty fanned seven, and he is finishing the season strong same as in '36, while Pointer struck out half a dozen. Handford hit a homer in this tilt while Foley's long fly in the last heat scored Wallace with the winning marker. Doc Rowden was used at short with Hurst holding down a spot in the left garden. Seven sacks were stolen in this setto—so it looks like Central Loop catchers had better be on their toes as the runners take chances toward the end of the schedule.

BELLEVILLE Aajmaa juniors tangle with the Young Petes at six in Central on Thursday eve in the first of the O.A.S.A. junior playdowns, second one being in Belleville Friday, according to the Quinte scribe. Tonight at Central, Motorists meet Westclox in their fifth game to declare an O.A.S.A. team, the Clockmakers having won three and needing but one more. Last evening saw Motorists nose out a 5-4 nod over Omemee here in a round-robin fray on the local diamond, with Manager Shorty Barrett having to fill in for an absentee and playing in the outfield where he pulled off a dandy grab. He drew a walk in his one appearance at the plate.

* * * * * * *

COBOURG and Westclox gals clash tonight at seven in the Bowl, it being the third game of their three-in-five loop titular serial. The Armour Hill maidens won the first while the second fixture, last p.m. on the Lakeshore diamond, ended in an 11-all draw—the fray being terminated early in the 10th inning when the shades of night wrapped up the world. Hah, poetical, what? This joust was a free-hitting and rather free-fielding affair with lots of yodel about. Westclox clouters were M. Ferguson, A. Sturgeon, M. Allison, G. Mortimer and D. Merrett; and the Cobourg binglers were M. Perrin, R. Hoskin, and W. Hoskin. The latter and Marg Snowden did the twirling and didn't do too badly, despite the wicked war clubs swung by opposing batters. Next Tussle, after tonight, will likely be in Ernie Foote's town on Thursday.

* * * * * * *

HITHER and yawn: Good prizes are offered by local merchants for children's races at the Ex. here tomorrow aft....Belleville wants the return junior O.B.A.A. game with Rotary there on Saturday ....Quinte gridders are starting workouts this week....Orfuns will have a ticket-selling booth at the Exhibition....Local lacrossers will play in Norwood tonight....The gals' softball winner here will go into P.W.S.U. playdowns 'gainst the Oshawa victor Aug. 25th in Peterborough and in Oshawa Aug. 28th....Sports' Committee at the Ex. consists of: Doug Loomis, chairman, V. Milburn, Chas. Cook, J. H. Jamison, N. Hamilton, W. Engle and Dr. Frank....And Horse Race Committee is comprised of: Stan Lowe, chairman, A. D. Runions, R. Denne, L. Ferguson and M. Storey....Guess Hon. Earl Rowe is too busy now whipping up his party for the coming election to climb his gig at the local Ex. this year and steer his hay-burner around the course....Fred Ash may be out with the Petes next game....Gotta go now..gotta heavy date with a park bench under a shady tree where the breeze is blowing.

GOLF-FACTS NOT THEORIES

By Alex Morrison

No. 66

The downswing is the only part of the swing that holds the attention of the average player. His mind is filled with just one problem —how to bring the club down in the right groove with sufficient power to send the ball straight and far enough.

Owing to this, he is like an ostrich—he fails to see where he exposes himself to a lot of trouble. By consciously trying to control the downswing he is bound to be unsuccessful. It doesn't matter how keen he may be about controlling his various movements, he is practically helpless once the downswing has started.

The time to work on an improvement for the downswing is in the starting position and during the backswing. Nearly all of the faults occurring in the downswing originate in the backswing. Since it is impossible to compensate for them once they have occurred, why not deal with them where they originate? The answer is, you must if you are to be more than accidentally successful.

Give as much attention as you like to details in your backswing and think mainly about keeping your head in position during the downswing. Read this last sentence two or three times. When you grasp its meaning you will be on the way to lower scores.

Sopwith's Endeavour To Oppose America's Cup Defender Again

NEW LONDON, Conn., Aug. 17.—(AP)—The fleet of the New York Yacht Club, with the royal blue English cutters, Endeavour and Endeavour II, as guests, made its rendezvous in the Thames River here Monday.

Commodore W. A. W. Stewart, aboard the flagship Queen Mab, met the Captains of the fleet, and announced instructions for the annual cruise and associated races, which will begin at Sarah's Ledge tomorrow morning.

Outstanding in this annual competition will be the meeting of the Class J. or America Cup class yachts. With five of these giants entered, the show will be the finest American yachtsmen ever have been offered.

T. O. M. Sopwith again will sail his defeated America's Cup challenger, Endeavour II, against the cup defender, Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger. Frederick Segrist's Endeavour I, Chandler Hovey's Rainbow, and Gerard B. Lambert's Yankee will complete the class.

Endeavour I, will be sailed by C. Sherman Hoyt. It was this combination which won the only race Ranger lost, in the Eastern Y.C. cruise, two days before the America's Cup match.

Handlers Concerned Over the Weights

POMPTON LAKES, N.J., Aug. 17 (A.P.). — With nine days still to go before Joe Louis steps into the ring with Tommy Farr to defend his heavyweight title, the chief concern of the champion's handlers is to see that he doesn't drop below the 200-pound mark until shortly before the fight.

"Joe has weighted 201 for the past few days and we want to keep him up there for several more days," explained Manager John Roxborough. "We want him to weight 198 when he climbs into the ring. Any weight above htat will be a handicap rather then a help. Joe weighed 197¼ pounds for Jim Braddock and was strong and fast. We feel that it would weaken him to get below those figures, and it would slow him up to get much heavier."

Joe's handlers dispensed with road work last week on mornings when he did any boxing and twice they called off the bag punching and rope skipping which usually follows his workouts. He has been losing weight too rapidly because of the heat.

British Sports Writers Back Joe Louis In Title Fight

Critics Believe Tommy Farr Not Good Enough to Stay the 15 Rounds.

LONDON, Aug. 17 (AP).—There's a suspicion in Great Britain that maybe it's just as well the future of the Empire doesn't depend on Tommy Farr. Which is to say that, if Joe Louis mangles him in their heavyweight championship fight August 26, the Commonwealth will be braced for the shock.

If it isn't braced, it won't be the fault of the British sports writers. They have spent much time and many shillings looking at the pictures of the Louis-Jim Braddock fight, and after ponderous thinking have done the British equivalent of "climbing out on a limb." They are picking Louis.

"Nice fellow, Tommy, courageous and all that sort of thing, but he really can't attack, can he?" they say. The critics don't believe their boy is good enough to stay 15 rounds with Louis without getting hit too many times.

There also is a tendency here to regret Tommy's recent eloquence. One of the more constant contributors to the London papers and also one of the few who favor Farr is Ted Broadribb, Farr's manager. Broadribb is enthusiastic about Farr's chances.

In the sports columns there is a definite tendency to minimize the importance of the bout, but even the past record of British heavyweight contenders can't discourage the average British boxing fan.

The British Board of Boxing Control does not recognize Louis as the champion, so that Tommy would be just the North American champion here were he to beat Louis.

There's no doubt, however, he would be the popular champion. Special boats are carrying many British fans to New York for the bout and some London restaurants are carrying cabled stories of Tommy's training activities on the backs of their menus.

Campbellford Club In Tennis Series

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 17. — With Belleville and Campbellford tied for first place in the Trent Valley League, a match is scheduled for Wednesday afternoon, when the two teams will meet on the local courts to decide which will meet Trenton in a sudden death match on August 25th. Since the local club lost their only tournament of the season to the Quinte team at the early part of the season the cup holders are conceded a very good chance of winning in Wednesday's tournament. The finals will begin in September, after Wednesday's losers meet Trenton, in a series of home-and-home games.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB MARTIN

In the first round of the Central Ontario rink play-offs R. Hendry's quartet were successful in defeating H. Martin's outfit by 18-9. Bob's crowd were never in trouble from the 1st end till the 18th. They were masters of the situation all the time. They will now go to Cannington as one of the two rinks who will represent our clug on Aug. 30th. Good luck to them.

To-day's question: "If a bowler carries his bowl up with him to look at an end is his bowl dead?

The answer to yesterday's question: "No player shall be allowed to change his bowls in the course of a game unless objected to, and said objection must be made not later than the sixth end." However, if a player wishes to change a pair of bowls for any reason he may do so by first receiving the consent of the opposing skip, and not otherwise.

All these questions are being printed and will be answered the following day. It is done for the purpose of helping the new players and a lot of the old ones to understand more thoroughly the rules of the game.

Cobourg and Westlox Girls in 11-all Draw

Tie Game Called in 10th to End Classy Playoff Contest on Lakeshore Grounds.

Cobourg and Westclox girls battled to an 11-all tie, called for darkness in the 10th inning, last night on the Lakeshore diamond in the second game of the league finals. The series is best three out of five, with Westclox having won the first game. Last night's fixture will be replayed, if necessary, when other playoff games are finished. Tonight, these teams meet at the Bowl here in their third playoff contest.

After Westclox had pulled up on a three-run rally in the eighth to take a run lead, the homesters last night shoved over the tying marker in the ninth. Neither side scored again and the game was called with Westclox at bat in the 10th frame. Cobourg took an early lead but saw it gradually dissipated in the later frames, though they rallied for five in a big seventh and looked like winners for a time. It was a free-hitting and exciting encounter all the way.

Hurlers Are Fair.

W. Hoskin and M. Snowden both twirled fair ball, the latter fanning three and walking one, while the Cobourg flinger struck out five and issued six free bases. Both were hit hard at times, and their support in the field was poor. Cibourg had a double-play, while J. Young, B. Rowden, A. Sturgeon and D. Merrett went best defensively. M. Ferguson and A. Sturgeon each hit a homer and two singles for Westclox, with M. Allison having three singles, and E. Mortimer and D. Merrett a double and single apiece. For Cobourg, M. Perrin and R. Hoskin hit a double and two singles each, while W. Hoskin got a two-bagger. The teams:

Westclox—I. Pavy c, M. Ferguson ss, M. Allison 2b, M. Hawthorne 3b, G. Mortimer 1b, D. Merrett lf, A. Sturgeon cf, M. Selkirk rf, B. Blade rf, M. Snowden p.

MOTORISTS WIN SOFTBALL TILT

Motorists beat Omemee, 8 to 4, at Central last night in a round-robin series playoff fixture, the first win in this series for the locals. They spotted Omemee an early lead but came on at the halfway mark to nose out a nod in the abbreviated fixture. Reeds and Montgomery hurled neat ball over most of the route and had fair support. Reeds allowed six hits while fanning three and walking four. Montgomery gave up seven safe blows and three walks as he struck out one.

Price led the hitters with a double and two singles in four times up. None of the others got more than one safety. For Omemee, Rehill and Williamson hit doubles but no one could collect more than one clean hit. Fielding features included running catches by Crary and Barrett, the latter being manager of the Motorists and having to fill in in the outfield. The teams:

Pittsburg Pirates Unafraid Of The Cocky Chicago Cubs

Bucs Have Edge on Bruins So Far, Having Eight of 14 Games.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17. — (CP). — Manager Charley Grimm, leading his first place Cubs into Pittsburgh to-day to open a three-game series with the Pirates, believes that on Sept. 4th Bruins will have as good a margin in the National Baseball League race as they now command —four games.

Sept. 4 is the day the Cubs return to Wrigley Field, after 17 road games behind them and a balance of 21 at home and 10 away ahead of them.

It's the Giants, of course, who are in second place and, bolstered by the heavy hitting comeback of Hank Leiber and the spark-plugging of Dick Bartell, making a race of it. But it's the Pirates, nine games off the pace in fourth spot, and the Reds, 20 games down, who have been able to catch Chicago Bears most consistently.

Their latest Cub-caging feats came in their just-concluded engagements at Chicago, where the Pirates won two out of three and the Reds three out of four. Between them, they forced Grimm to toss 29 pitchers into the seven games. Only one, Clay Bryant, managed to go the route, pitching a five-hitter that walked the Buccaneers off their own plank, while the single triumph over the Reds was accomplished with the aid of one of Charley Root's better relief tricks.

Have Edge on Cubs.

The Pirates, sneaking back out of a mid-season slump and breathing hard on the necks of the third-place Cardinals, are the only club to hold an edge on the Cubs over the season, having won eight of 14 games. The Reds are the only club to hold the Grimes crew even, at 6-6.

From the Giants, whom they will play twice on this trip, and the Dodgers, with whom they have three games scheduled, the Cubs have won 11 of 17; from the Phils, whom they will play twice, 11 of 13; from the Bees, whom they will face three times, 11 of 16, and from the Cards, whom, much to theid disappointment they don't play at all this time around, they have won 10 out of 12.

The Cubs go into action with a three-game losing streak, the Pirates a three-game winning streak.

Elsewhere along the Big League wheel, the Giants visited the Bees, the Dodgers were at home to the Phils, the Cards at Cincinnati, the American League-leading Yanks met the Senators, boasting an eight-game string, in a double-header, the Athletics were at Boston, the Tigers at Chicago, and the Indians at St. Louis.

Win Streak Broken Marmora Ball Club

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MARMORA, Aug. 17.—Marmora softball team lost its winning streak on Monday as C. McInroy's Deloro squad won a seven-innings battle by 12-8. The losers relied on their regular pitcher, Fox, for the whole of the game, while P. Gray, who took the mound for Deloro, gave way to O'Neill in the sixth.

The teams:

Marmora—Nobes 3b, Hamilton 2b, Fox p, Phillips cf, Smith c, Cronkright rf, Frank Burns 1b, Gray cf, Fred Burns ss, Neal cf.

Deloro—Brown ss, Brooks c, McInroy 2b, Loveless cf, Gray p, 2b, Richardson cf, c, Townson 3b, R. McColl rf, Pogan 1b, G. McColl rf, O'Neill 2b, p.

Score by innings:

CHIEFS' HURLER ALLOWS 5 BLOWS IN 3-1 VICTORY

TORONTO, Aug 17. (CP).—There may not be much of a fight for the pennant in the International League this season but there are some hot little fights going on for places in the playoffs.

The tightest of these at present is the battle between Buffalo and Baltimore for fourth place. The Orioles have battled their way up through the second division and today are only half a game out of fourth place as a result of a double victory over the Bisons, last night, 6-2, 6-4.

Carl Fischer stopped the fourth-place Bisons in the opener with a fourhit performance, while Woody Abernathy, with a homer, and Wimpy Wilburn, with two singles and as many runs driven in, paced the attack. The Birds' power took the nightcap from Truett Sewell, who had beaten them four times this season. Les Powers got a brace of doubles for the winners.

Bears Split Double

The Newark Bears split a double bill with the Montreal Royals, losing the opener 3-1 to Marvin Duke and winning the nightcap, 6-1. It was Duke's 17th victory of the year. Dave Harris hit a home run for the Royals in this game and Bernie Cobb's two-run single finished the Montreal scoring. Spurgeon Chandler, recently released to the Bears, by the New York Yankees was the Newark pitcher. Jack Fallon held the Royals to seven hits in the nightcap, with catcher Buddy Rosar collecting four hits in five trips to the plate.

Johnny Vandermeer, although wild, had enough to beat the Toronto Maple Leafs 3-1, for the Syracuse Chiefs. He allowed only five hits, but passed ten and made a wild pitch. Three double plays helped him at crucial points.

Rollie Stiles, of the Jersey City Giants, turned in another top notch pitching performance as he held the Rochester Red Wings to eight blows. The Giants got 14 hits off Oscar Judd and Tony Kauffmann including three by Hal Lee, Jersey outfielder.

Local Paddlers In Toronto C.N.E. Meet

Local paddlers may enter some of the canoe racing events at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto near the end of this month. A number of entry forms have been received by Ross Thompson here and may be obtained from him by interested canoemen. Ontario juvenile championships will be held Aug. 30th at 3.00 p.m. on the regatta course, a half mile for the Ontario championship and a quarter mile fror the C.N.E. title. Entries must be mailed in and an admission ticket to the C. N. E. will be given the applicant. Entries close Aug. 20th and juveniles must be under 18 years of age.

A 12-mile tandem canoe marathan will be run on Aug. 28th at 2.30 p.m. for Canadian championships, open to amateurs. Racers must suply their own canoes, no longer than 16 feet with a minimum dept of 10 inches and no lighter than 45 pounds. There will be 14 laps raced. No entry fees charged but closing date is Aug. 23rd, and C.N.E. admission tickets will be mailed. Prizes ranging from $35 orders down are offered.

First Playdown Game Here Wednesday P.M.

Junior O.B.A.A. playdowns commence here tomorrow (Wednesday) with Belleville Kiwanis meeting the Peterborough Rotarians at 5.30 p.m. in Riverside Park. It is the first game of the first Ontario playdown series, second being in Belleville Friday and third, if necessary, probably on a neutral diamond. The winner advances into the second round of the O.B.A.A. playdowns. Belleville juniors have been playing all summer in the Hastings County intermediate league and have been meeting strong opposition, so they should be in fine shape. The locals waltzed through the Lakeshore Junior Loop handily and are set now to go after an Ontario championship.

Weeks or Kelleher—the former a southpaw—will pitch for Manager Woodley's crew, while Gee Clark is expected to take the mound for the Ralph outfit. Both teams are at top strength and right in the pink now for this important series. They play snappy junior baseball and have a number of good senior prospects on the lineups. A large crowd of local fans is expected to see the joust here tomorrow as it ought to be a fine game, it means a lot financially to the locals, and it will permit fans to get away early for the Exhibition at night.

CURRENCY WASHED ASHORE

SAINT JOHN, N.B.—(CP).—Four boys thought they were seeing things when they found $58 in bills, half of a $50 bill and several cheques along the river shore near here. They returned the money and cheques to a bank clerk who had lost them from a yacht some weeks previously.

LAKEFIELD SCOUTS HAVE FINE OUTING AT SOUTH BEACH

LAKEFIELD, Aug. 17.—A group of fifteen tired but happy Lakefield Scouts, headed by Scoutmaster J. W. McKerchar, arrived home from an enjoyable week-end camp held over last week-end, at South Beach, a short distance from Clear Lake.

Early Friday morning, fifteen of the local troop of Boy Scouts, led by Assistant Scoutmaster H. T. Baldwin, loaded their luggage on to a transport and hiked the distance of 5 miles from Lakefield to the camp site, where they pitched their tents in an ideal location in preparation for a delightful week-end. Behind the tents was a pine woods which gave shelter from the sun, while in front was a clearing which provided ample space for such activities as softball.

Some distance in front of the row of tents, the Scouts built a trench measuring about 3 feet long by 1½ ft. in width and depth. Here they built their camp fire and over the top of the trench they placed a grate on which cooking utensils could rest without fear of their toppling into the flames. This method has the added advantage of confining the heat in a small area. Here the camp cooking was done by the boys themselves, who had a chance to make practical use of many of the things they learned in their Scout groups this winter.

Sacred Service Held.

The boys were responsible for making their own beds and keeping their tents neat, daily inspection by the leader making this imperative. Flag break was held each morning and on Sunday the entire camp joined in a sacred service held under the pines.

During the day the Scouts boxed and played baseball or fished and swam in the waters of Clear Lake.

During the week-end they ran off a lengthy program of aquatic events, the results being as follows:

Scouts' Aquatic Events.

Standing dive—1 C. Earnshaw, 2 M. Bullock.
Running dive—1 M. Bullock, 2 C. Earnshaw.
Back dive— 1 M. Bullock, 2 C. Skelcher.
Cannon Ball — 1 C. Birch, 2 G. Pearson.
Fancy dive— 1 D. Moore, 2 C. Earnshaw.
Running jump—1 C. Skelcher, 2 L. Allan.
Swimming race—1 C. Birch, 2 N. Bullock.
Diving for object—1 C. Skelcher, 2 G. Pearson.

Just before the breaking up of camp, final boxing bouts in both junior and senior classes, were run off on the lawn in front of South Beach Hotel. Quite a considerable crowd of spectators from the hotel and adjoining cottages gathered to watch the bouts and the youngsters put on a good exhibition. The results follow:

Boxing Finals (Points Counting.)

Senior — C. Birch defeated O. Moore.
Junior—C. Skelcher defeated C. Earnshaw.

GOLD RUSH RAGES CYPRUS ISLAND

TRODOS, Cyprus, Aug. 17 —(CP-Reuters)—Great Britain's island colony of Cyprus is in the midst of a gold rush. Picturesque peasants, tradesmen and small land owners stand in long queues outside the government mines office at Nicosia, the capital, waiting to register their newly-staked claims.

In lowly mountain huts, bars and offices the chief topic of conversation is "devil's mud," as the gold-bearing ore has been named by the islanders.

For more than 10 years it has been known that gold existed on the island but as it was not "free" gold, but gold ore in the form of a white chalky substance pocketed in the solid rock and costly to treat when mined. It was not considered practical to work it commercially.

In 1930, an American-owned mining company quietly began prospecting for gold ore. The ore has been mined and quarried, crushed, treated with syanide and exported in the form of a black powder for smelting abraod, with considerable commercial success.

Six months ago, when the news of this success had permeated through the land, the gold rush started, and humble peasants butchers, bakers and all manner of men began the search for "devil's mud."

During the past six months the government has granted 240 prospecting permits valid for one year over an area of one square mile, but the gold fever has begun to show signs of abating. Reliable authorities state it is possible the gold ore will be worked out in about three years unless further deposits are found.

CROP DECREASES

FREDERICTON—(CP)— Winter killing and unfavorable weather during the picking season contributed to a 30 per cent. reduction in New Brunswick's strawberry crop this year as compared with a bumper yield last year.

READ THIS FIRST:

Ambitious to become a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job. They see more and more of one another and begin to fall in love. During the absence of Francine Long Tony's head buyer who dislikes Mary, the latter successfully designs some gowns for an important client, Liane Weston, a leading actress. Something goes wrong during the final fitting, the actress goes into a tantrum and Tony publicly berates himself for letting Mary, still inexperienced, design the gowns. Mary feels certain Miss Long purposely altered one of the dresses. Leaving Tony's shop without word, Mary decides to go abroad. En route to Paris she meets Mark Sutherland, wealthy playboy. In Paris Mary has difficulty finding work. By pre-arrangement she meets Mark there.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 10.

"I don't want to take my back hair down and be sympathized with, Mark. Let's forget that I said anything about it," suggested Mary in answer to his plea that she tell him her troubles.

She smiled across the table at Mark. She didn't want him to sympathize with her. Mark wasn't a big brother, an old friend—or even a new one, she thought suddenly. No, decidedly, Mark had none of the attributes of a friend. Mark was a playboy and gay companion and not someone to use as a shoulder. Mark couldn't understand her. He had never known what either ambition or work meant. He had never known any deprivation. It wasn't likely that they would ever meet on any common ground.

For now, she was content to enjoy him, to enjoy the minor luxury of what he had to offer, to bask in the pleasure his ease and assurance had to give her. She didn't mean to confuse any issues. Had she been a different type of girl, Mary Barrett would have found him a matrimonial prospect beyond compare. But then Mary Barrett would have had to be a little more scheming, and a little less intelligent. The Mark Sutherlands were not marrying men; at least they were not marrying ambitious young working girls. Mary had the whole thing quite clear in her mind, and she had neither illusions nor designs.

Having forgotten herself so far as to have mentioned her state of mind, she recovered quickly and changed the subject at once.

Nor did Mark return to it until several hours later.

It was hot and breathless in Paris that August night. They took a carriage and rode out toward Versailles. Cloppety clop. The horse's hooves beat musically on the pavement. Their voices were low, restful. Mary forgot that the day had been dark with gathering disappointment and that she had come to feel pitifully young and alone and helpless.

Mark took her unprotesting hand into his.

"Since you don't want to tell me about it, suppose I tell you what I know?"

"Who's being psychic now?" she answered with an attempt at lightness.

"Tried to fool Mark, didn't you?"

"Only myself, Mark."

"Then you were wrong only once." Mary liked him for that.

"Shall I tell you what I know you've been doing?" She sighed and said he might as well. "Then, I know you've been to all the grandes couturiere. You've been to all the employment agencies that guarantee to find jobs for American girls. You've been to the big shops and a lot of the little ones. And the answer has been the same."

"You don't have to be very smart to know that, Mark. No ungraciousness intended."

"You couldn't be ungracious if you wanted to be. What surprises me is that you aren't curous."

"Curious?"

"Didn't I tell you that I had news for you?"

"Tell me . . . tell me at once! Of course I'm curious."

"Now, then, did I ever tell you about my friend, Countess Anetka Illovitch?"

"You've never told me about any women, although I suspect you are knee deep in admiring ones from here to Istambul."

He made her a mock bow. "I'm not going to boast about my conquests. Besides, I shall consider I've never had any until I wear your scalp on my gold-plated girdle."

"Nice, modest fellow! With a gift for turning a phrase, too!"

"Young lady, you have a gift for turning me off my subject. To return to Anetka: She's an utterly charming rattle-brained little Russian emigre. A great girl! And a dressmaker. Or so she thinks."

Mary's eyes widened when she heard that.

"Go on," she demanded eagerly.

"Anetka has a little hole in the wall on the third floor of an old house in the St. Germain district. There's a flock of places just like hers over there. She does have the jump on the others though because she has a small patronage of Russians who fared better than she, and a handful of Americans."

"Yes . . . yes," Mary urged when he paused for breath.

"It's a very minor establishment. Not the sort for a 'successful designer' like yourself."

Mary laughed. "Now that you've seen all the way through me, Mark, please don't hold it over me. Do go on."

"Very well, I hope for the same sportsmanship from you. To continue: Anetka really doesn't need anyone; she does have rather a hard time getting by with one seamstress and an errand girl, but—if you are interested—she thinks she can give you a small berth. I don't know about the financial arrangements."

Mary caught her breath and tried to work out mathematics in a mind that simply couldn't do figures. Hazily, she realized that she still had a reasonable nest egg. And if she had a job . . .

And if it was really a job in a dressmaking house owned by a Russian countess. . . .

Suddenly the overwhelming importance of it struck her. She might actually, in a house that was small, have a chance to do the thing that her heart was set on!

She wanted to throw her arms around Mark Sutherland's neck. And she would have if she hadn't remembered the thing that Tony had taught her. Control your impulses! She counted to 20. Then she said very simply:

"Mark, that's sweet of you. I wish that there was something terribly nice that I could do for you."

Mark lit a cigaret slowly, letting the match burn to its tip. His eyes were inscrutable as he fixed them on the match. "Perhaps there is."

"What?"

"Have you ever been to Brittany?" She shook her head.

"You'll like it. We'll drive down Friday. I'm sure Anetka won't be in any hurry for you to start."

Mary straightened primly. "Sorry," she said. "My itinerary doesn't include any side excursions with young men in motors, planes, boats, trains or kiddie cars. Thanks for the offer anyway. And the offer at the countess." We'll forget both.

Mark sighed resignedly. "Okay. You can't blame a man for trying. It was my move and I made it. Sore?"

She shook her head—not too convincingly.

"However," he continued pleasantly, "the job is still there. Try to get in to see Anetka tomorrow morning. Remember the lunch hour in France lasts for two hours and the small shops close." He wrote shakily on one of his cards as their carriage jogged along.

Mary watched him trying to write. She folded her arms and contemplated him with a perplexed expression wrinkling the smoothness of her brow. After a few moments, she shook her head in a puzzled movement.

"I don't know what you're up to Mark. I really don't understand you. And it's only fair for me to tell you that I don't care much for childish games."

"Lady, there's nothing childish about my games," he assured her.

"Well, I'm not sure that I can play it, whatever it is."

"You're playing right now, but you aren't aware of it—or are you? It's the old parlor game— strictly American—of Matching Wits. I respect a good partner but I'm not above taking advantage of a good opening."

"I might quit in the middle of the game," she warned.

"Not you!"

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S CLOTHES.

"Whoopee! Whoopee!"

That was the sound Uncle Wiggily heard as he crouched in the lake at the end of the spring board off which he had dived a few seconds before.

"Whoopee! Whoopee!"

"That isn't any echo," whispered Mr. Longears, shivering a little and twinkling his pink nose. "An echo sounds only directly after you have called. It doesn't last as long as this. I wonder who is calling?"

Uncle Wiggily himself had shouted "Whoopee!" as he took a dive from the spring-board the animal boys had made. He shouted that way because he felt jolly to be diving into the water of Blue Lake near where he had put up his camp tent. But now he did not feel happy.

"I dont like that whoopee business when it isn't an echo of my own," thought the rabbit gentleman. "It sounds as though the Bad Chaps might be yelling 'whoopee' because they see me here with hardly any clothes on and they think they can get me. No, I don't like it at all."

Standing up where the water was about up to his waist, Uncle Wiggily looked toward the shore where the end of the spring-board was held in place by some heavy stones.

"I see no Bad Chaps," whispered Mr. Longears. "Perhaps I was mistaken. I think I had better not dive any more to-day. I'll get dressed and go back to my tent."

Just as he was about to wade out and get dressed, Uncle Wiggily heard again the cry of:

"Whoopee! Whoopee!"

"But this time it sounds farther off—away over in the woods," said Mr. Longears to himself. "Perhaps its the wind, though I never knew the wind to talk that way. Anyhow, I'll go out and get dressed. I'll leave the spring board to the boys."

But Uncle Wiggily had an unpleasant surprise. When he was on shore and had walked toward the end of the spring board where he had left his clothes they weren't there!

"Why - why - er - they're gone!" gasped Mr. Longears. "Some one has taken my clothes! What am I to do?"

He had on his underwear but being a very neat and tidy sort of rabbit gentleman, he didnt want to go parading through the woods looking like that.

"I must get my clothes back!" he told himself. "Oh, dear!"

Just then he heard sounds as if some one were coming through the woods toward the spring-board.

"Oh, my! They'll catch me without my proper clothes on!" thought Mr. Longears. "That must never be! I'll have to duck down under water again!"

Quickly he ran out on the end of the spring board and dived in. He hid under water all but his head. But when he looked he could see no one coming. It was a false alarm.

Once more Uncle Wiggily waded out to shore. As he did so he saw a flash of red amid the trees.

"Ha!" cried the rabbit gentleman, "there goes somebody with my clothes! That's my red coat! Whoever took my clothes cried 'Whoopee!' I'm going to chase after them and catch them! Whoopee!

Scantily clad as he was in his underwear, Mr. Longears started to run through the woods.

And if the alarm clock will stop ringing its bell so the bed springs can go back to sleep, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's coat.

Lindsay Calls Off Beauty Competition

Lindsay, Aug. 71.

THE suggested beauty contest for the Lindsay Central Exhibition will not be held, it was decided at a meeting of the Board of Directors. When the idea was brought before the board, strenuous objection was heard from John O'Reilly.

"I don't like the idea of a beauty show," he declared. "I think we hold our women too highly to put them in the same class as cows and horses, up for display. In Toronto, the police held a beauty show, and the women were half nude. At other times they go out and arrest women for appearing in the same costumes on the beaches. They have received considerable criticism." It was finally decided to engage St. Mary's Boys' Bugle Band of Toronto as a special attraction.

UNIQUE INDUSTRY ABLY DESCRIBED BY R. A. ELLIOTT

The fascinating story of a Canadian industry situated just 40 miles from Peterborough, an industry that has run night and day, Sundays, and weekdays, Christmas and New Year's, 365 days a year since it was established 30 years ago was told to the members of the Peterborough Rotary club at the weekly luncheon Monday by R. A. Elliott, chief engineer and works manager of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company at Deloro. Mr. Elliott's address dealt with the history of the industry, the method in which cobalt, arsenic and silver are developed from the ore, the uses to which the products are put was climaxed by a story of what has been accomplished at Deloro in the field on safety education and accident prevention.

Introduced by Rotarian Peter Westbye Mr. Elliott began by pointing out the part played by the railways in Canada's mining developing, showing that the building of the C.P.R. had been responsible for the great nickel industry and the building of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway had launched the cobalt silver and gold mines in the north. He told of the decision of the O'Brien concern to purchase a plant at Deloro, used originally for the extraction of gold and arsenic, pointing out that as each ton of cobalt ore necessitated the use of three tons of chemicals, it was cheaper to ship the ore south than the chemicals north.

The speaker described how arsenic, silver and cobalt were extracted from the ore, explaining the various processes in non-technical terms. The arsenic, he said, was used largely for the manufacture of insecticides and in the making of plate glass. The silver produced was converted into bullion and most of it was shipped to London whence it was sent to the far east. The cobalt had a wide market for use in the ceramics industry and it was also largely used in the making of stellite, an alloid that was now in great demand. It was a product of the Great War, Mr. Elliott stated.

In conclusion the speaker related how safety first education had been launched and developed at Deloro, until the plant for some years had had a record of about one compensation accident a year as contrasted with a heavy list of serious mishaps before the safety organization went to work. Mr. Elliott urged his hearers to pay more attention to safety principles on the highway and in their homes, two places that were now the chief offenders from an accident viewpoint because they were not organized.

President Arthur Runions thanked the speaker on behalf of the club.

Rotarian James Juby, head of the transportation committee announced that the Rotary Camp was closing today and thanked the members for their assistance in providing transportation for the boys while Rotarian R. M. Glover reported that there had been a great advance sale of tickets for the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition and the number of entries indicated a great show.

FAR RANGE PLANES MEET AT NEW YORK

PORT WASHINGTON, N.Y., Aug. 17—(AP). — A German seaplane which flew from Europe on the southern route, alighted here today as a United States' flying boat was about to take off on its first survey flight over the same air lanes in the International race to establish scheduled trans-Atlantic flying.

First to greet Captain Joachim Blankenburg of the German Nordmeer was Captain Harold E. Gray of the Pan-American Clipper III, warming up for a flight to Bermuda, Azores, Lisbon and Southampton.

Captain Blankenburg's Nordmeer settled on Manhasset Bay at 7.37 a.m. E.D.T. after a 150-mile-an-hour flight from the Azores 2,392 miles away, where his 19-ton seaplane with four Diesel 600 horsepower motors was catapulted from the steamship Peschg Abenland. He said he flew much of the way at 20 feet above the water to avoid head winds. The seaplane also brought in his co-pilot, Count Siegfried Schack, Radio Operator Wilhelm Kueppers and Mechanic Otto Gruschwitz.

Railway express service will be inaugurated between Shanghai and Canton, China, on November 1.

Finds More Towels In Bathroom Than In Entire House At Home

Mister "Jim" Petrie, Oracle of Opal, Given Trip to New York.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17—(AP). — Mister "Fin" Petrie, the Oracle of Opal (Pop 40), Wyoming, was up to his ears in swank to-day.

Years ago when he landed in New York, a Scottish emigrant boy of 19, he bunked in an Eighth Avenue boarding house. To-day his hosts installed him in a Park avenue hotel suite.

Writing for his paper brought him to New York. He won Country Home Magazine's third annual award for the best country newspaper correspondent with his salty column in The Kemmerer Gazette.

This week's column will be about New York. It says "They gave the wife and I a bungalow, fitted with more towels in the bathroom than we have at home. I even found a corkscrew attached to the bathroom wall, but failed so far to locate anything to put it in.

"Met a swell bunch of newspaper reporters this afternoon, no more inquisitive than we are, and offered to buy them a drink, but all declined, that is, until my wife said, "Fin will pay for it."

The reporters, of course, talked shop and wanted to know how a country correspondent works.

How does he get his news?

"Well, if I hear a woman talking to another woman in the store (he runs a general store, I put it down. And I listen in on the telephone."

LORD TWEEDSMUIR APPOINTED CHIEF OF INDIAN TRIBE

By Guy E. Rhoades
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

CAMP AT INTATA LAKE, B.C., Aug. 17 (C.P.).—Lord Tweedsmuir and his party arrived at this lakeside camp yesterday for a stay of a week or more en route to the coast through country which Alexander Mackenzie, Canadian explorer, visited 140 years ago.

The Vicerogal party left Burns Lake and drove 40 miles to Cotes Lake, where the Governor-General learned Chief David Leon of the Babine Band had intended making him a Chief, but missed the Viceregal party. Chief David later sent a brave to the lake informing Lord Tweedsmuir he was now Chitum Squamish (Chief of the Mountains).

The party plans to rest here for the next week or so, fishing, taking pictures, and generally taking life easy after the 7,000-mile journey which took Lord Tweedsmuir far beyond the Arctic Circle, second Governor-General in Canada's history to cross the Circle.

A Provincial Police constable sent out news of the Governor-General's movements and thereby sets a precedent in Canadian history. Never before has police radio been able to keep the public informed of a Viceregal trip through wilderness country. Counstable C. H. Bennett was specially selected by Provincial Police authorities to go with the party as wireless operator.

Mounted Constable Pulled Off Horse

MONTREAL, Aug. 17—(CP). — A mounted policeman was dragged from his horse and a Dominion Textile master mechanic slightly injured early to-day in fighting at two of the company's strike-locked plants.

Pickets at the west-end Cote St. Paul mill, angered by company officials opening plant gates, dragged the policeman from his mount in a rush to the gates. They scattered when 100 officers rushed to the scene in answer to a riot call but not before Albert Leclaire was arrested for disturbing the peace.

At the Hochelaga plant, in eastern Montreal, pickets set upon a group of workers attempting to enter the mill, and injured Nicholas Fornby. Noel Brunete was arrested, also on a charge of disturbing the peace.

MILLBROOK.

SUMMARY DAY IS HELD BY INSTITUTES OF EAST DURHAM

(Examiner Correspondence.)

MILLBROOK, Aug. 17. — "Summary Day", a follow-up of the project for "Refinishing Furniture" carried through by the Institutes of East Durham, drew a representative gathering to the Town Hall, Millbrook, the date the supposedly unfortunate combination of Friday the thirteen, having apparently no ill effect on the success of the undertaking.

Miss Esther Slicter, of the W.I. Branch, Department of Agriculture, Toronto, was in charge, and an interesting feature was the display of refinished furniture which some of those present had done during the year, under instruction by the local leader, Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, who conducted the class. These articles all of solid walnut or other valuable wood, included a hall chair over one hundred years old, owned by Mrs. J. R. Eakins; picture frames, and the frames about old-fashioned swing mirrors for standing on chests of drawers; boards for dining-tables, two of each being shown illustrating "before and after" treatment; a round-top table, with drawer, and single standard support, owned by Miss Dorothy Morden, of Mt. Pleasant, which was much admired; walnut feet on an upholstered stool; drawers and tops of dressers, and a door from a kitchen cabinet.

Project for 1938

Mrs. James Kennedy, of Cavan Branch, took the chair in the unavoidable absence of the East Durham president, Mrs. Cecil Williams, of Morrish Branch, and a sing-song opened the gathering. Mrs. R. J. McKnight at the piano, Miss Slicter followed with an address, explaining that next year's project will be "Reconditioning Furniture,' for which the initial classes, at least, will have to be out of doors, since the packing will be removed, and cleaned by beating—"with consequent clouds of dust that you will hardly believe could possibly come out of your furniture."

East Durham was the first district to send in its report on last year's project, out of all the Institute branches in Ontario," the speaker stated, and went on to explain that local leaders, appointed by each branch to attend the instruction classes, when they return home, are under obligation to take a class, but are not asked to have more than the one course of teaching. Should others want the work there must be at least four, and preferably more than that, before the leader can be expected to go over the instruction again. Those outside the Institute who wish to have the teaching must pay the membership fee of twenty-five cents before they can have this privilege.

"Reconditioning furniture coaching class for leaders will be in the spring, as it is dirty work, and real work, too. Then you can go on with your local classes when it is possible to meet in the open air." Perhaps if it coincides with housecleaning time it will be all to the good.

Old Furniture

An educational feature of high value were the slides shown, showing furniture of the different periods from about 1600, and including chairs, chests, tables, cupboards, Candlesticks, clocks, dishes, etc. These were all old English pieces, and are to be seen in the Museum, Bloor and Avenue Road, Toronto, Miss Slicter explaining how to distinguish the various types, Elizabethean, Queen Anne, William and Mary, etc., and noting that we get our name "Chairman" from the fact that in early times chairs were few, and the most important person in the room would be honored with a seat, hence called "the chairman."

Cushions appeared in chairs about 1600, and in the very old pieces the low stretches between the legs were so placed because the earthen floors were cold, and folk liked to put their feet on the rungs for warmth's sake. Rooms and a variety of room arrangements concluded the slides.

"The story of the 'Work,'" telling the various steps in refinishing furniture, was taken up by Mrs. H. J. Armstrong, local leader for Millbrook, and Miss Dorothy Morden, leader for Mt. Pleasant; the others in East Durham being Mrs. Ida Keegan, Cavan; Mrs. C. E. Dean, Garden Hill, Mrs. C. Williams, Morrish.

The hostess branch served afternoon tea during the social hour at the close, when Miss Slicter answered many personal inquiries about the work, and showed over forty varieties of wood, arranged in small rectangles on a large board background, that are used in making furniture in Ontario. A hearty handclap showed appreciation of Miss Slicter's services throughout the afternoon, the chair calling for this demonstration before dismissal.

The higher you climb, the more you need

As your salary increases and you raise your standard of living, your life insurance protection should be raised accordingly. Then your family will not suffer too great a drop in their standard of living in the event of your death.

It is this natural desire to provide financial security commensurate with one's standard of living that explains why so many Confederation Life policies are taken by those who are already policyholders. They bought their first policy when they were comparatively young. Then, as their earning powers increased, they realized their greater obligations and knew that the easiest, quickest and safest way to meet increasing obligations was to increase their life insurance.

If you wish to have a Plan of Insurance to cover your present requirements and to anticipate your future needs, consult the Confederation Life about it.

ONE MAN DEAD TWO INJURED IN BAD STORM

ST. THOMAS, Aug. 18 (CP).—An Elgin County farmer was dead today and two other men were recovering from injuries as results of a series of electrical storms that swept Southern Ontario. Torrential rain and cyclonic wind attacked both eastern and western sections of the province, causing extensive damage.

Addison Boyd, 65-year-old Malahide Township farmer, was trapped in his barn as it was ignited by lightning at the height of a storm that raged over Elgin County. He died in a fruitless effort to save his horses from the flaming building. His body was found a short distance from the charred body of one of the animals.

In McGillivray Township, northwest of London, John Scicaka, a farmhand, was knocked unconscious when lightning struck a pitchfork in his hands. One leg was temporarily paralyzed. At Mooretown, Lambton County, George Bolton, a semi-invalid, received a gash on the forehead when a window in his home was shattered by the wind.

Niagara District Escaped

Central Ontario was hit, but the Niagara orchard district escaped the storm's brunt. At Hamilton costly equipment in the Frost Steel and Wire Company power house was damaged by a lightning bolt. Hope Gospel Church, Toronto, was struck, the lightning ripping away slates.

Caught in stormy Lake Ontario off Port Dalhousie, two Toronto youths had an exciting time in a 14-foot dinghy. Jack Pierce fell overboard and was rescued by his companion, Jack Reid. They were on their way to the Youngstown Yacht Club in the Niagara River when eight-foot breakers swept their craft, knocking Pierce into the water.

Just before their outboard motor which they were using in the emergency, ran out of gasoline, Reid swung the boat around and picked up the other lad. They had extra fuel aboard and reached calm water as a cruiser pulled out to aid them.

Brockville Hit

In Eastern Ontario, Brockville was lashed by heavy rain; telegraph service in Prescott area was disrupted, while in Cornwall area fires started by lightning destroyed three barns with total loss around $10,000. Nine head of Alvin Pescod's cattle were stunned, but he saved them.

Western Ontario field crops were flattened by the heavy rain, but as in many other parts of the Province it brought welcome relief from excessive heat. The wind's fury centred near Lucan, north of London, smashing and unroofing several farm buildings.

Power and communication systems were hard hit. In Normandale district, near Simcoe, practically every transformer fuse on the rural Hydro system was blown. Telephone service between St. Thomas and Port Stanley was cut off.

Farmers said harvesting operations would be delayed by the heavy downpour, while standing corn was damaged. Stooks of grain in some parts were reported sprouting.

London, Kitchener, Simcoe, Sarnia, Chatham, Brantford, St. Thomas, and Stratford reported heavy rain and light damage.

TWO MOTORISTS ROBBED ON ROAD

BOWMANVILLE, Ont., Aug. 18.—(CP)—Modern highwaymen robbed two sleeping motorists on highways near here early today, leaving one unconscious from a beating. Bowmanville is 50 miles east of Toronto.

Elner Neilson of Glanforth, Ont., was sleeping in his car, when he was awakened by two men brandishing a hammer. They tied him hand and foot and drove his car to a lonely sideroad.

Neilson freed his hands, he said, and struck the driver over the head with a handsaw. The car careened across the road into the ditch and the two men beat him up and robbed him of $25. He suffered cuts and bruises on the shoulder, forehead and leg, and was knocked senseless.

Neilson reported to police about two hours after a similar story was told by John Campbell, Toronto salesman.

Campbell was wakened in his car parked at Newtonville, 10 miles east of here, by two men he believed to be police. When one threatened him with a hammer he offered no resistance and was tied hand and foot. The robbers took about $26 in cash from his pockets as well as a blanket, hat and club bag.

Campbell freed his feet but could not start his car as the ignition wires had been cut. His car also was driven to a sideroad by the robbers.

He made his way back to the highway, said Campbell, with his hands still tied, and hailed a motorist who drove him to Bowmanville.

Buffalo Bus Cuts Light Car In Half

PORT ERIE, Ont., Aug. 18 (CP).—Tony Rapple, 58, of Port Erie, Ont., was seriously hurt today when a Buffalo-Port Erie bus sheared his light car in half on the Niagara boulevard near here. He was removed to Douglas Memorial Hospital.

According to police Rapple turned east into the southbound bus's path and his car was cut completely in two. He suffered fractured ribs, severe head and possible internal injuries.

The bus was almost fully loaded, police said, but no passengers were hurt.

King Cabinet Disallows Three Bank Acts

Distinct Invasion Federal Authority Ottawa Declares

Closing of Courts to Citizens Viewed as Denial of Public Rights.

OTTAWA, Aug. 18 (C.P.)—Premier William Aberhart's Social Credit Government in Alberta looked to-day upon the wreckage of three statutes, main purpose of the special session of the Legislature held early this month, and designed to gain control of provinical branches of Canada's chartered banks.

An Order-in-Council adopted by the Dominion Government yesterday under authority of the power vested in it by the British North American Act disallowed the three statutes in question and nullified them as completely as if they had never been enacted. From this action there is no appeal.

Move to halt operation of these Acts was taken when Mr. Aberhart declined to co-operate in a reference on their validity to the Supreme Court of Canada. This would involve suspension of their operation until the reference had been determinetd and Mr. Aberhart yesterday indicated his determination to put them in force on August 27.

Beyond Provincial Powers.

In his communication to Mr. Aberhart yesterday Prime Minister Mackenzie King said the Acts were "beyond the powers of the Provincial Legislature and constitute an infringement upon the recognized money and banking had never been tion of the central government over powers of the Dominion." Jurisdicseriously questioned in the 70 years since Confederation, he declared

One of the acts in question required banks to be licensed by the Provincial Government and to submit to a board of control on which the government would be dominant. A companion measure deprived the unlicensed banks of right to initiate or defend an action in the civil courts. The third act would prevent any person from testing the validity of any Provincial statute in the Alberta courts without permission from the government.

Under provisions of the British North America Act, Section 90, all Provincial statutes are required to be submitted to the Dominion Government for approval or otherwise. The central authority vested in the Governor-General-in-Council has power to disallow any such Act within a year of its receiving Royal assent.

Use of this power has greatly diminished in recent years and it has not been exercised since 1924, when an Alberta statute imposing a tax on mineral lands was disallowed.

Mr. Mackenzie King said he would

Dog Is Responsible For Saving Child

Welland, Aug. 18.

RAYMOND CREIGHTON, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Creighton, Welland, was saved from drowning in the Welland Canal last night when his mother's attention was attracted by the family dog and she found Raymond floating in twenty feet of water.

The lad had strayed away while his mother was not looking. Reg. Pearson, canal bridge tender, called to passersby William and Kenneth Keefe, Niagara Falls, N.Y., and they assisted in applying artificial respiration.

Ten minutes after the boy had apparently ceased to breath, he revived.

HEENAN ATTEMPTS TO SETTLE STRIKE AT NORTHERN MILL

FOLEYET, Ont., Aug. 18 (C.P.)—The month-old sit-down strike in the Pineland Lumber Company sawmill here was settled amicably today when Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, obtained the strikers' approval of an agreement drawn up in Toronto yesterday by company officials and Premier Hepburn.

The mill, held for 26 days by about 25 strikers who refused to permit 100 other employees to enter despite their willingness to work, will reopen on Friday for partial production.

Under the agreement, notices will be posted advising the men when full production will begin and when all employees will be re-engaged.

SUDBURY, Ont., Aug. 18 (CP).—An airplane carrying Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, was forced down at Gogama without mishap last night, it was learned here today. Mr. Heenan, on his way to attempt settlement of a sawmill strike at Foleyet, planned to continue the flight today.

Mr. Heenan was accompanied on the trip from Toronto by Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer of the Provincial Labor Department. Ben F. Merwyn, general manager of the Pineland Timber Company sawmill where the sitdown strike is in progress, did not accompany them as planned.

While about 100 employees of the company have declared themselves ready and anxious to get back to work, petitioning Premier Hepburn for police protection to return to their jobs the mill has been held for 39 days by 25 men who refused to allow willing workmen to enter. They demand wage increases and union recognition.

The trip was arranged by Premier Hepburn. He learned the International Nickel Company largest customer of the strike-held mill, had served notice that unless work is immediately started and slated deliveries made it will contract for future supplies in British Columbia.

Union Recognition

At Toronto the Premier said he belived a satisfactory settlement of the dispute had been worked out.

Bennett Troubled With Hay Fever

CALGARY, Aug. 18.— (CP). — Right Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative Leader, came back to his home constituency of Calgary yesterday for a visit, but the length of his stay will be governed by his hay fever.

During an interview, the Conservative Leader sneezed. "It's hay fever, and it bothers me badly at times," he explained. He probably will stay here ten days. Then he plans a visit to Edmonton and later may go to the Pacific Coast.

Mr. Bennett had no comment on recent political developments in the Dominion. He indicated, however, that after he has had the opportunity of studying recent Alberta legislation he may have some observations to offer.

Son Of President Roosevelt Squirts Champagne On Mayor

French Mayor Also Hit Over Head With Bouquet Flowers He Was Presenting.

CANNES, France, Aug. 18 (AP)—Officials of this Riviera resort reported "great" indignation today among both French and Americans over the unceremonious twist which they said John Roosevelt gave to Cannes' "Battle of the Flowers."

The 21-year-old son of President Roosevelt, they said, had cut short Mayor Pierre Nouveau's welcome at the height of the fete last Sunday night by squirting champagne in the Mayor's face and slapping him with a bouquet.

The French Foreign Office asked the French press to ignore the story, but the Cannes fete committee, composed of Mayor Nouveau's aides, saw the matter in a different light.

They took newspapermen aside to make what they termed an official announcement on the incident.

It occurred in the famous Cannes promenade, known as the "Croisette" or "Battle of Flowers," at the moment Mayor Nouveau was to deliver flowers and a "pretty speech" to the U.S. visitor.

Roosevelt, youngest of the President's children, a Harvard University student on a vacation trip, had

Medal Is Presented For Daring Rescue

KINGSTON, Ont., Aug. 18 (CP)—Four years ago last April Gordon McDonald, then of Wolfe Island, jumped into the water at the harbor here and rescued Edward Hawkins from drowning. He risked his own life as he dove into the water fully clothed almost directly under the steamer Wolfe Island.

The Royal Humane Society awarded him a medal, but as McDonald was a sailor, it was difficult to locate him and only recently it was learned his home is now in Prescott. Arrangements were made to present him with the medal, the presentation being made today by Mayor C. P. Dalton in his city.

Maybee estate, a quarter of a mile from his home, last night. The body was found when his family commenced to search for him after he failed to arrive home for his evening meal.

Japanese Land Forces Pushed Toward Sea

Aircraft and Warships Open Fire on Chinese Positions Near Shanghai.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18—(AP).—Japanese aircraft bombed Chinese positions in a moonlight attack tonight against the Chinese hordes that are pushing Japanese land forces toward the sea.

While Japanese warships shelled Chinese positions north and east of Shanghai, eight high-flying bombers passed westward over the foreign areas to drop explosives in the direction of the Chinese Hungjao airdrome, on the city's far west side.

The planes appeared as a full moon illuminated the bcloudless sky. They flew over both the French concession and the International Settlement, bringing thousands of foreigners to roof tops to watch the raid.

It was the first night bombing attack of the six days of fighting.

On land, Japanese were outnumbered almost four to one and were reported slowly giving way in the north-eastern sector of the International Settlement.

During the day, Chinese and Japanese planes subjected outlying areas to the most terrific bombardment since the Shanghai warfare started.

From Shanghai to the mouth of the Yangtze more than 50 Japanese men of war lay at anchor or shuttled back and forth, their decks under fire from Chinese snipers.

Approximately 25 Japanese light cruisers and destroyers lined the Whangpoo river north of Shanghai and shelled the Chinese lines stretching from the Hongkew rifle range to the Woosung forts on the Yangtze river.

The Kiangwan civic centre, headquarters of the municipal government of greater Shanghai was one of the principal targets of the shelling. Many direct hits were scored on the palatial buildings which were erected at millions of dollars.

Just before the attack began, Chinese troops seized and scuttled six Japanese steamers.

Refugees from across the river in Pootung, centre of Chinese operations on the east bank, reported the Japanese bombardments had ruined the streets on the outskirts of the rich industrial area.

Simultaneously with the naval attack against Kangwan, a few miles north of Shanghai, proper, Japanese

PIGS IS STILL PIGS.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18.—(AP). — Life goes on as usual in war-stricken Shanghai.

While shells from Japanese warships crashed into Protung, across the Hangpoo river, this morning, 200 pigs rebelled against being driven down Avenue Edward VII.

They spread over the streets in all directions, disappearing up alleyways and under motor cars, disrupting traffic while coolies, futilely wielded their bamboo poles and pulled at the tails of the squealing porkers.

BRITISH WARSHIPS ORDERED TO FIRE ON SUBMARINES

LONDON, Aug. 18 (C.P.) — Havas News Agency said to-day in a copyrighted story that decision of the British Government to authorize British warships to fire on any submarine which attacks a British vessel is "interpreted in political circles here as a warning addresse dto Italy, although that country was not specifically named in last night's announcement."

Havas said it learned the order was given as a result of the sinking on Monday of a Spanish Government freighter near the south-west entrance to the Dardanelles, and said that "nobody here, so far as Havas could learn, believed the submarine which sank the Cindad de Cadiz there was a part of General Franco's navy, the few submarines of which have only a very limited field of action."

Guido Grollo, Italian Charge d'Affaires, was reported as calling at the Foreign Office to-day to ask the meaning of yesterday's communique.

Havas estimated about 100 British merchant ships of more than 3,000 tons each are in the Mediterranean every day. Protection for them now provided by the Royal Navy will be strengthened, the agency said it understood.

Deptford, England, claims that its new "gaseous discharge" street lamps make it "the best-lighted town in the country, if not in the world."

Chinese War May Postpone Sailing Of Peterborough Bride-To-Be

Bombs and shells which are raining on far away Shanghai as Japanese and Chinese legions square off for a bitter life and death struggle may frustrate Dan Cupid by causing postponement of the wedding of Dorothy Gavine, 194 London street, popular member of Peterborough's younger set.

Miss Gavine had planned to sail in the near future for Shanghai when news of the war outbreak in North China and the Shanghai district came last week. Her marriage to Jim Macfarlane of Toronto, who has been employed in Shanghai with the National Carbon Company for the past two years, was to have been solemnized on her arrival.

Awaiting arrival of further word from the prospective bridegroom, Miss Gavine is retaining her ship reservations and proceeding with her plans for departure from Vancouver. The National Carbon Company reported to relatives in Toronto this week that Macfarlane had been evacuated safely with others from Shanghai and is now in Manila.

Miss Gavine has been the recipient of a series of social honors here in anticipation of the wedding. Jim Macfarlane is well known in this district by reason of many years' summer residence at Chemong Park.

JUNIOR FARMERS FROM 7 COUNTIES COMPETE AT FAIR

The Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario's Minister of Agriculture, will formally open the Peterborough Industrial Exhabition Thursday afternoon, but two children who bought the first tickets at 8.40 o'clock this morning were the informal vanguard of the crowds that are expected to set a new attendance record this week.

Junior farmers from seven counties, 106 girls and 156 boys registered this morning for the long program of activities arranged for Junior Farmers' Day by A. D. Runions, representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture. They were from Prince Edward, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Ontario, Victoria and Peterborough. Mr. Runions told The Examiner that the two junior groups were perhaps the largest since this feature of the Exhibition was instituted.

Judging competitions for the boys and project work for the girls introduced the young visitors to the serious business of their coming, and Mr. Runions had the assistance of agricultural representatives from neighboring counties for boys' branch.

Inter-County Calf Club

The inter-county calf club competition, which will be decided on Thursday attracted boys from five counties who have been engaged in caring for the 28 calves which they have brought to the Exhibition. This is a project which might be classed in animal husbandry, and was devised for the purpose of interesting boys of the farms in the practical

Pays Tribute To Seamanship Of Captain And Crew Of Liner

Describes Collision With Ill-fated Danish Freighter "Maine."

Three local people were aboard the SS "Duchess of Atholl" when that liner recently collided in fog and rain off Boston with the ill-fated Danish freighter "Maine". They are: Mr. and Mrs. E. Bruce Fowler and their daughter Genevieve who reached the city last night after motoring from Quebec City at the completion of a holiday cruise to New York.

Fifteen hours after the collision the Danish steamer which had a gaping gash about 40 feet back of the port bow went down but her entire crew of 23 officers and men were saved.

Describing the scene that followed upon the collision, Mr. Fowler declared there was perfect order maintained aboard the Canadian Pacific liner and at no time was there any suggestion of panic. "The captain handled his ship in a marvellous fashion and the crew was splendid", he said paying tribute to their seamanship.

Asked if it was a very alarming experience, Mr. Fowler asserted with conviction, "We would not want to go through it again."

Barn And Crops Prey To Flames

(Examiner Correspondence.)

BONARLAW, Aug. 18.—Fire destroyed a large barn on the farm of Councillor Mark Shortt on Tuesday afternoon. Starting from some undetermined cause during threshing operations, the blaze spread with great rapidity. While machinery was salvaged from the barn, the entire season's crop was lost, including 100 loads of hay, two brood sows and 18 small pigs. Loss is covered by insurance. The farm is located on the Tenth Concession of Rawdon Township, two miles west of Springbrook.

UNTRUE REPORTS BEING SENT OUT JAPAN CHARGES

TORONTO, Aug. 18. — (CP)— British and United States' diplomats in China are sending "untrue reports" to their governments, said R. Masujama, Tokyo lawyer and honorary delegate to the Canadian Bar Association convention here today. Japan is attempting to protect her financial interests and her people in China, he said.

If Britain and the U. S. were acquainted with the true situation in China they would take the same action as Japan in attempting to restore order, Dr. Masujama believed. "We are not attempting to capture China—it is too big, there are too many people."

The Japanese lawyer said China derived benefit from foreign investments as they raised the standard of living and developed the industrial life of the country.

Ruled by War Lords

"China has been ruled by a group of war lords. They are nothing better than gangsters dressed in uniform," he said. "They have had a central government in name, but in fact they have done nothing but fight among themselves. They have made foreign investments unprofitable.

"China has broken more than 100 treaties with Japan. She has done the same thing with other countries. These diplomats from Great Britain and the United States have sat around enjoying themselves, playing their time away. They have understood the truth but have neglected to write it in their reports. They have preferred to remain on good terms with the Chinese authorities.

"Now these other countries which should be helping Japan are sitting back and letting Japan do the dirty work.

"The world's need today is international understanding," said Dr. Masujama. "International understanding can be maintained only through honest diplomatic reports."

Endeavor Leading In Astor Cup Race

NEWPORT, R.I., Aug. 18. (AP)—T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour II, unsuccessful challenger for the America's Cup, led a fleet of about 20 boats, including Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger, over the starting line at 12.10 p.m. EDT today, in the race for the Astor Cup.

Ranger, conqueror of Endeavour II in four straight races for the America's Cup, also trailed Chandler Hovey's Rainbow at the start but quickly took the lead. Gerard B. Lamber's Yankee, winner of New London to Newport race yesterday and Sopwith's Endeavour I trailed at the start.

The race was over a 25.3 miles irregular triangular course.

J. L. Cohen, Strikers' Counsel, Is Extremely Hopeful of Settlement.

Peterborough textile strikers were directed by their leaders to gather at the East City community Hall at 4 o'clock this afternoon and hear the strike settlement proposal which was formulated during negotiations at Queen's Park under Premier Hepburn's chairmanship Monday and Tuesday. No word of the nature of the agreement proposal was available as the hour for the meeting approached.

Word the general strike body was to be consulted came by wire from Organized Welch and Strike Chairman Mike English before they left Toronto this morning. It was not stated whether or not the proposed agreement would bear the recommendation of the leaders. Apparently it had not been reported to the full strike negotiation committee up to noon to-day and would not be reported until the hour of the general meeting.

Besides Chairman English, only four members of the strike committee of twelve went to Toronto for the Hepburn conference. They are Clifford Willis and Joseph Vinette of the Auburn, and Lucy Ronco and Noman Haigh of the Bonner-Worth.

Strike leaders were to arrive in the city by car shortly after the noon hour.

Uncertain what to expect, strikers milled about in small groups on downtown street corners during the greater part of the morning. As leaders left the city to return to Toronto yesterday after their police court appearances here yesterday morning they said a meeting would be held here at 11 o'clock this morning for the purpose of reporting the proposal and, as a result, a large group of strikers gathered about the East City hall at that time. Unexpected developments in Toronto this morning were believed to have caused the postponement.

A conviction that to-day's meeting would see the virtual end of the strike and that both Bonner-Worth and Auburn strikers would be back to work by next Monday was general among the strikers this morning, based on the tenor of press despatches from Toronto. Individual strikers were of the opinion their leaders would not return to the city to-day unless they had obtained something definite to offer the general strike body.

Order and comparative quiet reigned at the two plants as non-strikers reported as usual for work at 7 o'clock this morning. Small picket groups were on hand at both plants and a few watchful police continued on duty. No incidents occurred.

TORONTO, Aug. 18 (C.P.). — An agreement to end the strike on 2,000 Cornwall and Peterborough textile workers to-day waited ratification by the parties concerned. It was drafted at a two-day Queen's Park conference with Premier Hepburn as mediator.

When the conference broke up yesterday afternoon, J. L. Cohen, solicitor for the United Textile Workers of America, with which the strikers are affiliated, said an agreement which might be acceptable to the striking workers in Peterborough mills of Dominion Woollens and Worsted, Limited, had been prepared.

A similar agreement was drawn regarding Canadian Cottons Limited, whose three Cornwall plants are strike-bound, and its workers. Before it could be assented to on behalf of the company, General Manager R. G. Tolmie was called out of town, his approval is needed for a minor change.

Mass meetings of strikers in each community will receive the agreements and pass on them by Saturday, it is expected. Mr. Cohen said he was "extremely hopeful" and Premier Hepburn expressed satisfaction with conference results.

Pickup Plane Sent To Heenan's Aid

BISCOTASING, Ont., Aug. 18 (C.P.). — An Ontario Forest Service airplane left here this afternoon for Marish Lake, about 60 miles southeast of Biscotasing, to pick up Hon. Peter Heenan, Provincial Minister of Lands and Forests, and others forced down last night on a flight to Foleyet in an attempt to settle a lumber mill strike.

Mr. Heenan's plane was forced down on Martin Lake by engine trouble, it was learned to-day, but was landed without mishap. The Minister is accompanied by Louis Fine, chief conciliation officer of the Provincial Labor Department. The two will attempt to get the strikers' approval of peace terms arranged in Toronto yesterday by the employers, the Pineland Timber Company, and Premier Hepburn.

He told a Rotary Club here people had written him saying that he, as an international sportsman, should know enough to be correctly dressed.

"Long trousers for tennis are foolish," he said.

BUSINESS MEN ARE JUBILANT AT KING VETO

CALGARY, Aug. 18.—Jubilant over the Federal Governments decision to disallow the Alberta banking legislation, Alberta businessmen to-day declared there was a 'grave suspicion" Premier Aberhart would soon go to the people.

This theory was discounted by J. J. Bowlen, M.L.A., House Leader of the Liberal Opposition, who termed the legislation "ridiculous from start to finish."

Edmonton theories were that a general election would not be called; that the Government would continue its efforts to introduce Social Credit before a new session was called to take legislative action to this end.

The disallowance was called the "quickest and best way to end it," by Mr. Bowlen. He declared hundreds of thousands of dollars were being tied up waiting to see what the Government was going to do, and as much more ready to come into the Province as soon as Government policies were known.

"We have stood too much footing now," said Mr. Bowlen. "Premier Aberhart was advised the legislation was ultra vires, yet he went ahead. They have fooled too much with the situation."

Asked if the Federal decision would mean an election—that Premier Aberhart would go to the people, strengthened because he could argue the Federal Government had tried to interfere with the Province—Mr. Bowlen said: "Why, an election would not prove anything."

Mr. Bowlen conceded, however, that there would be a "good chance" to defeat Premier Aberhart if he went to the country now.

"There was no common sense to the legislation," he said. "It was not his idea. The legislation was written by these two emissaries from England. There is no doubt of that Aberhart is taking some one else's word for it."

Business men, however, thought an election was in the offing. With one accord they refused to be quoted, but talked freely "off the record."

"So many things have happened here that they couldn't continue to flaunt the Dominion Government," said one prominent businessman. "Premier Aberhart might go to the country. Feeling is that he was looking for some way to get out. He suggested certain things and promised certain things which he has been unable to carry out, and now, this is his excuse to go to the country."

"A Dead Horse"

A mortgage man said the Aberhart Government was a "dead horse now." He declared people were becoming more and more unsatisfied.

"Two out of three of my tenants who are Social Creditors are now dropping out because of dissatisfaction," he said.

A lawyer said Premier Aberhart was "just praying for an excuse to go to the people, and now he has got his chance," an election is the "only thing he can do now."

"The whole Act was meant as a build-up to an election," he declared, adding that hands of lawyers were being tied, that "we can't do anything toward collecting debts, and no money is coming into the Province."

A business man who is in constant touch with all classes of trade and the professions, said the taking away of civil rights caused more "bitter resentment than anything else."

"He would outlaw the bank clerk who didn't get a license, prevent him from going to the courts. He may do it with me. Our forefathers fought harder than anything else for our civil liberties. If he does it for one class it is natural to suspect he may do it for all.

"It is for the courts to determine what is just and what is unjust. We have judges who are honest and competent, and Canadians pride themselves on their courts."

HEALTH SERVICES ARE CO-ORDINATED

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 18 (CP).—Transfer of Dr. John R. Wilkey, school medical official, to the city Health Department as assistant medical officer of health and merging school nurses with those on the city staff, is the objective of the Board of Health as part of its plan to co-ordinate health services in London. Dr. Wilkey would act as director of medical service.

At a special meeting the Health Board adopted unanimously Mayor T. F. Kingsmill's motion, covering this proposal. City Clerk K. Crawford was instructed to invite the School Board to name a committee to meet health officials for a general discussion.

Dr. A. C. Harris, head of the city department, thought this plan would be "an ideal set-up," while all board members were of the same mind.

The motion came after a report, presented by Dr. Harris, had been considered, in which reorganization of the city's nurses was proposed in accordance with the board's wishes.

Nine zones are planned, with a nurse detailed to each zone. The division is based on the population in order to give each nurse the same amount of reasonability.

Dr. Harris did not agree with the board that a member of the present nursing staff should be chosen as supervisor. He was of the opinion the nurses would prefer an outside appointee.

SPECIAL VISITORS NURSERY BANNED

CALLANDER, Ont., Aug. 18 (CP).—Dr. Allan Roy Dafoe plans extra precautions to safeguard the health of the Dionne quintuplets because recent colds have lowered their resistance to disease. Latest edict is that even special visitors are banned from the nursery for an indefinte time.

"You know their resistance has been weakened somewhat by the recent colds they had," said Dr. Dafoe. The ban on all visitors is to prevent infection of any disease, including infantile paralysis, from being carried to the five little sisters. The doctor said, however, no infantile paralysis had ben reported here.

Cecile played again with the other four little girls today, her period of isolation because of a cold at an end. When Dr. Dafoe declared her well again, Cecile joined her sisters in the nursery, but now she can accompany them in the outdoor play yard as well.

With the last quintuplet restored to health, their twice-daily public appearances before throngs of tourists has been resumed, though until the ban on special visitors is lifted only Oliva Dionne and Mrs. Dionne, the parents, can visit them in the nursery.

PICTURES QUEBEC AS GREAT BARRIER AGAINST THE REDS

LAKE COUCHICHING, Aug. 18 (C.P.). — French-Canadians, used to ancient ways of living and because of religious stability, serve as a bulwark against subversive theories or "ideas contrary to existing ones," Jean St. Germain, Montreal lawyer, told the Canadian Institute on Economics and Politics on Tuesday.

"For the last 150 years French-Canadians have been isolated both spiritually and politically, and for that reason are little influenced by outside happenings, although since the Great War French-Canadians have become more aware of the progress of the civilization of their English-Canadian cousins," he said.

Mr. St. Germain said Communism was an example of what he meant by "subversive ideas." "The French-Canadians, both Protestant and Catholic alike, are deeply rooted in their land settlements and are strong individualists for that reason," he said. "Communism is therefore contrary to the French-Canadians' existing way and idea of living."

A question concerning Quebec's recent "padlock law" was asked Mr. St. Germain, and he replied: "I am not entirely in sympathy with the law since it might endanger the liberty of free speech, but there is no doubt that someone, possibly the clergy, influenced Premier Duplessis when it was passed.

"But at the same time I think much of the wide concern given it by English-speaking Canada is caused by the slightly different shade of meaning they attach to it through the fault and difficulties of translating the law into English from the French original."

"The French-Canadians are becoming more Canadianized in the national sense every day," he said, discounting the idea of a secession move in Quebec. "They feel that through their larger birth rate they will in time become strong enough to be considered on equal terms by English-speaking Canada, but aside from that they are very much inclined to live in their own way."

Body of Man Found In Small Trunk

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—(AP)—The body of a man wedged into a small trunk was found yesterday in the freight office of the railway express agency at 10th Avenue and 33rd Street. The body was not dismembered.

The trunk had been shipped in New York City, express agency officials said, and was destined for an out-of-town address. Employees noticed an odor which led to an inspection of the trunk.

The trunk was brought to an agency office today in a taxicab in which two men rode.

One of them identified himself as Joseph Marshall and said he wished the trunk expressed to himself collect, in care of the railway express agency at Memphis, Tenn.

The trunk was accepted and the men walked away.

STRANGE DISEASE KILLING HORSES

WINNIPEG, Aug. 18 (CP).—Representatives of the Manitoba Veterinary Association and Federal and Provincial agriculturists today turned to United States laboratories for a further supply of encephalomyelitis serum in efforts to check an epidemic of the disease that has killed scores of horses in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Only stock of the serum in Manitoba was 100 tubes—sufficient for 100 initial doses. This was insufficient to care for the reported hundreds of stricken animals.

Symptoms of the strange horse disease which took a 20 per cent. death toll of horses affected in 1935 in Central Canada, are drowsiness in the animal, followed by a condition in which it loses control of muscular action. Only infrequently have cases been reported in urban centres, leading to the belief the disease is contracted from virus in the soil.

Text Of Premier King's Wire To Premier Aberhart Of Alberta

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—(CP)—Following is the text of the Prime Minister's wire to Premier Aberhart acquainting him with the Government's decision to veto three bank acts:—

1. I am in receipt of your telegram of Aug. 16, rejecting the proposal that the Government of Alberta agree to facilitate hearing of a reference to the Supreme Court of Canada of certain legislation enacted at the recent session of the Provincial Legislature of Alberta, and not to take any steps toward enforcement of these measures pending the determination of the reference.

My colleagues and I regret that the Government of Alberta have declined to co-operate in this reasonable course. We have accordingly had to consider what action is required on the part of the Government of Canada in the exercise of its powers and duties as established by law.

2. We are advised that there is no possible doubt that the measures purporting to control banking and credit by a body or bodies appointed by the Province of Alberta, and seeking to enforce that control by depriving individual citizens of their established right of appeal to the courts, are beyond the powers of the Provincial Legislature and constitute an infringment upon the recognized powers of the Dominion. The fact that under the Constitution from which both the Federal and the Provincial Legislatures derive their jurisdiction, the field of money and banking fals to the Federal authority, has never been seriously questioned in the seventy years since Confederation.

3. It is not necessary at this time to enter upon any discussion of a banking and monetary policy. You refer to a statement of mine that "credit is a public matter, not of interest to bankers alone, but of direct concern to every citizen." The truth of that statement is, I think, beyond question. The system of banking and currency established by law in any country is a matter of vital concern to all the citizens of that country and to the Parliament elected to carry out their will. In the case of Canada, it is the citizens of the whole Dominion who are concerned, and the Federal Parliament which is entrusted with the duty of regulating and controlling the system of banking and currency. In the recent amendments to the Bank of Canada Act, Parliament has accepted the principle of public control of credit. It is the function of the Central Bank not the chartered banks, to control and regulate the volume of credit and currency in Canada, and the chartered banks carry out the ordinary business of banking within the framework of control and regulation established thereby and under other Dominion legislation in regard to banking.

4. We cannot accept any attempt to confuse the issue involved by references to financial tyranny or plutocratic opposition. The Government of Canada has no sympathy with any form of tyranny, whether exercised by bankers or by any other body, nor do we believe that the people of any part of Canada are prepared to accept plutocratic or any other type of dictatorship.

If it is felt that changes should be made in the banking or currency laws of the Dominion it is open to any citizens of the Dominion residing in Alberta, or in any other Province, to seek to have those changes made by the only body which has the due authority. The issue in the present instance is that a direct attempt is being made to infringe upon a field of jurisdiction universally recognized as falling to the Dominion, and to buttress this action by denying any questioning of the constitutionality of this section in the courts, except, I gather from your telegram, after acceptance of such illegal infringement.

5. A reference to the Supreme Court of Canada, coupled with an agreement by your Government to refrain from action pending the decision, would have met the immediate case. But agreement to suspend action not being forthcoming, a simple reference to the courts would not be enough to avoid confusion and disturbance. We have, therefore, upon full consideration, found no alternative to exercising the responsible duty conferred upon us, by disallowing the acts in question. I am sending you a copy of the recommendation made to the Governor-General in Council by the Minister of Justice and duly approved today.

6. I wish in conclusion to express the entire willingness of the Government of Canada to consult with your Government as to any measures which may be found practical and effective in solving the problems which beset Canada in common with other countries. We recognise the difficulties which face the people of Alberta and other sections of Canada as the result of the legacies of war, changes in the price structure, the disturbance of world trade and the prolonged depression. These difficulties we have been endeavoring to we believe, be solved by orderly process, without violation of the clear provisions of the Constitution as it stands at present, or as it may be amended from which both Federal and Provincial authorities derive their powers. We believe, moreover, they can be solved without violation of the free recourse to the courts which is essential to the maintenance of our democratic institutions and the preservation of the hard-won rights and liberties of individual citizens.

W. L. Mackenzie King,
Prime Minister.

CHINESE MINISTER PURCHASES ARMS

VIENNA, Aug. 18 (A.P.). — Dr. H. H. Kung, China's Finance Minister, wound up a "satisfactory" European business trip yesterday with a shopping tour for war planes, shells and gas masks.

Dr. Kung arranged at least three European loans for his country and obtained a $50,000,000 commercial credit with the Skoda (Czechoslovakian) armament firm.

He visited munitions factories of Hirtenberg and Wienerneustadt preparatoryto placing "big" orders.

After his "shopping" was finished Dr. Kung talked excitedly of his European tour. Banging a table, he declared the trip has shown him "how great is the sympathy everywhere for China."

Dr. Kung said credits he obtained in Europe will be used for railroads.

His secretary, however, explained further that European funds would be used to buy airplanes and other supplies "which can be classed as war materials."

The huge Chinese army, Dr. Kung said, is better prepared than many imagine.

"The reason the Japanese are striking now," he explained, "is that they realize our army was steadily and quickly improving.

"As far as I'm concerned, the Japanese started the war because Chinese refused to be a stepping-off place for a Japanese war against Russia. China could have bought a temporary peace."

The Chinese minister left last night for Genoa, en route home to China.

Infantile Paralysis

Dr. Kramer, director of the Infantile Paralysis Commission of the Long Island College of Medicine, believes a method for preventing the spread of this dread disease has been found. He admits there is experimental work to be done, but seems confident that the right method of approach has been established. And that is through the nose.

There have been investigations carried on for months, and at first they failed because the spray used was of short effective duration. A child thus treated might be protected for a day or so, but after that there was no protection. Latest experiments have made use of a substance which will remain as a coating over certain of the interior areas of the nose. It will even destroy the sense of smell for the time, but if by undergoing that slight inconvenience a child could be known to have attained immunity against an attack of infantile paralysis then the inconvenience would not be seriously considered.

This has been and is one of the favorable seasons for the spread of the disease, and with present equipment doctors can work only with the knowledge they possess until the coming of cold weather. Then the attack seems to wane. People in a good many communities will fervently hope Dr. Kramer "has something" when he speaks of a measure of success attending his experiments. So far we have tried a good many methods, but in succeeding years the months of August and September particularly have brought their stories of more victims. It is not claimed the cause of the disease has yet been discovered, but the claim is that the door through which it enters the system is now known, and the plan is to close it. It may not be a great or a permanent step in advance, but we believe if the door-closing is effective the world will gladly adopt such method.

A Man With a Saw

When the Examiner Bucksaw contest opens there will be rivalry, and there will be sticks of wood severed from the parent body faster than has been done heretofore. Of that we are certain enough. There is something of the he-man atmosphere about a bucksawing contest. One may have friends and backers in the crowd but he has to take his bucksaw and go forth alone. There is no one present to help him; there is no one to help hold the stick and no one to give assistance when the last cut threatens to pinch on the blade of the saw.

Those who burn no wood whatever in their homes should stand and watch the bucksaw contest. They will have re-enacted before their eyes the motions through which their forebears went in other years. The speed will be greater and the surroundings more elaborate, but the principle involved will be the same. Boiling the kettle by turning a switch in the electric stove is a long way removed from falling the tree, trimming it and then cutting it into lengths and after that further reducing these lengths to the size of the fire box in the kitchen range. Today we get our heat units with ease; in other days men labored for them. There is show and feeling and plenty of life in a bucksaw contest. There is also hard work.

It Cost Him a Dollar

Mike Tatolan operates a barber shop in the city of Hamilton. There is a by-law in that city which says barber shops must be closed on Wednesday afternoon.

When it came to the week where Monday was Civic Holiday Mike decided that one day off was about all he could stand, so on Wednesday he remained open for business all day. Trade was not at all brisk and the receipts for Wednesday afternoon amounted to fifty cents.

But Mike had broken the law and on that account appeared in court where he was fined $1. We learn it never was the intention of the bylaw to cause barber shops to close on Wednesday afternoon when there was another holiday in the week, but in the drafting of the thing this had been overlooked. It will be rectified but that will have to wait until aldermen pass another bylaw which will make right and regular the very thing for which Mike Tatolan was fined—keeping open Wednesday afternoon of a week which contained a statutory holiday.

So it all simmers down to the point where Mike in Hamilton was fined for operating his little barber shop according to the rules which should have been made in the first place and which will come into existence as soon as the rather slow-moving process of municipal law is touched into action. But will Mike get his dollar back? We think not.

Three Men Went Bathing

Three young men in Hamilton had one bathing suit. When one was done with it in the water he took it off and tossed it to another on the shore and the process was being rotated until all three were finished with their water sports. All went well until a policeman arrived and he did not approve. When the case was called in court there was no approval there of the three-in-one system. There was disapproval to the extent of a $25 fine for two of them and freedom for the one who happened to be wearing the bathing suit when the policeman arrived. It was termed indecent exposure and of course that is a bad thing.

The world has moved on in recent times. On the Tenth Concession there was not much thought given to such a thing as a bathing suit for a mere boy or a young man. You went straight away down the lane past the woodlot, through the corner of another field and then to the creek. On the Tenth the creek had no name, but when it made its way to the village it was called Mud Creek because it used to look like that after a rain.

There were three willow trees which grew there at the bend of the creek. Most places the thing was dry in summer but water always remained in that hole at the bend where the willows grew. It was probably unsanitary according to the standards of today. There were crabs in there, also frogs and turtles and blood suckers. It was the custom to throw in a few stones before entering the water in the hope of sending this form of life scattering to its haunts. There was no dressing room and no person ever thought of using a towel after emerging from the water. Only one precaution seemed necessary and that was to light a small fire on the bank so there would be a few red coals to deal with the blood-suckers which were apt to be fastened to the toes. The procedure was simple and quite primitive. There may have been some bylaws in the township which would have covered the matter, but we do not believe they extended down the lane and past the woodlot on the Tenth. Neither the assessor nor the tax collector ever went past the barn and they were the only visible agencies of law we ever saw. Once the assessor was satisfied there was not a dog hiding under the barn the day he made his rounds he seemed satisfied.

So it is that a fine of $25 for trying to make one bathing suit serve three young men seems to us severe. That view we admit is due to early training or lack of it. Just what might have happened to a lad wearing a bathing suit on the Tenth we do not know, nor is it a comfortable thing about which to think.

Heat Prostration

Heat waves bring their share of prostration cases. In the mid-western states they are once more reported. Most of the cases are reported as being on the way to recovery. Some respond readily to treatment and others do not.

The explanation as given by a medical man is that the heat-controlling centre of the body at the base of the brain and scarcely as large as the head of a small pin—ceases to function in such cases. It is that small mechanism, performing the functions of a thermostat which causes or defeats prostration. It is the little apparatus which causes one to give off perspiration in order to control body heat. When it ceases to function in hot weather things begin to happen and the most serious is that heat starts to mount. Many of the cases of prostration will respond to skilful treatment to reduce heat, but there are those which will not and the temperature continues to mount. There have been times where it has gone as high as 108 degrees, and beyond that figure no human being, according to our informant, has been known to live.

Prolonged exposure to the sun is harmful in hot weather, especially if no hat is worn, and there are instances reported of where men working in high temperatures have been attacked by prostration. Those who perspire freely are said to be least subject to attack.

Grasshoppers And Blight

It costs $1 for a car to enter Algonquin Park, and a number of people who consider they pay sufficient taxation to the various governments of this country do not take kindly to the fee. One gentleman from Toronto who paid his dollar was disappointed. Telling the Examiner man about it he said "I can see more and better bears and more animals any day in the week at Riverdale zoo at home and it will cost me only the price of a street car ticket."

In the farming district of Muskoka the man on the land is wishing the grasshoppers would all go to the fields near the lakes where the fishermen scoop them up in big nets to use for bait. It was explained this way: "They get bad every seventh year and this is the seventh year." That explanation was offered by a young man on some farm land well off the beaten path. On that particular day he was working with a cradle, a wooden rake and taking down a bit of poor looking oats in between a strip of buckwheat and field peas. Even before he had cradled the oats the grasshoppers had operated on the heads and all over the ground one could see the results of their work. The farmer admitted after he bound the oats and set it up the grasshoppers would tackle it again. He didn't expect it would yield more than a couple of bushels or so and some rather indifferent straw.

The field of peas was clean and free from pests and the buckwheat was standing up full and strong. It has apparently been planted early in the season and would be ready to cut by the first of September. But there had been no luck with alfalfa. "I have been told," continued our informant, "that there is something lacking in the soil, and it may be the winters are too hard for it. We have tried it and got a crop and a little pasture after that, but there was not any second cutting and it did not catch for the next season at all. It would be a good thing for us if we could grow it here but right now we have concluded it can't be done."

A good many fine pine trees in the northern part of the province are suffering from a blight this year, and one hears many explanations and a number of theories. The trees turn brown as though they were dried out. "Sun blight," said one settler, "and it comes from trees being in places where the sun strikes them with no breeze to cool them off." The trees are standing in exactly the same place as they did in years when there was no blight on them, but when one seeks to develop a pet theory it may be spoiled by too many questions. At Dwight we learned that only white pine was being affected, and red pine in the same grove is as healthy as before. There may be adequate explanation regarding the blight, but no one appears to have adequately established it.

NOTE AND COMMENT

After reading how a Dawson Nebraska man fights hay fever we have concluded that it would be less trouble in the long run to let the thing take its course.

We noticed a head in a Toronto newspaper "Aberhart is Silent" and that strikes us as a very unusual development in the political situation.

The old proverb about where there is smoke there must be fire is borne out by the fact that three employees of a construction company have been fired for smoking.

PLEASANT

(By A. R. K.)

¶ I met my friend from Thistleville, the little hamlet on the hill, nor was he much disturbed; he looked as cool as he could be, though weather stood at 93, he spoke a pleasant word

¶ He felt it hot in town today, and he'd be glad to get away, when all his chores were through; when days were warm they sought a breeze, and sought a bit of shade and ease, there wasn't much to do.

¶ They had no strikes in Thistleville, they have no factory and no mill, and so they have no strife; there are no rich men in the place, and none that set a dizzy pace, they lead a simple life.

¶ There are no social leaders there, each gathering's just a plain affair, their crackers and their tea; there are no funds they have to raise, they just pursue their simple ways, nor do they charge a fee.

¶ In summer when the hot days come, and things seem wilted by the sun, the water's always cool; for there in lovely Thistleville, the spring runs on behind the hill, they dip from out the pool.

¶ My friend talks much of Thistleville, where there is peace enough to spill, where what they need is grown; and so to me it's plain as day, just why he rises up to say—he has to hurry home.

SOME of the American tourists who are visiting Algonquin Park this year are objecting to the $10 fee for a fishing license. It is $5 elsewhere. They claim there is just as good fishing elsewhere as there is within the limits of the park.

Raymond Ditmars, curator of the Bronx Park, Zoo, N. Y., says he has not yet been bitten by a snake. "I would be ashamed of myself if that had happened for it would show that the snake is smarter than I am." Between his thumb and first finger he has a lump of muscle which is hard and right there is his trick.

This way: "I hold the snake down with a three-foot forked stick, and then grab him with the thumb and first two fingers just back of the head. That leaves the other two fingers free to hold his body firmly." Simple isn't it? But this man has never been bitten.

It may not be much of a point about which to gloat, but it has been demonstrated for many years that women are more expert than men in diving for oysters.

And the oyster business provides employment for many people. According to statistics in United States there are 65,000 persons who earn their living because so many people are fond of eating oysters in season.

And This Is Interesting.

THE oyster in the shell or out of it is not a handsome thing, but it reaches maturity in about three years and is then a male oyster. However in a few weeks it can change to a female, lay approximately 60,000,000 eggs during the summer and then change back to a male again and rest for the winter. The next summer it may revert to the female once more.

When William M. Thackeray, the great Victorian novelist, was in United States there was dinner prepared in his honor and it was desired to show him what great oysters were produced along the Atlantic Coast. He was told the proper way to eat them was to swallow them when taken from the shell. He selected one which was large and down it went. He was then asked how he felt, and the response was "Profoundly grateful! and as if I had swallowed a small baby."

Scientific men say worms are sensitive to light. Fishermen in search of night crawlers have found the direct ray of a flashlight causes the worm to recede. Therefore the light should be flashed a short distance in front of the ground to be explored. That will attract the worms. Red light does not have any effect on worms.

Stars Give Us Little Light.

ACCORDING to Fact Digest an ordinary candle placed a hundred feet away throws an amount of light equal to that which the earth receives from all the stars.

A beam of light shining through a keyhole into a dark room can be seen only because it reflects from the tiny particles in the air. If all the dust could possibly be taken from the room the ray of light would not be seen at all.

Of course the sun is a long way off but it takes its light just eight and one-half minutes to reach the earth.

Some people prefer dark lamp shades, but such a shade can absorb as much as thirty per cent. of the light given off by the ordinary electric bulb.

Why They Have Cancer.

THE discussion goes on as to why some nations have more cancer than others. Figure this out:

The natives of Ceylon do not drink milk, which is held by some to cause cancer, and they have the lowest known cancer rate on earth. The Ceylon natives do not eat spaghetti either, and by the same knock-kneed logic we can make a case of spaghetti eating as the cause for cancer. But Eskimos eat neither vegetables nor milk and they have cancer. So where does it lead?

The Element of Surprise

It Would Be Helpful In Big Safety Campaign.

(From the Chatham News.)

SUCCESS depends largely upon the element of surprise.

In the sphere of man's earliest activity—war—this is particularly true. Armies do not choose to attack when they know the enemy is waiting for them. They try to bring on their offenses when the enemy is off his guard, and unprepared for a surprise attack. As it is in warfare, so it is all down the line of human work and enterprise.

The singer who makes the big "hit" is the one who holds something in reserve and then displays it with the greatest effect when the audience is not really expecting it.

The lawyer reserves his most powerful argument as a final "punch," to catch his opponent napping, with little time to think up rebuttal.

And so we might go on indefinitely.

Even in the newspaper world, the element of surprise is depended upon for success. While public service is a ruling motive in the regulation of the reliable and responsible press—one of the important objects in presenting the news is to sell papers. If the front page can be dressed up in such a way as to create interest, curiosity—and surprise—the battle is half won.

And that's what we're coming at.

More and more the element of surprise in one important particular is being eliminated—and in this respect the newspapers are not the ones who suffer. It is the public who pay.

Violent deaths make headlines.

But news has to be unusual to be of greatest value. If violent deaths occur too often, they lose their news value—they become more like a habit.

And the motorists in this province seem to be doing their best to make motor fatalities a habit.

Pick up any issue of any newspaper these days, and you will invariably see, displayed on the front page, some motor accident in which loss of life has been occasioned.

We are told that if the present fatal accident rate continues, a high record will be established in Ontario this year.

We are worried about losing the element of surprise in the make-up of this paper.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could come out with a new "surprise" some of these days by publishing a streamer in the boldest type:

"There were no accidents on the Highways of Ontario To-day."

And then keep it standing, for constant use, until it too, ceased to be a surprise.

There's A Lesson In It

Depression Period Should Teach Public Something.

(From the Chatham News.)

EVERY crisis, great or small, through which a country passes, has in it some lesson for the people, if they care to stop and read it. The period of depression from which Canada is now emerging should provide food for thought along this line.

Where have the causes of unemployment been worst? Where has there been the greatest demand for assistance from families, who from their own means, could not make ends meet? Where have there been the most acute suffering from cold and hunger? The whole three questions can be answered in one short phrase—in the cities.

What then, is the inference? It would seem to be to get out of these centres. There have been no cries for work or food from the agricultural districts of Ontario. On the other hand there have been many cases where farmers have been looking for help, and have been unable to secure it.

There is something in this, too, for the young man who is tired of the farm, and who fancies that there is a great career waiting for him in the city. It is quite true that many of the boys from the farm have made wonderful successes in the cities but there are many who have not. Leaving the farm and going into the city to become one of the crowd striving to get ahead, is a move that should not be taken without a very great deal of deliberate consideration. The word of the humorist to the young man contemplating matrimony is applicable here; "Don't."

The lot of the Ontario farmer is going to be much better five years from now, than it is today. The introduction of electricity, telephones, rurals mails, automobiles and an assured living have made the country a pretty fine place in which to live, even if it should have a few drawbacks.

The young man who has the prospect of independence before him on the farm should give the matter a "good think" before he throws it up to enter the grind of industry and commerce, as he is sure to find it in the larger centres of population.

Just How Fast Does A Duck Fly?

Bird Is Not So Very Speedy; Varies From 40 to 70 Miles.

(Ontario Fish and Game Bulletin.)

THREE separate observations of the English pheasant range the speed from 27 to 88, while another record, which does not give the timing device used, gives a speed of 60 miles per hour. The woodcock meanders around in a leisurely manner, observing a speed limit of from 5 to 13 miles per hour, while the mourning dove has established a maximum of 41.

"Duck hawks," says the bulletin, "can travel about three times as fast as most ducks and are the fastest flying birds reported. One of these hawks, diving on its victim, flew 165 to 180 miles an hour when timed with a stop watch. Diving at a flock of ducks at a velocity of nearly 178 miles an hour, an aviator reports that a hawk, presumably a duck hawk, passed him 'as though the plane was standing still' and struck one of the ducks."

For most species there appears to be a normal flight and an accelerated speed when danger threatens. Ducks, for example, when pressed, increase their speed possibly a third, but geese are able to accelerate very little. Most of the speed flight records indicate the greatest level speed of which birds are capable.

Rapid wingbeats or erratic flight sometimes give a false impression of great speed. It is recorded that a black-headed gull, which has a deliberate wingbeat, almost kept pace with a golden plover, whose rapidly moving wings made it appear much swifter.

It is necessary to add that no hard and fast rule can be laid down as to bird speeds, because, even for any given species, there is considerable variation to be taken into account such as age, state of plumage and other physical conditions. In addition, the velocity of the wind and other climatic conditions cause variations in speed.

There is a popular idea that birds in migration fly at great altitudes. According to reports from aviators it is exceptional to see many birds more than 5,000 feet above the earth, and that few are seen above 8,000 feet. The indication is that the greater part of migration takes place below 5,000 feet above the earth's surface.

"You can't tell the size of a buck's horns by how loud he snorts," says a quotation from a sports magazine. The same general idea holds good in connection with our estimates of the speed of birds on the wing. You can't gauge the speed by the wingbeats, nor is it a reliable method to assume that because you missed the bird with a certain "lead" it was necessarily going at an excessive speed.

"Duck hunters," says a bulletin issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, from which we derive most of the following information, "Sometimes declare mallards, pintails, other water-fowl they miss were travelling 75, 100 or even 150 miles an hour. More likely the birds were flying between 40 and 70 miles an hour."

The speeds recorded in the bulletin were tabulated from nearly 100 articles and books, and were mostly obtained by the use of airplanes, automobiles and stop-watches. Speeds of 50 to 60 miles an hour have been recorded for mallards, while pintails and canvasbacks have been checked at 65 and 72 miles an hour. It is interesting to note that although the wing surface of the mallard is about 20 per cent. greater than that of the swifter canvasback, the latter makes up for its small wings by beating them faster, while the fact that its "streamlining" is more modern probably makes its problem of wind resistance less acute.

Chased by an airplane the Canada goose could only keep up a speed of 60 miles per hour for a short time. In a light wind it was checked at 44.3. The ruffed grouse is credited with the easy speed of 22 miles per hour, although most hunters will admit it gets away to a quick start, while the bobwhite when flushed or frightened has been clocked at 40.

A WOMAN IN NEED

(Brampton Conservator)

A LADY was visited by the pastor of the church with which she had been associated. Bluntly she gave the information that she had not much use for the church any more, that she could hear better sermons over the radio and that was all she needed.

A short time later, the lady's husband died. She didn't ask the radio announcer to help her in her sorrow. She sent for the pastor she had felt she didn't need a short time before, asked to have a funeral service conducted in the church, desired the choir to attend and that a soloist be provided for the event.

This is an actual occurence. It is frequently repeated.

IRRIGATION.

(Lethbridge Herald)

NO wonder Macleod is clamoring for irrigation. It is the back bone of any community in these times. Lethbridge, Taber, Magrath, Cosdale, Stirling, Raymond and Brooks know its value. Without it these towns would have a struggle to exist in drought years. Irrigation shouldn't be treated as a dry year requirement to be abandoned in wet years. The water must be used steadily, and proper farming methods must be observed.

Golds Are Ragged In Day's Trading

TORONTO, Aug. 18.—(CP)—The gold share market turned ragged today under spotty selling but the industrials, the base metals and the western oils maintained an upward trend. Volume however bulked in the yellow metal issues with substantial selling in the juniors. Consolidated Chibougamau was an outstanding loser with a drop to 57c against its closing price of 92 on Tuesday. The close was narrowly above the day's low. A report that the mine had closed down operations inspired the panicky selling.

Stocks Fail To Respond To Rally

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (A.P.). — Stock market prices suffered mild erosion after an uneven rally today.

Demand for steels, coppers and specialties helped inject energy into the list during the middle of the session, but failure of other groups to respond seemingly discouraged traders, and equities were allowed to drift irregularly lower.

Transactions ran at the rate of about 600,000 shares.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Aug. 18—(CP). — Bearish world trade reports and hedging selling sent wheat futures more than two cents lower on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day. Support continued on an intermittent basis to leave closing quotations 2¼ to 2⅝ cents lower, October $1.26½, December $1.23⅛ and May $1.24⅝b.

An estimate that world wheat imports for 1937-38 crop year would probably be 99,000,000 bushels lower than the 595,000,000 bushels bought last year was a major influence, effecting a decline in prices at Liverpool.

Winnipeg followed the trend of the English market and opened more than a cent lower. Support was generally light and business small. Millers and export buyers bought sparingly though some investment buying was attributed to foreign interests. May wheat was taken by United States firms.

JAP LAND FORCES PUSHED TO SEA

bombers attacked Chinese positions in the Yangtzepoo section of the international settlement.

Forty Japanese planes were estimated to be bombing the lines which Chinese regulars have wrested from the Japanese in six days of uninterrupted fighting.

Japanese reprisals for the scuttling of the Japanese steamers were expected momentarily, including an attempt to capture all Chinese shipping in the river on which foreign women and children are fleeing to safety.

The evacuation of British, American and citizens of other powers was speeded as mobs of infuriated Chinese roamed the streets, looting and killing.

The Chinese raiding of the Japanese steamers took place under guns of the Japanese fleet. The vessels, owned by the Mitsubishi Steamship Company, were moored at the Pootung wharf.

Picked companies of Chinese rushed the vessels, sailed them up the river to the emergency boom and scuttled them. Shells screamed over their heads as the Japanese warship batteries renewed their effort to blast out the Chinese from Pootung.

Triplet Sons Are Distinguished By Number Of Their Freckles

LINDSAY, Aug. 18.—While Northern Ontario may boast its famous Dionne quintuplets, Victoria County has three youngsters of whom they are rightly proud. They are Wilfrid, Tommy and Jimmie, 6 years of age, triplet sons of Mrs. Frank Scott and the late Mr. Scott of Carden Township.

At birth, their combined weight was eighteen pounds. Today, these happy, healthy, blue-eyed, fair, curly-headed lads are normal in both height and weight for their age.

Their parents and grandparents were all born in Carden Township and were farmers until Mr. Scott's death, when Mrs. Scott, with her treasured triplets and two older children, moved into the village of Brechin. The parents were married fourteen years when these three bonnie lads arrived, much to the disgust of their sister, Theresa, and the dismay of the older brother, now 13 years of age.

When asked how the older children regarded the triplets, Mrs. Scott fondly remarked that her eldest boy was the best in the world, taking upon his 13-year-old shoulders the duty of both father and brother.

They look exactly alike, the only distinguishing feature to the mother being the number of freckles on their beaming faces.

Foreigners Killed In Chino-Japan War

Following their successful invasion of Northern China and their virtual control of Peiping and Tientsin, Japanese forces are concentrating on Shanghai where hundreds are reported to have been killed in the fighting so far. Among those killed are eight foreigners, killed when Chinese aeroplanes dropped bombs on the international settlement in error. The photograph Above, shows Japanese forces encamped near Peiping during the battle with the 29th Chinese army prior to the Japanese taking control of the city.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK! By R. J. SCOTT

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

No War Apparent To Pianist Abroad

By LILIAN CAMPBELL.

MISS STELL ANDERSEN American pianist, returned recently from a concert tour of Europe. She says she learned more about "trouble" in Europe since her return than she did while abroad. She toured Italy, Sweden, Germany, France and England, from February until June, expecting any minutes that one of her recitals would be canceled.

"It was very peaceful in Europe," says Miss Andersen. "I have learned more about the imminence of European wars and disturbances since my return than I did in the four months I was abroad.

"While in Vienna for an appearance with the symphony orchestra I received a cable from my family asking whether I was escaping the riots there. Although there were supposed to be riots, I saw and heard nothing."

No matter what undercurrents there may be, no matter how much or how little is printed in the European press, Miss Andersen says that Europeans are still retaining their sense of equilibrium and their desire for amusement and culture. "Although I was a new artist to them," she says, "my recitals drew excellent audiences, and it would be immodest to even mention the enthusiasm which greeted me. The people I met and talked with seemed less concerned with talk of strife than interest in music and culture, and I feel that there is decidedly more talk of war than possibility of it. American artists are now welcome in Europe.

Miss Andersen is one of the few American artists who have been engaged for appearances at the exposition in Paris this fall.

"Someone asked me if I am not afraid of returning as there is a possibility of war. I am not, because I do not think there will be one," she declares.

Lamps Should Add Drama and Beauty

Lamps should be dramatic. They accent your color scheme, flatter the wood surfaces and fabrics, and often make an otherwise uninteresting corner attractive. But they must be well chosen because their brightness attracts attention and makes them important accessories. For instance, the magazine House Beautiful, in decorating the bride's house, was careful to see that each lamp harmonized with the atmosphere of the room, but at the same time was outstanding in itself.

When buying lamps, remember that the final effect of your home depends upon the beauty of each small thing. Select the daintiest dressing table lamp with the same consideration you would give the most important furniture. Look for distinction and style that will be good indefinitely, rather than something that may turn out to be a passing fancy. Let the lamps reflect your personality, but never forget that their relationship to the room is an important point.

Fashion Service

An especially young and attractive sun dress with figure flattering lines for mother or daughter. A sailor collar buttons on the shoulders of the bare back dress. Don the bolero jacket and you're ready for spectator sports or almost any daytime occasion. This "variety" dress is grand for week-enders. The jacket is also wearable over other day and some evening frocks.

A step-by-step picture sewing instruction is included.

Style No. 2708 is designed for sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38 and 40 inches bust. Size 16 requires 2¼ yards of 39-inch material for dress with ¾-yard of 39-inch material for jacket.

ROOM FURNISHED WITH RED, SLIGHTLY CHANGED REUPHOLSTE OLD PIECES

Victorian living room done in modern manner by Edna H. Kern, of New York.

By LILLIAN CAMPBELL.

"Stone walls do not a prison make, nor iron bars a cage," nor., says Mrs. Edna H. Kern, well-known New York decorator, do finances limit the beauty of one's home, whether it be a single room apartment or a palatial mansion. Mrs. Kern has done all kinds of homes all over the United States, both in person and by long distance.

This charming Victorian living room was done by her in the modern maner, furnished with old furniture reupholstered and slightly changed.

The removal of several inches from the legs of a too high Victorian sofa made it more comfortable, and it is upholstered in a softly rich red velvet. Beside the two tufted Victorian chintz upholstered fireside chairs stand Victorian shaving mirrors which have been rodded lights through the two arms formerly used for towels.

The criss-cross point d'esprit curtains are draped with a green background Victorian chintz with rose and red flowers, mauve swags and soft yellows in the design.

Rockers Removed.

The sleepy hollow rocker has had the rockers removed and replaced by rollers. It is covered in a yellow quilted taffeta, and the painting over the mantelpiece is framed in dark red velvet. The large table behind the sofa was relieved of layers of disfiguring paint to add its natural glow of beauty to the room.

"Never throw away old pieces of furniture," says Mrs. Kern, "even if they fall short of being antiques and have little to recommend them. Old furniture is usually well built, takes an unbelievable amount of punishment with a stout heart, and emerges from the upholsterer or cabinet-maker better than new. If you are handily inclined you can enjoy doing over many pieces yourself, under guidance of your decorator. High-backed, high-seated, old-fashioned chairs and sofas retain all their graces and charm and are made comfortable sometimes by the simple expedient of amputating a few inches from legs, arms or back.

"Many chairs and tables that look hopeless may be transformed into radiantly beautiful pieces, when scraped down to the natural wood. Simple oiling to feed the wood and then waxing gives a lovely sheen."

Mrs. Kern believes that each home is an individual problem conditioned by the type of person who will live in it, and the amount of money spent, but she believes, regardless of any circumstances, that it can be beautiful.

Frankfurters Are Easy to Prepare

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

Frankfurters
German Potato Salad
Peach Cream Pie Coffee

Frankfurters, though most of their fame has been gained at outdoor meals, deserve to be popular at home, because they are so easily prepared. And when served with hot German potato salad, they are a real treat at any table. Since frankfurters are already cooked, they need only re-heating, and the most usual way of doing this is in hot water. They are covered with hot water and allowed to simmer until heated through. They should never be allowed to boil as the high temperature is likely to cause them to split, and when this happens, valuable juices are lost. Frankfurters should be served immediately when removed from the water, while they are still puffy. This is the best way to make German potato salad according to Inez Willson, home economist.

To-day's Recipes

GERMAN POTATO SALAD—Four slices bacon, one-fourth cup dilute vinegar, one-half cup sugar, two cups cooked potatoes, one small onion, diced. Cut the bacon into small pieces and brown in a skillet. Add the vinegar and sugar and allow these to cook together until heated and the sugar dissolved. Add the cooked diced potatoes and the diced onion, and allow to heat through. Serve with frankfurters.

BOILED STUFFED FRANKFURTERS—Broiled stuffed frankfurters, too, are a favorite for the summer meal. To prepare these, split the frankfurters lengthwise, spread the inside with prepared mustard and lay thin slices of mild cheese in the center. Wrap frankfurters with bacon slices and broil.

PEACH CREAM PIE—Two teaspoons gelatin, one-fourth cup cold water, three cups diced peaches, three-fourths cup sugar, dash of salt, one cup cream, one baked pie shell. Soak gelatin in cold water and then dissolve over hot water. Slice peaches, sprinkle with sugar and let stand ten minutes. Add dissolved gelatin and salt to peaches and fold in half of the cream which has been whipped. Pour into pie shell and chill in the refrigerator for about two hours. Garnish with remaining whipped cream and sliced peaches.

Claims Wild Man Ate The Evidence

FALLSCITY, Neb., Aug. 18 (AP).—The wild man ate the evidence in the case—feathers and all—but Leonard Roland, 19 of Rulo, went to jail anyhow.

Roland pleaded guilty to stealing chickens which he said were purchased by a "wild man" in a carnival show.

"Honest judge," said Roland, "he ate them alive—feathers and all."

"Interesting," commented the judge, "ten days in jail."

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

Hath any wronged thee? Be bravely revenged. Slight it and the work's begun, forgive it and 'tis finished. He is below himself who is not above an injury.—Francis Quarles.

Dear Friends:

So many times I am asked "What would you do, Roberta, if someone did such and such a thing to you?" Especially when I am telling them of psychology. And the answer is not hard to give, for the sooner you forgive or forget the sooner the poison gets out of your body, and the cleaner and more receptive your mind gets, so that you are ready for the good things to come in.

None of us get just bitterness from life, neither do we always give out sweetness, but the one is mixed with the other both in giving and receiving. Letting injuries corrode your thoughts will do you no good, and do not think it has been an easy lesson for me to learn.

Like many people I had a tendency to dwell on the bad and ignore the good, and many times it has seemed as if fate or life had picked me as a target for the arrows of misfortune. I have even felt as if there must be something definitely wrong with me, else I would not be hurt so often.

Sure there was something wrong with me in thinking I was immune from trouble no matter what I did, and more so when I gave these things too much thought.

But now I only stop long enough to see if I were in fault, and if so correct it. But if sharp words, or unkind things are said to me and I feel them undeserved, then I quickly forget them. After all I know myself better than others do.

These hot days, you make things as easy as you can for yourself if you are wise. Why not carry this wisdom into other channels and make your mind as easy as you can by pushing out thoughts of resentment and bitterness.

Just think to yourself, "what does it get me?" And when you realize that you get only all hot and bothered by dwelling on trifles which are really of no importance, you will soon give it up.

One quotation I like is this "They say: What say they? Let them say!" And I think if more of us took it to heart, there would be less heart-scaldings, less bitterness, less brooding, and more carefree joy, more pleasure in living, more dwelling on the beauties of life.

If we would learn that, to make others happy we must be happy too, we would strive for it and put anything that would take it away, right out of our lives. How can you make anyone happy with talk of all the unhappiness you have had, all the misfortune, all the suffering?

But when you recall the fun, the good that you have had, when you tell of it, you stir others to tell their experiences too, so that you are all happy, and all of us would rather listen to good things in preference to bad.

Then too, when you are annoyed or angered at someone, and carry the thought of it with you, you are getting below your self and that's no good. You have to have a decent conceit of yourself if you are to survive or do your best work, and if your mind is filled with bitterness how is the other ever to get in.

Many of us have thought our Lord was altogether too meek, when He had all that power to shrivel His enemies up, but He knew the better part and stayed with it. He knew what a burden bitterness is to carry around, so some He slighted, and some He forgave, and God knows and we do too, He had much more to forgive than ever we will know.

Candidly I think life is too short to withold forgiveness, so let us forgive as we would be forgiven.

Your Friend,
ROBERTA.

In Land of the Midnight Sun

The many friends here of the Rev. R. B. Grobb, for twelve years rector of All Saints church and now located at Riverside, Illinois, will be interested in learning that he and Mrs. Grobb have been enjoying a tour of Europe, during which they visited Norway.

In a letter sent to their home paper, Mr. Grobb describes some of his impressions in the Land of the Midnight Sun. Incidentally their first sight of the midnight sun made a profound impression upon Mr. Grobb whose letter spoke of the event as almost vocal in its impressiveness. The writer says that there was great enthusiasm among five-hundred fog-steeped passengers on the boat when the sun first put its head out through the curtain of fog. He adds that in that region the sun both rises and sets in the north and consequently "one's routine is pretty well upset!" "As I write," he says, "my watch tells me that it is twenty-three minutes after midnight but the sun streaming in at the window tells me not to believe it."

Successful Summer Fair
Immaculate Conception

A most delightful and successful event of Tuesday evening was the summer fair held on the spacious grounds of the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

Strings of lights gave splendid illumination for the large crowds of guests to take part in the many attractions offered to them. From 5 to 8 o'clock in the evening a delicious supper of cold meats, salads, cakes, pies and many other good things was served in the basement of the church by a number of the ladies of the congregation. The four long supper tables were attractively decorated with vases of colorful flowers. Mrs. J. Flynn, the convenor, and Mrs. M. Murphy were in charge, assisted by Mesdames Madden, D. Hickey, J. Hickey, J. Garvey, Hurley, Crough, F. O'Connor, M. Dwyer, Kennedy, Maloney, M. Gainey, W. McMahon, Chapman, M. Dwyer, J. Torpey, P. O'Toole and Miss A. MacKay. Mrs. D. Hummel and Mrs. Jack McCabe were the treasurers.

On the grounds a booth was a pretty sight decorated in blue and white with clever little rosettes holding the decorations in place. Here ice-cream and little baskets holding tempting looking homemade candy were sold by the girls of the Sodality in charge of the president, Marietta Kennedy, assisted by the vice-president, Stella Heffernan, the secretary-treasurer, Gladys Perdue, Stella Brady and Isabel Malone. The girls also sold tickets on a most attractive looking breakfast suite, which was displayed nearby, and will be drawn for at a near future date. Another popular spot was the booth containing soft drinks and hot dogs where Bernard McMahon, Benson Butler and John O'Dette were in charge. "The Country store" displayed a very large number of attractive things and was a very busy spot. J. Jacques was the capable auctioneer. Mrs. Edward Crowe was in charge of the "store" and was assisted by Mesdames M. J. Roche, C. Young, W. McAuliffe, L. Garvey, and J. Coughlin. Among other helpers on the grounds were Messrs M. Leonard, F. Flaherty, J. Garvey, Sullivan, John Hickey and many others.

SHOULDERS WIDE, COLLARS SMALL

Right: Skunk cape worked in stripes.

(By Central Press.)

ARE YOU buying a fur coat this fall? Elizabeth Frazer tells in Good Housekeeping magazine, what points to check for the best values when buying. Illustrating with these two models — left, a squirrel coat cut on straight box lines, with grey wool lining. The small collar and square shoulders are typical of this season, and grey squirrel promises to have quite a future. It is shown with matching hat.

The cape is skunk worked in strips, and it is shown for evening, too. Opossum also is papular this season in this type of cape and "chubby" jackets.

"First, decide the purpose of your coat before choosing the type of fur," Miss Frazer advises. "That is, is it for occasional use or steady, hard wear? Some furs are more durable than others. Among the durable furs are mink, Alaska sealskin, pure Persian lamb, Hudson seal (dyed muskrat), racoon, otter, beaver, nutria, wolverine, skunk, Chinese weasel, Jap mink and krimmer. However, garments made from low-grade pelts of these furs do not wear so well; they are apt to plead at the seams and break at the edges.

Choose Reliable Store.

"Then, go to a reliable department store, specialty shop, or furrier who is in business permanently and has a reputation for selling furs of proved merit.

"Examine the garment to see how it is made. Look carefully at the workmanship. Fine details in buttons, loops, linings, needlework and smart lines are all distinguishing marks of the quality-made coat. Scrutinize especially the underpart of the sleeves and the front panel which is folded under when buttoned, for here is where inferior skins are sometimes hidden away. Compare these parts with the back panel for lustre and quality. High-grade manufacturers place good pelts all over the coat. Better-grade garments are generous in their patterns, easy-fitting through the shoulders, with plenty of foldover on the front panels. These are guideposts which a woman should heed.

"When you purchase a fur garment ask the merchant for a bill of sale which states specifically the correct name of the fur. You may never need it, but it is a wise precaution in case you are forced to seek legal redress on your investment. The Federal Trade oCmmission rules provide that in describing a fur, the correct name of the fur must be the last word of the description, and if any dye or blend is used to simulated another fur the word 'dyed' or 'blended' must be used, as, for example, 'mink-dyed marmot.' These rules are for the protection of the consumr. Th customer should always look at the last word of the description to find out the actual animal pelt she is buying."

We Noticed

...how very smart someone looked in a maroon dress of dotted sheer with hat, gloves, purse and suede shoes matching exactly.

...that a western millinery says there is a growing demand for more conservative hat styles — hats that stay on the head as well as give the wearer a smart appearance.

✧ ✧ ✧

...that fur trimmed dresses and costume ensembles are among the important fashions we will be wearing when autumn comes.

Sir Edwards Pockets Copy Of The Examiner

The company, he said, was willing to recognize any union of its own employees, but refused to tolerate interference from outside organizers. The question of wages had been practically agreed upon.

The handful of strikers barricaded the entrance to the sawmill, a bridge over a branch of the Ivanhoe River, with huge boom timbers. Pickets patrolled there day and night and also guarded a railway right-of-way into the company property.

Immediately after the sit-down, strikers met the management demanding an increase of 7½ cents an hour and recognition of the union, affiliated with the Joiners and Carpenters' Union of America. The management refused to deal with the strikers' spokesman, C. Delaney, Sudbury C.I.O. organizer. The men refused to send anyone else.

While strikers claimed they received only $2.25 a day, the management said about 15 per cent of the 145 employees were paid that amount. Daily average, executives said, was $3.25.

PAYS TRIBUTE

He related the passengers were all at dinner when the collision between the two vessels occurred around 8 o'clock p.m. "We felt quite a distinct jar. There was no panic. Everyone was naturally curious and soon the rails were lined with passengers who watched the seamanlike effort to take of fthe crew of the doomed Danish ship".

While the Duchess boat swung out a couple or more lifeboats, they were not lowered, Mr. Fowler recalled. Survivors from the "Maine" clambered aboard the "Athoil" up rope ladders that swung from her sides.

"Yes," Mr. Fowler agreed, "the situation was serious enough for a while. None of us knew whether or not the ship we were on was damaged. The collision caused a 16-hour delay and between the time of the collision and the time the Danish ship went under the Duchess stood by".

DISTINCT INVASION FEDERAL POWER

have much preferred to have joined with the Alberta government in a reference to the Supreme Court on the validity of the legislation but since Mr. Aberhart refused to suspend the statues while this was being done he had to act at once to prevent "irreparable damage" arising from their operation.

Cannot Confuse Issue

"We cannot accept any attempt to confuse the issue involved by reference to financial tyranny or plutocratic opposition," the Prime Minister said in his message to Mr. Aberhart. "The government of Canada has no sympathy with any form to tyranny whether exercised by bankers or any other body. Nor do we believe the people of Canada are prepared to accept plutocratic or any other form of dictatorship."

Difficulties facing the people of Alberta and other sections of the Dominion were recognized, the Prime Minister said, and the federal government was endeavoring to do its part in solving them. "They can, we believe, be solved by orderly process without violation of the clear provisions of the constitution, and without violation of free recourse to the courts which is essential to maintenance of our democratic institutions and preservation of the hard-won rights and liberties of individual citizens.

Mr. Mackenzie King reiterated his belief, mentioned in Mr. Aberhart's communication of yesterday, that "credit is a public matter not of interest to bankers alone but of direct concern to every citizen."

"In recent amendments to the Bank of Canada Act," the Prime Minister continued, "parliament has accepted the principle of public control of credit. It is the function of the Central Bank, not of chartered banks, to control and regulate the volume of credit and currency in Canada. The chartered banks carry out ordinary business of banking within the framework of control and regulation established (by the Bank of Canada and under other Dominion statutes) in regard to banking."

In addition to a prepared public statement accompanying a copy of his message to Mr. Aberhart, the Prime Minister made public a copy of the recommendation for disallowance prepared by Justice Minister Ernest Lapointe and a copy of the order-in-council effecting disallowance, all of which have been forwarded to the Alberta government.

YOU CAN THROW CARDS IN HIS FACE ONCE TOO OFTEN

WHEN you have those awful cramps, when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love.

Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man.

A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife; take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

Board Of Health Requests Travelling Chest Clinic

M.O.H. Reports 268 Patients For Observation By the Ontario Clinic.

A request to the Ontario Department of Health to send their travelling chest clinic to Peterborough was authorized by the Board of Health Tuesday night. Dr. G. Murray Fraser, M.O.H., reported 268 patients for observation by the clinic, of whom 162 have been in contact with tubercular cases but have never been examined, and 106 who require re-examination.

Dr. Fraser's review for July mentioned six cases of pulmonary tuberculosis and one death from this disease. Two of the six were non-residents. The other, a young man, was a transient whose illness was diagnosed by a local physician. He left the city within a few hours and arrangements were made to have him placed under the care of his own physician. He is at present under treatment at a sanatorium.

"Of the four residents one is at home under treatment; one has been to a sanatorium but was not at that time considered tuberculous; two are early acute cases in young people. Three of these patients require sanatorium treatment, and arrangements are being made to have them admitted as early as possible. Examination of all contacts of these patients will be carried out in the near future."

59 Families Visited.

Miss Zeta Kearney, Public Health Nurse, in her report for July recounts visits to 59 tuberculous families and 177 tuberculous cases and contacts.

Cases diagnosed 14; arrested 6; suspect 12; contact 138; inactive or quiescent 7. There are 25 Peterborough residents receiving care in sanatoria. Six new cases of tuberculosis were found in Peterborough during July.

"Active cases of tuberculosis seek treatment in a sanatorium in the belief that while so segregated they cannot and do not spread the disease to others in the household," Miss Kearney commented. "This is largely preventive medicine and its continued practice will eventually lower the incidence of tuberculosis in the community."

Supervising Milk Sources.

Dr. Fraser pointed out in his statement to the Board that constant supervision of milk producers is required, and cited the following examples:

Producer No. 1—This producer began the delivery of milk to a local dairy after a lapse of several years. He had no milk house; his stable had a wooden floor, was dirty and needed whitewashing; the stable yard was dirty and contained a large pile of manue and the milk was cooled in a shed attached to the house. An examination of the milk showed a bacterial count of over one million.

Producer No. 2—This producer has recently moved to a new farm. He has no milk house and is cooling the milk in a spring beside the road about one hundred yards from the house. His stable has a wooden floor, is dirty and needs whitewashing. The stable yard is dirty and contains a large pile of manure.

These findings indicate that thorough and more frequent inspections of milk producers must be practised if a high standard of milk production is to be reached. Twice yearly visits at known periods are practically useless.

During July the Well Babies Clinic suspended activities and the Chest Clinic will be discontinued for July and August. The Mental Health Clinic will not meet in August.

Vital Statistics

Vital statistics last month were reported as follows: Live births 63; stillbirths 1; deaths 29; marriages 26.

Miss Kearney made 152 visits during the month, visited 84 homes where calls were classified; visited 19 doctors; and also reported two social welfare visits.

H. N. White, Sanitary Inspector, reported a large number of inspections, including: 29 restaurants; 14 barber shops; 11 beauty parlors; 10 bazesnops; 21 dairy farms; 8 raw milk dealers; 11 milk samples; 36 pasteurizing plants; 78 milk samples from pasteurizing plants; 89 tests of milk temperature; 9 tourist homes; 9 refreshment booths; 9 butcher shops.

Mr. White rejected 806 pounds of milk due to insufficient cooling; and three herds were found to be kept in unsanitary condition, and their milk was rejected for that reason.

License Barber Shops.

In regard to barber shops Mr. White wrote: "Barber shops were clean and utensils well taken care of. In most cases the barbers are using very little sterilizer for razors, brushes, combs, etc. I would recommend to the Board of Health that all barber shops be licensed as at present there are new shops starting up all over the city, and no one has any knowledge of where they are or under what conditions they are working."

In one morning 300 natives were arrested in Johannesburg, South Africa, for not having paid their poll tax, for not having special passes or for being drunk.

Fighting Author

Resentment over an alleged reflection on his ability, supposed to have been contained in an article written by Max Eastman, leftwing essayist, caused Ernest Hemingway, Above, modernist novelist to tangle with Eastman in their publisher's office in New York. Hemingway was reported to have socked Eastman with a copy of the latter's book containing the disputed statement.

ESKIMOS REPORT HEARING AIRPLANE ON BARTER ISLAND

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Aug. 18 —(AP).—Eskimos who reported hearing engines along the Northern Alaska coast "four or five days ago," furnished first definite clues today in the hunt for the missing Soviet trans-Polar plane.

Natives, gathered at remote Barter Island to trade, told Pilot Bob Randall yesterday they heard the roar of engines and when they could sight no boat decided it must have been an airplane.

Barter Island is on the 144th Meridian, 300 miles east of Barrow. The search was halted from here yesterday by stormy weather.

The spit is 175 miles east of the 18th Meridian, along which the six airmen planned to fly en route here on a 4,000-mile hop across the North Pole from Moscow.

Randall, Canadian airman flying a plant chartered by the Soviet Embassy in Washington, reported from Barrow the noise heard by the Eskimos "might have been the Russian plane."

None of the natives told of seeing the plane.

Randall, flying through murky clouds, covered the coast line between Herschel Island to Point Barrow, Alaska's northernmost tip, a distance of over 460 miles.

He said he landed "wherever I could find a native to talk to."

The Soviet plane, pilbted by Bigsmund Levanefisky, and carrying five others, was last heard from shortly after it crossed the Pole early on Friday.

Jimmy Mattern, noted American flyer, was here awaiting clearing weather to start his part of the search.

JUNIOR FARMERS COMPETE AT FAIR

work of raising calves over an extended period of months.

Most Successful Yet

The whole junior farmer branch of the Exhibition which continues all day ending with dinner at the Empress Hotel this evening is one of the most successful in the Exhibition's recent history, providing favorable auspices for the rest of the week. Gordon S. Matthews, general manager of Canada Packers, Limited, will be host to the young farmers this evening, and the chief speaker at the dinner will be the Hon. Mr. Marshall.

C. H. Westlake, managing director, informed The Examiner this morning that the number of exhibits was exceptionally large in many of the classes, but the heavy horse section was probably a little lighter than in recent years. This prospect, he said, would be overcome if the exhibits from a Victoria county breeder arrived during the day. They were entered and provision made for them, but they hadn't arrived up to 10.30 a.m.

Several classes of carriage horses will be judged Thursday and Friday evening, beginning at 7.45 o'clock, an innovation preliminary to the night performance recommended by C. G. Graham, chairman of the light horses committee. The judging will be concluded shortly after eight o'clock.

Midway In Action

Conklin Brothers' Shows arrived in the city at 3 p.m. Tuesday on their way to the Toronto Exhibition and occupy a large area.

W. H. Young, chairman of the flower show committee, reported what amounts to the second floral contest in Peterborough in the last week. In the basket displays alone, he said, there were some ninety entries. Miniature gards. and floral mats are other new features of the horticultural department which have attracted more entries than usual. Frank Kitney of the vegetable branch is highly satisfied with the displays the gardeners have prepared, and the same story of quantity and quality in the exhibits is repeated everywhere on the grounds.

The first evening program is scheduled for to-night and every one holding car tickets will be interested in the drawing for the first of the four cars that are to be given away.

EXILES RETURN

KIRKWALL, Scotland—(CP). —Orkney Islanders celebrated the 800th anniversary of St. Magnus Cathedral, Orkney "exiles" coming from all parts of the Empire for the occasion.

FAIR DIRECTORS ARRANGE TO POST WINNING NUMBER

The committee appointed to decide on the point for the posting of car numbers in connection with Peterbrough Industrial Exhibition, has decided to display the numbers on the picket fence just where the reserved seat tickets are sold.

A high stand will be built and large numbers posted. There is no otrer space as adequate as that chosen. The figures are large and will be placed in a high location so they can be seen for a long distance over a wide area of the grounds.

Cars will be given away at the Exhibition in the following order. To-night the Ford procured from Hood and Cumming; Thursday the Chevrolet secured from J. K. Hughes, Limited; Friday night the Dodge obtained from Lillico Motors and Saturday night the Terraplane.

The winning number each night will be posted in front of the grand stand, as well as at the point at the east end of the grounds. The report that a person must be on the grand stand to win a car is not correct. The same conditions will prevail as last year. The winning ticket must be presented and a dollar paid for the car. It is thought likely a loud speaker will also be operating in the east end of the grounds.

In making the announcement relative to the drawing of the cars, R. M. Glover, a member of the Fair Board directorate also stated, "The show of livestock in all departments is wonderful." He thought the provincial minister oagriculture should be well pleased with this angle of the Fair.

$25,000 IS GRANTED EX-IMPERIAL VETS BY GREAT BRITAIN

OTTAWA, Aug. 18.—(CP). — A grant of $25,000, to be disbursed for the benefit of former Imperial soldiers in Canada, has been approved by the administrators of the United Services Fund, according to advices from London, received here yesterday by Dominion Headquarters of the Canadian Legion. The money will be applied to needy ex-Imperials by trustees appointed by the administrators.

The grant follows representations made last May by Brig. General Alex Ross, Dominion president of the Legion, to British Minister of Pensions and to the British Legion. In a comprehenive memorandum which set forth the plight and the injustices of the ex-Imperial's position in the Dominions, as compared with the treatment accorded British war veterans in their homeland, General Ross urged remedial action at the 8th Biennial Conference of the British Empire Service League, three months ago.

It was then indicated that sympathetic consideration would be given to the matter. Some weeks ago, Sir Gilbert Dyett, Federal President of the eRturned Sailors and Soldiers' League of Australia, returning from London, informed Legion officials here that a decision had been made by the United Services Fund to extend a grant to ex-Imperials, as a result of these representations.

Confirmation was also received that, in consequence of the promptings of General Ross at the B.E.S.L. conference, the British Legion, in sending the organizing secretary of that association, J. E. Griffin, to Canada to investigate the whole problem of the ex-Imperial soldiers in this country.

The United Services Fund was created out of the profits made by the British Expeditionary Force canteens during the war. Smaller funds were amalgamated with this canteen fund, and named the United Services Fund. In 1919 the amount was in the neighberhood of $35,000,000. This was disbursed for the benefit of Imperial veterans and their dependents in the United Kingdom, and on two occasions small grants of $15,800 each were made to assist former Imperials in Canada. At present there is approximately $11,000,000 in the fund.

NO ENDORSATION FOR CROLL LIKELY

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 18—(CP). —David Croll, minister in the Ontario Cabinet until his April resignation on the C.I.O. issue, will not be endorsed by the Liberal party and, if elected in the Windsor-Walkerville riding, will be "like a ship without a rudder," John Byrne, possible Conservative nominee in the Windsor-Walkerville riding, told an organization meeting of the riding last night.

Rain Only Violence At Ford Rouge Plant

The last time that United Auto Workers' Union leaders attempted to distribute union literature at the Ford Rouge plant at Detroit in drive to organize the motor company's 150,000 employees, they ended up badly bruised—that was in the famed battle of the overpass, May 26th. The U.A.W. men had better luck with the distribution of their pamphlets recently. Only violence came from a brief storm. Employees entering the plant were wary of accepting the union paper, those coming out took it readily enough—like the fellow on the LEFT.

Alberta To Fight King Veto Along Constitutional Lines

Be No Move to Secede From Dominion Aberhart Tells Followers.

EDMONTON, Aug. 18—(CP).—Alberta will fight along constitutional lines in its battle to enforce recent bank legislation, Premier Aberhart asserted yesterday at a Social Credit picnic at Lakeview Beach on South Cooking Lake, near here.

Told by The Canadian Press at the meeting that the Dominion Government has disallowed three Acts passed at a recent session of the Provincial Legislature the Premier announced the Dominion's action to the crowd a few minutes later.

"You see what you are up against," he added.

"Give us a gun," a man shouted. Other members in the crowd of about 350 persons were silent.

"No, no—none of that," Premier Aberhart replied quickly.

"This is not bloodshed," he continued. "It is constitutional. We'll stand by the constitution and fight it through."

Will Never Secede

"May I suggest to you that you never allow anybody to tell you we are going to secede from our great Dominion. We have no desire to leave the home of our forefathers.

"We haw disagree with their prejudices, but we'll stand together and fight together, and try to solve our difficulties. We want to be allowed to fight our differences in our town real home.

"As members of a great Dominion, will you keep steady and go ahead on lines we have always stood for?"

Without a full report on the Dominion Government's action, Premier Aberhart had no comment to make to reporters. The Alberta Cabient was scheduled to meet last night and it was believed disallowance of the Alberta legislation would be discussed then.

Provincial Secretary E. C. Manning, who charged banks manipulated the amount of interest available in Canada for their own gain, and Floyd M. Baker, member of the Legislature for Clover Bar and Secretary of the Social Credit Board, were the other speakers. The picnic was sponsored by the Clover Bar Social Credit Association.

"It is a constitutional fight and we'll carry on," the Premier continued in his address, "and the results will follow for I am persuaded the British Constitution is the greatest Constitution and I am satisfied there are some means in the British Constitution for bringing to our people the food, clothing and shelter they need in the land of abundance.

In A Real Fight.

"I believe we have in this Province the greatest example of true democracy that the world has ever seen," the Premier said." By this I mean a Government elected by the people and for the purpose of carrying out the will of the people."

The Premier opened his address by saying "We are in a real fight. Unless our hands are together we won't accomplish that which we hope to accomplish."

The suggestion from Prime Minister King that Alberta facilitate a reference to the Supreme Court of Canada of three acts now passed by the Legislature was considered "very seriously" by the Provincial Government.

"We have tried to get into our hearts and minds what you would want us to do and what we considered the welfare of the Province demands that we do," he added.

Mr. Aberhart said the Government was determined "with all the force in us,' to obtain for the people what they had demanded "if you keep asking for them." He listed the demands as increased purchasing power, a lower cost of living and relief taxation.

The people need not bother how these aims might be accomplished, he stated, but could leave that to the experts chosen to do it.

"Don't let details bother you, ask for results," he declared.

"For goodness sake don't get that inferiority complex," the Premier continued. "You cannot get anything if you don't think you can get it. Now? That is something you don't need to bother about. You go ahead with your farm work."

Miss Margaret Kerr with an old fishing pole, underneath the new bridge, had the delight of catching a nice bass which, after being scaled, tiped the scales at five pound.

FAMOUS STAGE DUO McINTYRE, HEATH PARTED BY DEATH

SOUTHAMPTON, Aug. 18.—James McIntyre, 79, died today from Euremic poisoning, ending the 64-year-old partnership of McIntyre and Heath, famed minstrel men and one of the bets known vaudeville teams of the last generation.

News of his death was withheld from his life-long comrade, Thomas K. Heath, 84, who lay stricken with paralysis and bronchitis at his home in Stauket, only a few miles across Long Island from Southampton.

McIntyre, beloved "Alexander" of the old vaudeville skit "The Ham Tree," did his first dancing as a candy butcher on the railroad run between Kenosha, Wis., his native state, and his home in Rockford, Ill.

From jigging in the aisles of cars It was in 1880 that the McIntyre-Heath team gave New Yorkers their first sight of the "coon buck dance"—in Tony Pastor's old theato entertain passengers he graduated to a regular "spot" in vaudeville with his first partner, Frank Austin.

A Long Partnership.

Early in the seventies they broke up, McIntyre met Heath, who had lost his partner in San Antonio, Tex., and the team they formed lasted until their final appearance together in Philadelphia in October, 1934.

They began by playing the country fairs of Texas, passing the hat after each performance. In 1877 they went to Chicago after travelling for a time with Sells Brothers' wagon show, and played first at Hamlin's old Coliseum. The same year they came on to New York to play in the old Madison Square Garden.

They opened in New York with Howe's London Circus, and when that show closed in Atlanta, Ga., McIntyre and Heath organized a show of their own, which ran for one season with indifferent success. tre on Broadway and it was such a success that the dancers' salary jumped to $150 a week in a single night.

The Georgia Minstrels.

After playing with Alice Oats in "Long Branch," McIntyre and his partner organized the "Georgia Minstrels," which played throughout the United States, running for 17 years without a single change in the routine to set a new vaudeville record.

In 1881 the partners left their own show to join Barnum & Bailey, and four years later they played with the Hyde comedians, before joining Weber and Fields in 1893.

Veterans of the stage, McIntyre and Heath were headliners at the turn of the century, appearing in 1901 with Beck's Orpheum road show.

The seaplane is making a survey flight over the Southern Atlantic air route.

MAJOR DOUGLAS SAYS KING GUILTY OF MAJOR MISTAKE

By I. Norman Smith
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

LONDON, Aug. 18 (CP Cable).—Major C. H. Douglas, founder of the Social Credit movement, commenting today on the disallowance of Alberta banking legislation by the Dominion Government, declared Prime Minister Mackenzie King was "making a major mistake."

"Premier Aberhart is following a logical course and is bound to be ultimately successful," Douglas said, "whereas Mr. King is making a major mistake, probably prompted by Finance Minister Dunning."

Interviewed by The Canadian Press, Douglas charged the Dominion Government has "chosen to create a serious constitutional crisis on grounds most favorable to those seeking economic reform and most unfavorable to the prospects of Mr. King."

"I have received cables this morning from all parts of the Empire protesting against Mr. King's action," the Social Credit leader added.

Is Behind Aberhart.

He declared he was firmly behind Aberhart but would not venture to suggest his next manoeuvre. He said he felt Aberhart was competent to deal with the matter.

"Where do we go from here?" he was asked.

Douglas: "I can think of several ways to go, but do not desire to prejudice Premier Aberhart or in any way play his hand."

"How do you feel Premier Aberhart stands in relation to the constitutional angle?"

Douglas: "There is no question in my mind. Property and civil rights are the sole concern of the Province, and it was for the purpose of safeguarding those rights that the Alberta legislation was drawn up."

Overrides Specific Clause.

"You contend the clauses giving property and civil rights to the provinces are fundamental principles overriding specific clauses giving banking legislation to Federal jurisdiction?"

Douglas: "Absolutely. That is the basis of the whole point."

Douglas declared the people of Alberta had no intention of seceding from the Dominion. In fact there was the greatest desire not to secede. He contended suggestions that this was the ultimate goal of the Social Credit Government were ridiculous.

ridden in the parade in a two-horse carriage put at his disposal by a local hotel. With him, the Cannes' committee said, was John Drafon, his companion on the eight-week European jaunt.

When the visitors drove up, the Mayor went to the side of the carriage to greet Roosevelt on behalf of Cannes. The Mayor carried a large bouquet.

Before the Mayor could make his speech, said his aides, Roosevelt snatched a bottle of champagne from a cooler on the floor of the carriage and squirted its fizzing contents in the Mayor's face.

Roosevelt seized the sheaf of flowers from him and slapped Nouveau's head with it.

Georges Goin, head of the fete committee, said the "Battle of Flowers" is a traditional flower fight but the participants customarily throw separate flowers—"not whole bouquets" and do not usually squirt champagne.

Goin said he was at the Mayor's side at the time.

BOARD CONSIDERS BED BUG PROBLEM

Fumigation of houses for the eradication of bedbugs was a pleasant topic discussed by the Board of Health, Tuesday night. Dr. G. M. Fraser said quite a number of inquiries had come to him regarding the most approved practice, and he had recommended that experienced fumigators be engaged from Toronto. They generally use hydrocyanic acid gas, and the cost of "treating" a five-room house is $20 to $25. Dr. Fraser said that a much cheaper substitute could be purchased, and another point in its favor was the fact that it was harmless to those using it. The Board decided to get more information before going into the bedbug killing business.

ANOTHER WALLING ENTERS CONTEST FOR SAWING TITLE

Another Walling of the singing saws will be one of the contestants in the World's Championship Bucksaw battle that begins on the elevated arena on Simcoe street Thursday morning.

Comes Sidney Walling, 451 Edison avenue, nephew of the 1936 champion, to challenge his uncle, and possibly to keep the Walling name in the hall of Bucksaw fame and glory and prize money. No advance information of the younger Walling's sawing ability accompanies his appearance in the lists, but sawing is in the Walling blood and sinews as Lean Tom showed them all last August, and the distinction of keeping the title attached to the family name may be transposed to the youth's shoulders before the World's Buckaaw Championship crown is allotted for the coming year's possession in the big tournament Thursday and Friday mornings.

Another name in the list of entries at The Examiner office is none other than that of Rupert Brady who certainly wasn't disgraced a year ago. "Rube" announces that he is going to be in there Thursday even if he hasn't been sawing wood all winter in the Haliburton bush with Tom Walling.

The candidates for the bucksaw honors are to report at the Examiner Office in the morning at 8.30 o'clock for purposes of final registration, and promptly after that the World's Bucksaw Championship fray will be started by J. J. Duffus, M.P.

While Simcoe street is crowded with the bucksaw ringsiders the buses will turn left at George street instead of making the turn around the market by way of Water street.

200 NAZI PLANES HELP INSURGENTS SANTANDER MARCH

HENDAYE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 18 (AP).—An insurgent army described by the Spanish government as built around the Italian "Black Arrow" brigade and bolstered by 200 German planes, battered toward Santander today in what may prove the crucial campaign of Spain's civil war.

Columns operating on parallel highways into Santander, the government's last Biscayan seaport and stronghold, were reported within 25 miles of Santander's outskirts.

That was the distance in straight line northeast but each unit faced the task of covering some 35 or 40 miles of curving highway, flanked by the barbed wire and concrete fortifications of Santander's defenders.

The fourth day of General Francisco Franco's big push through the mountain lands brought into play yesterday large numbers of tanks, field guns and planes.

New German Planes

The Madrid-Valencia government said General Franco's aerial armada included 200 German planes. This was taken to mean aircraft manufactured in Germany.

The government seemed to regard the Santander offensive as the pivotal action of the 13-months-old conflict. A communique reminded its troops in this northern battle area, as well as the whole population of government Spain, the situation was critical because Franco had thrown the best of his war equipment and troops against Santander in an attempt to win the war there.

Strike Is Staged By Young Bride

DETROIT, Aug. 18 (CP).—Married but three months, 17-year-old Mrs. Josephine McCoy has been on a sit-down strike in her husband's automobile for 36 hours. She will continue the strike, she says, all in the cause of love.

"Joseph left me Thursday and went home to his mother," Mrs. McCoy said. McCoy's parents live just around the corner from where the sit-down is being staged.

Mrs. McCoy said she had been seeking her husband since he left her following a quarrel. Discovering the car, she entered it, and when her husband saw her he called police, she said.

"When I explained to police they told my husband they couldn't put me out of his car," she added. "Then he went to work on a street car."

Neighbors have been bringing Mrs. McCoy food and drink.

LOST MAN FOUND IN BRUSH 'HOLE' TWO DAY SEARCH

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 18.—Alfred Banford, 84, of Coe Hill, for whom a search has been in progress, was found Tuesday afternoon about a quarter of a mile from his home by Deputy Chief Fire Ranger R. A. Watson and other rangers. The aged man had fallen into a hole and had become tangled in brush so that he was unable to extricate himself. He was not seriously injured.

After partaking of his noonday meal on Sunday, Mr. Danford left his home to take a walk in the neighborhood, and on Monday, Provincial Constables McBrien and Palmateer of Belleville conducted a posse searching for the missing man, while two lumber mills and one small mining company closed down their plants and joined in the hunt; some forty mill employees assisting in the search that lasted all day Monday without results. Constables McBrien and Palmateer abandoned the search late Monday night, while the large posse retired for the night. The posse, under supervision of mill employees, resumed its search on Tuesday.

The first snowflurry of the season struck Centre Hastings County on Thursday afternoon last, when residents of the village of Coe Hill noticed small gusts drifting over that section early in the evening, following a thunderstorm.

German Airman Captured At Madrid

Walter Skellkorn, German airman, is shown recovering from injuries sustained when he and other members of the crew of a German bomber saved their lives by parachuting from their crippled war plane over Madrid. Engaged in a night bombing raid, the German aeroplane was shot down by Loyalist air fighters and totally destroyed.

BROUGHT BACK ON FRAUD COUNT

OSHAWA, Ont., Aug. 17—(CP).—Mrs. Emily K. Drakes appeared for preliminary hearing today on a chargeof uttering a forged cheque for $600. A month ago Mrs. Drakes was committed for trial on the charge but was recently released on habeas corpus raised by the defence counsel since original information was laid against the wrong party. This information had been amended by the Crown.

Former resident of Oshawa, Mrs. Drakes was brought back from Luton, Bedfordshire, England, to face the charge under the Fugitives Defenders Act.

Mrs. Drakes has been in custody five months.

Charges influential parties in this province hide behind a third or fourth party not interested in the case in laying the second charge against Mrs. Drakes were raised by Lewis Duncan, defence counsel.

Duncan claimed as soon as Justice Nicol Jeffrey's judgment was issued in Toronto releasing Mrs. Drakes from false imprisonment on a habeas corpus writ, someone in authority telephoned to Oshawa to have Joseph Nesbitt, a groom in Parkwood Stables, lay the second charge.

Nesbitt has not interest in the case, Duncan declared. He was paid off by the bank last January and the original charge was executed in March.

The Premier could have laid the charge, or the Attorney General or the Crown. But they didn't, Duncan declared. "Someone in authority telephoned to Oshawa and had Nesbitt lay the second charge."

Woman Persecuted

Since Mrs. Drakes had been rearrested she had been persecuted at Ontario county jail, Duncan alleged, in that she was not treated as other prisoners. She had been denied butler and the evening papers.

"That is unfortunate," Magistrate Gee said.

Declaring Mrs. Drakes under false arrest and held unjustly in prison since March 15, Duncan charged Provincial authorities in straining rules of the prisoners' expedition treaty with Great Britain.

As soon as Justice Jeffrey released her on August 7 under the treaty, she should have immediately returned to England.

Crown Attorney Conant argued the objections were not proper matters to be dealt with in police court and no confusion of names should cause charges against Mrs. Drakes to be allayed.

Magistrate Gee took the same view and the preliminary hearing is proceeding. Mrs. Drakes elected trial by jury and pleaded not guilty.

PORT HOPE WIDOW FOUND NEAR DEATH

PORT HOPE, Aug. 18.—Because Port Hope's gas pressure was cut far below normal yesterday while repairs were made to the lines, Mrs. Percy Lingard, middle-aged widow, is still alive.

She was found lying unconscious on a couch in her home. Four gas jets of the kitchen stove were turned on full, according to the police, and several cushions were placed at the base of the doors.

But, because of repairs at present being made by the Port Hope Gas Company, mains carried only enough gas to cook dinner yesterday, and the amount that poured into the room of Mrs. Lingard's home was much less than it would have normally been.

She was still unconscious in the Port Hope Hospital last evening, five hours after she was found by neighbors, who entered the house when inactivity at the Lingard home made them curious.

Cecile Dionne Is Convalescing

CALLANDER, Ont., Aug. 18 (CP).—Cecile Dionne, middle-weight of the five sisters, remained on the convalescent list today while the other Quints frolicked in the warm sun in Dafoe Hospital's yard. The appearance of Cecile with the other children is very uncertain," said Dr. A. R. Dafoe.

Yesterday the doctor said he believed Cecile would be able to play with her sisters either today or tomorrow. He declined to discuss her condition further today. She has been suffering from a cold along with her sisters and is the last to recover.

Regulations banning visitors from the hospital are beng very strictly enforced since the quintuplets became ill from what Dr. Dafoe declared as an "infection from outside." No one but the Dionne family and the doctor himself are being allowed to enter the hospital.

Auburns Swamp Homesters In Norwood's Final Game

Villagers Fade Badly in Late Frames After Gaining 4-all Tie in First.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

NORWOOD, Aug. 18.—The Peterborough Auburns swamped Norwood 19 to 8 in the final Central Ontario Lacrosse League game at the Norwood Arena last night (Tuesday). The Auburns' passes were clicking to perfection, while Norwood, after holding Auburns to a 4-all tie in the first period, faded badly.

C. Puffer took Baker's pass two minutes from the start of the game to count Norwood's first goal. He gave them a 2-goal lead 50 seconds later on a solo effort. Peterborough's first one came from Anderson after 3 minutes of play. King evened the score for the Auburns at the 8-minute mark on a pass from Dundas. Auburns went one up when E. Creighton sank one at the 10-minute mark, while Dundas made it 4 to 2 two minutes later. Baker came back strong for Norwood, scoring one at the 14-minute mark, and another on a pass from Hunter 5 seconds before the period ended to tie up the game.

Auburns Take Lead.

After 35 seconds of play in the second period, Miller, on a pass from King, gave the Auburns the lead. Anderson took Louckes' pass three minutes later to put Auburns 2 up, while Baker reduced it to one when he shoved one in for Norwood 30 seconds later. King took R. Creighton's pass at the 5-minute mark to sink another for the Auburns, and E. Creighton scored another 2 minutes after to make it 7 to 5 for the Auburns. Sloane took Dundas' pass at the 8.30 mark to put Auburns 3 up, and he scored another 2 minutes later. With 4 minutes to go in the second period, E. Creighton scored to make it 11 to 5 for the Auburns.

After 4 minutes of the third period, Pammett sank one to give the Auburns a 7-goal lead, and Louckes made it 8 at the 8.20 mark. Clarke, playing his first game with Norwood, scored their sixth goal one minute later. Baker added another to Norwood's cause at the 13-minute mark, but Sloane came right back for the Auburns when he scored 1 minute before the period ended. In this period King of the Auburns and Hunter of Norwood were penalized for scrapping.

Scott replaced Rogers in the Norwood net to start the third period, and after 6 minutes E. Creighton scored his fourth goal of the game. Pammett took Sloane's pass 30 seconds later to give Auburns a 9-goal lead. After 11 minutes of play Miller took King's pass to make it 10 up. Two minutes later Scott, attempting to clear R. Creighton's shot, put it in his own goal. Dundas scored the Auburns' final goal at the 14-minute mark on a pass from Louckes, while Baker sank his fifth of the game for Norwood 2 minutes before it ended.

The Auburns' stars were King, Dundas, E. Creighton and Sloane. Norwood stand-outs were Baker, C. Puffer and Hunter.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blasts up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks gloomy.

A mere bowel movement doesn't always get at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of calomel but have no calomel or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. Blo.

KEENE BALL CLUB GAINS GAME LEAD

Keene's scrappy softball team of the Southend League came to town to take a 10-5 win over Maple Leafs to put them one up in the semi-final series. A big crowd saw Keene bat Hatton from the slab in the fourth to tally six runs and give them a safe lead. Leafs battled hard and got four in the seventh but McCarthy was pitching good ball to allow only five hits and six walks as he fanned ten. He had neat suport, too. Hatton was nicked for seven hits and two free bases as he fanned one. Heffernan took over in the fourth and, after a shaky start, twirled nice ball, allowing eight hits and two walks while striking out two. He supplied the fielding feature when in left field, and Gall, Powers and Nelson shone defensively, also. Giardino's homer and C. Corbett's double were the only extra-base blows for the Leafs. Nelson, Wood and Gall led Keene with three hits each.

Ruffing Carries Yanks Towards Pennant

After reporting for duty to the New York Yankees almost a month after the 1937 season had commenced, Charlie "Red" Ruffing has won 15 games and lost 3 to date this season. That record in itself is enough, but there is more to his amazing work than that. After reporting late he had not time to let the warm Florida sun take the kinks out of his pitching arm; there had been no jaunts around the field to prepare his legs for the long hard months ahead. When he finally came to terms with Colonel Jake Ruppert he only had a pitcher's glove and a possible pitching arm, now he still has the arm and 15 victories under his belt. Ruffing, who has been carrying the Yanks to another possible pennant, does not only win his games through pitching, he can also wield the old willow in the pinches. Many times when the game is on the fire Manager Joe McCarthy will beckon big "Red" to the box as a pinch-hitter, and often he wins ball games in that capacity. He is seen here in three poses, as a pitcher, batter and himself.

Sad News For Bald-Headed Men There Is Nothing Will Restore Hair

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 17 (A.P.) —The American Medical Association's "Director of Debunking" told bald-headed men today there is just nothing they can do about it.

When hair is gone, it's gone, said Dr. Frank J. Clancy of Chicago, director of the Association's Board of Investigation.

"Tonics may create a little fuzz, but nothing more, he said in an interview.

Dr. Clancy also dropped a word of warning to the women about "guaranteed" freckle removers.

"If they remove freckles, they must remove the outer layer of the skin, and many contain caustics,' he cautioned. "Better to have freckles than scars."

"Hair tonics proclaimed to remedy barren pates are merely harmless hoaxes," he added. "It is with the unscrupulous manufacturer of so-called cancer cures and other quackeries that are not only unavailing but dangerous that the Bureau of Investigation directs its efforts.

Gomez Keeps 'Show' Tradition Hurls 8-0 Shutout For Yankees After Learning Mother's Death

Reedy Southpaw Also Gets Couple Singles to Gain His 14th Victory.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. (C.P.). — Professional people have a motto. It's one that is often abused, but behind it there is solid tradition, well-established precedent inscribed in the canons of the theatre and, to a less-publicized extent, of the professional sports field.

"The show must go on."

Those words, hackneyed perhaps, joked about frequently, must have flitted through the mind of a slim young Californian as, before a mid-week crowd of some 30,000, he warmed up early yesterday afternoon at Yankee Stadium.

For Lefty Gomez, southpaw star of the champion Yankees, had just been told that, in Rodeo, Calif., his mother had died. Less than a week ago Lefty had returned from a flying trip to her bedside, had left in the belief that she was recovering.

It was his turn to pitch, in the opener of a double-header against the Washington Senators, a team come to town riding high with an eight-game winning streak. Manager Joe McCarthy, already hard-pressed for pitchers, gladly would have excused Gomez from duty.

Gains 8-0 Shutout.

But Lefty trudged to the mound, and, at the end of nine innings, had gained a three-hit, 8-0 shutout, helped himself to two singles — sensational batting for the reedy southpaw—and hung up his fourteenth victory of the year after failing in four earlier attemps to reach that mark.

Only once before had he bettered that performance, when he touched a one-hit game against the Athletics on June 30. Once before, too, he had equalled it, against the Tigers, in May. But neither of those games was turned in under the circumstances that surrounded him yesterday.

After Lefty had subdued the Senators, the Yanks came back to win the nightcap on the strength of a five-run scoring splurge in the eighth. This, as the Tigers kept second place safe by battering the White Sox into 11-7 submission, the champions ran their American League lead to 10½ games.

Chicago Lead Cut.

Less fortunate were the Chicago Cubs. Held in check by Ed. Brandt and Mace Brown of the Pirates, they saw their margin over the Giants shrink to three games as Cliff Melton pitched a five-hitter that took the sting out of the Bees by a 4-1 count.

FOXBORO GAINS 2 GAME MARGIN LATTA RIVALS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

TWEED, Aug. 18. — Doc Blakely's Foxboro team is now two up on their Latta rivals as a result of their impressive 8-6 win on their home lot on Monday, and the team is all set to end the series when they visit Latta for the third tussle of the series. Dr. Welsh's nine must win this game if they hope to continue the series, while to take the cup from the Foxboro club they must win three successive games.

There were several muffs and errors during the game due to the stiff breeze which sprang during the game.

Brad Wilkins was on the mound for the winners, and while he was touched for eleven safeties he kept them well scattered except in the sixth and ninth when the Latta squad tallied all their runs, and was successful in not allowing a walk during the game.

Younge went on the mound for the first six innings of the game for the Latta team, and after allowing eight runs to be tallied was sent to the showers, Joe Marsh going in as relief pitcher. Marsh stopped the Foxboro boys cold, allowing only one hit in the last three frames and struck out five. Younge was touched for nine hits including a home run, while he struck out four and walked one.

Steady Count of Runs.

Foxboro tallied one run in the first and steadily increased their lead until at the sixth inning they were leading 8 to 0. Wilkins, the Foxboro moundsman, eased off, and the Latta boys went to work tallying three runs in the sixth and in the ninth another trio, but they were unable to stave off defeat.

B. Wilkins' home run was the big hit of the afternoon, with C. Wilkins, Guay, and Walt getting two safeties apiece, while Orr hit safely on three occasions and Simpson smacked two doubles to lead the parade for the losers, with C. Hall and Marsh also getting two hits apiece.

KAWARTHA TEAMS LEAD TWO GROUPS IN TENNIS LEAGUE

The standing of the league at the end of the schedule was as follows:

North Section	Games.	Points.
*Kawartha "B"	7	25
*Quaker	7	23
Port Hope	6	19
Peterborough "B"	6	11

South Section	Games.	Points.
Kawartha "A"	6	24
*Lakefield	6	17
*Peterborough "C"	6	17
Peterborough "A"	6	14

*—Extra game necessary to decide second position.

The first two teams in each section get in the playoffs. The first team in the north plays off with the second team in the South section, and vice versa.

Last Saturday, the semi-finals were played off, with Kawartha "A" defeating Quaker and Kawartha "B" defeating Lakefield. Peterborough "C" was tied with Lakefield for second place in their group, but defaulted the match.

This leaves the two Kawartha Club teams in the finals. They will play off this Saturday afternoon on the Kawartha courts at 3.00 p.m. Al. Drynan has been quite certain all season that his "A" team would win the cup. However, it has been noted that his self assurance is fast fading as the finals draw near. Art Jones' Kawartha "B" team are quite confident in defeating their friendly rivals.

Drops Men's Singles

In the Kawartha "A" vs. Quaker match, R. Hull dropped the men's singles to Doug. McPherson (Quaker), 2-6, 4-6; both players showed good tennis in spurts. However McPherson had the edge throughout. Mrs. K. Kingston reversed the score to win the ladies' singles for Kawartha by defeating Miss D. Weese 6-2, 6-4.

C. Crowe and H. R. Sills took the first set from E. Vincent and M. Clarke, 7-5 in men's doubles. Evidently they decided there were too many games in one of those sets, so they took the next one 6-0 (Kawartha). The second men's doubles also went to Kawartha with S. O. Shields and Al. Drynan defeating C. Sullivan and K. Gadd, 8-6, 6-1.

Miss E. Kirn and Miss A. Dixon played excellent tennis to defeat Miss B. Pammett and Miss H. Jackson (Kawartha) 8-6, 6-2. It is reported that this is the first defeat these girls have had in two seasons' playing in the league.

Quaker dropped the mixed double when Miss N. Boorman and R. Mawhood defeated Miss D. Sproat and G. Nicholls, 5-7, 6-2, 6-4.

Kawartha "A" 4, Quakers 2.

In order to split the tie a mixed doubles consisting of the two singles players on each team was run off. Miss D. Ackford and R. Tranter won from Mrs. Grier and D. Smith, 6-4, 6-3, to put Kawartha "B" in the finals.

The previous events were as follows: R. Tranter defeated D. Smith, 6-0, 6-0. In ladies' singles, Mrs. Grier (Lakefield) defeated Miss D. Ackford 6-2, 6-1. John Donaldson and Art Jones pulled a "Tranter" on Dr. Smith and Captain Brian, 6-0, 6-0. In the second doubles, G. Tanner and W. Spence (Lakefield) defeated Don Hull and Bob Maybee, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3. It so happened that before this was played the score stood: Kawartha "B" 3, Lakfield 2.

Lakefield took the ladies' doubles with Mrs. Brian and Miss McKenzie winning from Mrs. Donaldson and Miss H. Jackson, 9-7, 6-2. Kawartha were more fortunate in the mixed doubles, when Miss Harvey and Mr. McNaughton went down before Miss M. Benson and Don Emery, 6-3, 6-4.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB MARTIN

TONIGHT (Wednesday) is the beginning of the novice competition . . . Bob Hendry will be in charge and he asks us to make an appeal to the older members to be out at 7 p.m. and help put this event over big. The younger and newer members deserve this consideration.

THE ANSWER to Tuesday's question: There is no direct rule covering the point raised but the rule-book says: "An idea is prevalent among bowlers that a player renders his bowl 'dead' by carrying it up the green."—That is not so... Today's question—About to measure some shots. A tips up B's bowl to identify. What privilege has B?

WE NOTICE in the Toronto papers where the finals in both major competitions of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association tournament will be an all-Toronto affair. It could hardly be expected that anything else would happen with 54 enries, 41 of them from Toronto, 5 from Ottawa and the balance of eight from other parts of the province, or a percentage of 3 to 1 for Toronto. Just why it is called "Provincial" we must admit is rather hard to figure out.

Scores.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC., PERDUE

DON'T FORGET that junior baseball game in Riverside Park this evening. It's at 5.30 o'clock—leaving ample time for fans to mosey down to the Exhibition after—and will be the first of the O.B.A.A. junior playdowns betwixt Belleville Kiwanis and the local Rotarians. Dunno much about the visitors, except that they played in an intermediate loop this summer and are managed by ex-Umpire Woodley. They should be good. The local lads have a lot of class too and Herb Ralph hopes to push 'em through to a Provincial title this semester. Ought to get a good crowd of rooters out as it will likely be the only ball game seen here this week. Return tussle is in Belleville on Saturday.

ANOTHER Quinte crew is coming here—the Aajmaa junior men's softball squad—to play Young Petes tomorrow (Thursday) p.m. at 6.30 in Central. It is the first of the O.A.S.A. junior playdowns, return joust being next day in Belleville. The visitors had better be good as they will be running into a smart outfit in the Y. P. gang. Chuck Dorrington has lined up a real good team, one that made a fine showing this season while playing in the local intermediate circuit. The boys hustle every minute and they know all the answers. Fans should support them with cash and cheers.

LITTLE better than a year ago if you mentioned a bucksaw to a guy around here he'd hit for cover in a hurry. It just meant a crick in the back to him. But now the same gent would pause and ponder the possibilities of sawing off one of the prizes at the big bucksaw contest this Thursday and Friday mornings here. The old woodshed tool has moved right out on the street—and will be seen in all its gleaming-toothed glory on Simcoe St. between Water and George both mornings as a bunch of the boys buck for the world's championship, a flock of prizes and the glory that goes with a winner. Should be a real competition with the veteran Tow Walling battling to retain his championship against some might blade-wielders. They'll saw against time and on raised platforms where hundreds of fans can see the proceedings. May be a movie camera grinding away, too.

TOOK a walk around the Exhibition Grounds stables yesterday and had a gander at some of the horses that will race at the Ex. the next three afternoons. Here and there sat stable swipes and handlers, oiling up leather, tightening a wheel on the racing bike or just sitting and swapping hoss talk. What horse sired what foal; what time such and such a Grattan trotter did the mile in; the surprising way old Lou Bennett keeps driving 'em around the circuit; and so on and so forth. It was kind of good to listen to again—race-horse chatter. And a lot of local folk go for these harness races each year. Something about 'em that gets a grip on you.

* * * * * *

QUITE a bunch of good hosses will take part in the three-day meet, starting tomorrow afternoon. Two races a day, meaning some six heats, commencing about two bells each day. For nifty money prizes. Stan Lowe and his committee have competent officials and starter for these events and the heats should be as good as ever. So tomorrow will see the pacers and trotters being led around in circles over by the barn between races, or tearing around the track with tails astream and the roar of fans drowning out the pounding of hooves, sharp-eyed judges watching every move of every horse, bellowing starter with gong in hand, keen critics with watches out parked smack under the finish wire—and all the rest that goes to make this not only the sport of kings but the king of sports.

A COUPLE of good softball scraps were dished up here last p.m. At the Bowl, Westclox gals took a 6-4 win over Cobourg for their second playoff victory in three starts, the other being tied. They only need one more nod to put the clutch on the silverware and ankle into P.W.S.U. playdowns. Next game is in Cobourg tomorrow in the gloaming. UP at Central, Motorists and Westclox men battled to an 11-all draw in nine frames in a playoff tilt to declare an O.A.S.A. team. The Clockmakers have won three in this four-in-seven serial and need but one more. Dunno yet when they clash again—no fray tonight so far as we know now, and the juniors are at it tomorrow.

MUCH to Napanee's surprise the Petes refused to motor to Gibbardsville today to play 'em their postponed game. "Play Kingston first in that long-time postponed affair," the local club advised Napanee, "and then we'll meet you." So the Gerowmen will play the Ponies on Friday—Kingston and Oshawa meeting today in a postponed tussle—and if the Naps win it the Petes will go to Napanee Monday to clean things up. If Napanee should lose they'll be out of the running and the Petes will hardly be called upon to play 'em at all. Looks like Joe Daley was out-jockeyed for once, what?

GOOD NEWS from Lindsay—they've re-organized their rugby club and will be back in the Central Ontario O.R.F.U. grouping this Autumn. The club is being sponsored by the Kiwanis and Rotarians, and should be just about as strong as last year when the Ecugog gridders barged through to cop group honors. They have most of the '36 players available, and while they lose Loucks and Begley, they have Several newcomers to fill in. Jack Lamb, peppery little quarterback, has been named coach and the squad will commence outdoor workouts at once. They'll play this fall on the gridiron at the Exhibition Grounds and we trust they have smoothed out the permanent wave that used to feature this field. Our Orfuns will be tickled to hear of the return of the rugbyists from Lindsay—and mayhap that "unfinished business" of last semester will be cleaned up come autumn.

OBSERVATION platform: Belleville gridders will practise nightly from now on. . . . Sports Committee at the Exhibition decided to do away with children's races this year—so none were held today. . . . Auburns took a 19-8 lacrosse win in Norwood last twilight. . . . Gals' softball games here now start at 6.30 o'clock——Cy Whatley expects to be out of town the next two weeks on vacation. . . . Pete Vitarelli will be out of the Rotarians' lineup tonight here. . . . Some Southend Softball League playoff dope is listed elsewhere tonight. . . . Couldn't locate the Kingston paper to get ye scribe's comments on the Ponies' loss Saturday—maybe they refused to publish a paper that day! . . . Those C.O.B.L. finals won't be over on schedule now, and the O.B.A.A. is liable to get downright nasty about it. . . . Any softball schedule for Friday here? . . . As two gals in shorts passed the other day, a friend remarked to us: "The lasses are making it harder for the blind men every day!"

DE LAVAL DEFEATS COGS CLUB 14-5

Behind Shine's fine flinging, De Laval trounced Cogs, 14-5, in their first game Monday of the Southend Softball League semi-final series. A three-run outburst in the fifth on timely hits and loose fielding by Cogs broke up a four-run tie and De Laval added four more next frame to take a comfortable lead. Shine gave up 10 scattered hits and four walks as he fanned eight, while Fleming for Cogs allowed 10 hits and three walks while striking out four. His support was poor in the pinches, whereas De Laval gave their hurler better backing. Wright had four hits in five for the winners and Fleming of the Cogs got three for four. The teams:

Cogs—A. Heal, 2b; Todd, ss; Jamison, c; Kitchen, lf; Fleming, p; Downer, cf; Parnall, lf; C. Heal, 3b; Mackness, rf.

De Laval—Gatfield, 2b; Wright, ss; Wiley, 3b; Pearson, c; Abbott, lf; Shine, p; Gordon, cf; Doxsee, 1b McGuire, rf.

Score by innings: R.H.E.

Cogs	202 000 001—5 10 7
De Laval	220 034 03x—14 10 3

Umpires— Ashmore and McMarcin.

These teams tangle again to-night in this series and a win for De Laval will put them in finals. Cogs, however, were short two regulars last game and may sew it up this tilt. Moorhead and Shine may do the hurling this evening, and another huge crowd is expected.

Tommy Farr Favors Youth and Speed In Sparring Partners For Title Go

LONG BRANCH, N.J., Aug. 18 (A. P.). — Tommy Farr, British Empire heavyweight champion, and his manager, Ted Broadribb, favor youth rather than experience in picking sparring partners for Tommy in preparing for next week's title bout with world-champion Joe Louis.

"We find youngsters better to work with than the cagey veterans," Broadribb explained. "The young 'uns are full of pep and ambition and they make Tommy move lively every second. That's what we want. We feel that Tommy's best bet to defeat Louis is speed, and the boys we have working here are just the type we need."

Joe Wagner and Basher Dean are the young fellows whom Broadribb likes especially. Both are earning fame as knockout artists.

Farr is scheduled to train every day this week, although he will not box on Friday. He had an unusually busy session yesterday, including seven rounds of boxing. He now weighs 209 pounds and says he won't work off more than one or two before the bout on August 26.

Vanderbilt's Yacht Meets Second Defeat

NEWPORT, R.I., Aug. 18 (A.P.) —The Astor Cup was to-day offered as a bone of contention for the big Class J sloops which recently brought a season's racing for the famous America's Cup to a climax when Harold S. Vanderbilt's Ranger defeated Endeavour II, T. O. M. Sopwith's second British challenger.

Ranger yesterday met the second defeat of her career, trailing Lambert's Yankee by approximately five minutes at the end of a 37½-mile squadron run of the New York Yacht Club from London, Conn., to Newport.

Yankee also showed her heels to Chandler Hovey's Rainbow, 34 defender, and to the two invading Britishers, Endeavour I. and II. in that order.

Clockmakers Gain Win Over Cobourg Damsels

Local Girl Softballers Take Big Edge on Playoff Series With 6-4 Nod.

Westclox girls copped a 6-4 decision over Cobourg before a big crowd at the Bowl last night in the third game of the final playoff series. It was their second win, the other game ending in a draw. Fourth fixture in the three-out-of-five series will be Thursday evening in Cobourg.

Last night's contest was a classy one all the way, though both sides kicked in with half a dozen fielding errors. Play was tight and exciting and the game was over before eight o'clock. Westclox got three runs in the first and three more in the fifth, mixups figuring in with some timely hits. Cobourg tallied a run in the fourth, two in the fifth and another in the sixth. They failed to press the rest of the route.

Hurlers Even.

Barb Blade held the Lakeshore lasses to seven hits, while fanning none and issuing two walks. R. Slater for Cobourg gave but seven hits also, as she fanned four and walked one. Their support was shaky in spots. W. Hoskin hit a homer and single for Cobourg, hits B. Blade and G. Mortimer of Westclox had two singles each and M. Allison a double. J. Young, D. Merrett and A. Sturgeon supplied fielding features. The teams:

Cobourg: J. Young lf, B. Rowden ss, R. Hoskin c, W. Hoskin rf, M. Perrin 1b, R. Thompson 3b, M. Bulkowski 2b, A. Gibson cf, R. Slater p.

Sorry Marvin But You Can't Get Home Safely

Hooking home, Marvin Owen, Detroit Tiger third baseman, is shown just starting his slide into the plate, but Walter Millies, Washington Senators catcher, is waiting for him, ball in hand, and a determined look on his face. The umpire had no trouble calling this one. Owen was out—"out a mile." This action took place in the second inning of the Tigers-Senators game at Washington. The tigers won 10 to 3.

Motorists and Westlox In 11-all Playoff Draw

Men Softballers Battle to Tie in Nine Frames of Fifth Titular Tilt at Central.

Motorists and Westclox men softballers battled to an 11-all tie last night at Central in the fifth game of their four-in-seven series to declare an O.A.S.A. team. Westclox had won three and nearly ended the series last night, but a six-run rally by the Barrett boys in the ninth stanza sewed it up tight and darkness kept the contest from going into overtime. The game will be replayed.

It was a hard-hitting, even and exciting scrap all the way. Both sides clouted some nifty blows and each team booted several in the field. Westclox got a run in the first, three more in the second and two in the third to take an early lead. They added one each in the fifth and sixth, two in the seventh and one in the ninth. Motorists were slow starting but got their runs in clusters later, tallying two in the fourth, three in the sixth and half a dozen in the big ninth. A big crowd attended the tilt.

Heavers Go Fair.

Strickland and Parsons pitched on pretty even terms, each allowing 13 safe hits. The former fanned four and walked four, and Parsons struck out three and issued four free tickets. Shine and Montgomery each had two singles and a double for Motorists, while Parsons had a double and two singles and Stanger three singles for Westclox. Long twice banged out long drives with the bases full. Montgomery and O'Leary pulled off fine catches. The teams:

Westclox: P. Calladine c, Dormer 3b, Playford cf, Starr ss, O'Leary lf, Ellis 1b, Currie rf, Stanger 2b, Parsons p Sturgeon rf, W. Calladine.

Cricket Results

LONDON, Aug. 18—(CP Cable)—Middlesex, which has not won the cricket championship since 1921, was toppled from the top of this season's championship table Tuesday by Yorkshire after leading for weeks.

Yorkshire edged into a fractional lead by scoring a full win over Worcestershire while Middlesex could take only first inning points from Warwickshire. Rain interfered with the whole series of county matches ending Tuesday, and four of the eight were decided on first innings.

Some fine batting feats were chalked up, outstanding being Denis Smith's 202, not out, for Derby against Notts.

Scores:

Yorkshire defeated Worcestershire by an innnings and nine runs. Yorkshire 256 for eight declared; Worcestershire 120 and 129.

Middlesex defeated Warwickshire on first innings. Warwickshire 160 and 10 for one; Middlesex 307.

Essex defeated Hampshire by two wickets. Hampshire 94 and 211. Essex 164 and 143 for eight wickets.

Lancashire defeated Leicestershire on first innings. Leicestershire 188 and 78 for no wickets; Lancashire 336 for six declared.

Glamorgan defeated Surrey on first innings; no play since Saturday. Glamorgan 81, Surrey 57.

Kent defeated Somerset by 85 runs. Kent 134 and 427 for eight declared; Somerset 346 and 130.

Derbyshire and Nottinghamshire drawn. Derbyshire 332 for three declared; Nottinghamshire 208 for two wickets.

GOLF-FACTS NOT THEORIES
By Alex Morrison

NUMBER 67.

The morale of the American players played a big part in their performance during the recent Ryder Cup matches in England. Before the matches started, a letter was sent to me telling about the high spirits of everyone in the American party. They were not too confident, just satisfied that they would put up a very good fight.

The golf world knows how good it was. In my opinion it is the best fight ever made by any of the players going abroad.

The Southport course is noted for the bad weather generally to be encountered there and players are often greatly handicapped by the high winds and severe rains. The fact that the American team accepted these elements at their worst and still came through makes them worth of praise greater than I can express.

Of course it is quite possible that the Britons sought to get even with those Americans who insisted upon having the last Walker Cup matches played over the extremely difficult Pine Valley Course. If such was the case, they should consider that they more than made matters even. It doesn't improve public opinion toward these events to have them played over such courses.

NEWARK CUBS CAN BETTER MARK FOR LOOP GAMES WON

TORONTO, Aug. 18—(AP)—There are many who doubt their claim to greatness, yet the Newark Bears of today may shatter the records of super-teams of the past before the current International League season is over. The greatest margain an International League pennant-winning team ever held was the 20 games the Baltimore Orioles of 1921 had over Rochester. That was the third year of Jack Dunn's famous team which won seven straight pennants through 1919 to 1925.

The largest margin made in "big-time" baseball was rung up by the St. Paul Saints of the American Association in 1920. The Saints beat a good Louisville club by 28½ games. The Pittsburgh Pirates won the National League bunting with a 17½ game lead in 1902.

Yet, though the skeptics say they are just a good team in an unusually weak league, the Bears of today are riding 24½ games in front of the Montreal Royals and still have 29 games to go in which to crack St. Paul's mark.

Split Double Bill.

The Bruins lost a good opportunity to further their record-breaking chances last night when they dropped the second game of a double-header 7-1, after winning the opener 10-6.

Though they were outhit 13-11 in the first game, the Bruins concentrated their attack in the fourth and fifth frames, when they scored nine runs to clinch the game.

The Royals weren't to be denied in the second fray, however, as they walloped Steve Sundra for twelve hits, half of them for extra bases. Crip Polli, of no-hit fame, held the Bears to nine hits.

In the only other game of the night, the Baltimore-Buffalo and Syracuse-Toronto contests being postponed because of wet grounds, the Jersey City Giants scored a 3-2 victory over Rochester. Phil Weintraub blasted a homer over the rightfield wall to provide the Giants with other winning margin and give Mike Radon the pitching decision over Nubs Kleinke.

KO TWICE IN ROUND

LONDON—(CP).—Seaman E. Noble had to knock out Pat Burke twice in one round in a boxing match here, the referee for some reason ordering the man to go on after the first knock-out.

Jack Lamb to Coach Lindsay Grid Squad

LINDSAY, Aug. 18. — Lindsay's football team, O.R.F.U. group champions of last year, was reorganized at a meeting Monday night, with some twenty prospective players in attendance. The squad will again enter the Lakeshore group, and while without the services of several of their championship players, are confident of making a good showing.

Officers elected are: Honorary presidents, J. W. Deyell and J. E. Hamilton; President, F. L. Weldon; Secretary-Treasurer, R. D. Kennedy; Manager, Earl Vanstone; Coach, Jack Lamb; Honorary coach, W. S. Breeze.

DODGED HAPPY LANDING

ARMS ARE USED IN SUGAR STRIKE

PORT LOUIS, Mauretius, Aug. 18 (C.P.-Havas). — Clashes between striking sugar cane workers and troops and police to-day gave a serious turn to labor unrest in this British Island in the Indian Ocean.

Troops and police were obliged to resort to arms to disperse a group of strikers. Rioters set fire to several plantations and wrecked trolley lines.

Many sugar refineries have been obliged to close down. The trouble involves seasonal workers harvesting sugar crops on the island.

Locusts are seriously damaging Nicaragua's cotton crop.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By
MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Ambitious to become a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job. They see more and more of one another and begin to fall in love. During the absence of Francine Long, Tony's head buyer who dislikes Mary, the latter successfully designs some gowns for an important client, Liane Weston, a leading actress. Something goes wrong during the final fitting, the actress goes into a tantrum and Tony publicly berates himself for letting Mary, still inexperienced, design the gowns. Mary feels certain Miss Long purposely altered one of the dresses. Leaving Tony's shop without word, Mary decides to go abroad. En route to Paris she meets Mark Sutherland, wealthy playboy. In Paris Mary has difficulty finding work. By pre-arrangement she meets Mark there. Mark refers her to a friend of his, Countess Anetka, who runs a small dress shop in Paris.

(NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 11.

The loaf of bread must have been 20 inches long.

Mark said, "Look out you don't spill it on the street."

Mary hugged it closer, got a firm grip on the stubby pot of pate de fois gras and slipped her free wrist under the straw loop on her bottle of chianti.

"At this hour of the morning the streets of Paris are absolutely clean. Witness our private sprinkler." She gesticulated with her head in the direction of the watering crew which had passed a moment before.

"Very beautiful and godly, too, since cleanliness is next to godliness! But what good does it do me if you will leave me now?"

"I know. You've been wonderful to me and I'm an ungrateful brat..." She was going to say that Mark must understand how anxious she was to get back and tell Kate Mayhew and Ellin Trent that she was going to get a job. But she didn't finish her sentence because she was remembering the night that Tony Castle told her she was an ungrateful brat.

Perhaps he thinks I am ungrateful now if he ever thinks of me.

She gave Mark her hand as the concierge opened the iron gate for her.

"Good night, Mark," she said. "Someday I will find a way to thank you properly."

"I don't want to be thanked 'properly.' But that can wait. You haven't got the job yet. I'll telephone you tomorrow to see what happens."

"Don't telephone. You know I can't manage this telephone system. Let me drop you a note. And, Mark, there's no if about it! I feel lucky!"

"Do you feel happy?"

"Happy, Mark? Don't ever ask me that question!"

"I'll have more important ones to ask you. Don't sit up the rest of the night. I've told Anetka you are a typical, bright-eyed young Americaine. See that you are."

"Don't go," Mary said to the two girls an hour later. "I feel like sitting up all night talking." She took an enormous bite out of her bread.

"Good Parisians never go to bed," Kate said sententiously. "At least not while there is a party in progress."

Ellen Trent twirled the stem of her wine glass. "Or something to celebrate. I for one believe in celebrating things before they happen for fear that they will not."

"You're a kill-joy, Ellin Trent! Something is going to happen. Tomorrow I am getting a grip on the ladder of success. Tomorrow I become a member of the great dress-making world. And after that..."

"After that you'll get sick of threading needles, and pressing organdies, and running errands, and being poor and go back to New York and sketch gowns for department store ads for $25 a figure and make lots of money. Then you'll get married to a nice broker and live in Westchester and talk about Paris in the spring. I know!"

"I'm never going to get married," Mary said quietly.

"Never is a long time," Kate said not very originally. "And that is a typical young career woman statement. But beware of it, Mary. It may trip you sometime. There are men who feel secure when a girl says that. And there are men who feel scared. Too many career women have said it and meant it at the time, only to realize later that they were taken at their word."

"That's right," Ellin answered. "And there never was a gown created that left a thrill for the designer an hour after it was shown. Me, I'm all for marriage."

"And I'm all for the career," Mary insisted. "Just watch me!"

"We'll be cheering you," Kate promised, "but there's a lot in what Ellin says. Don't let your enthusiasms run away with you today, and don't count too much on this new berth. There are hundreds of little shops in Paris run by people like your countess. They just subsist on the charity of their friends. A handful of customers who pay as little as possible. They're here today and gone tomorrow and nobody of any importance ever wonders what becomes of them."

"Du Barry was an errand girl for a dressmaker when she was very young," Mary said dreamily.

"But you'll notice that she didn't stick to her dressmaking," Ellin put in tartly.

"Ellin's right. That lady found herself a man."

"There's a man in every picture," Ellin agreed.

"Except mine," Mary corrected. "I'm going to get by on my own efforts. There isn't anything that a man could give me that I can't get for myself."

Kate and Ellin exchanged a knowing look.

"How about Mr. Sutherand getting you the introduction? You don't suppose he did that because he was moved by enthusiasm for your talent or pity."

Ellin laughed a little. "Perhaps he learned the Golden Rule in Sunday school."

"Perhaps he did," Mary answered amiably. "Anyway, he isn't getting me the job. I'm going to do it on my own. He just happened to know the person."

"Poor little lamb," Kate whispered. "She still believes in altruism! There's another little story, darling, you should have heard. It's about paying the piper."

"Oh, you're both too cynical! You don't know Mark and you don't know me. Mark is a decent person and he knows what kind of a girl I am. I'm not afraid of him, or of paying any legitimate bills. I'll pay him in my own way someday."

"The girl who doesn't know is you, Mary Barrett. As far as men are concerned, there aren't any 'nice' girls any more. There aren't any distinctions like that—or if there are, I'd like to know where. A girl is exactly what a man takes her to be when he's through telling her what he'd like her to be. Clear?"

"Terribly," Mary answered.

"Don't let her get you down," Kate advised. "Any time you have any little moral problems to solve, you just come to that world-weary firm of Mayhew & Trent and we'll solve them all for you. Ellin had one husband and yearns for a new one who won't go traipsing around in search of news stories and, as you can see, she is a house frau at heart. So she knows a lot! As for me, I've been in love 20 times and hope to fall in love tomorrow with a new man I've just met, and start making the same old mistakes all over again. So you see we're both experts."

Very seriously, Mary said, "Kate, you weren't really n love more than once?"

Kate unwound her long pajama-clad legs from Mary's bed.

"Come along, Ellin," she said, "the kiddie's hour has lasted much too long for our young friend. She's been in Paris nearly a month and she wants to know if it's possible to be in love more than once. It is, dear, it is!"

"No, it isn't, Tony," Mary whispered into her pillow that night. "I'll never see you again but I love you. I'll love you forever. And maybe, someday it won't hurt so much."

Bedtime Story

By
HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S RED COAT

"Stop! Stop! Come back with my red coat!"

Uncle Wiggily shouted these words as he hopped fast through the woods away from the place where he had been diving into Blue Lake off a spring board.

"Come back with my red coat! Whoopee!"

Uncle Wiggily shouted "Whoopee!" just as he had yelled it for joy and happiness after he had plopped into the water from the bouncy board. But now he was shouting "Whoopee!" to stop whoever was running away with his red coat.

"And some one has my trousers, too!" panted Uncle Wiggily as he hopped on, out of breath and splashy through the woods. He was splashy because he had dived from the spring board with his underwear on and that was now dripping wet. Uncle Wiggily didn't want any of his friends to see him looking silly in a wet suit of underwear so that's why he wanted to get back his coat and trousers.

"Somebody took them when I was diving and ran away with them," panted the rabbit gentleman as he hopped on and on. "I don't believe is it any of the Bad Chaps. They wouldn't run away from me even if they had my clothes. They would run toward me thinking to catch me and nibble my ears."

So he hopped on and on, faster and faster through the woods after his red coat which he could see now and then gleaming like a cinnamon lollypop amid the trees.

"Whoever has my coat is going fast!" said the rabbit. "I don't seem to be catching up."

Indeed he was still far behind whoever was running away with his coat.

"As for my trousers, I didn't get a glimpse of them," though the jolly old bunny gentleman. "But maybe they are with my coat."

Uncle Wiggily jumped over a fallen log. He leaped across a pond and a big Bull Frog gentleman, sunning himself in it on a lily pad, bellowed in surprise:

"Ger-uum! Ger-ump!"

"You're right, that was some jump!" agreed Uncle Wiggily.

"I didn't say 'some jump.' I said 'ger-uum ger-ump,' if you please," bellowed the Bull Frog.

"Oh, excuse me," said Uncle Wiggily. But he did not stop to talk to the frog gentleman. Instead he hopped on and on after whoever was running away with his red coat.

"Well, there's one good thing about running in the woods even in wet underwear," said Mr. Longears. "It is nice and cool and I am not ashamed to have any one see me for there is no one here—not even a Bad Chap."

Faster and faster hopped the rabbit gentleman making such a breeze that the wind was drying his wet underwear like an electric fan. But he wasn't catching up to his red coat.

"I can't even see it now,' sadly said Uncle Wiggily. "Oh, my lovely red coat has disappeared. What shall I do?"

He was so tired he had to sit down on a log with a green cushion of moss. He had lost sight of his red coat and whoever was running away with it.

"Perhaps I was foolish to plop into the lake off the spring board and leave my clothes on shore for some one to take," thought the bunny gentleman. "But it's too late for that now. What shall I do?"

Please read the next story to find out. It will be about Uncle Wiggily's trousers—that is if the potato salad will stop being proud just because it has onions in.

TOKYO, Aug. 18 (CP-Havas).—Death today brought an end to Reserve Captain Morio Hirota's grief over his inability to fight for Japan in its present armed struggle with China.

The Japanese officer committed suicide on the Tokyo parade grounds. Before turning his sword upon himself in accordance with the ancient Japanese suicide ritual, the officer had informed friends his decision to take his life was due to the fact he "could not serve his country in its present hour of trial owing to bad health."

Help is also hard to get and farmers here are offering any wages to get men to help in with the harvest, but there is no one to be had. The Provincial and County highways are taking all the men for they are offering 30 and 35 cents per hour for an eight hour day and they get all the help. Threshing has also started and Messrs. John and Cecil O'Neill have purchased a new threshing outfit, a tractor and separator all complete. It will be a great time saver for the farmers will not have to supply wood or water.

Walling To Defend His Bucksaw Title On Friday Morning

Examiner's Second Annual Bucksaw Contest Gets Under Way.

Thomas Walling, 64-year-old world's champion bucksawyer in the contest originally promoted and sponsored by The Examiner, came to town to-day.

Down from the Haliburton woods where he has been recently working, he is here to defend his title against all-comers in the second annual bucksawing contest which got under way this morning.

A woodsman of over forty years experience, Walling is in good fettle, and notwithstanding the fact that he cracked a rib while at work since putting his entry forward this year, has high hopes of retaining his title and becoming proud possessor of the handsome silver cup which accompanies it.

Opened by Member.

He did not saw as the preliminaries were opened by J. J. Duffus, M.P. West Peterborough, from the stand erected on Simcoe Street between George and Water Streets this morning, but preferred to swing into action to-morrow.

And that seemed to be the choice of most of the out-of-town entrants.

While only four bucksawyers contended for honors at the opening session, officials of the contest gave spectators the assurance, that to-morrow a real battle would be staged with the three-saw ring producing some real action in the fight for the title and a total of eighty-five dollars in prize moneys.

Most out-of-town contestants preferring to spend one day from their work expressed the intention of competing on the final day. It was natural they should make such a choice, because otherwise contestants qualifying on the first day would be obliged to stay over for the finals for a matter of twenty-four hours or more.

Standard Size

Four-foot lengths of hard maple all cut to a standard measurement of 6-inches square, provided contestants with a more even break this year. Last year it will be recalled round logs were used, and while every care was taken in the selection of the logs to ensure evenness in size, it was impossible to get them all of a standard thickness.

CIVIC LUNCHEON GIVEN MINISTER

Promise that the Ontario Government will lend its aid through either the Ontario Agriculture College staff or the specialists at the Kemptville Agricultural School for a complete soil survey in Peterborough County next year, was made by Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, at the civic luncheon tendered him at noon today.

"That's the finest thing a man can do—not to rob the soil but leave in the land as much fertility as he takes out of it," the cabinet minister declared, urging that the fertility of the soil be recognized as the prime agricultural concern. "The fellow who takes care of the land is the man who makes farming."

Talk of the advisability of a soil survey of this County has been heard frequently during recent months and crystallized in a resolution by the County Council at its summer session that definite steps toward that objective be taken. The aid of the Ontario Government was asked by the County body.

Mr. Marshall's announcement was made before a gathering which included leading County councillors, Peterborough civic officials, also Senator Frank P. O'Connor and other prominent visitors of the day to the Peterborough Exhibition. Scheduled to officiate later in the afternoon in formally opening the Exhibition, Mr. Marshall was welcomed to the luncheon by Mayor George Macdonald.

Finest in World

Praising the Yorkshire farmers of England as the finest farmers of the world, he said their prime concern is to keep their lands fertile. "If you could get those boys and girls who were here last night to realize that the greatest thing is the land you would be doing in that alone a great work," he declared, referring to the Junior farmers who had their day at the Exhibition yesterday. To raise good stock the farmer must first have good land. If we can get that idea into the minds of the upcoming generation the farm problem will be solved."

Speaking of the soil survey aid which is to be extended Peterborough County through Agricultural Representative Art Runions, he said great advance in the science of soil analysis has been made in the past couple of years. The Department of Agriculture sent men to the United States to study the science and now has available a dozen men who can do the work he said. Only 15 to 20 minutes is required to determine just what a soil needs to make it reasonably fertile for production, he stated

WOMAN'S BODY IS FOUND IN CELLAR MISSING MONTHS

HAILEYBURY, Ont., Aug. 19. — (CP)—Science was called upon today to help police solve the slaying of Mrs. Frank Dolan, whose body was found under five feet of earth in the cellar of her Elk Lake home, 50 miles north of here. The middle-aged woman had been missing since March 21.

Frank Dolan, the woman's husband, was held for questioning by Provincial Police. Crown Attorney J. B. Robinson called in Dr. E. R. Franklin, medico-legal expert of the Ontario Attorney-General's Department, to aid police investigators.

Dr. Franklin, before leaving Toronto for Haileybury, gave orders not to touch the body, discovered in a search of the house by Sergt. V. T. Reed of Provincial Police. Dolan was brought here from Elk Lake.

Reed had examined the cellar of the Dolan home before, but in yesterday's search he dug deeper and the body was found. Exact cause of death was not immediately determined, but it was said the body bore no bullet wounds.

Police learned of Mrs. Dolan's disappearance April 2. She was said to have left the house scantily clad, without overshoes, hat or purse.

The six Dolan children, ranging from nine to 18 years, found their mother gone when they returned home from a hockey game the night of March 21. They thought she had gone to visit friends nearby.

Railways Report Bigger Earnings

OTTAWA, Aug. 19 (CP).—The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today Canadian railways earned $29,256,948 in May, against $27,022,242 in the same month last year, an increase of $2,234,706, or 8.3 per cent. Operating expenses increased from $23,786,818 to $25,196,939, and the operating income increased from $1,953,129 to $2,901,435. The total pay roll was increased by $1,036,982, or 7.1 per cent., and the number of employees was increased by 4,870, or 3.9 per cent.

Woman Pensioner Robbed By Thugs

AGED RESIDENT TWEED VILLAGE SERIOUSLY HURT

NAPANEE, Ont., Aug. 19 (CP).—Two young men were sought by police today after Mrs. Emily Leary, 79-year-old pensioner, had been attacked and robbed in her cottage near here. Among the aged woman's injuries was a 1½-inch knife wound that barely missed the jugular vein.

The attack occurred last night as Mrs. Leary, alone in the house, was sleeping. The men forced their way in through the front door and threatened to shoot the woman if she did not hand over her money. They escaped with the contents of a small-change purse that contained $2.

Before leaving, the thugs beat the woman about the head and body and cut her neck. A wound behind the left ear required several stitches to close. Mrs. Leary was unable to give a coherent account of the attack and robbery and though investigation showed a pitchfork kept in the house had been taken, it was not certain whether it had been used in the assault.

Calls on Neighbors

Weakened by loss of blood and suffering from shock, Mrs. Leary was unable to raise an immediate alarm after the robbers escaped. More than half-an-hour after the attack, she made her way to her nearest neighbor, 150 yards up the Palace Road.

Mrs. Leary, widow of Brook Leary, a United States Civil War veteran, was taken back to her home to-day where her condition was reported as improved.

ABERHART TO CALL SPECIAL SESSION

EDMONTON, Aug. 19 (CP). — A special session of the Alberta Legislature will be convened probably within a short time, to pass legislation substituting for three banking acts disallowed by the Dominion Government, it was reported here today.

Forecast of the second special session this summer was made just before the Provincial Cabinet met for the second time to consider its reply to Prime Minister Mackenzie King's wire that the Federal Government had disallowed banking legislation passed at a special session early this month.

"We will hold a Cabinet meeting and hope to have a reply to the Ottawa telegram completed later in the day," said Premier Aberhart before the Ministers went into session. No decisions were reached at the first meeting Tuesday.

The Premier said he was not prepared to indicate what legislation might be introduced if a special session of the Legislature were held.

Sleeping Sickness Affecting Horses

ST. PAUL, Minn., Aug. 19 (A.P.). —Farmers and veterinarians, unable to obtain serum and vaccine, fell back on simple household remedies to-day in an effort to save horses from the worst sleeping sickness disease scourge the North-west has suffered in years.

The disease has stricken horses on almost 2,000 Minnesota farm. Veterinarians reported farmers in the Dakotas and Nebraska also have suffered unusually severe losses.

Mosquitoes were suspected of spreading the disease, known to medical science as equine encephalomyelitis.

Dr. W. C. Bromaghin of the Minnesota Live Stock Sanitary Board, said serum and vaccine supply houses have informed him they were piled high with back orders for medicine.

Canada Will Be In Next War Britain Becomes Involved In Way New Policy of Government Was Put Over Described as Nauseating.

LAKE COUCHICHING, Ont., Aug. 19—(CP)—The Dominion Government has decided Canada shall join in the next war Britain becomes involved in, Prof. F. H. Underhill of University of Toronto told the Canadian Institute of Economics and Politics in conference here yesterday.

"The way the new policy of the government and its propaganda flypoorlay was put over is nauseating," said Professor Underhill. "The pretence that no commitments had been made and Canadians could make up their minds whether they would join Britain was completely nauseating. The government has decided to join in the next British war but they don't think it is expedient to say so.

"Of course there will be a great deal of squirming in certain quarters, but the decision has already been made," Prof. Underhill claimed. "Our minds have been made up for us.

"We are going into the next British war, so what I say is completely academic," said the professor in an address on Canada's foreign policy.

War Preparations.

The speaker found evidence of Canada's intended participation in war in the recent parliamentary appropriation of $36,000,000 "jammed through parliament under pretence of Canadian defence to buy bombers and other war material." Also significant, he thought, was the "masterly inactivity of Mr. Bennett, (Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, leader of the opposition) who allowed the Canadian entanglement to be done by a Liberal-National government, and in the new note in the speeches and attitude of university professors and United Church ministers."

Unemployed Vets Given Six Weeks

VANCOUVER, Aug. 19.—(CP)—Fifty-four unemployed war veterans, charged with obstructing police, received sentences of six weeks in jail when they appeared before Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson in police court yesterday. The men were arrested last week when they thronged downtown intersections bearing placards and jangling coins in tin cans in an alleged effort to solicit funds from passersby.

The Irish Free State will issue a new set of postage stamps.

Keen Young Horsewoman

Nora, 14-year-old daughter of S. S. Staples well-known Clydesdale breeder of Springville wears a smile of victory on being awarded first prize in the showmanship class for boys and girls under 15 years at Peterborough Exhibition. Following in father's footsteps Nora won the approval of the judge for her skillful handling of a 3-months-old colt in the show ring against three boys. She knows how to sit a saddle too.

Powerful Wedge Thrust Into Japanese Force

Japan's Heavily Reinforced Army in Danger of Being Split in Two.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 19—(AP). — Japan's reinforced army was in imminent danger of being split in two and driven back into the Whangpoo River to-night by a surging Chinese drive.

After fighting off a full day of repeated Japanese stab attacks, the Chinese thrust a powerful wedge into the broken Japanese lines, pushing their foe to within 500 yards of the murky river.

The Japanese positions were shattered a mile below the Astor House Hotel in the heart of the Japanese area of the international settlement.

With the water at their backs the Japanese were battling hard to keep from being cut in two. Tanks and armored cars were rushed into the area to bolster the Japanese bluejackets whowere slowly being forced to give ground.

The Chinese thrust came amid Japan's first major offensive in the Kiangwan area of North Shanghai where Shanghai's great civic centre is located. There the Chinese apparently were holding their own against Japanese infantry, artillery, naval and air attacks.

Heavy reinforcements of regular army troops from Japan threatened the attackers in this sector. Seven transport loads of men, munitions and artillery were landed at the Yangtsepoo docks in the Japanese sector of the International Settlement; 16 Japanese troopships, carrying 20,000 men, lay off the mouth of the Yangtse, ready to disembark fighters under the guns of Japanese destroyers.

The Japanese sought to cut off the Chinese in Shanghai from help from the Yangtse, to the north. There were reports 800,000 Chinese were concentrated at Nanking, the capital up the Yangtse, to reinforce the more than 100,000 already fighting about 25,000 Japanese bluejackets here.

Japanese air bombs missed their mark and hit the American Southern Baptist Mission in the Chapei quarter in North Shanghai. The fate of its 20 Americans was not known. The bombs apparently were aimed at a power house.

The International Radio Station at Chenju, near Shanghai, also was bombed, without important damage.

Consular authorities took a firm stand against a Japanese naval plan to take complete control of the river Whangpoo, which foreigners must be evacuated to the sea.

From North China came word of a Japanese advance five miles up Nankow Pass, the gateway to Chinese provinces Japan has not conquered.

Windows Are Broken As Liniment Goes Out

Chicago, Aug. 19.

EDWARD WOZINSKI, 42, massaged his rheumatic leg today —with a liniment he compounded himself.

The blast blew out most of the windows in his flat, set fire to the kitchen, burned Wozinski on the face and frightened twelve other residents into the street.

It woke up Wozinski's 12-year-old son, who became excited, smashed a window and jumped eight feet to the ground. His arm was cut.

Premier Hepburn States Jobs Not Certain At Textile Plants

(For terms of settlement and other stories see pages two and eight).

By Douglas R. Oliver
(Staff Writer, The Globe and Mail.)

PERTH, Aug. 19.—Despite the settlement that has been reached in the strike at the plants of Dominion Woollens, Ltd., at Peterborough, there was now no guarantee as to how many employees would be taken back to work, Premier Hepburn revealed here last night.

"So much business has been lost by the company during the strike, so many contracts cancelled, that the company, I am informed, doesn't know how many people they will be able to take back," declared the Prime Minister.

This strike could have been settled at the outset by the Labor and Industries Board, said Mr. Hepburn, but for the interference of the C.I.O. organizer there. That organizer—"his name is Welch" was the same man who cost 350 employees of a Toronto mill their job not long ago. Welch, he said, had been responsible for getting these people out on strike, despite the Government entreaties that they continue working until such time as the Government could investigate their claims and alleged grievances.

"But they struck," he said, "and a little later they came back to me to see if I could get their jobs back for them. I said, 'I'm sorry—it's too late. The company because of lack of business has had to move out of this Province, and I can do nothing about it.' Then I turned to Welch, who was standing near, and said to him: 'You're all right. You get paid for your work, and you'll go along somewhere else and stir up more trouble. But these people whom you've advised to strike aren't so fortunate. Now they have no jobs'."

CHILDREN'S DAY BEST IN HISTORY OF EXHIBITION

Just 95 cents more than a year ago was the surplus expenditure by children of the city and district on the rides and shows at the Exhibition up to 8 p.m. Wednesday.

Children's Day launched the Exhibition wit ha high spirit of enthusiasm. Total paid admissons exceeded 12,000, with a substantial increase over last year. The young folks packed the grandstand for the initial performance, and were thrilled and delighted by the circus and vaudeville artists. Included in both the afternoon and evening programs were Lenore Gordon and a group of amateurs who have been recent winners of entertainment contests at the Brock Street Summer Gardens, children who extended their experience and laurels before two capacity audiences at the grandstand.

The children quickly discovered several novelties along the midway and thronged them all afternoon and evening. The merry-go-round was doing business as usual, with no sign of breaking down, but miniature motor cars which children could drive themselves on enclosed "speedways" was the big hit of the day. They are geared to low speeds, but in every other respect the children get a lot of the fun of motoring out of these diminutive cars.

Attendants guide the smallest of the little folks, but there is practically no danger on the speedways, as the cars are equipped with surrounding bumpers and the speed of the cars appears to be no more than about four miles an hour.

A boy and girl, brother and sister, of the age around ten and eleven when family attachments sometimes seem to be the strongest, approached an attendant for their turn. He proposed that they separate, going to cars in each of which a boy was already at the wheel. They were almost in tears at the suggestion of parting for the ride, so the attendant made room for them in another car, and away they went, probably on their first ride when the boy drove a car with his sister beside him.

Junior Farmers Still Busy

The second morning of the fair found groups of young farmers from five of the district counties assembled in several tents for their final examination in connection with their inter-county calf club. E. A. Summers and H. M. Winter, agricultural representatives in Durham and Victoria counties, were helping A. D. Runions. The calf club contest is one of the projects that are designed to stimulate the interest of young farmers in the feeding and general care of cattle. The boys are required to do all the work of tending their calves, and finally at the Exhibition to-day their work is put to the test of competition, and finally they have to explain their methods, give reasons, and otherwise tell the judges the "why" and "how" of what they have done.

12,642 Attended Fair On First Day

Attendance at the Exhibition on Wednesday afternoon and evening was 1,172 more than on the opening day last year.

The total for the day, announced by Fred Holmes this morning, was 12,642, as compared with 11,470 on the corresponding day a year ago.

The total grand stand admissions were not available for the reason that the office at the grounds did not have the returns.

Directors this morning were highly pleased with the first day's attendance, and regarded the grand stand program, exhibits, midway, and other features as the most favorable basis of public satisfaction and publicity for the rest of the week.

Grants-In-Aid To Provinces Are Urged To Be Abolished

Employment Commission Reports on Its Work For Past 13 Months.

OTTAWA, Aug. 19 (CP).—Urging abandonment of indiscriminate disbursements in the form of grants-in-aid to provinces and recommending these be replaced by advances suited to special needs and circumstances, the National Employment Commission yesterday released its first interim report. The commission's work during the past 13 months was covered in the document.

In great measure many of the recommendations have already been implemented by legislation; others, however, encounter the old snag of administrative jurisdiction. The commissioners, Arthur B. Purvis, chairman, emphasized yesterday, want the Provincial employment services unified under a national administration. Here, however, efforts have been balked; and Mr. Purvis confessed himself disappointed in that regard.

The matter of Provincial jurisdiction also loomed as an obstacle to the proposal for establishing an apprenticeship plan in industry.

In a concurrent statement, issued with release of the interim report,

Dr. Brown estimated the "giant dinosaur" stood 35 feet high on his hind feet and lived in this area some 80,000,000 years ago.

Glad It Is Over Is General Expression Heard on the Streets

Noisy Council Passes Anti-Noise By-law

Montreal, Aug. 19.

MONTREAL City Council, at a noisy, protracted meeting, today adopted an anti?noise by-law to become effective after ratification by the Legislative Assembly at Quebec.

Alderman Dave Rochon, nevertheless, thinks some noise will continue. His suggestion peddlers and fruit merchants be forbidden to shout in public places was not accepted.

POLICE IN FORCE AS PLANTS RE-OPEN IN MONTREAL AREA

MONTREAL, Aug. 19 (CP).—Dominion Textile Company whose chain of plants throughout Quebec Provide the bulk of Canada's textile products, re-opened three of its four Montreal district factories today after an 18-day strike of 10,000 workers.

The re-opening, planned as the first attempt to re-start the string of factories, were made after a brief skirmish between armed police officers and scores of strikers who smashed windows in the Cote St. Paul plant and showered returning employees with stones, tomatoes and other vegetables. One constable was hit in the stomach by a rock, another was cut on the hand when he seized a knife from one of a gang crowded into the backyard of union headquarters in a vacant store. At least a half-dozen men and one woman were arrested.

The other two plants, in St. Henri Ward, were heavily-picketed but there was no trouble. Hundreds of workers patrolled the narrow lanes and avenues leading to the rambling big plants, closed nearly three weeks ago when National Catholic Union of Textile Workers called a walkout with a demand for collective bargaining rights and higher wages or shorter hours.

MESSENGER BOY IS UNDER ARREST

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—(CP)—Murray Sprigg, 19-year-old grocery store messenger boy, was arrested at his home here today on a charge of attempting to extort $500 from Frank W. Hunnisett, Jr., vice-president of Hunnisett, Limited, meat dealers.

Sprigg was arrested after police allegedly saw him pick up an envelope containing $500 in counterfeit money. Sprigg, according to police, threw the parcel away when he sighter the officers and fled. A Chase followed and the young man was taken into custody at his home after a brief struggle.

Last Monday Hunnisett received a letter printed in pencil demanding $500 be placed o nthe verandah of Sprigg's home. It was signed "The Secret Twelve." For 36 hours police watched the Sprigg home, a vigil that ended with arrest.

Harm to Hunnisett's wife was threatened unless the money was paid. The letter was turned over to police. The meat firm official was reported to have suffered a collapse and to have moved from his own home to that of his father, Mrs. Hunnisett is critically ill.

ORPEN IMPROVED

TORONTO, Aug. 19.—(CP).—A. M. Orpen, ill at his home here, was reported as "noticeably improved" to-day. The 83-year-old aportsman has been ill since he suffered a stroke some weeks ago.

Start to Build Up Framework of Complete Unionization of Plants.

Strikers rejoiced in bouyant acclaim of what they considered a complete strike victory and the general citizenry of Peterborough breathed signs of relief as news of the textile strike settlement was discussed in every quarter of the city today.

"Regardless of who won, I'm glad it's over," was the expression of one prominent citizen this morning typical of many.

Strikers set about the task of building a frame-work for complete unionization of both the Auburn and Bonner-Worth plants first thing this morning. Employees of the two plants were called by local United Textile Workers union leaders into separate departmental meetings which progressed in succession throughout the greatpart of the day at the East City Community Hall, the Paragon Hall and the Trades and Labor Hall. Each department elected stewards. It is understood stewards were being chosen on a basis of a representation of one steward for every fifteen workers, groups under each individual steward being regarded as a team.

Hope For 100 Per Cent.

"We hope to have the two plants 100 percent in the union within the next couple of weeks," Strike Chairman Mike English said. He estimated that 95 percent of the 350 workers at the Auburn, 80 per cent of the 320 Bonner-Worth workers can be won as paid-up members of the union immediately. Many took out union cards during the strike but were unable, for lack of funds, to pay their membership fees, he said.

"We are leaving the door open for those who went back to work last week to join the union," English stated. "It would be foolish to adopt any other course."

Operations at the Bonner-Worth and Auburn Mills proceeded as usual this morning, D. G. H. Melton and H. S. Leybourne reporting that a few additional workers answered the call of the whistle at each plant. Strike pickets had disappeared, called off the seven-week patrols of the plant fronts by orders of strike leaders last night.

May Be Delayed.

Mr. Melton and Mr. Leybourne said today it remained yet to be seen how quickly the two plants can be returned to normal operations. Those who may believe that operations can be picked up just where they were left off seven weeks ago have no clear understanding of the problem of operating textile mills, they explained.

News of the strike settlement was broadcast through the city rapidly by an extra edition of The Examiner, published shortly after the strike settlement became evident and containing a complete story. Issues of the Extra were seized upon eagerly by persons in the downtown section and later by crowds at the Exhibition Grounds.

Strikers and a large crowd of curious citizens attracted by news of the strike settlement gathered at the Market Square early in the evening to hear strike leaders proclaim a victory for organized labor. Placards bore such victory legends as: "We won!" in large letters.

Organizer Alex Welch declared the assurances of wage adjustments for Bonner-Worth and Auburn workers obtained solely through the persistence of the strikers and determination to sacrifice themselves for the union cause.

"The outcome of this strike is a clear demonstration that only through union strength can workers gain their just rights," Welch declared.

Call It Invitation.

Welch and other leaders, including Mrs. Edith Frizelle, Alex. Townsley, Elmer Hickey and Harvey Murphy, joined in declaring the outcome of the textile strike here an invitation to all workers in the city to organize under their respective union banners.

"This city is an industrial city and is known widely as a low-wage industrial city," Murphy declared. "When all labor in this city is organized into the great trade union movement, that reputation as a low-wage city will be wiped out automatically."

Strike leaders said this morning a victory parade would be held again this evening. The procession will likely move from the Legion Hall down to the Market Square where speeches will be heard, they said.

HAS 1195 MEMBERS.

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (CP).—Membership in the Canadian Bar Association totals 1,195, the association's membership committee reported at the annual meeting here today. This represents a paper loss, owing to the adoption of a recent practice of striking the lists annually but an actual gain in paying members.

Agreement Is Accepted At Meeting of Strikers Return To Work Friday

Strikers In Jubilant Mood As They Gathered To Hear J. L. Cohen Read Terms of Settlement Proposals. Vote For Acceptance Is Unanimous

Termination of the seven-week Peterborough textile strike of workers of the Auburn and Bonner-Worth mills of Dominion Woollens and Worsteds was at hand when a mass meeting of strikers accepted unanimously an agreement negotiated by their representatives with the company management under the mediation of Premier Hepburn, at 6.20 o'clock on Wednesday.

The agreement stipulates that all shall return to work Friday morning.

Vote on the agreement was taken after a lengthy presentation of the agreement draft to the assemblage of close to 200 strikers by J. L. Cohen, strike legal adviser. Many questions were asked during a period of discussion, but no voice of dissension was raised.

Strike leaders proclaimed the agreement a complete victory for organized labor. The agreement recognizes the local union through the fact P. M. Draper, president of the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, was made a party to the agreement, along with Premier Hepburn and the company management, they claimed.

"It is the best form of union recognition ever accorded any body of textile workers in Canada," Organizer Alex. Welch declared.

Features of the agreement are:

Undertaking of the company to abide by minimum wage rates which will be set by the Industry and Labor Board, and to allow returning strikers the benefits of wage increases thus resulting retroactively to the date of their return.

Provision for regular contact between the company and workers through grievance committees.

Payment of wages each week in cash.

The undertakings of the Government in regard to the settlement of the dispute are contained in a letter from Premier Hepburn to Mr. Cohen. The letter follows:

"Dear Mr. Cohen:

"In accordance with the intention expressed at the conference held in my office with representatives of Canadian Cottons Limited, Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited, on the one hand, and employees of the respective companies at Cornwall and Peterborough, represented by Mr. P. M. Draper, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, and yourself, this is to inform you that the Government is requesting the Industry and Labor Board to commence forthwith and to continue to an early completion an investigation of the wages, hours and related questions in connection with the textile industry

Mayor is Delighted Strike is Settled

Mayor George A. Macdonald, when told by The Examiner that the strike was settled, said he was delighted to hear the good news, and he was sure that the citizens of Peterborough would join with him in the feeling of satisfaction over the settlement. He also expressed his appreciation of the interest taken in reaching an agreement taken by Premier Hepburn.

CHEAPER POWER LOWER LICENSES PROMISED PEOPLE

PERTH, Ont., Aug. 19. (CP)—Electric power in abundance and so cheap it would be available to every resident in the province, coupled with a "sweeping reduction" in automobile license fees are some of the prospects held out by Premier Hepburn if his government is returned in the forthcoming Ontario election.

Yesterday Mr. Hepburn made a swing through Eastern Ontario, making his first political speeches in Richmond, Carleton County, and Perth, Lanark County, both traditional Conservative ridings. He asked the people to forget party allegiance and return him and his associates to complete the work they had started. He gave no indication of the election date but said it would be "in the near future."

In his handling of the Oshawa strike and activities of the C.I.O., Mr. Hepburn said he had no apologies to offer. He had been faced with a heavy responsibility and had adopted a stand which he would not alter so long as he remained in office.

All his sympathies were with the working people in their efforts to get a fair share of increased prosperity and he would not challenge the right of labor to organize and strike for its rights.

"Herrin Massacre"

"But neither do I challenge the right of a man to work if he wants to or refuse to join a certain union," he said. The "Herrin massacre" in Illinois many years ago was recalled by Mr. Hepburn, who said it was "perpetrated by John L. Lewis and his thugs."

"It is the same Mr. Lewis who is head of the C.I.O.," he said. "I always maintain a leopard cannot change his spots." Ontario had the finest labor legislation of any province in the Dominion or any state in the United States. Every provision had been made to guard the rights of organized labor and there was no need for the services of outside agitators, he declared.

Mr. Hepburn presented the financial record of his government: declaring it had balanced the budget, reduced the debt and for the first time had successfully fought the banks to obtain lowered interest rates.

Attacking Col. W. H. Price, former Ontario attorney-general and other officials of the last Conservative government for their opposition to succession duty investigations, Mr. Hepburn said these men were friends of Hon. Earl Rowe, Conservative leader.

If Mr. Rowe was victorious in the forthcoming election some $20,000,000 in overdue succession duties still outstanding would not be collected, Mr. Hepburn said, "because Mr. Rowe's hands will be tied by his friends." He charged the last government with "graft, inefficiency and fraud," in respect to non-payment of succession duties.

Already some $28,000,000 in overdue succession duties had been collected, Mr. Hepburn said, and some 44 estates were now under investigation.

Hilda Rowland of Newcastle seconded the motion of thanks.

Entertainment was provided by Stan Northrop at the piano with Mrs. James A. Goldie and Jack Smith as vocal soloists.

250 Young Farmers Set Up New Record For The Exhibition

Hon. Duncan Marshall Addresses Banquet at Conclusion of Day's Judging.

Constituting the largest gathering of its kind here and emphasizing the continuing growth and importance of junior farmer activities in connection with Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, over 250 young farmers and farmerettes were banquetted at Empress Hotel last evening.

As the guests of Gordon S. Matthews, manager of Canada Packers Limited the junior farmers representative of Peterborough, Victoria, Hastings, Ontario, Northumberland, Durham and Prince Edward counties, heard results of judging contests and listened to an inspiring address delivered by the Honorable Duncan S. Marshall, Ontario Minister of Agriculture.

Opportunity On Farm

Introduced by J. J. Duffus, M.P. Peterborough West, the distinguished guest speaker urged upon the young people the importance of industry and asked them to realize they must create their own opportunities. He expressed a firm belief there were great opportunities in agriculture and plenty of scope for the specialist on the farm.

Stressing the importance of junior farmer projects and offering his heartiest congratulations to Mr. Matthews, Canada Packers Limited and other industrial concerns in the province who encouraged and promoted such activities, Mr. Marshall said, "Farming is the most intricate and complex business in the world and one requiring a great degree of intelligence".

Congratulating the young farmers on their performance and paying tribute to the good work being done by the agricultural representatives and instructors concerned, the Minister expressed a hope that every boy and girl settled on a farm might learn to appreciate more fully the possibilities offered by the farm.

Tribute to Runions.

He took the opportunity of extending his personal congratulations to Art D. Runions, Peterborough County agricultural representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture, describing him as "A good man on a good job."

Tribute was also paid to Mr. Runions and his associates by Mr. Duffus and Mr. Matthews, and the increasing success of the junior farmer projects in Central Ontario was largely attributed to their enthusiasm for the work.

Each year since junior farmer projects were first organized Canada Packers have been hosts during Exhibition week to the boys and girls from the farm, and the number has steadily increased from year to year, so that last night accommodation of the hotel dining room was taxed beyond the limit and two sittings were needed to cater to the large crowd.

Among the Guests

Other guests included: Thomas Brown, president of the Exhibition Board; Miss Greta Pollard, representative of the Women's Institute Branch in charge of girl's work for Central Ontario; H. J. Maybee, Dominion Livestock Branch; W. P. Watson, Provincial Livestock Branch; M. C. McPhail, assistant director of agricultural representatives Ontario Department of Agriculture; Art Runions, Peterborough; M. H. Winter, Victoria; E. A. Summers, Durham; Fred Webster, Prince Edward; Alex Innis, Ontario County; C. D. Graham, Peel; Joseph Wilson, Hastings; and A. H. Martin, Northumberland.

Miss Pollard announced Durham County girl's team as the winners of the team demonstration for the "well equipped clothes closet". She declared Hilda Rowland of Newcastle as first in that class, naming Florence Metheral, Oakwood, first in nutrition (seniors); Frances McFarlane, Shannonville, first in nutrition (juniors); Clara Nelson, Warkworth, first in clothing (seniors); Grace Sloggett, Campbellford, first in clothing (juniors); and Rita Torpey, Peterborough, first in summer clothes section.

Mr. McPhail announced the results of the boy's junior farmer contests, and named the following at the head of the various sections: Ernest Brackenridge, Millbrook, Clare Leahy, Lakefield, Harold Donaldson, Peterborough, Alfred Allen, Bowmanville, Arthur Huff, Bloomfield, James Moore, Peterborough, Garnet Rickard, Bowmanville; and T. Charles Whittington, Peterborough.

Votes of Thanks

At the conclusion of the announcements and speechmaking Edward O'Toole of Otonabee Township very ably moved a vote of thanks to the host and guest of the evening declaring, "We consider ourselves fortunate in having organizations like the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Board and Canada Packers Limited who will show sufficient interest in rural young people to make junior farmer activities and banquets such as this possible". He added the Honorable Duncan Marshall's address had been a most fitting climax to the days program of junior farmer activity.

WARSAW, Aug. 19—A goodly number attended the Warsaw W. I. picnic held at the Back Dam on Thursday afternoon. The slight shower did not dampen the pleasure of the occasion. Everyone was in good spirits and came with the intention of having a good time.

A short business meeting, led by the president, was held before the games.

An invitation from Lakefield W. I. Branch inviting Warsaw Branch to join them in a picnic at Mrs. James Moore's home on Wednesday, Sept. 1st was read. Moved by Mrs. R. Payne, seconded by Mrs. Tucker and carried, that the invitation be accepted.

Warsaw Branch regular October meeting will be on Friday, October 1st. There will be a special meeting on Wednesday, October 20, when a department speaker will be here. Westwood Branch is being invited.

Personals

Mrs. Hooper and daughter of Toronto are visiting among their relatives in and near Warsaw.

Mrs. Uriah Payne left on Thursday to visit her daughters in Montreal.

Miss Lenore McIlvena is spending a week with her grandmother in Lakefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Payne visited Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tedford at Trent River on Sunday.

Miss Dora Tedford, nurse at Whitby, made a hurried visit among her relatives in the district for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Payne and Miss Alma McCracken motored to Kingston recently to visit Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Payne.

Mr. and Mrs. Judd and family have returned to Toronto after a delightful holiday with Mrs. Judd's parents.

Rare Disease

Suffering from a disease which produces a gradual and progressive loss of power in the muscles, four-months-old Sally Anne Stewart (ABOVE), daughter of a Toronto dentist, has no hope of cure, according to well-known specialists. Two years ago a sister of the baby, the first born to the parents, died under similar circumstances. Known in medical circles as amaurotic congenita. No cure has yet been discovered for the dread disease. According to Dr. Charles E. Ward, pediatrician at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., the disease is one which dates back to before birth.

Quite a number of farmers have been threshing in the fields. Reports vary as to crops. Wheat generally is reported good, so is a good deal of barley though some barley and a good deal of oats are light as they ripened too fast in hot weather. Garden stuff has come along wonderfully some vegetables such a beets are growing too large. Mr. Milton Drain's potatoes are a splendid crop and are ripening. He has Yellow Danners onions very large and ripe. Apple crop generally is poor. There is a good showing of wild grapes. Pastures which were dry are coming up since the last rains.

NO CHILD OFFICERS

PRESTON, England—(CP). —The Lancashire Education Committee has rejected a proposal that the oldest children at schools should be given flags to hold up traffic while younger ones cross the street.

CHOLERA EPIDEMIC HITS HONG KONG

HONG-KONG, Aug. 19 (AP). — This British colony was gripped by a cholera epidemic today. The disease has spread through the island. Scores of new cases have been reported daily with 80 per cent. of them ending in death.

Because of the Sino-Japanese war raging at Shanghai, authorities were unable to obtain fresh supplies of anti-cholera vaccine there.

China National Airways Corporation planes transported 600 pounds of the serum to Hong-Kong before the outbreak of the Shanghai fighting a week ago.

Special appeals were made to other Far Eastern ports to rush more vaccine by air.

DEATH STALKS OUR HIGHWAYS!

If every human life in a village of 800 people in the Province of Ontario were snuffed out in one day, newspapers throughout the entire world would carry the story of the ghastly tragedy.

If one of your loved ones—or even a friend—were a victim, it would become quite a grievous, horrible, personal loss!

That is precisely what is going on in Ontario this year. Nearly 800 people will be killed on our highways. Nearly 14,000 will be injured—many of them crippled; many of them suffering almost unbearable pain. Death and untold suffering stalk our highways and this must stop!

RECKLESS DRIVERS BEWARE!

Motorists have been requested to be courteous on the road but the death toll mounts at an appalling rate. This Department, with the aid of our internationally famous police force and public-spirited citizens, intends to put reckless drivers off the road! You must stop cutting in, passing on hills and curves, crowding, racing, taking chances. Unless you have regard for the safety and convenience of other users of our highways you will soon find yourself in serious trouble.

MOTORISTS: WE ASK YOUR HELP!

When you see a motorist driving in a manner dangerous to the public, take his number, make a careful note of the actual time and place, and when you reach your destination write to the Motor Vehicles Branch, Department of Highways, Toronto, giving full details. We do not invite reports of minor infringements of the traffic laws; you are requested to use sound judgment. We will deal adequately with offenders!

The End Of The Strike

'I'm glad to hear that," was a common expression when news was given that the textile strike in this city had come to an end and work at Bonner-Worth and Auburn Mills was to be resumed. The feeling seemed to be that something had been lifted from the city which had come as an unwelcome visitor—a strike.

The agreement hinges upon the action which the Industry and Labor Board of the Province will take in inquiring into and recommending certain standards of wages, and that is essentially the information which Premier Hepburn sought to have placed before the workers several days ago. Placing this new minimum wage will not be quick work, because the new rate is going to be made effective to all mills operating in Ontario where goods similar to those manufactured in Peterborough plants are being turned out. Whether the size of the community in which the mill is situated and the variance in the cost of living in different places will be considered is something on which we have no information. But it is quite possible that such factors will enter the field of research..

If an upward scale of wages is decided upon, and it probably will be, it may mean that workers in other plants will find themselves in a better financial position by reason of the action taken in Peterborough.

To what extent recognition of the union has been conceded is not at the moment entirely plain. In the text of agreement it is stated:

"All employees to be free from discrimination either for or against trade union membership."

Against that is the fact that P. M. Draper, President of the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, was made a party to the agreement. In that way Canadian unionism was recognized in the negotiations, although there is nothing in the agreement to indicate that closed shop conditions are to exist.

To what extent there were conditions included in the final agreement which could not have been reached without a strike of seven week's duration is difficult to state. The matter of wages is the chief concern, as it was stated in the opening chapter that no more could be paid under conditions existing in the industry. It may be that the making of any wage agreement applicable to all competing factories is the point which primary negotiations could not have handled with competence as it would require governmental jurisdiction to embrace the wider territory. The Peterborough plants know now that any increases which they may be ordered to pay will apply with equal force to companies in Ontario with whom they have to compete.

A strike in any community is an unwelcome visitor. It produces frayed tempers and a degree of suffering as well as loss to the factories concerned. We can only hope that the workers now that they have decided to return pending the outcome of government investigations and awards will ultimately find themselves in possession of pay envelopes which will have adequate strength to insure a right and fair standard of living.

Mentally Ill But At Liberty

New York has its Father Divine, described as a shiny-faced, slightly-built Negro cult leader. He is referred to as God and his followers are Angels, and the strange thing is he numbers his followers by the several thousands.

There was a slight disturbance in Heaven, for that is what they call their meeting place, and Father Divine said he had decided to perform a miracle—he was going to evaporate for 1900 years. That caused a degree of sorrow to spread among the Angels, but the reason for the promised evaporation seems to be more worldly than celestial. Some of the Angels came forward in the early days of the movement and presented the leader of the cult with their possessions. One nice trusting Angel brought along $4,000. Now she has tired of being an Angel and desires her possessions restored. Men who attend to the collection of bad debts —worldly ones—have also been invading Heaven, and a number of the Angels have been named as co-defendants in actions brought against the cult. So there is a certain scampering of the Angels back to their former status of plain people.

It is a strain on human credulity to believe that people by the hundreds would become caught up in such a blasphemous sort of organization. One slightly-built Negro proclaimed he was God; that he would organize Heaven at once and then the rush of stupid and thoughtless persons started in his direction. The present accommodation in institutions for the treatment of those who are admittedly mentally ill is not sufficient, and it appears there are many on the outside whom even a cursory examination would or should mark as being sadly in need of the kindly services of such institutions.

He Has Punished Himself

A young man of 19 years was arrested in London, Ont., and the immediate reason was because he entered a restaurant and struck a customer over the eye, inflicting sufficient damage to call for medical care. A policeman happened to be passing at the time the blow was administered.

Then it was brought to the surface that the young man of 19 was on suspended sentence for theft.

Later on there was the added charge that he was in possession of a liquor permit which had been secured by giving a wrong age and a false street address, although there are several ways by which such a matter could have been checked when the permit was being issued.

Court referred to the youth as a "problem case," and that means it is going to be difficult to know what to do with him. His defects so far known are:

He was guilty of theft and did not appreciate the fact that he was being given a second chance through suspended sentence.

He struck a man so hard when he was seated at a table that medical attention was needed.

He perjured himself in order to secure a liquor permit. And his desire for a permit shows he wants to drink.

And he is just 19, about the age when a good many young fellows complete their collegiate work. The law may now step in and punish him, but he has already punished himself. He is standing with life before him, at the age when a normal youth would be seriously thinking of what he intended doing as a life work, and before he has made a start he has branded himself as one whom no person would care to employ. The law may punish him; probably will. But the punishment he has inflicted upon himself and his chances for the future is heavier than anything the court can do to him.

Nothing Else To Do

The next move seems to be distinctly up to premier Aberhart of Alberta. He caused legislation to be passed by which the licensing and control of branch banks in Alberta would become subject to the laws and taxation of Alberta. If the banks did not submit then it would have been difficult for them to have carried on business in that province. A bank would not have been able to initiate or defend an action in the civil court. Added to that was a provision that no individual could test the validity of the Alberta government's laws without the consent of the government. Mr. Aberhart had the thing packed in his grip with the key in his pocket.

Premier King made the reasonable suggestion that the validity of what Alberta was seeking to do should be submitted to the Supreme Court of Canada for hearing and decision, but Mr. Aberhart would have none of that. There was nothing much left but to call the Dominion cabinet and pass an order-in-council proclaiming flatly that all the three Bank Acts passed by the Aberhart government were of no effect. An order of that type kills them as effectively as though they had never existed.

It may be that Premier Aberhart will find in his latest move on the part of the King cabinet an issue to take before the people as an explanation of why Social Credit has failed in Alberta. He will be able to say that the banks were opposed to him and the Dominion government took the same position as the banks. It will make very nice fodder for a hard-pressed leader to feed to constituents who have been hungering for a long time for basic dividends.

Regulating banks and credit is something which is not in the hands of any provincial government. Nor should it be. It is attended to by Ottawa because it is something which affects the entire Dominion. There was no other move which Premier King and his cabinet could have made. Premier Aberhart foolishly forced the issue and Ottawa completed it.

Living In Russia Today

Col. George A. Drew, writing to the Globe and Mail from London says he was at Hyde Park Corner listening to the debaters. Nor would he have to wait long for the meeting to start; it seems to be going on all the time there. One ardent speaker was telling of Russia. With a wave of the arm he pointed to a nearby fashionable hotel, in front of which were expensive cars, and the truth was driven home that in England the workers were slaving to provide cars for the rich and could not even buy a motorcycle for themselves, while in Russia people were paid according to the work they performed and no one rolls about in cars costing a fortune and paid for by the "money stolen from the workers."

Col. Drew writes it would probably be no use trying to convince that ardent young speaker he was wrong because no speaker ever likes to be told he is wrong. But Col. Drew had returned from Russia not long since, and there he saw the most expensive cars made, but they were being driven for the benefit of officials. He had his camera with him and he took pictures of articles offered for sale in the windows of Moscow stores. Strange, too, there was a motorcycle in the picture, and it was priced at $1,320, and a skilled Russian worker gets $65 per month. In the store windows there were men's shoes priced at $40.50, and women's shoes at more than that.

The observations of Col. Drew lead him to the conclusion that the land of the Soviet is one of the greatest examples of the heights of affluence and the abject depths of human despair. The commissars, the heads of governmental bureaus, engineers in charge of factories and officials in charge of transportation —these people do well, live well and lack for no good thing. Turning to the other class Col. Drew writes:

"The people in villages and smaller towns are mostly in bare feet and tattered rags. I have never before seen whole masses of people literally on the verge of starvation. I had not imagined that such ghastly destitution still existed anywhere in the world. I have seen the negroes and the 'poor whites' in the cotton areas of the south. They live like kings compared with a large percentage of the Russian peasants today."

The young chap at Hyde Park who was talking volubly about the system in Russia had never been there. And that was probably the reason why he could make such a good speech about it.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Peterborough has been setting the pace in the matter of high temperature and that in the week of the annual fall fair must be some kind of a record.

A story from Washington says that a child prodigy may inherit a fortune. That is a better break than child prodigies usually get.

Victoria county mother of triplets distinguishes them by the number of freckles on their faces. Naturally they are easily spotted in that way.

Nowadays when strikers quit work they work harder than if they were working keeping other workers from going to work.

It is predicted that beef and pork prices will fall before the end of the year but the drop is not likely to be speedy enough to catch anybody underneath.

The Mayor of St. Thomas is trying to speed up traffic within the city limits. Mayors of other centres would like to know how to slow it down.

As one commentator says it is an old story. Adam was quite satisfied in the Garden of Eden until an agitator came along and told him he wasn't getting his rights.

A groom in the United States found himself one cent short of the $2 required for a marriage license. Most folk manage to get their honeymoon over before they find the funds getting that low.

One of Mr. Hepburn's troubles is that while he is watching the Ottawa river to keep Sir Herbert Holt out, John L. Lewis may be ferrying across the Detroit river to enter Ontario in the west.

Chinese flyers who participated in recent air battles have been promoted and given a raise in pay. It is to be hoped they will last long enough to enjoy their reward.

London council has passed the buck in regard to the starling nuisance to the Board of Health and that body will undoubtedly slip it on to the Medical Health officer. He had better get his shot-gun and start in working.

While Mr. Hepburn is telling the world what he is going to do to John L. Lewis he might turn his eyes in the direction of Foleyet where 25 sit-downers are preventing 125 other timber workers from getting back on the job.

Premier Aberhart says he will fight the action of the Dominion government in disallowing Alberta's banking ligislation. However he promises to do so constitutionally so that the battle is not likely to amount to much.

William K. Sanderson, locomotive engineer, of London, has retired after 45 years service during which he travelled over two million miles. Motorists might note that in all that distance he never once passed on a hill or travelled on the wrong side of the road.

LEARNING

(By A. R. K.)

¶ The fiddler gathered up his bow, sweet music then began to flow, it cast its spell on me; I listened as I closed my eyes, and I could see bright summer skies, a river and a tree.

¶ And as he changed his mood there came, some thunder and a bit of rain, and darkness in the skies; no more there came the strain of peace, all restful things began to cease, and wind was on the rise.

¶ I marvelled at the way he played, so daring and so unafraid, the storm came at his call; he tucked the fiddle 'neath his chin, the thing looked easy like to him, he bothered not at all.

¶ And so I took his instrument, and started out with good intent, 'twas such an easy thing; I'd play an ode to summer breeze, to winding streams and bending trees, sweet melody I'd bring.

¶ But I brought forth a rasping sound, in which no beauty had been found, it sounded halt and lame; the fiddle and the bow were there, that he had used with loving care, the sound was not the same.

¶ The master hand upon the bow, had started twenty years ago, hence came his skill and fame; and if I wished to play like him, with fiddle tucked beneath my chin—I'd have to do the same.

ENGLAND wished some trouble on herself when she opened her doors to hundreds of Basque refugees from Spain. Some of the younger element among the Basques have given the authorities a headache by their disorderly conduct and as a result of disturbances at Brechfa Camp, Camarthenshire, some 20 boys will probably be sent back to Spain. All are between 13 and 17 years of age and according to Wilfrid Roberts M.P., chairman of the National Joint Committee for Spanish relief are suffering from a form of shellshock and nervous breakdown. At any rate they have been causing plenty of trouble, blocking roads with barrels of tar, attacking a nearby inn and breaking all the windows, throwing knives at the police and other similar amusements.

A Popular Bird.

"GERTRUDE" the Hyneymoon goose proved quite an attraction at a horticultural show at Southampton recently. "Gertrude" was found by a young American honeymoon couple in their bed shortly after the liner Aquitania had sailed from New York to Southampton. She had evidently been placed there as a joke by friends of the newly-wed couple who later presented the goose to the assistant butcher of the ship who gave it to his wife in Southampton. Church authorities conducting the horticultural show heard about it and borrowed the bird as a novel sideshow, scores of people paying a penny to see the celebrated goose.

A German bachelor, not called for service and in receipt of an income of $1500 a year has to pay $290 income tax, according to Hitler's latest taxation degree. In addition other compulsory contributions knock another $100 off the German bachelor's income while most Germans belong to some Nazi organization like the Labor Front which pockets another $30 a year. Tax on bachelors is part of Hitler's more-children drive for marriage more than halves income tax and children steadily reduce the tax until a married man with five children and earning $3,000 a year does not have to pay income tax at all.

They're Still Opposed.

LEADERS of industry in New Zealand are reported as being still opposed vocally to the operation of the 40-hour week as regards its effects upon the cost of manufacture. The general complaint is the uneconomic operation of business as a result. The fact that more and more men are being absorbed into different avenues of employment. "It is pleasing to report that very few skillful men who are willing and able to work are now out of employment," said the statement presented to the annual conference of the Disabled Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment League.

Tinder Box In Asia.

UNITED States is interested in the trouble in China. One U. S. writer puts it this way:

China has the sympathy of Russia, who looks upon the Dragon country as a potential ally. Russia has a pact with France. France is bound with England. And Germany is allied to Japan. Figure out your results. Now we must consider the future plans of the United States. It still possesses the Philippine Islands. It has, of course, more than a passing interest in the Hawaiian Islands. It owns Guam, a stopping-off place of the Eastern air lines. It is, in short, definitely tied up with any developments that may occur in the East.

How are we to keep ourselves neutral and abstain from any warfare? And what are we to do with our 1,000 United States Marines and our 3,000 nationals in Shanghai, where the tinder box is the hottest? More Americans have been killed, and our nationals may meet a sad fate. Will this influence Secretary Hull's foreign policy? Will he feel constrained to proclaim an emergency? Will he send off a sharp note to Tokio? Let us reason this thing out in the broad terms of international relations. We have a great interest in the trade of the East. Some of our best firms have invested large sums of money in China, and our relations with that country have been, on the whole, fairly respectable. But we simply cannot afford to give any aid to a program that will set the whole world on fire.

TWO GOOD REASONS

"You know, Hopkins, I think this hiking is going to do me a lot of good." London Opinion.

How Do You Like Your Bacon Cut?

Trenchermen Want It Thick If Too Thin It Gets "Cooked To Nothing".

(From the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix.)

HOW thick should a slice of bacon be?

Most bacon-for-breakfast enthusiasts are hearty trenchermen and consequently are inclined to say that all slices of bacon, except those they slice themselves, are too thin.

But others, whose palates are pleased with delicate shades of flavor find that such nuances are readily obtained by the thinness of the slice and that they can toy enjoyably with a tissue-paper fragment of pork.

There is a sharp cleavage of opinion on this important question. It has come to a head in the bacon-loving State of Tennessee where in response to public clamor the State Legislature is dealing with the question.

It appears that of late bacon has been sliced too thin in that State. It is averred that someone has invented a machine which will slice bacon "to much an infinitesimal thinness as to make it invisible to the naked eye at a distance of four feet when lying on a white plate."

But whose eye is four feet from the plate when they sit down to breakfast? And anyway bacon is not sliced for purpose of being looked at but in order to be fried, broiled, grilled or otherwise processed and then eaten.

Anyway the hearty trenchermen of Tennessee rebelled against the thinness of the slices and took the matter to the Legislature which now has before it a bill pegging the thickness and area of a slice at a minimum. The dimensions set down in the bill are that the slice shall not be shorter that 1⅞ inches nor less than 1-132 of an inch thick.

Now this doesn't seem reasonable. If one takes a slice of that size and cooks it will there be any thing left? Would it be viable to the naked eye or even to the eye clothed in powerful horn-rimmed specs? But more important than that, how many slices would it take to halt the appetite of a healthy Tennessee mountaineer?

And if the purpose of this proposed legislation is to make the slices of bacon thicker then indeed they must have infinitesimal before.

Some Advice To Young Couples

Matron Says Bad Cooking Has Wrecked Many Homes.

(From Galt Reporter.)

IT is a familiar custom among people who have had long experience and success in some department of human effort, to try to describe to the younger and less sophisticated of the race, some of the specific elements that have helped them on the difficult road of existence. A Toronto woman, who with her husband won the title of "Toronto's Oldest Married Couple" at the recent old boys' and girls' picnic, expresses some criticism of the modern philisphy of life and offers advice to the young people that might aid them in the tasks of existence.

Mrs J. E. Colwell, who is the lady referred to, is 74 years of age and she has been married for 54 years. She admits that she and her husband quarrelled occasionally but they raised a family of eleven children and are still quite interested in the affairs of life.

This distinguished woman thinks that the rock on which many matrimonial craft are wrecked in these days is the inability of the young wife to cook a decent meal. She is convinced that girls contemplating marriage ought to learn to cook and that they ought to avoid late hours. In her opinion, the rule ought to be to get to bed before midnight. Her formula for the avoidance of threatened quarrels is for one of the matrimonial partners to walk away leaving the other to talk to the air.

The establishment of a permanent home early is another strong recommendation of this experienced woman. It is the woman's greatest kingdom.

Early marriage, a sensible budget for the household outlay, an optimistic, cheerful attitude, an avoidance of "sissie love" in which the young couple see too much of each other before marriage, avoidance of wild night life, are some of the details which she considers of value to the young generation.

There is another hint in Mrs. Colwell's list of aids to happy marriage that may interest the young people of today. She says that $15 a week is not too small a salary on which to start married life. But that means the sacrifice of some things that the average youth of today is fearful of. The training in that respect has been faulty. Those of limited resources are thrown into the company of friends who have more. That gives rise to the effort to maintain impossible standards and the contracting of burdensome debt. That, of course, is where character and willpower are required, the determination to postpone pleasures until they can be afforded. It is the acid test as to whether the young newly-weds posses the qualities to fit them for the difficult tasks of life. A large percentage fail in that regard.

Drought Problem Increasing

Dry Area In West Grows Ruin Faces Thousands

(From the Kitchener Record.)

PRESENT crop prospect in the West are far from encouraging. Estimates place the total yield at only 200,000,000 bushels. Those pessimistically inclined say it may be even less. This would mean the poorest crop since wheat growing assumed major proportions in the Prairie Provinces. Although the poor yield will undoubtedly be offset to some extent by higher wheat prices, it will tend to aggravate the situation in the drought area of Southern Saskatchewan where another total crop failure is almost a certainty.

For the eighth successive year this section of the west has suffered from severe droughts. What was once a thriving agricultural district with almost endless stretches of waving golden grain now resembles a desert and more people in this section are becoming destitute.

A Regina dispatch states that ruin faces more than 500,000 Saskatchewan people, two-thirds of the province's population, as a result of the drought which has virtually wiped out wheat and threatened livestock with starvation.

Something will have to be done to re-establish the drought area as well as its people. It is a national problem crying for solution.

To delay corrective measures appears to be inviting more trouble; for it seems that the drought area is gradually increasing in size. E. H. Targett of Flaxcombe, Sask., in a letter to the press says: "One thing is certain; this drought, a devastating octopus, is slowly but surely spreading its death-dealing tentacles west and north. Last season, and again this season, drought has taken its toll in places where good crops were the rule instead of the exception. It has taken a little over 25 years for our western country to arrive at its present stage of development, and unless immediate direct action is taken to combat drought, 25 years hence will see a desert plain stretching approximately from Edmonton east to Winnipeg and south to the international boundary."

It is difficult to suggest just what remedial measures should be adopted. But it seems that a good plan would be to irrigate areas where this is feasible by the diversion of rivers, the construction of canals and reservoirs. Other sections where irrigation projects would be impracticable and too costly might well be reverted to grazing lands as Nature had intended them to be.

To the Editor

A FAMOUS MISSION

Editor Examiner:

Sir: The most famous Protestant mission in the world is The China Inland Mission with head quarters at Shanghai, the present war - torn Chinese City. This mission is entirely independent of all other religious organizations and is ruled exclusively by its own directorate in that city. It was founded in 1866 and has three main divisions or branches:

1. The religious branch which through its missionaries in Inland China teach the Christian religion. The tenets of its faith are the old simple supernatural gospel teachings of the Old Belief and it has guarded against modernism by a proviso that any one finding himself or herself no longer able to subscribe to the Old Faith must straightway withdraw and leave its service. People have often asked how this mission is affected by the higher criticism and other modernistic innovations and they will find their answer in this proviso. It is not affected by it at all although attempts have been made to introduce their mission. It is supported by contributions from all over the world of which it gives a strict accounting.

2. Its medical branch is fully up-to-date and has been the means of alleviating much suffering.

3. But it is through the Teaching or Educational Branch that it does its most affective work not teaching the pupils simply how to think but what to think and it is needless to say that the gospel is the main consideration.

A system of education which ignores Christianity would not be introduced or tolerated in its schools and not only do the Chinese learn the English language and the religion of Christ but the teachers are enabled to learn Chinese and how to impart their religious teachings in that language.

WALLING DEFENDS TITLE ON FRIDAY

sawyers Alphonse McManus, R.R. 1, Peterborough, made fastest time. His actual time for a triple cut through a four-foot length of hard six-inch maple was 1.51 2-5 seconds. He drew a 10-second penalty on the grading, making a B instead of an A grade.

Harold L. Garner, managing director of The Examiner, welcomed contestants to the second annual World's Championship Buzzsaw Contest, and called on Mr. Duffus to declare the contest officially open.

"A Manly Art."

"In some parts of the country," Mr. Garner said, "buzzsawing is now only a lost art, but an unheard of accomplishment." He asserted The Examiner was always glad to sponsor any movement that might help to cement a better understanding between city and country, and he believed the buzzsaw contest was a means of keeping alive a "manly art" and of bringing together the finest in their line from all parts of the country.

He announced that the world's champion and the leading three contestants on Thursday and the three leading contestants on Friday would be offered contracts to appear before the grandstand at the Exhibition on Friday evening. These will include Bracy, Fry, and McManus among to-day's contenders.

In declaring the contest open, Mr. Duffus congratulated the management of The Examiner for sponsoring such an activity and remarked on the fact that it was originally conceived and planned by the late Perry J. Giffen, former managing director of the newspaper. The speaker took the opportunity of expressing publicly a word of welcome to Mr. Garner, successor of the late Mr. Giffen, and declared that in a brief time he had won his way into the confidence of the people of Peterborough. "It is well we have men of his type interested in public affairs," he stated.

The Officials.

Fred Scates officiated once again as efficient Master of Ceremonies; other officials of the ring being as follows: Judge, Herbert Crary, Timers: Gus White, Nagle Phelan, G. H. Roper. Starter, J. J. Duffus, M.P.

To-day's contestants and their times and gradings were:

Edward Rose, 423 Driscoll Terrace, 3.15 A.

Alphonse McManus, R.R. 1, Peterborough, 1.51 2-5 B.

Ray F. Fry, 171 Aylmer street 3.11 A.

Rupert Brady, 177 Douro Street, 2.59 A.

Fry, recent hero of a rescue from drowning entered the contest after completing his work on the night shift at Canada Packers Limited, and put up a creditable performance that should assure him a place in the finals to-morrow.

Jack Wood of St. George, Ontario, who took high standing in a backsaw contest sponsored by The Brantford Expositor following The Examiner contest last year, arrived in the city to compete for the world title. Declaring he was selected to come here by Jack McNabb, former alderman of this city, Mr. Wood claims his time last year was 42 seconds flat. He looks like a serious contender for the honors.

Most of those entered for to-morrow morning made excellent showings last year. They include such 1936 finalists as Manley, McLennan, Orde and Moloney.

BRIGADE SERGEANT SAVED BOY'S LIFE

Members of St. John Ambulance Brigade were conspicuous in the crowds at the Exhibition Wednesday, but their special knowledge and skill were fortunately not required on the opening day. Several of the men informed The Examiner that Sergeant Robert Blair of the local Brigade had restored a boy who was rescued from drowning at Sunnyside Beach, Toronto, Monday.

Ian Cameron, 160 Livingston Avenue, Toronto, was under water nearly three minutes, and seemed lifeless when he was brought ashore. Mr. Blair heard the calls for emergent help, and applied artificial respiration, until the boy's breathing returned. At that stage a lifeguard came along and received all the credit for the successful resuscitation.

ROWE PROMISES NO DICTATORSHIP

SARNIA, Ont., Aug. 19.—(CP).—Hon. Earl Rowe, Ontario Conservative leader, speaking here last night challenged Premier Hepburn 'to deny he is not planning to negotiate new Hydro contracts because he finds himself faced with a Hydro shortage."

Mr. Rowe said it was presumptuous of the Administration to seek support because it was a bulwark of law and oder.

"We have never had a more lawless government than is at present sitting at Queen's Park," he said, declaring the "black flag of repudiation" had been raised by Ontario when contracts for power were nullified.

Labor has the right of free association and collective bargaining, said Mr. Rowe, and "I favor the right of the secret ballot by which the worker may state his views within the union.

No Dictatorial Attitude.

"There will be no dictatorial attitude towards labor as far as I am concerned," he said. 'I propose to say 'I trust the man who toils and I expect him to trust me.' No other policy can endure in the system of British justice. I saw to the laborer it is his business to join what labor organization he thinks fit, while it is my responsibility to maintain and properl yadminister law and order in the province.

The Hepburn governments surplus was achieved because taxation was raised to new heights, Mr. Rowe said. In 1936 Ontario tax revenues reacher $82,000,000, higher by $32,000,000 than the Conservative collections in 1933.

"He curtailed expenditure under the pretext of economy," he said, charging Premier Hepburn had reduced essential services that the budget might be balanced.

"What sort of economy allows insane asylums to be overcrowded, so patients sleep in corridors?" asked Mr. Rowe.

The Conservative leader said the Liberals had created new boards and commissions, instead of reducing them, and that there were now more civil servants than at any time in Ontario's history.

Homemaking Clubs, Judging and Demonstrations at P.I.E.

An intensely interesting spot yesterday at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition was the tent where one hundred and five girls took part in the exhibits, judging and demonstrations of the Home-making Clubs of seven counties, namely Peterborough, Hastings, Northumberland, Durham, Victoria, Prince Edward and Ontario.

Beginning at nine in the morning, the judging made rapid progress, each team being allowed 15 minutes. Dresses, slips, garment bags, school lunches, and tea biscuits, etc., were judged.

In the afternoon, demonstrations were given by teams (composed of two or three girls) from each county. These were exceptionally well handled and covered the various projects the clubs have been studying since last October. These are: The Supper Club project, Clothes Closets Up-to-Date, Well Dressed and Well Groomed Girl, Dressing of Home-Grown Vegetables, Cottons May Be Smart, and Summer Clothes For Girls Project.

Miss G. Pollard, Home Economics coach of the clubs, Miss V. Banbridge of the Women's Institute Branch of the Department of Agriculture, Toronto, and Mrs. C. Mann of this city are in charge of the judging and demonstrations. The list of prize-winners yesterday appears elsewhere in this edition.

Canadian Helps British Courts

LONDON, Aug. 19—(CP).—Bound for Canada with a feather in her cap is Mrs. Jeanete Pearson, formerly attached to the Toronto Juvenile Court and the Dominion Department of Immigration.

For several years Mrs. Pearson has been busy in England under the jurisdiction of the Home Office and by special request of Lord Lissowel, making a survey to discover why 28,000 unhappy London couples appear annually in the police courts asking for separations.

Mrs. Pearson reported 90 per cent. of these marriage troubles could be solved and the couples reconciled. She recommended methods now in force in Toronto's Juvenile and Domestic courts. The report was a potent factor in the debate on the "Domestic Procedure Bill" in the House of Lords.

In the near future 400 British courts will be trying to work out marital problems on the Canadian system. The tendency of British courts has been to order separations.

Now Mrs. Pearson is off to Canada. She will also see Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt in Washington, for she has been appointed to a new commission to look into the matter of movies suitable for children. This is another movement in child welfare.

Sally's Sallies

Two things that are getting longer about women's clothes are the shoulder straps.

Visiting The Women's Exhibits At The Peterborough Exhibition

If the superlatives grow monotonous in this column I cannot help it and will trust that it will be forgiven. After a tour Wednesday of the women's work on display at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition and with just a little understanding of the skill, thought, and hours of work which have resulted in the lovely things there, it is hard to find words to even begin to express an appreciation of them.—(L.F.)

"Grandmother's Flower Garden" is the appropriate name of the design of one of the beautiful pieced quilts. Circles formed of colorful bits of print remind one of the lovely mixed profusion of blossoms in an old-fashioned garden. "Around the World" is a wonderful piece of work. Three rows of tiny squares of print are followed by a row of plain squares around and around, all perfectly fitted and blending into a delightfully harmonious whole. In a rather striking quilt, yellow predominated, accentuated by black piping. Among the appliqued quilts a very lovely one has rose tulips with green leaves on a white ground, the border being finished with large scallops. "The little Dutch girl" was appliqued in a variety of colors on a green bordered quilt, to be a delight to some lucky little girl, we hope. There were many many others, but will mention just one more. A peach colored quilt has a quilted design of flowers and a pattern of colored flowers appliqued at intervals.

There are hooked rugs. One beauty of hooked yarn shows a ship on a bright blue background and another has a design in soft rose and blue shades on a brown ground. There are lovely braided rugs too. Above them the afghans are a colorful lot, one very striking one being worked in an intricate design, which is a new idea, we believe.

There are embroidered sheets, pillow slips and towels, exquisite pieces of work. Tablecloths and towels gone in cutwork are so lovely one wants to own them all. Among the linen with tatting trim are some towels with white and green tatting in circle design which are unusual. Near them a set composed of pincushion and dresser scarf has a very dainty design worked in needlepoint.

Two beautiful crocheted bedspreads made one gasp at the skill and patience of the makers and a rose silk spread with black cross stitch pattern is lovely. An unusual spread is patterned with drawn work and a pretty design in needlepoint and has a narrow crocheted border. Crocheted borders on linen things, crocheted hot plate mats and crocheted cushions are all beautifully done. One cushion in shades of green is beside another which has a red and black design on a tan ground.

There are some exquisite examples of needlepoint on stools, pictures and cushions, and there are lovely knitted things for grown-ups and babies.

Two large exhibits sent in by two ladies are a display in themselves of every variety of beautiful handwork. Among other things they contain a lovely needlepoint cushion, some intricate appliqued quilts and some marvellous knitting. The person is envied who will own the beige, orange and brown ensemble with the orange and brown bag to match.

The display of home made cooking, with bread, tea biscuits muffins and cookies made one's mouth water, and among the cakes, luscious chocolate one was coveted.

The art work has variety and shows a good deal of talent, some of the flower groups being especially good. The landscapes show careful work, one of sheep catching the eye. A lot of good work has gone into the uniform in the portrait of the King. The three clever posters at the front are worthy of a little study also.

Nearly 70,000 municipal houses have been built in Britain in the last 12 months.

Wins High Place In Public Life

GUELPH, Ont., Aug. 19—(CP).—Years ago in Guelph a little girl, flaxen-haired, with deep blue eyes and a wide, engaging smile, wended her way to school where she was a much-loved pupil. That same girl, grown to a cosmopolitan, public-spirited and broadminded woman, is the new president of the Pan-Pacific Women's Association.

Many residing in Guelph vividly remember Mary L. Bollert, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bollert, who was named to this important office at the triennial meeting in Vancouver of the Pan-Pacific Association this month.

The Bollert family resided on Dublin Street, and Mr. Bollert was a merchant on Wyndham Street, taking an interest in all civic affairs. The family were members of Dublin Street United Church, where Mrs. Bollert was always active.

Miss Bollert now is dean of women of the University of British Columbia, and a telegram of congratulation has been sent from Guelph on her appointment.

Salvador's coffee crop is the largest on record and is expected to total 900,000 bags.

Why Fruit Juices Promote Beauty

By GLADYS GLAD
"America's Most Famous Beauty"

ALL FRUIT JUICES are beneficial to health and tend to promote skin loveliness. It is an excellent habit to take a glas sof warm sugarless lemonade immediately upon arising in the morning, and to drink plenty of fruit juices during the day.

ALICE FAYE

Unfortunately, however, some women refrain from imbibing fruit juices because they have the idea that they cannot properly digest them. And others dispense with them because of fallacious beliefs about their reactions in the body. They have the idea that these fruits are too acidulous and may cause skin eruptions. And they believe that the acids contained in the mentioned fruit juices may thin the blood and injure the health.

All of which, if you ask me, is exceedingly foolish. One good glass of fresh fruit juice is worth all the rich, cloying ice cream sodas you can consume at a sitting. And during mid-summer fruit drinks are particularly appropriate thirst- quenchers!

Physicians say that it is a lack of vitamin C that often causes certain minor skin diseases, and so it is illogical to think that any woman of average health would acquire skin eruptions through the consumption of such fruit juices, for oranges, lemons, tomatoes, prunes, pine apples and grapefruit are very rich in this necessary vitamin C.

Won't Thin the Blood

The belief that citrous fruit juices will thin the blood and affect the health because of their acidity also is erroneous. It is indeed true that most citrous fruits are distinctly acid in taste. I shall not argue on that point. But their juices do not remain acid when in the stomach. They really are alkaline in their final reaction in the body.

The citric and malic acids that are contained in these fruit juices, you see, combine with alkaline substances. And when they are oxidized by the body, they leave a definitely alkaline ash. Indeed, physicians claim that any normal, healthy body has the power to utilize almost any quantity of the organic acids contained in the fruit juices mentioned.

SMART LIGHTWEIGHT WOOLLENS FOUNDATION OF WARDROBE

Autumn Vacation Clothes Need to Be Warm But Easily Cared For, Especially When Intended for Active Sports

By LISBETH

EARLY AUTUMN is the loveliest time to have a vacation or to take a trip, and many people are planning outings now.

Late summer and early autumn are also fine for travel in the north and the same clothes that are best for a trip to Alaska, Canada, or the cool mountain districts of the United States along the northern border, will serve you well later in the season on the campus or in the country for fall week-ending.

Take along medium weight wool clothing as the backbone of your wardrobe for northern vacationing.

You will find a tweed suit with matching or contrasting topcoat invaluable for general utility wear—for travelling by plane, train, steamship or motor, and for wear around the lodge or hotel during your stay. Lightweight knit wool frocks that take up little space in your bags and are foolproof as to wrinkling are equally attractive in pastel or high colors. Cashmere sweaters of feather weight are flatteringly feminine in appearance and have just the right bit of extra warmth that northern breezes or autumn country days demand.

A little pullover sweater and gored tweed skirt will be ideal for northern golfing, and you may choose either bright or subdued colors for this type of costume with assurance that it will be a standby in your wardrobe round the year wherever you may go later.

JUST BETWEEN US WOMEN

"There is no passion that so much transports men from their right judgment than anger. No one would demur upon punishing a judge who should condemn a criminal on account of his own choler (anger). Why then should fathers and pedants be allowed to whip and chastise children in their anger? It is no longer correction but revenge...And should we suffer a physician who should be animated against and enraged at his patient?"—Montaigne.

Dear Friends:

Several times I have written you about anger such as a righteous kind, or an indignant kind, etc. But within the last week or two I have seen anger visited on children, and the way it was done really nauseated me.

This heat is not kind to either children or grown-ups, and the one is inclined to be more naughty, while the other is more irritable. All children know when they need chastising, and do not really resent it no matter how loud they may howl.

But—when a parent or teacher allows a child to continue with their naughtiness until sheer anger makes a whipping necessary, they are not correcting the child, but giving vent to their own anger, and are apt to give a worse beating than is deserved. Moreover, they themselves deserve punishment for letting it go so far.

Supposing you were sick with some obscure ailment, and the doctor got angry with you because he could not diagnose your condition, would you not resent it? Would you not think he was mighty unreasonable because he vented this anger on you? Of course you would.

And if your employer is angry because of something which has been said or done, something you had nothing to do with, then turns this anger against you, doesn't it make you mad? Certainly it does. But, if you let this anger make you say or do anything to annoy him or her, then you are doing the same thing which you resent so much.

We are all keen for British justice, which does not consider so much what a person has done or may do, but what they are being tried for at that time. Yet so many of us let past annoyance, prejudices and angers influence our treatment of one another. We forgive, but with reservations. I wonder why we cannot wipe the slate clean, call it a day, then forget all about it? Supposing we do have a trying day of small annoyances, do we have to take it out in anger on those around us? It does seem unfair.

If everything has gone wrong at the office, is a man justified in venting his anger on his wife and family? If the day has been a succession of minor tragedies to the wife, why visit it on the husband when he comes home tired?

If a child needs a good smack, give the smack and be done with it. Don't wait until your anger is like a torrent without justice or judgment to it, hurting the child, and leaving yourself feeling like a monster. Righteous anger is justified at certain times, but there is too much o fit that is anything but righteous.

Several times I have read that there are no bad children, just bad parents, and I am inclined to agree. So much is said before them, their naughtiness is the cause of laughter one time and a beating the next, and it is no wonder they turn bad, for they cannot depend on ones who brought them into the world. My heart aches when I look at some of them. More later, maybe.

Your Friend, ROBERTA.

Strikers Accepted Agreement Will Return To Work on Friday

in Ontario, and that the board will on the basis of such investigation make an order deemed appropriate to it respecting:

"1. Classification of operations.

"2. Minimum rates of wages for each such classification.

"3. Minimum hours of work.

"4. Wage rates for overtime work.

"I deeply appreciate the spirit of conciliation shown by all parties participating, and sincerely hope that the assistance of the Government and the board may contribute in some measure to a solution of the difficulties which we have been discussing. M. F. HEPBURN."

The agreement forms, as presented to the strikers, bore the signature of Henry Barrett, managing director of the Dominion Woollens. The meeting voted to append signatures of Strike Chairman English and the four who represented them in negotiations at Toronto this week.

While on this page there appears the text of the Auburn agreement, the Bonner-Worth agreement contains the same text.

Voicing willingness to return to work Friday as stipulated in the agreement, strikers asked Cohen to negotiate privately with the company heads in an endeavor to obtain Monday as the date for return.

IN JUBILANT MOOD

The strikers were in a jubilant mood as they gathered. They seemed to sense a happy termination of the long struggle and their chief concern was rather how the victory was to be celebrated than to hear the terms. The Ashburnham Community Hall was almost completely filled and a sing-song was in progress when Organizer Alex. Welch of the United Textile Workers arrived on the scene, and was enthusiastically cheered as he was carried into the hall on the shoulders of a number of strikers.

While waiting for the arrival of J. L. Cohen, union counsel, with a copy of the agreement, Organizer Welch briefly addressed the meeting.

"This was the first real battle between the textile workers of Ontario and the manufacturers," he said. It was, he added, because the Peterborough workers had dug themselves in that the Industries and Labor Board had begun to function.

"We have forced the manufacturers back and they don't like it," declared Mr. Welch. "Not as far back as we would like to, but still they have been pushed back. They have not retired in general retreat, but we have driven them back from where they were seven weeks ago."

The duty of the hour was to consolidate the position and then to take part in organizing the textile workers of the whole province against the united front of the manufacturers.

As to the agreement itself, which Mr. Cohen would present, the speaker said that he felt that it was a victory. It was the best union recognition that any textile union had ever gained in Canada.

COHEN IS CHEERED

It was 4.30 o'clock before J. L. Cohen, who had been delayed at Oshawa, arrived, and he was greeted with enthusiastic cheers as he made his way to the platform. Before he read the agreement proceedings were halted temporarily while press photographs were taken of the leaders and the strikers.

In his introductory address Mr. Cohen said that the agreement was the foundation stone upon which a skyscraper of union organization in Canada would be erected. Mr. Hepburn's invitation, he said, had been made in good faith and implemented in good faith and he felt that the Premier's interested and patient efforts should be publicly commended.

Mr. Cohen then proceeded to discuss the agreement clause by clause.

GERALD LAFAVE WINNER OF CAR ON FIRST NIGHT

Gerald Lafave, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lafave, 49 McDonnel Street, won Wednesday night the first automobile given away at the Peterborough Exhibition, concluding a splendid vaudeville program before a crowd that filled the grandstand and overflowed to seats around the outdoor stage.

The winning number, 504,960, was the first drawn from a big De Laval churn by Tom Brown, president of the Exhibition. He was about to draw a second number after waiting the prescribed five minutes for the ticket bearing the first one when young Lafave arrived from the eastern section of the Park. Introduced to the audience by Dick Lush, he said he had fifty-seven tickets, and could hardly credit his eyes when he realized that he held the winning ticket in his hand.

The first of the four cars to be claimed was a Ford sedan, and its disposal seemed to meet the approval of the grandstand crowd. Gerald Lafave was one of the several thousand or more wedged into a solid group outside the gate leading to the grandstand, where the number was relayed by Arthur Blade of Ottawa, who is once more spending a week of his holidays at the Exhibition. The lucky young man had a great deal of difficulty in elbowing his way through the west end of the midway to reach the grandstand area, and although the five-minute period had expired, Mr. Brown did not hesitate in accepting the ticket.

Sparkling Entertainment.

The evening performance at the grandstand was one of the most attractive programs of thrills and amusement in recent years at the Exhibition. Every act is smart and clean, and the entire bill possesses the additional merit of being exceptionally well balanced.

Ideal weather Wednesday night with the moon at the full provided a delightful outdoor setting. The five Albanis, headlining the program, presented an entirely new idea in midair acrobatics. They work on a specially designed circular apparatus high above the ground, including a narrow circular motorcycle track around which Joseph Albani rides, rotating above him the framework of trapezes and bars on which other members of the troupe perform. A sensational detail of this act flings Joseph Albani's motorcycle off the track, and it swings around in a wide circle, with the engine running. Another highlight is performed by Klara Albani, who hangs only by her teeth as the apparatus revolves with increased speed that swings her in a wide arc with centrifugal force. A girl who performed this feat nearly a year ago was killed in a fall on concrete pavement at a summer resort near Boston.

Perfect Timing.

The daring of the Albanis is an impressive feature of the grandstand show, and the perfect timing of the Honey Family who specialize in springboard acrobatics. This act is of exceptional merit, stamped by expertness and vivid personalities of this Australian family. This is a high-class circus feature with smart tumbling as regular routine, and specialties in which a springboard tosses several of the members to waiting shoulders. One of the men concludes this act with a triple somersault, ending in a chair supported by a high pole.

Golda Honey, in a tight-wire act, contributes to the thrills of the program. She performs difficult twirls and leaps on a thin wire that is almost invisible, and her gracefulness seems to minimize the danger she flouts. At Elmira, New York, a year ago she was seriously injured in a fall from the wire, but recovered after a month's hospital treatment. The Exhibition crowds will find a special appeal in the Honey Family. Their work is fast and smart and clean cut.

Beauty and Fun

Brengk's Golden Horse is a novelty in posing accentuated by colored lighting effects. It strikes a note of beauty in the program and sustains the dominant quality of the entire program.

Silver, the Wonder Horse, and Madeline Caruso, who puts it through its stunts, provide a lot of laughs for the crowd. It is only a "property" horse, and the two young men who comprise its fore and hind parts make a lot of fun out of a simple idea.

Clifton and Jules are two clowns whose antics make life merrier. You will retain a warm place in your heart for those buffoons.

Pat and Mildred Chrisman appear twice on the program, first with their performing goats. Difficult as they are to train, these animals roll on barrels, walk the tight wire and do lots of other things of which most people never associated with goats. Another act includes trick roping and the use of whips, and Mildred Chrisman amplifies the versatility of this team with clever shooting with a small rifle.

The stage lighting is directed by T. J. Stenton and M. W. Morgan with beautiful effects especially in the tableaux of featuring Brengk's Golden Horse. These two electricians were formerly on the old staff of the Grand Opera House, and their experience is reflected in their professional touch of stage lighting.

On Murder Charge

Still professing innocence, Mrs. Anna Hahn, 31-year-old former German school teacher, is pictured as she is arraigned in police court at Cincinnati, Ohio, on a murder charge growing out of the poison death of George Gsellmann, 67. The blonde Mrs. Hahn, central figure in an investigation of five mysterious deaths of aged men, was held without bond and her case continued to a later date at the request of Prosecutor Dudley M. Outcalt.

GRANTED EXTRA PAY

NANKING, Aug. 19—(AP).—General Chiang Kai-Shek granted the Chinese Air Force an extra month's pay to-day "as an encouragement and reward" for their showing against the Japanese.

"For the last four days," Chiang said, "our loyal, brave air force has been pitting the skill of one against the might of ten. Their prowess and success merits the highest praise."

GRANTS ARE URGED TO BE ABOLISHED

Labor Minister Norman Rogers declared Dominion action had not been taken "because of the present uncertainty regarding the boundaries of Dominion and Provincial jurisdiction on the subject of industrial relations and social legislation."

With regard to another commission recommendation designed to establish a scheme of low-rental houses, the Minister said that since this was primarily a Provincial and municipal responsibility, the Dominion Government did not feel justified in proceeding with it without further examination of Provincial and municipal plans for low rental housing and slum clearances.

To Train Men.

One of the commission's outstanding recommendations contemplates a system whereby men may be reconditioned in industrial work. It had asked for an appropriation to this end, half of the appropriation to be applied to Youth Training and the rest to training employable men between the ages of 25 and 45.

Mr. Purvis disclosed in an interview 50 per cent of the employable workless men are in this age-group. The scheme envisages establishment of local voluntary committees who will work with industry in their own localities, and who will furnish opportunity for industrial training under circumstances likely to ensure permanency of employment to the trainee.

Mr. Purvis emphasized the necessity of continuous effort "to break down problems into all the types of need involved." The commission had sought to tackle the immediate problems first, leaving the "long-range problems" to later.

In brief the commission's recommendations, some which have already been adopted by the government, follow:

A comprehensive housing policy, embracing the home improvement plan and assistance to low-rental housing, to stimulate employment in the field in which it lagged most.

Though re-organization and extension of the employment service, under unified dominion administration, to increase the efficiency of placement.

A revision of the system of Dominion grants-in-aid with the object of ensuring that aid was given not haphazardly but in terms of the causes of distress and as part of a co-operative Dominion-Provincial-Municipal program of reconditioning, training and re-training of needy persons, both by public schemes and in co-operation with industry, so that the morale, skill and general employability of workers of all ages might be increased.

Curtail Public Works

A curtailment of public works for the purpose of providing employment so as to relieve the public exchequer and release funds for more effective and fundamental attacks on the problem of unemployment.

And finally, as a temporary expedient, a farm placement plan and supplementary plans to meet the emergency winter problem and under which, when put into force, upwards of 50,000 persons were cared for.

In a statement issued last night, Prime Minister Mackenzie King paid tribute to the industry of the Commission's personnel. The report, he said, merited the careful study of all concerned with the solution of the social and administrative questions concerning Canada at this time.

While the number of licensed vehicles in Britain has increased 26 per cent. in the last six years pedestrian fatalities have dropped 18 per cent.

MAX AFTER LOUIS BOUT

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—(AP).—Max Schmeling, only man ever to whip Joe Louis, returned to the United States to-day with the announced intention of signing to meet the Detroit Bomber for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world.

The German heavyweight, who knocked out Louis in the 12th round a year ago, said he didn't give Tommy Farr an outside chance to beat the champion in their August 26 bout at the Yankee Stadium.

COULDN'T COMPETE

"SORRY, nothing today," and Jim continues on his weary round of looking for a job. Once he had a good position. But he couldn't keep up with the others. Dull headaches kept him from doing his best. He lacked pep and "drive." So they let him out.

You meet a lot of men like Jim. They're half-sick and don't know why. They fail to realize that common constipation undermines vitality and vigor : : : keeps them tired, listless, without ambition.

Usually the first question a doctor asks his patient is about constipation. He is aware of its weakening effects, knows that it can even lead to serious disease.

Why feel badly half the week when a natural food corrects constipation—caused by meals low in "bulk"? Get this "bulk" in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. This cereal also furnishes vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood.

This natural food laxative is much better than taking weakening pills and drugs. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily. With each meal, in severe cases. Serve as a cereal with milk or fruits, or cook into muffins, breads, etc.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

DON'T LET CONSTIPATION GET YOU DOWN

This simple test shows how ALL-BRAN functions: fill a glass 4/5 full of ALL-BRAN. Pour water up to the brim of the glass. Soak 15 minutes, and drain off excess water. Feel the water-softened mass. It's much like a soft sponge. In fact, laboratory tests show that ALL-BRAN absorbs at least twice its weight in water. Within the body, this water-softened "bulk" gently "sponges" out the system.

Serve Kellogg's ALL-BRAN regularly for regularity

Ontario Strike Picture Is Brighter Than In Past Weeks

Peterborough and Foleyet Strikes Are Both Settled Same Day.

TORONTO, Aug. 19. — (C.P.). — Ontario's strike picture to-day was brighter than in weeks. Strike of 500 textile workers at Peterborough was definitely at an end, while in prospect was an agreement ending a similar walkout at Cornwall. Also settled was a knotty sit-down in the Northern Ontario hamlet of Foleyet.

A mass meeting of Peterborough strikers from the Bonner-Worth and Auburn plants of the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Limited last night gave unanimous approval to an agreement negotiated at Queen's Park. Under its terms, work resumes in both plants to-morrow.

At Cornwall, 1,700 striking employees of Canadian Cottons Limited prepared to meet to-day to consider a similar pact. Arthur Laverty, president of the textile union there, said he would strongly recommend acceptance of the agreement which would end the four-weeks' walkout.

The textile agreements were worked out at parleys over which Premier Hepburn presided and attended by representatives of both textile companies and their striking employees.

Minimum Wage Rulings

The Peterborough agreement binds the company to the minimum wage rulings to be made by Ontario's Industry and Labor Board which is seeking to determine a fair wage for male textile workers. Any changes in pay will be retroactive to the day the strikers are back at work.

Other provisions include rest periods a system of payment to piece workers while kept in the plant, committee of five to negotiate all grievances except wages and hours, minimum of four hours' work provided all workers called into the plant, wages to be paid weekly in cash.

The company agrees "not to discriminate against and not to penalize" any striker.

All employees are to be free from intimidation or discrimination either for or against trade union membership. Piece work is to be distributed "fairly" among employees. The agreement may be terminated on 30 days' notice by either party.

Packed With Drama

Settlement of the Northern Ontario sit-down was drama-packed. Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, and other officials were forced down in a government plane in Sudbury district and rescued by two other planes summoned by an unidentified "ham" radio operator, before reaching the strike scene of Foleyet, 100 miles north of Sudbury.

There 25 employees of the Pineland Lumber Company had held the sawmill for four weeks, barricading its entrances and allowing only company officials to enter under police escort for routine business. Under settlement operations are to be resumed at the wage scales prevailing when the strike began July 22, plus a $35 bonus payable at the end of the season. Union recognition was not mentioned. The mill wheels will turn again tomorrow.

Remaining cloud on Ontario's industrial horizon is that at Brockville, where officials of the John B. Stetson Hat Company have appealed to some 200 striking employees who are holding out for general pay increases and union recognition, although 80 or more fellow-workers have returned to their jobs. Peaceful picketing has been enforced, with no disturbances.

Attempted To Eat 45-Pound Watermelon

Petersburg, Ind., Aug. 19.

WILLIAM CONRAD, weight 126 pounds, had only a sore stomach today to show for his attempt to devour a 45-pound watermelon.

Allowed an hour to complete the feat, Conrad had a quarter of a melon to go when time was called.

Conrad swore he would redeem himself by downing 48 raw eggs in public Saturday.

FORMER LOCAL MAN NEARING CENTURY ARDENT FIGHT MAN

When an old-time boxing fan only two years short of the century mark declares Joe Louis could have whipped John L. Sullivan in the latter's prime—that's news!

It happened in Edmonton recently while David Conroy, whose 98th birthday arrived Wednesday, was chatting briskly with a reporter. The firm-voiced old man, who lives at 9938 112 St. with his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Conroy, was born in Peterborough, Ont., August 4, 1839, and is looking forward with merry-eyed anticipation to his 100th birthday two years hence.

Rare indeed is the veteran ring enthusiast who admits present-day champions could "hold a candle" to the historic pugilists of his boyhood. Friends of erect, white-moustached David Conroy said his precedent-breaking views on that subject are quite typical of him, symptomatic of his fresh and broad-minded outlook on life in general.

He Favors Louis.

"I saw the great John L. Sullivan in person when he was at his peak—and I believe the Joe Louis who won the championship from James J. Braddock a few months ago could have beaten him," Mr. Conroy said vigorously, smiling broadly and striking a fighting pose reminiscent of the days when amateur boxing was his own favored hobby.

"The old-timers were unexcelled at the rough, unscientific, hammer-and-tongs style of battling, but that is a thing of the past, and I'm convinced they couldn't stand up before a modern champion who not only can slug but has science and ringcraft," he explained.

Idolized by his five sons and five daughters and a small army of grandchildren, the near-centenarian spent the day quietly and was chuckling with visible enjoyment as he recalled his daughter-in-law's efforts to get 96 candles on his birthday cake. She succeeded, too—but it took a lot of cake and a lot of candle-planting.

A contractor and construction man for several decades in Ontario, Mr. Conroy has left personal mementoes scattered all over Eastern Canada—bridges, dams and breakwaters in scores of towns and cities, built under his supervision in the days of early Confederation and later. The Burleigh and Buckhorn dams in Peterborough district and the well-known Smith Street bridge in Peterborough itself are only three of his structures still standing and in daily service.

Reads Without Glasses.

Newspapers fascinate the old man, and he reads them diligently from first page to last—without the aid of glasses. Politics and business are his special interests, in addition to sports, and there is no latest "wrinkle" or development in these fields which he cannot discuss with gusto and keen insight.

Young people are his pets, and among them he has devoted companions. Mr. Conroy smiled roguishly and shook his head, but did not deny the charge, when friends present at the interview called him "a great matchmaker." They said he had played Cupid's role in many a youthful romance.

His parents moved to Ontario from Ireland in 1826. He comes of sturdy, fighting stock, but those who know him best say he is not a combative man—"he makes friends with everyone."

Mr. Conroy has been living in Edmonton only about seven years, though he visited there frequently many years ago. All his five sons—Edward, David, Frank, Fred and Dr. Herbert Conroy—have their homes in Edmonton, as well as one of his daughters, Miss Josephine Conroy. Another daughter, Eleanor, was married recently and is living at Goldfields; others are Mrs. P. J. Doris at St. Paul, Alta.; Mrs. Daisy McGarry at Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. M. Leahy at Alcomdale.

His wife died in Peterborough eight years ago. Shortly after her death Mr. Conroy left the east and intends to spend the remainder of his life in Edmonton.

Interesting Exhibit For Dairy Farmers

Dairy farmers visiting the Exhibition will find considerable interest in a display by the Ontario Cream Patrons' Association in co-operation with the Ontario Agricultural College. It is shown in a tent at the south end of the main street in the Park.

The purpose of the exhibit is to impress on producers the importance of the utmost care in the handling of milk and cream. Pictures indicate reasons for No. 1 and No. 2 grades, and samples will be judged and explained. Details of cooling and temperature and their ultimate effect on the quality of Ontario butter are included, and the final object of this display is to convince dairy farmers that the expansion of markets for Ontario butter depends upon quality, and in turn on the care of milk by producers.

V. S. Milburn is chiefly interested in this exhibit and is hoping that many farmers will take time out to visit it.

Jabs and Jottings as Picked Up By Examiner Reporters.

REPORT GOOD BUSINESS

Local restaurant proprietors report good business yesterday as a result of the influx of Exhibition visitors. There were many patrons throughout the day and another rush last night after the Exhibition crowds came uptown.

PICKPOCKETS REPORTED.

The Examiner is informed that pickpockets were getting in their work among Exhibition crowds Wednesday. One woman who said that $8 had been taken out of the pocket of her husband suggested that the public be warned that light-fingered gentry are active and that visitors had better be careful.

A CURB ELOCUTIONIST

In front of a downtown store this morning a blind man stood on the edge of the sidewalk and entertained shoppers with dramatic recitations from poems of Robert W. Service. "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" and "The Cremation of Sam McGee" were favorites that brought a shower of coins tinkling into the tin cup.

A CORRECTION.

Alphonse Coughlin, on bail on three charges of assault in connection with the recent textile strike disturbance, elected trial before a higher court on his appearance before the magistrate and entered pleas of not guilty to each of the charges. A recent typographical error which The Examiner regrets made it appear as if Mr. Coughlin had pleaded guilty to the charges, which was not the case.

SAVED BY BROTHER

A narrow escape from drowning is reported from Chemong Lake. On Wednesday Madeline, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Lynch of Peterborough was bathing and got into difficulties when she got beyond her depth. Her screams for help attracted the attention of her brother who quickly swam to her rescue and towed her to shore where artificial respiration quickly restored her.

EVERYBODY DELIGHED

The universal expression in the business section this morning in reference to the settlement of the textile strike was "Glad it's over. Business has been hard hit."

POPULAR BOWL

Peterborough and district grocers are now offering a popular glass cereal bowl with purchases of Kellogg's Corn Flakes. These may be obtained in either blue or crystal.

NO POLICE COURT.

The crime wave has apparently taken the week off to attend in honor of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition. At all events, there were no city or county cases to engage the attention of the magistrate at police court this morning.

FEWER INFRACTIONS.

Fish and Game Overseer Lyons remarked this morning that there were far fewer cases of Americans fishing without licenses in this district this present summer than last year. The law is being much better observed in that respect, the overseer said.

VISITING THE EXHIBITION.

Judging from the tanned faces and the outing clothes worn by many of the visitors at the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Wednesday, the summer colony of the lake resorts in this district must have been fairly well depleted by folk who took the day off from holiday pastime to see Peterborough's big Fair.

RESCUED VICTIM

William Fuller of Peterborough, driver for the Hamilton-Peterborough Freight Lines reports that after leaving here at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning enroute for Toronto he came across Einer Neilson of Toronto, who had been held up, beaten and robbed by motor bandits near Bowmanville. The man was wandering around in a dazed condition and Fuller drove him to the police station at Bowmanville where the crime was reported.

J. B. NELSON TO SPEAK.

Instead of lunching on the Exhibition Grounds, as they have in former recent years during Fair Week, members of Peterborough Kiwanis Club have invited the Board to sit in with Kiwanians at luncheon at Empress Hotel on Friday noon. Special guest speaker for the occasion is announced as J. B. Nelson, a past president of the local Kiwanis Club and former agricultural representative here. Mr. Nelson, who now occupies an important position with the Ontario Agricultural Department in Toronto, is to speak on the subject of "Milk Production."

THE STARS SAY . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, August 20

Lively and eventful conditions predominate on this day, according to the ruling lunar transits, but such may not be without anxiety and some measure of surprising disturbance or disruption. And while this may seem unwelcome and detrimental at the time, in the long run it may prove beneficial to the affairs. But sudden removal, change or travel, with new environs and strange contracts, seem imperative to the settling of the affairs on a more secure and stable basis.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of the abrupt and quite unforeseen. And while this sudden reorganization of the affairs may seem adverse and disintegrating at the time, it will prove a measure for re-establishing the interests and the fortunes on sounder foundations. New scenes, associations, opportunities and interests are in order, but all with benevolent results. In purely private affiliations there may be intriguing but not detrimental situations.

A child born on this day may be versatile, shrewd, enterprising, original, but of sound talents and equipment although restless, fond of change and new adventures. Personally it will be likeable and popular.

STRIKE A PERIOD TRIAL AND WORRY

"I am very pleased that the strike has ended and that the workers have been successful in securing an agreement which will be of benefit to themselves and to textile workers throughout Ontario," stated Mayor Macdonald to-day.

"I know that all citizens throughout the city and district enjoyed an uplift in spirits when they heard that the strike was ended and that work will be resumed to-morrow morning," continued the Mayor. "The strike has been a period of trial and worry not only to the strikers and the company, but also to citizens generally. It is over now, and that is a matter for rejoicing.

"There will be problems as an aftermath of the strike, but I am confident that these will be met and overcome in a spirit of fairness.

"I desire to thank the strikers, the Government, the company, and interested local citizens who co-operated in bringing the strike to a successful conclusion."

CROWN IS ASKED TO DROP CHARGES AGAINST STRIKERS

A resolution asking the Crown to drop its various charges against strikers and strike leaders resulting from the near-riot last week and subsequent events, was adopted by the strike body after acceptance of the strike settlement proposal Wednesday night. The resolution was adopted without discussion.

Commendation for Premier Hepburn and P. M. Draper, president of the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, was voiced during the meeting. "The patience and concern of the Premier in his efforts during negotiations deserves the recognition of this meeting," J. H. Cohen, legal adviser, said.

Answering the strikers' questions concerning the agreement, Cohen said he would not yield from a stand against the principle of zoning wage minimus. It costs as much to be a decent man or a decent women in Peterborough as in Toronto or any other large centre."

Asked if the old minimum wage for women would remain, he said the new minimum wage act provided for both men and women, abolishing the original female minimum wage provision. "We propose to insist on the principle of equal pay for equal work," he said.

"Will we get more wages when we go back than what we were getting when we went out?" a striker asked the legal adviser.

"I have every confidence in standing before you and saying very definitely and clearly that we will as a result of the orders of this Board undoubtedly secure increased wages, reduction in hours and time-and-a-half overtime."

Cohen stated a job will be demanded fo revery striker who went out. He promised his audience that action in regard to the minimum wage investigation is to be immediate. The National Textile Council is to meet this week and see that work is started Monday morning as far as this Industry and Labor Board is concerned.

CANADIANS MAKE GOOD BALL PROS WITH FAIR SHOW

TORONTO, Aug. 19—(CP).—Dan Howley, managing Toronto's youngest International League baseball team in years, sees no reason why more Canadian players should not be developed for professional ball. For that reason he has taken two promising Toronto youngsters in hand this year and plans to go after more domestic talent.

Bobby Porter, from Toronto sandlots, already has made good with Howley's Maple Leafs and Dapper Dan thinks he soon will make higher company. Porter is a slugging outfielder. Art Upper, southpaw pitcher, also is to have a chance in his home town.

"It's been shown before that a boy born in Canada can be a real success in baseball once he's found the proper environment," Howley said. "George Selkirk, who was born at Huntsville, Ont., is a pretty good indication — — he's more than making good with New York Yankees."

In line with his ideas, Howley plans a school for Canadian players at Maple Leaf Stadium this summer. No special invitations will be sent out—all an ambitious young player will need is equipment and expense money.

"We couldn't be expected to pay the whole way," the Leaf boss remarked. "We would have visitors here who didn't know baseball from cricket. But we'll teach those who are willing and anxious to be ball players and give chances to those who have genuine ability.

"When the lessons get under way we'll hold five-inning games. It won't take long to weed out the material and find just what chances we have of getting a worthwhile player. If a boy can run hit,, field and show he has a head on his shoulders we'll find it out."

Dates for carrying out the scheme have not been set but the drills will be held in the mornings, when the stadium usually is vacant. Coach Johnny Heving will assist.

Howley is high on both Porter and Upper, just as he is on Oscar (Lefty) Judd, southpaw pitcher from Ingersoll and Guelph who has come into his own with Rochester Red Wings of the International. He has had no chance to look over the amateur crop in Ontario or the Canadian players in the Canadian-American League.

"Porter is a natural hitter and a great base-runner," Howley continued. "What's more he's got the dash and fire that make success.

"This Lefty Judd is a sensation. I'd like to go on record as saying he's not just another southpaw. He has natural motion and he is consistent — and when you get consistency in a left-hander you have a real find."

Making Good

The Leaf manager pointed to Geoffrey Heath, 21-year-old rookie outfielder with Cleveland Indians, as another Canadian-born player making good. Heath was born at Fort William but moved to Seattle at an early age, just Selkirk left Huntsville when he was a boy.

"Maybe Canada can't lay much claim to Selkirk and Heath," Howley observed. "But this country turned those boys out and when they got a chance to learn baseball properly they grabbed it in the right way. Canadian boys have just as much ability for baseball at birth as United States boys.

"That's why I can see Porter and Upper as outstanding players. It also explains why I'm anxious to look over a few Canadian youngsters this year and try to introduce some to pro ball."

Inmate Marries Sweetheart

The climax of a romance which was renewed at the "date party" held for students of the Girls' Industrial school at Tecumseh, Okla., came when Evelyn Steele, 17, one of the inmates of the school, was married to her sweetheart, Hercle Cook, 20, in the school's "Honor Cottage" recently. The "date party" was held in the industrial school and afforded the girl inmate and her friend a chance to renew the romance which began before she entered the institution. The groom is a clerk in a grocery store at Tecumseh and presented excellent references before the marriage was permitted.

SPANISH STEAMER HIT BY TORPEDO

INSTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 19—(CP-Havas).—An unidentified submarine torpedoed the Spanish steamer Armuru, en route to Spain from a Russian port, in waters southwest of the Island of Tendos, in the Aegean Sea, the newspaper Tan reported to-day.

(Lloyds' Register lists the Armura as a 2,762-ton ship owned by the Spanish Vascongada shipping concern, with Bilbao as its home port).

The ship was attacked yesterday according to dispatches reaching the newspaper from its Tendos correspondent. Although hit and damaged by a torpedo, the vessel did not sink and succeeded in reaching Tendos, where it ran aground, the advices said.

There was no loss of life, the reports declared. The Turkish steamer Kemal went to the aid of the stranded vessel, which carried a cargo of wheat.

It was the second attack on a Spanish vessel in these waters within the last four days. The Spanish freighter Ciudad de Cadiz was sunk near Tendos August 16 by a submarine flying the Spanish insurgent flag. The captain and 79 of the crew numbers were picked up by Soviet steamship Varlaan Avanesoff.

Tendos lies off the southwestern mouth of the Dardanelles, a few miles west of the Turkish mainland.

WARSAW

ReRv. J. W. Wilkinson, who with Mrs. Wilkinson and family, is spending his vacation at their summer home, Cundy Cottage, came down on Tuesday to officiate at Mrs. Edgar's funeral and attend the Carmel entertainment, returned on Wednesday.

Master Ronald Frankish is having a jolly holiday with Master John Wilkinson.

Rev. Mr. Wilkinson has been exceptionally successful in fishing for lake trout.

Carmel anniversary supper was well attended. A good crowd came in the afternoon to the ball game between Norwood and Curve Lake, in which Norwood won. It was a splendid game, and onlookers enjoyed it thoroughly. The supper was splendid, abundant, and well served in the church sheds. A pleasing program followed. Mr. Wilkinson presided and gave a short address. Earl Payne sang twice, Miss Lois Harmer, an elocutionist who is holidaying at the lake, kindly gave two readings. Tommy Parker sang twice, and Miss Metcalf, also a summer tourist, gave two readings. Carmel ladies are pleased with the financial results of the anniversary.

HOW TO OVERCOME ITCHING PILES
If you are annoyed with itching piles or rectal soreness, do not neglect the same or run the risk of an operation. Any itching, soreness or painful passage of stool, is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once. For this purpose get from McDermid & Jury and Bond's Drug Store or any druggist, a package of Hemroid and use as directed. This formula, which is used internally quickly relieves the itching and soreness and aids in healing the sore, tender spots. Hemroid is a physician's prescription and is highly recommended. It is easy to use and it seems the height of folly for anyone to risk an operation when a simple remedy, which is so pleasant to use may be had at such a reasonable cost.

HUGE SUN SPOTS IN SIGHT AGAIN

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—(CP)—New Yorkers, who wanted to see spots, before their eyes, recently took a look at the sun. Two large spots, covering between 1-300th and 1-400th of the sun's surface, could be observed with the naked eye.

Dr. Clyde Fisher, curator of the Hayden Planetarium, described them as "a remarkably fine pair". He said they were the only ones he had ever seen without a telescope and possibly the largest ever observed in New York. The larger of the two, he said, is bigger than Jupiter, greatest planet in the solar system, and its diameter is about ⅛th that of the sun.

The spots were first noticed by Hugh S. Rice, associate in astronomy at the American Museum of Natural History. He explained that sun spots are storm centres, caused by the whirlpool exchange of gaseous materials from internal layers of the sun to the surface. The large spots, he said, indicate a tremendous expulsion of gasses from the inside of the sun.

The sun spots would travel across the sun's face to the left, the scientists said, and would be visible for about a week.

Shanghai Shattered As Japs, Chinese Fight

Japanese Attack City By Land, Sea and Air—Death Toll Mounts.

Mass evacuation of foreigners residing in shell-torn Shanghai, is reported underway by British and United States authorities, as fighting between Chinese and Japanese became general along a 15-mile front encircling the city of 3,500,000 persons. The death toll which leaped 1,000 in the first day of actual fighting is steadily mounting as Japanese warships pour shells into the city and Japanese soldiers and marines invade the metropolis. An idea of the power of a modern high explosive shell may be gathered from the upper photograph when one struck a Chinese train as it left the north station in Shanghai during the 1932 fracas. One shell did the damage shown. Japanese forces are pouring shells into the city in all-day bombardments. Leader of the Japanese troops in Northern China where the Japanese invasion preceded thefighting at Shanghai is Colonel Renjo Mutaguchi shown in the centre photograph with members of his staff as he directed operations near Peiping. The scene shown in the lower photograph was a common one during the Japanese invasion of Shanghai in 1932 and is being re-enacted in a hundred spots about the native district of the cosmopolitan city today. Japanese marines are shown behind their barricades in the Chapei section where fighting is taking place.

160 WORKERS BACK IN TEXTILE PLANTS

Montreal, Aug. 19 (CP).—Under the "adequate protection" promised them, about 160 workers went back to the machines of Dominion Textile Company's Mount Royal plant early today, in the first break of the 18-day-old textile strike.

As more than 200 police patrolled streets around the west-end mill, the workers answered the back-to-work call issued by company officers two days ago. In groups of two, three and four, they walked through picket lines set up when the National Catholic Federation of Textile Workers called out the men Aug. 2 in a bid for a collective labor agreement, higher wages or shorter hours and improved working conditions.

One brief violent melee marked opening of the plant, one of the three the company planned to open during the day. Workers and police clashed in the yard of the union's temporary headquarters adjoining the plant's backyard, when strikers hurled a barrage of bottles, bricks and vegetables at returning employees.

Police rushed the union's yard when strikers started throwing, and one officer came out of the melee with an open wound in the stomach. One man was arrested.

PACKERS BLANK SMELTERS 5 TO 0 IN LEAGUE GAME

Playing a superior brand of football, the Canada Packers team defeated Deloro 5-0 in a soccer fixture played at King Edward Park on Wednesday evening. The play was hard and fast with a fair crowd on hand to watch the proceedings as these two teams are contenders for the league championship this season.

Deloro won the toss and kicked downhill with the sun at their backs. Pressure by C.P.C. resulted in Art Downer driving a hot one past the post. Deloro retaliated and after clever play by Brooks whose pass to J. Hart saw the latter shoot at Curtis. Who made a good stop. Clever combination by Deloro's right wing, Bradley, and J. Hart nearly resulted in a score, but J. Hart's cross to his brother, W. Hart, was put past by him.

After 16 minutes play C.P.C. opened the score, Adkinson dropping a shot at O'Neill, he seemed to have the ball, only to see it go over his head and through his outstretched arms.

Deloro put on the pressure after this reverse and Todd and A. Downer were hard pressed to hold them. Jones relieved the pressure and swung the ball out to Art Downer, who was playing clever football, who crossed it to the centre and Buchan headed at the goal but O'Neill saved. Up to this point both teams had been playing real cup-tie football, swinging the ball about with Brown, Deloro, in particular swinging it to advantage. Packers went further ahead, 25 minutes later the ball was shot towards the Deloro goal, O'Neill came out of his goal to meet it, tried to kick it up but failed. Buchan seized the ball and placed it into the left hand corner of the net from about 12 yards. From this point till half-time end to end play followed with both sides hitting the ball hard and often. C.P.C. 2, Deloro 0.

After the interval the C.P.C. rushed down field to see Jones receive the ball and test O'Neill with a hard fast ground shot from away out. O'Neill saving nicely. Back they came again and clever play by Art Downer, who passed to T. Forster and then transferred to G. Downer, resulted in the latter scoring with a lightening drive breast high into the net, after 11 minutes.

Next Buchan tried his luck with a fast ground shot only to see O'Neill turn it around the post for a corner. Deloro were trying hard to make that score look smaller. Brooks, Brown and J. Hart working their heads off, but the C.P.C. halfbacks N. Downer, Jones and Wilson tackling swift and sure. C.P.C. went further ahead, Cribbens putting it in the net from a corner kick by Art Downer. Deloro had a turn of attacking and a hard fast shot was splendidly saved by Curtis. A penalty kick was awarded to Deloro but J. Hart put his shot over the bar. With every Deloro man except Townson up field G. Downer made it 5 to 0. From then on to the final whistle play was from goal to goal but there was no further scoring, C.P.C. 5, Deloro 0.

Referee, G. Blowers; linesmen, B. McMaster, S. Kemp.

Teams:

C.P.C.—Curtis, Todd, A. Downer, N. Downer, Jones, Wilson, Art Downer, G. Downer, Buchan, Forster, Hewitt; subs, Adkinson, Cribbess.

Lawn Bowling

By HERB MARTIN

DIRECTLY, this has nothing to do with bowling, but we believe that all members of our club will rejoice with us at the announcement of the strike settlement. After all, the Bonner-Worth Mills are our next door neighbors. We have missed the chuckling of the looms.

THE ANSWER to Wednesday's query: "Under no circumstances must a bowl be touched by a player until the end is counted. B has the right to replace his bowl or let it lie where it rests."

TO-DAY'S question: "Is it proper for four skips to line up on one rink?"

WE NOTICE in the column of Wednesday night's Examiner headed "How to believe how time flies," it says ten years ago yesterday the rink skipped by Jack Sedgewick won the tournament at Tweed. Correct. Other members of the rink were: C. Seymour, B. Chesler, and H. Martin. It was Jack's birthday and Benny's first trip to a tournament out of town—and incidentally there is a good story in connection with the trip.

WHILE WE WERE not present at the novice competition last night, we believe it was successfully run off down to the eights. This is one of the outstanding events of our club, and should prove a great help to the younger players. We have been tipped off that there are a couple of dark horses going good, but we will wait and see for ourselves.

YESTERDAY WAS tournament day at Lindsay — 23 pairs of doubles, eight pairs from Peterborough—H. Freeman and J. Fitzpatrick coming first and each receiving electric lamps. Dr. Long and E. Backville landed in third position, and they, too, received lamps.

DOWN AT Campbellford our club was represented by three rinks, skipped by J. T. Braund, J. Sedgewick, and W. Jeffries. Rinks from Belleville, Kingston, Cobourg, Stirling, Hastings, Norwood, Havelock, and Peterborough made up a draw of 23 rinks. W. Jeffries' rink, composed of B. Rogers, T. McArthur, and T. Doughty, won the hard-luck competition and each received a suit of pyjamas and J. Sedgewick's rink won the consolation event. He had supporting him R. Bacon, W. Fletcher, and Norm. Routley. They received electric grills.

COGS ELIMINATED IN SOUTHEND LOOP

Cogs, last year's Southend League softball champions, were eliminated in semi-final playoffs last night by De Laval, 6-3, it being two straight for the victors who now go into the three-in-five finals against either Keene or Maple Leafs. Shine and Todd staged a heaving duel with the former allowing six hits and one walk as he fanned five. Todd gave but eight hits while fanning three and walking six.

Cogs took an early lead of two runs on a walk and two hits, but De Laval went ahead in the fifth as Todd lost his control temporarily to walk three, with Abbott's hit and a miscue meaning three runs. Shine was in no danger from then on. Wiley and Pearson had two hits each for the winners, and one of the latter's was a homer. Jamison had two hits for Cogs. A. Heal and Fleming shone defensively for the losers, and Abbott and Wright fielded well for De Laval. The teams:

Cogs—A. Heal 2b, Todd p, Jamison c, Fleming 1b, B. Leggett rf, C. Heal 3b, S. Leggett ss, Mackness lf, Willis cf.

Score by innings:

		R.	H.	E.
De Laval	000 130 101	6	8	5
Cogs	002 000 001	3	6	4

Umpires—McMartin and Ashmore.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19 (A.P.). — If Louis and Farr gross $300,000 you'll not hear Mike Jacobs moaning....

Tom Laird, sports critic for the San Francisco News, looked over Tommy Farr and didn't like what he saw.... "For $5,000 I'll fight the bloke on 42nd Street at 10 minutes' notice," he says.... Add youngest sports editor contest: Mike Yatsiou, of the Springfield (Mass.) Messenger, bobs up and says he's only 13.... (The 10 and 12 year old guys will please have their papas write.).

Max Schmeling brought over a German cuckoo clock for Mrs. Eddie Mead, wife of Henry Armstrong's manager.... When Armstrong fought Johnny Cabella in Washington the other night, Al Jolson (who holds the negro's contract) had a special radio hookup installed so he could hear the fight.... Cost: $3,500.... English fight promoters are getting ready to slap two or three suits on Tommy Farr the minute he returns home.... Washington baseball writers, with the Senators, say Bucky Harris will be back at the helm of the Senators next year despite those yarns that Joe Cronin will return as president and general manager.

Tommy Farr says Bob Olin, the light-heavyweight, is the best man he ever fought.... What a surprise Mr. Farr has coming.... Joe Louis is the fifteenth boxer to hold the world's heavyweight title under the Marquis of Queensbury rules.... Those Giants are a different ball club with little Dick Bartell in there leading.... Everybody along Broadway is wondering just what Al Weill (manager of Lou Ambers) had in mind when he offered $35,000 for Tommy Farr's contract effective after the Louis fight.

Digging Up the Local Dirt With the Odd Chuckle or Two

By CEC. PERDUE

JUNIOR Ontario softball playdowns commence here this evening—weather permitting—at Central School grounds at 6.30 o'clock. The Aajmaa Club of Belleville plays Young Petes in this tilt, return fixture being in Belleville tomorrow and third, if necessary, probably on neutral grounds. The Young Petes have been playing all season in the local intermediate loop, where they made a good showing, and thy ought to knock off the Quinte crowd. But the Belleville boys many be tougher than expected. At anyrate it ought to be a nice softball scrap and should draw a big crowd of fans—there being no other game listed locally tonight. Don't forget to dip into the money pocket when the collection comes around; it takes dough to travel in O.A.S.A. playdowns.

HARNESS horse races started today at the Exhibition and will continue tomorrow and Saturday afternoons. A lot of good entries from district and distant points have been received and two races a day will be run off for neat money prizes. First heat starts about two o'clock and they will be interspersed with grandstand acts through the afternoons. This is always the best hoss meet between Toronto and Ottawa and some excellent races result at every Peterborough Exhibition.

JIM DORRIS informs us that Knotty Lee's Ogdensburg Colts will play Smiths Falls here a week from Saturday. That is Aug. 28th and it'll be a Can.-Am. pro ball loop fixture (no exhibition game) at three bells in Riverside Park. Admish is half a buck with grandstand free. This game was transferred here in connection with the annual outing of the C.P.R. employees of Smiths Falls, Perth, Sharbot Lake and such points. Some 1600 are expected to make the excursion—their picnic will be at the Oval—and many of these fans, as well as local followers of baseball, will attend the game in Riverside. The Petes' Club gets a small percentage of the take for diamond rental. Congrats to Jim and the others responsible in getting this excursion to come to Peterborough.

* * * * * *

WE'LL be glad to see old Knotty Lee again and this time he'll be able to go out on the coaching lines and bellow instructions, instead of from the bench. Coach here three years he rode the Petes into loop finals twice and once to a league title. Knotty always had a hustling ball club and made the boys battle their heads off whether they were winning or losing. He ruled the team with an iron hand but was popular with the players. No doubt, his pro Colts hustle just as much for the veteran pilot.

HERB RALPH'S Rotarians dropped a 6-5 decision to Belleville in the first of the junior O.B.A.A. playdowns here last e'en. They booted the turnip all over the patch and deserved to lose, though they rallied in the last two heats to almost sew it up. Belleville are no better than the locals—and only had one earned run to three for Rotary—but they pay off on the final scores. The Rotarians want to get in there fighting Saturday in Belleville and get that one back. Gee Clark pitched all right but had no backing. The visitors have a nice ball club, too. Ye base umps missed a couple in the ninth and who should squawk loudest but ex-Umpire Woodley—of all gents! They had a windy coach on first who enlivened proceedings for some of the bleacherites. We figure the Rotarians to win on Saturday and force a third game—if Ralph's playoff jinx doesn't elbow in again.

KINGSTON PONIES pulled out a 3-2 win in 12 frames last eve at home 'gainst Oshawa GM-men, it being a postponed C.O.B.L. fray and the last one for Oshawa to play before the big series starts. Old Chief Williams hit safely in the overtime heat to produce the winning marker. Paczkowski pitched four-hit ball while Biddle was nailed for nine in this tidy tussle. The Ponies are now just one full game back of Oshawa and, if they can beat Napanee in the two remaining Kingston-Napanee contests, the Daley dudes can go into a first-place tie with Oshawa—if they want it. They will meet Napanee tomorrow e'en and, if Napanee wins, then the Petes will have to play their postponed game in Gibbardsville on Monday to settle the third-place playoff berth. If the Naps lose one game they're out.

AUBURNS have a practise tonight at seven and a full turnout is requested in preparation for playoffs. Belleville Rovers admit they cannot alter the standing any now so they'll waive remaining games and get set to meet the locals in one of the semi-final series, probably commencing next week. Playing in Wellington the other p.m., Oshawa lacrossers copped a 17-6 win over the Rovers before some 600 fans. Cooke and Bovin scored 11 goals between 'em, and Drake went best for the losers. The Rovers may use the Wellington arena for their home stand in playoffs. It'll be Norwood and Local 222 of Oshawa in the other semi-final serial. Yeah, those playoffs considerately take in all the teams!

* * * * * *

NO softball here tonight, but that junior playoff at Central. Though Westclox gals go to Cobourg this evening and a win for 'em will give the Delahaye damsels the league championship and the right to meet Oshawa in the F.W.S.U. playdowns. A win for Cobourg will prolong the series. Westclox have won two games to date and tied one in the three-out-of-five classic, and Cobourg has still to gain a victory. Tomorrow p.m. at Central, Westclox men and Motorists meet in a playoff tilt to declare an O.A.S.A. team, and a nod for the Clockmakers will wind up this lengthy duel, but a win for Shorty Barrett's boys will put it into next week. Victor tangles with Belleville in O.A.S.A. intermediate playdowns.

* * * * * *

GRAB-BAG: Buckaw contest resumes tomorrow a.m. at 8.30 on Simcoe St. between George and Water.... Kingston may have an intermediate O.R.F.U. team this autumn.... A boxing club is being formed on George St. near King.... Oshawa intermediates beat Bowmanville, 4-3, last night with Tip Anderson pitching in the first Lakeshore Loop playoff game.... Vinny Utronki was hit hard by Merritton yesterday as that squad trimmed St. Catharines in the first of the Niagara District senior ball playoffs.... The C.O.B.L. has been given till Sept. 14th to declare a winner.... DeLaval rubbed out Cogs last gloaming in a Southend Softball Loop semi-final.... We liked the work of Umpire Thomas in the junior ball game here last eve.... "No smoking" is one of the training rules for the Quinte gridders this fall.... We'll have six different teams in Provincial playdowns this fall—that is, without counting grid squads.... Winter weariness, Spring fever, midsummer dog days, or just plain laziness—dunno what it is but we have it.

MATCH RACE WON BY PETER CHILCOOT

SARNIA, Aug. 19—(CP).—Peter Chilcoot, the big brown stallion owned by Hon. Earl Rowe, took two out of three heats here Wednesday to win a match race with Tom Grattan, the black pacer from the Pine Ridge Stable of London. The race was a feature of a harness horse program sponsored by the Imperial Racing Association.

Breaking the track record of 2.09¼, established a few years ago by Mack Unko, Tom Grattan took advantage of Chilcoot's trouble in the first heat to set a new mark for the oval. The Ontario Conservative leader's horse, driven by Clint Hodgins, came from behind in the next two heats to capture the honors.

The other match event between Calumet Brade of the Preston Stables at London and Lee Ora W. owned by Moore Brothers, Sarnia, ended when the local trotter, who stepped the mile in 2.11¼ to win the first heat, made a mis-step in the second heat which injured a front leg and hip.

The events were packed with action throughout. Sandy Signal, owned by W. Dawson of Port Lambton, won the 2.17 in straight heats. H. Hale's Imperial Grattan, of Dutton, took two firsts and a second in the 2.24 event. The big upset in that event occurred in the second heat when J. T. Saint's Hal B. Direct came from seventh position to take the lead and pay $59.80 to one lone better. Great Peter was the best in the 2.30 class.

Campbellford Club In Second Position

(Examiner Correspondence.)

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 19.—Winning only two of the five events of the playoff game with Belleville, Campbellford tennis club is now in second place in the Trent Valley League, and will meet Trenton in a sudden death game on August 25th. Tied with Belleville for first place, the local team was conceded an excellent opportunity of taking Wednesday's game from the Quinte team and getting a bye into the playoffs. However, handicapped by the unavoidable absence of two of their strongest players, Cliff Weston and Ken. Kingston, the locals gained only two victories when J. Heptonstall and Harry Free took the second men's doubles from Frank Martin and S. Evans, 6-3, 6-1, and P. Ferris and Elsie Connor scored the second win the ladies' doubles in two sets, the score being 6-1, 6-3.

In the first men's doubles, Bud Odell and Art Cole downed Wilbert Kingston and D. Meyers, a combination the local club had expected would make their third point. The score for this event was 6-4, 6-4. Sheilah Burrows and Gordon Edwards took an easy victory from Dick Ramsden and Ruby Townsend in the mixed doubles, 6-1, 6-2. Jack Meira and Mary Collins lost the first mixed doubles event to Dawson McLean and Grace McCreary, 6-2, 6-3.

Syracuse Gains On Royals With Twin Win Over Leafs

Bears Have Chance to Sew Up League Bunting Within the Week.

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (C.P.).—While the Newark Bears go on their merry way toward clinching the International League pennant, the other clubs of the loop continued to wage a hot battle for the three other berths in the playoffs.

Latest developments on the first division front saw the Syracuse Chiefs draw within a half-game of the second place Montreal Royals with a double win over Toronto while the Buffalo Bisons and Baltimore Orioles maintained their status quo, with a half game separating the fourth place Bisons from the fifth place Orioles.

The Bears meanwhile, pacing themselves against the record books, approached the point where they may mathematically sew up the bunting inside of a week.

Here's the way the situation stood at the end of last night's games:

	W.	L.	Games Out to Ahead	Play
Newark	91	55	25½	28
Montreal	62	57	....	35

Need Seven More Wins

According to these figures, the Bears, by winning seven more games or by Montreal Royals losing a like number, can officially celebrate the end of the pennant race.

Bruins closed out a successful stay at Montreal when they nosed out Royals 7-6 last night for their fifth win of the long seven-game series. Atley Donald, the Bruins' sensational rookie hurler, hung up his 17th victory of the campaign although he wasn't around when the game was over. The lean right-hander, given a good lead by his mates, was belted from the mound in the eighth inning, and young Marius Russo finished up.

Edge Out Leafs.

The Chiefs continued to get fine hurling and edged out the Leafs 2-1 and 4-3 to hand the Howeymen their sixth consecutive defeat and send them down to seventh place behind Rochester. Fred Fussell pitched four-hit ball for the Chiefs in the opener.

Manager Bucky Crowe made sure his Orioles didn't fall too far behind Buffalo when he poled out two homers in the second game of a double-header to give the Birds a 7-0 victory after Buffalo had grabbed the opener 11-2.

Young Howie Kirst and the veteran Lefty Bill Walker hurled the Red Wings past Toronto with 4-1 and 3-1 triumphs over Jersey City.

GOLF-FACTS NOT THEORIES

By Alex Morrison

An English sports writer describing the conditions the American team met in the Ryder Cup matches at Southport, England, brought out a point that is timely.

The scene of the matches is one of rolling fairways. In some cases the slope of the ground is so gradual that the player has trouble knowing whether the ball is resting below or above the level of his feet. Very often this is the case with shots on our home courses, you line up the shot exactly as you would when playing on level ground, with the result that the ball flies off to the left or right of the intended line of play.

The odd direction, coming as a surprise, is confusing, yet there is a good reason for it. When the ball is lying below the level of your feet the tendency is to send it to the right of the regular line of play. When it is lying above your feet it generally goes to the left of the regular line.

Now the thing to do is — not to change your swing—just alter your stance to suit the particular lie. If the ball is lower than your feet, take a stance that allows for a fade to the right in the flight of the ball. Likewise, when the ball is higher than your feet stand to allow for a pull.

•Belleville Kiwanis Beat Rotarians 6-5 In Junior Ball Tilt

Local Errors Costly as Ralph Squad Drops First of Junior O.B.A.A. Series.

Belleville Kiwanis took a 6-5 victory over the local Rotarians here last evening in the first game of the O.B.A.A. junior playdowns. The second is in Belleville on Saturday. A fair-sized crowd saw the Ralph boys kick the ball all over the place in the early frames to give Belleville a big lead and then almost sew it up in the last two heats. The game was a mixture of good and bad baseball all the way.

Infield errors proved very costly to the young Petes, only one of the visitors' six runs being earned. They also twice left bases uncovered and both sides stole second frequently. Some nice pitching was shown on both sides over most of the route. The visitors used three hurlers and the homesters one.

Allows Seven Hits

Gee Clark hurled seven-hit ball for the Rotarians and had but one earned run off his delivery as he fanned six and walked two. His support was terrible at times. Kelleher lasted on the other mound till the eighth when two singles and a triple sent him to the showers. Nokes finished the frame but was wild in the ninth and Weeks put the finishing touches on the tilt. The latter two were southpaws, and all Quinte hurlers showed a lot of promise. Their support was fairly good for the most part. Kelly got three hits for the losers and Giardino and Webb two each. The latter had a double and Giardino a triple. Collins topped the Kiwanis with three bingles and Amo came through with two. Gerard and Connelly had nice catches and Giardino a good pick-up for the locals, while Plummer and Amo drew applause for neat catches for the victors.

Kiwanis Start It

Belleville got a run in the first on two hits and two errors, and they added two in the fourth on no hits and three miscues, along with some dumb ball by the Rotarians. They got three more in the fifth on one hit, a walk and two errors, with a steal and sacrifice thrown in. Rotary got one in the fifth on an error and double. They shoved three over in the hectic eighth on four singles, two steals, a passed ball and a triple. They got one more in the ninth on a walk, steal, error and out. Kelly hit to put the tying run on first and he stole but died on second as the latter batter fanned.

ALBIONS ADVANCE IN 'B' PLAYDOWNS

(Examiner Correspondence.)

HAVELOCK, Aug. 19.—The Havelock Junior "B" softball team took the initial round of the O.A.B.A. playdowns from the Wooler Juniors, when they defeated their opponents by an 11 to 9 score in the second game, held here Wednesday afternoon. The locals have drawn a bye in the second round and will see no action in O.A.B.A. competition until August 30th, when they will play the winners of the semi-finals, either Napanee, Odessa or Bath.

Taking the lead in the first stanza, the locals continued to pile up runs, while the visitors were held scoreless until the fifth. Clarke of Havelock allowing only one hit and no passes during this time. Redcliffe opened the scoring for Wooler with a circuit clout early in the fifth, but they were held to this single run until the ninth inning, the locals having scored 11 runs for a ten-goal lead. Luck finally favored Wooler, however, in the ninth, and Clarke was touched for seven runs, before he was relieved on the mound by Cliff Kennedy. Going into the first half of the ninth with a three-goal margin, Clarke again went in the box, allowing three hits but retiring the side with only a single run scored.

The game was fast and exciting all the way through, despite the large lead gained by the locals in the early innings. Stacey, pitcher for Wooler, was relieved in the fifth by F. Down.

The teams:

Havelock—McMullen cf, Ketchen c, McCutcheon 2b, Peters 3b, Kennedy lf, Pollack ss, Puffer 1b, Bedford rf, Clarke p.

Wooler—Richards ss, W. Down 1b, Austin cf, McColl 2b, Stacey p, Redcliffe 3b, Dunn rf, Bryant c, Rutuan lf, F. Down p.

Score by innings:

Havelock	232 031 00x—11
Wooler	000 010 071— 9

Riggs Wins Another Title

Three United States titles in as many weeks is the record boasted by Bobby Riggs, 19-year-old tennis sensation from Los Angeles, Calif. He is almost certain of being ranked No. 2 in the United States next year. Bobby won his latest title this year, when he defeated Frankie Parker, No. 2 player of the U.S. to win the Eastern Grass Court championships at Rye, N.Y. He defeated the Davis Cup star in straight sets, 6-3, 7-5, 7-5. Riggs is seen here in action.

Williams' 12th Frame Hit Gives Kingston 3-2 Victory

Tough Battle For First Place Central League Goes 12 Innings.

TORONTO, Aug. 19 (C.P.). — Still in the Winnipeg streak that brought them eight straight victories as the Niagara District Senior Baseball League schedule closed, Merritton Alliance were one game up on St. Catharines to-day in the loop finals.

The Papermakers took an early lead in the first game of the finals yesterday and beat the Saints 8-7. Slashing out 14 hits to St. Catharines' eight, Merritton scored three times in the first frame, again in the second, and completed their total in the fifth before St. Catharines got a run.

A scoring spree in the final two innings saw the Saints cross the plate three time in the eighth and four times in the ninth, but Coull, pinch-hitting with the bases loaded, failed to connect and Schooley retired the side. Second game of the best-of-five series will be played on Saturday.

Take Semi-Finals.

Stratford Nationals took their semi-final series with Strathroy in straight games to meet London for the Inter-county Senior Baseball League title. First game of the final series will be played at London on Saturday.

Stratford trimmed the Royals 5-4 last Saturday and marched through the second game 13-5 yesterday. Scoring three times in the first inning, the Nationals were never in danger as they coasted through the rest of the game.

Kingston Wins 3-2.

Jack Williams popped out a single in the 12th inning to give Kingston Ponies a 3-2 win over Oshawa in the Central Ontario Senior Baseball League. Kingston now meets Napanee in a two-game series and if they win both games will tie with Oshawa for first place in the league standing.

Oshawa, senior Ontario champions, got both their runs in the third, but Kingston scored in the fourth and sixth to tie the game. Tony Paczkowski, top-notch Kingston hurler, had an edge over Lefty Biddle, Oshawa, allowing only four hits to the nine chalked up against Biddle.

Lefty Adair of Kitchener received his first reverse of the season as Waterloo trimmed the Panthers 4-1 in the first game of the Inter-county Intermediate A semi-finals. Kitchener had beaten Waterloo three times in the regular schedule.

CUBS' LEAD CUT AS GIANTS GAIN FIFTH STRAIGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 19—(CP). — The "experts" who claimed 'way out on that creaky limb for the Chicago Cubs a couple of weeks ago were scrambling all over each other today, trying to get back before the thing broke in two under them.

You could hear it cracking wide open all over the National League, particularly in gleeful New York, whose galloping Giants were only two games off the pace; in Pittsburgh, where the once-more pounding Pirates were moving along at their fastest pace since early in the season, and in glum Chicago, whose Cubs were giving unmistakable signs of quietly folding up and stealing away.

Fifth Straight Setback

The Bucs pinned the fifth straight setback on the injury-jinxed Windy City wallopers yesterday, winning 7-6 with a two-run rally in the ninth, to climb back into a virtual tie for third place. At the same time, the Giants, making the most of their newly-discovered ability to hit timely behind their top-flight flinging belted the Bees 9-1 for their fifth straight win.

Although the Pirates have little of the crack pitching that is skyrocketing the Giants along, particularly the masterful left arm of King Carl Hubbell, who turned in a seven-hitter yesterday, the Bucs are belting that apple—and winning the close ones.

While the Giants have been taking the second division Phillies and Bees during their current winning streak, the Pirates have run into the tougher sockers from St. Louis and Chicago, with the same results. Whichever way you look at it, however, it appears the Giants and Pirates may yet fight it out for the flag, with the Cardinals still to be heard from and the Cubs praying for less bandages on more ballplayers.

Yanks Keep Going

Meantime, the Yankees are slugging along on an 11½-game lead in the American League. Murderers' Row made it three in a row over the Senators yesterday with a 7-6 decision on the strength of Joe DiMaggio's 35th homer, which broke up the ball game in the ninth inning.

The second-place Tigers were trounced thoroughly by the White Sox, losing 6-0 to Vernon Kennedy's four-hit elbowing. The Athletics scored their first win of the year over the Red Sox, 4-2.

The Indians and Browns broke even in a double bill, Cleveland coming through 5-2 in the opener and then dropping an 11-6 clouting contest. The Dodgers and Phils were rained out and the Cards and Reds took the day off.

Oshawa Ball Club Beats Bowmanville

BOWMANVILLE, Aug. 19.—Oshawa Seconds got the jump on the defending champions when they squeezed out a 4 to 3 victory over Bowmanville Royals here last night in the first of the final series in the Intermediate Lake Shore League. Although Bowmanville outhit the visitors by 10 to 8, the Royals left 12 men on bases, leaving the sacks loaded and each of their four errors figured in the scoring. Bert Colwell, husky second baseman of the locals, led the hit collectors with three to his credit, one good for two bases. Hall and Young shared four of the Oshawa hits.

Burning Straw Load Hauled Out Danger

CHATHAM, Ont., Aug. 19 (CP).—Tractors were used to haul a burning straw stack into a field on the farm of Neil McMillan of Howard Township yesterday, preventing flames from reaching two large barns containing considerable grain and averting a heavy financial loss.

The fire broke out in the straw stack during threshing operations. Farm helpers and threshers went to work with buckets and held the flames in check while fire equipment from Ridgetown and Blenheim raced to the scene of the blaze.

Of the 4,189 cars stolen in Paris last year, 3,474 were recovered.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

By MARIE BLIZARD

READ THIS FIRST:

Ambitious to become a dress designer, Mary Barrett accidentally meets Tony Castle, owner of a smart New York dress shop. After examining some of her sketches, he offers her a job. They see more and more of one another and begin to fall in love. During the absence of Francine Long, Tony's head buyer who dislikes Mary, the latter successfully designs some gowns for an important client, Liane Weston, a leading actress. Something goes wrong during the final fitting, the actress goes into a tantrum and Tony publicly berates himself for letting Mary, still inexperienced, design the gowns. Mary feels certain Miss Long purposely altered one of the dresses. Leaving Tony's shop without word, Mary decides to go abroad. En route to Paris she meets Mark Sutherland, wealthy playboy. In Paris Mary has difficulty finding work. By pre-arrangement she meets Mark there. Mark refers her to a friend of his. Countess Anetka, who runs a small dress shop in Paris. Mary enjoys Mark but begins to realize how much she misses Tony. (NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY)

CHAPTER 12.

At 10 minutes of 7 Mary Barrett opened her eyes, struggled with her desire to sleep longer and reached her hand out for Mark's card which had lain the night on the corner of her bed.

She hadn't dreamed it; the card was there.

For a few minutes she debated about the possibilities of a bath, knew it to be futile and resigned herself to the sponge and basin affair that was the most difficult thing about living in Paris. She gave as much attention to her ablutions as though she were going on physical exhibition instead of merely to meet the Countess Anetka Illovitch.

Her wardrobe—scant but smart—came in for expert scrutiny. She abandoned the tempting idea of wearing her smart black crepe with a double strand of pearls. Black and pearls constituted the uniform of the smart Parisienne and Anetka would know she was merely a copyist if she wore them.

She brushed her copper hair until it shone, curling each fat curl around her finger in the fashion of the moment. Then she selected a navy blue sheer crepe with smart pique collar and wide cuffs. She buffed her blue kid shoes until they too had a shining quality. Then she adjusted the small toque made of the same fabric as her frock. White gauntlet gloves of doeskin and a small, neat purse completed the ensemble. She looked young, crisp, alert and confident.

It was scarcely 8 when she went out. She couldn't call at the shop so early in the morning, neither could she wait until a later hour to fare forth on her adventure. The early morning air was an elixir. Paris in the early morning is made up of diamonds and champagne and colors from a celestial paintbrush.

Mary found a tiny restaurant with its inevitable sidewalk tables, ordered chocolate and brioche and drank the early morning in. The waiter brought her a Paris Herald but she had no eyes for it. Things were happening to her. What happened to the rest of the world was unreal.

The world around her was waking up quickly. The morning began to pass more rapidly. Mary got up from her small table, paid her bill and set out, reluctant not to prolong her anticipation.

She had to cross from the Right Bank to the St. Germain district. She took the Metro. She had never been in that part of Paris and it was a still newer world to her. It was still early in the morning and she walked slowly, peering at new sights, lingering before the windows of the quaint shops, pausing for conversation with doll-like children in a public square.

It was 11o'clock when she appeared in the street where the countess' shop was located. Mary felt her throat grow dry, constricted. Her heart beat a faster tempo with anticipation mingled with apprehension. If the countess didn't want her ....

A street scene caught her eye, made her forget her apprehension for a moment and made her smile with enjoyment.

It was a scene of such aplomb, such a charming intermingling of the French domestic and business procedure. There was a little sidewalk cart—the kind with which Mary was familiar on the East Side of New York—with its wares of china ornaments set out. And there was Madame calmly peeling potatoes and onions, stirring the cooking meat that bubbled in a copper kettle on a small charcoal stove. The tempting aroma of her stew carried to Mary's sensitive nostrils, warning her that the hour for lunch was approaching.

She smiled at the little scene, to which no one else appeared to pay any attention, and hurried on.

At first when she found the number 21, she was afraid that she had come to the wrong address. This shabby stone house couldn't be the proper place!

A small card in the door told her that is was.

Climbing the narrow stairs, she remembered that Kate had told her the night before: There are hundreds of small shops like your countess'. They come and go and no one even wonders where. Remembering, she straightened her shoulders and reminded herself that there was no reason why this one should. Mark knew about it and Mark had said that the countess had a small clientele. That was all that Mary asked for. Besides, Paris wasn't like New York where you had to put on a successful front.

Why she'd been hearing about the little shops of Paris ever since she could remember!

Every step up along that narrow, dingy stairway, Mary had a fresh reassurance for herself. And every step she forced her hopes a little higher.

She even dared to hope that she was needed.

Her hopes took another sickening dive when the door opened in response to her knock and she was admitted to what—she wasn't quite sure at first—was the showroom.

A small rabbitish creature admitted her, bowed in a funny little Gaelic curtsy and murmured that 'Madame, la Comtesse,' was arriving immediately.

Mary smiled, thanked her and sat down gingerly on the edge of a plush chair from which she had to remove a bolt of dusty brocade. Then she took stock of the room. Her first impression was of the dust that literally covered it. Then she saw all the things that crowded it. The draperies, the bolts of fabric which had an unused look. The handsome silver tea service, the samovar, which had a used look, on a beautifully carved table; the photographs of handsome men and women. Men and women with tiaras, and ribbons across their breasts; the loons, the bronze vases; the hassocks to trip over; the untidy desk in the corner; the wall that was a mirror.

At the back of the draperies she heard high, excited voices, chattering in a mixture of French and Russian. That was, she supposed, the workroom, and she would have given her pet clip to have had an immediate look at it.

The draperies parted abruptly and the most petite blond Mary had ever seen stood there smiling at her. Mary's first impression was of wide, very blue eyes, a homely face made beautiful by a warm smile, under a head of fluffy, unmanageable blond hair.

"You are Marie Barr-ay?"

Mary said she was and found her hand clasped firmly by the countess.

She started to say that Mark had sent her, that Mark had ....

"Yes ... yes ... I know," the countess interrupted. "You have experience, yes?"

After that Mary found it easy to talk. She could sew, cut, press make muslin patterns, sketch ...

It was the sketches that interested Anetka most. She demanded to see them, exclaimed delightedly over them and won Mary's heart at once. She needed a designer, she said, but she could not afford to pay enough for such things as Mary had.

She could afford only ... what do you say in English?—25 dollaire?

Mary tried not to look as overwhelmed as she felt.

"Twenty-five dollars was ample," she said, and with a flash of insight managed to make Anetka understand that one day, if she should prove herself valuable, they might make arrangements.

After that they shook hands solemnly and had tea. It was only a few minutes before lunch but tea was called for. And tea, flavored with triumph and high anticipation, Mary found to be nectar. She had a job and $25 a week which was a fortune the way she was living!

After she had gone, Anetka looked at her pad at the note Mark had sent her.

"I'll put up $26 a week," he had written.

Bedtime Story

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TROUSERS

"Hurray! Hurray! There it is! Hurray!"

Uncle Wiggily was so jolly well excited and happy he jumped up and down from where he had been sitting on a green, mossy log and cheered.

"I see my red coat again and it is coming this way," he said. "Hurray!"

Uncle Wiggily had been chasing his red coat that had been taken away while he was diving off the spring board into Blue Lake. Being tired, he sat down to rest after whoever had his red coat had disappeared amid the trees.

"But now they are bringing it back. Hurray!" said the rabbit.

Something red came nearer and nearer. It flashed bright in the sun. Uncle Wiggily, who was in his damp underwear, felt happy. A voice sang:

"Cheer up! Cheer up! Cheer up!"

"I'll cheer up when I get my red coat back," said Mr. Longears. "Then I'll go after my trousers. Ah, there you are, my coat!"

"But I'm not your coat!" said the voice that had told the bunny to cheer up.

"You are red," protested Uncle Wiggily who still had some water in his eyes from his dives into the lake.

"Ah, yes, but I am Robin Red Breast," sang the bird. "I am sorry if you mistook me for your red coat!"

"That's what I did," said Uncle Wiggily sadly. "Oh, where is my red coat and my blue trousers?"

"That I cannot tell you," chirped the robbin. "I am very sorry I fooled you into thinking my red feathers were you red coat."

"Oh, that's all right," said Uncle Wiggily. "Mistakes will happen or there would be no use for the rubbers the lead pencils have to wear even when it doesn't rain. But did you see my blue trousers, by any chance, Mr. Robin?"

"Were your trousers taken, too?" asked the bird.

"Yes," sadly answered the bunny. He didn't feel ashamed to stand before the robin in only his underwear. "They took my coat and trousers. And I can't go back to my camping tent until I find them," said Mr. Longears.

"That's too bad," said the robin. "Do you want me to fly to your tent and tell your wife or Nurse Jane to come here with an extra coat and trousers for you?"

"Would you do that?" asked Mr. Longears eagerly.

"Certainly I will—glad to do it!" sang the bird.

"Then please do," begged the bunny.

Away flew the robin to do one of his three good turns in the day so he would be like an Animal Scout and Uncle Wiggily was about to sit down on the log again when, all of a sudden, he saw something blue off through the trees.

"Ha! There go my trousers!" shouted the rabbit gentleman. "I am going to get them. I could manage to get back to my camp tent if I had my trousers. The coat isn't so important.

"Hi there!" he called toward where he saw the blue spot in the woods. "Bring me back my trousers, please! Or wait until I get there and I'll take them!"

Uncle Wiggily, still in his underwear, somewhat damp from his dive into the lake, began running through the woods again after his trousers. And if the sardine doesn't go fishing with the radio pole from an automobile I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's return.

DRENCHING RAINS END FOREST FIRES AFTER LONG BATTLE

GLACE BAY, N.S., Aug. 19—(CP) Drenching rain brought relief to miners, farmers and fishermen today after a day-long battle to save their homes from forest fires which swept across Eastern Cape Breton county.

The rain drenched woods, grown tinder-dry during the six weeks' dry spell and extinguished fires that yesterday levelled six homes, a general store, cut off power lines and waste miles of wood-land.

At Dominion No. 6 colliery, furniture was carried back into miners' homes after it had lain on the roadside all night.

Half a dozen mining communities had been menaced in Eastern Cape Breton County as flames roared across hundreds of wooded acres. Royal Canadian Mounted Police ordered dynamite exploded in the path of the fires to check their progress.

Another dangerous blaze was raging in the Upper Stewiacke district of Colchester County, on the mainland.

Eight buildings fell before the fires in Cape Breton. Three houses were razed at Dominion No. 6, a house and barn was destroyed at Mill Creek, on the north side of Sydney Harbor. Two houses and a store at Florence burned.

Street car communication between Glace Bay and Sydney was disrupted and power service cut off in the district. Smoke forced miners in No. 10 and No. 11 collieries at Reserve to quit work.

BAR PAYS TRIBUTE TO WAR PREMIER

By Frank Flaherty
(Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

TORONTO, Aug. 19. — (C.P.). — Members of the Bar were peculiarly fitted to render "fine public service to the nation," Hon. Newton Rowell, Chief Justice of Ontario, said at the opening of the annual meeting of the Canadian Bar Association here Wednesday.

The Chief Justice spoke in proposing a motion of regret at the death of Sir Robert Borden, war-time Prime Minister and a member of the Association. He said Sir Robert's life was an outstanding example of the service lawyers could render.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mr. Justice H. H. Davis of the Supreme Court of Canada, who urged younger members of the Bar to take an interest in public affairs and the activities of their profession as a whole.

Representing the English Bar was Norman Birkett, K.C., of London, while Maitre Jacques Charpentier of Paris represented the French Bar, and Frederick H. Stinchfield, president of the American Bar Association, represented that body.

Hon. H. A. Bruce, Lieutenant-Governor, welcomed the lawyers and congratulated the Dominion Government on the selection of Chief Justice Rowell as chairman of the Royal Commission of Dominion-Provincial Relations.

Norman Birkett, who was counsel for the present Duchess of Windsor in her divorce action against Ernest Simpson, Dr. Bruce said, was the most "talked of lawyer in the Empire." He had been engaged in "some of the most notorious cases in England."

POOR-DRIVERS JUST BORDER-LINE CASES

DETROIT, Aug. 18. — (CP). —If you're a persistent traffic law violator, maybe you're parapsychotic. Dr. Lowell S. Selling, head of the Detroit court clinic, has announced discovery of a new mental disorder known as parapsychosis.

Dr. Selling described the disorder at the international congress of psychology, which he attended recently in Paris.

"Parapsychosis is a mental disorder due to underdeveloped nervous system and lack of insight," Dr. Selling said. "It is a border-line case of insanity."

For example, the parapsychotic has strange explanations for his traffic violations and is notably lacking in insight, which causes the patient to develop an unnatural egotism, the doctor said.

Dr. Selling believed victims could be cured but noted that at present his Detroit clinic was unable to take care of the disease.

PHILADELPHIA.—Four men were killed and 10 injured by a steam explosion aboard the U.S. Destroyer Cassin today at the Philadelphia navy yard the commandant's office announced.

15-Month-Old Paralysis Victim Making Satisfactory Recovery

Favorable progress is being made by the 15-months-old infantile paralysis victim and no further outbreaks are reported here, according to local medical authorities.

Dr. Herbert N. Young, physician to the McDonnel street family, whose infant boy is stricken with the dread complaint, stated: "When I last saw the patient late on Tuesday his temperature had dropped to normal and he was making satisfactory progress."

Confirming the fact there are no further outbreaks of poliomyelitis in the city, Dr. G. Murray Fraser, medical officer of health, said he could not give too much stress to the need of calling in a physician at earliest signs of sickness in any member of the family. Early diagnosis, he said, was most important in the treatment of infantile paralysis.

What was usually considered as a mild digestive upset in a child might easily be the onset of infantile paralysis. Early signs are: Neck stiffness, headache, lower back pains, prostration and vomiting, he said.

MYSTERY FIGHTER CONFINED TO JAIL

WINDSOR, Ont., Aug. 19—(CP). Wearing a red and white mask he wears in the ring, Mystery Man No. 2 is confined to a jail cell today, climax to a wrestling bout here last night. He gave his name as Jack Murdock, 28, Detroit.

It is alleged a board he ripped from the wrestling arena press box was used as a flail and in the melee landed on a woman's elbow, inflicting a bruise.

It has not been decided whether he will be arraigned in court. Mrs. Florence Layman, 39, if she prefers an assault charge, Murdock will be forced to appear in court and remove his mask.

The main bout between the Mystery Man and Ivan Rasputin concluded in disorder. The Mystery Man said people kept grabbing at his legs as he left the ring and he attempted to kick himself free.

"I guess I was confused," he said. "Instead of going to the dressing room I went to the wrong side of the arena. Somebody hit me in the back of the head with a board and I grabbed it and started to swing it. They said I hit some woman."

Fifty-Six Seconds Is Time Required Make Three Cuts

Young Otonabee Man Beats Tom Walling By Twelve Seconds

Gordon Manley, 25-year-old employee of Peterborough Lumber Company, was this morning acclaimed as the new world champion bucksawyer at the close of the second annual two-day contest of speed and brawn staged and sponsored by The Peterborough Examiner.

The new "champ," also holder of the Western Ontario title which he won last Fall, wrested the honor from Thomas Walling, 64-year-old Haliburton woodsman in the finals with an amazing display of speed. He made a triple cut through a four foot length of six-inch hard maple in 56 second flat, bettering the defeated champion's time by more than 12 seconds.

Amid the plaudits of rival competitors and spectators the new champion bucksaw artist, who hails from Otonabee Township, was presented by Harold L. Garner, managing director of the Examiner, with a handsome silver cup, emblematic of the bucksaw championship of the world, together with a purse of fifty dollars.

Walling Runner-Up.

Duty Is Collected On Two Tire Valves

Belfast, Aug. 20.

THIS happened today in Northern Ireland, not Scotland.

Ernesto Vidal and Juan Gill, Spanish motorcyclists arrived here with machines for tomorrow's grand prix. The motorcycles were made in Great Britain, so were not liable to customs duty. An eagle-eyed inspector, however, noticed the tire valves were made in the United States and demanded a penny duty on each. Fourpence was duly paid.

RAIN POSTPONES FAIR PROGRAMME EARLY THURSDAY

Rain finally overtook Peterborough's Exhibition in its August dates Thursday causing cancellation of the afternoon program except the formal opening in a light drizzle by Hon. Duncan Marshall, Ontario Minister of Agriculture.

The surprising episode of the second day which began with fair promise in the morning was the packed grandstand in the evening in spite of the heavy shower after supper that threatened to leave the day without a redeeming feature at the turnstiles.

Judging of dairy cattle and horses proceeded during the afternoon without any concessionary delay by the unfavorable weather, and for many of the directors and exhibitors the essential duty was an unpleasant grind that had to be finished.

Only a few hundred people were in the stand when Hon. Mr. Marshall formally opened the Exhibition. He was accompanied by L. E. O'Neill, Director of the Livestock Branch of the Department of Agriculture. Introduced by Tom Brown, president, Hon. Mr. Marshall congratulated Peterborough on the steady expansion of its Exhibition, and extended his commendation to exhibitors and the general public who loyally support the directors in their agricultural and industrial enterprise. The fact that one herd of cattle had come from Lambton county on the western border of the province, and other notable herds from sections west of Toronto was evidence that Peterborough's Exhibition had already attained a wide reputation.

Hon. Mr. Marshall briefly outlined the history of agricultural fairs. They were first held in England about 160 years ago, organized for educational purposes and especially for the improvement of the various breeds of livestock. Rivalry among breeders led to their wagering as to whose cattle or horses were best and when the animals were brought together for comparison, and virtually for judging, these occasions became the inception of the idea of holding fairs at regular intervals.

A century ago agricultural associations sprang up among the pioneer farmers of this province, and became an important influence

Fair Distribution Of Work Available Asked By Strikers

Discrimination Being Practised Against Men on Strike Is Claim.

Henry Barrett, managing director of the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds, had arranged to meet Auburn workers at the East City Community Hall to discuss the situation at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon, it was announced shortly before press time. Mayor George Macdonald was expected to be present.

Hopes of an entire city that today would see the end of the eight-week textile strike faded when 150 Auburn workers walked out a half hour after they had responded to the opening whistle at the Auburn mill this morning. They claimed discrimination had been practised against their number in violation of the agreement with the company and Premier Hepburn they accepted Wednesday this week.

While the Auburn strikers gathered for another of their long series of councils of war in the Ashburnham Community Hall, Bonner-Worth girls and men picked up operations where they were left off on June 29. It appeared that all departments of the Bonner-Worth had resumed work in full swing this afternoon. Strike leaders advised the Bonner-Worth workers at noon to continue at their work and that today's renewed dispute concerned only the Auburn workers.

Local officials of the Dominion Woollens said Henry Barrett, managing director, was expected to arrive in the city early this afternoon. It was rumoured he planned to make an effort to settle the present trouble by a direct appeal to the workers.

Sang Going to Work

Confident that their troubles were over, the Auburn workers sang "Happy Days Are Here Again!" as they trooped in the laneways to the Auburn gates shortly before 7 o'clock in the morning. The first suggestion to those who had thought that all strikers would be accepted back to work, that "Happy Days Are Here Again!" was inappropriate came when the returning men and women were halted at the gatehouse.

A list of those to be admitted to work was read out by a supervisor. Others not called in were directed to remain within ready contact of the company in order they might be called as soon as work was available for them.

Organizer Alex Welch reported he made a check-up and that about half the returning strikers were turned away at this time.

Strike Chairman Mike English stated later in the morning the complaint of the strikers was not that some were turned away on the grounds of lack of work, but that it was found a number of machines of men turned away were occupied by night weavers who had been switched to day.

"We realize they can't start the mill up at once, but anyone whose machine is going should be on the job," English stated. "The fact that the machines of some of the men who have been turned away are being worked by others proves the company is discriminating in violation of our agreement."

Alex. Welch telegraphed the strikers' legal adviser, J. L. Cohen in Toronto, that clauses No. 6 and 7 of the agreement had been violated by the company and asked him to report the matter to "the concillator." The telegram stated that the Auburn workers will not return until the matter is ironed out.

In clause No. 6 of the agreement, the company undertakes not to discriminate against any for participation in the strike. Clause No. 7 is an undertaking of the company "to du-

Excitement At Ex. Proves Too Much

APPARENTLY overcome by excitment as aerial performers were ringing down the curtain on the grandstand performance at the Exhibition last night, a local husband and wife received first aid before being removed home by E. F. Mason, one of the Fair Board directors.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Allen, 113 Gladstone avenue. Mr. Allen, 42-year-old grocer was stated by his wife to have suffered six convulsions through the night and to have been attended by the family physician. His condition had shown some improvement this afternoon.

Mrs. Allen who made a more speedy recovery from her attack, told a reporter she was watching the aerial performers from a seat on the grandstand when she fainted and had to be carried off. "I guess the excitement and suspense were too much for me," she said.

Later, on coming around, Mrs. Allen said, she learned that her husband had suffered a similar attack, although a much more severe one.

CORNWALL COTTON STRIKERS ACCEPT SETTLEMENT PLAN

(By the Canadian Press).

Settlement of two more walkouts today left almost unclouded Ontario's industrial sky. Last night 1,200 striking employees of Canadian Cottons, Limited, at Cornwall, accepted terms of settlement similar to those approved by Peterborough textile workers and Premier Hepburn announced agreement had been reached in the John B. Stetson Hat Company strike at Brockville.

The Brockville agreement was reached after conferences in which Mr. Hepburn acted as mediator yesterday. It will be presented to strikers for approval today with, according to the Premier, the recommendation by strike representatives that it be approved.

Stetson employees walked out eight weeks ago for higher wages and recognition of their union and better working conditions. These also were the demands of the textile strikers, the 1,200 in Cornwall and some 500 in Peterborough.

Return On Monday

The Peterborough employees came to terms Wednesday night, while last night's acceptance at Cornwall after a 33-day walkout came amid wild cheers and applause. The Cornwall workers are scheduled to parade back to their jobs Monday.

The Cornwall agreement calls for each of the three units to have a committee of not less than four or more than seven members with a representative from each major department to deal with the management on grievances.

Both textile companies agreed to abide by the Ontario Labor and Industry Board's findings with respect to minimum wages and hours and wage rates for overtime.

At Foleyet, 100 miles north of Sudbury, more than 100 sawmill workers were scheduled to go back to their jobs today after settlement arranged in a dramatic airplane flight by Hon. Peter Heenan, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests, and government officials, earlier this week.

Shipyards of Scotland are the busiest since 1930.

AMERICAN SAILOR KILLED BY SHELL

SHANGHAI, Aug. 20—(AP)—One United States sailor was killed and 18 wounded to-night when an anti-aircraft shell of undetermined origin struck the after-well deck of the cruiser Augusta, flagship of the United States Asiatic Fleet.

The Augusta, flagship of Admiral Yarnell, has been lying in the Whangpoo River a little downstream from the heart of the international settlement, covering the evacuation of refugees from stricken Shanghai.

The shell plunged from a high angle. Both Japanese and Chinese artillery and anti-aircraft batteries had been firing furiously through the late afternoon and into the night.

The sailor killed was Freddie John Falgout of Raceland, Florida. None of the 18 wounded was seriously hurt.

Canning Factory Is Hit By Lightning

BELLEVILLE, Ont., Aug. 20 (CP).—Thirty women employees were partially shocked and another, Mrs. A. I. Maracle, stunned when a lightening bolt hit the canning factory at Mountain View. The galvanized tanks were all charged by the bolt. Telephone communication was disrupted. A barn was struck at Green Point, and, destroyed. The owner Arthur Garman left the building just before it was hit. Later he went back and cut his horses loose to save them. Pigs, poultry, grain and implements were lost in the blaze.

POLICE CHIEF IS STABBED.

BARRIE, Ont., Aug. 20. (CP).—Police chief Alex Stewart was stabbed in the left side with a screw driver early today while assisting in putting an accident patient to bed in Barrie Hospital. His condition was reported as not serious, although he is "very weak."

After a collision between cars driven by Joseph Golisky, 37, Toronto, and Donald Finlayson, 57, Toronto, Golisky was removed to hospital for treatment of minor injuries.

Chief Stewart was aiding Dr. W. R. Cameron put Golisky to bed when a fracas ensued in which the chief was stabbed and bitten on the finger.

SEEK CHANGE IN NAME.

BRAZIL, Ind., Aug. 20 (AP).—Citizens of William Williams Corner, a little community a mile south of here, are tired of saying and writing the name of the place where they live.

"It's too long. It takes too much breath and too much ink," they complain.

So they have prepared petitions asking that the community's name be changed to "Billville."

HON. DR. FAULKNER AGAIN THE CHOICE IN WEST HASTINGS

MARMORA, Ont., Aug. 20.—Ontario's Hydro-Electric legislation differs from Alberta banking legislation disallowed by the Dominion Government this week in that it is "a purely domestic affair of our own concern." Premier Mitchell Hepburn told West Hastings Liding Liberals at a convention here yesterday.

The Ontario Premier said he did not "disagree at all with the action of the Dominion Government" in disallowing three recent acts of Alberta's Social Credit government aimed at control of bankers in that province, because the social credit legislation affects the banking system, which lies under Federal jurisdiction.

"But I would sharply disagree with them," he added, "were they to attempt to disallow our Hydro legislation, which is a purely domestic affair of our own concern." (In 1935 the Hepburn government passed legislation voiding contracts entered into by the preceding government's Hydro Electric Commission and private power companies of Quebec.)

Mr. Hepburn said Conservatives attempted to show that through his Hydro-Electric power legislation he had been responsible "for social credit in the West."

Mr. Hepburn charged that Mr. Rowe was running away so fast from the C.I.O. issue that in his desperation he was now resorting to "loose silly talk" entirely unbecoming the leader of a once great party.

Afraid of the popular support of the Government's stand on that major issue, afraid to define his own attitude—Mr. Rowe, declared the Prime Minister has attempted to in-

China's Airmen Strike Shanghai Is On Fire

Foreign Intervention in Sino-Japanese War Is Refused By Japan.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 20.—(AP). —A fourth of Shanghai was ablaze tonight as Chinese aircraft struck savagely at Japanese properties along the Whangpoo river and Chinese artillery blasted at Japanese defence lines.

Foreign property suffered heavily as the battle for Shanghai, in its second week, became increasingly destructive of life and wealth.

The whole Pootung waterfront, teeming industrial area just across the river from the heart of Shanhai, was in flames, the result of heavy bombing of Japanese properties by Chinese planes.

The large section of the Hongkew district to the north was burning furiously. Heavy shelling by Chinese guns, searching out the shore positions of the Japanese marines, was largely responsible for the Hongkew blaze.

TOKYO, Aug. 20 (AP).—Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye today barred foreign intervention in the undeclared Sino-Japanese war and asserted any settlement must be made by China and Japan alone.

Such a settlement, he indicated, could not be made until Japan had chastised the Chinese army. He said the the government had been compelled to abandon its previous attitude of passive defence and assume the offensive with the ultimate aim of effective amicable relations between China and Japan.

The Premier answered the question of third power intervention in the conflict with the statement it

Ice-Packs Ordered For Manitoba Horses

Winnipeg, Aug. 20.

MANITOBA farmers today were instructed to place ice packs on horses' heads and put animals in a dark place whenever they show signs of drowsiness, first symptoms of encephalomyelitis, the strange horse sickness which has killed hundreds of animals in the province.

Lack of serum and little hope of securing quantities from the United States Northwest, where the disease is also prevalent, has prompted Hon. D. L. Campbell Manitoba Minister of Agriculture, to prepare a circular outlining household remedies to save horses from the worst epidemic of equine sickness the province has ever known.

Armament Order Cause Of Quarrel

LISBON, Aug. 20.—(AP).—Portuguese industrialists rallied to-day to the support of the government in its severance of diplomatic relations with Czechoslovakia.

Manufacturers praised Portugal's decision not to accept tenders for supplies from Czechoslovakia firms after the Praha Government's reluctance to permit the filling of a large Portuguese order of machine guns.

An official communique here yesterday attributed the diplomatic breach to an international quarrel over the machine gun order and declared Czechoslovakia was influenced in her stand by "third party pressure."

(The "third party" presumably was the Soviet Union).

SABOTAGE CHARGE VOICED BY GORDON CLAIMS BELTS CUT

MONTREAL, Aug. 20.— (CP).—G. Blair Gordon, managing director of Dominion Textile Company, said to-day an attempt had been made during the night to sabotage machines in the Hochelaga plant, scheduled to re-open this afternoon after bein closed for 19 days by a strike of its 1,000 workers.

Gordon said electricans found iron washers in several machines which would have been destroyed had power been turned on. On spinning machines, belts were cut.

Three Plants Open.

MONTREAL, Aug. 20.—(CP). — The little narrow streets of Cote St. Paul and St. Henri were almost abandoned to-ady except for strong police squads as Dominion Textile Company threw open the gates of three of its provincial chain of plants and permitted entrance of several hundred of its 10,000 workers on strike for 19 days.

Smoke curled from chimneys of the three big plants, housed in the tenement area of southwest Montreal and machinery roared. Officials of the National Catholic Syndicate which called the strike for collective bargaining rights and increased pay or shorter hours, charged the company was maintaining its "big show" in an effort to bluff employees into returning to their posts.

The strike leaders claimed those entering the plants were rotating between the three plants in an effort to lead to the factories the 3,000 men and women employees who for days have lined the street where violence had flared several times. More than a score have been arrested but most of them were released after warnings.

Still Searching For Escaped Men

GUELPH, Ont., Aug. 20 (C.P.). — Guards of the Ontario Reformatory to-day searched for two prisoners who escaped from the institution yesterday. There were no escapes during the fire which swept the auxiliary stores last night, Dr. J. D. Heaslip, superintendent, said today.
